Odd Bits Salvaged
At Random

(By Aaron Edgar)

11:45 a. m. Monday—We need a rain right now, almost as bad as we did last week!

Folks have been wanting us to order a rain. We want to serve notice that one had been ordered. What happened to our order, we don't know, but it turns out that way on lots of things we order.

We ordered a rain, we tells the inquiring ones, when the first gripe about dry weather was registered. And that was way back yonder, several weeks ago.

"When is it going to rain?", Dr. W. M. Taylor of Goree asked us some ten days ago. We replies that it's gonna rain about the time all the combines get ready to start harvesting wheat in this section.

"Then there's going to be a wheat harvest?", he asks? Well, from accounts we have there's going to be a wheat harvest—a pretty fair harvest in spots, a darn poor one in others.

We heard there's going to be quite a bit of 20-bushel wheat—and that was before the hard, hot winds of the past week. Our guess is that there will still be some 20-bushel wheat harvested.

Then there'll be some wheat that will be pushed like everything to make six or eight bushels.

Then there'll be wheat that combines won't enter—it just won't make enough to pay for harvesting. Them's the kind of reports we get.

And they're talking a crop failure. "We haven't had a failure in a number of years; things have been rocking along pretty smooth; we'd sure hate to see one now; but, you know, it might be the best thing for the country after all."

But this Knox Prairie country could get along without a crop failure, in our opinion, and we still wouldn't have a very big big-head. We'd still be on speaking terms with each other.

And that's crop conditions and general conditions, as they've been picked up here and yonder.

12 o'clock noon Monday. Weather report: Wish we'd worn our coat to work this morning! No sunshine, no rain, had a duster Sunday, no moisture, no planting done, people aren't buying like they used to, folks is scared it ain't gonna rain—but it is.

The longest hour in the week is that hour from twelve to one o'clock on Mondays!

We usually eat the noon meal soon after twelve, but on Mondays there's a Rotary Club meeting at one o'clock. We can't seem to train our stomach to become adjusted to that hour once a week.

Wouldn't a rain be wonderful? We'd like to bog ankle deep in mud that wasn't made with a water-hose.

We'd like to see the sandy land wet, the tight land soaked, it all wet enough to make the soil ooze together and fill up those dry-weather cracks.

Munday's need for a new school building is still quite apparent. With more and more people wanting the educational advantages of larger, fully accredited high schools makes Munday's needs for greater educational facilities even more apparent.

Our guess is that Munday will get a new school building, and that not too far off. This is a must, and a need that will be met in the future.

A building program which would provide more and better classrooms and housing facilities for teachers would be a big stride toward preparing for Munday's educational needs, both present and future.

12:20 p. m. Monday, May 13, 1948. Bill paying day, and we're going broker and broker.

Which reminds us that if and when we get a rain, we expect

Local people have been "keeping tab" on operations, and it won't be long now until they know if pay dirt has been found.

MUNDAY'S NEEDS FOR 1948

1. A modern and up-to-date high school building, to care for the present and future educational needs of our children.
2. A waterworks system that meets all requirements of health, sanitation and supply.
3. A street sweeper that will keep our pavement clean enough to be recognized as pavement.
4. A clean-up campaign of lasting effect; yea, one that extends even across the tracks.
5. Completion of our drainage and paving program, which will probably be accomplished this year.
6. More activity among our civic organizations, looking forward to, and planning for, a better Munday in the future.

DON'T HOLD YOUR BREATH

You still hear people talking about something or other "when prices go back to normal."
 Anyone has a perfect right to defer his purchasing in hope of a price millennium. But, judging by the evidence, he's going to have a long wait indeed.

The inflationary pressures are as strong as ever. The usual upward wage adjustments are taking place. The national income is still at or near its peak. The government is showing little disposition to economize in any direction. The cost of the European Aid Program and the preparedness program will turn more dollars loose, and lead to more competition for scarce goods. Nothing, in fact, indicates the probability of important price drops for any kind of commodity in general use.

The work of retailers, chain and independent, in aggressively fighting inflation, is a measure of the difficulties encountered. Stores have voluntarily cut their profit margins, discouraged consumers from buying high priced wares, worked with manufacturers to improve qualities and lower prices, reduced their overhead to the last nickel, and so on. This has helped enormously to retard increases—but it hasn't caused a swing back to the 1941 price level. There is a definite point past which retailers or any other group can't go and stay in business. They have to make both ends meet like the rest of us.

We all hope for lower prices. But don't hold your breath while waiting.

"A nation whose citizens can read and write but whose reading tastes do not rise above the level of desire for the excitement of adolescent emotions is easy game for dictators."—Harold W. Dodds, Princeton University.

Our main task, and that of all democracies, must be, first, to check further Russo-Communist expansion, and second, to restore a balance of power which will make Russia hesitate in new aggression and permit a modus vivendi such as existed, with all its imperfections, prior to the war.—New York Times.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson estimates that soil erosion cost 4 billion dollars annually.

SLOW ROAD TO RICES

Do you want to get rich in a hurry? If you do, you'd better not go into retail trade.

A typical food chain recently issued a report on what happens to each dollar spent by consumers in its stores. More than eighty-five cents goes to farmers and processors, and for transportation. Nearly nine cents is absorbed by salaries, wages and other payments to workers. Over three cents is used for operating expenses such as rent, advertising, utilities, etc. A trifle more than a cent is taken by government in the form of taxes.

Those items add up to 98 1-2 cents—which means that the system in question had a cent and a half, out of that shopping dollar, to pay dividends, and to build up its facilities.

Other kinds of retailing, which have a different inventory, service and turnover problems, must earn a larger profit. But in practically all cases that profit represents a mighty small share of consumer spending.

The basic cause of maximum service for a minimum profit is a simple one. It lies in an economic system which permits open competition in all lines of business. Anyone who wants to can start any kind of a store. He is perfectly free to take the business away from other stores if he can. The only limit imposed on him is decided by his own energy and ability.

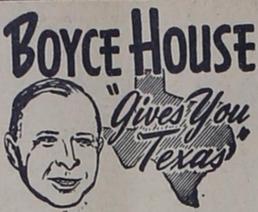

We call that system free enterprise. Nothing to equal it has ever been devised.

TEXAS CITY COMES BACK

A little more than a year ago, Texas City, Texas, suffered almost complete destruction from what may have been the worst explosions ever known on this continent, with the exception of the atom bomb test. Today, it is a growing, thriving city once again. Save for the dock area, hardly a scar remains from the blasts that killed 600 people, injured 3,000 more, and caused property damage of $50,000,000. Most amazing of all, not a single business left the town because of the disaster.

This is a fine testimonial to the fiber of Texas City people. And it is a testimonial too, to an institution which made the community's recovery financially possible. That institution is fire insurance. As soon as word of the tragedy reached New York, the National Board of Fire Underwriters put its "catastrophe plan" into operation. Supervisory offices were set up on the scene, and claims were received and processed at peak speed. During the time the office operated in Texas City, it cleared nearly 4,000 claims, involving more than $3,950,000 in losses. More than 90 per cent of those claims were for damaged dwelling.

Oddly enough, none of the payments was made under fire insurance policies, nor were the fire insurance companies liable under ordinary fire policies. They were, instead, paid under an extended coverage endorsement to the policies which pays for damage from special causes, such as explosions, storm, smoke, etc. This is an example of the scope of coverage fire insurance can offer. The handling of the Texas City claims is a fine illustration of aggressive service in an emergency, and the fairness of stock fire insurance companies going beyond the letter of their agreements.

I want to enter a protest against cafes that announce on the menu, "chicken and dumplings" and you order it and it turns out that the so-called dumplings actually are noodles.

Recently, your columnist visited Arkansas, and when the bus rolled through El Dorado, that oil city had just been visited by a terrific hailstorm. Street lights were smashed; dents could be seen in the steel tops of automobiles; nearly all the panes of glass in a hot-house were shattered. Hundreds of the hailstones were still to be seen in the gutters and on the lawns and they were almost as big as the proverbial hen-egg. In Warren, Ark., there is a minister, the Rev. Hal Pinnell, who raises orchids.

Many years ago, London was thronged. The British Empire was going to crown a new king. Of course, the man who attracted the most attention was the monarch as he rode through the streets in a golden carriage drawn by beautiful horses and escorted by dukes and duchesses and by plumed guards.

There was one man in the crowd who attracted considerable attention. He was the heavyweight boxing champion of the world. Unnoticed in the throng was a middle-aged man, with thoughtful brow and a mustache and glasses.

The king who was crowned that day is dead. The heavyweight champion is forgotten. But the world will long remember the unnoted man who stood in the throng for he was Rudyard Kipling.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Jeb Had the Folks in Stitches!

At the Friday Night Social, Jeb Crowell had the audience in stitches—doing a take-off on the blustering character who belittles everybody and everything that isn't from his own home town.

Well, we can laugh at that sort of character because from where I sit, Americans are just the opposite. We like to boast a bit perhaps, about the paint job on the new barn, or the missus' style of cooking—but we aren't intolerant of people who don't think or act exactly the same way we do.

In our town, for instance: Some folks like band concerts, others don't—some families serve beer with dinner, others, buttermilk—and as for politics, there's plenty of healthy disagreement.

But when it comes to denying folks the right to think or act as they choose . . . no, we're like you—we don't believe in it, whether it goes for serving beer, or speaking one's mind on public affairs.

Attention Cotton Farmers!

The Delinting Plant in Munday has been in operation several weeks and will operate every day for the remainder of this season.

With our new equipment, we have a much larger capacity per day, and are doing a much better job of dusting.

This, the Kemgas Process, is the only method that can delint and at the same time sterilize cottonseed to comply with regulations of the Bureau of Entomology.

To save yourself a long wait, or possibly another trip, call or write for an appointment.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Gets Serious, Says That He Knows What The Trouble With the World Is

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek, seems to be a little serious this week, but these may be serious times.

Dear editor:
I have been doing some heavy thinking out here lately, figurin' deep thinkin' some times is more important to mankind than deep plowin', don't make no difference if the former can be done in the shade, as the man with the biggest sun burn ain't necessarily the man with the biggest accomplishments, although this ain't no test either way as I've been sunburned just from goin' to sleep and lettin' the shade move around on the other side of the tree and while I recognize a political year ain't no time for a world crisis, you got to admit things ain't goin' so smoothly.

J. A.

Tryin' to get at the root of the problem, which is a hard job in itself with your wife suggestin' the roots of Johnson grass and cocklebur is more in your province than international roots, I have spent considerable time out here on the bank of Miller Creek the past week wrestlin' with the world problems at the sacrifice of my crop, which I am happy to let slide if it will improve man's future and my present comfort, as I figure the world can get along without my crops, it has so far, but if we don't do something about one war after another it may turn out that I've out-smarted the rest of you, provin' that the man who loafs the most is the best off in the long run, since the atomic bomb may get us all anyway.

However, after steady concentration on the problem, I have come to the conclusion that the trouble with the world today ain't that there ain't enough ideas and enough live-and-let-live spirit and enough production ability for all, but that too many little men is in big places. Too many jobs require simple greatness is filled by men of great simpleness.

Now I don't mean to say there is a lot of difference between men, but what difference there is, is enough to keep the world stumblin' toward war when a little better brain and a little more feelin' for human beings and a little more understanding and a little more native intellect, scattered in the important jobs, would enable us to map a course leadin' to eventual settlin' down to peaceful livin' where a man could pick up a newspaper without feelin' that likely as not he'll find another war plastered across the front page.

Of course, now, I ain't got so far in my thinkin' to figure out how we're gonna get a little more brain power in control. I may have to think through three or four more crops to do it, but I'm willin', if the bank is, and as far as I'm concerned a mortgage on my 1951 crop is just as good as one on this year's.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

When Your Back Hurts -

And Your Strength and Energy Is Below Par

It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood.

You may suffer nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, headaches, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won countrywide approval than on something less favorably known. Doan's have been tried and tested many years. Are at all drug stores. Get Doan's today.

Grass Forecast: Fine Today, Dry And Poor Later

Moral: While Pastures Are Good It's Time To Plant Some More

When pastures are best is the time to plant some more. Livestock specialists point out that the way to have productive, year-round grazing is to plan ahead so that other grasses are ready for grazing when present pastures pass their peak.

Permanent pastures and native grasses furnish peak grazing about this time of the year. When warmer weather comes in summer months, these pastures will begin to fade and need rest. Planned ahead, temporary pastures will continue the good gains livestock have made on permanent pastures and increase production and profits.

Sudan grass, especially the new, popular sweet variety, is one of the most practical temporary summer pasture crops in the Cotton South. Planted early in the spring when soils get warm, it usually reaches peak production when other grasses are no longer productive, and often provides excellent grazing until late fall. Sudan grass is popular because of its wide adaptability, ease of planting, and large volume of forage that is high in total energy value, vitamins, minerals and protein.

Proper stocking and the use of supplemental feeds increase the value of Sudan pasture for livestock. Sudan is most productive when allowed to grow to a height of 8 to 10 inches, and then grazed enough to keep the growth young and tender. Any extra growth should be mowed and cured for hay. Feeding cottonseed meal and dry roughage when grazing is short increases the productivity of the pasture.

It is best to keep some dry roughage always available to stock on Sudan pasture. Dry roughage is especially important when the grass is young and "washy".

When Sudan matures, a protein supplement is needed by livestock. One to two pounds of cottonseed meal or cake, daily per head, will meet the protein requirements of beef cows, dry dairy cows, or growing and bred heifers. The daily amount needed depends on the condition of the pasture, and age and condition of the cattle. When grazing is very poor, increase the protein to two to three pounds, or add one to three pounds of ground grain.

Producing dairy cows on excellent Sudan pasture need a concentrate mixture containing 13 to 15 per cent protein. With dry, mature pasture, a concentrate mixture of 19 to 20 per cent protein is recommended.

Good Sudan pasture will fatten beef steers and calves to a market grade of "good" when supplemented by a daily ration of 3 to 5 pounds of dry roughage, 4 to 5 pounds of cottonseed cake or pellets, and 2 to 3 pounds of grain. When grain is scarce and costly, it may be eliminated and the daily ration of cake increased to 5 to 7 pounds.

When young and tender, Sudan is excellent pasture for hogs and poultry. It furnishes vitamins, minerals, and variety of protein, and helps to improve sanitation and provide exercise.

Brood mares and idle work stock make good use of Sudan pasture. They should have 2 to 4 pounds of dry roughage, daily, while grazing good grass. As Sudan becomes dry, supplement it with one pound of cottonseed meal, one to two pounds of grain and five to six pounds of dry roughage. Working animals should have a regular concentrate ration, grazing Sudan at night or during idle days.

Ranch Party Is Given Allen Eiland On Fifth Birthday

Allen Eiland celebrated his 5th birthday last Monday evening, May 10th, at the home of his parents, Dr. and Mrs. D. C. Eiland.

The party was held in the backyard of the Eiland home and the scene carried out was in ranch style. Entrance to the back yard was a sign over the archway which read, "Rainbow Ranch". To form the rainbow, balloons of different colors were strung across the back yard.

The group played games of relay stick-horse races and balloon blowing contest with a prize. Little Sue Guinn was winner of the balloon blowing contest.

On this ranch-style party, bar-b-q weiners were served from an open fire and punch from a large kettle hanging from hoops forming a triangle.

The birthday cake was beautifully decorated with a cowboy and corral atop it. Plate favors were white, black and gold horses.

Approximately forty guests answered the invitations to the party.

Mrs. Elmer Dickerson spent last week end in Wichita Falls visiting with her daughter, Miss Billie Dickerson.

BAKING POWDER BISCUIT

Served piping hot from the oven, golden-brown, flaky biscuits make any meal more enjoyable and bring requests for encores. Here's the formula for a sure success with

Baking Powder Biscuit
2 cups flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 to 4 tablespoons fortified margarine
3/4 cup milk (about)

Sift together flour, baking powder, and salt. Cut margarine into flour until it looks like peas (do not cut too small—flaky bits about the size of peas will make flakier biscuits). Add milk sufficient to make a soft but not sticky dough. Turn out on a floured board and knead for two or three turns. Roll out or press to desired thickness. Cut. Bake on ungreased biscuit pan in hot oven (425° F.) 12 to 15 minutes. Makes about 1 1/2 dozen biscuits.

$500,000 Endowment Given McMurry By Big Spring Woman

Abilene—A $500,000 endowment fund gift for McMurry college by Mrs. Dora Roberts of Big Spring, was announced May 1 by Dr. Harold G. Cooke, President of McMurry. It was a gift that "ushers in a new day of growth and progress for the college," he said in announcing the endowment. It is the second major contribution within the last 14 months, and the largest in McMurry's history.

Another Methodist school, Texas Wesleyan college at Fort Worth was given a similar amount. The endowments come from the Dora Roberts Foundation, which is a perpetual income derived from valuable oil lands owned by Mrs. Roberts in Howard and Yoakum counties.

The donor, a widow of the late John Roberts, prominent early day West Texas rancher, in explaining her reason for her donation said she wanted to aid young people of the Southwest through the advancement of Christian education. It was by this consideration that McMurry was chosen as one of the avenues through which this contribution could be made.

Mrs. Roberts has given other contributions to McMurry, one consisting of a scholarship fund amounting to $20,000, in addition to contributions over the years for building and operational expenses.

The gift puts McMurry's endowment total well over a million dollars. In the past five years a $1,750,000 building and endowment campaign has been completed in addition to the Roberts gift.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin—Seasonal advice to vacationists concerning the proper precautions to be used in water sports was released from the State Health Department today by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Lakes and ponds of unknown depth, and streams of unfamiliar currents are often the site of picnics and excursions, and the usual lifeguard supervision associated with bathing beaches and commercial swimming pools is, of course, not available in such places.

"Swimming and water sports are beneficial to good health provided one's physical condition justifies this type of exercise," Dr. Cox asserted. "Nevertheless, they possess dangerous possibilities if the rules of safety are disregarded through carelessness or thoughtlessness."

The State Health Officer outlined the following simple rules for bathing and swimming safety: at least one hour should elapse after a meal before entering the water; upon the first indication of fatigue, come ashore, and don't re-enter the water; if chilled, leave the water immediately; do not enter the water when overheated; learn to float—this is important; never attempt to rock a boat in a spirit of fun; and never swim in water that may be polluted.

"Outdoor excursions, picnics and swimming parties contribute to a healthy, happy, normal life," Dr. Cox said. "It is by no means advisable to eliminate these pleasures from our summer program, but it is important that they prove beneficial and not disastrous."

State's General Fund Is Boosted To All-Time High

The general fund of Texas stands at $64,690,420 after Comptroller George H. Sheppard transferred over ten million dollars from the clearance fund on May 4th.

The net balance at the end of April was fifty-four million plus.

Due to tremendous increases in nearly all sources of revenue to the available school fund, Sheppard has reduced the amount taken from omnibus to make up the fifty-five dollars per capita. This leaves more for general revenue.

Crude oil tax is running at almost eight million per month, an undreamed of figure two years ago. Carbon black, cement, sulphur, natural gas, auto sales, cigarette and insurance company occupation taxes all exceed last year's receipts and contribute to the general revenue surplus.

Soaking clothes saves hot water, work, time and wear on garments. Fifteen to twenty minutes soaking in lukewarm water is all that is necessary. Soaping collars, neckbands and extra soiled spots before soaking is a still further saving.

When water is carried by hand, people use only about four to six gallons per person per day; on the other hand, with a completely modernized water system about 35 gallons per person per day is used.

New Light On Profit

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College
Secaucus, Arkansas

SOME INDUSTRIAL leaders nowadays refer to that old joker item, "profit," in a new way. Annual reports of corporations are beginning to list profit more properly as that part of the sales dollar spent for "use of tools." This is an understandable way to designate whatever money is paid to stockholders or kept in the business for reinvestment or expansion.

If American workers have good tools they turn out good products at reasonable prices. Without good tools the picture would be different. A hundred years ago each workman had only $550 invested for his use in the form of tools. Today more than 11 times this amount, or about $6,000 worth of tools, is back of the average American workman in his productive efforts. In terms of purchasing power, our average workman's wages have increased about five fold, even though he works only half as many hours as he did then.

We Buy TOOLS, THEN, are important to all of us.

Where do they come from? The price of these better tools (sometimes they're expensive tools) has come from people able to save from their incomes a little surplus to invest. Most of these folks today are in the income bracket of $5,000 or over. But through life insurance and bank savings, nearly everybody in America participates in these purchases of tools.

Obviously, we have a high standard of living partly because of the labor-aiding tools we have accumulated. That is fine. But we must not forget that it is possible for America to have such national policies that tool investments are not forthcoming. In fact, during 1930 to 1940 when our account in tools (capital) slipped downward 19.4 per cent we found that our economy went backward rather than forward.

Danger LOOKING at the record, we see that most of our tools were accumulated in the generation prior to 1929. From 1920 to 1930 new capital flowed to industry at the average rate of 6 billion dollars a year. But the years from 1933 to 1945 were dangerous years. During that period a yearly average of less than half a billion dollars went into tools for our workers to use.

What was the trouble? One trouble was that government had entered the picture and had begun to siphon funds away from the capital market. Tool money was turned into taxes. New tools became scarce. People were afraid to invest. Even after the government had spent its part of the savings taken in taxation, depression remained and millions were still unemployed. We needed money turned to tools and incentive, not to taxes.

Unsound taxation policies must not be allowed to get in the way of good tools and incentive investments. Today our corporations are retaining smaller profits that may be turned into tools. In 1946, though it was the best year on record, manufacturing establishments averaged only 5 cents profit (use of tools) out of the sales dollar. The corporation average was less than that. We must not forget the importance of tools. We need profit, for profit means tools.

Cpl. Billy Lynn Womble of Elgin Field, Fla. is here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Womble, while on a two weeks' furlough.

Judges Named For Burlington's Diamond Jubilee Essay Contest

Fort Worth—Names of judges in the Diamond Jubilee Essay Contest of Fort Worth and Denver City Railway and The Wichita Valley Railway each of the five districts in which the contest was conducted during April and the first 10 days of May, were announced today by Robert L. Hoyt, general passenger agent, Fort Worth.

In the Dal-Worth district, embracing Dallas and Tarrant counties and the town of Rhame, the judges are Dean Emeritus Chas. S. Potts of Southern Methodist University, Dallas; Wm. L. Redus, editorial writer for Fort Worth Star-Telegram, and W. C. Nunn, professor of history at Texas Christian University, Fort Worth.

Essays entered in the Wichita Falls district, embracing the counties of Wise, Montague, Clay, Wichita, Wilbarger, Hardeman, Archer, and Baylor, will be judged by Rhea Howard, president, Times Publishing Company; Walter D. Cline, oil operator and former mayor of Wichita Falls; and Judge H. W. Fillmore, 89th District Court, all of Wichita Falls.

For the Amarillo district, embracing the counties of Childress, Hall, Donley, Armstrong, Potter, Oldham, Hartley, Dallam, Collingsworth, Wheeler, Gray, and Carson, J. L. Southern, former agent for the Fort Worth and Denver City Railway, Amarillo, and presently owner of the Southern Furniture Company; E. L. Hunter, principal of Horace-Mann Junior High School; and Floyd V. Studer, insurance man and authority on archeology; all of Amarillo, will judge the essays received. Lubbock district, including the counties of Briscoe, Floyd, Hale, Lubbock, Swisher and Castro, will have Dr. Clifford B. Jones, President Emeritus, Texas Tech College; Earl Wallace, Assistant Dean, Arts and Sciences, Texas Tech College; and Mrs. R. B. Luker, History Department, Lubbock Senior High School; all of Lubbock, as judges of the essays entered in that territory.

In the Abilene district, Price Campbell, president, West Texas Utilities Company; Hal Sayles, managing editor, Reporter-News Publishing Company; and Dr. R. N. Richardson, president, Hardin-Simmons University; all of Abilene, will judge the essays entered from Knox, Haskell, Jones, Taylor, Stonewall, Kent, and Dickens counties.

Each of the five winners, one from each district, will be awarded an escorted, 10-day all expense vacation trip to Colorado, leaving on the Burlington Lines Texas Zephyr Sunday, June 13th; the date of departure had to be set back a week from June 6th, because of the opening date of Rocky Mountain National Park, and the prospects of snow blocked roads in the high mountain areas.

Colorado road workers have been known to tunnel thru deep snow drifts in order to get mountain roads open in time for the beginning of the Colorado tourist season. "Whether such prospects face these intrepid contest winners is not known presently, but a grand trip thru the Colorado Rockies is to be theirs," Hoyt said.

Before departing on the Colorado trip, however, the five contest winners are to be brought to Fort Worth, and presented on a radio program to be broadcast over station WBAP-820 at 10:30 P. M., Wednesday, May 26th, dramatizing the 75 years of growth and progress of Burlington Lines with the people of Texas.

It is expected that the essay contest winners will be announced on Sunday, May 16th.

If you're buying a new home...

Be on the safe side and compare the size of the water heater with the size recommended in the Sizing Chart for automatic gas water heaters.

Automatic home laundry machines require 20 to 30 gallons hot water for 30 minutes' to one hour's operation—as compared to 12 gallons used in usual washing machine.

Automatic dishwashers use 10 gallons hot water per load—as compared to three gallons used in the average sink.

For maximum convenience in your new home, you need twice as much hot water.

As a service to home buyers, a committee of leading home economists prepared the chart presented here as a guide for selecting an automatic gas water heater for up-to-date homes.

Check water heater by the Sizing Chart

Number Bathrooms	Number Bedrooms	Storage Capacity Gallons
1	1 or 2	30
1	3 or 4	40
2	2 or 3	40
2	4 or 5	50
3	3	50
3 or 4	4 or 5	75

An automatic gas water heater in the size recommended for your new home is available with a rustproof tank. With Lone Star Natural Gas Service, it will give you plenty of clear hot water... making house-keeping easier... for the lowest possible cost.

Veterans' News

World War II veterans in education and training programs are urged not to write or contact Veterans Administration Offices asking how to qualify for increased subsistence benefits due to recent changes authorized by Congress in rates, ceilings and number of dependents.

The higher rates will be paid automatically to those GI Bill Trainees whose existing applications with VA contain the information needed to certify them for increases, VA said.

Adjustments for disabled veterans training under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act (Public Law 16) and qualified to receive additional benefits also will be automatic.

When additional information is needed from veterans training under the GI Bill, the veteran will receive a form from VA asking for the necessary data. The first of these forms are already in the mail, VA said.

Veteran-trainees are urged to fill in the forms completely and return them promptly to VA. Adjustments will be made on the basis of the completed form.

The first adjustments that possibly can be made will be in the June subsistence allowances payable on or shortly after July. It is more likely that most of the initial payments at the higher rates will not be made before the July subsistence checks are sent out about August 1, VA said. The increased benefits are retroactive to April 1 in most cases.

More than half of the 14,870,000 World War II veterans have applied for some form of training since the inception of the vocational rehabilitation and education and training programs administered by the Veterans Administration.

By April 1, 1948, almost 8,100,000 applications were received by VA. Most of them, 7,200,000, were from veterans seeking education or training under the GI Bill. Almost 880,000 disabled veterans asked for training under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act (Public Law 16).

Questions and Answers
Q. I am a World War II Veteran and have been totally disabled for a few months. At the end of my sixth month of total disability, will I have to continue paying my National Service Life Insurance premiums or is a waiver granted automatically?
A. No automatic waiver of premiums is ever granted. A veteran must be totally disabled for six months before he may apply for a waiver of premiums. You are entitled to file a claim for refund of those premiums you paid from the date on which the waiver became effective.

Q. Who is entitled to the compensation or pension check received prior to the death of a veteran?
A. The check or checks received prior to the veteran's death become a part of his estate.

Q. I am a World War I veteran and would like to know if I can get a guaranteed loan under the provisions of the G-I Bill?
A. No. Benefits of the G-I Bill, Public Law 346, are for World War II veterans only.

Q. What is the largest amount I can borrow under the provisions of the G-I Bill and still have the loan guaranteed?
A. There is no limit to the amount which can be borrowed under the G-I Bill. The limitation by law is on the amount of the government guaranty and not on the amount of the loan.

THE SIGN OF BETTER SERVICE

COSTS OF PRODUCING YOUR ELECTRIC SERVICE HAVE BEEN GOING UP

BUT THE PRICE YOU PAY FOR ELECTRIC SERVICE IS STILL DOWN!

It's a hard fight!

THE cost of producing electric service is going up...and up! Everyday necessities are taking more and more of Reddy Kilowatt's pay—but he is fighting to keep your electric service the biggest bargain in your family budget.

Fuel is up, materials are up, structures are up, new equipment is up, the average cost per man-hour worked is up; almost everything needed to provide you with electric service is up except the hire of capital. Many people—who are owners either directly or indirectly through savings accounts, insurance policies, trust funds, or similar institutions—are getting less for our use or hire of their savings.

Thus, here is one very important difference between Reddy Kilowatt's services and most other things you buy. While other costs have almost doubled since 1938, the hourly pay of Reddy Kilowatt—average cost per kilowatt-hour for residential use—has come down 17 per cent.

Smith-Doxey Blanks Handy

College Station—One-half of the cotton ginned in Texas during the past season was classed by U. S. Department of Agriculture for farmers in organized improvement groups.

These 95 thousand farmers were organized into 1,030 groups and had over 1 1/2 million bales classed under the Smith-Doxey Act, John L. McCollum, manager, southwest area cotton branch, USDA's Production and Marketing Administration, Dallas said. They also received without charge market news services to guide them in selling their crop.

Group members planted nearly 7 million acres, of which over 5 million were seeded to improved varieties.

Applications may now be made for free classification and market news services on the 1948 crop, the cotton branch manager pointed out. Groups first must organize, adopt a variety of cotton, file application, arrange for sampling and meet certain other requirements to be eligible.

Instructions and application blanks may be obtained from cotton classing offices in Dallas, Lubbock, El Paso, Abilene, Austin or Galveston or from county agricultural agents.

Group applications should be filed with PMA's Cotton Branch, as soon as possible after all members

HE REALLY DID, FOLKS YES, HE REALLY DID!

After reading our story of his fishing trip at Pick Wick Dam on the Tennessee river, C. L. Mayes interpreted it to mean we had our doubt as to the number of fish he caught. He brings us a picture, and there he stood in the boat, pipe in mouth, and a big string of fish in each hand.

In case you're a "doubting Thomas", too, you can take our word for it. Mayes caught 'em—he really did! We saw the picture as proof!
