Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

People notice a lot of things, good or bad, about our town.

k-k
They notice for months how dirty the town's streets had become, and they've noticed how they've been kept a lot cleaner during recent weeks. Although done by the hand and broom and shovel method, a lot of improvement has been shown.

k-k
They can't help but notice the flooded conditions around the post office when we have as much as a half-inch of rain. Practically everyone knew of this likely condition before the new post office was built. Due to poor drainage conditions, we don't know how this problem can be remedied, economically or otherwise.

k-k
Mr. Nuel I. Childs, who taught the public relations training course here some two weeks ago, noticed the excellent little public library we have in Munday. He expressed surprise at finding a public library in our town as active as the City-County Library.

k-k
Mr. Childs cited many reasons why this is an asset to any community. He expressed to the Chamber of Commerce board of directors that any progressive town should have an adequate and active library.

k-k
They notice, too, what conditions we keep our private properties in—our store fronts, our back alleys, our home premises. That's one reason we have an annual spring cleanup campaign, so we, the people, can take inventory of our premises and clean them up for the summer months.

k-k
Some people sort of make it a business to notice the fire hazards in our town, sometimes calling our attention to them so they can be corrected. Trouble is that most of us correct them just this once, then neglect them the remainder of the year.

k-k
A male visitor to our town, if in need of public rest room facilities, would surely notice the deplorable condition of the men's rest room at the city hall. There must be some reason—and we haven't sought to find out—why this condition has been allowed to exist this long, but in our opinion it is long since past time it should be corrected.

k-k
We noticed in the newspapers recently that Texas is planning a big formal welcome for President John F. Kennedy and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson with a $100-a-plate dinner at Austin's municipal auditorium. If we had that kind of money, we spend it on rehabilitating the grass on our front lawn, rather than eat a $1.50 plate and listen to a lot of political pow-wow. To us there's no person, national or international, regardless of political party who is worth that much money for us to eat in the same room with and listen to.

k-k
At a press meeting once, we attended a dinner at which Richard Nixon, then vice-president, spoke, and this because it was on the agenda. Guest plates were $10 each, and we could have easily invited two guests, but decided it wasn't worth it. This Austin affair is ten times that much.

k-k
Noticed that the experiment station at Lubbock is trying to determine if the boll weevils can survive on the High Plains. Some 50,000 weevils in cages have been placed above and below the Caprock in the area where infestations were heaviest, and studies will be made of them. We wonder, too, if the boll weevil can survive longer than the cotton farmer!

k-k
Barton Carl, on a recent trip to market in Dallas, said he noticed that merchants who had come there from far and wide were complaining about the drought and poor business conditions. He concluded that the situation was not local, by any means.

k-k
Sometime when you're just meandering around with nothing particular to do—take time to notice. You'll be surprised at the things or conditions going on practically unnoticed!

k-k
Saturday, we vote on the constitutional amendments. In order to insure a heavier vote, maybe we should do like they did in a municipal election at Charles City, Iowa—offer a half-pound of bacon with each vote!

Fletcher Wren, Early Pioneer, Dies Wednesday

Fletcher F. Wren, 89, retired carpenter and resident of Munday for more than 60 years, passed away at 10 p.m. Wednesday, October 30, in the Haskell Convalescent Home. He had been seriously ill for about 10 days.

Mr. Wren was born November 19, 1873, in Purdue, Miss., and came to Munday in 1900. He married Inez Tankersley on July 2, 1892, and she preceded him in death in 1914. He married Martha Wilson in 1915. She preceded him in death in 1949.

An old-time "fiddler," Mr. Wren used to play his violin for community get-togethers in the early days.

Funeral services were held at 3 p.m. Friday from the First Baptist Church in Munday with the pastor, Rev. John Street, officiating. He was assisted by Rev. Rex L. Mauldin, pastor of the Munday Methodist Church.

Moguls Facing Crucial Test On Friday Night

The last home game of the season, against the Archer City Wildcats on Friday night of this week, will be the most crucial test thus far for the Munday Moguls. They will be fighting to stay in the district running, and this will be determined by the outcome of this game.

The Wildcats are sharing top position in District 11-A with Henrietta with 40 district records. Munday, beaten only by the Bears, can stay in the running or become eliminated by a loss.

Archer City and Henrietta hope to enter the final round with perfect records in the league. Both are favored this week—Henrietta at Crowell by two touchdowns, and Archer City by one. The Moguls, working on a three-game winning streak, hope to down those hopes for the Wildcats.

This fanatical effort by the Moguls will be witnessed by many interested fans over the area.

Thus far in season's play, the Moguls have racked up a total of 276 points, while giving 52 to their opponents. The Wildcats' record is 215 to 68.

If the Moguls win, there is a possibility of a three-way tie for district honors, since the Wildcats have yet to meet Henrietta on November 15.

Dr. Burton To Preach Sunday

Rev. John Street, pastor, announced Tuesday that Dr. Joe Burton of Nashville, Tenn., a leader in the Baptist denomination, will fill the pulpit at the First Baptist Church at the morning service next Sunday.

He was ordained in the local church in the late 1920's, and for the past 17 years has been editor of Home Life Magazine in Nashville. He is author of books on religious and home life. One of his latest visits to his home town of Munday was in January, 1957, when he served as evangelist in a revival meeting at the local church.

The public is invited to the service Sunday to hear Dr. Burton.

"What is it?" or "I'll take it!" could be the comments overheard at the November Dallas Antiques Fair, when dealers from all over the country bring in their wares for the big show and sale. Moffett Comments On Amendment Four

By Sen. George Moffett

At the state-wide election on November 9, 1963, one of the four questions to be passed upon by Texas voters is Amendment No. 4, which extends the Veterans Land Purchasing Program for four more years. This program has proven to be highly successful. Over 30,000 Texas veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict have already purchased land under its terms. Some Veterans have already paid out their land and sold it at a profit. In some cases, oil has been discovered on the land purchased by veterans. In other words the program has been successful, except for a brief period in the early part of the program when the misconduct of the then Commissioner of the Land Office put a temporary shadow on the program. However the losses caused by the improper conduct of the Land Commissioner at that time, have been made up through repayment by him and through the resale at a profit of the land involved in the irregular handling of the program by him.

The state borrows money by selling bonds and then lends the money to land buying veterans at a slightly higher rate of interest. This difference in the interest rate brings in enough to pay the expense of the program and to take care of any losses which may occur. The tax payers of this state have not been out any money on account of the Veterans Land Program, and there is no reason to think that they will be.

Based upon the successful operation of this program it is hoped that on November 9, 1963 that Texas voters will approve Amendment No. 4, and thereby extend the Veterans Land Program for four more years. Since the program provides a way for veterans to buy land on a sound basis without cost to the tax payers, it is clearly a desirable program and deserves your support.

Local Man On W.T.C.'s Recent Feedlot Tour

M. L. Wiggins, vice-president of the First National Bank of Munday, was among the 180 people who made the cattle feeding tour last week which was sponsored by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. He was the only representative from Knox County.

The group included bankers, Production Credit Association managers, representatives of utilities firms, ranchers and cattlemen.

On the three-day tour, Monday through Wednesday of last week, the group visited commercial feed lots at Lubbock, Clovis, N. M., Amarillo and other points, and saw at least 175,000 cattle being fed out.

Wiggins said some of the feeders were equipped for handling 26,000 or more cattle at one time. He said the tour was most interesting and informational.

Firemen To Sponsor Goodfellow Drive

Members of the Munday Volunteer Fire Department have announced that they will again sponsor the Goodfellow movement this Christmas, supplying food and needed articles to needy families of the area.

"What we need," the fireboys said, "is contributions of money to purchase the articles needed. Last year, we received good response from churches, civic clubs and individuals, and we ask your cooperation with us again this year."

It's not too early to begin planning. If you will furnish the financial assistance, the firemen will furnish the manpower to get the job done.

Alcala Leads Moguls To Victory Of 26 to 6 Over Crowell Wildcats Friday

Pete Alcala, one of the top scorers in the district, ran for three touchdowns at Crowell last Friday night to lead his Munday Moguls to a 26 to 6 triumph over the Crowell Wildcats. Alcala made one brilliant 96-yard gallop, and rushed for a total of 163 yards during the game.

For a time in the third quarter, it appeared that the Wildcats were going to make a real race of the contest. During this period Mike Shrode, Wildcat end, grabbed a pass to set up Crowell's lone tally, intercepted a Mogul pass deep in Munday territory and almost scored on another pass.

Four Amendments To Be Voted On Next Saturday

Voters of Texas will go to the polls next Saturday and decide whether or not to adopt four amendments to the state constitution.

Most controversial of the four is No. 1, which deals with repeal of the poll tax as a requirement for voting. Another of interest is No. 4, which would increase the Vetrean's Land Fund. Briefly, the amendments are as follows:

No. 1 on the ballot: Provides for the repeal of the provision making payment of the poll tax a requirement for voting and authorizing the Legislature to provide for the registration of all voters.

No. 2: Provides for assistance payments to the (1) needy aged, (2) needy individuals who are permanently and totally disabled, (3) needy blind and (4) needy children; authorizing the Legislature to set up residence requirements for eligibility, etc.

No. 3: Provides for the addition to the Constitution to authorize all political subdivisions within Jefferson County, after approval of the voters, a retirement, disability and death compensation fund for all appointive officers and employees.

No. 4: Provides for the increase of the Veteran's Land Fund by 350 million dollars to be used for the purpose of purchasing land in Texas to be sold to Texas veterans who have served in the armed forces between September 16, 1940, and March 31, 1955.

run came on the first play of the fourth quarter after the Moguls had stopped a Crowell threat on the 4-yard line. He took a hand-off on a cross buck, shrugged off two secondary defenders and then raced all alone for the marker.

The run for two points failed, and Munday took a 20 to 6 lead.

Munday had scored twice during the first half, these being set up by Wildcat fumbles.

The first one by Mike Payne was recovered by the Moguls on the Crowell 33. Fine line plunges by Alcala and a five-yard penalty moved the ball to the one-yard line, and Alcala blasted over left tackle for the score. Alcala's run for two points failed, as the clock showed one second left in the first quarter.

After an exchange of downs, Alcala got off a 49-yard punt to the Crowell 5, where the Wildcats took over. A 15-yard penalty moved the ball to the 20, then Adkins fumbled on a line plunge and the Moguls again recovered. Three plays later, Alcala went over for the second tally. Lane ran a keeper for the two extra points.

Crowell's deepest first-half penetration came late in the second period when the Wildcats went to the Mogul 8 after recovering a fumble by Lane on the Mogul 42. The Moguls' stiff defense met the situation, pushing the Wildcats back to the 20 and taking over on downs.

Crowell's lone tally came as the Wildcats took the second half kickoff and marched for 70 yards. Larry Henry's pass to Shrode was the longest gainer of the drive. Quarterback Randy Adkins took the ball around right end form one yard out to score, and the run for extra point failed.

The large crowd of Mogul fans who attended the game proclaimed this one of the most thrilling of the season.

REASON—NOT HYSTERIA

The deep—and sometimes bitter—controversy over the use of pesticides in agriculture, led Louis A. McLean, Secretary of the Velsicol Chemical Corporation, to make a survey and summing up of the pros and cons. It is based on scientific sources of the most reliable nature. And it effectively refutes numbers of the antipesticide arguments now making the rounds. It finds that many of these are not supported by evidence, that others are fallible, and that the estimates of damage done to food and wildlife and other natural resources are, in many instances, unsupported and exaggerated.

Mr. McLean is no enemy of suitable precautions against misuse of pesticides, which can present very real dangers. But he does seek to establish the facts, as against rumors and prejudices. And the substance of the case for pesticides is found in the words of Dr. Robert E. Gosselin of the Dartmouth Medical School, one of the many top authorities cited by Mr. McLean: "Never before has a society produced so many biologically active chemicals and integrated them so fully into its economy and its culture. The services for which we are indebted to the economic poisons are many and undeniable. . . . The threat of chronic injury from cumulative exposure has been materially reduced by legislation which prohibits pesticides residues on agricultural commodities in excess of conservatively prescribed limits. Any remaining risk of chronic poisoning is remote and justified by all the benefits and society derives from the use of these materials. The safety issue can never be settled by polemics or by fiat. In the ultimate analysis the good health of our farmers and the wholesomeness of our food supply can be guaranteed only by a scientific community that stays alert."

This is no small issue, in that adequacy as well as the wholesomeness of our future food supply is directly related to it. The need is to approach the problem with reason—not hysteria.

WILLIAMSTOWN, KY., NEWS: "It was recently pointed out that one in every sixty Americans now achieves his home in the form of federal government public housing. This is in addition to the many aids provided by the federal government in helping keep mortgages inexpensive and to enable the private citizen to obtain his own home by private, long-term payments. One planning consultant, Carl Feiss, of Washington, puts his fears this way: You're getting into a situation in which public housing children will themselves get married, live in public housing, and raise children in public housing, and you'll get a new kind of 'dependence' society."

CLAYTON, N. M., LEADER: "The bureaucrats and their politician 'Boy Fridays,' are increasingly resentful, and almost invariably present a 'who dares to criticize Caesar?' attitude when confronted with the growing groundswell of unfavorable public opinion resulting from their usurping powers never intended under the American constitution. Any individual or organization who sticks a thorn in the sensitive hide of the usurpers is subjected to ridicule or implied association with political action groups, and if these fail his or her character is assailed. Objections to their omnipotence could only originate from extremists, ultra-rightists or the 'lunatic fringe.'"

A COMMENTARY

The action of the Senate in approving the treaty banning nuclear tests in the atmosphere was, in its way, a grimly vivid commentary on the world we live in.

The favorable vote, 80 to 19, was much larger than the required two-thirds majority. But there was little exultation, little feeling that a really long step toward world peace had been taken. It is fair to say that most of those voting for the treaty, Democrats and Republicans alike, did so with reservations. And the President, in his eloquent message urging approval, made it clear that no millennium is to be expected.

Why, then, was this treaty approved, and without amendment? The answers are several. World opinion of peoples everywhere was certainly an element. So was the feeling that any measure of control over nuclear weapons is much better than none. An overriding consideration was that the admitted risks in the agreement will prove to be outweighed by possible gains. And, finally, a question of U. S. world prestige and leadership was at stake.

Beyond all this, the fact remains that the Soviets have violated solemn treaties directly, or by subterfuge. It is this that must be watched with infinite care in the present case, and the President has promised that it will be done. We, along with more than 100 other nations, now have the treaty and the hopes that go with it. Will they be fulfilled?

Max Lerner, a well known liberal commentator, writes in Look: "Up to now, the American liberal has not questioned the moral right of a union to use whatever power it can muster to protect its men against the greater wealth and power of the corporations. It has made sense to believe in unions because they have helped the worker to organize, to bargain collectively, to increase his wages and control his job conditions. . . ."

"But the liberal today is going through a crisis of conviction in his attitude toward strikes. A new social realism makes him ask whether the paralyzing power exerted by a few unions is good for society as a whole."

FARM and RANCH Notes

JOE W. DOBY
 COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT

I spent an interesting day last Friday at the Spur Experiment Station, or I should call it the Livestock Research Station, as it has recently been renamed. The change in name came about as a result of reorganizing experiment stations over the state.

There were about a half dozen farmers and ranchers from Knox County in the crowd of about 250 people.

We observed some of the oldest research work anywhere on soil and water conservation. This work was started in 1927 on the station and deals with the effect of conservation practices such as terraces, rows on contour and rows running with the slope. The runoff in inches ranged from none with the terraced and contoured land to 2.75 where the rows ran with the slope.

Another experiment on water conservation started in 1958 with the construction of bench terraces. Borders were constructed about 15 inches high at either 8 or 16 row intervals so all the water which fell remained on the land. The benches have received rains of over 6 inches in a 72 hour period without breaking the borders. The cotton was never damaged by the standing water.

The brush control boys informed us that one thing they are working on is the use of inert emulsions in sprays for the control of brush. These are substances which cause the spray to look like salad dressing. The idea is to cut down on drift onto susceptible crops.

Two more things which were stressed by research work was the proper defoliation and grazing management of sprayed brush to obtain the maximum return from the control.

An experiment, which has as its purpose, a study of the effects of three levels of energy fed to cows in the winter, produced some work that is more interesting than the original. This is Paul Marion's beef cows in confinement being fed silage and different levels of energy. The cows in drylot have just weaned their fourth calf and are making about the same profit as those on pasture. This work offers a good possibility for someone with limited pasture and able to raise feed for silage. It sure offers an excellent opportunity for performance testing of the cows.

Paul Marion and his staff are to be commended for the excellent job of work they are doing on this station. Paul will again be a speaker at the Knox County Farm and Ranch Day which is set for Wednesday, January 22, 1964.

CUT and TILL

CUTS • SHREDS
 CHOPS • TILLS

An exclusive Cutter-Tiller Combination that performs four basic farm operations simultaneously at high speed and low acre cost.

What CUT-AND-TILL Will Do

CUTS AND SHREDS—The Rotary Cutter is equipped with two 65-inch Spring Steel Blades one above the other and which mesh with shredder bar. They will cut and shred any crop — cotton, corn, milo, tobacco, all vegetables, etc.

CHOPS ROOTS—The Tiller Blades slice four to five inches below the ground level. Roots are destroyed, regrowth is stopped. Hibernating material for pink boll worm, weevils, corn borer, etc. is eliminated to reduce following year's infestation.

TILLING ACTION—An area 12 inches wide on two rows is thoroughly tilled. A second crop can be planted without interference with planter, fertilizer or cultivator.

ADDS HUMUS TO SOIL—Powered blades' action incorporates vegetable matter with soil; decomposition is quick; soil is mellowed, water absorption increased.

There is no farm tool that will do so much, so fast as CUT-AND-TILL. It saves time, cuts labor costs, improves insect control—and all this adds up to more money, more profit FOR YOU.

FARM and RANCH Notes

JOE W. DOBY
COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT

The big event for Knox County 4-H members, who have won county medals, is coming up this week on Saturday, November 9, at Rhineland. 4-H members who have won medals have been sent an invitation to attend, along with their parents. Murry Cox, Dallas, considered the "Dean of Southwestern Farm News Broadcasters," will show films of the WFAA Farm tour to Europe. Presiding will be Marion Keuhler and Dorothy Edrington, Rhineland, co-chairmen of the 4-H Council.

presented by the county commissioners to 4-Hers in their precincts. The Gold Star Awards, awarded to the outstanding boy and girl in the County, will be presented by Mr. W. E. Braly, Munday.

Vocal numbers will be presented by Jeanette Brazell of Munday.

If you have peach and plum trees, now is the time to treat them for the peach tree borer. This insect lays its eggs on the lower trunk, the larvae burrows into the tree at the ground line and feeds on the inner layer of bark. If not controlled, it will girdle the tree and, of course, will kill it.

The treatment is paradichlorobenzene crystals, the same thing used for clothes moth control. Remove all weeds and grass for about a foot around the tree. The crystals are then placed in a circular band about two inches from the trunk. A mound of dirt 6 inches high should then be packed against the tree without allowing the crystals to come in contact with the bark. Leave the mound until spring, then level back to the original ground line.

Two to three year old trees require about 1/2 ounce of PDB crystals per tree, and four to five year old trees about 3/4 ounce per tree. A mature tree requires one ounce per tree.

The initial testing for the Brucellosis program is about complete in Knox County. Dr. Stewart, of Munday, is now retesting reactor and suspect herds for the second time. The County is not very far away from a modified certified free area. The total herds tested so far are 322 with 8,491 cattle. There have been 27 infected herds with 68 head positive reactors.

This is a total of 8.39% of the herds infected with .801% of the cattle. This has to be reduced to less than 5% of the herds and the cattle to less than 1%. Since the cattle are all ready under the minimum, the herds need only to be reduced 3 1/2% for the County to qualify.

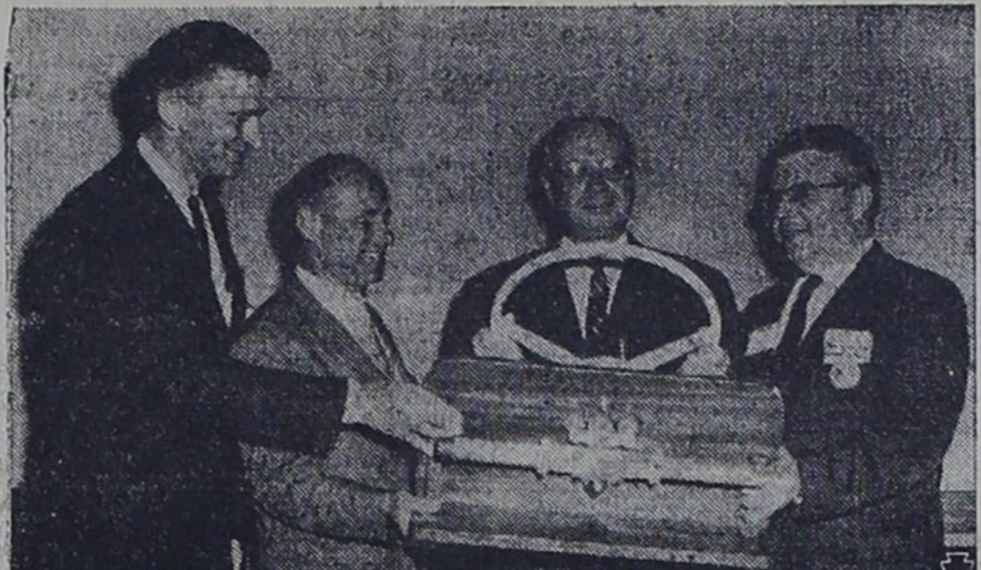

Agriculture subcommittees of the Program Building Committee have been busy arranging educational program for next year. We have a number of short courses scheduled for January and February which will be of interest to Knox County farmers and ranchers.

A soil fertility short course will be held January 13, 14, 15 at Knox City. Fertilizer usage, placement and soil testing along with the role of nutrients in the soil will be covered.

The annual County Farm and Ranch Day will be held Wednesday, January 22, at Munday. Chemical weed control in field crops, ensilage growing and feeding, soil fertility and cotton insect control will be the topics discussed.

A vegetable short course will be held January 27, 28 and 30th, also at Munday. The latest research on vegetables will be presented plus the story of soup processing by a soup company executive.

Boating Leaders Predict New Gains

CHICAGO — Boating industry leaders from New York to California saw bright prospects for 1964 sales at a recent trade meeting here. REPUBLICANS UNITE

Many times in the past, disapproval of candidates of both major parties has been expressed, and it is only at the precinct level of one's party can the individual make his preference of candidates to be placed on the general election ballot.

The independent is in the position of having to vote for some one else's choice. A plea is made here especially to the independent voter to join a party, and to all citizens who may have become disenchanted with a one-party political system to come forward and be counted among the Republican ranks.

A frank announcement of one's political beliefs is believed by many to be detrimental to their business interests, but tolerance to apposing views has always been a great American tradition in spite of ill-mannered public displays by a few radicals.

The two-party system of government has never been improved upon, and it is believed that it should be practiced at all levels of government. It is a new idea in a traditionally Democratic stronghold, but it is a healthy one. Republicans, unite!

There will be an organizational meeting at the Munday Chamber of Commerce office in the City Hall in Munday on . . .

Thursday, November 7, 1963 at 7:30 p.m. Everyone interested is invited to attend.

NEW CHEVELLE!

BY CHEVROLET

The kind of handling ease you'd expect in a smaller car. Come on down and drive it.

The kind of comfort you'd expect in a large interior. Come on down and sit in it.

Only a car that looks as good as this could come between Chevrolet and Chevy II. Come on down and stare at it.

Now—Chevy spirit in a new kind of car!

We built this one to do more than just stand around looking beautiful. Held its weight down in the 3,000-pound range. Then built four lusty engines—two sixes and two V8's—with output all the way up to 220 horses*! And if that makes you think this is one frisky car, you've got the right idea.

You've also got a roamy car here. Yet its 115-inch wheelbase keeps it highly maneuverable in traffic and very easy to park.

With its Full Coil suspension, it's got a ride that reminds you of the Jet-smooth kind the way it muffles noise and cushions bumps.

And the fine hand of Body by Fisher craftsmen shows up beneath this one's suave good looks, too.

Sound good? There's more. Like the fact that Chevelle comes in three series with eleven models—convertibles, sport coupes, sedans, wagons, even Super Sport models with front bucket seats. Like the fact that (and see if this isn't one of the nicest surprises of all) the new Chevelle comes at an easy-to-take price!

Like to hear more? The listening's wonderful at your Chevrolet dealer's—and so's the driving.

we can land a man on Venus for half as much, one on Jupiter for half of that, and so forth, until we get the cost down to say a measly billion dollars a planet.

Well, since man can't imagine an end or a lack of an end to space, scientists have estimated there are countless billions of planets in the universe, and maybe some more universes outside of this one. But just for the sake of simple arithmetic, say there are a billion explorable planets out there waiting for us to put a man on.

At one billion dollars a planet that's a billion-billion dollars. I would write the figure out in numerals, but I don't know how to do it and anyway I doubt if you have enough zeroes in The Times printing plant to swing it. As you can see, my answer to the question. Should we put a man on the moon, is a clear-cut, emphatic I don't know.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Legion Urges Display Of Flag On Veterans Day

A plea to have an American flag flying at every home and business or industrial firm in Munday on Veterans Day, Nov. 11, was voiced today by Commander G. A. Smith of Lowry Post No. 44 of the American Legion here.

"In the interest of showing the rest of the world the unity of the American people, every home, every business firm, every industrial plant throughout the land should display an American flag on Veterans Day," Commander Smith said.

The local Legion leader explained that the eyes of the world, and particularly those of the forces of world communism, are constantly watching for any signs of internal weakness which might forecast the downfall of the United States.

"Here in Munday, we can do our share toward the discouragement of any such thoughts about a weak, apathetic, dispirited American citizenry by flying the Star-Spangled Banner on this patriotic holiday," Commander Smith declared.

"With the American flag displayed in front of every home and business address we can make this year's observance of Veterans Day—Nov. 11—an unforgettable demonstration of Americanism, and at the same time show our community's measure of appreciation for all who answered our country's call to arms for the preservation of our priceless heritage."

He also reminded, "No American flag is ever obsolete, even if it may bear fewer than 50 stars in the field of blue. Regardless of its age, as long as it is in good condition, the flag may and should be displayed on all appropriate occasions."

Man Operator May Answer Your Call!

If a man answers, don't hang up. So announced F. A. Robinette, district manager for General Telephone Company of the Southwest today. Mr. Robinette said that the majority of supervisors, both men and women, are given long distance operator training at intervals in order to be able to assist in providing customers with telephone service under all types of operating conditions.

It is always the Company's goal to provide customers with the best possible service and training supervisors to handle long distance calls is just one of many ways in which people are constantly training in order to accomplish this objective, the district manager said.

Mrs. Harold Mercer, Karen and Gary visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pearce last week and all visited with Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Pearce, and Mickey in O'Donnell Thursday night and Friday.
