

Farmers Urged To Be Ready For Grasshoppers

It may be a little too early to start talking about grasshoppers, but farmers and ranchmen are urged to be ready to stop them this year before they leave their egg beds. Once they begin moving out of the areas where they hatch, effective control becomes more difficult, says H. G. Johnston, extension entomologist of Texas A. & M. College and state leader for the grasshopper control program in Texas.

He says recently completed surveys shows heavy infestations of grasshopper eggs in at least three areas of the state and warns that 'hoppers can again build up to plague proportions.

The weather at hatching time will materially affect the situation, he adds.

The survey shows the danger spots to be in the Brazos valley specially in Robertson and Milam counties; in the Trinity valley in Kaufman, south Dallas County, and along the Elm Fork in north Dallas county and in the Panhandle. One area in the Panhandle—along the Oklahoma line—is termed by Johnston as a threatening area while the other area extending from the northwest corner of the Panhandle southeastward to Amarillo contains infestations of the eggs of the migratory 'hoppers. These are difficult to control because of their migratory movements. The seriousness of the situation in this area will depend upon the weather conditions at hatching time, late May, says Johnston. He urges farmers and ranchmen in that section to be ready for an all-out fight should the 'hoppers

Knox Prairie Philosopher Wants A "Fish Support" Program Which Will Guarantee A Good Catch

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has a preposterous idea this week, as you'll see from reading his letter—

Dear editor: From time to time, as I read the following list, each one of which is guaranteed by the government to get a minimum price: Cotton corn, rice tooth paste, talcum powder, maize, wheat, tobacco, throat gargle, eggs, chickens, cows, hogs, face powder, sewing machines, all kinds of cloths which the government allows the manufacturer to price-become a menace to their crops and pastures. He says the program in Texas will operate the same in 1950 as it did last year. Special emphasis will be placed on the use of insecticides for control rather than the bait method. Results from last year's program show that toxaphene and chlordane are excellent grasshopper killing chemicals if used at the right time. The use of these chemicals plus neighborhood and community-wide cooperation can make control of local infestations a simple and inexpensive job, he says. Every farmer in infested territory should be ready to spray or dust his field margins, fence rows and roadsides just as soon as the hoppers begin to hatch.

The migratory hoppers must be controlled before they leave the egg beds. They soon scatter over wide areas and thus control becomes a difficult problem.

letter—

Dear editor: From time to time, as I read the following list, each one of which is guaranteed by the government to get a minimum price:

Cotton corn, rice tooth paste, talcum powder, maize, wheat, tobacco, throat gargle, eggs, chickens, cows, hogs, face powder, sewing machines, all kinds of cloths which the government allows the manufacturer to price-fix, and a lot of other items about it, I have been writin down on my kitchen wall the various enterprises which have a guaranteed price, and up to now I got down near the floor where it was hard to write and the wall paper was torn anyway; and at the top of that labor is guaranteed a minimum wage, manufacturers are protected by tariffs, etc.

In fact, it looks to me like about everything is guaranteed except fishing.

You take the ordinary fisherman, he can spend a whole afternoon usin every kind of bait and lure he can lay his hands on, and what guarantee has he got that he will catch anything? Might spend a whole week and have nothin to show for it.

This seems to be a field of endeavor which the government is overlookin and I'm callin on you now to use your influence to get Washington interested in it. It's not right to risk spendin a whole day sittin in a boat or leanin against a tree on a bank fightin insects and watchin his cork or tanglin up his reel which I never use myself and riskin comin home with nothin.

The Federal government ought to guarnantee a man would catch at least four pounds of fish on any two days out of any week he fishes. Don't know how this could be worked out, but I believe it could be done, with maybe a system of coupons in lieu of fish, as naturally it wouldn't be practical for the government to keep men on every creek an fishing resort standin by to hand out fish. Fish won't keep that long, and this program has got to be practical if it's gonna succeed. A coupon good for 4 pounds worth of fish at the nearest market would be all right although there ought to be some additional pay to offset the lack of a thrill in pullin in the fish. Imagine though, any number of people in Washington could work out a system of compensation-in-lieu-of-a-disappearin-cork, with naturally more pay if you was after black bass than say a gaspergou, although I personally ain't got nothin against any kind of fish.

Will appreciate you gettin to work on this right away. I fished all day yesterday and didn't catch a thing.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Highlights from Austin

(By Senator George Moffett)

AUSTIN, March 6—On the twenty-fourth day of the thirty-third session, the Legislature passed three bills which the Governor recommended when called the Special Session. They provide the much needed funds to bring the State's eleemosynary institutions up to modern standards.

The Governor then submitted nearly forty additional subjects, some of which dealt with purely local matters while others were state-wide in application. Perhaps the most important bill passed in the closing days of the session was the measure which authorized the incorporation of rural telephone associations in Texas. It met with considerable opposition, but a compromise was reached which was reasonably satisfactory to all interested parties. The small independent telephone companies had representatives in Austin in large numbers. The major telephone system in the state was also represented. Farm organizations, particularly the Texas Farm Bureau, sent their representatives in Austin to take part in the discussion of this bill, and their recommendations were very beneficial.

This new law authorizes the organization of rural telephone companies; provides for the election of a board of directors; and also provides that these companies shall be owned and controlled by rural people. A considerable part of the money to finance the building of the new rural telephone lines will probably be borrowed from the Federal Electrification Administration at Washington under the terms of a law passed by the National Congress last October. This Federal law gives the telephone companies a twelve months' priority to expand their own facilities before approval will be given for loans to newly organized companies. It was thought that this would be fair to businesses already established. On account of this twelve months' priority given to existing companies, it is not expected that very many new rural telephone companies will be organized until after October 1950. Since the Texas Legislature has now passed a new law providing the general plan under which rural telephone companies can be organized, however, it is possible that some will perfect their organization, make application to the Secretary of State, at Austin, for a charter, and be ready to do business when the twelve months expire in October 1950.

Special Session Gets Praise Of Gov. Shivers

Governor Allan Shivers, reporting to the people of Texas on work of the special session of the Legislature which ended last week, declared that the purpose for which the session was called had been fully accomplished.

The session was convened to raise money to operate the state hospital system during the next fiscal year and to finance a long-range building program for the institutions included in the system. The Governor reported that the Legislature made $21,000,000 available for operating the system and established a building fund of $5,000,000 a year for seven years.

"As a result of this progressive step," Gov. Shivers said "our state hospitals will be places where sick people can be brought back to mental and physical health—rather than unsafe, unsanitary places of confinement where they exist without much comfort and without much hope of a permanent cure."

"Thus the 51st Legislature, already distinguished as a Legislature that has attempted to give Texas one of the finest school systems in the United States; that was the first Legislature to provide for a system of rural roads, and a Legislature that made a long step toward the control of juvenile delinquency, has now crowned its record with this humanitarian legislation of enduring merit and continuing benefits."

Money to finance the program will be raised through an increase of one cent per package in the cigarette tax and in slightly increased levies on beer, wine, whiskey, natural resources, public utilities, insurance companies and other items included in a tax bill passed in 1941.

The purpose for which the lawmakers were summoned was carried out in the first 24 days of the session, the Governor said. The other remainder of the 30-day session was devoted to passage of other emergency legislation.

"These additional acts mean," Gov. Shivers pointed out, "that from now on, we will be protected by more stringent and comprehensive laws against sex-crimes; that telephone service will be easier to secure in the rural areas of the State; that the search for a cure for cancer will be accelerated at the M. D. Anderson Hospital in Houston; that our battle against federal control of our tidelands will continue unabated, and that the legal status of many newly created or consolidated public school districts over the state has been established."

The Governor declared that the session's record provides "conclusive proof" that business methods will work in government.

"The success of this session is a tribute to the business approach to governmental problems," he said.

He explained that the accomplishments were made possible, first, by vision: "a grasp of the problem and a conception of the solution"; second, by orderly planning, participated in by wide segment of the state's population, and third, by "the cooperative action of the Legislature, the administration, the State Hospital Board and all the individuals, groups and organizations that had interested themselves in the program."

Governor Shivers said this formula was submitted to the people of Texas "as a sound basis for present and future operation of our state government."

Miss Carolyn Hannah of Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, visited homefolks over the week end.

Mrs. W. D. Eads and children of Stephenville and Mrs. L. E. Moore of Denton visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Toby Lane last week end.

Activities Of The Colored People

The entire school enjoyed the visit of Rev. R. L. Butler, last Thursday afternoon. The talk he gave us was encouraging, instructive and helpful. We hope he'll find time in his busy schedule to visit us again in the near future.

Our P. T. A. sponsored an entertainment last Wednesday night. Amount raised was $7.30. In the next few days, we expect our kitchen to have a "new look," with its painted wood work, new cabinet and shades.

We would like to take this method to thank our white friends for the nice magazines they have either sent or brought to the school.

Mr. and Mrs. "Frog" Stevens and son of San Antonio were week end visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Joanson and family.

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 4—Today is the anniversary of Speaker Sam Rayburn's coming to Congress. He first took his seat as a Congressman from Texas 37 years ago today. Only two members have served longer in Congress than Mr. Rayburn. Those two members are Mr. Adolph Sabath, from Chicago, Illinois, and Mr. Robert L. Doughton, from North Carolina. Mr. Sabath has been in Congress 44 years continuously. He holds the all-time record for longevity of Congressional service.

The city of Washington has been plagued with a 'flu epidemic this week. The Gossett household has not escaped. All of us have had the 'flu and none of our children have been able to attend school this week.

On yesterday we enjoyed very much a visit from about 25 school superintendents and school officials from back home. Among those calling on me were Miss Maurine Walker, President of the Texas State Teachers Association, along with Mr. Joe Humphrey, Superintendent of Schools in Temple, and Mr. Joe B. Golden, Superintendent of Schools in Vernon, who are members of the Texas Teachers Tidelands Committee.

The House and Senate conferees are now trying to agree on an important amendment to the cotton allotment act. Time is growing short for the cotton farmer to know how many acres he can plant for this year. The Senate bill provides for 60% of the average cotton (includes war crops) acreage on the farm during 1946, 1947, and 1948, but not to exceed 40% of the farms "adjusted" tilled acres. The House bill allows 70% of the average cotton planted for the years 1946, 1947, and 1948, or 50% of the cotton planted in any one of those years, and/or not to exceed 40% of the total cultivated acres on the farm. The problem now is to work out these differences. Certainly a farmer can be sure that he will not be cut lower than the Senate provisions. House conferees are trying to get the Senate figures increased somewhat.

The House on yesterday passed the Alaskan Statehood bill; that is a bill which would make Alaska the 49th state in the Union. Most Texas members of the Congress, including myself, voted against the bill. Alaska is more than twice the size of Texas, yet has only around 80,000 white inhabitants. The Federal government owns 99% of the 365 million acres of land in the Territory of Alaska. Giving Alaska Statehood at this time seems to me to put the cart before the horse. If the Federal Government would open Alaska for settlement and encourage its development, then in due course enough people would live there to entitle them to statehood. Speaking of Federal land ownership, it is interesting to note that in a number of States the Federal Government owns more than half of all the land. In Arizona the Federal Government owns 69% of the land, in Idaho 65%, in Nevada 85%, in Oregon 53%, in Utah 71%, and in Wyoming 52%.

Several prominent British newspapers this week have called upon former Food Minister Strachey to declare himself on communism. Mr. Strachey, whom Mr. Atlee now seeks to make Minister of War, has long been noted for his pink tinge. In one of his recent political speeches he boasted that only 250 persons in Britain had incomes of more than $14,000 per year, after taxes; whereas before the war there were at least 11,000 such persons. Mr. Strachey's ideal seems to be to reduce all Britons to the lowest common denominator. Certainly many great Englishmen must weep from grief and shame when they compare their country now with her former greatness. Almost 200 years ago, William Pitt boasted that:

"The poorest man may in his cottage bid defiance to all the force of the Crown. It may be frail, its roof may shake; the wind may blow through it; the storms may enter, the rain may enter; But the King of England cannot enter."

All his forces dare not cross the threshold of the ruined tenement."

Now the agents of at least 19 different ministries can go into an Englishman's home and ransack the place from cellar to attic without even a letter of introduction, much less a search warrant.

Farmers and ranchmen are urged to be on the alert for possible grasshopper outbreaks this spring. Get them during the hatching season and before they leave the egg beds.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox
M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, says that the season of the year when typhoid fever is most prevalent will soon be here and urges everyone to clean up their premises to eliminate flies and other insects. A town is only as clean as the individual citizens and public health should be everyone's concern.

The typhoid germ travels from an infected person to a well person; this is generally accomplished by water, milk, flies, fingers or food. Every case is contracted by way of the mouth and digestive system.

A carrier is a person who has had typhoid fever at some time and who even after recovery carries the germs in the urine and discharge of the bowels. Carriers who are careless in their personal habits are likely to infect any food they handle with unwashed hands. Some of the most serious and far-reaching outbreaks of the disease have been caused by drinking milk or eating foods that have been handled by carriers. Persons planning a vacation trip where sanitation may not be rigidly enforced should protect themselves against this disease by being immunized. Its prevention is accomplished by the enforcement of public health measures to protect food, milk, and water supplies, and by immunization. The purity of water, milk, or food cannot be judged by looking at it, so the best thing to do is to play safe and have your physician protect you.

Texas 4-H members last year exhibited about 22,000 head of livestock and poultry at 21 livestock shows and fairs.

Eggs can be frozen and stored successfully in the home freezer or the freezer locker.

The control of external parasites on hogs should be a must with every Texas swine producer. Unthrifty hogs do a poor job of utilizing their feed and there is no profit in feeding parasites.

Space in the home freezer is often wasted because of the type and size of the containers used. Rectangular shaped containers are the best space savers.

During the growing season, the pecan tree needs plenty of moisture.

113,514 rural boys and girls were members of the 4-H Clubs in Texas in 1949. In the United States, more than 1,850,000 boys and girls are 4-H members.

A double decker bed may be the answer to your problem of providing an extra bed for the son's bedroom or for the summer cottage.

FARM PROGRAM NEWS

From the County PMA Committee

CONSUMERS COLLECTING DIVIDENDS FROM ACP

All of the 150 million people living in the United States are cooperators in the Agricultural Conservation Program and are collecting dividends, says J. C. McGee, chairman of the Knox County Production and Marketing Committee. They share in the responsibility of protecting the nation's soil and water resources, he explains, since they share in the cost of carrying out conservation practices to provide that protection.

Through taxes, the chairman points out, all the people pay part of the cost of ACP practices—about half is paid by the farmer, the other half by the government. This places a responsibility on the farmers to see that they do their full share in protecting the land and water resources and that the practices they carry out return value received to the other partners in the project. The Agricultural Conservation Program is the means through which farmers and consumers join hands in doing what has to be done to keep the land productive.

How well farmers are doing their part is indicated by the tremendous increase in production during and since World War II, says the Chairman. Farm production in 1949 was about 35 percent over the 1935-39 average, making possible the 10 to 12 percent increase per capita consumption over the pre-war years, 1935-39. "When the consumption of fruits, meat, eggs and milk is compared with pre-war years," the Chairman points out, "consumers not only are eating more per person, but they are eating better."

Former Goree Girl Injured In Mishap

Brenda Louise Hudson, 4 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Hudson of Sheppard Field, Wichita Falls, suffered deep cuts and bruises when she fell from her father's car about ten miles south of Lawton, Okla., Sunday.

Hudson said the child apparently had opened the back door of their '39 Packard and was thrown to the shoulder of the highway. He said they were traveling about fifty miles per hour when the accident occurred. The child was taken to the Wichita General Hospital for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hudson of Goree, grandparents of the child, left for Wichita Falls immediately after receiving a message that the child was injured.

grass seed go further this year, says J. C. McGee, chairman of the Knox County PMA Committee.

Specifically, the chairman points out, less legume or grass seed will be required to get a stand of these crops when it is sown on land to which needed lime, phosphate, potash or boron has been applied. He also recommends mowing young pasture plantings to help kill weeds and stimulate the pasture plants to sink their roots into the soil and make more vigorous plant growth.

GOODYEAR SUPER-SURE-GRIP TRACTOR TIRES

1. Deeper Soil Penetration — Greater Pull
2. Balanced Straight Lug Tread Design — Longer Wear!

Goodyear's open center tread has straight deep-biting lugs. No curves to cut traction — no hooks, knobs or elbows to blunt their bite. They cut cleanly into the soil, penetrate full depth, full length. Straight bars closer together at the shoulders wedge the soil for firmer grip—don't "plow out" soil at the sides.

Goodyear's open center lugs are all straight, all equal in size and spacing. That's why every lug works equally, pulls fully, wears more evenly. This means a smoother, steadier pull, less vibration and wobble — more riding stability — plus longer life. Get Goodyears for your tractor — they don't cost a penny more.
