

Kracker Krumb's Odd Bits Salvaged At Random

I just wanted to try out a new gun before the season opens!"

That was reported to us as the reason one Munday business man gave for bang-banging away at game birds of this area ahead of time.

To us it's a pretty puny excuse for the wholesale slaughter of game birds in violation of the game laws of our area.

But whether it's that excuse, or none, almost every year some irate farmers report to us the promiscuous shooting of birds out of season.

They shoot from public roads, which is also a violation of the law.

They shoot from automobiles, both moving and at a standstill, which is also a violation of the law.

They go onto private property and hunt and shoot without permission—which, if not a violation of the law, is a violation of one of the fundamental rules of good sportsmanship.

When dove season opens, it's just too bad for the little quail that are coming along, just old enough to be barely able to scamper out of the way of the hunter.

They don't mind driving in and shooting near the farmer's house, if reports we get are true and we have no special reason for doubting them.

They don't mind driving inside the property line and shooting.

They don't mind shooting toward a portion of property heavily covered with mesquite trees, where valuable livestock may be grazing, obscured from the hunter's view.

We've had reports of livestock being killed by the thoughtless hunters.

A few years ago we viewed the carcass of a large grey horse that had fallen prey to such activities.

Later than that, a farmer reported a valuable mare with young colt was killed.

And those white-faced cattle! Brother, if one of them falls to the thoughtless hunter's volley of shots, then the owner suffers a pretty good loss.

The wholesale slaughter of game out of season is a mark of poor sportsmanship, but the invading of a person's property, endangering their livestock, causing a disturbance near their homes, etc., makes a bad situation even worse.

Why can't folks play the game according to the rules?

The latest complaints we receive from those who've been offended are to the effect that, in almost every instance, the law violators are business men from our town.

A shot was heard near a farm home. Someone goes out to investigate the disturbance. He recognizes the fellow who does the shooting, and this fellow waves gaily and drives no.

And there's another angle. Farmers watch the growth of their bird coverts with pleasure.

They invite particular friends maybe from other parts of the country, to visit them for an enjoyable hunt at the opening of the season.

By that time, these hunters who jump the gun on the season, have either killed the birds, have driven them away with their shooting, or have them so gun-shy that hunting when season happens, is vrey disappointing.

There's a good crop of birds this year, according to reports. Nesting and growing seasons have been excellent, and quail are reported in large coverts (Continued on last Page)

OUR NEEDS FOR 1950

1. Completion of our portion of the Throckmorton road, giving the farmers of that area an all-weather outlet.
2. A farm-to-market road to the north and east of Munday, possibly connecting with the Herner road.
3. A U. S. Federal building. Munday needs a new post office home.
4. More homes in Munday. We did a good job in 1949, but there's still a housing shortage.
5. A new telephone system, giving the town adequate telephone service and tapping the rural area surrounding the town.
6. Greater cooperation of business man, farmer, and citizen toward long-range development for our community.

DON'T HOARD!

Some time ago an association of retailers, which has a membership of 7,500 stores, appointed a Committee on Emergency Government Controls under the chairmanship of a Harvard professor of retailing. A few days after hostilities began in Korea, the Committee met. It urged that its members, and all other stores, "carry on through the months ahead with their usual concern for the interests of the consumers and the added determination to serve in all ways possible the interest of the nation as it faces a possible developing emergency." It emphasized that retailers will give full support to the government in policies resulting from the crisis in the Far East. It announced that retail experts would be delegated to consult with government officials on problems of policy that affect retailing.

In peace or war, retailing is primarily concerned with the welfare of the consumer—if only for the reason that in the long run consumer welfare will determine the retailer's welfare. During and directly after the last war retailing did a splendid job of fighting the black market, in pointing out the dangers in consumer hoarding, and in making a limited supply of goods go around as equitably as possible. The experience thus gained places it in a better position than ever before to serve in any kind of an emergency.

Disquieting reports of scare buying and hoarding have appeared again. It is to the great credit of retailing that the vast majority of store operators are urging that consumers buy normally, and are pointing out that the supply of goods of almost all kinds is fully adequate. The hoarder is a menace at a time like this. The intelligent and patriotic consumer will cooperate with retailing in preventing shortages and maladjustments in the supply machine by purchasing only what he needs.

THE FBI AND SABOTAGE

Some years ago a Presidential directive was issued providing that the Federal Bureau of Investigation take charge of investigative work in matters relating to espionage, sabotage, subversive activities and related matters. Now President Truman has again called attention to this directive, and added the suggestion that all patriotic organizations and individuals, as well as law enforcement officers, report all information concerning such matters to the Bureau.

The FBI is as near to you as your telephone. The organization is interested in facts, not gossip or idle rumors. Some bit of information which may seem inconsequential to the individual coming upon it may be just what the FBI needs, in conjunction with other data in its possession to make a case. No one should make private investigations in this field—they can only lead to hysteria and witch-hunts which in themselves weaken our internal security. If any fact of any nature comes to your attention which suggests sabotage or espionage, report it at once.

This is vitally important now. The forces which are working to undermine us are not always easy to identify. They have been trained in deceit. They utilize cleverly camouflaged movements, such as certain peace groups and civil rights organizations, to advance their ends. Communism teaches that every conceivable weapon must be used to help destroy the non-communist world. And the center of that world is the United States.

Remember—the FBI is our first line of defense against the destructionists within this country. Help it whenever you can, and without delay.

"Airplane pioneers Wilbur and Orville Wright were extremely taciturn. Above all, they hated to make speeches. One day at a luncheon attended by a group of inventors, Wilbur was called on by the toastmaster. 'There must be some mistake,' stammered Wilbur. 'Orville is the one who does the talking.' The latter stood up and said, 'Wilbur just made the speech.'—E. E. Edgar in Reader's Digest.

Actor Sir Cedric Hardwicke listened while a man told a long story. The man muffed his punch line so badly that the story wasn't funny. "Why did you laugh?" a friend asked Hardwicke afterward.

"I always do," the actor replied. "If I don't laugh, then there's danger of their telling it over again."—Leonard Lyons in Reader's Digest.

"It is only in a capitalistic country that workers' cars cause a parking problem."—Clyde Moore.

"There is no future in any job! The future lies in the man who holds the job."—G. W. Crane.

WINDBLOWN

The windblown effect is charming, proves this trim vacationer. She is strolling on the beach in a striking sun ensemble of cotton birdseye pique by Fleischman.

Here's an interesting commentary on cowboy manners, written by Curtis Kimmons in the Amarillo Times.

"The cowboy," writes Mr. Kimmons, "may lack the finer polish that education is supposed to bring a man, but he is never lacking in the rules of common, everyday manners. . . . When you see a man with boots, and a big hat enter an elevator, you can safely bet that the hat will be removed if ladies happen to be present; and if you see him talking to a lady in the street, his hat will be in his hand. He has not been taught these things. It is simply the in-born courtesy of the man on a horse which is at work.

"In the old days of the West, when men were rough, the horses, will, and the man who had the longest six-shooter was the law, etiquette naturally was somewhat from that of today. . . . Bpt when the cowboys of that time attended a dance, they stacked their guns at the door, and if it became necessary for them to fight, they went outside to do it. In extreme cases, they managed to do their killing where it would cause the least inconvenience and the least shock to the ladies.

"If a man was introduced to another and had to get down from his horse to shake hands, he always dismounted on the side next to the man to whom he had been introduced—even if he had to turn his horse completely around. Dismounting from a horse from the off side could be taken as an unfriendly act because the horse would act as a shield against the other fellow's bullets in event of trouble. The old-timer observed these unwritten rules because they were the etiquette of the range, and the man who failed to do so was placed in the same category with skunks, rattlesnakes and rustlers.

"Watch a cowboy talking to a group of men, especially if the others are city dwellers. See how he has the knack of letting the other fellow do most of the talking while he listens respectfully. If, on the other hand, it becomes necessary for the cowboy to give an opinion, see how he delivers it without giving of fense to his listeners. They may not agree with him but they will listen because the opinion is the honest and unreserved conviction of a gentleman, and can be accepted as such.

"Watch him carefully while he is in town, then go home with him, partake of his hospitality and view him in his natural surroundings and you will understand why the dignity and the proud bearing of the cowboy are the first things to impress visitors from the East—for his a heritage that has come down to the man on horseback from the days when knighthood was in flower."

Pink Bollworm Situation Grave In South Texas

L. F. Curl, in charge of the division of pink bollworm control for the U. S. Department of Agriculture, reports an alarming increase of pink bollworm infestation in South Texas cotton fields. The counties south of a line from Eagle Pass to Victoria have already been found infested, and serious loss is being sustained in many fields in Cueces and Cameron counties. Careful estimates of the damage done by the pink bollworm in Nueces County show how many fields with from 10-15 percent loss and a few from 30-40 percent loss. One field of late cotton in Nueces County last week showed every green boll infested and an average of 11 pink bollworms per boll. No cotton was picked from this field which has already been destroyed. Curl points out that the South Texas cotton industry is fully aware of the serious situation and is taking vigorous steps to remedy it. County and local committees organized to promote early stalk destruction are getting wonderful results. Already thousands of acres of cotton stalks have been roller cut immediately after a picking. This prevents production of further food for the pink bollworm and kills the worm in bolls knocked on the ground by the roller cutters, as they cannot survive in high soil surface temperatures that occur at this time of year.

Large numbers of cotton pickers are now moving out of the heavily infested South Texas as other parts of Texas. Road patrols are intercepting as many of these as possible in order to clean their trucks and pick sacks, but Curl warns all farmers in other parts of the state who use South Texas pickers to check the trucks and pick sacks of arriving pickers and clean them of any seed or cotton or cotton bolls, which should be immediately burned, as there is great danger of starting new bollworm infestations from such material. According to Mr. Curl, the heavy pink bollworm infestation in this year's South Texas crop is due to the desire to produce a top crop in some sections last year, which resulted in delay in the destruction of the stalks until cool weather sets in, and additional generations of the pink bollworm were consequently produced.

Bridwell Gives $5,000 Award In Soil Program

J. S. Bridwell, well known independent oil operator and cattleman, has announced that he will offer an additional $5,000 for a second Bridwell Soil Builders Awards program.

At the time of the announcement, Bridwell said, "The farmers who took part in the 1950 program for soil improvement did a most excellent job, however, we have only scratched the surface on what really can be done in the way of soil conservation in this area. Particularly with our national and international situation at present, it is important that we dwell on the improvement of our basic resources."

The announcement came at a breakfast of the District Agricultural Workers Council, held at the Holt Hotel at 7:30 Wednesday morning, August 23. Many farmers and ranchers in addition to the agricultural workers were present.

The contest again will deal with the growing of soil building crops, and the improvement of permanent pastures. The Bridwell Soil Builders contest for this year is still in progress and the last division of that contest will be judged in late November.

The awards for this year will be made at a banquet to be held the first week in December.

Local Woman Named To Head T. H. D. A. Group

Mrs. R. M. Almanrode, an active member in county, district and state home demonstration work for 25 years, was elected state president of the Texas Home Demonstration Association at the convention held in Big Spring last week. More than 700 delegates were present and had a part in honoring this Knox County country club woman with the high state office.

Others elected through district voting were Mrs. B. M. Harris of Plainview, vice-president; Mrs. John Golightly of Pico, unopposed as secretary; and Mrs. Vaughn D. Bailey of Guadalupe, treasurer.

The executive committee was named to name two additional members to the board, an editor for the Messenger, THDA magazine, and a parliamentarian. Even numbered districts named presidents during the session. Mrs. E. H. Tucker of Ropesville, District 2; Mrs. H. H. Bennett, Jr., of Greenville, District 4; Mrs. Shirley Fryar, district 6; Mrs. Anson Oden of Brownwood, District 8; Mrs. J. E. Mills of Centerville, District 10; Mrs. D. Block of Yorktown, District 12, and Mrs. F. W. Stolley of Kingsville, District 14.

New officers were installed Thursday night by Mrs. Cus Bogas of Manor. Mrs. H. B. Euly of Granfalls, past president of host District 6, was master of ceremonies. A reception was held at the Settles Hotel honoring incoming and outgoing officers follow the installation.

The convention passed two resolutions: 1. adopt a creed, a prayer and a color; 2. Require district vice-president to have a county home demonstration council president and a county THDA chairman.

Delegates voted to start a new annual scholarship of $500 to be called the Helen H. Swift scholarship for the use of outstanding 4-H girls. Another $500 fund, the Maggie W. Barry scholarship, has been in existence for some time.

Simple Safety Rules May Prevent Home Accidents

Last year's home accident toll of 30,500 deaths will not be repeated if a few safety precautions are taken in the home, safety officials assert.

Falls, the experts point out, account for the largest number of home mishaps. The majority of them occur in kitchens.

To prevent falls, small ladders or step stools are recommended as standard kitchen equipment. It is makeshift ladders—stacks of books, wobbly tables and chairs—that cause most falls.

Stairways are the scenes of many falls. All stairways should be well lighted, painted in light colors, equipped with sturdy handrails and free of loose boards and nails.

Burns and scalds are common home accidents. There are several measures which can be taken to prevent them.

One way to prevent burns is never to dry clean clothing at home. And if inflammable liquids must be kept in the home, they should be stored in galvanized gasoline or oil cans. These cans may be tightly covered to prevent explosive fumes from escaping.

Electrical appliances which are defective are another leading cause of burns. All such equipment should be kept in good working condition at all times.

Another safe practice is to keep rubbish in fireproof cans. Recommended are galvanized refuse pails. Rust resistant, they may be kept outside if desired.

Scalds are most frequently caused by tipping cooking utensils filled with hot liquids. The suggested safety measure is to keep utensil handles facing toward the backs of ranges.

Throughout homes, carpeting should be laid flat and in a way to prevent slipping. Pathways on waxed floors should be covered with non-skid carpets.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Scoffs At Neighbor Who's Afraid To Plow For Fear That Bomb May Make It Useless

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek is telling the truth about himself, at least, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:
I was sittin around the store yesterday afternoon with a bunch of farmers waitin for a cloud to move over in front of the sun so I could go home, never did believe in bein uncomfortable if all it took to avoid it was a little time, and one of the farmers said he was worried about the world situation and the prospects of Russia dropping atom bombs on this country.

"I tell you, things is serious," he said. "It makes a man stop and think. What if I get out here and plow my land and get it in shape and plant next year's crop and get it up and they drop an atom bomb and wreck civilization. All that work gone to waste. I tell you, I just don't know whether to figure on makin another crop or not."

Personally, I can't see it that way. It ain't never been necessary for me to depend on a scientist, a college professor, or anybody else to get out of plowin. It ain't fear of the atom bomb that makes me prefer to sit under a tree to go in one row and down another. It's the shade.

Ever since I can remember, some new invention has always been goin to change the course of human events, but it never does work out that way. Your newspaper ain't got no more in it whether I'm readin it under a light bulb or a kerosene lantern. A young man with a light-weight set of brains is about the same whether he's holding the lines or the steering wheel.

The atom bomb aint' changed my way of life a bit and I don't intend to let it, not by worryin about it at any rate. Some folks can throw up their hands in horror and give up farmin, but I am proud to say I'm ahead of them scientists and wasn't plowin much before the bomb and expect to keep right on in the same path.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

New Parking Brake Added To Chryslers Cars

The pull of one finger can hold the heaviest passenger on the steepest of grades through a powerful new parking brake now being installed on Chrysler cars, according to Joseph A. O'Malley, general sales manager of the Chrysler Division.

The new "Easi-Lock" parking brake is designed to hold the mammoth Chrysler Crown Imperial, loaded to a gross weight of 6,200 pounds, from rolling backward on a 32% grade. Should the need arise, it can bring the car to a complete stop from any speed.

Mounted on the propeller shaft, the new hand brake is completely independent of the wheel brakes. It is of the internal-expanding type and provides more than three times the maximum braking effect of the external-contracting hand brake which it replaces.

When the brake is engaged,

Roxy Theatre, Sunday and Monday

Audie Murphy in a scene from the technicolor adventure story "Sierra" which co-stars Wanda Hendrix, Dean Jagger and Burl Ives.

both brake shoes become self-energized to utilize the motion of the car in multiplying the braking action.

Besides increasing the braking effect, this self-energizing action greatly reduces the amount of pull necessary to set the brake. A woman driver's average pull in setting the new brake is sufficient to make it impossible for the car to be driven off with the brake engaged.

The brake unit is fully enclosed to keep out dirt and oil, so that a minimum of servicing is required. Longer lining life is assured by this added protection and by the use of Cycle bond brake linings.

The new brake is now being installed on all Chryslers that have Prestomatic Transmission with Fluid Drive.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—You wouldn't ordinarily consider a boxful of dead fleas as much of a gift.

But entomological workers—specialists who study insects which spread disease—at the Texas State Department of Health, recently were "thrilled" by a gift of Pacific Northwest fleas from Dr. C. Anderson Hubbard, formerly head of the Biology Department at Pacific University in Oregon. He has made similar gifts, collected during a lifetime of studying disease spreaders, to 20 of the world's outstanding institutions in biological sciences.

State Health Officer Geo. W.

Cox, acknowledging the gift, said it was "something of a compliment" to be classed as a leader in biological studies along with the British Museum, Brazil's Escola Nacional de Agronomia, the Parasitological Laboratory in Sevastopol, Russian, Pakistan's Malarial Institute, the American Museum of Natural History in New York, and "many others of equal prominence."

The Texas Health Department was the only health agency in the nation to benefit from the presentation. Its disease vector collection is reputedly one of the finest in the world. Dr. Cox says the entire assortment, including ticks and mites as well as fleas, is open to study by graduate and undergraduate students in Texas colleges and universities.

Departmental entomological studies are described by Dr. Cox as a "determination of the specific types of insects of medical importance in the state, their distribution, seasonal abundance, and how best they can be controlled."

Department entomologists conducted a two year investigation of typhus fever in Lavaca County in 1944-46. Step by step, they traced out the process by which rodent fleas spread typhus from rat to human beings.

In 1949, they finished a study which showed bubonic plague—the Black Death of the Middle Ages—was infecting wild rodents in four South Plains counties in West Texas.

"Our entomologists are disease detectives," Dr. Cox says. "The gift from Dr. Hubbard will help them run down insect culprits."

Kay Springs of Florida visited in the home of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Zane Franklin, over the week end.

Derwood Scott left Friday to return to A. & M. where he is in training for football until school begins September 17. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Scott took Derwood to school and they visited friends in San Antonio while away.

Minister and Mrs. J. B. Barnett and daughter left Monday for Clovis, New Mexico, for a few days' visit with relatives.

Your Home

By Frances Alsworth

A friend of mine just bought an old farm-house just outside of town, and I've been having a simply wonderful time helping her to remodel and redecorate. We've just about finished, and I wish you could see personally the actual "miracles" we've wrought with paint and structural glass.

We are especially pleased with the transformation of the old country kitchen. When my friend purchased the house, the kitchen was badly in need of plaster, and totally lacking in the equipment that we've become accustomed to. (Small wonder—the home was over 100 years old, and had been unoccupied for several years!) Today, that same kitchen is sparkling with color... completely modern, and practical. We used Carrara structural glass for all the walls and it's simply beautiful! Reflects every bit of light—and, because it cleans with a whisk of a cloth, my friend finds it especially convenient with her family of boys!

We are so pleased with the kitchen that right now we're in the midst of having the same glass put on the bathroom walls. The room was formerly an old closet and is small, so the glass is really a help in seeming to enlarge the room. It's made just like fine plate glass, you know, and is polished so that it really reflects, giving any room a feeling of spaciousness. The colors are simply gorgeous—we chose a tranquil green for the kitchen, and a beautiful blue for the bathroom. Peter, my friend's husband, likes the effect so well that he's putting a soft beige glass over the mantel—it's really stunning. He says it's very easy to apply, too—goes right over the original surface.

My husband and I are going out to the farm tonight. I want him to see Peter's work—for I've just loads of plans for our house!

Roy Ross Comes Out Of Well With Fireboy Help

The fire alarm sounded Wednesday morning, and everyone wondered where the fire was. But there wasn't any fire. It was a colored boy who had become caught in a well on the Wilfred Bellinghousen place near Rhineland, and help was summoned from the fire department.

Wednesday afternoon, Roy Ross, janitor at the Munday Times and erstwhile well digger who had dug lots of wells in this area, came hobbling into the Times office.

"Roy," we says, "was that you who was lodged in the well?" "Can't you see how I've walked in?" Roy replies.

Roy reported he was just ready to come out of the well when she caved in, crushing his casing against his feet so he could not use them. Efforts to pull him out with ropes were no good, so the fire-boys went to his rescue. By forcing water into the quicksand, they loosened the mud which had "cemented" around Roy's feet so he could free them.

After being prisoner in the well some three hours, Roy told Bellinghousen he would dig another well, but he wouldn't go back in that one!

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Parramore of Cedar Hill are visiting relatives in Munday and Goree.

THE CHURCH—ITS ESTABLISHMENT

THEORIES: The time of the establishment of the church is a much controverted subject. Some say it was founded before the foundation of the world, saying that God so fixed things that the number entering into it can be neither increased nor diminished. Another theory teaches that it was established in the days of Abraham, who lived about 1900 B. C. There is another group of people who used to debate that the church was established in the days of John the Baptist, but now, they say; sometime in the personal ministry of Christ. Then there are others who teach that it was established on the first Pentecost after the Resurrection of Jesus Christ, in the year 33 A. D. Again, there are others who teach that the Kingdom being different from the church is yet to be set up in the future. It is noted that we have set forth several theories concerning the above subject. There cannot two of them be true, else they would be teaching the same thing concerning the subject. Let us lay aside all prejudice and open our Bibles and examine these to see if thy stand or fall in the light of the scriptures.

Upon examining the scriptures we shall use the terms "kingdom" and "church" interchangeably, for that is the way Christ used them in Matt. 16:18, 19. We first ask, Was the church established before the foundation of the world? The answer is no! Well then was it established in the days of Abraham? Again, the answer is no! Why do I make such statements, you ask. Let us turn to Daniel 2:31-44. We have here an account of Daniel interpreting King Nebuchadnezzar's dream, that is, four world empires. Secular history teaches that the Babylonian kingdom of which Nebuchadnezzar was then head, lasted from 606 to 536 B. C. It gave way to the Medo-Persian kingdom which lasted from 536 to 330 B. C. Then came the Grecian empire which lasted from 330 to 63 B. C. After that the Roman empire which lasted from 63 B. C. to 476 A. D. Then verse 44 says, "In the days of THESE KINGS shall the God of heaven set up a KINGDOM, which shall never be destroyed . . . and it shall stand FOREVER." Therefore we cannot look back of 600 B. C. for the fulfillment of the prophecy. This, of course, cuts the first two theories mentioned previously in this article. More to follow.

Hunters To Find Very Good Crop Of Whitewing Doves

AUSTIN—Those Texas hunters, counting on the rare sport of Rio Grande Valley whitewing dove shooting to spice their fall schedule, may look ahead to a pretty good season, the Executive Secretary of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission reported.

Field men agree that a good hunt seems likely for the season set for September 15, 17 and 19, from 4 p. m. to sunset each afternoon. The daily bag limit is ten birds. The possession limit is ten birds.

Summer censuses in the Rio Grande Valley and northward to San Antonio and Del Rio even indicate marked increases in whitewing populations in some sectors over last year. The Executive Secretary described these optimistic reports as gratifying since just a few years back many persons considered the whitewing, as a game bird, to be on the way out. He added that this favorable development points up further need for hunters' cooperation with the wildlife biologists so that they may be able to properly and wisely set hunting seasons to benefit both birds and hunters.

Fitting into this picture are such indispensable factors as the annual breeding success, the pre-hunting season status of the

Farm Bureau Meetings Set For This Area

The Texas Farm Bureau Federation will conduct a series of sub-district meetings throughout the state during September according to announcement today by J. Walter Hammond, Federation president. A meeting is scheduled for Wichita Falls Saturday, September 9 in the Holt Hotel, and another will be held in Crowell Monday, September 11 at the District Court room. Mr. Loys D. Barbour of Iowa Park, state Farm Bureau director, will preside. Meetings will start at 10:00 A. M. and will be concluded at 3:00 P. M. State and national Farm Bureau officials will be in attendance, Hammond said.

Farm Bureau policies are developed by the membership, Hammond asserted and the series of meetings has been scheduled so that state and national officials may have the benefit of the thinking of farmers and ranchers through out the state, and at the same time for officials of the organization to give flocks, the annual harvest by hunters and the percent of the birds killed that were born during the last breeding season.

The Executive Secretary said the whitewings apparently are beginning to show a measure of readjustment and recovery from the past destruction of their native habitat and previous extended open seasons.

The game department has set up facilities on the scene where by sportsmen may report their kill together with other needed information.

farm people more needed information on the program of the Farm Bureau, its aims and accomplishments. Every day the business of farming becomes more complicated, Hammond declared, and the need for a stronger Farm Bureau becomes necessary. If rural people want a democratic government, fair program, improved educational facilities for their children, and a better rural health program, then they want a strong Farm Bureau in Texas and the Nation, he concluded.

All farmers and ranchers of the area are urged to attend their nearest sub-district meet

Federal Aid Bills Flooding Congress Found To Total 307

Uncle Sam has a bargain in the making with a total of 307 attractive offers of financial aid to state and local governments. All the Federal Government wants in return is bigger say in running home-own affairs.

In a special study released today State Chambers of Commerce added the bills for Federal aid before this 81st Congress and come up with the total of 307.

If all of them were passed, they would add approximately $2,200,000,000 to present Federal spending the first year and well over $6,000,000,000 a year by the sixth. None of the bills even intimated that the people in the states would pay in full by Federal taxes, for the very "aid" they were offered.

These proposals cover 41 different types of grants-in-aid. They include such measures as pending $8 million for the Federal Government to enter the character training field and another $50 million to promote the health and soundness of youth.

and local governments have grown steadily since the end of World War II, both in total dollar expenditures and in the number and variety of services subsidized. Federal aid outlays for the fiscal year 1950 amounted to approximately $2½ billion. This is $800 million more than the total sum paid out in the fiscal year 1948—just two years ago.

The amazing thing about this flood of grant-in-aid measures is that few, if any, State Governors have come to Congress asking for such legislation. Many State Legislatures have adopted resolutions roundly criticizing Federal grants-in-aid as a growing and costly evil. For instance, the Indiana Legislature said,

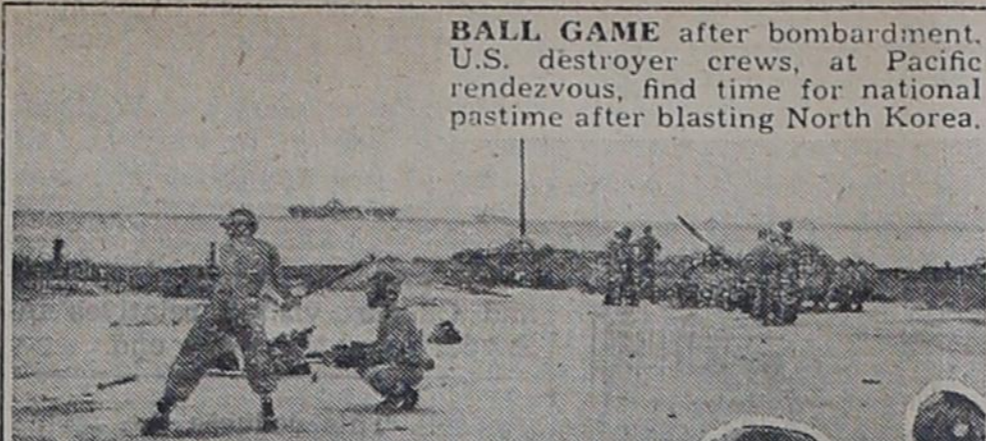

"Indiana needs no guardian and intends to have none. We Hoosiers were fooled for quite a spell with the magician's trick that a dollar taxed out of our pockets and sent to Washington will be bigger when it comes back to us. We have taken a good look at said dollar. We find that it lost weight in its journey to Washington and back. The political brokerage of the bureaucrats has been deducted. We have decided that there is no such thing as 'Federal' aid. We know that there is no wealth to tax that is not already within the boundaries of the 48 states."

Tax levies made by State and local governments in Texas totaled an average of 25.7 cents per acre in 1949. An increase of 3.3 cents per acre or 15 percent over the 1948 average in Texas. Indications are that the trend will likely continue upward on Texas farm and ranch real estate but at a slower rate.

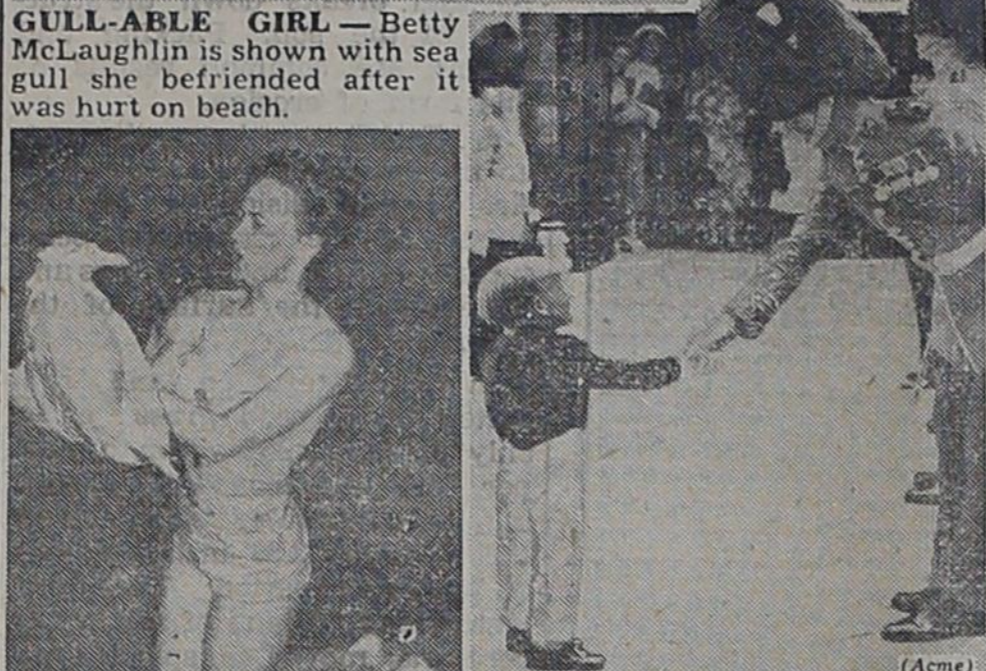

Equipment in the sewing room should include a sewing machine, work table, full view mirror, ironing board, sleeve board and iron. Small items should include shears, scissors, measuring tape, pins, thread, pin cushion, and needles to take care of the different sewing jobs.

Texas cotton producers are at the cross-roads so far as the 1950 cotton crop is concerned and the wet, cloudy weather isn't helping the farmer in his fight against the threatening insects. The continuous use of insecticides seems to be the only solution.

Overhead, Not Guns, Is Chief Defense Cost

WASHINGTON— Figures showing what the 48½ billion spent for the Military Establishment during the last four years means in terms of Federal taxes to various income groups were released today by the Council of State Chambers of Commerce. These show over the four years that:

A family of three with an income of $3,000 paid $645.59.

A family of four with an income of $5,000 paid $1,130.08.

A family of four with income of $7,500 paid $1,798.92.

In addition, these family groups paid out Federal taxes for other purposes connected with defense. These totaled a little less than $4 billion and included such activities as arms aid to friendly nations, stockpiling of raw materials and atomic energy projects. But they meant $49.85 in Federal taxes to the $3,000 family group $87.26 to the $5,000 group and $138.90 to the $7,500 group.

The Council's study revealed that $6.75 out of every $10 spent for the Military Establishment went to pay of all personnel, and for food, clothing and supplies for the soldiers, sailors and marines. Less than $2 of each $10 spent for defense was used to buy guns, ships and planes.

The study declared that "Undoubtedly much housekeeping waste in the Military Establishment diminished the value of the 48½ billion as an investment in preparedness, but efforts begun by Defense Secretary Forrestal and continued by Secretary Johnson to modernize the Establishment and cut out waste have now tended to strengthen that investment."

It added, "In view of the expanded program brought on by the Korean situation, it is all the more necessary that we obtain the maximum return for every dollar that we are investing in our national defense."

Deer Tag Test To Be Resumed

USTIN—Further studies to Texas big game hunters will be determined the best deer tag for made this fall, according to the Executive Secretary of the Game, Fish, and Oyster Commission.

The tag system was adopted by the Legislature as a conservation measure since it is designed to restrict each hunter to two antlered deer in one season. Enforcement of this bag limit was difficult under the old law.

The 1949 Act stipulated that deer, when shot, must be tagged with a number and data showing the successful hunter's name, date and place the game was bagged, all corresponding with the name and data on the hunter's license.

Tags, presumably metal, were prescribed by the new law, but such self-destructible tags were found inadequate to contain the required data. Last fall two small detachable stubs were connected by a perforated link to the main license. Holes in the ends of the stubs were intended to facilitate tying on the tag.

Hunters complained that the paper markers came off in transit, particularly if they got wet, and that the eyes of the tags pulled out. Meanwhile, the game department studied systems used elsewhere. States using the metal tags reported difficulty in inseparately connecting the gadgets with the paper licenses, and that the license distributors had difficulty locating the metal markers with numbers corresponding to the main license.

The Executive Secretary said the new paper stubs are to be used without eyes for string. He suggested the 1950 hunters may find a minimum of trouble by placing the tags around deer horns at the base and sealing them on with Scotch tape. Thus, when the game warden checks the hunter's bag, he will unroll the tag, inspect it, and original tape.

An appearance of height may be given a low window by the use of vertically striped cotton material for draperies, or by extending the draperies to the floor.

EXTRA STORAGE SPACE
When planning extra storage space, don't overlook the area beneath the basement staircase. Frame in this area with two-by-fours, but allow for a door before covering the studs with a building board. An inexpensive material to use in covering the stud framework is structural insulating board. It has the added advantage of keeping the storage area warmer in winter and cooler in summer.

LARGE FEED SUPPLIES IN SIGHT

Farmers should have plenty of feed grains and other concentrates during the 1950-51 feeding season, according to latest reports by the Department of Agriculture. If present prospects are realized feed grain supplies in 1950-51, for the third successive year, will be more than ample and domestic and export requirements, and carry-over at the close of the season would again be large.

Expectations of another bumper corn crop of 3.2 billions bushels this year and a record carry-over of 950 million bushels for the second time—a level only slightly below the record the soil. This reduces the fertility and breaks down the structure of the soil. Packing and baking are common results of this form of erosion.

4. Puddle erosion—rain water mixing with the loose particles of soil dislodged by the splash of the raindrops—seals surface cracks and openings and waterproofs the surface of the land.

In recent tests on land protected by a good grass cover only about a half a ton of soil per acre was moved by splashing and the water taken up by the soil was 2.36 inches during a 15-minute period. In unprotected land 70 tons of soil to the acre was moved in splash erosion and water intake was only 1 inch.

As Mr. Ford explains, on unprotected land, the churning action of splashing raindrops breaks down clods and crumbs of soil and relaxes plant food, organic matter, and clay particles into the water. The runoff mixed with these soil particles then has a scouring effect on the soil that it runs over.

The destruction increases when the soil is loose and the furrows are up and down the slope. Where the land is protected by a thick covering of plant growth pasture, cover crop of hay—the splash erosion is kept to a minimum. The runoff is slowed down "to a walk", and little soil moves off the land.

supply of oats is expected to be around 1,693 million bushels, and the supply of barley may total almost 383 million bushels—both above the average.

In early July, close to 800 million bushels of 1948 and 1949 corn were under loan or owned by the Government. While some of this corn will be redeemed by farmers or sold by the CCC between now and October 1, the beginning of the corn marketing season, it now appears likely that two-thirds or more of the 950-million bushel carry-over and about 3.5 million bushels of the total corn supply would not be under price support.

The acreage planted to corn in 1950 totaled 84.2 million acres, about 3.8 million acres less than 1949 and the smallest corn acreage since 1894. Much of the reduction in corn acreage since 1895 is due to the commercial corn-producing areas, where allotments are in effect this year for the first time since 1942.

Reductions in planted acreage for some time of the important Corn Belt States were as follows: Iowa, 14 percent; Illinois, 12; Indiana and Nebraska, 10; Minnesota, 9; and South Dakota, 7. In the North Central region, 53.7 million acres were planted to corn, 5.1 million less than in 1949.

RAIN—FRIEND OR FOE?

Do rainstorms work for you or against you?

According to W. M. Ford, of the Knox County PMA Committee, they work for the farmer who prepares his land to take advantage of them and they work against the farmer who leaves his land unprotected.

Rainstorms may damage the land in at least four ways:

1. The runoff may cut gullies through the land, carrying away valuable topsoil and leaving the land rough and uneven—a hazard to machinery and human life.

2. Sheet erosion may skim off the surface topsoil and the best part of the land. Year after year, this may result in eroding away the soil until the sterile subsoil is all that is left.

3. Runoff carries away the organic matter and humus in

Munday, Texas

Fate Of Munday Moguls Depends On How New Reserves Develop

Editor's Note: With the opening of the 1950 football season but a week away, the following article by A. C. Green in the Abilene Reporter-News will be of interest to local football fans: Coach David Green could be sitting on a powder-keg, with his Munday Mogul squad this fall.

Just how explosive it will turn out to be depends on reserves mainly. Nine lettermen (eight starters) are among the 33 men out for training. Only position needing a retreat will be center. That could be the key to success or failure for Munday.

The Mogul looked potent last fall even with a 4-6 record. In '49 they had a turnout of only 18 for workouts.

At ends will be veterans Leonard Norman and Herbert

Ford, neither very big but a mite fast.

Tackle will put on weight in the line with giant Don Johnson rearing up 6' 4" of 240 pound sophomore. Other tackle slot will be filled by Homer Lowrance, 185.

Green says Johnson has shown excellent progress in handling himself and maneuverability, over last fall.

Omer Yarbrough, a bit light at 155, and co-captain Junior Howeth, 170, will work the guard posts. The entire line with some substitutions, will average 170.

Tommy Rowell, 170, a first year man, will be used in the line with Gerald Morrow, who, at 145, is a little light for center. Gordon Stevens, a guard last year, will be a blocking back.

Biggest gun on the offense is Scotty Ponder, who was all-district halfback last fall. Ponder hasn't lost a thing over the winter and will be the keystone for most of the Mogul's power.

Perry Reeves, 145, a squad man from last year, will play wingback, and Troyce Raynes, 165, a blocking back.

Munday, one of the smallest Class A schools in West Texas, is looking for a good season. The people of the city, while not putting Green on the spot, expect a 6-4 record this fall.

The Moguls may do even better in what is admitted to be a tough district with at least three other teams (Albany, Anson and Haskell) looking potent. Let them knock off one or two of the favorites and a new district winner may appear.

Troy Stewart, Midwestern University grad, is assistant to Green. Green also attended the Wichita Falls school.

Oil Drilling Still Active In Knox County

Quite a bit of activity is still under way in oil drilling for Knox County, according to the following excerpts gleaned from the Wichita Falls paper:

Continental Oil Co. No. 1 Hamilton, a 6200-foot rotary test in Section 67, block 13, H&TCRR survey, a wildcat six miles northwest of Knox City, is drilling in shale and sand at 3730 feet.

Texas Pacific C & O Company No. A-2, Louis Cartwright, four miles east of Munday, S. Washburn survey A-10, section 215, made a drill stem test at 4527-41 feet. With tool open 125 minutes, gas surfaced in 27 minutes with a recovery of 735 feet of heavily saturated oil cut mud. Bottom hole pressure was 1500 pounds in 15 minutes. Survey was run and 5 1/2 inch set and cemented at 4500 feet.

The Cartwright well was being equipped to pump the first of this week.

Two miles south of Goree, Fowler Farm Oil Corporation No. 1 Ratliff, R. Wilkins survey A-411, block 216, drilled rich oil sand from 1674-87 feet and is setting pipe. Test is more than 1200 feet southeast of the Frank Wood No. 1 Maloney discovery well. Fowler Corporation is headed by John G. Fowler, son of S. L. Fowler, discoverer of the Burburnett field, and Robert Waggoner, discoverer of the Northwest pool.

Mrs. John W. Moore and son and Mrs. J. R. Smith left Tuesday for Temple, where Mrs. Smith is undergoing medical treatment.

Everything has been just about right, with plenty of water and cover for the young birds.

But the promiscuous, ahead of season hunting is not right.

And the business man who is unethical in his hunting would probably beef long and loud if unethical tactics were used against him in a business way.

Dove season opens Friday, September 1. Let's save the quail crop until the season opens in December.

NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY THE BEST!

GOODYEAR TIRES are the best!

In times like these, far-sighted people naturally buy the best. And when it comes to tires, they buy the best tires. That's why more car owners today are turning to Goodyear tires. That's why we're having a hard time keeping Goodyear tires in stock—despite the fact that Goodyear makes more tires than any other manufacturer in the world. Even if we are temporarily out of your tire size, it will pay you to place your order now for earliest possible delivery.

It's Value that counts

The final answer to tire value is how many trouble-free miles a tire delivers compared to its cost. Get Goodyear quality and find out for yourself why Goodyears are best.

Remember, if we don't have your tire size today, it will pay you to wait for new Goodyears — the best!

Terms to suit you....

You can still get longer-wearing Goodyear tires at prices you like to pay on terms that suit you. We'll give you a generous allowance for your old tires, too.

Trade new miles for old

90% of all tire trouble occurs in the last 10% of tire life. Why take chances with worn, smooth tires? We'll trade you new Goodyear miles for the remaining unsafe mileage in your present tires. Get out of the "danger zone" — go Goodyear for safety.

And for safer driving, get LifeGuard Safety Tubes.
