Odd Bits Salvaged
At Random

(By Aaron Edgar)

Another sort of vacation will be over this month. It's the school summer vacation.

Kiddoes are looking forward to it with pleasure and regret. Some enjoy the school days—all do to a certain extent—while others just don't like to be confined to the four walls of the school room.

Personally, we always looked forward to the opening of school.

It meant an entire change for us, relief from the pressing duties of life on the farm and the beginning of a new form of activity.

Outstanding in our memory is the first time we enrolled in high school.

We'd had a rather uneventful summer, with all the plowing and cotton chopping and various things that made up farm life for a boy, B. T. F.—before tractor farming.

We were going to school in town for the first time. We'd absorbed all the learning that was offered at our one-teacher country school.

Along about time to lay by the crops, prospects were just as bright as they could be on the farm. We'd had plenty of rain. Pop and all us boys had worked hard, the cotton was fruiting splendidly, and we had her cleaned out pretty good.

Things just looked so good that Pop decided he could afford a vacation trip to East Texas and visit the friends and relatives of years gone by, back in Sabine county.

Pop and Mom bundled up all the kids and caught the choo-choo train for East Texas, to be gone during most of the month of August. After all, there wasn't much to do but wait for cotton picking.

We were left home with the oldest brother and the Model T Ford. Our duty was to do the farm chores morning and night, and the Model T was at our disposal in the interim.

It was a sort of picnic for we two boys, once we got organized. Carroll did the cooking and house duties, while we fed the horses and mules and hogs and mixed the

Our biggest worry was to keep finances for the Model T, but that didn't worry us long.

We found a market for cream and supplemented that income by means of the watermelon patch. It was surprising how much gasolene could be bought from the watermelon patch.

We wouldn't have to make but about two trips to town each week to contact our groceryman, dispose of the cream and melons, and we'd be in tip-top shape for a few days of Model T-ing.

But August turned out to be the monsoon season in Collingsworth county—that was back in 1920.

It rained every night in August, we think, not just showers but downpours and waterspouts.

Came the message from East Texas that the family was coming home. We were to meet them in Childress on a certain day.

Carroll took the Model T and a neighbor took his Model T to meet the train and bring the family home. One Model T wouldn't bring them all.

They found Red River bridge washed out between Wellington and Childress and had to hunt another crossing place. They were a day later getting home, while we were stuck there by ourselves with the chores to do.

No wonder we were looking forward to school's opening! Each day brought the time nearer.

Then Sunday came before school opened on Monday. Next day we'd push our educational skiff off from shore!

Pop hadn't had time to look at the cotton, so he sent us on into town Sunday evening. We spent the night with Wade Mahan's parents, and were ready for the big event next morning.

We received all assignments, books, etc., and were through by noon. A half-holiday on the first day of school. That was the berries!

We were spending the afternoon down town, just taking in the sights, when directly we bumped right smack into Pop.

"Let's go get your things and go home," he says. "You ain't going to" (Continued on Last Page)

Former Munday Resident Killed In Plane Crash

First Lieut. Dewey R. Laney, 25, pilot, who was killed at Topeka, Kans., was a former Munday boy. He was practically reared in Munday and was a 1939 graduate of Munday high school.

Many people will remember him as the local agent and delivery boy for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. His wife is a former Abilene girl, Louella Lane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Lane, Sr., now of Seymour.

The pilot's survivors in addition to his wife include a two-year-old daughter, Dee Ree; his parents, who live in Amarillo.

Five men were killed and two injured seriously when the plane crashed in flames shortly after the takeoff from the Topeka Air Base, where Laney was stationed.

Control Of Weevils In Grain Is Urged

"With the shortage of grain storage space, there probably will be a lot of corn and grain sorghum stored on farms in Texas this year," Dr. H. G. Johnston, extension entomologist of Texas A&M College, points out. "The wise man will start early to protect his grains against weevils."

The first thing is to be sure that storage bins are weather and fumigant tight, Dr. Johnston says. If the grain is not in storage yet, clean the bins and spray thoroughly with a five percent DDT spray.

Dr. Johnston recommends two mixtures for the fumigation process. The first is three parts of ethylene dichloride and one part carbon tetrachloride. One thousand bushels of grain will use six gallons of the fumigant. Sprinkle with ordinary sprinkling cans over the top of the grain.

The second mixture recommended is one part carbon disulfide (highlife) and four parts carbon tetrachloride. Again, six gallons of the mixture will fumigate 1,000 bushels of grain. Pour it in shallow pans and place around the bin; it will evaporate and the fumes soak through the grain.

"Weevil control is important," Dr. Johnston concludes, "not only from a grain-saving standpoint, but to protect your stored wheat if it is under government loan. August is a good month to get started on this important job."

Now They'll X-Ray Your Big Foot At Baker-McCartys

Ever get a misfit in shoes? Painful and uncomfortable, aren't they?

Such as that is taboo, now, what with the new machine they have at Baker-McCarty's that will X-Ray your big foot—and your little one, too.

It's called the Primex machine, and it's the new way which the local store has to specialize in X-ray fitted shoes for men, women and children. Seeing is believing, they say, and now you can see the kind of shoe fit you get with your own eyes. Don't have to rely on how the tired, aching foot feels after a day of wear.

The thing was installed the first of this week, and demonstrations have been given.

You step up on a little platform, poking your feet into a slot made for the purpose. Peep holes are provided where you and others can see. The switch is turned on—and see your big ugly foot just as plain as all getout. Showing is the outline of your shoes, your feet and just how they fit into the shoes. The bones and joints show, too, but the main thing to pay attention to is how the foot fits into the shoe.

It's a right snazzy machine, and it ought to save a lot of aches and pains on lots of feet in this trade area. Go in and see for yourself. Buy a pair of shoes and see how they fit!

"The method employed by Aldens attained unbelievable results," Rauen stated, "and will be used by other companies in conducting their campaigns."

Well, there's his letter, Santa, and we'll be sending you a lot more along about Christmas!

The maize acreage planted this year is the greatest in the history of the county, and the yield is extra good.

Farmers of the Goree area harvested a bumper wheat crop this year, and prospects are good for a good yield of cotton, with a large acreage being planted.

Joe Bob Stevens, Civic Leader, Community Worker, Buried Monday

Manager Of Local Oil Mill Passes Away Friday

"Joe Bob Stevens passed away last night in his hotel room in Amarillo."

As this word reached Munday last Friday morning, and was passed from person to person, a dark cloud of sorrow hovered over this community—and not only Munday, but in many communities of Texas and other states where Joe Bob Stevens was known and loved.

Mr. Stevens and H. A. Pendleton had gone to Amarillo Thursday on business pertaining to local interests of the West Texas Cotton Oil Co. At about three o'clock Friday morning, he suffered an attack caused from a kidney ailment from which he suffered a number of years.

A physician was summoned, and after receiving medical treatment, Mr. Stevens became easy and dropped off to sleep, a sleep from which he never awakened.

Mr. Stevens came to Munday in March, 1946, as manager of the local mill of West Texas Cotton Oil Co., succeeding T. G. Benge, who retired. He soon became affiliated with Munday's civic organizations, and work toward the advancement of the town and community became the joy of his heart.

He became a member of the Chamber of Commerce, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary Club, and was active in Boy Scout work, serving the Northwest Texas Area Council as district commissioner. He was an untiring worker for the town and community, a man who loved boys and who loved to work for and with them.

When Munday's new civic organization, the Community Development Association, was formed, Joe Bob was elected a director, and the directors named him president of the organization at their first meeting. Joe Bob boosted the organization far and near; he spent much time trying to employ a secretary-manager.

His very life was in the construction of the new oil mill at Munday, and this work was going forward on schedule under his guidance. Nothing Joe Bob set out to do was impossible. His life, his courage, his foresight, his faith in the community and in humanity was an encouragement to his many friends.

A native Texan, Joe Bob Stevens was born August 21, 1905, in Red River county. He was 42 years, 11 months and 22 days of age at the time of his death. He came to Munday from Slaton, where he served the West Texas Cotton Oil Co. for a number of years. He was a member of the Church of Christ.

Surviving him are his wife, Mrs. Vera Stevens of Munday; three sons, R. C. Stevens of Slaton, Joe Milton and Gordon Stevens of Munday; his mother, Mrs. C. E. Stevens of Loreno; two sisters and one brother, Mr. Acklar Martine of Loreno, Mrs. B. F. Campbell of Littlefield, and J. D. Stevens of Bovina, Texas.

Funeral services were held from the Church of Christ in Munday at six o'clock last Sunday afternoon, being conducted by his former minister, Dean Brookshire of Plainview, who was assisted by Minister D. L. Ashley of Munday.

Palbearers were Ray Holcomb, Aaron Edgar, D. D. Clough, Don L. Ratliff, H. A. Pendleton, Lennie Kuehler and Orb Coffman.

The body was taken to Slaton, where funeral services were held at three o'clock Monday afternoon, being conducted by Minister Brookshire and Minister Lloyd Moyer of Slaton.

Burial was in the Slaton cemetery under the direction of the Mahan Funeral Home of Munday. Joe Bob sleeps the peaceful sleep; his body rests; his soul has gone to its reward; the sweet memory of his life will live on, and on in the hearts of loved ones, friends and fellow workers in every community where he has lived and labored.

Col. Owsley will speak over WBAP, KXYZ, KTSA, AUGUST 19TH, in interest of Republican National Ticket, under the auspices of State Republican Executive Committee.

Sunset School To Open Sept. 6

M. G. Hannaford, newly elected superintendent of the Sunset schools, announced last week that the 1948-49 term of school will open at Sunset on Monday morning, September 6. At the time of Mr. Hannaford's announcement, there remained two vacancies on the school faculty. He expects to have the vacancies filled by school's opening.

Coming to Sunset after two years as superintendent of the Robert Lee schools, Mr. Hannaford has a record of some 20 years as a successful school man. Most of this time has been spent in school administration.

Mr. Hannaford received his B.A. degree from Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, and he completed work on his M.A. degree at Sul Ross, Alpine, this summer. He returned to Alpine this week to receive his degree in exercises slated for Thursday, August 19.

Hannaford comes to Knox county highly recommended as a school man, and a successful school year is expected under his guidance. Mr. and Mrs. Hannaford have established residence at Sunset.

He succeeds R. I. McLeroy, who has served as superintendent at Sunset for several years.

Mrs. R. D. Perdue Passes Away At Goree Home

Mrs. R. D. Perdue, better known to everyone as Grandmother Perdue passed away at the family home in Goree on Wednesday morning, August 18, shortly after five o'clock. She had been in ill health for several months.

Mrs. Perdue was one of the beloved grandmothers of Knox county. She was born Ella Gertrude Howard on December 11, 1877, at McCavet, Kimble county, Texas, and was married to Robert David Perdue on June 30, 1898. Mrs. Perdue was 70 years, 8 months and 7 days of age at the time of her death.

Mrs. Perdue was the mother of nine children, two of whom, a son and a daughter, preceded her in death.

Surviving children are: Jodie Perdue, Goree; Roy Perdue, Grand Prairie; Mrs. Lillian Wright, Culver City, Calif.; Mrs. Nannie Guthrie, Desdemona; Mrs. Argie Patton, Salome, Ariz.; Mrs. Ruby Beaty, Sunset; and Mrs. Katie Haston of Los Angeles, Calif. She is also survived by her husband, R. D. Perdue of Goree; three sisters, Mrs. Bell Atchley of Hamilton, Mrs. Sade Frazier of Comanche, and Mrs. Dona Trawick; 24 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were scheduled for three o'clock Thursday afternoon from the First Baptist church in Goree, to be conducted by Rev. S. E. Stevenson, pastor. Burial will be in the Goree cemetery, with the Lenningsham Funeral Home in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gaines and Gordon and Mr. and Mrs. Hal Amerson returned last Friday from Galveston where they had been vacationing.

MUNDAY'S NEEDS FOR 1948

1. A modern and up-to-date high school building, to care for the present and future educational needs of our children.
2. A waterworks system that meets all requirements of health, sanitation and supply.
3. A street sweeper that will keep our pavement clean enough to be recognized as pavement.
5. Completion of our drainage and paving program, which will probably be accomplished this year.

DO WE WANT LESS MEAT?

There has been an increasing amount of talk, much of it politically inspired, about an alleged need for rationing meat and controlling the price by governmental fiat. Inasmuch as that will be one of the major domestic issues of the year, the public should have a sound knowledge of the facts.

First of all, controls of any kind could not increase the aggregate supply of meat by a single pound. The remedy to the meat situation lies in the production of sufficient meat animals to handle today's tremendous demand.

What controls would do—precisely as they did in the past—would be to drive large quantities of meat into the black market. All of us can remember the OPA days when "No Meat Today" signs were common in retail stores. It would happen again.

Most important of all, the strong probability is that rationing and other artificial controls would discourage the production of meat animals by livestock growers. They would have no assurance that they would be able to sell their stock for a price that would meet costs, much less return a profit for the work and the risk and the investment involved. Then there would be less meat for everyone, the available supply would bring extortionate prices in the black market, and, in addition, the chances are that a serious grain surplus would be created.

No one knows what the future course of meat prices or any other prices will be, but we do know that artificial price and rationing controls are much like the process of tinkering with a thermometer—the basic situation is not corrected. In a free market prices are fixed by supply and demand—not by some bureaucrat's idea of what they should be. Furthermore, in a free market they are the lowest prices possible under the conditions of the moment.

DRAFTTEES AND CIVILIANS

The drafting of young men for the armed forces, which will begin shortly, is being discounted by the casual explanation that a relatively few will be taken for service to their country. The comment is reminiscent of war casualty reports stating that "only a few" had been killed in action. Service to nation in war or peace cannot be passed over lightly, for the death of one youth in battle is supreme sacrifice for him and infinite tragedy for his family.

Thus the inductees after October 1 will surrender many of their privileges, rights and freedoms for the security and welfare of the nation and its 140,000,000 people. This individual contribution as in war will become the yardstick for determining whether other Americans, immune to military duty,

EVERY INDIVIDUAL IN THE LAND

Some time ago, President Truman said: "Safety from fire should not be a topic for discussion during only one or two weeks of the year. It is definitely a year-around public responsibility for leadership in this field. We in the Federal government can give aid within the framework of existing agencies. But the impetus must come from the States and from every community and individual in the land."

Today, in the face of the greatest fire waste in our history, organized fire prevention activity has rapidly increased. Last year, 1832 cities participated in Fire Prevention Week as compared with 715 the year before. An aggressive program for teaching fire prevention in the schools and colleges of the country is in operation. Significant progress is reported in improving the training of firemen, both paid and volunteer. Research into the causes of fire has been extended. A great deal of valuable work is being done to perfect building codes.

Much of this activity falls into the province of experts. However, there seems to have been an encouraging increase in public interest in the whole field of fire prevention. Let us hope that the people of the United States are coming to realize that fire threatens everyone—and that everyone must take part in combating it.

In the months and years to come, the statistics will tell the story. In the meantime, the great task of reducing fire loss must be aided by every individual in the land.

TAXES AND VALUES

A census bureau statistician reports that the average individual's state and local taxes are 10 times as much today as they were in 1860; $79.98 now as against $7.95 58 years ago.

When one compares what the taxpayer got for his money in 1890 with what his taxes purchase now, the difference isn't so frightful. In 1890, deaths from typhoid fever were numerous, because government didn't undertake to see that water and milk were safe. There were hospital facilities only in the larger cities. There were no paved highways at all, and probably only a few dozen miles of paved streets in all Texas.

About one child out of 20 stayed in school after the 6th grade, and the schools probably functioned no more than six or seven months of the year.

Government was cheaper in those days, but it was worth little in terms of health and education and other human values. Maybe we pay too much today for what we get, and maybe we look too much to government to serve us; but there are conditions that take most of the weight out of the comparison. The Washington statistician offers.—Wichita Daily Times.

are serving the interests of the nation in an emergency or only their narrow selfish concerns. The war veterans of two wars will recognize the obligation of civilians when other Americans are called to duty in the nation's defense. The distinction is important for all to recognize, if they are real Americans.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Sec. 4. The sum of Ten Thousand ($10,000.00) Dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the treasury of this state not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expenses of such publication and election.

Dick Harrell of Dallas came in last Sunday for an extended visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Harrell and with other relatives and friends.

Henry W. Grady, editor of the Atlanta Constitution, was a great orator. His speeches, after the Civil War, helped to bring the North and South together in mutual trust and understanding. He was also a great editor. Just how great let this fact attest: the number of copies of the Atlanta Constitution printed each day was four times as many as the population of Atlanta! Furthermore, a large proportion of the inhabitants of Atlanta were recently-freed slaves and could not read.

The explanation of so large a circulation was that the paper was so well edited that it reached a wide territory. It is said that the law in Texas at that time provided that the newspaper having the largest circulation in the county should be the official newspaper of the county—and in several Texas counties, the official paper was the Constitution, which was published in Georgia!

The Civil War general with the oddest name was the Confederate, Brig. Gen. States Rights Gist. "States Rights" was his name. His father, looking forward to the day when that would perhaps be an issue on the battlefield, bestowed the name on him. General Gist was killed in the defense of Vicksburg.

Everyone of course knows about Unknown Soldier—the hero of World War I whose name is known only to God.

Of the 17,000 Union graves on the beautiful slopes around Vicksburg, three-fourths are the last resting-places of men whose identities are unknown; more than 12,000 "unknown soldiers."

Knox Prairie Philosopher Wants The Women To Also Strike Against 10-Cent Soda Water, Plumbers, Etc.

Editor's Note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek is still concerned about the women's strike, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:

Of course, anybody can be mistaken and while I don't believe I put anything in my letter this week reveals.

J. A.

wish you would get the women to strike against the following:

- Ten-cent soda water.
 - Four-dollar overalls.
 - Three-dollar work shirts.
 - Twenty-cent chewing tobacco.
 - Twenty-five cent lightbread.
 - Twenty-five cent gasoline.
 - Thirty-cent lube.
 - Plumbers.
 - Electricians.
 - Twenty-cent milkshakes.
 - Fifteen-cent Sunday papers.
 - Forty-cent picture shows.
 - Eight-dollar bob wire.
 - One-hundred-dollar lumber.
 - Two-thousand-dollar tractors.
- There are a few more items I could mention, but the list can be enlarged from time to time as the women win out. I ain't too hopeful though. I understand Congress met, wrestled with inflation two weeks, and went home. It ain't the first time anybody adjourned in the face of a perplexin and unanswerable problem. I treat my wife's arguments and a good many merchant's duns that way all the time.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin—Infant and mortality rates in Texas are at their lowest level in the history of the state, according to figures released by the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Health Department. Infant mortality has reached a low of 41.2 deaths for every 1000 live births.

Compared to the figures for 1940, this represents a reduction of more than 39 per cent. In that year, there were 197,023 live births and 8,685 deaths. But despite these gains, Texas still has the sixth highest infant mortality rate in the United States, with forty-two states reporting lower rates.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, attributes the reduction to the increase in public response to the educational efforts of the Texas State Department of Health.

"We have reason for pride in our reduced infant and maternal mortality when it is realized that the reduction means in excess of 5000 babies are being saved annually which would have otherwise died," Dr. Cox said. "In addition, the birth rate is higher than the 1940 figure by more than 71,000."

The comparison between the live births figures for 1940 and 1947, shows white births up 22,707; Latin American births up 7,186; and Negro births up 3,297.

The report also shows maternal mortality has been reduced over 65 per cent. In 1940, the rate was 4.6 for every 1000 live births as compared to 1.6 for 1947.

Keep farm machinery out of the yard. Locate the machine shed at the back of the farmstead, near the field, in order to keep the driveway and service court open and free of machinery and piles of scrap.

Fertilizers may be bought today for just 50% more than before World War I. The farmer gets more for his money, too, as the average plant food per sack ran 21 pounds in 1947 compared to 19.1 pounds for pre-war years.

Details Of New Wheat Insurance Program Given

Knox county has been selected as one of the 13 counties to be offered the new experimental wheat program. In order for the county to qualify for this new insurance—applications covering 200 farms will have to be made. There are approximately 45 farms in the county covered by the old type of insurance and these contracts still have another year to run. If any of these producers desire to have the new type of insurance rather than the old policy, it will be necessary that they sign an application for the new insurance. If 200 units are then covered in the county, the new policy will replace the old policy.

Bennett Haman, Secretary for the Knox County A. C. A. explains that the new type of insurance offers an investment coverage for a very cheap rate. The rate per acre in Knox County is 70c per acre over most of the county and only 85c per acre in a small portion of the county. This is the most that the insurance can cost. A farmer gets a 1 per cent reduction in the premium for each 60 acres of wheat planted and he can get another 5 per cent reduction if the premium is paid before February 28, 1949. The premium does not come due however until June 15, 1949 and can be paid after harvest of the crop without any interest accumulating.

The definition of a "farm" is different from in the past and if it is necessary to release acreage because of loss, the appraisal that the adjuster can put on the crop is much less than in the past. Full particulars can be obtained at the AAA Office in Benjamin or from Mr. Buck Propps of Knox City, Texas. Propps is the adjuster for the Corporation.

The last day that application may be made for this insurance is August 31, 1948. All farmers owe it to themselves to visit the office to determine the particulars about this new insurance.

Throughout the nation's grain belt, hundreds of buildings like the Quonset under construction near Leoti, Kan. (left) are going up to protect the bumper crop for which there is no elevator space. In another new arch-roofed building near Hemingford, Neb. (right) Harry Cullan's children romp in grain being placed in safekeeping for government loan of $2 a bushel.

A building boom of record proportions is under way on this area's farms in the wake of Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan's appeal for on-the-farm storage of crops.

The increase in new construction in this area is reported by the Great Lakes Steel Corporation in announcing that shipments of Quonset buildings to the nation's farm territories are running 400 per cent greater than a year ago. The arch-roofed steel structures are being used for storage of grains, soybeans and hay.

A proportionate share of the national increase in farm Quonset construction results from popularity of the buildings in the local territory.

The building boom is reported on the basis of Quonset orders from Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado, Kansas and Nebraska during July. A survey of Quonset dealers in South Dakota, North Dakota, Idaho, Montana, Washington and Oregon indicated similar building activity developing in these states as harvesting progresses.

Brannan, in his July 27 appeal to grain growers, predicted recurrence of the market glut in future years unless additional storage construction is undertaken, and told all farmers that they "should take prompt steps to put their farm storage facilities in shape" so that they will be eligible for government commodity loans and purchase agreements as a method of price support.

This summer, with the flood of wheat filling all existing storage facilities, the grain was selling as low as $1.60 a bushel. At the same time, the Commodities Credit Corporation was loaning $2 and paying 7¢ on each bushel of stored grain. With the cost of Quonset construction averaging 22 cents a bushel, the farmer needing storage space netted 25 cents a bushel on this year's crop in addition to paying for the building. Thus he more than paid for the structure, which is suitable for machinery or barn use when cleared of grain.

Questions And Answers
Q. If I apply for hospitalization, how long will I have to wait before I am admitted to a VA hospital?

A. If you have a service-connected disability you do not have to wait to receive hospitalization. If your disability is non-service-connected but is an emergency, you are admitted immediately. Non-service-connected ailments that do not require emergency treatment have to wait until a bed is available, and the time varies at each hospital. Non-service-connected veterans also must sign statements that they cannot afford to pay for treatment elsewhere.

Q. May I go to my own doctor for treatment of my disability and have Veterans Administration pay the bill?

A. Only if you receive prior VA approval for such treatment or care. Approval is based on the following conditions: (1) you must have a service-connected disability; (2) VA must not be able to provide the treatment in its own hospitals or clinics; (3) travel to a VA station would work a hardship on you. In emergency cases, a veteran may apply to the nearest physician and have the physician notify the VA regional office having jurisdiction over the area.

CONTOURS And TERRACES

Boost Crop Yields

MORE than 30 per cent average increase in crop yields — that was the reward of 9,000 farmers recently checked on results of their soil conservation program. Terraces and contours were responsible for much of this extra yield. By holding rainfall, they provided "natural irrigation" for slopes.

Almost all crops will respond to better moisture control. If you have sloping fields, farming on the contour, terracing or strip cropping almost certainly will pay you a profit.

Terracing is no longer a job for engineers and heavy machinery.

You can build terraces successfully with your regular farm equipment. Allis-Chalmers has developed practical methods of terracing, strip cropping, and building grassed waterways with your farm tractor and tractor plow.

The Allis-Chalmers handbook "You Have What It Takes To Contour and Terrace" will show you where you need terraces and how to build them. Ask us for a copy... it's free.

Veterans News

A limited number of internships in Veterans Administration hospitals will be offered qualified medical graduates, VA announced this week.

The internships will be limited to the 75 VA hospitals now offering residency training programs in cooperation with 53 Class "A" medical schools over the country. They will be further limited to those hospitals which have bachelor quarters available on the station grounds. A survey is in progress to determine what housing is available.

Southwestern VA hospitals where internships are available are at McKinney, Dallas and Waco, Texas, New Orleans and Gulfport, Mississippi. Negotiations are in progress between VA and Deans' Committees of Medical Schools for similar internships at Temple and Legion, Texas, Jackson and Biloxi, Mississippi.

Two types of internships will be available:

(1) "Straight," for surgery, general medicine and other "straight" subjects, and

(2) "Rotating," in which interns study, under a rotating schedule, surgery, general medicine and other related subjects. Arrangements will be made for off-affiliated training in other than VA hospitals for obstetrics and pediatrics.

Texas Schools Must Prepare For Many More Children In Next Decade

Austin—Texas must adequately prepare for 150,000 more children in its schools in the next decade or lower its educational standards.

Charles H. Tennyson, director of public relations for the Texas State Teachers Association, sounded that warning here today.

The huge increase in the birth rate throughout the United States since 1941 has cheered business men, but it is causing great concern among educators," the TSTA official declared.

"Texas is no exception. From figures on the annual birth rate provided by the United States bureau of Vital Statistics, we know that birth increased 1,549,601 throughout the United States from 2,360,399 in 1940 to 3,910,000 in 1947.

"Enrollment started increasing throughout the country last year. In Texas it was up more than 7,000 pupils. The State Department of Education this week estimated an additional 8,000 students would enroll this fall.

"That is just the beginning. Enrollment will snowball from then on. The situation will become acute in 1953. An accurate estimate places the hike in enrollment in Texas that year at 81,568 pupils. Nine years from now we will have 152,004 additional students in our schools, or a total of 1,660,004."

Federal and state bureau and insurance company statistics show that nearly 80 percent of the children born each year reach school age. Those experience figures make accurate estimates of future enrollment possible, Tennyson explained.

"An increase of 80,000 pupils in the short time of four years and 150,000 in nine years does not seem so tremendous until it is realized that we will need 2,719 more teachers by '52 and 5,066 more classroom instructors by 1957," Tennyson declared.

"It stands to reason we will have to have that many more class-

CONGRESS MAKES A COMEBACK

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College
Secrury, Arkansas

Looking Ahead

THE 80TH CONGRESS was our first post-war Congress, and it faced mountains of problems. Moreover, it was a Congress of a different party from that of the President. The 80th Congress worked hard to get as far as it did. It ran an independent course and made a great record.

During depression days a bewildered Congress took orders straight from the strongman. This was approved by many as the best kind of unity for the nation. Unity is a fine thing. When purposes are sound and methods are right, unified action can benefit the people. But the United States Congress was not created by the founding fathers to always say yes to the nation's president. The whim and fancy of a political leader, no matter how great the leader, may not be to the best interest of our people.

Restored THAT IS perhaps to Strength why the founding fathers created the three branches of our government as they did: the legislature to pass the laws, the executive to carry them out and the judiciary to provide justice. Knowing these things, many persons wondered whether Congress would ever regain its rightful place.

The 80th Congress has done just that. If ever a Congress denied the rubber stamp process, this one did so. The stature and dignity of Congress appears to be returning. It would hardly be possible for Congress in a nation like ours to please everyone. But everyone of us can be thankful that the 80th Congress has done much to restore the integrity and strength that our national legislature should have.

There were times when this Congress said no to the President. At least four major bills were passed over the veto of the President. Congress did not do this just to nettle Mr. Truman. The 80th Congress was doing things upon its own conviction, following its own best judgment.

The People's THERE WAS no Safeguard vindictiveness, but instead a determination to rely upon its own judgment rather than upon that of the executive alone. Our people can find no quarrel with this, once they think about it. It is only that kind of Congress which will continue to safeguard the welfare of our nation under the Constitution. We can never afford to forget the importance of Congress as the people's will in this republic.

The hard work of the 80th Congress is shown by the fact that it passed more than 1,000 bills and conducted numerous investigations. It studied and acted upon nearly 30 major pieces of legislation. Among these was the Taft-Hartley bill—called the "slave labor bill"—which has not been enacted but has already shown its workability.

Of great significance too was the leadership that Congress showed in world affairs. The 80th Congress led the nation out of isolationism and into the leadership of freedom-loving nations of the world. Congress did much to retrieve lost prestige for America in the realm of international affairs.

I believe every citizen should appreciate the great job the 80th Congress did in bringing back the integrity of a legislature which was set up to represent the people. I am grateful to our hard-working legislators.

dane, and it is a more efficient killer than DDT for ants and roaches, Dr. Little says, and directions for its use must be followed carefully, as it is poisonous.

"Of course, the best way to get rid of ants," Dr. Little points out "is to follow the trail back to the colony or nest and put the poison there. However, this isn't always easy to do, as sometimes the insects nest in the foundation, walls or other hard-to-reach places."

If it is possible to find the ant colony, pour a small amount of a two or three percent oil solution of the chlordane in the entrance. Then check the nests about a week later, and if necessary, repeat the treatment.

In spraying in the home, an ordinary house spray gun may be used, Dr. Little says. Sprayer attachments on electric sweepers work fine, too. The baseboards, door and window cases, around built-in features and the drainboards should be wet almost to the running point with the spray. Give the cracks an extra dose. An oil solution of the same strength as that used for killing out ant colonies is recommended.

"Remember that chlordane is poisonous," Dr. Little warns. "Food, dishes, and cooking utensils should be taken out of the kitchen—or put where the spray won't reach them—until after the spray has settled. Follow the manufacturer's directions for its use, and it will be safe."

The chlordane works on outdoor ant colonies, too. For ant in the lawn, a dust of five percent chlordane is good, while red ant colonies can be killed out with a tea-cupful of two or three percent solution. One treatment is generally enough to kill the nest, Dr. Little says.

"Leaders in school districts and state government should take careful note. The situation calls for planning along practical lines in order that adequate provisions be made for education of these children.

"That is particularly necessary in more than half of the Texas schools in which children are already over-crowded.

"It will call for expenditures of large sums of money. If such of the 5,066 additional teachers was paid only the present minimum salary of $2,000 annually, that would increase expenditures by $10,132,000.

"No one can hazard a guess as to how much additional money must be spent on classrooms and equipment.

A recent survey disclosed that about 50 percent of students in Texas schools are in over-crowded classes. Educators agree that pupils cannot be given adequate instructions when there are more than 30 to 32 pupils in a class.

Some Texas cities have already recognized the impending situation. A recent survey made by Ft. Worth school officials disclosed that by 1953 the district will need 367 more teachers and additional classrooms, according to B. C. Shulkey, assistant superintendent.

Austin this fall is adding 15 teachers to ease the over-crowded classroom situation in the capital city.

THE JOEFFROY "SOIL CONTROL CULTIVATOR"

The Plow of the Past REVOLUTIONIZED for TODAY!

The chisel-type cultivation of the Jeffroy "Soil Control Cultivator" is not new! In fact, the first plows of this type were made over 3,000 years ago by the Egyptians for farming along the Nile River. They used a sharpened stick, while in the Jeffroy machine, silicamanganese steel is required to stand present-day speeds and uses. Down through the ages many plows have been used and discarded, but the chisel-type plow has proved to have less draft, control erosion, and conserve moisture more effectively than any other plow invented!

★ Plows and cultivates the natural way. ★ Conserves the moisture. ★ Prevents blowing. ★ Stops erosion. ★ Cuts plowing cost in half. ★ Constructed to last a lifetime. ★ Pre-war prices. ★ Made in 4 sizes to fit your power: 7 ft. - 10 ft. - 13 ft. - 16 ft.

Hughes-Dayton Imp. Co.

The chisel opens the way for moisture to go into the subsoil for storage.

Moisture penetrates farther, does not run off. Stubble and trash are worked into fessell for more effective re-fertilization of the land.

Disc-type cultivation leaves a smooth surface that quickly soaks and causes water run-off.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION
 amending Section 15 of Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas, by adding thereto a provision that the husband and wife from time to time may in writing partition between themselves in severalty or into undivided interests all or any part of their community property, whereupon without prejudice to the right of existing creditors the portion or interest set aside to each spouse shall be and constitute a part of the separate property of such spouse; further providing that such Constitutional Amendment if adopted shall be self-operative and self-executing; providing for the submission of this Amendment to the voters of this State; prescribing the form of ballot; providing for the proclamation and publication thereof.

"Section 15. All property, both real and personal, of the wife, owned or claimed by her before marriage, and that acquired afterward by gift, devise or descent, shall be the separate property of the wife; and laws shall be passed more clearly defining the rights of the wife, in relation as well to her separate property as that held in common with her husband; provided that husband and wife, without prejudice to pre-existing creditors, may from time to time by written instrument as if the wife were a feme sole partition between themselves in severalty or into equal undivided interests all or any part of their existing community property, or exchange between themselves the community interest of one spouse in any property for the community interest of the other spouse in other community property, whereupon the portion or interest set aside to each spouse shall be and constitute a part of the separate property of such spouse.

High Pest Cost Cuts Income of Cotton Farmers

Cotton insects are an expensive luxury to farmers of the Cotton Belt. In 1946, the boll weevil, bollworm, and other pests devoured more than $250,000,000 worth of the farmer's cotton. This meant, the National Cotton Council reveals, a loss of one-eighth of his cotton income to the average farmer.

Such losses can be avoided in 1948, the Council continues, through observation of cotton insect control recommendations prepared by land grant college entomologists in each state.

Generally, the Council says that farmers should stock enough poison for at least one dusting, have adequate dusting equipment to apply poisons, make regular infestation counts, and begin dusting when infestation of cotton by the boll weevil or other pest becomes severe. Dusting should continue at about five-day intervals until insects decline below the danger point.

Farmers in this locality are urged to consult their county agent or nearby vocational agriculture instructor for detailed information on cotton insect control measures recommended for the surrounding area.

He'd walked over the cotton that morning. The boll worms were eating us up. Poisoning for them was unknown at that time.

We went home. The boll worms ate up the cotton. We found a farmer friend early next spring who had some cotton still in the fields. We found ourselves pulling bolls for him at 25 cents per 100 and our board, trying to get enough money to buy a suit of clothes.
