

Kracker Krumb's

Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

It's the best thing that ever happened to small towns and communities.

And we'll bet there isn't a volunteer solicitor who won't agree with us.

We refer to the United Fund drives. Our annual drive will begin soon—and it'll be the only organized solicitation of funds for worthy causes to be held in Munday during the year.

The drive will get under way with a kickoff meeting next Tuesday morning. A number of volunteer workers will be devoting some time toward raising the budget for another year.

Already, some have mailed letters to those whom they are to contact. It would be easy for them if you'd read the letter you receive, study the various organizations included in the budget, decide what you will give and have it ready when your "captain" calls on you.

That would be the easiest way of all to get rid of this chore for an entire year—easy for you and easy for the solicitor.

There are ten organizations included in the budget, which amounts to $5,400. In years past, before the United Fund was organized here, this would have meant ten separate drives. A number of the volunteers would have been in on each drive.

It meant, too, that you had to give of your time to listen to the story of ten solicitations. Sometimes, time doesn't mean so much; yet, at times a few minutes can be very valuable. Under the United Fund, there is one contact, one solicitation, one contribution, then it's over!

And don't be disturbed by the fact that our community is hoping to raise $5,400. Of course, that's a lot of money—but consider the organizations to be benefited. Decide how much you would give to each, then give one total amount to United Fund.

It isn't necessary to give all at once—though, this method is quite acceptable. One may pledge their amount and give regularly each month, if desired. One may authorize United Fund to draw on his account at the bank monthly, quarterly, semi-annually—any way you want to give.

It is to be regretted that all worthy organizations relying on public solicitation for financial support cannot be included in United Fund campaigns. United Funds is willing, we understand, but some organizations prefer a separate drive. It is good, however, that a number of these organizations have a cooperative attitude toward United Fund.

Those that from time to time have refused monies collected locally for their cause because it was raised through a United Fund drive do not get a sympathetic ear from us, anymore. We don't doubt the worthiness of their cause, but their unwillingness to cooperate in what we've termed as "the best thing that ever happened" sorta weakens the flavor of their cause.

Concerning the United Fund drives, Gov. John Connally had this to say in his proclamation of September 18:

"The United community campaigns, frequently called United Fund drives, deserve the support of everyone. Many worthy activities benefit from this unified approach, and the contributor has the added satisfaction of knowing that whatever he or she gives will be used for the greatest possible good. These coordinated efforts to raise operating funds for local and national health, welfare and character-building agencies make fund-raising more efficient and equitable."

Won't you do your part when contacted next week?

County Judge L. A. Parker said last week that work on the courthouse was almost completed. The entire building has been repainted, new ceilings installed, floors in most of the building recovered, new window blinds

Moguls Drop 8 to 0 Decision Friday Night To Haskell Indians In Thriller

The Class AA Haskell Indians won a football game last Friday night 8 to 0 against the fighting bunch of Munday Moguls they'd ever tackled—and then only after a fairly even battle for almost three periods.

Ronnie Jeter spelled the difference for the Indians when 10 of the 12 minutes in the third quarter had elapsed. Jeter took the ball on fourth down sneaked for the needed yard on the 34, slid off a bunch of players, found himself in the clear and sprinted on for the only touchdown. Joe Thigpen, Indian tailback, then went around right end for the two extra points.

Munday's star tailback, Pete Alcala, put a scare into his visitors shortly before Jeter's score when he slid through right tackle sides-stepped his tacklers and went 52 yards to the Haskell 34. He was overtaken from behind as he changed pace to elude another tackler. The Mogul drive was stopped on the next play when Haskell recovered a Munday fumble—and that started the

Sam Elsey Opens Photography Studio

Sam Elsey, an experienced photographer, announces this week the opening of his studio of photography in Munday. The studio is located at 827 Main St., next door to Bud's Beauty Bar.

Mr. Elsey, a native of Lexington, Ky., has had some 30 years of experience in practically all types of photography. He spent some 15 years in Hollywood, Calif., in this profession and continued this work during the 15 years he served in the U. S. Air Force. Following his discharge after World War II, he operated a studio in Phoenix, Ariz., for two years, then was called back into the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Elsey are the parents of 15-year-old twins, Douglas and Dolores, who are in high school. Mrs. Elsey is employed as a nurse at the Knox County Hospital.

Mr. Elsey invites the public to visit the studio and to call on him any time he can be of service.

United Fund's '64 Campaign Slated

The annual United Fund drive, which will raise funds for various agencies for 1964, will be officially opened at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday with a coffee at the Shamrock Cafe in Munday. All workers in the drive are expected to attend—and the general public is invited to this meeting.

Preparations for the drive have been under way for several weeks. An important move in the drive has been that of sending advanced letters by workers, explaining the drive, and asking that some thought be given to contributions. It is hoped that all citizens receiving the letters will be ready to contribute when he is called on, thus cutting down in the time involved with each contact.

V. E. Moore is general chairman of the drive, and other chairmen are: Goodson Sellers, rural district; Charles Baker, business section, and Mrs. Rhoads Allen, residence section. In all a total of about 60 workers will be calling on the people for contributions, and it is hoped that the budget of $5,400 will be raised in short order.

The 1964 United Fund drive will cover some ten or more different agencies, each of which plays an important part in local and national welfare.

An interesting and important part of the drive is that in which students in the local schools are given an opportunity to participate. Each classroom will be furnished small envelopes with red feathers, and students will place their contributions in the envelopes—and then wear the red feather to signify they have had a part in this fund raising campaign.

The local drive for 1964 funds has been patterned pretty much after the past two drives, which have proven very successful.

Although a greater part of the effort will be concentrated on next week, which is officially "United Fund Week", workers hope to complete their solicitations as quickly as possible. The drive will not be closed until a greater portion of the citizenship has been contacted and given an opportunity to participate.

The United Fund's budget, which appears in a half-page ad in this week's paper, gives the amounts budgeted to the various agencies which will be benefited by this drive.

Hughes Notified Of Confirmation As Postmaster

H. C. Hughes, who had been acting postmaster at Munday for over a year, last Monday had his nomination confirmed by the U. S. Senate, at which time his status changed from acting postmaster to postmaster.

He was notified of his confirmation by a telegram from Senator Ralph W. Yarborough which read as follows: "Senate today confirmed your nomination as postmaster. Congratulations."

Mr. Hughes took over his duties as acting postmaster on August 17, 1962. His appointment was confirmed by President John F. Kennedy on September 6, 1962. Kennedy renominated him when the present session of Congress opened in January, and Hughes confirmation had reportedly been blocked by Republican opposition since that time.

His confirmation as local postmaster had culminated over 27 years of service with the local postoffice. He became employed at the Munday post office on July 1, 1936, as substitute clerk.

Earl Brewer Grows Big Sweet Potatoes

Earl Brewer is a very successful farmer, if the bigness of things he produces is any criterion.

Mr. Brewer was in town the latter part of last week exhibiting some sweet potatoes which he had just harvested. They appeared too big for potatoes, or even cantaloupes, but a mite small for watermelons.

One of them weighed an even four pounds, while the runty one weighed only three and three-fourths pounds. Mr. Brewer said he had sampled one of the large ones and it wasn't stringy as most of them are, but very firm and tasty.

the hunter from wildlife. Proper fire-arm care and cleaning are vitally important. A speck of rust or dirt in the delicate mechanism may trigger an unexpected discharge, barrel eruption or other mishaps.

Maneuvering barbed-wire fences poses less problem for the hunter if a companion holds the gun. Otherwise, the rifle should be placed carefully on the ground while the hunter climbs through or over the fence.

The hunter who "thinks he sees a turkey" and shoots without determining absolutely, pronounces a possible death sentence for some person.

Ideally, the sportsman returns home with bag-of-game in hand. Fatigued or not, his responsibilities aren't ended. Cleaning and storing the fire-arm away from the hands of children — ammunition in a separate place of course—completes the event.

The period from October 6-12 has been designated as National Fire Prevention Week by President Kennedy. He has asked every citizen of the nation to support local programs aimed at reducing fires. The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council urges rural families to join in the program.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by the State Health Department

AUSTIN — Know how many hunters there are in Texas? Imagine a city the size of Dallas and each resident a Nimrod, gun in hand, ready for the hunt. This is the picture.

To the hunter, fall has special significance. Dove season opened September 1 in north zones and October 1 in south zones. Deer and turkey seasons follow, opening November 16. During these months — September through December — statistics show a rise in accidental fire-arm deaths. In a year's time, a total of 184 persons die from accidents with guns.

Some hunters never live to enjoy the season. In the last three years, 38 died cleaning and handling guns, perhaps in anticipation of opening day. Twenty-four died transporting fire-arms into the field.

Theoretically, a gun is not dangerous itself. But in the hands of an inexperienced, unskilled person it becomes a deadly weapon.

Texasans across the state recognize this problem and are doing something about it. Some local health units and National Rifleman Association instructors work at the grass-roots—teaching home gun safety to children.

This is an excellent step in the right direction but there is no substitute for individual practice of fire-arm safety, with the hunter consciously alert to the hazards of gun handling from the time he dresses for the first hunt until he stores his rifle at the end of the season.

Even his choice of hunting clothes is a factor in safety. Clothing ideally combines warmth, comfort and safety features. Red or yellow outer garments and caps help distinguish

Price Support On Grain Program Same As In 1963

Price support for corn, grain sorghum, and barley in 1964 will again be made available through both loans and support payments, O. E. Moore, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, pointed out today. Growers will qualify for the supports by participating in the 1964 feed grain program, for which the sign-up period is planned for early next year.

The total national average price support levels for the three feed grains in 1964 will be the same as in 1963, the Chairman explained, but a slightly larger proportion of the support will be made available through loans. As last year, the loan rate will vary according to counties. The support payment for each of the three grains, however, will be the same amount per bushel in all counties.

For the feed grains covered by the program, the loan rate, support payment, and total national average support are, respectively: Corn (per bu.), $1.10, 15 cents, $1.25; barley (per bu.), 84 cents, 12 cents, 96 cents; grain sorghum (per cwt.), $1.77, 23 cents, $2.

Besides qualifying for price support loans and support payments, the grower who participates in the 1964 feed grain program will earn a diversion payment on the acreage he shifts from feed grain production to a conserving use.

While the 1964 program is basically the same as the successful 1963 program, an important change increases the top limit on diversion from a farm's base acreage and also increases the rate of payment for maximum diversion. In 1964, any producer may divert as much as 50 per cent of his feed grain base acreage (in 1963 it was 40 per cent); the maximum acreage diversion will be 25 acres if this is more than 50 per cent of the base. Also in 1964, these producers who divert 40 per cent or more of the feed grain base acreage will receive diversion payments at the maximum rate for all acres diverted.

"While all details of the 1964 feed grain program have not yet been announced," the Chairman said, "growers having questions about the 1964 program are encouraged to call at the ASCS county office, and our people will do their best to answer them."

Research has shown that crop rotation, deep plowing and residue management are a combination of practices which will help cut cotton root rot losses. Deep plowing is most effective when done during a period of hot, dry weather.

man wish he could join me, if fighting the weather and insects and high costs looks like a hobby, I will accept this new status with all the grace befitting a man of my position in the society world. I figure if it helps the standing of a city man to be able to go out to his farm or ranch on the week end, it must send my rating over the top to be able to stay out here seven days a week the year around.

There is a catch, however, and farming won't reach its full social standing until a farmer can say, Well, I think I'll go into town for the week end to check on my bank.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

'64 Jet-smooth Luxury CHEVROLET

'64 Chevrolet Impala Sport Sedan

Besides looks, ride and power—what's so special about it?
(it's so reasonably priced)

Kind of leaves the high-priced cars some explaining to do, wouldn't you say? Long and luxurious—with a fresh-crested look. Richer roomy interiors with subtle new blendings of colors and fabrics. Like the ultra-soft vinyl upholstery in the new Chevrolet Impala Super Sport Series.

A choice of seven engines, no less, with output all the way up to 425 hp.* And a choice of four smooth transmissions to go with them.

And underlying it all, the opulent feel of this '64 Chevrolet's Jet-smooth ride.

Matter of fact, the most noticeable difference between this beautiful new 1964 Chevrolet and the high-priced cars is the price itself.

Let your dealer show you how much luxury that reasonable Chevrolet price now buys.

LONE STAR AGRICULTURE

False Advertising On Egg Cartons

Have you ever taken an egg from a carton marked "All-Good Eggs" or "Ever-Fresh" and then had that egg ooze tiredly across the bottom of your skillet?

That low quality egg might have been fresh three or four weeks ago but the carton may have led you to believe it was laid just yesterday. And it is just this sort of advertising on egg cartons that the Texas Egg Law is designed to prevent.

One section of the law states that no descriptive terms implying freshness or high quality can be used on a carton unless the eggs actually are of A or AA grade. Cartons containing B quality eggs or lower, cannot use descriptive terms which might mislead the housewife. The Texas Department of Agriculture inspectors maintain constant vigilance to make certain the housewife gets what she pays for in eggs.

When this law went into effect some six years ago, a number of ruses were tried to get around the misleading advertising clause. A few individuals attempted to pack under a company name which implied freshness such as "Top Quality Egg Company," or "Fancy Egg Company." One firm packed in cartons labeled "A Good Egg Company" and sued the Texas Department of Agriculture in an attempt to retain the name, declaring the Texas Egg Law as unconstitutional.

U.S.D.A. and Texas inspectors pointed out that the company name was misleading and printed in such a way that an "A Quality" egg was implied even though all grades were packed. The actual egg quality was printed in much smaller type in an inconspicuous spot. The court not only ruled the egg law as constitutional but also censured the owner for an obvious attempt to circumvent the law.

Some of the purposes of the Texas Egg Law are to encourage the production and maintenance of a good quality eggs; to keep inedible eggs off the market and to make certain all eggs are labeled properly as to grade and size.

As a result, the Texas egg is a considerably better product now than a few years ago, and current prices make them a good buy for the housewife. The law requires that all eggs be labeled according to their quality so that the buyer can make an informed selection. Some violations still occur from time to time but the Texas egg, today, ranks high on the national average.

FARM and RANCH Notes

JOE W. DOBY
COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT

The residue from a crop of milo is valuable in the maintenance of soil productivity and should be considered as an asset instead of a liability.

The approximate 6000 lbs. of residue from a 5000 lb. milo crop contains about 85 lbs. of total nitrogen, 25 lbs. phosphorus (P2O5), and 125 lbs. of potassium (K2O). With good management these nutrients can contribute substantially to the requirements of the next crop.

Perhaps of greater importance is the effect of the residue on the maintenance or improvement of the physical structure of the soil as reflected in better water intake and retention, and better tilth.

Many farmers follow the desirable practice of shredding stalks immediately after harvest and the question of whether or not to apply nitrogen to speed up the decomposition often arises. It is evident that for maximum protection against erosion much of the residue should remain on the surface. Surface applied nitrogen on exposed residue cannot be expected to greatly speed up the decaying process and a portion of the nitrogen can be lost to the atmosphere if left on the surface. Nitrogen applied to the residue should be worked into the soil at least partially if the organisms are to be active.

Another factor to consider is that decomposition slows down as soil temperatures drop, and it proceeds fastest when soil temperature is ideal for plant growth.

If the residue is likely to be a problem in next years cropping operation, nitrogen applied ahead of land cultivation can speed up residue breakdown. On the heavier soils it may be practical to apply all of the nitrogen needed for next years crops provided the nitrogen is not left exposed on the surface.

The practice of applying sufficient fertilizer to take care of residue decomposition while the next crop is growing is quite satisfactory if you remember to use enough to take care of both the residue and crop requirement.

Fields of wheat and oats are becoming green in places in the county and the season for the fall armyworm is on us. If you notice whitish patches appearing in grass or small grains, it is a good sign this pest has begun work. The favorite food of the armyworm is grasses such as crab grass, common and coastal Bermuda and Johnson grass. At first, the young larvae do not consume the entire leaf but skeletonize it, leaving the veins and ribs exposed. This causes the whitish patches to appear.

Each female lays about 1000 eggs in masses of about 150 each. Eggs hatch in 2 to 4 days. Larvae feed for 2 to 3 weeks. A generation may be completed in less than a month.

The full growth larvae are about 1 1/2 inches in length. They may be identified by the presence of a prominent white inverted "Y" on the front of the head.

For control of fall armyworms on pasture grasses, Parathion, Methyl Parathion, Toxaphene and Sevin may be used. Sevin has not been approved for use on small grain. However, Parathion, Methyl Parathion, DDT, Toxaphene-DDT, and Endrin may be used with the proper restrictions. For more information refer to MP-339, (1963) Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Grain, and Forage Crops.

Now that cooler weather is moving in, we can expect the rats and mice to do the same. They can be like those unwanted kinfolks, who come to visit and like it so well they just stay. Rats and mice are filthy, disease carriers and very costly. They annually ruin millions of dollars worth of food and property in the United States. With the advent of anti-coagulant baits, there is no excuse for putting up with them.

The first step is to clean up old trash piles, and storage bins. Destroy their breeding places. Then place anti-coagulant bait and water in their runways. Place a cover over these stations such as a cardboard box with holes cut in it so the rodents can enter. This gives them a sense of security while they are feeding. Be sure the feeders and waterers do not become empty as the bait must be eaten over a period of several days time to be effective. Be sure the bait is fresh as it will be eaten more readily.

Rats must have water every day but mice can live their entire lives without taking a drink. If a water trough is the only means of them getting water, then lowering the water level will force them to leave.

Rats will travel further for food or water than mice. So there should be more bait stations where large numbers of mice are present.
