Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

We casually mentioned some improvements being made in Munday last week—just to sort of call attention to the fact that our town is not standing still.

But, shucks! Have you been over to the Pioneer Recreation Hall lately?

Those who use the hall a lot for dominoes, visiting or just loafing decided to fix it up a bit. They have stripped the ceiling with 1x2 boards and brought that sagging ceiling back up into place, and they've repainted the walls. Even the old stove received a coat of barn-red!

We sauntered in there during the noon hour one day, and were promptly approached for a donation toward fixing the place up. From the way it looked Monday, we have received our money's worth.

C. L. McAfee, who reportedly has retired from farming, hasn't quit work, yet. He's been one of the hardest workers over at Pioneer Hall. He's pretty good at nailing overhead, too—something we never could do. Of course, Charlie didn't do all the work. He had some help, but he was in there pitching a lot of the time.

H. C. Claborn told us Monday he wanted a "big writeup" about them fixing up Pioneer Hall. We hope this satisfies him!

Another remodeling job which was recently completed is that of Dorse and Cora Jean Collins at their "friendly Mobil dealer" warehouse office. Everything is cute as can be there, now, but Jean still has her troubles. She is complaining that Dorse falls to wipe his feet when he comes in out of the mud, then her new tile flooring gets all messed up. That's a common failure of a lot of us, especially us menfolks!

That cold snap that hit Sunday, following a some balmy summer days, made us don our overcoat again and get an extra hump in our shoulders. When colder weather hits suddenly and upon the heels of shirt-sleeve weather, it always seems colder than it really is.

But just last week, one of our readers remarked that he hated to see the type of weather we were having. He had quite a number of fruit trees, and he was afraid the warm weather would cause them to bloom ahead of time. Perhaps this spell will set them back a while longer.

That annual early-season prognosticator—the ground hog—told us early in the month that winter wasn't over, so it might be well to be on the lookout for other cold snaps.

The accompanying moisture, although lighter than we needed, will be giving the wheat a slight boost. Wheat didn't look too promising to us after having gone through those cold, dry days in January.

We like to present both sides of any controversial issue. We think this is a newspaper's duty, so long as this presentation is of news value. It's hard sometimes, even for us, to distinguish between news and advertising.

Because of this, we accepted a letter for publication last week on the Miller Creek project. This week, we were confronted with the question: "Do you publish both sides of an issue?" Then we accepted another letter in opposition to the Miller Creek lake as a source of our water supply. Both of these we have printed without charge.

But not any more. We have reached the conclusion that one person's ideas and opinions in trying to promote or defeat an issue is not news; therefore, should be classed as advertising. And we don't think it's fair to the newspaper, or the editor, to ask that these be printed for free.

Since we have accepted both these letters without charge, we think we have been fair to both sides. So in the future, if you want to write a long essay on the Miller Creek project, or any issue, do like those at Haskell who oppose the project—run it in the form of an ad. In that way, you'll help to keep the editor in business—not force him out of business.

Annual Blue And Gold Banquet Is Held On Friday

The annual Cub Scout "Blue and Gold" banquet was held at 7 p.m. last Friday in the fellowship hall of the First Methodist Church. The event was a father and son affair, with den mothers serving as hostesses.

After the invocation by Paul Howland, the group assembled for a meal of ham, beans and potato salad, with pie as dessert.

The ham was furnished by the Methodist Men's Club, sponsors of the Cubs.

The program got under way with each den leading in a song, after which Noel Crenshaw, district scout executive was introduced by Rex Mauldin, submaster. Mr. Crenshaw presented the pack chapter to Robert Patterson, institutional representative. Marshall Benner, pack committee chairman, made a report on the Cub activities. He reported a net gain of two boys over last year.

Postmaster Chan Hughes presented the Munday Scouts a U. S. flag which has flown over the capitol building in Washington. The flag was mounted as the group stood at attention.

Each den presented a skit as an entertainment feature. The climax of the evening came as awards were presented the boys. Mike Emerson and Richard Ramirez were inducted into the Cubs, and Mike Putnam was graduated into the Boy Scout troop in special ceremonies.

Scoutmaster Hugh Beaty presented Mike with his Tenderfoot pin, and his mother pinned it on him. The cup for the highest number of awards went to Den 4. Den mothers are Mmes. Litt Lemley, Cecil Booe and O. O. Putnam.

The meeting was dismissed with prayer by Howard Emerson, minister of the Church of Christ.

Arledge Fights Farm Labor Bill

State Representative Roy Arledge this week said that migrant farm labor would be virtually eliminated by a Bill which is now pending in the Motor Traffic Committee of the Texas House of Representatives.

"H. B. 401," Arledge said, "is almost the same piece of legislation which I campaigned against during the past election. Because of the totally unreasonable restrictions in this Bill on the transportation of migrant workers, it would be almost impossible for the farmers in our district to secure the needed labor to produce and gather our crops."

"This proposal, H. B. 401, is even more restrictive and unreasonable than was H. B. 113 of the last Legislature, which I explained during the last campaign," Arledge stated. "As a member of the Committee considering this measure, I shall do everything possible to stop this Bill so that it will not become law," he continued.

Arledge received outstanding Committee assignments for his first term. He is a member of the all-important Oil and Gas Committee, the Livestock and Stock Raising, Motor Traffic, Public Lands and Buildings, State Hospitals and Special Schools Committees.

"It is my hope to do the best possible job in the State Legislature for the folks in our area," Arledge concluded, "and I will appreciate hearing from each and everyone so that I may have your views and suggestions on pending legislation."

Frank Cerveny, Retired Farmer Dies On Friday

Frank J. Cerveny, 69, retired farmer of the Rhineland community, passed away at 5 p.m. Friday in the Veterans Administration Hospital in Big Spring, where he had been a patient for about three weeks. He had been in failing health for several months.

Mr. Cerveny was born in Czechoslovakia on July 24, 1903. He came to the United States as a young man and served in the U. S. Army during World War I.

For a time, he was employed on a ranch in Haskell County before coming to Rhineland in 1920. He married the former Beatrice Michalk on September 22, 1921, and the couple made their home near Rhineland since that time. She preceded him in death on November 5, 1962.

For many years, Mr. Cerveny was one of the area's most progressive farmers. He became interested in promoting better planting seed for the area, and for a time worked closely with the county agent in growing certified seed. He served on the board of St. Joseph's Church at Rhineland for many years, and also served his community in other activities.

Long Waiting Lines Are Expected For Safety Stickers

"With the deadline for obtaining inspection stickers drawing near, only 13 per cent of the vehicles in Knox County have been inspected," Captain Alan Johnson, Motor Vehicle Inspection Supervisor of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said this week.

Unless the number of inspections is increased appreciably soon, long waiting lines will be forming at inspection stations when the April 15 deadline approaches. "The authorized inspection stations are ready and capable of handling the inspection of Texas registered vehicles without delay if owners will not wait until just a few days before the deadline," Johnson said.

"Any driver operating a vehicle registered in Texas, that is required to be inspected, on public roads after April 15 will be operating in violation of the law," he said.

Captain Johnson called attention to the fact that since the beginning of the inspection program, vehicles having a defect that was a causative factor in fatal accidents decreased from 13% to 4%. "The purpose of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Program is to discover any maladjustment which might become a link in a cycle of events leading to an accident and, by removing the link, prevent the accident," he pointed out.

FACTS—AND A SYSTEM

Much of the world lacks even the basic and most vital foods—predominately meat. In this, as in so many other areas of life, the United States is wonderfully fortunate.

During 1963, says the chief officer of the American Meat Institute, the greatest amount of beef ever to be produced in one year will be served to the nation's consumers by the meat industry. The total will be 16.2 billion pounds, a gain of 700 million over last year. It will work out to a per capita consumption of 90 pounds for beef alone. For all the red meats, the figure is estimated at 163.5 pounds.

And increased consumption isn't the whole story. The meat industry has kept pace with modern technology, and is fully prepared to handle the rising demand. The research programs of the packing industry, the AMI spokesman added, will continue to expand in order to find more efficient and economical methods of bringing convenient, attractive, high quality meat products from farm to table.

So much for the facts—now for a word about the system which has done so much to make this possible. We call it the capitalist system, or the private enterprise system, or the free enterprise system, or some other equivalent. Whatever the phrase used, it means a system in which people have the right to produce and sell what they want, to take their chances, and to willingly operate in a competitive market in which consumer wants and demands are the final arbiter.

This system produces abundance—an abundance that would seem unbelievable in most of the world. The other systems, based as they are on government dominance, and on official decree as to what the people may and may not have, produces scarcity and want.

A PEACE THAT RESTS ON POWER

Senator Goldwater, in one of his late newspaper columns, finds great satisfaction in the fact that President Kennedy made tours of some major U. S. military installations and has, in public statements, spoken of our military power "as the foundation stone of United States diplomacy." The Senator adds: "Newspaper reports . . . say that he has been deeply awed by the tremendous power at his command."

The Senator's point is that it is this power that maintains the peace, and the President has made it plain that he too holds that view. And no one can rationally argue that the Free World would have much chance of surviving if that power did not exist, and in ever-increasing might. This country is the West's arsenal and guardian. A weak United States would amount to an invitation to the Soviets to throw their plans of world conquest into high gear—and the Soviets do not refuse invitations of that nature.

We hope for a time when disarmament will be possible, and when the vast resources in money, in human energy, in scientific achievement that military power now consumes can be used for happier ends. But that time is not now—nor does its light show even feebly on the horizon. Meanwhile, as Mr. Goldwater eloquently puts it, we must preserve our power advantage " . . . and enhance it by constant development of new weapons and new techniques—not to wage war against Soviet Russia, but to wage an effective peace."

POLITICAL MAGIC?

Sterling F. Green of the Associated Press says that the new presidential budget is expected to be in the vicinity of $99 billion, half of it consisting of defense spending, and that the deficit will pass $6 billion at least. This does not take into account the tax cuts the President will urge and that Congress may approve. Should these cuts go through, the deficit will be about $12 billion. And it could very well be more, for government estimates of revenue have, on many an occasion, proven overly optimistic.

Unless reductions of a compensatory nature are made in non-defense, non-essential spending, what will happen to the buying power of the dollar, and the worth of the worker's pay check?

There are economists who tell us that deficit-spending need not be an inflationary force. But the whole weight of modern history and experience goes against them. The aim of our government, industry and labor must be to stimulate and back up the economy. But with full or nearly full employment and utilization of our productive enterprises, a heavy government deficit cannot help but produce soaring rises in prices. Of what value is a moderate tax cut then?

CHURCH OF CHRIST

Do We Need A New Gospel?

Occasionally in this rapidly changing world we heart expressions: "We need a new gospel to meet the needs of a changing age!" This attitude betrays the superficial thinking and a complete disregard for the Bible teaching on the all-sufficiency of "the faith once delivered to the saints" (Jude 3).

The gospel of Christ delivered over nineteen hundred years ago, calculated to save man's soul from sin (Rom. 1:16), needs no present day revision. The reason? Human nature has not changed, sin is still the same, the devil still uses the same devices (the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eye and the pride of life (1 Jno. 2:16); and the needs of man are the same as they were when Christ first came. The ancient gospel met every need of man nineteen hundred years ago, and today we join with the apostle to say "His divine power hath given unto us ALL THINGS that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that hath called us to glory and virtue" (2 Pet. 1:3). In as much as we are given all things pertaining to life and godliness through the "knowledge of Christ," he who recommends another book of revelation, other than the Bible thereby admits his disbelief in the complete knowledge of Christ being found in the Bible. The apostle Paul said in 2 Tim. 3:16-17 "All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction for instruction in righteousness; that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works." Creeds of men, Keys to the scriptures, manuals and such like cannot improve on the "perfect law of liberty."

Letters From The People

Editor's Note: It has always been the policy of this newspaper to print both sides of any controversial public issue. The views expressed in the following letter are entirely those of the writer, and in no way reflects the views or policy of this newspaper or the editor.

To taxpayers of Munday:

I believe that we need to know more facts and less propaganda about our Miller Creek deal. Our local board has kept us in the dark about where our money is going.

Are you aware that after four years of operation we have not purchased a foot of land on which to build a lake? We have purchased no equipment or right of way. The Authority is rendering us no service—so where is our tax money going?

The cost of the project as estimated in 1958 will no doubt be far less than the actual cost if and when they start to build now. That means more taxes than we anticipated. They can raise our taxes as high as they want to because the Water Authority is set up on an UNLIMITED TAX RATE basis. The Water Board can set our taxes higher and we can't do a thing about it.

Have you thought how unequal the cost of this deal is apportioned out? Munday will have only about ten miles of pipe line while Haskell and Rule will have nearly forty miles. The lake and land are estimated at less than a million dollars while the pipe line and pumping equipment are estimated at two and nine-tenths million dollars. Looks like that at the same tax rate and the same cost per thousand gallons for water, delivered, that we will be paying a larger part of the cost for Haskell and Rule.

The engineers and bond handlers who stand to make a juicy profit out of this deal scared us into believing that Munday and Goree were out of water. This was just a sales promotion to further their own interests. You know that we are not out of water. Remember last year Goree had a write-up in the papers stating that they were out of debt and their wells supplied all the water needed and that it was pure and palatable.

Have you a logical reason for mortgaging your property at a tax rate which has no legal limit for a pipe dream such as the NCTMWA?

I propose that we have a called meeting of all taxpayers who are against this mess we are in and see if we can't do something about it, before it goes any further.

I would like to talk to any interested parties who are against having this project rammed down our throats just because a few people want a gravy train at our expense. Come over to my shop and let's talk this over.

There are numerous other angles I would like to discuss with the tax payer in regards to this matter which would make this letter to lengthy.

LONE STAR AGRICULTURE

RELEASED BY THE TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Texas Sugar Beet Industry Boosted

Remember what a job it used to be to dissolve beet sugar in a glass of ice tea?

You had to rattle the ice around and almost beat the bottom out of the glass before all the pesky little granules disappeared.

Thanks to vastly improved refining methods, beet sugar has come into its own—both as a table sweetener and in industrial foods.

The sugar beet as a major crop is about to make a big comeback in Texas. A giant refinery costing $18 million is scheduled to go into production at Hereford in the Texas Panhandle on Sept. 1, 1964. The Holly Sugar Corporation of Colorado Springs, Colo., is the builder on a 1,700-acre tract of land two miles east of Hereford.

Mr. Dennis O'Rourke, chief executive officer of Holly Sugar Corp., says initial production will consume some 4,000 tons of beets per day and the pace can be stepped up to 6,000 tons when crop conditions are right.

Governor John Connally joined with Agriculture Commissioner John C. White recently in congratulating Holly Sugar on deciding to locate in the plains of Texas. O'Rourke said the company's decision was due in a large part of efforts, and help offered by U. S. Representative Bob Poage of Waco, Vice President Lyndon Johnson, and other members of the Texas delegation in Washington. Congressman Poage was especially active in securing the plant.

New agricultural industries such as the sugar refinery are a vital need in Texas today. They provide additional employment as well as cut transportation costs, adding to the farmers' profits.

"Establishment of this refinery is a big step toward providing new job opportunities for the citizens of Texas," Governor Connally said. "We have the advantages to attract industries to Texas and are pushing a vigorous industrial development program for the state."

Meetings Slated On Economy Budget

Did you make some resolutions to stretch your food budget by getting the most from your food dollar in 1963? Your food bill is probably the largest single expense your family has. So when you start looking for a place to cut spending, you often look at your food bill first. Many times this is a place where you can cut expenses and still provide better nutrition for the family by careful selection and management. Even some of the convenience foods are money as well as time savers!

For more information concerning these problems, members of the management and Food Committees of County Program Building would like to invite you to attend one of two meetings to be conducted on Feb. 19 at the courthouse in Benjamin, starting at 9:15 a.m. or in the fellowship hall of the Methodist Church in Munday, at 1:30 p.m.

Mrs. Agnes Marrs, Home Demonstration Agent from Kent County, will demonstrate and discuss ways to "Econ-O-Wise With Your Food Dollar," and Miss Frances Reasonover, specialist in food and nutrition with the Co-operative Extension Service, College Station, will give results of recent research on nutrition standards and weight control through wise eating.

A short film on the selection of fruits and vegetables will be shown. Mrs. Arnold Navratil, chairman of the County Food and Nutrition Committee will have charge of the program in Benjamin and Mrs. R. M. Almanrode will have charge of the Munday program. The meeting in Benjamin starts at 9:15 and should be completed by 10:45 and the meeting in Munday begins at 1:30 and runs to 3:00 o'clock.

Four different ways to make going more fun than getting there

You can see why one of America's favorite outdoor sports is driving Chevrolets, with four entirely different kinds of cars to choose from. There's the Jet-smooth Chevrolet, about as luxurious as you can go without going overboard in price; the low-cost Chevy II, a good-looking car that would send any family packing; another family favorite, the sporty Corvair, whose rear-engine traction will make you think that ice and snow are kid stuff; and for pure adventure, America's only sports car, Corvette—now in two all-new versions with looks that can stop traffic like a rush-hour blizzard. Picked your favorite already? The next thing is to take the wheel at your Chevrolet dealer's. If that doesn't have you thinking of places to go, maybe you'd rather just have a ball around town!

Knox Prairie Philosopher Finds Something Else To Worry About In Population Figures For World

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek has found a new problem to worry about, his letter this week reveals.

J. A.

Dear editor:
I know people are worried about Cuba, Canada, De Gaulle, Russia, China, Congress, etc., but I have run across a problem that worries me more than all these put together.

According to an article I read last night in snatches during television commercials and station breaks, the population of the world will double in the next 40 years. It took from the start of time to 1830 to reach one billion. But it took only 100 years to reach two billion in 1930, and only 30 years to reach three billion, which is what it is now, assuming the count was accurate in the African and Australian brush country and the Siberian prison camps. In other words, the world's population is like the national debt. The bigger it is, the bigger it gets.

Consequently, in a few more years, the world's population will double again, and we'll have six billion people on earth. There's no way of estimating the national debt at that time, but I have confidence it will keep pace. What worries me about this is another set of statistics. In 1800, if a farmer supported himself, he was considered doing his job satisfactorily. But in 1900, with more people moving to town, he was supporting himself and four city people. By 1963, the thing had got all out of hand and he was raising enough for himself and 23 people in town. Furthermore, as the population increases, the number of farmers decreases, and it doesn't take a mathematical wizard to see what a burden this puts on us farmers.

As I calculate it, in 40 more years, if the trends continue, one farmer will have to produce enough for 46 people in town.

Now you may think what's worrying me about this is that I'll have to work twice as hard to carry my end of the load.

You're wrong. What's worrying me is how those 46 people are going to get by on half of what they're getting now.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Albert Loran attended a hardware convention in Amarillo the first of this week.

CARD OF THANKS

No words can ever express the love and deep appreciation we feel to our many friends, during our loved one's illness and death. To those who gave blood and stayed with him, for the beautiful flowers and cards, for the visits and food, to the many people and the men who had part in the love gift, we can only say God bless each and every one of you for wanting to share and ease our sorrow. We especially thank you for the many prayers that have helped sustain us during the past days. Our hearts are full, but we just can't find words to express our gratitude. Our prayer is that someday we might in some way be able to repay each one of you. May God bless and keep you.

NATIONAL ELECTRICAL WEEK
February 10-16 1963

The three million men and women of the electrical industry observe National Electrical Week each year during the week of Thomas A. Edison's birthday, February 11. National Electrical Week is a time when attention is focused on the contributions that electricity makes to our economy, our high standard of living, and our progress as a nation

ELECTRIC CITY
America's Growth Power

Do you know that...

- Today the United States has more power capacity than the next 5 nations combined and almost three times the power capacity of the Soviet Union.
- West Texas Utilities has increased its electric generating capacity over 6 times since 1942.
- In terms of residential use, the American home uses nearly eight times the electricity of the Russian home. Americans use twice as much for lighting alone as the Russian total.
- The average cost of a kilowatt hour to residential customers served by WTU has decreased 35% in the last 20 years.

...you can live better electrically

Notes From Knox Farms, Ranches

By Joe W. Doby, Knox County Agent

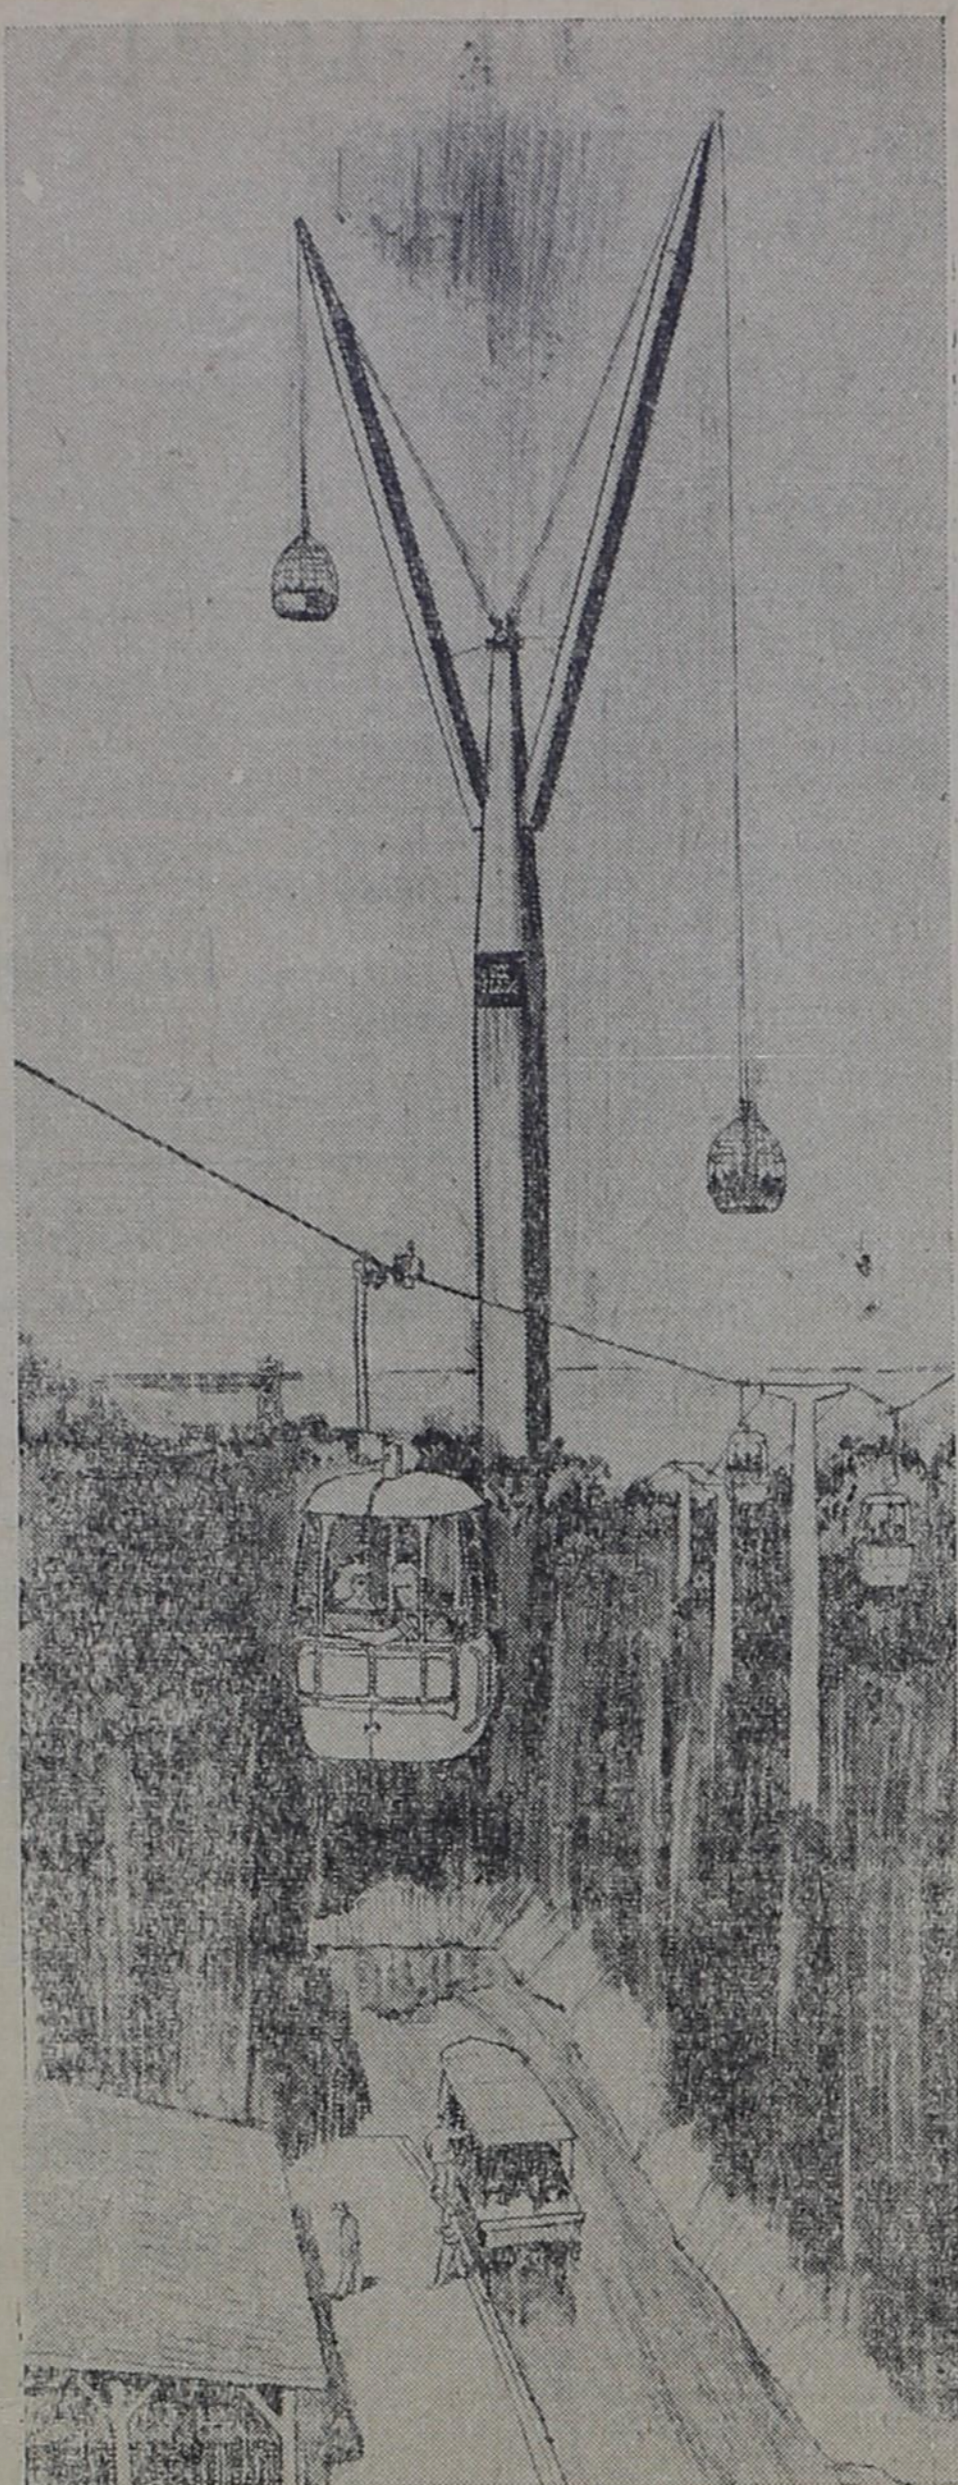

The 4-H Adult Leader Training Meetings are continuing each Monday night in February at the Courthouse in Benjamin. The next session on February 18 will cover "Recreation and Its Use in the 4-H Program." The meetings are beginning with a covered dish supper at 7 p.m. and will be over with by 9.

An economical method of controlling pocket gophers will be demonstrated in Knox City and Munday on February 18. The demonstrator will be Jodie Webb, U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. He will show a "burrow-builder," a machine that makes an artificial burrow that intersects the natural burrow of the gopher. An ordinary planted box feeds poison grain into the artificial burrow. The gopher then eats it and presto, no more gopher. It only takes about 1½ pounds of poison grain to the acre.

The demonstration will be held at the home of Jesse Gilpin, on the Brazos Valley road north west of Knox City at 10 a.m., February 18.

Better records will be needed by farmers and ranchers in 1963. Greater emphasis on the need for complete and accurate farm records is being placed by the Internal Revenue Service officials. It is now necessary to keep more complete records, to substantiate certain expenses, particularly travel expenses incurred in doing business. The carry-back and carry-forward features of the new seven per cent tax credit for making investments in machinery and equipment entail keeping records longer than was previously necessary. In addition to helping the operator file better tax returns, complete and accurate records may: 1. Improve the farm or ranch business by locating strong or weak points in the organization of his production enterprises, 2. Show the net worth of the business and measure financial progress which aids in securing adequate credit.

Record keeping tips: Use a good account book. Keep account book up to date. Identify items on deposit slips. Write on Dominating an entire new area at Six Flags Over Texas will be the "Sky Hook." Located in the new "Boom Town" portion of the U.S.A. Section, the 150 foot high ride will carry two "baskets" of passengers in the air where they will be able, on a clear day, to see the skylines of both Dallas and Fort Worth. The "Sky Hook" was built in Switzerland and is the only one of its kind in the United States. Six Flags' 1963 season will begin April 20.

The County Committee concerned with Screwworm Eradication will meet Tuesday, February 19 at 2 p.m. in the Courthouse to map plans for the fund raising drive in Knox County. Livestock producers must raise $1,000,000 in the next month in order to keep the program going.

Paula Thompson and Brad Partridge, Munday, and Leon Groves, Benjamin, sold their calves through the sale at the Wichita Falls Junior Beef Show last week. Each brought 40 cents per pound. This was the lowest that any calf sold brought in the sale. Paula's calf placed twelfth in his class which was commendable. Leon and Brad could not show but were eligible for the sale because some exhibitors did not wish to sell. There were 102 steer entered. These were culled down to 60 which sent a world of good steers to the barn. Durwood Lewter, Lubbock, sifted and judged the show this year and did a very thorough and competent job.

Larry Thompson, Munday and Johnnie Cook, Gilliland, had their calves sifted and sold them at the livestock auction.

Release the cotton acreage which you do not intend to plant so you will preserve the allotment history on your farm. It must be filed before March 4. See Jesse Gilpin at the ASCS office today.

A CORRECTION

In last week's paper, I made the statement that either representative of the Social Security or old age assistance would increase their check to the old people in financial district paying their taxes. It is only the old age representative that will assist, not social security.

Sincerely,
L. B. Patterson
