Odd Bits Salvaged
At Random

(By Aaron Edgar)

"On my honor I will do my best to do my duty to God and my country . . ."

No finer oath can be taken by anyone, be he man or woman, boy or girl.

That's a portion of the oath a boy takes, and memorizes, when he first embarks on the adventure of Boy Scouting. Right at the beginning he is taught loyalty to God and country.

"To obey the Scout laws; to keep myself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight." What a fine thing, we think, for a boy to learn. What a fine thing for all adults to learn—and practice.

We hear it preached quite often: Training for citizenship. Boy Scouts of today are our leaders of tomorrow. Yet, it's a crying shame at the way this type of training for leadership is being neglected.

Doors of a penal institute are rarely ever opened for a criminal who was once a Boy Scout. We hear that preached, too, along with the fact that training in Boy Scout work is just as fine as that received in the home, in the church in the school.

The Boy Scouts learn to do by doing. The course of their lives are shaped by their Scout training, under the guidance of competent leaders.

But who's going to train the boys? That's the question that confronts every person of Knox county who is interested in Scouting.

That's the question that's been confronting Munday for the past ten years that we know of. Rarely has a man taken on the job of Scoutmaster and stuck with the job for a year.

Then what's his trouble? It is the boys? Is it the Scoutmaster himself who is not interested? Is it the Dads and Moms? Is it the sponsoring organization?

The trouble is not with the boys. There are always a number of boys who want the training which the Boy Scout organization can give. They want the association of boys of their own troop, of the area camporees.

And get an up-and-going troop in the town, and the number of boys in the organization will be doubled in no time. Boys are hungry for good, wholesome training and entertainment.

It isn't the Scoutmaster. He finds a group of enthusiastic boys. He soon finds more work and activity than he's able to handle—and no one to help him.

Summer comes along, and the boys want camping trips, week end outings, district camporees, summer camps, etc. Boys are taught to earn their money for expenses of such activities.

The Scoutmaster must earn a living by other means, either by self-employment or by selling his time and talents to someone else. The time given to the boys must be his own—his spare time, and that taken away from his home and family.

The money he spends in giving the boys the outdoor activities they want generally comes out of his own pocket, and out of his monthly earnings. For there's no setup for paid Scout executives, for conveyance to camping grounds, etc.

The sponsoring organization names a whole bunch of adult committees, but they don't function in most instances. The civic organization's name goes in as sponsor. It's members get out once a year and raise the amount of money we must contribute to the Northwest Texas Area Council—and their year's Boy Scout work is done.

So the Scoutmaster finds himself up against a brick wall. A bunch of boys want activity; he has no one to help him; he devotes more time to the work than he can actually spare; he's barely

Goodwill Lamb Presented To Miss America

Barbara Jo Walker, "Miss America," receiving gift of a baby lamb in New York from Morton Savell, managing director of the International Wool Secretariat, on the occasion of "Miss America's" recent trip to South Africa. Miss Walker visited South Africa at the invitation of the South African Wool Board to assist "Miss France" and "Miss Great Britain" in choosing the 1948 Beauty Queen for South Africa. Lamb, named "Mumbles" was presented to Miss Walker as a goodwill sendoff gesture in the name of the world's wool growers.

Jeff Graham Wins Title In City Tourney

It was a battle royal last Sunday as Jeff Graham of Knox City, one of the top-notch golfers of the Munday Municipal Country Club, downed D. E. Holder to win the championship of the city tournament.

The boys battled it out for 18 holes, and as the putts were completed at each green a bystander would ask: "Who is ahead?" "All even" would be the reply. At one stage in the game, Holder and Graham evened it up on the 17th hole and took the 18th to defeat Holder 1-up.

Equally interesting matches were played in the other flights. N. A. Chastain and Hoss Bledsoe didn't get to play their first flight finals until Tuesday afternoon, and this proved just as interesting as the championship match. Bledsoe finally ousted Chastain 1-up as the match went through the 20th hole.

Munday afternoon was "banker's special", as Paul Pendleton and J. Weldon Smith battled it out for honors in the second flight. Pendleton took the match, 2-1.

Third flight honors went to Bill Clark, who won over Don L. Ratliff, 2-1.

Troy Lindsey, who is in his first year of golf, downed M. L. Wiggins, 1 up, to take the crown in the fourth flight.

Earl Nichols beat "Southpaw" Jim Shockey, 2-1, for top honors in the fifth flight.

The tourney created lots of interest, both among golfers and golf fans. A total of 48 players took part in the tourney, making a total of six flights.

Welch Announces For Commissioner Of Prec. Three

E. D. Welch of Gilliland this week authorized The Sunday Times to announce his candidacy for the office of Knox County Commissioner of Precinct Three, subject to the action of the voters in the July primary.

In making his announcement, Mr. Welch made the following statement:

"I am still in the race for commissioner of precinct three, and I am trying to get around to see every voter in my precinct before election time. I want the voters, however, to take this announcement as a personal solicitation of their vote and influence, assuring you that this will be deeply appreciated.

"If elected your commissioner, I will do my best for my precinct and county, and will always be found working for the best interests of everyone. Upon this basis I solicit your vote in the July primary."

Last Rites For Richard F. Albus Held Saturday

Funeral services for Pfc. Richard F. Albus were held in St. Joseph's church in Rhineland on Saturday, May 15, at 8 a. m. Solemn Requiem High Mass was offered by Rev. Paul Mosler, O. M. I., of Seymour, after which graveside services were conducted by Rev. Fabian Diersing, O. S. B.

During the Requiem Mass, the remains, resting in a beautiful steel casket, were placed near the altar where Richard had faithfully served as altar boy so many, many times during his boyhood.

Pallbearers were Richard's friends who also served their country during the war. They are Wilfred Bellinghausen, Bernard Kuehler, Everett Kuehler, Weldon Herring, C. L. Wilde, Joe Birkendorf, Francis Redder and Albert Smajstrla.

Flower girls, all relatives of Richard, were Wynell, Norma Jean, Valera and Mary Albus, Bertha Lorene, Margie Ann and Betty Brown, Elaine and Corrine Urbanczyk, Betsy, Gladys and Juanita Decker.

Besides his parents, he is survived by five brothers; Clement, Vincent and Charles of Rhineland; Robert of Elko, Nev.; Edwin of Vernon; two sisters, Adeline and Mary Alice of Rhineland, and his grandmother, Mrs. Magalena Albus of Rhineland.

Richard Francis Albus, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Albus, was born October 9, 1924, at Rhineland. He attended the Rhineland school, from which he graduated with the class of 1941. During his high school career, he received four perfect attendance certificates and was loved by faculty and classmates.

Richard entered the army on December 10, 1943, and received his basis training at Camp Shelly, Miss. After a short furlough with his family, he left home the last time in May of 1944 and embarked for foreign service from Fort George G. Meade, Maryland, on July 18, 1944.

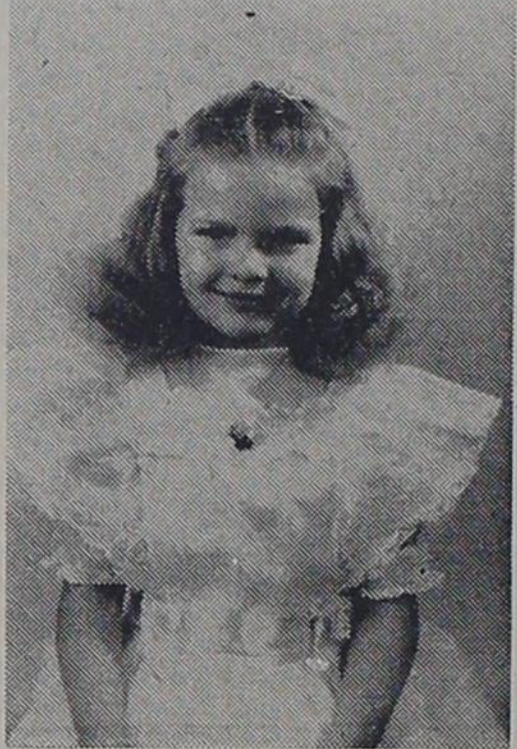

He was placed in the infantry of the 3rd Division of the Seventh Army in France, and was killed in action in the Colmar Pocket on January 23, 1945.

His body was placed in the U. S. Military cemetery in Ephinal, France, where it rested until being transferred to the U. S., when it arrived some time in April. It arrived in Munday by train at 8:20 p. m. Friday, accompanied by a special military escort, who was Cpl. Andrew Walewski. A group of sorrowing relatives and friends were on hand to receive the remains and accompany them to the Albus home.

A coach from the Mahan Funeral Home met the train and bore the body to the home he loved so dearly and defended so bravely.

Pump May Be Placed On Smith Discovery Well

Indications the first of this week were that a pump will be placed on the British American No. 1 A. Smith well, 5 miles southeast of Munday, and the well placed into production.

Swabbing has been going on in the Caddo lime, where first showing of oil was found, and it was reported the well was averaging around 35 barrels per day.

Street talk also has it that another well will be spudded in near the site and drilled to the Marble Falls, where another showing was found in the Smith No. 1. This would give the British American twin wells on the same acreage.

Goree Ships Two Carloads Of Wheat

MUNDAY'S NEEDS FOR 1948

1. A modern and up-to-date high school building, to care for the present and future educational needs of our children.
2. A waterworks system that meets all requirements of health, sanitation and supply.
3. A street sweeper that will keep our pavement clean enough to be recognized as pavement.
4. A clean-up campaign of lasting effect; yes, one that extends even across the tracks.
5. Completion of our drainage and paving program, which will probably be accomplished this year.
6. More activity among our civic organizations, looking forward to, and planning for, a better Munday in the future.

HE CAN'T HELP IT

Anyone who thinks the retailer has an easy time of it should think again.

A Wall Street Journal reporter recently surveyed the situation in Newburyport, Massachusetts, which a year ago made national headlines with a brave but short-lived effort to beat inflation by across-the-board price reductions. Newburyport is a small community, but it is typical of a large segment of this country. The reporter found that the merchants are more perplexed than ever. Sales are down 10 to 20 per cent. Inventories are rising. And customers are protesting high prices.

In a situation like this, the merchant is really caught between the devil and the deep blue sea. He has to keep his shelves well stocked—and at the same time he has to take extreme care lest he become loaded up with goods that won't move. He has to keep on giving high standards of service. The retail store can't afford to go backward.

The Newburyport Plan with its arbitrary 10 per cent price cuts failed because the margin of profits on most goods is too small to make such a cut possible. If it had been continued long enough, storekeepers would have taken heavy losses and eventually courted bankruptcy. Whether the consumer realizes it or not, most stores, faced with the pressure of tougher competition and buyer resistance, now earn unit profits which are less than the average before the war and during OPA. On staple goods, the profit is only two or three cents per dollar of sales, and in some cases is even smaller. So don't blame your merchant when something costs too much—he can't help it.

When the men were discussing the problem of the war, "How long was your last cook?" asked one. "Oh, she was never with me," said another. "She was against us from the start."

A man in India had been severely reprimanded for making over duties outside his department from headquarters. He protested. "Not long afterward, the central office sent me a startling telegram: 'Tiger on loose in your department. Wire instructions.'"

If he is an old line politician, it means he is using the same old line.

CLEAN-UP TIME

The spring and early summer community clean-up is one of the oldest and most valuable of American institutions. It makes for attractive homes and towns. According to medical men, it helps fight disease, by getting rid of germ-filled refuse. And it is absolutely essential to fire prevention.

Many fire departments have on hand self-inspection guides prepared by the National Board of Fire Underwriters. The advice given is simple—and it is also vital to domestic and industrial safety. All rubbish in and out of buildings should be gathered up and disposed of. Heating equipment of all kinds should be inspected by experts in order to ready it for hard use next winter, and needed repairs should be made at once. Electric cords, lamps and appliances should also be checked for possible dangers. Flammables, such as paint and cleaning liquids, should be carefully stored, and rugs which are used with them should be kept only in closed metal containers.

Careful clean-ups were never more needed than now. Last March alone, fire destroyed over $74,000,000 worth of property—a jump of about 2.5 per cent over the same month a year ago. Unless it is checked, a new high record of waste will again be established this year. Those dollars are represented by lost housing, buildings, food, raw materials, manufactured goods, and everything else that can burn. And along with property, fire takes more than 10,000 lives annually. The spring clean-up can be one of fire's most effective enemies.

$10,000,000,000 WORTH OF MEAT

The tremendous importance of meat animals to the American farmer is revealed in Department of Agriculture figures. Last year, these animals brought the farmer about a third of his cash income—nearly 2½ times as much as he earned from any other crop. And the total paid to the farmer by the packers reached the astronomical figure of $10,000,000,000.

Edible livestock, therefore, is the biggest single crop in the agricultural economy. And its importance doesn't stop there. Much of the $10,000,000,000 the farmers received went for feed, labor, machinery, and materials of all kinds. Its impact was felt throughout the entire country.

This illustrates the fallacy of proposals to reduce our livestock population. The result would be an unnecessary financial blow to farmers, and to every section of America. Furthermore, our great and growing demand for meat is an inevitable development of our increasing population, and the high living standards that prevail in the United States.

Equally important, experience indicates dangers that would lie in a return to rationing and price control. Under the competitive system, the farmer receives a fair price for his meat. Packers and others concerned in handling and selling it receive small profits per unit sale. And the consumer gets a sanitary product, of established quality, at the lowest possible cost, instead of black market robbery and uninspected products.

With Harry, Harold and Henry running for president, voters are in for an H of a time.

The first time I was ever paged was in the lobby of the Jefferson Hotel in Dallas in the spring of 1928. I was sitting there reading a paper when a bellboy sauntered by, chanting "Paging Mr. House; Mr. Boyce House." I was so astonished that he had nearly gotten out of earshot before I hailed him.

There are some questions that are better left unanswered—as far example if your wife asks, "If I were to die, would you marry again?" If you answer, "Yes," she may think you've got a successor in mind; if you say "No," she may think that you consider marriage such a state as once out of, you'd never return thereunto.

So, brother, sidestep that question. Someone said, a good many years ago, "The history of Europe can be summed up in one sentence, 'England is an island.'"

The fact that England was not joined to the continent balked Napoleon's dream of conquest and, before that, the attempt of Spain, whose Armada was shattered.

All callings have their pride of craftsmanship. Two street sweepers were talking about a comrade who had just passed away. One praised him highly; the other repressed and then said, "But don't you think Bill was a little weak when it came to sweeping around the lamp-posts?"

Schopenhauer was known as the philosopher of gloom. He maintained that life was not worth living and that the most fortunate day of a man's life was the day he died. An army advanced against Schopenhauer's city and thousands of inhabitants fled. In the front rank of the refugees was the philosopher of gloom who had claimed that life wasn't worth living!

Mr. Hal Fairman of Christoval visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Smith, Jr. last Sunday. Mrs. Fairman returned to Christoval with him.

One letter she got last week was about a recipe she published for Welsh Rarebit—made with tart cheese, Worcestershire, and a cup of sparkling tangy beer. "Turned out great," says her correspondent. "But you didn't mention what beverage to serve with it. Should I serve beer? Cider? Iced tea?"

The missus' answer was simply:

living on his salary, and those outings take money he could save by staying at home.

It's a pretty tough row of cotton to chop, but there are men who would chop it if more interest would be shown by the parents, the sponsors and the individuals.

Local Scouts now have a Scout hut, but the group is too large for the building. They want extra activities and their leaders haven't the time to give to it.

Some have suggested a paid Scout leader, but who would pay him? This business, and yours, and yours would have to do it. And the town has been hit by nearly a dozen special drives for funds since the first of the year.

Right now a physical fitness program is being talked for the Scouts, with the grounds around the Scout hut being converted into various "handicaps" and forms of outdoor activities.

That'll take materials, supervision of construction, money for construction, and supervision of activities. It'll take more time than one man can give, and more money than a little bit.

But what about the Scout program? What are our boys going to do? Gee Whiz! We don't know. Your interest in the problem might help some.

Munday High School Senior's Theme Gives Causes Of Juvenile Delinquency

Editor's Note: The following was written by La Rue Johnson as a research theme in her high school work, and is being reproduced by request.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY
The increase of juvenile delinquency throughout the United States clearly has run parallel with food shortages and increased food prices. Although much has been done to prevent this crime wave by occupying the mind of the child, yet, the fundamental requirement of nourishing the organism has been neglected. We know that we can expect efficient, smooth running performance from a motor when it is fed the proper fuel and each part is in running order; we cannot expect our children to be well behaved and to give top performance when they are improperly fed. It is difficult for the hungry or undernourished child to occupy his mind. Such a child will seek any means of conquering that hunger which he has known for several days.

Some times the parents are as underfed as their children. The state of nutrition cannot always be assessed by the external appearance of an individual, even though she or he may appear strong and healthy. Many mental aberrations develop because of the lack of proper nourishment.

Undernourished children crave food and will go to any lengths to get it. They steal it or get by any other known method. When food is unwisely selected, insufficient food, and deficiency in food elements may and probably will lead to physical illness which will end up as maladjustment. When a child runs afoul of the law, mental processes are often studied by individuals who are trained to know normal and abnormal reactions.

Everyone knows that during the second World War, our juvenile crimes were increased. This was caused by the children's parents either going off to war or getting war jobs. The children felt neglected and wanted to get out and have some fun. They just started small crimes and went on to the larger ones. When the parents were told what their children were doing, they punished the children.

A survey of figures show the entire nation our best authority is the information compiled by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. This tells us that juvenile delinquency increased 100 per cent during the war years, and that arrests of girls under 18 years of age increased 198 per cent. The most recent figures reveal that 21 per cent of all arrests are of persons under twenty one years of age. More persons aged seventeen are arrested than in any other age group. Those under twenty-one represent 15 per cent of all murderers, 30 per cent of all robbers, 51 per cent of all burglars, 34 per cent of all thieves, 26 per cent of all arsonists, 62 per cent of all our thieves, 30 per cent of all rapists. The arrests of girls under eighteen years of age have increased 198 per cent since 1939, while arrests of boys under eighteen have increased 48 per cent for homicide, 70 per cent for rape, 39 per cent for robbery, 72 per cent for assault, 55 per cent for auto thieves and 100 per cent for drunkenness and driving while intoxicated.

A substantial portion of major crime is attributed to persons under voting age. An examination of the 543,852 fingerprints arrest records received at the Federal Bureau of Investigation during 1945 reflected that 30 per cent of the rapes were committed by persons under twenty-one years of age, as were 35.2 per cent of the robberies, 49.8 per cent of the burglaries and 61.1 per cent of the car thefts. Age seventeen stood out as the predominating age among arrested persons and age eighteen was second.

The latest uniform crime reports show that the age of 21 was the prominent age among persons arrested during the first six months of 1946. This would seem to indicate that a portion, at least, of our war-time crop of juvenile delinquency has now grown up and joined the ranks of adult criminality.

Before we proceed intelligently in the study of modern methods of preventing delinquency, it will be necessary for us to survey some of the factors involved in the causation of delinquency conduct. For our purpose I am going to discuss eight major classifications of these factors, as follows:

1. The individual.
2. Home and family.
3. Companionships and associates.
4. Inadequacy of community institutions.
5. Harmful and commercial amusements.
6. Population and cultural factors.
7. Economic and physical environmental factors.
8. Law observance and treatment of offenders.

As I will discuss these factors, some of you may think we are getting a little off the subject, but we are not. We are trying to prove our point.

A divorce can be just as harmful as an alcoholic drink. It never ends up for the better, but for the worse. When the parents go separate ways, it confuses the teenager very much. They wonder who is really to blame and try to decide with which parent they will be happier. They go live with Mom, and she lets Johnny run around with anyone and at any time of day or night. Soon she is called to appear before the federal judge because Johnny has been arrested for robbery. Mom blames him for his behavior when she herself is really to blame. He would not have become involved with the wrong crowd if she had done her part to help.

Now Johnny, or Mary, has learned to drive, and the parents sign a legal paper giving him, or her, the right. Soon they start getting the car at night and the parent thinks they go to the show with the gang, but in reality they are racing one another up and down the highway. A little later Mother gets a visit from a patrolman telling her her son or daughter has been injured in an avoidable accident. You are really to blame, Dad or Mother, because you knew Johnny or Mary was not ready to have the car alone.

Now let us put a few facts together and see what builds up our juvenile delinquency and what we can do to prevent it.

To start with, let us find out the main causes and what we can do to prevent them.

When we let our children go some place at night, we ask them where they are going and what time they will be home. They say they are going to the show or to Haskell or Seymour to bowl or dance. On the way over there, they have an accident and are badly hurt, or even killed. They wish they had not gone over there, but stayed here so they would still be alive, yet they know there are no means of recreation here. In small towns the teen-agers have to go out to seek their own recreation. The best they find is to park out on some dark country road. Here they "court" and if the boy is a smooth talker, they may end up in a serious setting for trouble. This is the easiest way in the world to spread diseases called "syphilis" and "gonorrhoea." Some times the boy and girl contacts these diseases and notice a breaking out. They do not pay much attention to it and soon their case is incurable. When a boy and girl start "petting" you can be sure they are trying to find something that is fun to do. They have no other means of having fun. These are 60 per cent of all the girls who end up going to homes that have been provided by the state for unwed mothers.

When we think of ways of preventing juvenile delinquency, we should put youth centers, boys clubs and anything else that might help to keep down petting in our town. If they have something to keep their minds of parking on country roads, they will find out how much fun it really is to have some place to go in their own town, no matter how large or small and they will not have to go to Haskell or Seymour to find it.

Stan Kenton's Band Coming To Wichita Falls

Stan Kenton and his band, who have created such a stir in the music world with their "progressive" jazz, is coming to Wichita Falls Tuesday night, May 25, with some of Kenton's best compositions in his own personal style on the program.

Kenton may be called the only new thing in jazz for many years. Taking his inspiration from Earl "Father" Hines, Kenton played with a piano for years, working out a new style of music to replace the commercialized stuff jazz had become.

He auditioned hundreds of musicians, seeking those who felt as he did and played as he did. By 1941 he was ready. With his own arrangements and his own band, he opened for his first engagement in California and was an immediate sensation.

But talk of war drowned out a lot of the noise the new order in music was making. By the time the GI's heard Kenton and his boys on their numerous camp tours, however, Kenton was the hottest thing in the jazz world.

He still is. Twice voted the outstanding band leader of the year by Downbeat and Billboard magazines, Kenton boasts any number of record-breaking sales.

For his June 12 appearance in the Hollywood Bowl, 25,000 tickets have already been sold, record capacity of his career. Any more tickets would be SRO - Standing Room Only.

With him, as featured vocalist, will be June Christy, a young woman who talked him into letting her try out when Anita O'Day left. She's had the job ever since, and has been outstanding on platters both with him and by herself.

Advance sales for seats at the Memorial Auditorium here indicate the college students, ex-GI's and true jazz lovers have spread their gospel well. Mrs. Hal Yeager, local concert manager, said already numerous requests have been received for tickets. Mail orders are now being filled. Requests should be mailed to Post Office Box 1082, Wichita Falls.

Box office will open here in the Norsworthy Music Center, 614 Ninth Street, May 15.

His Parents Died To Help Win The War— Now Daniel Is Hungry, Needs Help To Live

Crusade for Children Asks Gifts for Hungry Children in War-Torn Europe, Asia

NEW YORK, Apr. 29—Thirteen-year-old Daniel is the only survivor of his family. Eight years ago, there were five of them, living in comfort in a pleasant town of France. Daniel remembers the death of each one.

He remembers how his father went to war on a submarine and never came back.

He remembers how his mother joined the Resistance movement and was betrayed to the Gestapo.

He remembers the escape to the forest with his mother and two small brothers; the hiding and incessant fleeing through the cold woods for eight months aided by the Maquis. He remembers the shivering and heavy breathing of the little brothers, the flush of fever on their cheeks—and how his mother went to obtain medical help and never came back.

He remembers that the little ones became colder and colder on the blanket with him, despite his efforts to breathe warmth into both their bodies from his own; that they finally lay as cold and hard as pieces of ice on each side of him and moved no more.

Mother Captured
Later he got word that his mother had been captured by the Vichy militia and turned over to the Gestapo. He remembers with bitter pride that all attempts failed to force her to reveal the hiding place of her comrades in the Maquis. Had she spoken, she might have lived. The price of her silence was death . . . death in a German concentration camp without knowing her two youngest sons had succumbed to pneumonia.

Daniel was kept hidden by the Maquis until the liberation. Then he was sent to live with his grandparents.

The grandparents are without money; they cannot buy the necessary clothes and food for their grandson.

After two years of the Maquis meager rations, after three post-war years of scant nourishment,

SOLE SURVIVOR—Thirteen-year-old Daniel, only survivor of a family of five, waits amid bomb debris in his French village and hopes emergency food will be distributed through American voluntary foreign relief agencies. It will be—Americans contribute to the Crusade for Children of American Overseas Aid-United Nations Appeal for Children, 39 Broadway, New York 6, N. Y.

Daniel is emaciated and apathetic.

His main meal of the day is the lunch he gets at school, through the assistance of American foreign relief agencies. He would like to leave school, where his academic record is above average, and work to support the old people and himself, but he is too weak to attempt work of any sort.

He has a desperate need for nourishing foods to rebuild his starved body, and help him forget the tragedies which are all he can remember of life.

Americans can give him food and hope by contributing to the Crusade for Children of American Overseas Aid-United Nations Appeal for Children.

This combined campaign, to finance the foreign relief activities of 25 American voluntary agencies, and to help replenish the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund, asks $60,000,000 of the American people this spring.

Its object is to restore to health the millions of Daniels in war-impooverished countries of Europe and Asia—the millions of sick and hungry children whose own countries cannot help them. These are children who are dependent for survival upon voluntary private relief—no government program reaches them.

Seven Cents a Day
Children fed under this wide-spread program now reaching 7,500,000 receive a supplementary meal which costs about seven cents a day per child. Half the meal—in cost and caloric value—is provided from abroad and half by the government of the child receiving it.

Supplies made possible by the Crusade for Children consist, for the most part, of powdered milk and, in some instances, a little lard or margarine and economical types of meat and fish for stew and sandwiches. The receiving governments contribute, as they can from domestic foods, cereals and cereal products, such as spaghetti, potatoes, vegetables, meat and fruits.

The children are fed in infants' and children's centers, schools, orphanages, maternity homes and the like.

Contributions to the Crusade for Children may be given to local campaign committees or sent directly to national headquarters of American Overseas Aid-United Nations Appeal for Children, 39 Broadway, New York 6, N. Y.

KITCHEN MEMO BY JEAN CLARKE

Part of the problem of meal preparation is the ever present question of what to serve for dessert. Here's one using ingredients from your faithful emergency shelf and simple enough to prepare. For Cherry Almond Sponge soften 1 envelope gelatine in 1/4 cup cold water. Dissolve this in 1 1/2 cups boiling water. Add 1/2 cup sugar, 1/4 tsp. salt, 1/2 tsp. almond extract. Chill. When mixture begins to thicken, beat until frothy. Then add 1/2 cup chopped almonds, 1/2 cup chopped maraschino cherries. Beat until stiff. Fold in 3 egg whites and pile into sherbet glasses. Chill. Serves 6.

A hot water tap leaking 60 drops a minute wastes about 65 gallons a month, enough hot water for 7 baths. A penny for a washer, a few minutes' time, saves gas water heater operation and, of course, lowers the gas bill.

The children's eyes will sparkle when you serve them a molasses milk shake. Mix well 1 tbs. molasses to a glass of cold milk.

Too much frost impedes air circulation, the greatest factor in correct refrigeration. Your gas refrigerator should be defrosted when about a half inch of frost has collected on an appreciable number of fins.

To take out grass or flower stains rub fabric in thick hot suds. If the stain still remains, use hydrogen peroxide or a chlorine bleach. Very bad stains should be softened first by rubbing with grease.

Veterans' News

Most of the 45,000 World War II veterans taking institutional on-farm training under federal veterans' training programs in Texas, Louisiana, and Mississippi may qualify for increased subsistence benefits due to changes in ceilings, rates and number of dependents, the Veterans Administration reported.

The increases were authorized by Public Law 512, signed May 4, 1948, by President Truman. The law raises pay ceilings, establishes new criteria for computing income from productive labor, and provides for partial increases in subsistence allowances for part-time school training and for combination school and job training programs such as institutional on-farm training.

Under the new ceilings for GI Bill farm trainees, earned income plus subsistence may not exceed $210 a month for a veteran without dependents, $270 for a veteran with one dependent, and $290 for a veteran with more than one dependent. Previous limits were $175 or a veteran without dependents and $200 or a veteran with one or more dependents.

Another provision of the new law gives additional increases to veterans training as employees on other persons' farm. Only wages for the standard work week, exclusive of overtime pay, are considered earned income in computing subsistence under the raised ceilings. Previously, veterans included pay or all regularly scheduled overtime work in reporting their earned incomes.

Veterans taking institutional on-farm training under the GI Bill and Public Law 16 may be paid subsistence increases for that time they devote to institutional school training. The increases are based on the percentage of a full-time course of institutional training that their school work represents. No increases will be allowed or veterans whose institutional school work is not the equivalent of at least one-fourth of a full-time course.

The first adjustments will probably be in the August 1 checks, retroactive to April 1.

THE JEOFFROY "SOIL CONTROL CULTIVATOR"

The Plow of the Past REVOLUTIONIZED for TODAY!

The chisel-type cultivation of the Jeffroy "Soil Control Cultivator" is not new! In fact, the first plows of this type were made over 3,000 years ago by the Egyptians for farming along the Nile River. They used a sharpened stick, while in the Jeffroy machine, silicamanganese steel is required to stand present-day speeds and uses. Down through the ages many plows have been used and discarded, but the chisel-type plow has proved to have less draft, control erosion, and conserve moisture more effectively than any other plow invented!

Moisture penetrates farther, does not run off. Stubble and trash are worked into topsoil for more effective refertilization of the land.

Disc-type cultivation leaves a smooth surface that quickly soaks and causes water run-off.

- ★ Plows and cultivates the natural way. ★ Conserves the moisture. ★ Prevents blowing.
- ★ Stops erosion. ★ Cuts plowing cost in half.
- ★ Constructed to last a lifetime. ★ Pre-war prices. ★ Made in 4 sizes to fit your power: 7 ft. - 10 ft. - 13 ft. - 16 ft.

Wood Named President Of S'western Life

JAMES RALPH WOOD

James Ralph Wood of Dallas was unanimously elected president of Southwestern Life Insurance Company at a meeting of the Board of Directors May 5, according to an announcement received here today by the local representative, J. C. Borden.

At that time, he was elected General Counsel for the Southwestern Life. He was elected a vice president and a member of the Board of Directors of the Company in July, 1945.

Says Public Debt Rise Puts Burden On Life Insurance

THE "future dollars" of three out of every four American families, holders of life insurance policies, have been diminished and the net cost of their insurance has been increased by the rapid rise in our national debt, the Committee on Public Debt Policy finds in a study of the effect of the debt on life insurance.

Because the cost of living has gone up according to the study, a thousand dollars of insurance buys much less in 1948 than it would have bought in 1941; also, because of these higher living costs and heavier taxes, large numbers of people cannot purchase the additional insurance they need; further, the net cost of insurance has risen because of the Government's policy of keeping interest rates at an extremely low level.

To preserve the value of the "future dollars" for which policyholders pay, management of the public debt is urged to work towards economic stability and not towards either inflation or deflation. The committee recommends that the Treasury and the Federal Reserve combat inflationary trends by paying off the debt out of budget surpluses and by causing the possession of Treasury certificates to shift gradually from commercial banks to other investors. Both steps tend to reduce the volume of money and bank deposits outstanding, and to prevent inflationary spiraling of the money supply. Both steps, the committee warns, must be taken with care, to avoid deflation—"a trend as serious as inflation."

Because of declines in the prevailing rate of interest, the study finds, net investment earnings of a representative group of life insurance companies dropped from about 5 per cent in 1930 to 2.9 per cent in 1946. This reduction of about 40 per cent is described as "a cut in the wages of securely invested savings."

The committee says that since rates on Government securities set the pattern not only for rates on current new investments of insurance companies, but also, through refunding operations, on the earnings of holdings already in their portfolios, the Government's interest rate policy in the future will continue to affect the amount of dividends paid to policyholders and hence the net cost of insurance. The study shows that since the early 1930s there has been a progressive downward trend in dividend scales of insurance companies. Thus in 1930 policyholders received back in dividends 15.7 per cent of their premiums, while sixteen years later dividends were less than 8.9 per cent of premiums.

Life insurance companies hold about 20 billion dollars of Government securities, forty per cent of their assets being thus invested. They comprise the largest single group of purchasers of the long-term 2 1/2 per cent bonds issued during the Defense, War Loan and Victory bond drives.

Bankers See Value Of Soil Conservation

A farm that is losing its topsoil through erosion offers little security for a loan—at least a long time loan. This is the conclusion from the interest bankers over the country are taking in conversation.

As an illustration, there is a Kansas banker who won't make a loan on a farm unless the farmer is carrying out the needed conservation practices. He feels that he has no right to risk money on land that is being washed or blown away. Mr. Bruce B. Campbell said that this trend is a recognition on the part of bankers that the size of a farm doesn't always determine how much can be produced. It is a part of the growing realization that production depends on the quality and the depth of the topsoil that covers the farm—that when that topsoil is gone the farm is gone even though all the acres are still there.

The kind of farming that removes soil fertility without putting it back or that speeds up erosion, also takes away the security of the land. The farmer's living and the banker's security depends upon what the land produces and will continue to produce. That's why, bankers look into the kind of farming as well as the kind of a farm. They realize that the land is safe and dependable for a loan must be farmed the conservation way.

The major function of the Agricultural Conservation Program, is to help farmers make their farms more secure. The assistance given under the program is to help farmers hold the topsoil on their farms and to keep that topsoil productive.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

Austin—Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has issued the following statements and suggestions concerning the control and prevention of poliomyelitis which is now occurring in some sections of the State.

Strict sanitary measures should be observed in all communities. Eliminate rats, mosquitoes, and houseflies, and destroy their breeding places. Every effort should be made to secure approved garbage collection systems and safe water supplies. Where adequate municipal disposal systems are not in operation, it is vitally important to maintain sanitary septic tanks and outdoor privies.

All swimming pools should maintain standards approved by the State Department of Health, which includes maintenance of proper chlorine level.

Only approved milk should be used, and raw foods and vegetables should be washed thoroughly before use, and protected from flies, filth, and insects. All food-handling establishments should adhere strictly to the State Law concerning the sterilization of dishes and utensils. Those restaurants personnel to maintain approved sanitation should close one or two hours a day so that employees can assist in maintaining cleanliness.

Over-exertion in children should be avoided, and they should not visit in homes where there is illness. It is advisable to reduce to a minimum all human contacts, especially in children during an outbreak of this disease. It is not advocated that schools, churches, and theatres be closed.

Early symptoms of infantile paralysis are headache, fever, vomiting, drowsiness, followed by stiffness in the neck and back. When suspicious symptoms appear, a physician should be called immediately.

New Marathon Tires Introduced To Trade Area

Introduction of a new Marathon line of passenger automobile tires to this trading area is announced by J. E. Reeves, who operates the Reeves Motor Co., at Munday.

"The new Marathon", says Mr. Reeves, "provides a line that combines excellent mileage and traction at prices averaging substantially less than those now prevailing for most tires in comparable sizes."

"Included in the list of sizes of Marathons now available are the 5.25/5.50-17; 6.00-16; 6.50-15; 6.50 16; popular sizes in a range covering many of the cars that have been manufactured in the last 15 years."

"The original Marathon line of tires for passenger cars was introduced in March, 1938, but its production was discontinued during the war emergency. The Marathon had attained widespread popularity by 1942 and its return will be welcomed by thousands of motorists."

"With the Spring and Summer driving season just opening up, motorists are having their cars checked over, and many of them are going to find out their having present tire equipment needs replacing before any considerable amount of driving is possible."

"The new Marathon is just the tire for this purpose, and in addition to being handsome in appearance has a wide tread, presenting a good wearing surface to the road and prolonging tread life, has the new roll-grip non-skid, combining all the advantages of multiple long-wearing ribs with deep non-skid design", Mr. Reeves said.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Jungman were visitors in Dallas on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Stodghill and Herbert, Betty and Ruth spent the week end in Dallas, visiting and attending to business matters. From there Mr. Stodghill and Herbert went to Oklahoma City, where they attended a convention.

County Supt. Merick McLaughery of Benjamin was here Tuesday, visiting with friends and attending to business matters.

When You Are Tempted to Cut Down on Feed Remember these facts . . .

• A 3 1/2 pound hen that lays an average of 200 eggs a year consumes about 75 pounds of feed a year. Of that 75 pounds, 56 pounds go to maintain the hen's body, leaving 19 pounds for egg production.

• By nature, the hen is going to provide for her body needs first . . . so any feed denied the hen comes off that part allotted to egg production. The hen just won't have it any other way most be like burying these men anew to close the doors of this church. But has this church failed? No. Eternity alone will tell the good this church has done. It was born in peace and good will and as far as I know it's closing its doors in the same good way. Is it money this church needs? No. It has all ways payed every dollar it was asked to pay. Then is it leadership we need? No. We always had a few good men who have tried to lead us. Then the answer is simple. It's closing its doors because the people of the community don't care to go to church anymore. Their interest is in something else. Its doors will be closed Sunday, hoping to be opened again in the near future for service. If not, then we well have to be satisfied in treasuring its precious memories.

• Cutting a few pounds off your hen's feed allowance isn't going to hurt the hen very much. You are simply cutting down on egg production . . . you are cutting down on your own profits.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

To Whom It May Concern:

If the person who promiscuously scatters poison for dogs could stand and listen to a broken-hearted child call for their pet, not knowing that she will never again answer their call, I am sure they would think twice before stooping to this trick again. This is the experience that we have had this past week, and I am frank to say that it gets under your hide pretty deep.

I agree that stray dogs that have no owner to care for them should be destroyed, but not by poison. You always get the wrong one.

Jane still calls for "Sudda" each time she gets up from her nap, but the little Cocker Spaniel will never come, for she is the victim of someone who is not any kind of American citizen.

WELCOME TO UNION CHAPEL NEXT SUNDAY

The Union Chapel Methodist Church is closing its doors next Sunday, May 23 after holding an all day service with dinner on the ground for all who care to attend. We hope all the old timers that is left will come out and be with us in the last service.

This church has made 43 years of history, being organized in 1905 in the Grass Hopper school house with boxing plank layed across nail kegs for seats, the school house not being finished at that time. This church was organized with only 8 members of all being in one family, C. A. Chunn and his six boys. The Rev. Mark Bevers organized and served as first pastor of this church, who has had 25 pastors and 5 of these pastors have made District Superintendents later. This church has grown from 8 members to as many as 150 members and has opened its doors to other denominations. Three denominations have had church in this building at one time, the Missionary Baptist, and the Cumberland Presbyterian. There has been 8 or more young men who have gone out to preach the gospel from this community. This church had at one time a Woman Missionary Society that lasted 20 years or longer, and holding several districts in conference ribbons as being the banner society in districts according to number in the society. This society has always been a Methodist society but had a Baptist president. We attribute the success of this missionary society

Knox Prairie Philosopher Gets Alarmed Over News That Five Men In Town Are Depending On Him

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek apparently has misinterpreted his newspaper but that seems to be a habit with him anyway. Certainly we're not counting on him to feed us.

Dear editor:
I was out here on Miller Creek Monday morning and seen a copy of a newspaper layin on the ground where somebody had left it after spreadin a picnic lunch on it and I waited around stretched out in the shade until nearly noon waitin for the ants to get through with the crumbs as I wasn't in no hurry and live and let live is my policy and a newspaper is just as interestin three hours from now as it is now, and when I finally got around to opening it up and got through with the funnies I read

Check Your Car, Check Accidents, New Road Slogan

"Check your car . . . check accidents" is the May slogan of a continuing program aimed at saving lives on the streets and highways of Texas.

"The brakes of your car can mean the difference between life and death," said Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety. "Lots of people realize that. But, still it's deplorable how many motorists continue to drive with poor brakes. Other car parts, too, can be life savers. Lights, windshield wipers, tires, steering and wheel alignment, the muffler and exhaust system, the glass, rear-view mirror and horn all are important to safety."

"The Texas Highway Patrol requests all motorists to keep their cars in safe operating condition as one means of preventing losses from traffic accidents. This project for May is part of the year-round Operation Safety program for traffic safety. The continuing effort is part of a nation-wide traffic safety education promotion of the National Safety Council," said W. J. Elliott, Chief.

"Your life and the lives of others may depend on whether or not your car is kept in safe operating condition," Captain G. L. Marahan of the Wichita Falls, Texas Office of the Texas Highway Patrol said. Vehicle defects were contributing factors in hundreds of fatal traffic accidents, according to accident reports. Yet this figure does not tell the whole story. Information on vehicle condition is available in less than half of all reported fatal cases.

"So check your car . . . check accidents . . . and save a life."

where a soil conservation expert says the nation is gettin so thickly populated that "five city dwellers now are directly dependent upon the success of a sixth man on the soil."

As I understand this, the fate of five men in town hinges on my success on my farm out here. We're headin for a crisis.

In other words, for example, I got to produce enough for me and five other men livin in Munday. This is the first I've heard of this, and I don't know who my five is, but just say for example they are J. Weldon Smith, Eugene Harrell, Wade Mahan, Jim Reeves, and you.

What kind of justice do you call this? Thunderation, it's all I can do to feed myself without takin on these five. Who started this kind of arrangement? If you will let me know what Congressman or Senator is responsible I will get him told quick.

If I got to feed you all, why don't you all come out here and help me fight Johnson grass?

It's not that a farmer ain't already loaded down with taxes, high labor costs, gasoline goin up every month, tractors sky high, insects gettin worse every year, prices always droppin at sellin time, but here somebody has to come out with a plan requirin us to take on five families in town. I tell you, the breakin point is comin.

However, just between you and me, if you five men in town is really dependin on me to feed you, you gonna have lean pickins next winter.

Yours faithfully,

Uncle Sam Says

Seeding time on the farm calls for the use of strong, pure seed able to meet weather and pest attacks and still come through with a good harvest. United States Savings Bonds are like good reliable seed. They grow a crop which can be left to full, rich maturity in ten years at the rate of $4 for every $3 invested. Take a tip from the wise farmer who is storing up a crop of security by investing now in Savings Bonds. He is growing more money, security for himself and his family and security for his country. Your security is America's security.
