Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

Generally it costs us 20 cents to get your change of address if you move and don't notify us yourself.

And comparatively few of you do bother to notify your publisher of a change of address; then, perhaps, wonder why we charge you more than we do county subscribers.

Why the 20 cents? It happens most every week that when we take the papers to the post office, we have to pick up a 10-cent postage due letter notifying us of someone's change of address. Then just before picking up the piece of mail, we've already sent another paper to the old address.

Postmasters don't generally fail to notify the paper of your change of address, thereby collecting the dime for the post office department. We were somewhat irked a number of months ago when this charge was doubled from a nickel to a dime.

It would appear to us, too, that some postmasters time their notices just right so as to reach us after we've made another mailing, then they can send us another dime notice. Sometimes, too, we can't read their writing and have to make a wild guess, or stop the paper entirely.

But last week, we got insulted pretty good. When we mailed out on Thursday we had one of those envelopes with 20 cents, instead of 10, due. "Must be two in there," said the P. O. clerk who waited on us.

Returning to the office, we opened the envelope. Sure enough, there were two changes of address—but they were for the same person. We don't know when we'll get in a good humor with that post office employee in Irving who, apparently, starting saving them up so he can make the additional charge.

And while we have the gripes, might as well mention the enormous amount of wastepaper basket mail that is "franked" to us each week. This means those connected with the government who can send their mail out for free. Monday morning we opened six such letters in getting down to our important mail!

Features Magazine of Sunday's Wichita Falls Times carried a feature story of Jack Brown of Truscott, one of the remaining colorful old time cowboys, who at 71 still spends 6 to 8 hours a day in the saddle or doing cowboy work.

He is credited with probably making the last trail drives in this area—that is until the recent venture from Bryson to Breckenridge—having trailed three big herds of horses from northwest New Mexico and one herd of cattle from Lovington, N. M., to Crowell in the 1920's.

"I don't think a man who has worked all his life should ever retire," Brown is credited with saying. "If he just sits around playing dominoes he may die in five years."

We asked Chas. Haynie if he saw the story, and that brought on a bunch of reminiscing about when Brown and Haynie were boys in the Truscott area. After Sunday school, Charlie said, the boys would all gather to the place where all the roughest broncs were, and put in the afternoon riding them. Made interesting conversation.

And while on retirement, here's what retired J. H. Bardwell said recently: "I get so tired doing nothing that I can hardly stand it. Edgar, keep that in mind!" So we reckon retirement is not altogether something to look forward to with pleasure.

It is with regret that we print the announcement this week that Munday is losing another business firm. Since we'd gotten wind of it several weeks ago, it didn't come as a surprise to us, however.

The lumber firm of Wm. Cameron & Co., was operating here when we came to Munday 25 years ago—but won't be much longer, since the firm is combining this yard with the one at Knox City. A representative will be here with an office here, but the operations will all be principally at Knox City.

Four Accidents Occur In August

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 4 accidents on rural highways in Knox County during the month of August, according to Sgt. Frank Jircek, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for one injury and an estimated property damage of $1,375.00.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county from January through August of 1963 shows a total of 39 crashes resulting in two persons killed, 18 persons injured and an estimated property damage of $20,655.00.

Now is the time to have all motor vehicles "winterized," the Sergeant stated; that is to have their vehicles safety inspected at one of the approved inspection stations to determine that all parts are in top condition.

The new 1964 vehicle inspection sticker is now available. All vehicles registered in this state are required to be inspected once a year. All motorists are urged to have their vehicles safety inspected to avoid the rush later on.

The veteran patrol supervisor said, "The Vehicle Inspection Program has proved to be a valuable tool in reducing accidents in Texas."

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Blackburn of Oklahoma City, Okla., spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Ben Yarbrough. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Spivey of Wichita Falls visited in the Yarbrough home on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Phillips of Dallas and Mrs. H. S. Fatheree of Fort Worth were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Murry Phillips and Mrs. Ellie Phillips.

TEXAS HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT EXPANDS ANTI-LITTER CAMPAIGN

The Texas Highway Department has added two new methods to its continuing anti-litter campaign: a cartoon character printed on its Official Highway Travel Map and revised highway signs reminding drivers they can be fined from $10 to $200 for littering. The cartoon character, "The Litter Longhorn," pleads with the public to "Help Stomp Out Litter." The sign emphasizes that it is against the state law to litter. In 1962 the Highway Department had to spend $1.4 million to pick up litter, an increase of about a hundred thousand dollars over 1961.

Rifle Is Used To Free Trapped Water

The casual passerby was amazed Sunday to see Sheriff H. C. Stone shoot a rifle into the ceiling of Egenbacher Implement Co., in Knox City, then run backwards in a hurry. But it was all according to plan.

During the heavy rain, which dumped some 1.40 inches on Knox City, water became trapped on the roof of the Egenbacher building. It was feared the weight of this water would cause the roof to collapse.

Sheriff Stone would cautiously enter the building, shoot the rifle into the ceiling, then back up to keep from getting wet. The bullets would penetrate the roof, and the water would escape through the bullet holes.

Moore President Of Barber Group

Dick Moore of Munday was named president of District One, Barbers Association of Texas, at a recent meeting in Aspermont.

The group met for a banquet and business session.

He succeeds Bruce Young of Haskell.

David Counts of Knox City was principal speaker for the event. Other new officers include Tommy Matthews of Haskell, vice president; Worth Gafford of Munday, secretary-treasurer; and Dick Felton of Rule, Young of Haskell, and Frank Pierce of Stamford, visiting committee.

Barbers attended the meeting from Spur, Stamford, Jayton, Rule, Rochester, Munday, Haskell, Anson, Hamlin, and Aspermont. The next meeting will be a fish fry at Munday.

Harvests A Bale Every Four Minutes

At the height of harvest operations last week, Billy Mitchell, who farms a large acreage in this area, was picking cotton faster than a gin could gin it.

He had five mechanical harvesters going at one time. Each harvester can gather a bale in 20 minutes, so the five were reaping cotton at an unbelievable rate of a bale every four minutes.

Mitchell had taken 300 bales to the gin in short order, and it was estimated he would harvest another 100 bales later on. He has some 240 acres in cotton, it was reported.

Children's Photos To Be Taken Here On October 1st

Winston B. Lucas of Irving, well known photographer, will be at the Children's Center in Munday on Tuesday, October 1, for the purpose of taking children's pictures.

Through an agreement with this newspaper, pictures of all children taken during Mr. Lucas' visit here will appear in the Munday Times at some future date. There will be no charge for having the photos taken, nor for running them in the paper. Those who want some additional prints may obtain them by arrangement with the studio representative when they select the pose they want printed in the paper.

Mr. Lucas has appeared in Munday a number of times, and many local people know the type of photographic work he does.

Senior Class Names Officers

The senior class elected class officers as follows: President, Charles Patterson; vice president, Ricky Smith; secretary, Jerrylyn Duke; treasurer, Lynda Navaril; reporter, Jerrylyn Duke.

On September 13 they received their class rings. In contrast to rings in years past, the ring has a golden sapphire stone with a Mogul on one side and the official seal of Texas on the other.

Planting Time

Bulbs planted this Fall will blossom into a panorama of color next Spring. Dutch bulbs—tulips, hyacinths, daffodils, crocus—are suitable for any type of gardening. Whether you plant your bulbs in formal arrangements, in a naturalistic setting, along a path, in clusters, or in pots for indoor forcing, they must be planted during the Fall months before the first deep winter freeze.

Purcell Speaks To Crowell Group

CROWELL—Congressman Graham Purcell (D-Texas) told farmers in Crowell Monday night that he hopes Congress can work out a new wheat program for farmers in time to be effective for the 1964 wheat crop.

Purcell, who is chairman of the wheat subcommittee of the House Agriculture Committee in Washington, explained the problems faced in trying to pass new wheat legislation in the face of the May 21 referendum defeat of the proposed "certificate plan" for wheat. He told the group that the present attitude of congressmen from City areas will make it most difficult to pass new legislation on wheat.

"But," said Purcell, "this will not put any damper on my efforts to help the wheat farmer. I believe the farmer needs new legislation for the 1964 wheat crop. And I plan to do all I can to see that he gets it."

The Congressman explained that his subcommittee has held numerous hearings and meetings on proposals which have been offered, and that they are now studying all the proposals, evaluating them on the basis of cost, effectiveness, and other criteria. Purcell said, "I hope we can work out a program which will be acceptable to farmers and which we can get enacted in the House and Senate. This will be a difficult job. But we will work at it day and night. If we fail to get a new program, it will not be because I have not tried."

Mrs. Julia Mae Hicks visited Mrs. Muriel Mitchell in Dalhart from Friday until Monday.

Munday Moguls Have 'Field Day' Friday By Defeating Bobcats; Score 50 to 2

The Munday Moguls continued their winning ways last Friday night to stun the Rule Bobcats by a 50 to 2 victory on the local field.

It was a field day for the power-driver Lewis Flores and fleet-footed Pete Alcalá as they ground out yardage time after time to add to the high score. At first, it appeared that the Bobcats had Alcalá pretty well bottled up, but Flores continued his power through the lines to add two touchdowns in short order in the first quarter.

Alcalá came into his own in the second and added another TD with a 29 yard scamper. He went 72 yards in the third and 55 in the fourth for counters.

The Moguls were undaunted by the injury of Quarterback Skip Lane, who suffered a mild concussion in the second quarter and was taken by ambulance to the hospital. Danny Offutt took over Lane's chores, and soon connected with end David Tomlinson and the pass-run netted the Moguls 49 yards and another six points.

The Moguls received the opening second half kickoff, and it took them only four plays from scrimmage to cross the goal stripe.

The Bobcats were helpless against the rugged defense of the Mogul line, headed by Jackie Booe, and the defending backfield. Penalties were frequent throughout the game, with Munday leading in this department.

Practically every man on the Mogul squad saw action during the game.

The Bobcat's two points came in the closing minutes of the game when a high pass from the Mogul center sailed over the backfield and was recovered by Rule in the end zone.

Knox City's Next

The Moguls will entertain their neighbors, the Knox City Greyhounds, on the home field on Friday night of this week. Thus far the Greyhounds have one win and one loss, having defeated the Chillicothe Eagles 42 to 14 for the season's opener. They were downed by Matador last Friday night.

Cotton Classing Office Is Busy

The Munday cotton classing office, operated by the Agricultural Marketing Service of the U. S. D. A., classed 7,856 samples during the week ending September 13th, according to A. D. Peebles in charge. The season total through the same date was 9,905 samples.

Receipts held at about 1,400 samples daily in spite of the showers mid-week which resulted in some lower grades.

The grades for the week ran as follows: 15 percent strict middling, 17 percent middling, 2 percent strict middling light spot, 27 percent middling light spot and 4 percent strict low middling light spot.

Staple lengths for the same period were 8 percent 29/32, 50 percent 15/16, 26 percent 31/32, 8 percent 1 1/32, 3 percent 1 1/16 and 2 percent 1 3/32.

Microaire readings ranged from 2.6 to 5.3 with 13 percent running below 3.5, 28 percent 3.5 to 3.9, 36 percent 4.0 to 4.4, 19 percent 4.5 to 4.9, and 3 percent above 5.0.

JOHNSON'S RETURN FROM VACATION TRIP

The Edd Johnsons and the Wylie Johnsons returned home last Thursday from a most enjoyable vacation trip. They visited the men's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sheadick in Wabeno, Wisc. Other visitors in the Sheadick home while they were there were Mrs. Sheadick's children, Mrs. Mildred Balch, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Reed, Barbara and John and Alvin Rogers all of Milwaukee, also a friend, Armand Schultsneck.

The Wylie Johnsons and Mrs. Sheadick visited Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Smiths and children in Green Bay on Sunday, September 1. Jimmy frequently visited in the Johnson home in 1945 when he and the Johnson's son, Delbert Beauchamp, were stationed at Amarillo.

On the return trip the Johnsons journeyed west through Minnesota and South Dakota, where they visited the Badlands National Monument, the Black Hills National Forest, America's Shrine of Democracy. Then over to Gillette, Wyoming, where they visited a niece and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Rowlette, Banni and Jim. They all reported a wonderful time.

A REAL CAT FIGHT

Senator Goldwater, in a TV interview, reported that President Kennedy once said to him that if they were to oppose each other for the Presidency it would be a real cat fight.

So it would. And it would provide the nation and the voters with something that has been lacking in contests at the peak political level in late years.

There has been a failure, on the part of candidates of both parties to provide the electorate with a clear and unequivocal choice between two platforms, two philosophies, two diverse attitudes. Issues have been blurred. They have been made wishy-washy and indistinct, as conservatives and liberals alike have tempered their views in the fear of alienating masses of voters.

President Kennedy and Senator Goldwater have made their records. The differences between them are profound, particularly in the primary domestic issues, such as federal fiscal policy and the whole Welfare State concept. There are important differences in aspects of foreign and military policy too.

It would be a real battle, between able and articulate men who would give no quarter. The people would have a choice that really meant something.

"ELASTIC AS A RUBBER BAND"

Certain words seem susceptible not only to varying usages and definitions, but opposed ones. Such is the word "welfare."

As Lawrence Fertig writes in his "Prosperity Through Freedom," "The word welfare is as elastic as a rubber band. It can be stretched to cover nearly everything that goes on in a country. In fact the word has been stretched to its limit by Congress and the Supreme Court in their interpretation of the clause in the Constitution which says 'Congress shall have power . . . to . . . provide for the . . . general welfare of the United States.' "So much has been said about the necessity of government providing welfare that most people rarely think it is they themselves—as individuals and as voluntary groups—who really provide for the welfare of the country."

This simply affirms the fact that everything must have a source—and the source of welfare is the people. They must pay for it, one way or another. When a contribution is voluntary, it means that they are willing to do it. When it is taken from them by the government through taxation, debt, and deficit spending, they have no say in the matter. Thus, all of us may be forced to pay for projects to which we are diametrically opposed.

An economy class plane ticket from New York to London now costs $270. Pan American World Airways, convinced that lower rates are the road to more traffic, proposes a thrift fare of $160—a whopping reduction of $110. But this needs the unanimous approval of all the transatlantic airlines which make up the International Air Transport Association, so there's no sure way of telling at the moment whether Pan Am's idea will be given a trial.

Retired Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs, speaking from 37 years of experience in the diplomatic service, says: "Many of our diplomatic missions could perform twice as effectively with half the personnel now infecting the premises." He tells of the Greek embassy to which 70 military personnel were attached when he had the post, and adds: "Had I been able to deploy them for three hours every morning in full-dress uniform, playing leapfrog across the Acropolis, that would have made as much sense as most of the attaché duties they solemnly declared they were engaged in."

LONE STAR AGRICULTURE

Critical Time in Screwworm Control

"I never thought I'd see a year when I didn't have a single case of screwworms," a West Texas rancher commented recently. His enthusiasm is matched by thousands of others who have benefited from the concentrated insect control program of recent months.

Only 2,000 screwworm infestations have been reported in five Southwestern states, including Texas, this year. This is a remarkable drop from the 23,000 cases reported in the same area in 1962.

Yet Texas and USDA officials say the eradication program is just entering its most critical stage. Animal disease specialists estimate that the annual incidence of the pests has been reduced 99 percent since the program began in February 1962. It is now necessary to eliminate ALL screwworms from areas where they may overwinter to prevent reinfestation.

The program has cost both ranchers and government agencies a great deal of money. But on an individual basis, the results have paid back the original investment many times over in just the first season. As recently as two years ago, a stockman expected to have a few deaths from screwworm and suffer hide devaluation from insect damage. The gains in livestock mortality prevention, better hide quality and more beef have, in most cases, far outstripped the initial cost to the rancher.

Yet, much remains to be done. The financial problems have not been completely solved and the work must continue along this front. The program cannot be abandoned at this state.

Ranchmen need to maintain constant vigilance that no infestation goes unnoticed and untreated. All suspicious fly blows should be sampled and sent to the County Agent. This is especially important at this time of year to prevent winter carryover of the pest. The infected animals must be treated and spraying should be followed where and when indicated.

Much of the credit for success of the eradication program must go to Dr. R. C. Bushland, of the USDA, "father" of the techniques used in Texas and the Southwest. Dr. Bushland was honored in Austin recently for his work. He will now direct efforts dealing with the problem of eradicating the tropical fruit fly and still continue as a consultant on the Southwest screwworm eradication program.

College Girls on the Go Favor Great American Knits

This year American-made knits are standouts for fashion excitement. Dresses, costumes and sweaters knitted of "Orlon" acrylic fiber show high originality of design, and fully deserve to be called "Great American Knits."

These new knits are taking off in all fashion directions, and to many points of the globe. Twenty American college girls took them along when they dashed by jet to Switzerland for a six-day visit.

En route and while there, these girls who were guest editors of Mademoiselle Magazine for a month, wore smart, comfortable travel-knits, such as the Jeanne d'Arc dress (above, right). Trimly tailored in smooth double-knit jersey of "Orlon" and wool, this easy-care dress stayed wrinkle-free all the way.

When they were caught in a summer blizzard high in the Alps, the collegians donned stunning ski-look sweaters, as, for instance, this fringed plaid pullover by Joan Marie (above, left) in soft brushed yarns of "Orlon"—great for after-class or after-ski hours.

Van Heusen Shirts come to Augusta

When the Augusta, Arkansas Industrial Development Corporation set out to secure new industry, they came up with one of America's largest and most respected manufacturers of men's shirts.

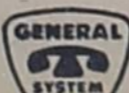

The Phillips-Van Heusen Corporation, makers of famous Van Heusen shirts, was brought to this 2300 population town about a year ago. They employed local workers, instituted an intensive training program, and completed the first products in the brief time of 14 days. Such aggressive action by local citizens and company officials has caused the plant to become a major factor in the local economy.

It is another reason we say General Telephone towns are on the move. Community improvements are under way, local resources are being developed, new businesses, new industries are coming in. If your town seeks additional information about expansion, perhaps we can help. Just write our Community Development Department, Box 1001, San Angelo, Texas.

STATE FAIR KIDS Marla and Cindy Hill got a real boot out of comparing their small-size footwear to the 7-foot 7-inch boots which belong to their hero, Big Tex. On a recent visit to the Dallas studio where Big Tex lives during the off-season, Marla and Cindy got a close-up look at the boots which belong to the 52-foot high symbol of the State Fair of Texas, the nation's largest annual exposition in terms of attendance. Big Tex — and also Marla and Cindy — will be ready and waiting to greet visitors to the 1963 State Fair in Dallas when the gates swing open on Saturday, October 5.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Explains Why It's Very Essential To Have A Non-Farmer As Sec. Of Agriculture

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek apparently is not a candidate for Secretary of Agriculture. We don't believe anybody suggested him.

Dear editor:

I was talking with a man in town the other day and he had been reading an article in a big magazine about the mistakes it claimed the Secretary of Agriculture has been making and he wanted to know why they don't ever appoint a farmer to the job.

The Secretary we got now, he said, used to be a governor; the one before that was a church official. "Why don't they ever appoint a farmer to run the nation's farming business?" he demanded. "They bring in somebody who doesn't know much about farming and expect him to succeed."

I didn't go into details in answering him, as I figured he was a normal man and a lot more interested in his opinions than mine, but I can tell you the answer.

The answer is that a farmer has more sense than to take the job.

Any farmer knows that regardless of who the Secretary of Agriculture is, two years after he's been in office he's head over heels in trouble. When you've got a job tackling a problem that can't be solved, the only man willing to take it on is somebody who doesn't know it. Being Secretary of Agriculture is the worst job on earth, outside maybe of trying to solve a neighbor's family squabble. You pass a law requiring the President to name only a farmer as Secretary of Agriculture, and you'll find more farmers moving to town than you ever dreamed of. Oh I know you get to tour the world while you're in office, but that's the worst way I know to get a trip abroad, and it doesn't do any good—when you get back the farm problem is in the same mess it was before you left.

But don't misunderstand me. We've got to have a Secretary of Agriculture and a lot of farm legislation to administer. The last thing I'd want is to farm without having somebody in Washington to point my finger at. The only thing worse than farming and not having anybody in Washington to put the blame on.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by the State Health Department

Good posture makes it possible to use the body in the simplest and most effective way—muscle contraction and relaxation, balance, coordination, rhythm, and timing makes all tasks easier.

Posture has a direct bearing on comfort, work efficiency and body functions. Poor posture can become a habit, like overeating. Poor posture reduces blood circulation, induces drowsiness and fatigue. Because breathing is shallow, abdominal organs sag and perform poorly.

Posture, some experts explain, is the end result of body mechanics. The human body is composed of many intricate and interacting components. Body mechanics might be defined as the functioning of the body parts.

Tension is a deterrent to good body mechanics. Relaxation is a lessening of tension. Learning to relax completely is an important aid to body mechanics. A person may lie down to rest but defeat his purpose by not relaxing.

For an example of how tension feels, contract a part of the body strongly. Clench the fist tightly then start releasing it gradually, taking away more and more of the tension until there is a feeling of complete looseness. Another method is to close your eyes and, starting from the tip end of the toes, fingers or scalp, let each muscle relax or go completely limp. After mastering these methods of tension relaxation, it becomes possible to locate tense areas within the body and relax them.

Aside from building good principles of body mechanics with the fundamentals of health — plenty of sleep, regular exercise, meals which keep up stamina and provide a supply of energy and attention to medical and dental needs—there are specific posture points to consider.

The most evident fact in a person with good posture is that the body is carried in a well balanced manner with the weight line of the body falling through the main midline joints of the body. Any posture in which the various segments or parts of the body assume a zigzag line, or in other words sag in one spot or bulge out in another, is apt to indicate poor body alignment. Movements of ease, grace and efficiency. Poor posture is usually awkward and inefficient.

A person with poor posture can get tired just setting. It's worth learning the right way to sit, too, for it can save much fatigue and weariness. Try it, using these simple rules: Use a firm chair with a seat height equal to leg length from bottom of the heel to the back of the knee, minus 1 1/2 inches. Sit tall on the back of the thighs rather than the end of the spine. Hold the head and trunk erect, centered over the pelvis or tilted slightly forward. Flex the knees at right angles.

Visiting with Mrs. W. F. Prater last week were her sons and families, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Prater, Jan and Johnny, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Prater, Lynn and Benny, all of Albany and Mr. and Mrs. William Prater and Alan of Monahans.

The Annual Knox County gilt show was held Saturday, September 14, at Benjamin Taylor Sego, registered Duroc breeder, from Rochester did the judging. Placing first was Joe Loran, Eshelwood; second, Chip Smith, Benjamin; third, Buddy Lowrance; fourth, Larry King; fifth, Don Roberts, Benjamin.

Results from the 1963 state-wide small grain performance trials are now available, according to Dr. I. M. Atkins, agronomist and small grain section leader, Texas A&M College. Performance trials for the northern Rolling Plains area are conducted by Keith A. Lahr at Texas Substation No. 12, Chillicothe, and by L. E. Brooks at Texas Substation 16, Iowa Park. All small grain trials are in cooperation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, points out the agronomist.

Recommendations of varieties are based on several years of testing and include, not only information on grain yields, but cold tolerance, forage characteristics, disease resistance, agronomic characteristics and, in wheat, the milling and baking characteristics, explains Dr. Atkins.

Twenty-five varieties and strains of wheat were grown at Iowa Park and 36 at Chillicothe. Under irrigation at Iowa Park, Crockett yielded 53.4; Gage, a Nebraska variety, 49.8; Kaw 47.7; C. I. 13536, an experimental strain, averaged 47.0; and Tascosa 46.0 bushels per acre, respectively.

At Chillicothe, Kaw yielded 25.2; Newest Improved Triumph 23.9; C. I. 13536, an experimental strain, 27.3; Super Triumph 26.6; Scout 26.5 and Tascosa 26.3 bushels per acre, respectively. Performance trials over a period of years show that Tascosa, Kaw, Ponca, Bison and Warrior are among the best producers and also are of superior quality. Crockett, Improved Triumph and Concho are mellow gluten strength wheats which have yielded well, the agronomist adds.

Barley variety trials were seriously damaged by low temperatures and their yields reflect survival. Among commercial varieties now available, the highest yields were produced by Rogers, Harbine, and Kearney. Will, a new variety from Oklahoma, produced good yields but seed is not yet available. At Iowa Park it averaged 68.0 bushels, Rogers 61.2 and Kearney 54.7. Cordova and Wintex were seriously damaged by low temperatures averaging only 16.6 and 14.4 bushels respectively. At Chillicothe, Will averaged 23.8, Rogers 22.1, Harbine 20.9 and Cordova 13.8 bushels per acre. The most winter hardy varieties were Kearney, Chase, Meimi and Will.

Survival was the major factor in determining oat yields in 1963. All but the most hardy, were near failures. Two experimental oat strains, bred by J. H. Gardenhire of the Denton Substation, produced 92.4 and 85.5 bushels per acre respectively. Cimarron, Mustang, Winter Excel and Wintok averaged 85.2; 77.9; 77.3 and 63.8 bushels respectively. Less hardy varieties were nearly destroyed. New Nortex produced only 19.4 bushels.

Cold tolerance is extremely important in this area and the hardy varieties, Cimarron, Mustang, Bronco, Wintok and Winter Excel should be sown if seed can be obtained. Less hardy varieties such as New Nortex, Alamo-X, Moregrain and others may be grown but will frequently winter-kill, Dr. Atkins said.
