Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

The interest of Munday fans in football hit a low ebb last Thursday night.

Spirits ran high throughout the Mogul-Chillicothe game until the game was over, with Munday gaining an impressive 50 to 6 victory. It was, perhaps, on the journey home that enthusiasm of local fans began to wane.

You see, they had followed the Moguls through ten games, some which gave them the joyous feeling of victory, but three of them, at least, made spirits sink into depression over losses. The third loss put the Moguls out of the running in the district race.

And this is what kept interest up for local fans—the fact that their favorite Moguls still had a chance until they were downed by Archer City.

And so, it was the homeward trip after the decisive victory over Chillicothe that Munday fans, some of them most ardent, decided to bring the curtain down on the 1963 season. Not even a bi-district or regional game hold much interest for them, since the players were not known to them, etc.

Football from here on out will be confined to television viewing of college games on Saturday and the "pro" games on Sundays. After a full season, it would seem kinda nice to view a game from the favorite reclining chair.

You see, the fans apparently became weary of travel, even as the Moguls became weary of playing and practicing.

And there's not a Mogul, we believe, who can not have a little pride in reviewing the season just closed. Their's is a record not to be ashamed of. Although at times it seemed that district honors were almost within grasp, our boys can hold their heads up in the loss. Third place isn't a bad spot, when you think of two teams in top positions.

An impressive record for the Moguls is the fact that they ran up a total of 322 points this season, while giving up only 85. No team defeated them more than three touchdowns. And as the Moguls put their uniforms in mothballs, thus ending the season, we'd like to add our twobits worth and say we're proud of them all, the way they played and the sportsmanship displayed throughout the year.

We reckon we didn't get an invitation to that $100 a plate fund raising dinner in Austin on Friday night of this week. If we did, we mistook it for "File 13" mail and placed it in that file.

We don't feel the least bit slighted, though, even if some other editors did get the invitation. Perhaps those in charge of sales could pretty well determine the editor with $100 to poop off! We noticed, too, where only 120 of them were available for Democrats of the 23rd Senatorial District.

The dinner will be honoring President and Mrs. John F. Kennedy, Vice President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson and Governor and Mrs. John Connally.

Proceeds from the fund raising dinner will be divided equally, with one half going to the State Democratic Committee to defray campaign expenses of Democratic candidates on the ballot next year, and the other half going to the Democratic National Committee. There are no complimentary tickets.

If we had a hundred bucks we could slip out of our bank account without creating a catastrophe, we could be plumb patriotic and purchase a $100 U. S. Savings Bond and then have $25 left—which would buy a lot of hamburgers!

We guess this is still Indian Summer we're having. At any rate, one couldn't wish for any nicer weather—if we just had enough moisture to go with it. A jacket feels rather comfortable early in the morning, but it's still shirt sleeve weather from mid-morning on.

We guess this is our favorite weather. What's yours?

Everything we've said about the weather above goes double, now that the rain came after it was written.

Whiteside Named District Attorney

Clyde Whiteside, Baylor County attorney since 1955 and former member of the Texas Legislature, was sworn in Tuesday as district attorney of the 50th Judicial District, which includes Baylor, Knox, King, and Cottle Counties. He succeeds A. W. Davis, who resigned the position last September 1 to enter private law practice in the Bryan-College Station area.

Whiteside, a native of Baylor County, was appointed to the office by Gov. John Connally. Administering the oath of office to Whiteside was his former law partner, Judge Isaac O. Newton, retired district judge.

Mr. Whiteside was born in Seymour, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy K. Whiteside. He attended Seymour schools and served in the U. S. Navy for two years before studying law at Baylor University. He received his law degree from Baylor in 1953.

While attending law school, he served in the state legislature as representative from the old 113th district of Haskell, Throckmorton and Baylor Counties. He returned to Seymour in 1953 and entered private law practice with Judge J. Donnell Dickson. In 1955, he was elected county attorney and has served in that office since.

Whiteside is a past president of the Seymour Lions Club and of the North Central Texas Angus Association. He has been active in civic and church work.

His wife is the former Clarice Benton of Nocona.

Since Davis' resignation became effective on September 1, the district has been without an attorney—a period of two and one-half months.

Mr. Whiteside stated Wednesday that he would be a candidate for election to his first regular term in this office in the Democratic primary in May, 1964.

A general rainfall that was made-to-order and brought pleasant smiles to farmers, stockmen and others, visited a wide area of Texas and Oklahoma during Monday night and Tuesday.

It brought improved chances of winter pasture to cattlemen, replenished water reservoirs to some extent and brought general relief from the drought.

The rainfall began locally at about 5:30 p.m. Monday and continued intermittently throughout the night. It was quite general

Children are encouraged to dress up their pets, doll buggies, tricycles, bicycles, wagons, or any other items of ideas they may have, and enter the parade.

Merchants are urged to have their store windows lighted and Christmas items on display.

The merchants are also planning another treasure hunt this year in which every shopper will be given ample time to find the winning packages. A list of the participating merchants will be given next week. Watch for this announcement, since several new ideas are being planned for the treasure hunt.

United Fund Is Short Of Budget

Officials of the 1964 United Fund drive announced Tuesday that the local budget is still short of its goal.

To date, about 73 per cent of the 1964 budget of $5,400 has been raised.

There are still a number of people who have not yet turned in their envelopes or made a contribution to the 1964 fund. These are urged to make their contributions as early as possible so the drive can be brought to a close.

Munday Moguls Close Out Season With 50 to 6 Riot Over Eagles Last Thursday

The Munday Moguls closed out the 1963 football season by giving their fans their money's worth last Thursday night in a wild scoring spree that defeated the Chillicothe Eagles 50 to 6. The game, played on Eagle Field, was witnessed by a big crowd of Mogul fans.

Skip Lane and Pete Alcalá provided the sensational one-two punch that floored the Eagles and gave the Moguls third place in District 11-A play. The Moguls scored in every quarter to rack up the one-sided melee.

Quarterback Lane started the scoring when he recovered a fumble in the Chillicothe end zone on the opening kickoff. He plunged one yard for a second tally, passed 11 yards to Tomlinson for a third and passed to Tomlinson, Terry Leflar and Charles Patterson for two point conversions and carried one over himself for two points.

Alcalá, Munday's fleet-footed back scored on an 18-yard run kickoff return to open the second half. He also passed 11 yards to Dave Tomlinson for a third score.

Munday's final touchdown came on an eight-yard scamper by Larry Thompson.

Chillicothe got on the scoreboard in the closing minutes of the game when Kenneth Smith tallied on a five-yard keeper play.

The story by statistics went like this: First downs: Munday 17, Eagles 6; rushing yardage, Moguls 310, Eagles 106; passing yardage, Munday 44, Eagles 51; Munday completed 4 of 9 and Chillicothe 5 of 17; Passes intercepted, Munday 3, Chillicothe 0; Penalties, Munday 9 for 75, Chillicothe 2 for 20; Punts average, Munday 2 for 31; Chillicothe 3 for 37.

Nation's Cotton Farmers Will Vote On Cotton Quotas For 1964 On December 10

The Cotton quota vote coming up on December 10 will mark the eleventh consecutive year in which growers have voted on marketing quotas for their upland cotton crop. O. E. Moore, Chairman, County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said today.

"Beginning with the referendum on marketing quotas for the 1954 crop, growers have approved quotas for each year's crop," he stated. "In the vote last year, on quotas for the 1963 upland cotton crop, 93.7 per cent of the growers voting approved the quotas."

By law, quotas must be proclaimed by the Secretary of Agriculture in years when the cotton supply exceeds normal. The estimated 1963-64 total supply of upland cotton exceeds the estimated normal supply by 7.8 million bales.

If at least two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum approve quotas for the 1964 upland cotton crop, price support at a level within the range of 65 to 90 per cent of parity will be available to growers who comply with their farm allotments, and marketing quotas penalties will apply to any "excess" cotton on a farm.

If more than one-third of the voters oppose quotas for the 1964 crop, the allotment program will remain in effect, and price support will be available to cooperators at 50 per cent of parity, as provided by law. All farmers who engaged in the production of upland cotton in 1963 are eligible to vote in the December 10 referendum.

LET THE PEOPLE THINK

"The only effective solution" to the decay of the dollar, "is drastically to reduce spending," says the Citizens Foreign Aid Committee, of Washington, D. C., "especially foreign economic aid and military assistance." It adds: "In reducing foreign spending the Administration may exercise exclusive control. It need not plead with anyone; it needs no new restrictive legislation to hamstring business; it need not discourage private investment abroad. The termination of deficit spending will restore confidence in the dollar; it will arrest the flight of gold; it will prevent further dollar decay."

"THE PLACE TO ECONOMIZE"

The danger of steadily boosting federal spending was emphasized repeatedly during House debate on continuing the present $309 billion debt ceiling through November, with another increase to something approaching $320 billion in prospect then.

Representative Herlong (D-Fla.) pointed out that "the place to economize is when the authorization and appropriation bills are before us, not after the fact when the bills come in."
 "I have not voted," he explained, "for those things that made this debt limit as high as it is, and I shall continue to vote against those things that I think are, or will result in, unnecessary government expenditures."

The country sorely needs more legislators who think and act this way.

"AN ABUNDANCE OF PIONEERING"

"If we look backward, we can see that the last of the American physical frontiers has vanished. Gone are the prairie schooners, the great herds of buffalo, the colorful old horse cavalry winding into the sunset. And every so often some practicing cynic sets up a deafening clamor to the effect that the loss of our frontiers has also brought about an accompanying loss of opportunity for the enterprising."

The words are those of Keith Funston, President of the New York Stock Exchange. He made them in a speech soon after he had returned from a trip to the old west. Then he went on to stress his point: "Undoubtedly our last frontier has disappeared, if we interpret the word in only its literal geographic sense. But the word is actually far more inclusive. By definition, a frontier is a region, any region, not yet fully explored and settled. In our contemporary life, it is plain that there is an abundance of pioneering still before us."

Indeed, there never was a time when so much effort, knowledge and skill was given to exploring the unknown—and money too. Last year alone $15 billion was spent on research—100 times the 1940 figure. And research represents pioneering in its highest, most potentially productive aspect.

As for opportunity, it is "... knocking more frequently than ever," in Mr. Funston's view. To take just one example, to qualify for listing on the exchange a corporation must attain considerable size and stature. Nineteen corporations listed this year were incorporated since 1945—and one began in 1957 with only $1,000 of capital.

So it goes—in business, finance, the arts and sciences, in every facet and aspect of human affairs. Never were there so many pioneers—and they seek boundaries our forefathers could not have conceived.

Forty years ago an oil well that went a mile into the ground was considered a deep hole. Now, according to Oil Facts, an oil or gas well must exceed 15,000 feet—nearly three miles—to be considered deep. Such wells are becoming increasingly more common—and more expensive. Last year, for instance, American oilmen drilled 254 deep wells, a record number. Average depth was 17,000 feet, at a cost of $654,000 each, or $38.00 a foot.

A group of University of Chicago scientists report that about 20 per cent of a normal night's sleep is spent dreaming. The time is divided into five or six dreams, with the final one lasting as long as 45 minutes.

From an editorial in Western Pharmacy: "There appears to be no question that some of the features of the new (drug) laws were necessary and desirable, but it is just as certain that others were unnecessary and undesirable. As the foremost example of the success of the free enterprise system, the drug industry is an outstanding target for all the socialist nuts, short-sighted politicians, power-hungry bureaucrats and would-be dictators in the country." It adds that excessively strict regulations are responsible for "... driving research out of the United States and into foreign lands which now have more reasonable laws and governments friendlier to progress in science and business."

A new survey, which covered 63,580 locomotive miles on 713 typical freight and yard trips or tours of duty, says that railroad diesel firemen spent more than 90 per cent of their time in work another man already is doing.

Writing in the New York Times, William D. Smith says: "If mom doesn't have to ration dad to one spoonful of sugar in his cup of coffee next year a large part of the credit will go to the nation's sugar-beet farmers." It is believed that world sugar production will fall below consumption—while the American beet farmer will produce a record crop.

Gas, one of the oldest energy sources, has undergone such growth in recent years that it now provides 29 per cent of the nation's energy requirements.

According to Tom Henry in This Week magazine, it costs the United States $500,000 a day to store the six billion dollars worth of wheat, corn, cotton, butter, skim milk, and other farm surpluses.

In recommendations to the President's permanent Advisory Commission on Narcotics and Drug Abuse, the American Medical Association and the National Academy of Sciences urge that medical considerations take precedence over punitive measures in treatment of addicts.

4-H State Award Winners Gain Club Congress Trip

A 16-year-old girl who has known heartbreak and three other Texas teen-agers are part of the Texas delegation to the 42nd National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago held the first week after Thanksgiving.

The four, awarded expense-paid trips as state winners, are Donna Doughty, 16, of Roanoke; Monty Blakemore, 18, of Celeste; Walter McCullough, 15, of Comanche, and Sandra White, 17, of Greenville, poultry.

Miss Doughty, the dairy winner, said she was heartbroken when five of her prize-winning dairy cattle were killed in a fire that destroyed the family's calf barn.

Before the barn fire, Miss Doughty had won 256 ribbons, four plaques, four trophies and 15 certificates in dairy competition. She is now trying to rebuild a registered Holstein dairy herd.

Oliver Corporation is sponsoring her trip. She got her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. (Jack) Doughty, so interested in dairying that her father quit the auto business and started a dairy. He has since closed it because of ill health.

Blakemore, the safety winner, developed a respect for safety after he was involved in two accidents. At the age of 10 he suffered a broken arm when a tractor he was cranking by hand "kicked" the crank as it started up.

Two years ago he was shaken up when another car rammed into one driven by his mother as she was turning into the family driveway.

Blakemore, the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Blakemore, is the guest in Chicago of General Motors. He took samples of his hometown's water supply to assist municipal officials in a rural community improvement contest.

McCullough, the garden winner, has carried on a special 4-H project in growing experimental tomatoes for the last four years.

Seed is provided by the Texas A&M University experimental farm. Several new varieties of tomatoes have been introduced

He won first place in vegetable production and marketing at the 1963 4-H Roundup at A&M. He was both grand champion and reserve champion of the Comanche County Tomato Show last year.

The Farm Equipment Division, Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Company, is sponsor of his Chicago trip. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gayle McCullough.

Miss White, the poultry winner, is the guest of Heisdorf & Nelson Farms, Inc. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. White.

Miss White has netted $1,260 profit on her project and has raised 723 chickens. She has won the Hunt County 4-H poultry award four times. Last year she won first place in state competition in poultry methods demonstration, and fifth in poultry marketing.

One of the objectives of the poultry project is to improve a club member's knowledge of grading, marketing and merchandising of poultry and poultry products.

The four winners were selected by the Cooperative Extension Service.

thorough destruction of the stalks help destroy winter hibernation places for insects, especially the pink bollworm and the boll weevil.

Cultural practices and insecticides make an almost unbeatable team in minimizing crop losses to insects, White said. But each one is an aid to the other. Neither one alone will do as effective a job as the team.

Insecticide costs can be cut to some extent when used in connection with proper cultural controls, he added. Stalk destruction achieves a good kill over the winter and lighter emergence of insects in the spring.

White said it was a misconception to think that modern chemicals had replaced the necessity for mechanical means of insect control. "There is no such thing as 'push button warfare' against crop pest," he declared. "You still have to do field work in addition to spraying."

November Plentiful Foods

Turkeys and cranberries head the list of plentiful foods available at a good price for the month of November. U.S.D.A. officials say an abundant supply of these commodities — coming at the Thanksgiving holiday season—will be attractive bargains for the U.S. housewife.

Also featured on the plentiful foods list are apples, grapes, potatoes and Maine sardines.

The April, May and June report I had made and put on the Commissioner's table is still there and not accepted. The July, August, and September report is still on the Commissioner's desk and has not been accepted.

See Articles 1634 and 1636 for Treasurer's accounts.

When the first two reports were rejected I asked for the State Auditor to be called in and check the reports to see if they were correct, to which I was refused to get. An auditor was called in from Abilene to check the reports (an auditor to which I did not agree to). The auditor from Abilene came to the Treasurer's office and got the register and bank statements and said he was going to audit the first two reports. The auditor kept the books about three hours and brought them back and said he was not going to do any work at the present time. In a short time I received warrant No. 1534 for $1,500.00 to which I wrote a check No. 1070 and mailed it to the Auditor at Abilene.

In a few days the auditor came back and said he was going to do some auditing and made out two quarterly reports to which the Court accepted and had printed in the papers.

I believe the reports that I have made out of the transactions of the three quarters of this year are true and correct. All of the reports check out with the bank statements.

If in any doubt about this statement, please come in and check the Treasurer's books and the Court minutes in the County Clerk's office.

Respectfully,
Ed Thompson

Importance Of Cultural Practices In Insect Control

"Don't depend upon insecticides alone for good insect control," according to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

"Insecticides are a wonderful and almost indispensable aid in the fight against pest—but they do not replace the necessity of good cultural practices," he added.

Cotton farmers especially should make every effort to clean their fields after harvest, the Commissioner pointed out. A

Friends Of The Court

Our system of justice rests upon the "adversary" theory of a trial where both sides have a right and duty to fight in dead earnest for real stakes so that the court can then better judge the merits of the case.

Our U. S. Supreme Court, for example, will not give an "advisory" opinion to anybody since such opinions elsewhere, often uncontested, make a mockery of the courts.

Our courts generally will decide a point of fact or law only

Erect Marker at Farm Birthplace of Henry Ford

On the Centennial of Henry Ford's birth, a simple marker was dedicated at the southern Michigan crossroads where he was born in a farmhouse on July 30, 1863. Taking part in ceremonies were (left to right): Mrs. George W. Romney, wife of Michigan's governor; Henry Ford II, chairman of the board, Ford Motor Company and grandson of the company founder, and Mary Jane McKenzie, 17-year-old representative of Dearborn school children who contributed nearly $1,500 for the marker. It stands at Greenfield and Ford roads in Dearborn, Mich. The farmhouse (lower photo) was moved in 1944 to nearby Greenfield Village, the museum of Americana founded by Mr. Ford.

Patrolman Lists Safety Measures

Mr. Motorist, have you noticed in the last few weeks that the shadows of darkness are creeping upon you much earlier than they did during the summer months? Sgt. Frank Jircik stated that October is the first of the three months in which hours of darkness are much longer than those of other months of the year. If these three months fol-citizens, publishers, and religious groups—get interested. They too have a stake in getting the "right" decision. The case lands in the U. S. Supreme Court. A dozen or more groups will ask the court to let them present "briefs" or amicus curiae arguments on both sides. Result: the court says no government can curb these freedoms.

Thus are great causes ably presented.

Who gains? Justice gains. The more cogent and earnest the discussion a court hears, the more likely in the long run it is to hand down sound opinions.

low true to form as they have over the past years, it will mean more traffic accidents.

A survey was made comparing the number of accidents occurring during the months of October, November and December of the past three years to the three months in which occurred the greatest number of accidents out of the other nine months during this three year period. The results were 20,000 more accidents occurred in October, November and December.

The veteran patrol supervisor listed some laws and procedures for night driving: (1) Turn on your low beam headlights before dusk. The law requires headlights burning from one half hour after sunset to one half hour before sunrise, and during daytime when a person or vehicle cannot be seen 500 feet away. (2) The law requires you to keep headlights on low beam when you approach oncoming vehicle within 500 feet and when you are following a vehicle within 200 feet. (3) Do not overdrive your headlights. Good visibility on high beam may vary from 250 to 300 feet. (4) If blinded by oncoming lights, ease off the accelerator and glance along the right edge of the pavement across the hood to be sure you keep in your lane. (5) Watch shoulder of highway for cyclists, pedestrians or animals, and (6) Do not wear sunglasses at night, at dusk or in daytime when visibility is low.

For outstanding success in telling the U.S. Savings Bond story, the United States Treasury Department is pleased to award this special citation:

CHEVROLET

Which type Chevrolet pickup do you need?

Chevrolet now makes four different types, each with its own distinct advantages. Whichever one you buy will be a lot more truck than your money bought the last time!

FLEETSIDE. Based on sales, the best liked pickup in the world. Outstanding feature is its large body extending clear out over the wheels. Two body sizes. Two wheel-bases. Best riding truck by far, with coil springs all around and independent front suspension. Cab and body have double-wall construction. Chevrolet Fleetside—best for all-around use.

STEPSIDE. Has flat interior body walls and convenient side steps between cab and rear fenders. Comes in same two sizes as the Fleetside plus one bigger size. Big model has heavier frame, 4-speed transmission and leaf-spring rear suspension for maximum payloads. Standard engine is 230-cu.-in. Six. A 292 Six or 283 V8 is available at extra cost.

RAMP-SIDE. Nobody else makes a pickup exactly like this one with a ramp at the side. The ramp makes loading easy because of its 16-inch rise. Truck also has a conventional tailgate. Body and frame-floor assembly are very rigid because they are welded together. Has larger 95-hp air-cooled engine this year. Independent coil spring suspension all around.

EL CAMINO. If you want a pickup as good looking as any car on the road, this is the one! It can work hard, and look like a million dollars doing it—the only pickup in the world with Body by Fisher! You can order an El Camino as plain or as fancy as you wish: bucket seats, air conditioning, 4-speed transmission, power brakes are some of its extra-cost options.

For years, this great Texas newspaper has given your government free space in which to advertise U.S. Savings Bonds. You have seen the ads. Lately, their message has been Keep Freedom in Your Future with U.S. Savings Bonds. These ads have sold an impressive number of bonds in Texas. And they have helped, and are now helping, your government defend freedom at a moment in history when freedom urgently needs defending.

"The Munday Times has earned the gratitude of the people of Texas," says Ed Gossett, Chairman of the Texas Savings Bonds Committee. "When you buy U.S. Savings Bonds, you serve well the cause of liberty. You enable your country to build up her defenses without doing damage to her economy. Mrs. Carol Kay Angood And E. M. (Bill) Billingsley Are Married In Dallas Rites

MRS. E. M. (BILL) BILLINGSLEY

Double ring vows were exchanged by Carol Kay Angood and E. M. (Bill) Billingsley of Amarillo on Friday, November 8 at 4:30 in the afternoon at the Plymouth Park Methodist Church in Dallas, with the Rev. Ben Marshall solemnizing the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Floyd Ayres Stewart of Kansas City, Mo., and the late Hazel Stewart. Mr. Billingsley is the son of Mrs. Jane Billingsley of Graham, formerly of Munday, and the late Judge M. F. Billingsley.

The altar featured pink roses and a large open Bible flanked by lighted white tapers in gold candlesticks. A large gold lighted cross was placed above the altar. For the ceremony, the bride appeared in a Christian Dior dress and jacket ensemble featuring a street length dress of sleeveless blue and silver metallic spun silk designed with a bateau neckline dipping to a deep V-line in back, and enhanced by rounded side slits on each side of the skirt, and a jacket, marked by three quarter length sleeves and a round neckline, in heavy brocade embroidered in a lavender and pink rose design encrusted with gold metallic accent handiwork. Her accessories were matching blue satin pumps trimmed with rhinestone clips, and short blue three button gloves. Jewelry consisted of small white crystal, pink and gold earrings. A pink orchid corsage completed her costume.

Best man and matron of honor were Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow W. (Woody) Cowan of Dallas. Mrs. Cowan chose a black faille sheath street length dress with cap sleeves and a wide, scoop neckline dipping to a deep V-line filled in front with white faille. Accessories were of apple red patent. Her corsage was of white carnations.

The bridegroom and best man were attired in dark suits and white carnation boutonniere.

Following the ceremony, the couple were feted at a small reception at the Cowan home in a poolside-garden patio setting.

After a honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Billingsley will reside in Amarillo where the bridegroom is business manager of Fairmart, Inc., a chain of furniture and carpet stores serving a five state area in the South. Mrs. Billingsley resigned recently from The Nancy Taylor Finishing School and Modeling Studio at Draughon's Business College where she was an instructor.

Mr. and Mrs. John Michels returned home the first of this week from El Paso, where they had been visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Smith.

Mrs. Carl Gage of Granbury visited her son and family, Dr. and Mrs. Tommy Gage and children, last Tuesday.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Figures Out A Good Way For Congress To Vote Itself A Raise Without Losing Out

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek tries to help Congress with a ticklish problem this week.

J. A.

Dear editor:
While I have never been able to work out a plan whereby both football teams can win the same game and nobody leaves the stadium broken-hearted, I haven't given up, and to rest my mind from the problem I have been working on an idea where Congress can vote itself a raise without getting beat.

As I understand it, there's a move on to increase the salaries of numerous government officials, on the grounds you have to pay them about as much as they could make in private life or they'll quit and we'll have to take on second-rate people, although this doesn't always work out that way. For example, I've heard it argued that if we increase the pay of state legislators, say, we'll get a better quality of men, but whenever a state does, it seems to me the same men turn up running again.

At any rate, in the Washington salary problem, there's a proposal to increase Congressmen and Senators' pay by $10,000 a year, and a lot of the members go along with this, except for one thing. While they figure they're worth $10,000 a year more than the $22,000 they're getting now, they'd rather have the $22,000 than nothing, which is what they're afraid they'd get if they voted themselves a raise and got voted out of office. On the other hand, a $10,000 raise sure looks tempting.

They might have to change the rules a little, but I have worked out a plan where they can swing it.

Let the Senate vote the House a raise. Every member of the House can then rise to oratorical heights and denounce this as a gross waste of taxes and send copies of the speeches back home. The Senate though should remain firm and ramrod the raise through. Then the House could vote the Senate a raise, and every member of the Senate could make a speech against it for home consumption.

There's more than one way to skin a cat.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

toothpaste field is the fluoride dentifrice. Evidence proving its effectiveness is limited.

In the final analysis, no dentifrice provides a panacea for the continuing problem of tooth decay. A product may be developed one day by researchers which will have a built-in biological or therapeutic cation. Even then, the teeth must be brushed frequently and well to cleanse them.

Timing is the essence in combatting tooth decay. Dentists emphasize that teeth should be brushed after each meal and each snack.

The secret of proper tooth-brushing, they point out, is thoroughly cleaning teeth as often as you get them dirty. Watch what you're doing in the mirror; don't rely completely on "feel."

And when you're through brushing, store the toothbrush in a light airy place so that bristles are allowed to dry and regain their original stiffness.

Whatever powder or paste aid you use, remember, nothing substitutes for brushing your teeth with elbow grease. And if you are unable to brush your teeth after eating, rinse your mouth with water.

Memphis wins new Textile Plant

Today, because of aggressive leadership, this Texas Panhandle town boasts an active new textile plant making sheets for national distribution. What is more important, the plant's parent company is the world's largest manufacturer of textiles using all known fibers.

This new industry is the Hall Plant of Postex Cotton Mills, a unit of Burlington Industries, Inc. It is designed to have in excess of 100 employees, mostly women, and is an important addition to the economy of this 3500 population community. It is another reason we say big things are happening in General Telephone towns.

These towns are on the move. Community improvements are under way, local resources are being developed, new businesses, new industries are coming in. If your town seeks additional information about expansion, perhaps we can help. Just write our Community Development Department, Box 1001, San Angelo, Texas.

JOE W. DOBY
COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT

The Knox County Program Building Committee met Thursday morning, November 14, in the P. C. A. building at Munday. H. H. Partridge presided over the meeting. Members present were Ancel Waldrip, Knox City; Jesse George Smith, Munday; Mrs. Arnold Navratil, Mrs. J. T. Cook, Mrs. Homer Martin, Gilliland; Mrs. R. M. Almanrode, Mrs. Roden, Munday; Mrs. Clyde Beck, Vera.

The purpose of the meeting was to hear reports of all sub-committees, and offer further suggestions for next year's program. Short courses being planned were all approved.

The Committee recommended that educational program under the Manpower and Development Training Act of 1952, be checked into with the possibility of establishing such a school in the county.

The committee also recommended that the medical self-help program be offered to people in the County. This is a course of 11 lessons taught on the premise that after a nuclear attack, doctors would not be available. People would then have to do the best they could under the circumstances.

The committee also recommended that the number of sub-committees be reduced. The agriculture committees will be—field crops, livestock and range management. There will be civil defense and 4-H, plus the home economics committees.

The agents are gratified to see the results of cooperative effort on the part of the program building committee. It is only through the help of people such as these that changes can be made toward a more productive agriculture.

Cotton Vote Choices Defined

Just what a "yes" or a "no" vote will mean in the December 10 referendum on cotton marketing quotas was explained today by O. E. Moore, Chairman, County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. All farmers who engaged in the production of upland cotton in 1963

Holiday Fashion

CHRISTMAS COIFFURE will add new gay glamor to the scene this year. Wig and Yule tree ornaments of many hues are combined in the merry hairdo. The "metalized" ornaments are a new shatterproof invention permitting merrily to dance without fear of undue breakage. Also flameproof, weatherproof and non toxic (a baby can safely bite them) they are called the greatest innovation in safe and sane Christmas tree decoration since candles went out in favor of electric lights.

are eligible to vote in the referendum.

1. If at least two-thirds of the growers who vote in the referendum approve of quotas, then the quotas will be in effect for the 1964 upland cotton crop, marketing penalties will apply to any 'excess' cotton produced on a farm, and price support at a level within the range of 65 to 90 per cent of parity will be available to farmers who comply with their farm acreage allotments.

2. On the other hand, if more than one-third of the growers who vote oppose the quotas, then there will be no quotas and no penalties applicable to the 1964 upland cotton crop, and price support to farmers who comply with their farm acreage allotments will be available at 50 per cent of parity, as directed by law. Allotments are not affected by the outcome of the balloting. They will remain in effect—whether or not quotas are approved—as a means of determining eligibility for the available price support.

Mr. Moore pointed out that, while the Secretary of Agriculture is directed by law to proclaim quotas for the next crop when the total cotton supply exceeds normal, it is the growers themselves who decide whether or not quotas shall be used. Previous votes on the subject have been outstandingly favorable. Marketing quotas for the 1963 upland cotton crop were approved by 93.7 per cent of the growers voting.

Allotments for individual farms will be made available to growers within the next few weeks so that farmers may have the information prior to the December 10 referendum.

Sunday guests of Miss Myrtle Jetton were Mrs. George Cotton, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Jetton and Lynell, Miss Robbie Cooke and Mr. and Mrs. Vernice Lambeth and Rhonda all of Goree and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Jetton of Munday.
