Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by the State Health Department

When the first school bell rings this September there will be 264,783 six-year-old children entering school for the first time in Texas, according to estimated enrollment figures compiled by the Texas Education Agency.

In addition to the million-and-one chores that must be performed in getting the youngster ready for school—new shoes, clothes, health examination—most school districts require proof of age for beginning students. A certified copy of a birth certificate is usually requested.

Anticipating this, the Records and Statistics Section of the Texas State Department of Health is readying itself for the onslaught of requests for such copies that comes pouring in during the middle and late summer.

The problem is, too many parents wait until the last moment before requesting their copy.

Because of this, a temporary increase in staff is necessary. It takes a sizable staff just to open the thousands of letters received daily, let alone search out the requested certificate, remove it from the thick volume, photograph it or make a certified copy, mail it out, and then return the original certificate to its proper place.

Years of experience have eliminated nearly every bottleneck.

The operation is smooth and fast. Usually, the copy is mailed within a day or two after the request is received.

However, one serious bottleneck still exists—persons who insist upon waiting until the last few days before school begins to mail in their request.

In recent years the last-minute rush hasn't been quite so bad, but it is still a serious problem. Requests should be sent in as soon as possible. The State Health Department fee for certificate copies is $1.50.

Certified copies can also be obtained from county clerks and local registrars for a similar fee.

Most important aid for speedy service—aside from getting requests in early—is complete and correct information.

Parents should include the child's name his place of birth, date of birth, and the parents' name (including the mother's maiden name).

Armed with the correct information, a certified copy or birth card will be speeded on its way as quickly as many years of experience and a well-trained staff can send it.

THE LADY OF THE HOUSE ANALYZED

Recent surveys on motivations of American homemakers have answered some intriguing questions. Is she an extravagant housekeeper? Does she want most of the good things in life for herself? Does she settle for merchandise other than the best? The answer to these questions, when she redeems her trading stamps, is a resounding "no".

According to panel members of the Plaid Stamp Homemakers Council, the composite woman they examined thinks of her home and family first. What she accomplishes with her stamp redemptions might prove to be a lesson to government economists.

The panel found that three rooms in the house account for seventy-five percent of the most wanted articles. Bedroom articles lead with thirty-five percent; kitchenware and equipment come next with twenty-five percent, and dining room items follow with fifteen percent, mostly for table accessories.

More often than not bedspreads win over glamorous cashmere sweaters with the lady of the house. She may select dazzling white percale sheets—the number one choice on her list—instead of equally dazzling costume jewelry, and party casseroles in preference to snazzy handbags.

She keeps her family happy and improves her culinary achievements with the stamps she uses for electric mixers and skillets. Chafing dishes and lovely dinner and silverware are selected for regal entertainment.

It is the homemakers insistence on quality merchandise that induces manufacturers to constantly improve their products. The Plaid Stamp Homemakers Council, with its recommendations based on surveys of stamp collectors, conveys the ladies' desires to the producers of the fine products available through stamp plans.

With all the facts compiled, the panel has found the typical woman surveyed is, in brief, smart and practical, unselfish and thrifty, and, they might add, "She sure knows her onions."

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas

Disrespect of Court

Because the stakes are high—a person's life, his good name, his liberty, or his property—courtrooms sometimes become supercharged with drama and anger.

Despite the excitement, the judge has to be impartial and open-minded as to issues, evidence, parties, witnesses and lawyers. To fail in this may cause a case to be tried again or reversed on appeal.

This makes a judge's job a hard one. For he must first keep order so that the facts go to the jury in a way to lead to sound, unprejudiced verdicts. The judge must also instruct the jury on the law, and decide what testimony goes into evidence.

Meantime lawyers on both sides are duty bound to work with skill and vigor to protect their clients and to advance their cause.

In this tense atmosphere some people break over the line and do things which may be termed "foul play" or show disrespect for the court.

When this happens, the judge has "inherent" power—power that grows out of his hard job—to crack down and punish violators for "contempt of court". Within wide limits he can levy fines and give jail sentences on the spot—when the offense takes place before him. He can sometimes do the same for things that take place outside the court—like the disobedience of a court order. But such indirect contempt of court calls for hearings to prove that an offense has been committed.

Judges may fine or give jail sentences to protect the due administration of justice: A juror or a lawyer for being tardy, for impugning the judge's honesty, for a witness to refuse to testify, for improper attempts to influence the jury or the court, for deceiving or taking advantage of the court, making personal attacks on the character and motives of the other side or its lawyer, for appealing to prejudices, and for referring to facts in court not admissible in evidence.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Mrs. H. H. Cowan, Miss Merle Dingus and Henry Dingus returned home on Tuesday night of last week from a visit with their sister, Mrs. M. B. Ireland, and family in Knoxville, Iowa. Miss Nancy Cowan, who had been visiting there the past two weeks, returned home with them.

PROPER INSECT CONTROL

Killing crop insects is a lot like a marriage proposal. A little thought beforehand may prevent a pack of grief afterwards.

Fortunately, farmers can learn from their previous errors in insect control and making the same mistake twice can usually be prevented. And the Texas Department of Agriculture entomologists are under pressure now for some quick answers to our pest problems.

The most common error is spraying the right chemical at the wrong time. Application of pesticides too early or too late in the season has two inevitable results—wasted money and an insect damaged crop. This error can be avoided by checking with your county agent or a Texas Department of Agriculture official—plus following the directions of correct application issued by the chemical company.

There are some insects against which current products on the market offer little defense. The pink bollworm must be controlled primarily by planting and plow up deadlines in Texas. Late planting cuts down the time for a destructive buildup of the bollworm population and a good, early cleanup of the stalks in the field destroys the winter nesting place.

The grasshopper is an annual visitor to Texas crops and can be dealt with effectively most of the time. But some seasons, he gets completely out of hand and emergency measures are necessary. The more we can learn about the causes of the rise and fall in numbers of the grasshopper the better we can forecast and prevent these epidemics and the resultant damage. It is essential that our techniques of survey and identification be rapid, certain, and inexpensive.

This year, keep in touch with the federal and state agricultural people in your area when planning your insect control program. Their recommendations and advice may save you much time, money and effort.

FARM and RANCH Notes
JOE W. DOBY
COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT

Don Rummells, our Extension Entomologist, will be in the county for a series of insect control meetings, Wednesday, July 10. These meetings will be held in the cotton "patch" in different communities of the county. The schedule is as follows: 8 a.m.—Gilliland, meet at the gin; 10:30—Vera, Ted Russell farm; 1:30—Munday, meet at Thompson Hayward Chemicals; 4:30 — Knox City, meet at B. and C. Chemicals.

If you would like to learn more about cotton insect control, make it a point to attend one of these meetings. This is the only time we will have this specialist in the county so take advantage of the opportunity.

I have been finding that overwintered boll weevils are laying eggs in just about any field where they haven't been controlled. Boll weevils can be controlled and don't let anyone tell you otherwise.

To make an accurate check of the amount of damage they are doing, take a walk across the field, pull 50-100 squares at least one-third grown, representing all the field. Do not pull squares that are flared or yellow. Pull some from all parts of the plant. Then divide these squares into two piles, the ones that have been punctured and the ones that have not. If 15-25 per cent of the squares are punctured, then it is time to spray. Then spray at least three times at 4-5 day intervals.

The only time in the boll weevil life that he can be killed with chemicals is in the adult stage. The other stages occur in the square. After the adult emerges, there is a period of five days before the female begins to lay eggs. This is the reason for the 4-5 day interval between sprays. There are a number of good insecticides that can be used to control weevils. All are good when applied at the right time, the correct amount applied and good coverage obtained.

The cotton farmer himself is the one most vitally interested in his crop. He should check his fields regularly. I mean get down on your knees and not try to "windshield it" in your pickup.

County 4-H Rally Day will be held Tuesday, July 16 at the Seymour Park. The 4-H Council is planning a program that will be of interest to all 4-Hers. The Department of Public Safety is having a demonstration with one of their radar units. The event will end with a night party. Make plants to attend.

All 4-H boys in the county are eligible to apply for District Boys' 4-H Camp to be held at Buffalo Gap, July 23-25. This county has a quota of eight boys. Write me a letter telling why you would like to attend this camp. We will have a committee judge the letters and select the eight boys. The letter must be in your own handwriting. Neatness will count in the judging. Cost of camp will be $4, half of which will be paid by the 4-H council.

Another case of screwworms was discovered nine miles Northwest of Munday. I would like to urge all producers to spray their cattle with Co-Ral or Korlan. These materials will control hornflies, screwworms, and grubs. It will pay for itself in pounds of beef to go to the market.

A tour of the Campbell Soup Company plots on the B. E. Smith farm East of Munday will be held Thursday, July 11, at 1:00 p.m. Mr. Charles Chambers, Campbell Soup's supervisor, will be here to talk with farmers interested in growing vegetables for the company. He will explain their contracts and method of handling the crop. The plots of carrots, onions, and tomatoes will be toured. We will meet at James Smith's home for the tour.

Mrs. Edgar Beecher of Dimmitt and Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Bowden and Barbara of Wichita Falls spent the week end here with their father, J. O. Bowden.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Partridge and Joanna visited relatives in Fort Worth over the week end.

Adriano F. DiDomenico is one in a million—or rather, one in two thousand million. Here he receives the $25 U. S. Savings Bond bearing the serial number 2,000,000,000 from Mrs. Kathryn O'Hay Granahan, Treasurer of the United States. Mr. DiDomenico, who lives with his wife and 13-year-old son in Camden, N. J., bought the bond through the Radio Corporation of America's Payroll Savings Plan. It turned up as one of the 10,000 bonds RCA obtains monthly for its Camden payroll savers. In presenting the bond, the Treasurer called it appropriate that the bond with the magic number two billion should be issued during the 1963 Freedom Bond Drive, and that it was bought through the Payroll Savings Plan, which accounts for about half of all E Bond purchases.

Operation Big Program Gets F.H.A. Support

"The Operation BIG Program has the full support of the Farmers Home Administration," was the statement made by L. J. Cappleman, State Director of the FHA, at a recent meeting. He said, "The Farmers Home Administration has out over $50,000,000 in loans to farmers in the 51 counties that make up the Operation BIG area. During fiscal 1963 the FHA has made over 3,000 loans to farmers in this area for a total of over $15,000,000.

"For instance," Mr. Cappleman said, "about 950 farmers who use FHA credit are growing about 100,000 acres in cotton. About 82,000 acres will be fertilized and 99,500 acres will be protected by the insect control program advocated by FHA. They have borrowed $487,000 for fertilizer and $610,000 for insecticides. About 630 of these farmers are growing 32,000 acres of grain sorghum, needing $161,000 for fertilizer. In order for 440 farmers to grow 14,000 acres of wheat, FHA loaned them $67,000 for fertilizer. Over 900 farmers wanted to improve 26,000 acres of old pasture and plant 10,000 acres in coastal bermuda grass so FHA loaned them $205,000 for fertilizer.

"BEEF cattle is a growing farm enterprise in the Operation BIG area and 1,254 farmers with herds of 10 head or over already have 35,000 head. FHA has loaned some 540 farmers $1,552,000 to buy 9,500 head of cows and 326 improved beef bulls." Mr. Cappleman, in commenting on dairying in the 51 counties, said, "FHA is helping 371 dairymen with an average herd of 50 cows. The 1962 average production of these herds was 8,086 pounds of milk per cow." The 1962 estimated Texas state average milk production was 5,610 pounds per cow and this was the highest annual Texas state average of record.

The FHA makes several different type loans such as Farm Ownership, Rural Housing, etc., where the payments are distributed over a period of years; and Mr. Cappleman said, "The balance owed FHA on loans in the BIG area as of December 1962 was about $35,000,000. In addition to the above, the FHA has loaned in 1963 $1,740,000 to 107 farmers to either buy a family farm or enlarge their present small farm. Also 290 persons borrowed $2,812,000 to build rural homes under the Rural Housing Program.

"Water Distribution Loans are making it possible for over 3,200 users to have good water," he said, "as there are 34 of these associations operating in this area and the FHA has loaned them $3,649,000 so they could get this water. The associations have to meet the standards of the Texas Public Health Department."

This amount of money released in this area has helped the overall economy of each community, own, or county as these farmers use this money to pay school taxes, church dues, and spend it with the businessman, merchants, etc., in this area. Reputable authorities have said that a dollar such as this would turn over on an average of five to seven times before leaving a community. This means a 75 to 150 million dollar impact on the economy in this area.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Says Unrest In This Country Is Running Far Deeper Than He Ever Realized

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek reports on a new phase of unrest in the country, his letter this week reveals.

J. A.

Dear editor:
I knew there was unrest in all sections of the nation but I didn't know how deep and how far it had gone until I read a small item in a newspaper last night which a neighbor had wrapped some vegetables in he'd brought me, a favor I'll return if anything ever volunteers to grow in my garden. You can't tell, something might come up on its own.

According to it, a judge in some state, I forget which, fined a lawyer $100 for being 15 minutes late to court.

This is revolutionary. It strikes at the heart of the whole system of jurisprudence. Everything has exploded this summer.

I had thought that if there was any right imbedded in the American system which was completely beyond challenge and incapable of ever being changed, it was the right of a lawyer to never be ready when court opens.

I had thought that the Constitution itself set forth the fundamental principle of law that the more time the lawyers had to prepare, the more likely some lawyer is to argue he's not quite ready and the case should be held over till the next term of court or till next Monday at least or if he can't do any better still 2:30 this afternoon instead of 9 this morning.

But for a judge to fly in the face of history and fine a lawyer $100 for being 15 minutes late in arriving at what likely could be a postponement anyway, only indicates how deep-running the feeling of revolt and overthrow of customs has become. Enforced in all the courts of the land, it could help reduce the national debt.

I tell you, if President Kennedy hears of this, he'll be back at his desk after his European trip realizing this country is seething with more change than he had suspected.

You can fine a prospective juror if he's not sitting in court and sitting and sitting when the time comes to start a case, but the idea that all the lawyers should be ready is so unheard-of and so contrary to tradition that it's practically preposterous.

Believe me, I'll be glad when this summer is over and things can level off.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Activities of The Colored People

By Fannie Mae Johnson

Sunday School was well attended at all churches Sunday.

Rev. Johnson of Haskell attended Mrs. Marie's funeral at West Beulah Baptist Church Sunday at 3:30 p.m. She came from Dallas here over one year ago. Mrs. Marie was in bad health when she moved here. We don't know how many years she suffered, but one thing we are sure of and that is she's through with the suffering in this world and its not our to question the Almighty.

The brotherhood and mission women had a wonderful program Sunday night. Rev. George Wilson bringing the message.

The pastor and members of the Baptist Church of Goree were present. Two obeyed Christ and united with West Beulah. Our hearts were made glad. Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar were also present. We want them to know they are always welcome.

Jerry Richerson of Dallas is here visiting his aunt, Mrs. F. M. Johnson and grandfather, Ollis Johnson. A friend, Billy Bird of Dallas came with him.

Mrs. F. M. Johnson received word that her sister got her home burn down in Malone, Texas.

Ernest Williams and baby daughter of Wichita Falls visit his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Murry, on the week end.
