

Kracker Krumb's Odd Bits Salvaged At Random

Our soil is more than a big patch of dirt.

It is the means of our sustenance, one and all, whether we till the soil or not.

It is the life of a great nation which depends upon the soil, either directly or indirectly.

From Munday to Washington, D. C., to New York City, to San Francisco, there are those who could not get along without our soil.

Those great industrial centers, those who occupy the towering skyscrapers, the miners who dig in the bowels of the earth, are dependent upon the soil for their very sustenance.

"We can remain the greatest nation in the world if we'll just conserve our soil and keep it productive." This is the opinion expressed by many people, farmer and businessman alike.

In the past we, as a people, haven't thought a great deal about conserving our soil. As long as it produces a fair crop and we get fair prices for our products, we are pretty well satisfied.

For years we've been taking everything out of the soil, and putting back nothing in return.

Yet, we can visit places—and they're not too far away—that have become ghost towns because of soil erosion.

We can visit places in Texas, too—only a few hours drive—that are staging a comeback and again making the soil productive because of soil conservation practices.

In Knox County, we've been paying more attention during recent years to soil conservation. But we need to practice it more.

The week of May 15 through May 21 is soil conservation week in Texas, and our local soil conservation district supervisors are planning to try to make Knox County people more conservation conscious.

The week will be highlighted by a soil conservation banquet here at Munday next Tuesday night. It will be held at the school lunch room.

Plans are to have a farmer and a business man seated side by side. Their wives will be there, too.

They'll talk the soil and conservation, its relation to our future as farmers and businessmen.

It's a state-wide movement. Many such banquets will be held. They'll all carry out the same theme, soil conservation.

Window displays are also to feature soil conservation week. Some displays are being planned locally.

Local boosters of the soil and planners for the dinner are Clay F. Grove and Jack Idol.

They plan to have maps lining the walls of the dining room, showing farm and ranch conservation plans.

They plan for table decorations, etc., bouquets of grasses, legumes and crop plants—perhaps exhibits of plants from good and poor soils.

A good program is planned, featuring the importance of the soil conservation district to the entire community.

Every thing will be over by 9 o'clock, at which time the group will listen in on a broadcast originating at a special dinner at the Rice Hotel in Houston. The program will feature messages from people of national importance—soil conservation.

Around 150 people—farmers and wives, business people and wives—are expected at the local

Reserve Seat Ticket Sales Going Strong

Football fans are voicing their approval of the plan to construct new bleachers at the local stadium by brisk purchases of the reserve seat tickets.

A plan of the reserve seat section was drawn and sales were begun last week. On Tuesday of this week, it was reported that around 300 reserved seats had been sold.

The plan to replace the old, unsafe bleachers with the new type was originated some time ago by directors of the Munday Community Development Association, and the sale of tickets have been by members of the C. D. A. athletic committee, in cooperation with the local schools.

The new steel-type bleachers with wooden seats will be constructed on both sides of the stadium, increasing the seating capacity.

Tickets are being sold on a two-year basis, giving the purchaser assurance of a seat during this two-year period and an option on the same seats in the future. The price is $10 per seat for the two-year period.

Steel pipe has been purchased and construction of the bleachers is expected to begin within the near future.

Golfers Qualify Four Tournament

The Munday golf course was a scene of activity last Sunday, as local golfers began qualifying for their annual city tournament.

Qualifying continuing this week, with today (Thursday) being the final day for turning in qualifying scores. The feed and calcutta pool is scheduled for Thursday evening.

Several nice prizes are being purchased for the winners in this tournament, and a large majority of club members are expected to compete in the matched play.

Matched play will begin on Sunday, May 14, with final matches scheduled for Sunday, May 21.

League Ranch Holds Annual Field Day

Jack Idol, manager of the League Ranch, was host to a large group of people on Tuesday, May 2, when the League Estate held its annual ranch field day.

Around 200 people were present for the delicious barbecue dinner which was served on the League Ranch at the banks of the Brazos river. Guests included Benjamin school children and men and women from various parts of the county.

Principal speaker was Mr. Alfred of Fort Worth, district range supervisor, who spoke briefly on range conservation work.

Mr. Idol, long an advocate of conservation practices, and the League Estate, have been holding this annual field day for a number of years.

C. E. FOX MANAGER OF LOCAL ELEVATOR

Announcement was made this week that C. E. Fox has been appointed manager of the Graham Mill & Elevator Co., formerly operated by W. R. and Billy Mitchell.

Mr. Fox stated the elevator will be ready for the 1950 wheat harvest, and he solicits the patronage of farmers of this area.

JOIN FORTY-AND-EIGHT

Ardell Spelce and R. F. Horan were in Wichita Falls last Saturday, where they were initiated into the "Forty-and-Eight" club. This organization originated during World War I and is for active workers in the American Legion.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Montgomery spent the past week end in Lubbock visiting.

Soil Conservation Banquet Set Here For Tuesday Night

Emphasizing the importance of conserving our soil, a highlight of soil conservation week, May 15 to 21, will be a banquet served at the Munday school lunch room on Tuesday night, May 16.

Jack Idol and Clay F. Grove, supervisors of the Brazos-Wichita Soil Conservation District, are making final plans of the banquet this week. The banquet is sponsored locally by the Community Development Association and tickets may be obtained at the local office.

Plans are to have farmers and their wives and businessmen and their wives present, and during the meal they will talk of their problems.

The toastmaster will tell of accomplishments and needs of soil conservation, and W. E. Braly, local banker, will tell of what conservation means to the business people of the town.

The program will be completed by nine o'clock, at which time the group will be tuned in to a radio program originating at the Rice Hotel in Houston which will feature messages of people of national importance.

Plans are to have around 150 people attend the local banquet.

JOHN BEN SHEPPERD

Census Nearly Completed For This District

The census enumeration for the 15-county district which includes Knox County, is nearly completed, according to Ben Hausler of Wichita Falls, district supervisor. He stated every person in the district will have been counted by Sunday.

It may be May 20—or later—before preliminary reports of the district's population are given out. Hausler says that will be the date when all portfolios are completed and boxed, ready for shipment to Washington, D. C.

Most of the counting, Hausler said, was completed several days ago, and enumerators are now making "callbacks" to persons not at home when they called the first time.

High water delayed counting in Wise and Cook counties, he said. The count in Knox County is believed complete, but figures will not be given out until the entire check is completed.

TO PRESENT PUPILS IN PIANO RECITAL

Mrs. Al C. Williams will present her piano and vocal pupils in a recital at the First Baptist Church in Munday on Friday night, May 12th, at 8 p. m. If rainy, it will be postponed until Monday night.

Felipe Escobar Dies Saturday At Knox City

Felipe Escobar, 93-year-old retired Knox County farmer, died Saturday morning in the Knox County Hospital after a short illness.

Funeral services were held in the Santa Rose Catholic Church in Knox City with the pastor, the Very Rev. Francisco Gual, officiating. Burial was in the Truscott cemetery.

Mr. Escobar had been living in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Dora Cassillas of O'Brien, since his retirement in 1946.

Born in the state of Zacatecas, Mexico, he came to Texas in his early manhood, settling in San Antonio, where he operated a freight wagon between San Antonio and Corpus Christi for a number of years.

Before coming to Knox County in 1923, he worked in an iron ore mine near Laredo and farmed near Bridgeport in Wise County. Up to his retirement, he farmed on the League Ranch north of here. Afterwards, he lived in Vera and Truscott for a short time.

Survivors besides his daughter in O'Brien include another daughter, Mrs. Martha Caram of Truscott; two sons, William Escobar of Knox City and John Escobar of O'Brien; 37 grandchildren and 30 great grandchildren.

TO DALLAS HOSPITAL

Doyle Pyatt of Benjamin, highway maintenance engineer for Knox County, was taken to a Dallas hospital for medical treatment last Tuesday. He suffered a cerebral hemorrhage last Monday. Reports are to the effect that he is improving.

Be careful. Observe state and local traffic laws.

Shepperd Will Speak At Legion Banquet Fiday

John Ben Shepperd, Gladewater attorney, recently appointed Secretary of State by Governor Allan Shivers, will be guest speaker at the first annual American Legion banquet here Friday night at the school auditorium. Final plans for the banquet are being made, and a large crowd is expected to attend.

Shepperd is well known for brilliant activity on half a dozen civic and political fronts. As the governor's right-hand man, he will take over quite a few of the governor's official duties, of both formal and informal nature. He will get underway a study which will eventually lead to streamlining the 1876-model state government, and will also ramrod the revision of the election laws ordered by the legislature last year.

However, Shepperd's chief fame lies in his initiative, foresight and keen perception of the political emergencies of our admittedly troubled times. His personal crusade for the past five years has been to encourage Americans to take more responsibility and a healthier and more intelligent participation in the discussion and solution of public issues as a means of preserving our way of life.

While winning a worldwide reputation as an outspoken leader and spokesman of America's young men, Shepperd at the same time has continued his work in Texas and for Texas. Last spring he originated the idea for "Democracy Beats Communism Week" in Gladewater, a plan which has spread over Texas and the nation.

"Local and state governments are still the foundation of Democracy. When we inform ourselves about these agencies and through these established institutions solve our own problems, we set an example and give hope and inspiration to America and the world," he remarked in connection with the plan. Shepperd, in the Gladewater plan, set forth four bases on which Democracy rests: Religion, Education, Civic Responsibility, and Militant Citizenship.

Shepperd was recently selected by Future Magazine as one of the "Nation's Ten Outstanding Young Men of 1949." He is a former National President of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

He is president of the Sabine River Watershed Association; past president of the Gregg County Bar Association; Chairman of the Americanism Committee of the Texas American Legion; Chairman of the American Citizenship Committee of the State Bar of Texas; Vice-president of the Texas Safety Association; National Council Representative of the East Texas Area of Boy Scouts; Director of the Texas Crippled Children's Society; former member of the State Board of Education; and former Chairman of the Governor's Election Laws Committee.

In his home town, he is past-president of the Chamber of Commerce, active in the Lions' Club, the American Legion, the First Christian Church, and numerous other groups. He is married, and is the father of two boys and twin girls.

Mrs. G. R. Eiland returned last Tuesday from Fort Worth where she had been visiting for several days.

We Live In A Wet Country!

Knox County is just as wet as she was dry a few weeks ago!

A total of 3.28 inches fell during the week's period ending Wednesday night, May 3, bringing the year's total up to 7.35 inches.

Everyone—especially the farmers—were elated over that amount of moisture. It put the soil in excellent condition for beginning the 1950 crops, and that parched wheat took on new life. Prospects were for a better wheat crop than had been expected.

Combines were being purchased; combines were being made ready, with the wheat harvest not far in the future. Tractors and plowing equipment were, put into shape, and plowing operations begun.

But the weatherman was not through.

He began dishing out more moisture on Tuesday afternoon of this week. Then Wednesday came another generous supply, beginning soon after noon and continuing intermittently light and heavy all afternoon. We live in a wet country!

Rainfall for the week, including 2.63 inches Wednesday, reached a total of 3 inches, bringing the year's precipitation to 10.35.

Cartwright Well Void In Ellenburger

The Ellenburger had showed nothing at the Texas Pacific Coal and Oil Co. No. 1-A Louis Cartwright well, four miles southeast of Munday on Wednesday.

Ellenburger was topped at 5,907 feet, and reports Wednesday were that drilling was at about 6,000 feet and 90 feet in this formation with no showing. Coring was going on Wednesday, and this was believed the final effort to find a show.

Reports are that casing will be set at the earlier show, at around 4,600 feet to test strength there.

Rev. And Mrs. Bateman Observe 50th Wedding Anniversary Last Saturday

Saturday, May 6th, came. The day was bright and clear, a lovely day for an elderly couple to reminisce of times past—far in the past.

And Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Bateman had planned to spend the day just that way—thinking of 50 years ago when they recited wedding vows. It was their golden wedding anniversary.

But they didn't spend it quietly. Mrs. Bateman's Sunday school class and friends had planned it in another way. They began coming in, bringing food and gifts. A delicious dinner was spread and friends helped the Batemans celebrate the occasion. Rev. R. L. Butler, made a talk in honor of this beloved couple, and at 3 p. m., the hour of their wedding 50 years ago, Rev. Butler officiated while the couple again recited vows that united them in the holy bonds of matrimony. It was a lovely occasion, a wonderful surprise, and this beloved couple agree that they couldn't have spent a happier golden wedding anniversary, except for the fact their children were not present.

Friends who called included Mrs. W. F. Phillips, Mrs. W. A. Baker, Mrs. A. E. Womble, Mrs. W. T. Ford, Mrs. Robason, Mrs. P. B. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Caughran, Mrs. E. B. Bowden, Mrs. Irene Meers, Miss Shellie Lee, Mrs. G. L. Roden, Mrs. S. A. Bowden, Miss Ruth Baker, Rev. and Mrs. Butler, Mrs. Etta Webb, Mrs. T. C. Merrill, Mrs. O. O. Putnam and daughter, Mrs. E. E. Lowe, Mrs. A. D. Irick, Dr. R. L. Newsom, Dr. and Mrs. D. C. Eiland, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McNeill, Mrs. W. P. Harbin, Mrs. P. V. Williams, Mrs. G. W.  Act of Congress, March 2, 1879.

OUR NEEDS FOR 1950

1. Completion of our portion of the Throckmorton road, giving the farmers of that area an all-weather outlet.
2. A farm-to-market road to the north and east of Munday, possibly connecting with the Herber road.
3. A U. S. Federal building. Munday needs a new post office home.
4. More homes in Munday. We did a good job in 1949, but there's still a housing shortage.
5. A new telephone system, giving the town adequate telephone service and tapping the rural area surrounding the town.
6. Greater cooperation of business man, farmer, and citizen toward long-range development for our community.

ON "ONE-WEAPON" WARS

Marshall Andrews, military editor of the Washington Post and a veteran of both world wars, has written an important book, called "Disaster Through Air Power," which has been published by Rhinehart & Company. Not everyone will agree with its treatment of an extremely controversial subject—but it undoubtedly does more than any other work of its kind to dispel the dubious and dangerous theory that big bombers will assure us of victory should another war come.

In the book, Mr. Andrews makes this extremely important statement: "It is reasonably safe to make the dogmatic statement that no nation which ignores sea power can hope to win a modern war. It was Hitler's failure to give proper weight to sea power which led ultimately to his defeat . . ." This is an historical truth which the air-power zealots seem to have totally overlooked. And failure to recognize it could lead this or any other nation to disaster.

Moreover, in these times, adequate seapower demands a truly balanced Navy of surface ships, submarines and, of first importance, carrier-based aviation. Some Air Force partisans obviously wish to reduce the strength of Naval air to the vanishing point, and perhaps to even eliminate it entirely. Nothing could do more to cripple our Naval effectiveness. In the last war, and especially in the Pacific, the carriers were one of the most decisive weapons.

There is no "one-weapon" wars. The maximum development of all the services, sea, air and ground, is the only road to military security.

which ended last January 31.

One interesting phase of this report is that profits from merchandising operations declined in practically all cases, as compared with the preceding year, and were very moderate. In the case of specialty stores with annual sales of $1,000,000 or more, profits amounted to only 2.7 percent of net sales. The profits of department stores in the same classification were about the same—2.9 percent of sales. Smaller stores showed a similar experience.

The NRPGA's summary observes, "A number of years ago some degree of deflation was recognized as both necessary and healthy to the economy as a whole. The present period of general price decline provides stores with a valuable opportunity to effect improvements in their merchandising and operating activities." Retailing's services to the public always get better—and the consumer pays a remarkably small "fee" in the way of profit to the enterprises which bring us so much abundance.

AWARDS FOR FIRE PREVENTION

The National Board of Fire Underwriters has announced that nine active leaders in the field of press and radio have been selected as judges for its annual awards for outstanding service in fire prevention. These impartial experts will choose a daily newspaper, a weekly, and a radio station to be honored with a Gold Medal or $500 cash. Other papers and radio stations which do a job of unusual merit will be given Honorable Mention Citations.

Here is a contest which involves the highest kind of service to the community and to the nation. Every newspaper and radio station should participate. The National Board's awards have been made annually since 1941, and an enormous amount of good has resulted. Even so, our inexcusable high fire waste remains a tragic national problem—and a problem of direct interest to every citizen. Of late, it is true, there have been moderate declines in fire losses—yet, for the last 12 months which ended last February 28, the total was more than $664,000,000. And the ghastly toll fires take in deaths and maimings—of which a high percentage occur among young children who cannot protect themselves—continues.

The newspapers and radio stations which have won awards in past contests, and those which will win this year, deserve congratulations for an important job splendidly performed. And those which participate in the contest but do not win should not be too disappointed. They are discharging a vital obligation to their readers and listeners, each one of whom should become a soldier in the war against fire. Without such fire prevention activity no one can estimate the tremendous fire loss in life and property that the nation would suffer.

Washington News Letter

WASHINGTON, D. C. May 5
 —The main subject of gossip around the Capitol corridors this week has been, and is, the Florida elections on Tuesday. The senatorial campaign in Florida between Representative George Smathers and Senator Claude Pepper has attracted national attention. Many of the capital smart boys thought that Senator Claude Pepper could not be defeated. A great many of us were quite pleased that Congressman Smathers won by a substantial majority. Senator Claude Pepper is an able and distinguished senator. However, he is a leader of the so-called "liberal camp" and is an exponent of the FEPC, the repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act, etc. He had powerful and financial and political backing of the Political Action Committee of the CIO, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and most, if not all of the radical societies in the land.

While the House continues to debate the multi-billion dollar appropriation bill, they did take time out on Thursday to listen to an address of the Prime Minister of Pakistan, Mr. Liaquat Ali Khan. The visits and the addresses of foreign potentates and dignitaries have become so common around Washington that Members of Congress no longer get excited about them. There is no longer any rush to get a front seat.

Pakistan is the largest Moslem country in the world and the Ali Khan is counting on substantial financial help from the Americans. Almost half the people in the world are either Moslems, or are subject to Moslem influence. They, and those in radical or religious affinity with them, occupy almost one-half of the world's surface. We offended them deeply when we subsidized and underwrote the creation of the sovereign nation of Israel. In fact, a prominent Arab was in my office a few minutes ago bitterly complaining that more than 800,000 Arabs still live in caves and hovels as refugees from Jewish terror and persecution. Our State Department has been resorting to many expedients in order to win back some of the affection of the Arab world. This is one of the reasons why our State Department is so bitterly opposed to any restrictions on oil imports from Saudi Arabia and other Arabian countries in the Middle East. The Ali Khan will probably get a substantial loan from Uncle Sam.

I have regretfully and reluctantly been compelled to reject a number of cordial invitations to make speeches in our District during the next several months. A trip to Texas for a speech not only takes me away from a heavy schedule of important work here in the Capitol but it also costs several hundred dollars which the Gossetts can ill afford to spend. Unless one expects the year in the red. However, since I serve on the Judiciary Committee of the House, I have felt compelled to accept an invitation to address the State Bar Convention of Texas on July 8.

One of the interesting bills which our Judiciary Committee this week tabled was H. R. 2443. This bill proposed to pay Messrs. Martineau and Lewiston, Los Angeles attorneys, an additional fee of $100,000 for representing the government in a civil suit against the estate of the late Edward L. Doheny. The case grew out of the Teapot Dome and Elks Hill oil scandal. These gentlemen were hired by the Department of Justice to prosecute the civil suit. They were given $25,000 for their services. They were very successful and settled the case, without trial, for three million dollars. Officials in the Department of Justice have since insisted that Congress should appropriate an additional sum as compensation to these gentlemen. The claim has been pending in the Congress for almost 15 years.

Kenneth Baker, of A. & M. College, College Station, spent the past week end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Baker, and other relatives and friends.

Rotary Hoe Is Believed To Cut Production Cost

Next to harvesting, cotton chopping and hoeing are the greatest man hour consumers in the production of a cotton crop. In central Texas, for example, 22 percent of the man hours required to produce a cotton crop are spent on chopping and hoeing. According to Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton work specialist of Texas A. & M. College, cotton producers can reduce this time consuming operation by using rotary hoes and at the same time increase their income from cotton.

He says many farmers last year reported that they made savings up to 60 percent on these two items through the use of the rotary hoe. Figures taken from Elliott's 1949 annual report shows that almost 7,000 cotton producers in 81 Texas counties used the rotary hoe last year.

In commenting on the value of this tractor equipment for early weed control, he says one of the most common mistakes made by the tractor operator is that the ground speed of the tractor is too slow.

For best results, he says the tractor should be operated in third gear at speeds up to 5 or 6 miles per hour. The picker wheels should be set so they will break the surface crust to a depth of one-half to three-fourths of an inch. This not only breaks up the surface crust but also tears up the soil so that seedling weeds and grass are exposed to the action of the sun and wind before they have a chance to come through the ground or before their root system becomes established.

He reports that most farmers slow down the tractor because they are afraid that they will cover up the cotton plants or tear up the soil to such an extent as to cause damage to the young plants, however, tests, he says, have proved that this is not true if the rotary hoe is properly adjusted.

GETS TWO AWARDS

Yoo-hoo, Mrs. Bloom — Mrs. Cramer—Everybody! This is Molly Goldberg. Come give me an ear so I can tell you the many things that have happened to me and my family lately.

"The Goldbergs"—Jake, Rosalie, Sammily, and Uncle David also—all of us have moved to a new day and time. We can be heard now on Saturday nights over CBS. And we want to be sure you switch with us. Jake says not to forget to mention that there's no change in us for television. It's still Monday nights over CBS-TV that you'll see us.

Another Yoo-hoo, Mrs. Bloom. That's not all the news. "The Goldbergs" have received two special awards. Isn't that wonderful? One is a "Citation of Merit," presented to us by The National Conference of Christians and Jews during Brotherhood Week. It's "for outstanding contributions during the past year towards mutual understanding and respect among people of diverse backgrounds through the powerful media of radio and television."

The other award is from the Veterans of Foreign Wars for "the understanding portrayal of family life, which is the deepest strength of our nation."

All of us are happy beyond our vocabularies about these gratifying awards and for the opportunity to come into your homes each Saturday and Monday nights over CP and CBS-TV.

"Saucy" Vegetables

For a bit of variety, serve vegetables occasionally with a cream sauce. Make a thin white sauce in the upper part of a sanitary porcelain enameled double boiler. To make enough sauce for six servings, stir 2 tablespoons of flour into 2 tablespoon of hot fat and blend in 2 cups of milk. Cook until thickened. Season and add bits of leftover meat, hard-boiled eggs or grated cheese. Serve over cooked carrots, beans, onions, potatoes or peas.

Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Moore and daughter and Miss Dolores Campbell of Abilene spent the past week end here visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Campbell and other relatives and friends.

Sunset 4-H Club Meets On April 19

The Sunset 4-H Club met April 19 at 10:30 a. m. at the school building. Miss Allen showed the girls how to make different kinds of hems and a sewing box.

Present were 19 members and five visitors from the sixth and eighth grades rooms, Mrs. J. S. Shannon, 4-H leader, and Miss Allen.

On May 4, the home demonstration club gave the 4-H girls a party. Several games were played, and the ladies served punch and cookies.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Almanrode were in Vernon Friday visiting Mrs. M. A. Horton and Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Partridge. In the afternoon, Mrs. Almanrode served as one of the hostesses at the Santa Rosa Horticultural Show, at the home of Mrs. E. Paul Waggoner. She stated that men and women from thirty towns registered Friday with Washington, D. C., and San Francisco, Calif. being represented.

Mrs. Jim Richmond and Mrs. Ruth Gunn of Seymour were business visitors here the first of this week.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Figures Out A Good Solution For The Farm Surplus Problem—Just Lay Off A Year

Editor's Note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has just reached the apex of lazy proposals in his letter this week as you'll see by reading the following.

Dear editor:
Seems like every time two Congressmen, two farmers and two businessmen get together they talk about the farm surplus, and anytime an editor runs dry of ideas he writes about it too.
As we understand the problem, we farmers are so good at farming we've outdone the automobile manufacturers, refrigerator makers, atom bomb makers and the other experts and piled up a surplus nobody knows what to do with.
Like it stands, if the government stops paying us for producing a surplus, we'll go bankrupt, and there ain't much to choose from between a busted government and busted set of farmers although I've heard of countries getting along with both for years. However, as I understand the argument, if us farmers would produce less, the price of corn or cotton or wheat or rice would stay high because of the law of supply and demand—there ain't no chance of the consumin public getting no reduction whatever takes place. In other words, if we reduce the surplus, the country would be

Hints On Buying Slip Cover Fabrics

The most practical cotton fabrics for making slip covers should be washable, durable, closely woven, reasonable in price and attractive in color and design. Such fabrics are available, says Mrs. Bernice Claytor, extension home management specialist of Texas A. & M. College, but it may require shopping to find them.

She says that homemakers should remember that slip covers represent a considerable investment not only in money but also in labor and time if you make them at home. Choose materials that suit the decorative scheme of the room and which meets the requirements for a practical fabric.

She points out that covers made from closely woven fabrics hold their shape well, are easy to work on, tailor well and keep dust from sifting through to the furniture underneath.

Glazed chintz, cretonne, plain or striped denim, galatea, rep, and French ticking are among the most serviceable cotton fabrics for slip covers. She says if you want covers with a dressy appearance, the lightweight tapestries, drapery sateen and damask fabrics are good. She adds that ginghams and percales wash easily but often wrinkle more than the heavier fabrics and because they are generally 36 inches wide they do not cut to as good an advantage as do the wider materials.

Mrs. Claytor suggests that if the fabric is not labeled as pre-shrunk, fast color against light and laundering you buy a yard and launder it at home. Measure the fabric before and after laundering to see how much it shrinks and check also for color loss. If you prefer to use shrinkable material, you'll be wise to wash and iron it before making the covers. Since the upper back and arms of chairs or lounges usually receive the roughest treatment, it is a good idea she says, to buy enough material to make an extra cover for these spots. These pieces can be washed separately and may save much work in the laundering needed to keep the slip covers clean and tidy.

Misses Patsy Mitchell and Ruth White of Denton spent last Sunday night here with Miss Mitchell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Mitchell.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Mud Lake Gets "Cleared Up"

County officers got a notice from the government not long ago, asking them to change the name of Mud Lake. Seems it's a pond, not a lake, by government standards.

Because it lies entirely inside our town limits, we asked to do the name-changing ourselves. Figured we'd think up a brand-new name. Mud Lake's really not very muddy—sort of pretty, in fact.

County people said go ahead, so we held a Town Meeting. Everyone suggested something. Windy Taylor thought "Taylor Pond" would be nice, because his place borders it—for about 30 feet! But we finally decided to call it "Turtle Pond" in honor of the real owners.

From where I sit, naming that pond wasn't the most important thing in the world—but the way we did it was. Everyone offered his opinion and then the majority vote decided it. That's the way it should be—whether it concerns naming a pond, or having the right to enjoy a friendly glass of beer or ale—and when we choose.

payin just as much for its food but nobody would mind and editors would be out of editorial matter because there wouldn't be no embarrassin surplus.

In fact, I have heard of some experts in Washington privately hopin for a first class crop failure this year. They figure this would overcome the surplus and restore things to normal and get people's mind off on something else, maybe Russia or flying saucers.

Now I ain't settin myself up as an expert, but I've got a solution to the surplus problem even better than a crop failure. Why not just let us farmers take a holiday this year? Just lay off the next twelve months and sit in the shade.

If the object is to cut down on the surplus, why wear yourself and your machinery goin up one row and down another and runnin a chance of not havin a failure? Be worse off than we are now.

If the government is gonna guarantee us a livin, regardless of the market price of cotton or corn or wheat or rice, why run up a year's wear and tear on us and our equipment? We're already a year ahead of the rest of the country, we ought to be allowed to sit by and wait till the rest of you all catch up with us.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

From the County PMA Committee

HIGH PENALTY ON EXCESS COTTON

The penalty rate for cotton produced in excess of farm marketing quotas in 1950 will be 50 percent of the parity price as of June 15, 1950, B. P. Haman, Secretary of the Knox County PMA Committee said today. The parity price on March 15, was 30.01 cents per pound.

We would like to call to the attention of all cotton growers that the penalty may be around 15 cents per pound. "This compares with a penalty of 7 to 8 cents a pound under previous quota programs. The 15 cents penalty is based on the assumption that the parity price on June 15 will be not far different from the 30.01 cents per pound which it was on March 15, 1950." Cotton subject to penalty is designated as the "farm marketing excess" of cotton. It will be determined by multiplying the farm normal cotton yield by the acreage planted to cotton in excess of the allotment.

In cases where the farmers established that the actual cotton yield per acre is less than the normal yield, the farm marketing excess will be reduced to the amount by which the total production exceeds the normal yield times the farm cotton acreage allotment.

Until the penalty on the farm marketing excess is paid, all cotton produced on a farm and marketed is subject to penalty, and a lien on the entire crop of cotton produced on the farm will be in effect in favor of the United States. The penalty must be paid before a marketing card can be issued to a farm. In addition, the farmers who know allotment will be ineligible for cotton price support and also for cotton price support and also for any agricultural conservation payment for the farm.

PARTNERS IN CONSERVATION

"A nation cannot continue to bleed its agriculture without developing a natural anemia. When agriculture is weak and sick—both land and farmers—production drops off and people go hungry. It has happened in other countries. It can happen here. So by assisting farmers in carrying out conservation practices the Nation is feeding back into its own bloodstream the red corpuscles of life and health and happiness."

The statement was made by Alvin V. McCormack, Director, PMA's Agriculture Conservation Branch, at the recent annual Virginia PMA Conference for farmer-committeemen.

He pointed out that the very abundance, which is so essential to the welfare of the nation, often wrecks the farmers' price and the farmer finds he is "producing" himself out of house and home.

He likened the conservation program to national defense: "Just as it is in the national interest to protect ourselves against enemies which seek to destroy us with bombs and guns and ships, so it is in the national interest to protect ourselves from the enemies which just as surely destroy us by destroying agriculture with erosion and deterioration and bankruptcy." Referring to today's challenges of what to do with this land taken out of allotment crops, he said, "Conservation of our soil and water resources is as vital as ever to forget that as population increases it becomes more and more important. The 1950 million population now may be 180 million in 20 or 30 years."

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Mitchell were in Wichita Falls last Tuesday, where Mr. Mitchell underwent a medical check-up. He is recovering from a recent operation.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Reynold visited their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Watkins in Wichita Falls last Sunday.

Old Age Insurance Required All Firms With One Employee

The size of an organization makes no difference when it comes to coverage under the old-age and survivors insurance section of social security. Erton F. Tate, manager of the Wichita Falls office of the Social Security Administration, said a wage earner who is the only employee has the opportunity to qualify for insurance under the plan as do workers in large manufacturing plants, provided, of course, his employment is in commerce or industry, as the Federal social security tax applies to employers of one or more persons.

There have been several cases of older workers who did not have quite enough coverage to qualify for retirement benefits. "Sometimes they recall having worked for an employer who thought he did not need to report wages since he had only one of two employees," Tate said. "It is not always possible for such workers to get credit for non-reported earnings as far back as the beginning of the Social Security Act. However, if the employer can be located, and he files the proper returns for such past employment, or if the services have been performed within the past four years, the wage earner may have his earnings added to the record on what benefit payments are based," he explained.

The security office for this area is located at 412 Post Office Building, Wichita Falls, Texas, and is open daily except Saturdays from 8:30 A. M. to 4:30 P. M.

Farmers Urged To Control Cotton Insects Early

Records prove that early season control of certain cotton insects is both effective and profitable. According to Allen C. Gunter, associate extension entomologist of Texas A. & M. College, early season control insures early fruiting in areas where thrips, aphids, or cotton lice, fleahoppers and boll weevils, alone or in combination, cause damage every year.

In addition to the early fruiting, he says it insures earlier maturity of the crop and better grade; reduces boll weevil hazards; makes possible earlier harvesting; earlier destruction of the stalks and under favorable conditions yields will be increased.

Gunter points out that the early season control program for cotton insects will be more effective if it is carried out on a community or county-wide basis; however the individual farmer can expect considerable benefit if he carries out a good program.

The first application of the insecticides should be made when the cotton plant is in the four leaf stage and this is usually about chopping time. Gunter says from 2 to 3 applications are usually necessary but this will depend upon the infestations and weather conditions. He says that regardless of the number of applications, the last one should be made before blooming time or 30 days before the bollworms usually appear. This is very important and the final results of the control program may well hinge on the stopping time. This period of time is needed to allow the population of the beneficial insects to develop as protection against bollworms. He suggests you contact your local county agent for specific information on when the early season control program should end. It varies in the different sections of the state.

Cotton farmers, he says, should remember that boll weevils emerge from the winter hibernation and begin feeding on the young cotton plant after it is up. Later, they start laying eggs in the squares. If they can be controlled before the eggs are deposited, their numbers will be reduced and later control will be easier and less expensive.

He points out that even though the early season control program may have been highly successful, later applications of insecticides may be needed. This will depend upon weather conditions and the extent of later infestations.

He reports that in the case of bollworms, the earlier maturity date made possible by early season control, has in many cases actually matured the crop before normal bollworm time and no control was necessary. Bollworms are not attracted to ma-

League Ranch Is Cooperating With Soil Improvement

League Ranch cooperating with the Wichita-Brazos SCD and SCS planted 50 acres of Chinese Red peas for a soil improving crop. These peas were planted in the spring of 1949. Part of these peas were harvested for seed and the rest were turned under as a green manure crop. Several hundred pounds of seed were harvested for use this year. The part turned under for a soil improving crop had a volunteer stand to come up. These were allowed to make about six or eight inches of growth and were also turned under for a soil improving crop. This land was kept clean for the remainder of the year till wheat sowing time. All this area was planted to wheat in the fall of 1949. The wheat on this area has seemed to be hurt less by the dry fall and has looked exceptionally good all year. This is just one of the summer legumes that can be grown in this area for soil improvement.

The supply of coastal Bermuda grass offered by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has been exhausted.

Gunter recommends that you check with your local county agricultural agent on the proper insecticides to use in this early season control program. By doing this, he says you can get the experiences of local demonstrators who have followed the program and this may save you time and money.

took place. Ethel Brookes Gilmore writes in the Ranger Times of the memories of frontier tragedies that the occasion evoked:

Sarah Booth once drove her team of oxen in the noonday sun. The sun is almost unbearable, the oxen stall, then bolt for the shade by the side of the road, the wagon overturns and Sarah is found pitifully crushed beneath it. Sarah Booth is laid to rest, becoming the first pioneer who sleeps that last long sleep at Alameda.

Then a brave pioneer mother is found with an arrow through her back and soon a solemn procession is on its way to Alameda. Large sandstones are piled on the grave, the wolves being a menace in Eastland County.

Many moons pass and still the Comanches harass the pioneers. It is now the year of 1866 and the watch is with the herd of Clark Anisworth, who has recently come to Ranger Valley. The cowboys, growing impatient for the day watch to come, leave a little bit early, thinking there is no danger, but the Indians have waited long, hoping for this. Clark Anisworth and one of his cowboys top a rise and see the Indians cutting fat beeves out of the herd. Martin is unarmed as his hip is sore from the constant wearing of his pistol, and he has left it off this morning. The Indians wheel, and in a minute his horse is down with an arrow through its heart. He now takes shelter behind his fallen horse but is also wounded. Anisworth spurs his horse and outruns the Indians, returning almost immediately with the rest of the cowboys, but too late, they find that Martin has been scalped.

A few of the stories of a pioneer cemetery!

In San Francisco (visited in the spring of 1940) there was an Italian district and the homes with front steps had a different colored flower pot on each step—and these homes had the largest, best-fed cats you ever saw. Signs advertised "Pan Napoli" which meant "Neapolitan bread"—sticks about two feet long. There were the Dante hotel and the Tosca shaving parlor. And there were twisted cigars and an accordion factory.

Then there was a Chinese section with a monument of Dr. Sun Yat Sen. Nearby was a church with a clock and the inscription, "Son, observe the time and fly from evil." In the shops of Chinatown were displayed tiny birds, dressed; in the drug store windows were dried frogs and dried sea-horses. Chinese lads were acting as a safety patrol and were in Boy Scout suits but the lettering was in Chinese. The Chinese consider shark's fins, bamboo sprouts and 10-year old eggs to be delicacies. Almost every ship going to your physician will tell you. The Tuberculosis Survey in the state conducted by the Texas State Department of Health has brought to light many non-tuberculosis abnormalities, some of these have been heart conditions.

The three present major forms of heart trouble are: rheumatic heart disease, high blood pressure and coronary heart disease. Rheumatic heart disease, the most common type of early life, occurs as one or more attacks of rheumatic fever. It is a public health problem for which very little has been done, yet with early diagnosis and proper medical care during the acute and convalescent stages, children who develop rheumatic fever can be largely spared from rheumatic heart disease in later life.

Another major cause of heart trouble is high blood pressure or hypertension. This is the most common heart disease of middle age. There is a great deal that is not known about this disease, but we do know that it is the most common in people who are over weight, and that it is associated with long, continuous nervous strain, high tension and constant worry. Treatment of high blood pressure is fairly successful in the majority of the cases.

Coronary heart disease is a disease of the arteries which supply the heart muscle itself with blood. A majority of persons survive the first attack, rest and common sense precautions, may even live a normal life span. Syphilitic heart disease can be prevented by early and adequate care of the systemic disease, a problem which has been simplified by the use of penicillin.

Research in the medical sciences is constantly improving the outlook for the cardiac patient, yet each individual must obtain the benefits of this knowledge from his physician for himself and his family.

Cancer Drive Continues 'Til Job Completed

COLLEGE STATION — The fight against cancer is one which we cannot afford to lose by default, Gibb Gilchrist, Chancellor of the Texas A. & M. College System and Chairman of the 1950 Texas Cancer Crusade, told Texas cancer control workers, as he urged them to continue their county drives "unless we have completed our job."

"Most county cancer drives are far from complete," the state chairman said. "Because of prior fund-raising campaigns, many are just now getting underway."

He called for an extension of the 1950 Crusade until the $500,000 statewide goal is accomplished. By May 5 only $215,087 had been reported by 84 counties. There were still 123 counties to be heard from.

Mr. Gilchrist pointed out that American Cancer Society volunteers are doing an excellent job this year of getting the facts about cancer into a majority of homes. He explained that the Crusade has two purposes: to educate the public to be alert for cancer and to accept contributions with which to continue cancer Society programs of research, education and service.

Grasshopper Bait To Be Available For Farmers of County

According to surveys made by entomologists of the Division of Grasshopper Control and County Agent Kenneth O. Lewis, there will be an increase in the grasshopper infestation in Knox County this year. More moisture will bring in a big batch, however farmers and ranchmen should be watching for the early hatches, and if and when the young hoppers become numerous enough to warrant control measures, action should be taken.

At the present time in Knox County hoppers are hatching out along fence rows, in ditches and in low places in pastures. Within the next two weeks would be a good time to apply sprays or dusts to these hatching areas and eliminate part of the control work later in the year.

20% Toxophene, 40% sulphur or 10% chlordane-sulphur applied either as a dust or spray emulsion will give good control of young grasshoppers. Either of these materials applied at from half to a pound and a quarter per acre as a spray emulsion or from one to a pound and a half per acre as dusts should control young hoppers but heavier applications are necessary for controlling the hoppers, after they get larger. This low dosage may be applied to pastures without causing injury to livestock, but should not be used in pastures that are being grazed by dairy cattle.

A limited amount of grasshopper bait will be made available to farmers later in the season.

Livestock owners are warned to be on the look-out for earlier than usual screw-worm fly migrations. They survived the past winter in the largest area since survey records have been kept. Livestock being shipped from the south to northern states should be checked very closely for infestations before shipping. Use Smear 62 on all animal wounds.

SUPPLY OF COASTAL BERMUDA AVAILABLE

The supply of coastal Bermuda grass offered to farmers and others by the agronomy department of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has been exhausted. According to A. W. Crain, associate extension pasture specialist of Texas A. & M. College more than 250 sacks of the grass sprigs were shipped.

These farm plantings, he says, will prove very helpful in determining the possibilities for the grass in Texas. The requests for sprigs came from many different sections of the state and the orders were filed as they came in and as long as the supply lasted.
