MUNDAY CLEAN!

VOLUME 46 MUNDAY, KNOX COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, AUGUST 10, 1950 NO. 2

Friday Is Designated As "Truck Day" For City's Clean-up Drive

Kracker Krumb's Odd Bits Salvaged At Random

The "Big Offensive" started last week!

Latest reports are that farmers have "established a beach-head" and are making inroads on the enemy.

The enemy being the boll worms, leaf worms, flea hoppers, millers, etc., that have attacked Knox County's cotton during the wet weather.

Farmers are attacking from the ground and from the air. It's an all-out war and farmers are in there to win, if possible.

It's an expensive crop this year, what with planting and replanting, bogging down of machinery, weed killing and insect killing operations all spring and summer.

The overall picture as appeared in print in one of the daily papers Monday was as follows for Knox County:

"1949; 110,200 acres, 66,305 bales; 1950, allotment 74,000 acres, all planted; expected yield, 35,000 bales. Fair stands at most farms, after rains caused several replants. Light boll weevil and leaf worm damage, spraying where dry enough."

It got dry enough last week, we guess.

We awoke far in the night, and there was the stench of cotton insect poisoning in our bedroom.

A light breeze from the north brought the odor into town, and it smelled like everything and everywhere had been sprayed or dusted.

Then Monday came the same odors into town. Spraying was under way again.

The rank growth of cotton makes its fruitage more vulnerable to the insects. "What cotton needs," we hear time and time again, "is drying weather."

So if drying weather will continue, and cotton poisoning will kill the insects, then it will bid fair for Knox County making those 35,000 bales, as reported Monday.

There's another "big offensive" under way, now, too.

It's the offensive against the growth of weeds and grass, against the accumulation of trash and filth, etc., and this and that that have caused Munday to become a rather unsightly and unsanitary-appearing place.

This offensive started Monday, with the City of Munday and the C. D. A. jointly sponsoring a giant clean-up move.

We started our drive off, too. That vacant lot of yours just plum got away from us, after a good deep plowing in the spring and a one-way later.

It was just a jungle of careless weeds—and folks had been kidding us about it for some time.

Two colored boys took after it Monday with two hoes and a file. There was much chopping, and sweating, and falling of timber!

Seven hours and $9.75 later, they reported it looked much better. We drove by—and sure enough, it did.

The colored boy also reported six man-hours on our yard and alley—and we're just about "ready for truck day!"

How's your clean-up coming along? How's your alley? What about your vacant lot? It's not nearly so embarrassing for us to ask those questions this week.

The clean-up drive came quite a bit later this year—in fact later.

To Hold Meeting

Brother Dean Brookshire, above, of Plainview, Texas, will begin a gospel meeting at the Church of Christ here in Munday, Aug. 16th., to continue through the 27th. You have a most cordial invitation from the Church of Christ to attend these services.

Brother Brookshire was here last year in a series of gospel services and his inspiring sermon drew large numbers out to hear him. It is hoped that you will come out this year and bring your friends with you. There will be two services daily. See further announcement regarding the meeting on another page of this paper.

Old Settlers Of Knox County To Meet Sunday

Pioneer settlers of Knox County from far and wide are expected to gather in Lubbock next Sunday for the annual old settlers reunion. Announcement of the reunion was made this week by Roe Myers, of Munday, who is secretary of the association.

For a number of years, the annual meeting of Knox County pioneers has been held at the McKenzie State Park in Lubbock, and one of the largest crowds ever to attend are expected this year.

A good program, speaking, visitations, and a picnic lunch at noon are being planned.

Several from Knox County are making plans to attend the reunion.

Uncle Sam Says

How time flies. Just a few years back you were thrilled with the "ole swimmin' hole," ready to take a plunge into its cool, flowing waters. Maybe ten years from now you'll want to take another plunge such as buying a new home, a new car, a long vacation trip. These take money and where's it coming from. The smart people know the easy answer—U. S. Savings Bonds. Enroll now for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or if self-employed, the Bond-A-Month Plan at your bank. You then save automatically and in 1960 your Savings Bonds will produce $4 for every $3 invested today.

Is Your Trash And Rubbish Ready?

Some inroads were made on Monday's accumulation of trash and rubbish, and weeds, and filth were made the first of this week—but as this is written there remains much to be done.

Organizations sponsoring Munday's 1950 clean-up drive—the C. D. A. and the City of Munday—are urging all citizens to do their part and cooperate fully in the clean up move.

Lots of premises need to be cleaned, practically all vacant lots need attention, the weeds killed either by plowing, hoeing, or mowing, and the general cleanliness carried on by practically every property owner in Munday.

Friday is the "all out offensive," the day that has been designated as "truck day" for the drive. On this day trucks will make the rounds in town and pick up all piles of trash and rubbish and haul it off to the dump ground.

Leaders in the clean-up drive report that many people have promised trucks, pickups or trailers for this day, but more are needed. Every available truck or pickup is wanted for service on that day.

Citizens are urged to get their premises all spic and span, pile everything to be hauled off in a place where trucks can get them, and the trucks will do the rest.

When your place is all clean and everything ready for the truck, then call the C. D. A. office and report that you are ready. "We guarantee your trash and rubbish will be cleaned up," those in charge stated.

Grid Practice For Moguls To Start Monday

Football season will soon be here!

Coach David Green announced that regular gridiron practice in preparation for the 1950 season will begin at Munday High School on Monday, August 14.

He urged that all boys who plan to vie for berths on the 1950 Mogul squad to be present at 9 a. m. Monday and receive their equipment. Actual practice will be started on Tuesday, the 15th.

Coach Green is expecting a rather strong team this year, stating that he will have eleven of last year's lettermen back for this season. He is expecting around 30 gridiron candidates to report for practice.

All boys are urged to bring two towels and two T-shirts, Coach Green said, and all other equipment will be furnished by the school.

Abilene Man Buys Local Auto Supply Store

Announcement was made this week that M. C. Hallmark, owner of the Hallmark Auto Supply, has sold his business to H. D. Hyde, formerly of Abilene.

Mr. Hyde is experienced in this line of business, having operated an auto supply store for a number of years. He resided in Abilene for about 15 years, and prior to the outbreak of World War II he operated an auto supply store in Paducah for several years.

The new owner solicits the continued patronage of the people of this area. He stated he will continue to maintain a good stock of well known merchandise in both auto parts and accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Hyde will occupy the home vacated by the Hallmark family, it was stated.

Mr. Hallmark has not announced his plans for the future, but the Hallmark family will be leaving Munday soon. He expressed his appreciation to the people of this area for the splendid patronage given the firm during the years he was in business here.

Marine Recruiter To Visit Munday

Marine Master Sgt. Albert Tidwell, SDRS, Wichita Falls, has announced that a Marine Corps recruiting sergeant will be in Munday, at the post office on the second and fourth Friday of each month, between the hours of 9:30 a. m. and noon.

The purpose of these visits is to contact as many people as possible who are interested in the U. S. Marine Corps. There is a lot of processing for enlistment that can be done here, and this saves the man or woman a trip to Wichita Falls for the interview, etc.

The Fighting Leathernecks are looking for thousands of volunteers to serve with the Globe and Anchor men. The Marine Corps has not lowered their standards, however, any young man between the ages of 17 and 19 will find it easy to get in, provided he has no dependants, is of good character and in good health.

Papa Has Co-Pilot; And What A Boy!

Winging his way into the hearts of many, came tiny Co-Pilot Steve Harrison, II, making his grand entry at the Haskell hospital August 8 at 7:45 a. m. This tiny co-pilot weighed six pounds and 14 ounces.

Papa Pilot could not be on hand for the grand entry, but flying in from Ellington Field Air Base a few hours later, he found baby co-pilot snuggled down in his tiny bassinet taking a snooze, and his mother, wearing a big smile, was doing splendidly.

Baby co-pilot and mother will remain in Haskell for a few weeks, then move to Ellington Field, where Papa Pilot will still be "flying high!"

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Covey of Haskell and Mr. and Mrs. Terry Harrison of Munday.

Grass Greens Being Built At Country Club

Improvements of a lasting nature are now under way at the Munday Municipal Country Club golf course, as a result of a meeting of members last Friday night.

In this meeting, the members voted to install grass greens on the course. Work on these started the first of this week. Cost of constructing the grass greens is being borne by "playing members" of the club with other voluntary contributions. Members estimate that around $1,000 will replace the sand greens with new grass greens, with members doing most of the work.

New greens which are being built and upon which work was started this week are those to the north of the highway. Plans are to start watering these, while construction of the others are under way. Work will continue until all the course has grass greens.

OUR NEEDS FOR 1950

1. Completion of our portion of the Throckmorton road, giving the farmers of that area an all-weather outlet.
2. A farm-to-market road to the north and east of Munday, possibly connecting with the Herfner road.
3. A U. S. Federal building. Munday needs a new post office home.
4. More homes in Munday. We did a good job in 1949, but there's still a housing shortage.
5. A new telephone system, giving the town adequate telephone service and tapping the rural area surrounding the town.
6. Greater cooperation of business man, farmer, and citizen toward long-range development for our community.

FIRE ON THE FARM

Fires on farms kill some 3,500 people each year, injure thousands more, and destroy property at an annual rate approaching $100,000,000. To help reduce this loss, farmers can now use a new Farm Safety Inspection Form, prepared by the National Board of Fire Underwriters. It will be sent free, on application to the Board at 85 John Street, New York City 7.

The new form is easy and convenient. All the farmer has to do is to check a series of yes or no answers. The blank was submitted to several of the nation's leading authorities on farm fire protection, as well as farmers, for criticism and suggestions. The comments received were incorporated in the final version.

The check list covers in detail such hazards as lightning, flammable liquids, electrical installations and equipment, and heating systems. These are primary causes of farm fires—as indeed, they are of all fires. And many a grave hazard goes uncorrected simply because it has been overlooked. The National Board's blank provides a way to ferret it out if it exists.

Fire on the farm is one of the gravest of matters. In many instances, organized fire fighting facilities do not exist. Once a fire starts, it usually finds a wealth of flammable materials on which to feed. It may be completely out of control in a matter of minutes. Under these circumstances, fire prevention should be one of the first and most continuous jobs of every farmer.

Washington Irving's classic of Ichabod Crane and the Headless Horseman of Sleepy Hollow has a counterpart in Texas lore—a story as fantastic in many ways as that which came from the pen of Rip Van Winkle's creator.

Shortly before the Civil War Captain Mayne Reid, an Irish adventurer who fought on the Texas border during the War with Mexico, wrote a novel called "The Headless Horseman, or A Strange Tale from Texas." Describing the journey of a headless horseman who traveled through the Nueces country mounted on a fine stallion, the novel was based on a Texas legend long current in the border country.

Here are the highlights of that legend:

About 1850, Texas was overrun with rustlers and marauders and among the more infamous of these characters was a man named Viday who had deserted the army of Mexico and had become one of the worst horse thieves in the border country. A small man, shrewd and observant, he collected a band of thieves unequalled in the "profession", and with local branches strung out along the Rio Grande, he reaped a good profit in the horse trade—at the same time making it appear that Indians were responsible for some of his own devilry.

One summer, he and several of his gang, made a raid along the San Antonio river which resulted in enormous losses to the settlers. He struck at a time when most of the men were away chasing Comanches, but it so happened that two men were at home, and they immediately gave chase.

The story goes that before reaching the Nueces River they met up with the familiar frontiersman, Big-Foot Wallace, who joined them in the pursuit. One evening about sundown, the three men located the camp of horse thieves and, keeping under cover, kept a close watch on their quarry. They saw that the band put one man out as guard for the horses and that the others—three in number—rolled up in blankets.

When they were reasonably certain that the desperadoes were asleep, the pursuers decided to attack. One shot the man guarding the herd, while the other two sprang upon the sleeping men. The scuffle was over in short order. The guard, though apparently wounded escaped but the three in the camp were killed outright.

Upon examination of the bodies it was discovered that one was that of the leader, and the legend goes that one of the avengers conceived the idea of beheading him, mounting him on his own horse—a fine stallion—and, after tying the body to the saddle let the horse loose. This was done and as the horse was freed, it galloped off like a streak in a cloud of dust.

Soon afterward, stories began circulating—even faster than the beautiful horse and its gruesome load could travel. Soldiers, scouts, Indians and other travelers told of seeing a man without a head, mounted on a superb stallion, galloping around the country and frightening settlers half to death.

It was said that after several weeks the horse was killed at a water place where it had gone to quench its thirst, and that the headless rider was still in

Knox Prairie Philosopher Isn't Creating Any Scarcities By Buying Up Pillow Slips Or Plow Points

Editors note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek this week comes out against hoarding, in his own peculiar way.

Dear editor:
I went into town Saturday to catch up on the news, the kind you read in the papers and the kind you hear on the streets and while we got the closes thing there is to freedom of the press in this country there ain't no newspaper that can hold a light to street news, mainly on account of editars like to live the same as other people, and while I was in town I picked up some good stories about all this scare buying.

One woman I understand bought 24 sheets at one time, which is 22 more than I've ever had and frequently is 23 more. Another woman bought 18 shirts for her husband, sayin he didn't have a one to his name, guess he was wearin a pull-over sweater in mid-summer. Coffee and sugar also has been pretty hard hit, along with tires and pillow slips, although personally I can't imagine a war so awful its prospect would drive me to hoardin pillow slips.

In fact, I wish to say that I personally am holdin the line for President Truman and ain't bought a single item I don't need. In fact, I'm even ahead of the President and there's a lots of things I need that I ain't buyin. If I do any plowin after the crops are in this fall I'll need some more plow points and several other items, but you ain't gonna catch me endangerin the war effort and bringin on scarcities, and I'll make the sacrifice and do without them parts before I'll stompede this country into rationin. I'll put my country ahead of plowin any day.

When the President says hold the line, I'll hold it, even if I have to sit in the shade to do it. Ain't nothin half-way about me.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

With its curved surface made of Masonite Leatherwood, an embossed hardwood that is both handsome and durable, the snack bar will enhance any setting and add to the enjoyment of the "snack-fest."

WHY NOT NOW?

There's a NEW and MODERN Electric Range for YOU!

August... the hottest month! What is your kitchen like? A steaming bake-oven with an old-fashioned cooking stove? Or is it a pleasant, cool room... with an electric range? With an electric range there's no open flame to build up kitchen temperatures. Surface units have controlled heat that goes directly into the cooking utensils and the food—ovens are heavily insulated on all six sides... keeping the heat inside where it belongs, where it cooks the food, not the cook. Housewives everywhere say—"For cool cooking comfort, Buy Electric!"

- It's Fast! Electric "speed-units" now cook faster than any other method!
- It's Automatic! Electric cooking's automatic features save you time, labor and money!
- It's Safe! No matches, no flame, no tines to bring hazards into your kitchen!
- It's Healthful! Foods cooked electrically retain the garden-fresh flavor and food values which are often lost when cooked by old-fashioned flame methods.
- It's Economical! Low-cost electric rates and faster cooking bring operating costs way down.
- It's Labor Saving! Automatic features save you work, free you from much kitchen drudgery.
- It's Modern! Once you cook electrically, you'll wonder why you stayed so long with horse-and-buggy methods as old-fashioned flame lamps.
- It's Convenient! Designed for modern kitchens, the special features of Electric Ranges mean extra conveniences for you!
- It's Clean! There is no smoke, soot, or dangerous fumes to mar your kitchen.

It's the Best!

Miss Mary J. Cole, Lewis Eidson Are Married At Vera

Miss Mary John Cole, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. P. Cole of Vera, became the bride of Lewis Roy Eidson, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Eidson of Abilene, at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Methodist church in Vera.

The bride's father performed the double ring ceremony. Decorations included white gladioli and palms, with candles as illumination. Pews were marked with white satin ribbons.

Miss Ruth Ann Farrer, pianist, accompanied Miss Norma Sechrist, who sang, "My Wonderful One," "I'll Walk Beside You," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was dressed in white organdy with a fitted bodice, which formed a point in the front. The gathered skirt swept into a train. She wore organdy mitts and floor length veil and carried white gladioli and rosebuds on a white Bible.

Attendants' dresses were fashioned similarly to that of the bride. Mrs. E. A. Cole of Hereford, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor and wore blue organdy. Bridesmaids, Leta Mae Eidson of Abilene, sister of the bridegroom, and Joyce Mc-

Romantic Organdy

You'll find nothing under the moon sweeter or more feminine than these dotted organdy separates. Nelly de Grah has topped the blouse with a small, roll collar, studded it with crystal buttons, and double-fluffed the sleeves. A black velvet sash accents the waistline where blouse tucks into skirt. Selected by the fashion editors of Cosmopolitan as ideal for summer weekends, the blouse, at $6, and skirt, at $11, are available with either red or green dots in crisp, Ameritex organdy.

Methodist W. S. C. S. Meets Monday In Shannon Home

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met in the home of Mrs. J. S. Shannon on Monday afternoon, August 7, with Mrs. W. R. Moore, Sr., as co-hostess.

The meeting was directed by Mrs. Watted Rodgers, who used the 95th Psalm for the scripture reading. Mrs. J. C. Rice led the group in prayer.

The program was on Korea, and Mrs. A. D. Atkinson told about the Ewha College there. Only a few weeks ago, Dr. Helen Kim, 62, who was president of Ewha University in Seoul, was killed by communists because she refused to obey orders. She was hanged, and then her body was dragged through the streets of Seoul behind a jeep. She was loved by the Koreans and was considered a sincere Christian by all of them.

"Our hearts are saddened by this terrible thing," Mrs. Atkinson said in giving the report. Mrs. Polly Chamberlain Maddox, who has recently returned from Korea, gave a very interesting talk on this country. She told about the customs of the Koreans, how they lived, what they ate, how they farmed and how they worshipped. She had many things to show the ladies which she had brought back from Korea. Everyone remarked: "Truly we can say that we were glad to be present, for it was a wonderful meeting."

Wesleyan Service Guild Meets In H. R. Hicks Home

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Harpham, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gaither, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Spann, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Moore, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Green, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bardwell, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Ponder, Mr. and Mrs. I. V. Cook, Mrs. Levi Bowden, Mrs. Erin McGraw, Mrs. Arthur Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Haymes, Miss Ruth Baker and Miss Florence Gaines.

Mrs. Lee Haymes was welcomed as a new member, and Mrs. Walter Moore was a guest.

Slim Newkirk's mother, Mrs. A. B. Newkirk, is now making her home in Munday.

So this is HOUSEKEEPING

For some unknown reason, brides are generally looked upon by the rest of the sisterhood as being a trifle on the stupid side. The fact of the matter is that a bride has to be smartly alert for all kinds of facts for future reference in eventually running a successful home.

Take the other evening when my favorite spouse and I were invited to dinner at the home of friends. I was anxious to see how Marie managed a home, a husband, and a three months old baby.

Digging in after dinner to help with the dishes, the first thing I spied was several Everflo nursing bottles. Acting very professional, I rinsed the bottles, then asked for a bottle brush to scrub off the milk film. Then I learned some facts on time, money, and drudgery-saving.

It seems Marie had been having too many sessions with broken nursing bottles and finally took her woes to a clerk at a baby counter. When the clerk discovered she had been using a bottle brush he explained that the brush was responsible for much of the trouble. Apparently among hardware men an established trick for breaking glass smoothly is to first score or scratch the surface with a hard instrument. When force is applied the glass breaks cleanly along the score mark. The same principle, the clerk pointed out, applies in using a wire-handled brush when cleaning baby nursing bottles. The metal end of the brush weakens the glass with tiny, almost unnoticeable scratches which are sufficient to break the bottle when it is subjected to a slight jar or to quick heating or cooling.

The clerk gave my friend some Everflo brushless baby bottle cleanser which solved the whole problem. A tablespoonful in warm water quickly dissolves and removes the milk film in baby bottles and leaves them sparkling clean.

Now there's a bit of information that might come in handy some day!

It's Clean-up Week—Let's Cooperate

WHEN the latchstring is out and friends come and go, meal preparation can be so demanding the hostess can't enjoy her guests. Any food prepared ahead is a blessing. This spicy Barbecue Sauce is pre-cooked, refrigerated, used when wanted for spare ribs, beef or chicken. Melt 2 tbsps. butter or margarine, add 1 med. chopped onion, 1 chopped clove garlic. Cook until tender but not brown. Add 1/2 cup chopped celery with leaves, 1/2 cup chopped green pepper, 1 No. 2 can tomatoes, 1 6-oz. can tomato paste, 1 bay leaf, 3 tbsps. brown sugar, 2 tps. dry mustard, 1/2 cup vinegar, 1/2 tsp. cloves, 1/2 tsp. all-spice, 2 slices lemon, 1 1/2 tps. salt, 1 tsp. Tabasco. Simmer over low flame 30 mins. Let stand until cool. Strain if you wish. Yield: 2 1/4 cups. Swab meat or fowl with sauce, serve the balance hot in bowls.

Sprinkle and fold clean laundry, wrap and put in gas refrigerator for several hours and you'll be amazed how much easier it is to iron.

Split day-old doughnuts in half, toast in broiler 3 to 4 inches from flame. Serve with jam, maple syrup or honey.

When hot water has to travel to outlet taps through too much piping, there's bound to be some heat loss. Save gas by installing your automatic gas water heater nearest to tap outlets—the kitchen, laundry or bathroom.

A rubber band fastens a large paper bag over your dust mop. Shake the mop and dirt remains inside the bag instead of flying around.

Pointers Given On Washing Cottons

Laundrying a cotton dress today requires just a little more care than tossing it into the washing machine with the family wash, says Miss Ida Belle Allen, County Home Demonstration Agent. Especially is this true if the dress is one of those smart fashionable cottons that the house wife wants to keep looking smart through the season.

Today, cottons can be washed in the tub just as easily as ever if the finish of the material received close attention. Miss Allen recommends looking to the label of new goods, whether piece or ready to wear, for information on residual shrinking and color fastness when subjected to light and washing.

In regard to special finishes on cottons, such as the crispness of organdie or the glaze of glazed chintz, she advises checking carefully to make sure that the finishes are durable. A durable finish will wash for the life of the fabric.

Miss Allen says that light laundrying of a garment before it becomes badly soiled will extend the life of the material by removing the dirt, dust and perspiration before they become deeply imbedded in the fabric.

Outdoor Togs Faded? Dye-Bath Is Answer

You can easily get another season's wear from sun-faded shorts, slacks, blouses and other outdoor wearables. A few dime boxes of all fabric dye, available in 50 colors will do the trick. If the fabric has faded unevenly or if you want an entirely different color, use fast-acting color remover first, advises Tintex Home Economics Bureau. Your washing machine is ideal for tinting, especially larger articles such as slacks suits and dresses, the bureau points out.

cutting the threads and quickly wearing them apart.

Some laundrying suggestions which Miss Allen recommends especially for finer cotton dresses are the removal of any trimmings, buttons and buckles that may be damaged in the laundrying, the removal of any spots and stains that need a special solvent or cleanser before wetting the dress, the handling of colored garments as quickly as possible, and using heavy suds made from mild soap in warm water.

Referring to the actual washing process, she says, immerse the entire dress and squeeze the suds through the material. Never rub or scrub delicate fabrics. For heavier spots, such as those on collar and cuffs, use a small brush and brush lightly.

Rinse in two or three waters, being sure that the first rinse is the same temperature as the wash water. Cold water hardens soap and makes it adhere to the fabric. Soap left in a garment may cause yellowing or weakening of the fabric.

If the label on the garment says "Permanent finish" or if the fabric is wrinkle resistant, no starch is needed in the garment. A closely woven fabric such as gingham or chambray should not be starched for the first four or five launderings. It will retain a new look longer without starch.

Miss Allen recommends caution in using new soaps or synthetic detergents which requires no rinse. She says that clothes which are washed and not rinsed have a tendency to scorch easily during the ironing process.

Details For Antelope Hunt Are Announced

AUSTIN—The Executive Secretary of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission announced details of the special antelope hunt west of the Pecos, October 2 to 10 inclusive. First priority will be given permit holders for the 1948 hunt who withdrew their names in time for assignment of an alternate. The alternates were those whose names were not selected in the drawing which was required when more than 702 applications for permits were made.

Regulations for the hunt provide that persons who did not apply for an antelope shooting permit in 1948 shall have number two priority. The 1948 permit holders have number three priority.

The number of permits for this fall will not be set until the results of the 1950 antelope census is completed. The Executive Secretary indicated that the total permits allowed may be less than during the last open season in 1948.

Texans with a first priority rating are being notified and are being sent application blanks. Other hunters may receive the blanks by writing the Game Department. Their names will be placed on the eligible list when they return the filled out blank along with the $5.00 special license fee.

Treating the small cut ant hills that are scattered over a wide area will do little or no good. Locate the main colony and concentrate on it.

State Fair To Be Big Display Of Progress

With opening day of the 1950 State Fair of Texas Mid-Century Exposition approximately two months away, preparations are assuming an almost feverish pace on the sprawling 187-acre show grounds at Dallas, fair officials have revealed.

Hard work on this fair began months earlier because the forthcoming edition will be a bit out of the ordinary even for the monarch of the nation's expositions, R. L. Thornton, fair president, said.

"The 1950 fair will celebrate the golden anniversary of this century," Thornton said. "Despite wars and portents of wars, we have come a long way in fifty years. This fair will look back over what has been accomplished and show that the result is definitely worth celebrating."

Since the fair will not only salute the first half-century, but also preview the second, it will attempt to prognosticate what lies ahead in many fields, as in science, agriculture, art, the home, automotive and other industries.

Even before the last fair, work began on this "golden" event was well under way. The All-American Jersey Show was signed up early in 1949. Not long thereafter, officials began angling "South Pacific", the big all-time All-American musical, toward the Auditorium.

Ice Cycles arranged to show both its '49 and '50 editions at the last fair, in order to parade its bigger '51 model at the Mid-Century. Work on Rural Youth Day for the last four years has been building up to the climactic 100,000-youth gathering expected this year.

Today while painters slap gallons of brilliant hues on massive buildings outside, the fair's staff inside is grinding out arrangements for scores of added attractions destined to make this post-war fair to be remembered. Among added features will be a gigantic nightly "Parade of the Decades," a sparkling mile-long spectacle depicting the most exciting events of every decade since the turn of the century and saluting many types of achievement at the Mid-Century point.

The Museum of Fine Arts will celebrate by putting America's largest and perhaps best-loved painting on display—"Washington Crossing the Delaware," on loan from the Metropolitan Museum in New York.

"The Drunkard," world-famous preaching against sin and gin, will be a feature of "The Diamond Garter," new and nostalgic Gay Nineties refreshment center.

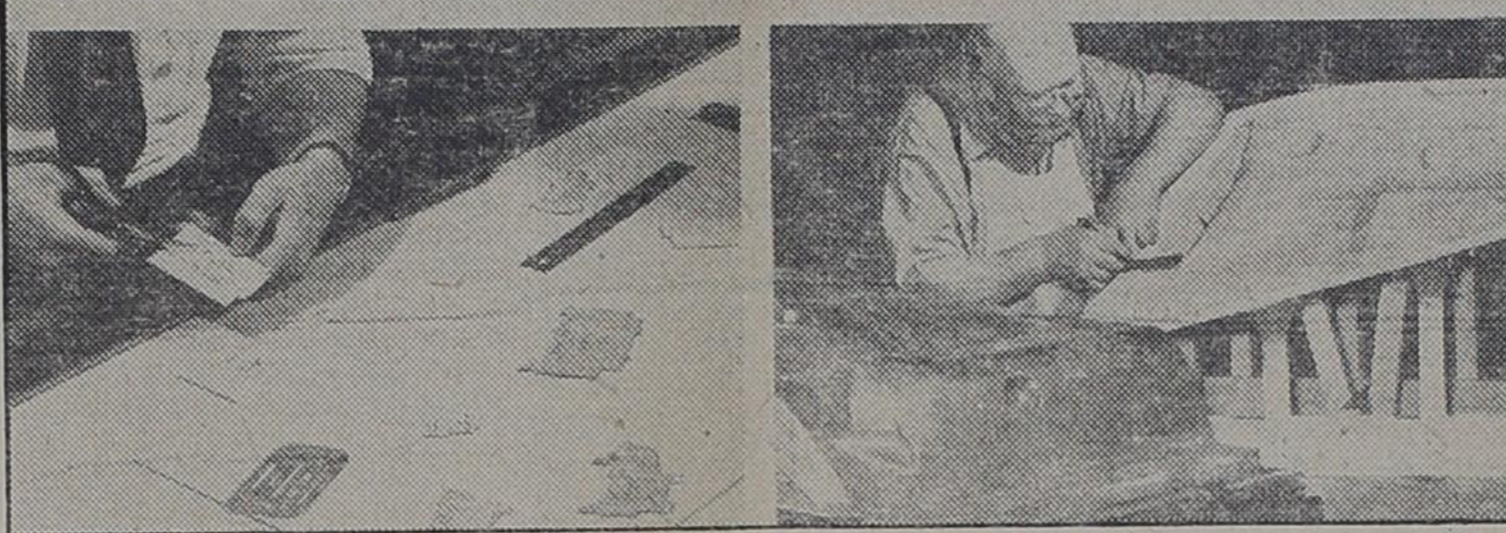

The Midway will bring in a world-famous circus, and present it simply as another low-cost sideshow along with some 30 other exciting attractions. But front and center on the Midway will be the Twentieth Century's most sensational riding device, the Sky-Wheels—two giant ferris wheels revolving around each other vertically.

On the lighter side, Sally Rand will present her new 1951 all-girl revue.

The Science Show, with atomic energy exhibits from Oak Ridge, cradle of the atomic bomb, and other exhibits from famous research laboratories of the world, is expected to be the most exciting educational exhibit ever unveiled at any fair. The Women's Show will be virtually doubled in size and importance.

A new-type Agriculture Show will feature an enormous revolving horn of plenty from which will spill all principal crops of the state. The livestock show, featuring the All-American Jersey Show, will in every respect be the largest, most comprehensive in the fair's history.

Many Jobs Still Call for Skilled Hands

Many Accidents On Farm Occur In The Home

More farm accidents occur in the home than in any other single place on the farm and about the most dangerous room in the house is the kitchen. There are many reasons why accidents happen in the kitchen, says Ida Belle Allen, County Home Demonstration Agent, but few out rank carelessness and household disorder.

Poor connections on the gas stove; overheating or using kerosene in coal or wood ranges, gas escaping when a boiling pot has extinguished a flame, pots and pans containing hot food or water upset by children, using worn-out equipment, especially electrical appliances, matches not placed out of the children's reach and accidents that often happen to the homemaker while frying foods in deep fat—these are common causes of kitchen accidents.

Miss Alen says that a well kept kitchen, one that is provided with plenty of cabinet and storage space, is most likely to be a safe room. However, carelessness can nullify the features of even the best planned and constructed kitchens. One gas explosion or a fire caused from hot grease removes the kitchen and often times the housewife from further safety troubles.

The stairs and steps both inside and outside the home seem to have been made especially for creating accidents by falling since so many home accidents happen there. It is dangerous under any circumstances to walk on stairs with both arms loaded and it is doubly so when the stairs or steps are cluttered. Stairway treads should all be the same width and risers the same height, says Miss Allen, and the treads should not be polished.

The stairway is no place to store the broom, nor the children's toys. Scatter rugs should never be placed at the bottom nor the top landings of the stairway. Loose or frayed runners are extremely dangerous. Cellar steps are usually poorly lighted and also catch more of the items that are just temporarily set there until they can be moved into the cellar. These are the items that cause many of the serious home accidents. They are not moved until someone get hurt.

Protection from fire hazards, orderliness, timely repairing, using tools and equipment as they were intended to be used, disposing of worn out appliances, and the use of common sense will greatly reduce the number of home accidents, says Miss Alen.

Mr. and Mrs. Mac Haymes of Odessa spent the week end here visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Haymes of Munday and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Russell of Vera.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Reid and son, Jimmy, returned home Sunday from Greenville, Hot Springs, Ark., and other points where they spent a week's vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Burnes of Pep, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morris over the week end.

Bob Ballinger of Dallas visited in the home of his grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Smith, over the week end.

ALLOTMENTS IN EFFECT FOR '51 WHEAT

Farmers should soon receive notices of their wheat acreage allotments for 1951, according to B. F. Vance, Chairman of the State PMA Committee.

"I would like to remind growers that a national allotment of 72.8 million acres for the 1951 wheat crop was announced on July 14 by the Secretary of Agriculture. Acreage allotments are now being determined for States and Counties, and, as soon as this preliminary work is done, farm allotments for next year's wheat crop will be mailed out to individual growers.

"It is important that growers understand that only those who plant within their allotments will be eligible for 1951 wheat price supports.

"There will be wheat allotments but no marketing quotas for the 1951 wheat crop."

TIME Has Praise For Dudley J. LeBlanc

TIME Magazine in a recent issue told the fabulous story of Dudley J. LeBlanc, the Medicine King, and described the benefits of HADACOL. The following are excerpts from the TIME story:

"In easygoing Lafayette, La. (pop. 19,210) 425 factory workers bustled each working day last week turning out more than 100,000 bottles of a murky brown liquid that tastes something like bile water, and smells worse. The patent medicine called Hadacol has been such a resounding success in 14 Southern states that its backers expect this year to sell $20,000,000 worth (in 8-oz. bottles at $1.25, or in the 24-oz. family 'jug' at $3.50).

Very Sassy. The man responsible for the murky brown medicine is Louisiana's plump State Senator Dudley J. LeBlanc, 56, who had to rectify up a new business after he made the mistake of running for governor in 1932 against a Huey Long candidate. Recovering from a bout of rheumatism when his doctors gave him Vitamin B-complex, LeBlanc saw that there was money as well as health in vitamins. He boned up on the subject by reading at home, decided that vitamins would be better if mixed with minerals.

Neither an M.D. nor a pharmacist, LeBlanc is plainly a go-getting businessman. He pushed Hadacol with a down-to-earth selling policy that included Hadacol radio programs, a fervent appeal to folks' fondness for patent medicines. Testimonials have poured in, extolling the work of Hadacol. Samples:

From an 80-year-old Mississippian: "I was disable to get over a fence, disable to get up out of chair without help, but after I took eight bottles of Hadacol I can tie up my own shoes and feel like I can jump over a six-foot fence and getting very sassy."

From a 68-year-old "batchelor" in Georgia: "Hadacol has done so much for me and I am looking so much better, think I will put a fence around my house to keep the ladies out."

Pep & Strength. Last fall LeBlanc was selling only 150,000 bottles of Hadacol a month when the advertising began to take. Then there was a sudden shortage. After that the medicine enjoyed such a boom that last month around 2,000,000 bottles were sold.

Taking care not to arouse the Food & Drug Administration or the Federal Trade Commission, which have their own views about cure-all nostrums, LeBlanc merely describes Hadacol on the box as a "Dietary Supplement . . . formulated as an Aid to Nature in rebuilding the Pep, Strength and Energy of Buoyant Health when the System is deficient in the Vitamins and Minerals found in this Tonic . . ." In short: if it's what you need, it's what you need.

age loan rate for Middling 15/16 inch white and extra white upland cotton produced in 1950 will be 29.45c per pound, gross weight. This rate is 90% of the parity price of cotton as of August 1, 1950. Last year the average loan rate was 29.43c per pound.

Mr. B. F. Vance, Chairman of the State PMA Committee, advises that loan rates will vary according to location. Rates will vary from a high of 30.23c per pound in the concentrated mill areas of the Carolinas to a low of 28.68c per pound in Arizona and California.

Vance says that loan rates for

Water Supply On Farm Should Be Kept Safe

A few simple rules, a few checks, and probably a little work will assure a safe supply of water for the farm home at little expense, says W. S. Allen, extension agriculture engineer, buildings of Texas A. & M. College.

To be safe, Allen warns, water must be protected from contamination by dust, ground water, bugs and animals. He says that it doesn't matter what the source of water is—stock pond, well, a spring, or a cistern—if it isn't properly protected, it may be dangerous to the health of the family.

He says that privies, septic tanks, barn lots and manure piles should be at least 100 feet away and down the hill from the well, and the septic tank disposal field should be at least 150 feet away from the cistern or well.

He cautions that barn lots and septic tank disposal fields should not be laid out where they will drain toward a stock tank that is the source of water for the household. Surface privies are often a dangerous source of contamination, and Allen recommends that they be replaced by sanitary pit privies, or even better with properly constructed septic tank systems.

Giving general precautions to insure the safety of water in a well or cistern, Allen advises making sure that the cover over the well or cistern is dust tight, rodent proof, and insect proof. The well should be lined for about 10 to 15 feet down from the top with some impervious material like concrete to prevent surface water from leaking in.

A good insurance measure to determine the safety of the farm water supply is to take a sample of the water and send it to the State Health Department for a bacteriological analysis. However, the well must be chlorinated before the sample is taken, and a specifically sterilized bottle must be used. A bottle and specific instructions for taking the sample can be obtained by writing to the State Health Department, Austin, Texas, or from the local county health unit.

When surface tanks are used for the home water supply, they should be fenced off from livestock. For watering the stock, Allen recommends the use of a trough set below the tank level with a pipe leading from the tank. This setup protects the water for household use and provides cleaner drinking water for the livestock.

If the tank is filled with silt, the muddy water can be cleared up by using a commercial filter. Plans for making a home-made filter can be obtained by writing to the Agricultural Engineering Department, Texas A. & M. College.

Mrs. Murphy Jordan and her brother, Jerry Kemp, of Cyril, Okla., are visiting in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Lloyd Teaff, and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Butler.

Mrs. F. H. Russell was taken to the Knox County Hospital Monday for medical treatment.

4-H Clubs Are Being Leaders In Recreation

The importance of providing recreation for the leisure hours farm folks have these days has become one of the major concerns of thousands of 4-H Club leaders and members. During the past three years, a plan has been worked out whereby adults and youth interested in directing recreational activities in their clubs and communities can take a special course set up for this purpose.

This training and club participation has been brought about through the National 4-H Recreation and Rural Arts program now in full swing in Texas. Sponsor of the program, U. S. Rubber Company, is providing $29,000 for leader training clinics, club and individual awards.

Last year more than 10,200 young people and 6,400 adults attended these clinics. They receive instruction in group singing, dancing, games, sports, dramatics, handicrafts and Texas have not yet been announced but should be available in the near future. Loans will be made on cotton represented by warehouse receipts issued by warehouses approved by Commodity Credit Corporation and on farm stored cotton in structures approved by county PMA Committees. Cotton producers' notes will bear interest at the rate of 3% per annum and will mature on July 31, 1951, but will be callable on demand. Loans will be available through April 30, 1951.

Additional information and instructions relating to the cotton loan program will be available through the county PMA offices.

M. D., State Health Officer of Texas

AUSTIN—In addition to the general instructions for community sanitation which are important in preventing poliomyelitis, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, today issued an urgent warning to every individual in Texas to practice strict personal hygiene to protect his own health and that of those about him.

"Of course, cleanliness and personal hygiene are ordinarily taken for granted," Dr. Cox said "but at this time with the incidence of poliomyelitis having reached a total of 1395 cases, I would like to re-emphasize some personal sanitary measures which may help in preventing the spread of this crippling and often fatal disease."

The State Health Officer stressed the importance of scrupulous cleanliness of the person. Frequent bathing and immaculately clean clothing are vitally necessary. Oral hygiene with thorough brushing of the teeth and the use of a mild antiseptic are recommended. The nasal passages should be kept and dental defects corrected

SETS NEW RECORD

The South West area leads the nation in the buying of electric appliances for all-electric kitchens and home laundries, with purchases 32% greater than the record for any previous six-month period. This is one-third more than the national average of 24% buying increase, according to figures released by James J. Nance, president, Hotpoint, Inc., the leading producer of electric kitchens, whose sales results were used in the tabulations.

The official credited the gains to low service rates of electric utility companies and increased aggressive advertising and sales efforts by dealers. He said that the South West area is the nation's bright spot economically.

"America has reached a new all-time high plateau in its standard of living, spearheaded by electrical living," the industrialist asserted. He recently announced the rounding out of his company's expansion program which included seven new manufacturing plants to produce all major electric kitchen and laundry appliances for the home, and a modern new plant for cooking equipment for schools, churches, hospitals, and restaurants. A modern new plant to increase capacity for refrigerators is scheduled for completion soon. These new facilities have been proven-in, life operating, and in three years have brought the company leadership as kitchen producers.

Sanitation and thorough cleanliness in the home are instinctive with the average housewife, but at this time their importance to health must be re-emphasized. Home sanitation includes those taken for granted measures as washing the dishes in hot soapy water and wringing them in hot clear water; keeping sinks, bathtubs and fixtures scoured clean and rinsed with a mild antiseptic solution; sunning and airing bed clothes, ridding the home of flies, rats and roaches which, since poliomyelitis is believed to be a filth-borne

Texas Schools To Be Improved For Next Year

AUSTIN—Texas' already vastly improved school system will be on an even higher level during the 1950-51 school year it was predicted here today.

More classroom facilities and more and better trained teachers will be available, it was pointed out by L. P. Sturgeon, State associate commissioner of education.

Under the new Gilmer-Aiken laws which went into effect last fall the teaching staff has increased by 2,000 and more than half of the school districts of the state added to their classroom facilities.

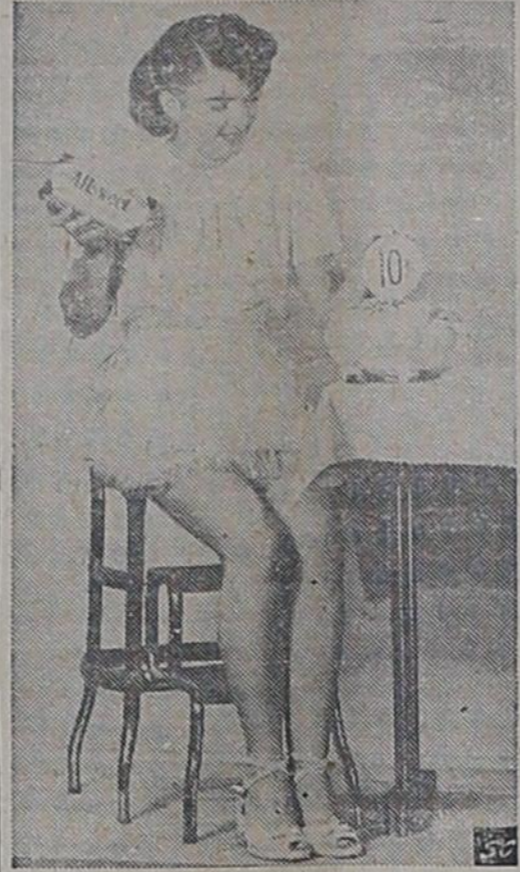

An additional 1,500 teachers will be hired for the next school year, Sturgeon said. A survey disclosed many more schools will increase their facilities, Sturgeon also said.

Increase in pay for teachers has added to their moral and made the profession far more attractive to young people, Sturgeon pointed out. More young people are preparing for careers as teachers and those better trained instructors will be available in larger numbers next year to replace retiring instructors and those less adequately trained, according to Sturgeon School districts which met disease, are suspected as being responsible for transmission.

"If good personal hygiene is combined with good community sanitation and hygiene, it is hard for any disease to get a foothold," Dr. Cox said, "with such a dread disease as poliomyelitis prevalent in the state, no precaution should be overlooked and no bars should be left down for its entrance."

Money In The Bank!

Pretty Patty Raymond is all smiles these days as she builds up the cash reserve in her household piggy bank with savings made possible by removal, July 1, of the 10 cents per pound tax on yellow margarine. According to W. L. Prentiss, head of Swift & Company's All-sweet Margarine department, Patty and millions of other U. S. homemakers should get full benefit of the recent legislation removing the tax formerly paid by manufacturers because the margarine industry will pass on the savings to consumers by reducing the wholesale price of their product. A total of 35 states now permit the sale of yellow margarine.

the requirements of state law in order to receive additional financial aid from the state had a teacher to every twenty-five pupils in average daily attendance during the last school year but many districts were forced to put pupils on a half-time basis.

"This will be partly alleviated during the 1950-51 school year by the construction of more classrooms and the availability of more teachers," Sturgeon said. "This will add to the great benefits derived by a great many of our school children in their being in smaller classes, where they could get more personal attention."

"During the 1948-49 school year a survey conducted by the Texas State Teachers Association disclosed that more than half of the classrooms in the entire state were badly overcrowded."

Sturgeon also had high praise for the state's teachers.

"While the pay increases under the Gilmer-Aiken laws average only $500 for teachers, their moral is at the highest in the history of Texas," he said.

"I can see that in their interest in and their attendance of professional meetings I have attended throughout the entire state. Superintendents are unanimous in their reports of the willingness of teachers to accept additional assignments and to participate in extra-curricular activities."

"Teachers are satisfied and are proud of their professions. That means better education for the children in rooms presided over by well-trained instructors. It is only reasonably that happy, efficient teachers can do more than dissatisfied, inefficient persons."

Increased enrollment in courses leading to degrees in education in the states colleges was an indication of the attractiveness of the teaching profession in Texas schools now, with its resulting benefits to the children.

Men Of Draft Age Are Urged To Report Marriage Status To Boards

Filling of the Texas draft quota of 2,513 men for September is being jeopardized by the fact that many men, now classified in I-A, have failed to report marriages and other changes in their circumstances. Brigadier General Paul F. Wakefield, state director of Selective Service, charged in a strongly-worded statement today.

"If we fail to furnish the number of men desired from this state, this failure on the part of many men will be the chief factor in that failure," General Wakefield said.

The state director said that many of the local draft boards are reporting that when they issue orders to report for physical examination, many of the registrants are coming in with evidence of marriages that took place "many months before."

General Wakefield pointed out that if these men who have married had notified local boards immediately after the marriage took place, they would never have been sent an order to report for physical examination in the first place.

"We are operating with little time to get the job done demanded of us," the general said. "The local boards, unless they want to declare such registrants delinquent, have to turn around and get an order to report for physical examination to the next man in order of age. All this takes time, and our local boards have a short deadline to meet."

Selective Service wants to "be reasonable about this situation," the state director said, "but we know that the patience of our local board members are wearing thin. We just want to point out that it is not mandatory under the law that married men be classified into III-A under such circumstances."

"Such men who fail to report change of status, such as marriage, or a change of address legally are eligible to be declared delinquent for failing to comply with the law. A delinquent can be inducted immediately ahead of all others under this law, and if we are forced to do so in order to meet our calls, we will comply with the law to the letter," General Wakefield continued.

The state director concluded with the statement that notifications concerning marriage, change of address, and other changes of status are "the entire responsibility of the registrant," and that notifications of change must be sent to local boards in writing over the signature of the registrant.

"Too much damage already has been done," he said. "The time is almost past for men to get things squared with their draft boards."

Perfect Picnic Pail

The next time the family goes on a picnic, use two galvanized steel pails for packing equipment and supplies. At the picnic spot, set the emptied pails in convenient places and ask the family to put rubbish in one pail and bottles and cans in the other. This is much easier than "policing" the area after the picnic.

Crochet a "Traveling" Bonnet

Neither wind, nor rain, nor heat of day, nor dark of night can stay this charming little bonnet from its appointed rounds. Neither can packing wrinkle it, because it's crocheted of a soft, new all- rayon yarn called Kentucky All-Purpose. Rayon takes dyes unusually well, and the yarn comes in some good clear pastel, bright and dark shades. Crochet it for summer and you'll want another for winter. Free instructions for this bonnet are available to anyone who sends a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Women's Editor of this paper.
