

Kracker Krumbs

Odd Bits Salvaged
By The Editor

We sort of goofed up pretty good last week, and got trimmed down to size about it.

The embarrassing part was that then it was, as in lots of cases or errors, that it first dawned on us that we hadn't narrated long enough. We made it appear, through implication, that we were the only local person to be seeing the ball games an experiencing those other things in Big D.

Truth of the matter is, we didn't solo to Dallas by any means. Can't remember when we ever did! In our party were Mrs. Edgar, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Jungman, in whose auto we travelled with Herman doing the driving, and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hertel of Seymour. The six of us put up at the same hotel, but we were pretty much on our own in daytime activities.

We sort of took roundnucks on our way home on Sunday to go by Muenster for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Luke. They are people who have the welcome mat outside and who make you feel very much at home from the time you enter the door. Mrs. Luke had been "just piddling around" in the kitchen, but she came up with a wonderful meal at noonday. It's always pleasant to visit in the Luke home.

We saw Charles Hogsett last Monday and remarked that we hadn't seen him since we bumped into each other on Friday night, October 11, in the Southland Hotel lobby. They left Dallas on a trip that took them on into Mississippi.

Charles told us of the traffic jam he got into just as they came off the turnpike. "Took us two hours to get those few blocks from there to the hotel," he said. Tied up in traffic, they were listening to the S.M.U.-Navy football game which we were watching from the bowl. Our suggestion is — and we think Charles will agree — that if you're going to Dallas on the eve of the Texas-Oklahoma football game, get there early!

A lot of Munday's history was lost in the death last Friday night of John M. Terry. We mean by that the type of history that is not recorded in history books but was kept in the memory of this man who lived about 62 years in Munday — those humorous things, little heartbreakers, etc., which historians wouldn't bother to record — but incidents that held one's attention when recalled by John M. Terry.

We listened with interest several times when Mr. Terry would tell of his arrival in Munday, coming from De Leon; how he and Mrs. Terry had made the trip with two of her brothers, and they came right down Main Street in Munday when it wasn't much more than prairie.

We don't think Mr. Terry ever regretted for a moment the fact that he and his wife "drove down their stakes" in Munday. He always had a good word for the little town. As a private citizen, and as a public official, he had the interests of the town at heart and worked untiringly for its benefit and advancement.

For many years, Mr. and Mrs. Terry entertained the thought that they'd like to be buried back at De Leon when the end came. But after living almost 50 years here, they came to this conclusion almost in unison: "If Munday's good enough for us to live in, it's good enough for us to be buried in."

We shall miss Mr. Terry very much, for we remembered that he was one of the very first subscribers when this paper was established. A week never passed that we didn't see him two or three times as he came to the drug store after his daily coke.

We feared for him at times as his eyesight began to fail, but we always admired him for staying active. We don't think it's been a year since we saw him repairing a spot on the roof of his house.

We shall always cherish the memory of this good man. His passing has left an emptiness in the community — but we can't grieve too much for him who lived a full life, then death came as he desired it. He just went to sleep in good health and didn't wake up!

Munday Moguls Sail Past Holliday For Easy 70 to 12 District Victory Friday

The Munday Moguls served notice Friday night that they haven't given up district title hopes with only one defeat as they sailed past the Holliday Eagles for an easy 70 to 12 victory at Holliday.

The Moguls erupted for 48 points in the first half, and almost every man wearing the Mogul suit saw service during the game. And all seemed to be trying for a score, as even the second stringers made sensational runs for scores. Pete Alcala led the group, however, with at least four of the ten touchdowns in his credit.

Mainstays in the Moguls de-followed by a 28-yard run by Pete Alcala for the second quarter. Both Mogul touchdowns were set up after Holliday had fumbled the first two times they had the ball. Alcala added six more points in the first period on a nine-yard run, and Skip Lane passed to Alcala for the two-point conversion.

In the second period, Alcala scored two more touchdowns on runs of five and 64 yards. Lane passed to Travis Floyd for a 45-yard touchdown, and twice for two double conversions.

Then, with Munday leading, 42-0, Eagle quarterback Larry Slack ran 24 yards for a Holliday touchdown late in the second period. Munday made it 48-6 late in the first half as Terry Leflar ran 27 yards for a Mogul TD. Leflar opened the third period with a 64-yard run and six points for Munday, followed by Alcala's two-point conversion. Later in the same period, Bill Stewart ran 62 yards for another Munday TD.

The Eagles added their second touchdown in the fourth as Slack passed to Willard Conway for 37 yards, to make the score 62-12 Munday. The Moguls tacked on six more points late in the game as Alcala passed to Floyd on a play covering 60 yards. Danny Offutt ran for the two extra points.

He and Della Roberson were married in 1905. She preceded him in death about eight years ago. He was a member of the Methodist Church.

John M. Terry, Retired Munday Hotel Operator, Dies Quietly In His Sleep

JOHN M. TERRY

John M. Terry, 90, who had been closely identified with the progress of Munday for over 60 years, and one of the area's oldest citizens, passed away during the night Friday.

Death came as Mr. Terry had often expressed the desire to go. He died quietly in his sleep and was found next morning by his sister, Mrs. Clara Nabors, who made her home with Mr. Terry, when he failed to arise at the usual time.

Mr. Terry had been very active until about a year ago, despite his advanced age. He did much of the upkeep around his home, and the day before his death he had walked the few blocks to a local drug store for his daily coke.

He was born October 28, 1872, in Berry County, Mo., and married Miss Mary Barton on November 26, 1893, in Missouri. Mrs. Terry preceded him in death December 27, 1950.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry came to Munday from De Leon in November, 1900. There was very little of Munday the day they drove down the main street in their wagon, intent on establishing a home.

Mr. Terry operated the Terry Hotel, which was the first ever built in Munday, for many years. He sold the hotel to its present owners, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Yarbrough, a number of years ago and went into semi-retirement. He served as mayor of Munday in the early 1940's.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Olga Payne of Munday; four sisters, Mrs. Kate Ballard of Mineral Wells, Mrs. Pearl Lightfoot and Mrs. Edna Boyett, both of De Leon and Mrs. Nabors of Munday; and several nephews and nieces.

Funeral services were held from the First Methodist Church in Munday at 3 p.m. Sunday with the pastor, Rev. L. Mauldin, officiating. He was assisted by Rev. Billy Frank Fitzgerald of Denton.

Burial was in Johnson Memorial Cemetery under the direction of McCauley Funeral Home. Serving as pallbearers were Hugh A. Beaty, Marshall Benner, W. C. Nance, Bob Brown, Dick Moore and E. C. Browning.

2,400 Samples Per Day Are Classed By Cotton Office Here

Receipts of cotton samples at the cotton classing office at Munday held at about 2400 daily throughout the week ending October 18.

The Agriculture Marketing Service Laboratory classed 14,060 samples during the week and raised the season total of 62,701 compared to 26,618 a year ago.

Middling light spot was still the predominant grade making up 57 per cent of the weeks classing. White grades made up 5 per cent, strict middling light spotted 26 per cent, and low middling light spotted 3 per cent. Full spotted grades also made up 3 per cent of the week's classing.

Staple lengths were 55 per cent 13/16, 24 per cent 7/8, 45 per cent 29/32, 20 per cent 15/16, 2 per cent 31/32 and 4 per cent 1 inch and longer.

Micronaire readings remained about the same as the week before with 3 per cent 3.0-3.4, 13 per cent 3.5-3.9, 45 per cent, 4.0-4.4, 36 per cent 4.5-4.9 and 3 per cent 5.0-5.4.

Market activity increased slightly and growers received 30 to 50 points over the loan on lower grade light spots that would make 3.5 and better.

Showers Bring Needed Moisture

Showers which were touched off by a low pressure area over the week end brought some needed moisture to much of Knox County. They began with a mere sprinkle Saturday evening, a shower Sunday and heavy showers early Monday.

Munday reported a total of 1.40 for the week end; Goree had .65; Knox City 1.56, with nearly 2.25 inches falling on the Buck Tidwell farm near Munday. L. W. Hobert reported three inches or better on his Baylor County place.

North of the Brazos river, the rains were lighter, according to reports. A total of .32 was officially reported at Benjamin while Truscott received .50 of an inch.

UNDERGOES SURGERY

Joe Choucair underwent surgery at the Knox County Hospital last Monday morning. He is reported to be doing fine.

CROP started exporting food to the Congo as soon as trouble started in 1960. There were reports of more than 200 people dying of starvation daily at the end of 1960. The CROP foods, shipped through Church World Service, have been of great value in helping the people of this newly independent nation through a period of severe crisis. "Give us this day our daily bread," has great meaning for most Congolese, who look to CROP and CWS to help them stay alive.

"SELF-DEFEATING EXPEDIENTS"

A number of bills now before Congress would shorten the standard workweek of 40 hours. This has long been a goal of many leading unions. The argument is that it offers a solution to the vexing unemployment problem.

At the same time, under current proposals, pay for the shorter week would be necessary to maintain purchasing power.

The net result, obviously, would be to force up the prices charged for commodities and services. That always happens and must happen when wages outrun worker productivity. So, in a word, the net result would be price inflation, at a time when price stability is an urgent national need and goal.

Another result would be to impair the ability of U. S. industry to meet foreign competition—which becomes tougher and tougher, with its advantages of lower wages and other basic costs. So, in the long run, there is an excellent chance that a shorter workweek accompanied by higher hourly wage rates would increase, not decrease, employment. People would buy less of higher priced products.

President Kennedy, who is certainly no foe of labor, and who is as deeply concerned with the unemployment problem as anyone, has described proposals to arbitrarily reduce the workweek as "self-defeating expedients which can only restrict the economy, not expand it." That covers the case succinctly and accurately.

NOT JUST WEATHER

Irrespective of the ethics or wisdom of doing business with Russia, recent news accounts which tell of U. S. grain merchants meeting with Soviet officials to work out a possible deal to ship urgently wanted American grain to Russia, carry a moral. It is the same moral that applies to China's starving millions. Oppression and want go hand in hand in the communist world. All property and people are under the ruthless control of government. The farmer is a slave who does as he is told. The ruling class are politicians.

Selling wheat to Russia or even China may be the humane, and politic thing to do, but we should never be so gullible as to believe that the weather is the root of all troubles with farm crops in dictator ridden countries. We live on the same earth as the Russians and the Chinese. Our farmers have weather problems too, but they are producers and behind them are processing and distribution industries the like of which the world has never before seen. No nation, where the property and lives of its citizens are at the mercy of government, can ever enjoy the American standard of living.

CARLSBAD, N. M., CURRENT-ARGUS: "It is easy to fall into the error of supposing that automation, of which so much is heard, confronts society with problems different in kind from anything that has gone before. This is not true . . . Consider the experience of William Caxton, one of the great trailblazers in the art of printing. It was in the 15th century that he set up a London establishment to print books in English. The Guild of Stationers objected to this newfangled method of using machinery to turn out books. They wanted to know what would happen to the scribes whose livelihood depended on the demand for books copied by hand. What happened was that the printing trade absorbed the copyists and soon provided jobs for many other men."

PELHAM, GA., JOURNAL: "It may surprise a lot of people but every time a doctor stops at the scene of an accident and voluntarily renders emergency aid, he is taking a risk. For, strange as it seems, they can be sued if the victim they stop to help dies or is maimed. Recently one state enacted a law to protect the humanitarian doctor who stops to render aid in emergency. The law was passed only after it became known that insurance companies and lawyers were sometimes advising doctors to keep moving when they came upon a wreck!"

SIoux RAPIDS, IOWA, BULLETIN-PRESS: "There is no logical or common sense reason for anyone to be a pessimist living in the United States, if he will only open his eyes and see. As an individual in the United States, you have free access to its gigantic wealth through your own initiative and ability. As long as you do not encroach upon the rights of others, you can acquire as much of it as your capacity warrants. It is all yours."

Anxiety is a sort of wisdom. Stupidity is never anxious.

Weekly Health LETTER

Issued by the State Health Department

AUSTIN—Common colds and influenza cases increase during the fall, reaching a winter peak. Underlying causes pose a perplexing problem for scientists.

One thing they have determined is that a high standard of health promotes disease resistance.

With this in mind and a look at the calendar we are reminded that it's time to take an individual fall health inventory.

Inseparable elements of a healthy life are a balanced diet, plenty of sleep and adequate exercise. Persons who have chronic diseases or other health problems are exceptions to the rule and should—of course—be advised by a physician.

Panaceas proclaimed by health and food faddists vacillate from vegetarian to carnivorous diets—from taking an early morning swim to drinking warm mineral water. The list is vast, but a balanced plan for daily living, boasts modern health authorities' stamp of approval.

A balanced diet, according to nutritionists, includes daily consumption of the basic four: protein, green and yellow vegetables, milk and eggs, bread or other wheat products. Contrary to some popular theories, an inadequate diet supplemented with vitamin pills does not satisfy body needs.

The average person spends over 8,000 24-hour days, or between a quarter to a third of his life, in sleep. Physiologists are still trying to formulate a scientific definition of sleep. The need for sleep, however, is apparent. Fatigue forces the body to work harder performing tasks than it would during ordinary circumstances.

Physical exercise—a change-of-pace activity or recreation—is the most frequently overlooked aspect of personal health. Regular, temperate exercising enhances bodily functions.

Persons who consistently stay indoors in cold weather are most susceptible, statistics show, to the common cold.

Modern scientific research has provided man with vaccines for such diseases as smallpox, polio, diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus and influenza. The individual bears the responsibility of keeping his immunizations up-to-date.

A final vital element in a personal inventory of health consists of a yearly check-up by the family physician and dentist. Physical examinations for persons middle-aged or older are recommended every six months.

SAM HOUSTON STAMP

Senator Ralph Yarborough of Texas, right, attends the unveiling of the new Sam Houston 5¢ Commemorative Stamp with Postmaster General John Gronouski at the stamp section of the United States Bureau of Engraving. The drawing of Texas hero Sam Houston is by Tom Lea, famed Southwestern artist of El Paso, Texas. Senator Yarborough, a member of the Post Office and Civil Service Committee recommended Lea as the one to make the design for the Post Office Department. The stamp shows a full length drawing of Sam Houston who was 6 feet 6 inches tall and portrays him as he would have looked at the time he defeated the Mexican Army at the battle of San Jacinto.

Methodist Youth To Make CROP Appeal

Kenneth Smith has been appointed general chairman of the local annual CROP Halloween Youth Project in Munday. This year's project will be an endeavor of Methodist Youth. It is expected that 40 young people, of Junior High and High School age will take part.

Funds collected by the young people will be used to help meet the nutritional requirements of under-nourished people in many lands, for good food as partial payment of wages for workers in self-help projects, and for agricultural resource improvement for people who yearn to stand on their own feet. In some cases the funds will be used to assist in the local CROP county commodity appeal such as is conducted in several counties of the state.

In 1962, the youth of Texas collected $55,085.00 for CROP and helped to provide 109,250,000 pounds of government donated food overseas in addition to other shipments of food, fiber, and self-help materials, valued at over a half-million dollars, which were not otherwise available to the overseas programs of the churches.

The Youth will be collecting on Wednesday, October 30th, between the hours of 6:00 and 7:30 p.m. They would like to stress again that in no way is CROP an agency of the Methodist Church. It is a service agency used by all of the churches of all faiths for the distribution of food overseas. Your gifts will go to help feed hungry people in many parts of the world. It would be helpful to the youth if you would leave your porch light on.

The youth will have identifying badges and literature so you will know what they are representing.

FARM and RANCH Notes

JOE W. DOBY
COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT

The big news in Knox County this week is the rain. That part of the county south of the Brazos received between 1/2 inch to two inches of much needed moisture. North of the river was a different story as only light showers dotted the area. The official gauge at Benjamin measured .32 for the week end. Anyway, it's a good start and maybe more will fall soon.

The cotton crop is well on the way to being gathered. Only some irrigated acreage remains to be gathered. Most of the wheat has been drilled in the dust. Some was planted in the moisture and has been up to a stand for several weeks.

The Knox County 4-H Achievement Banquet is set for Saturday, November 9, 7:30 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Rhineland. The speaker will be Murray Cox, WFAA farm director, from Dallas, with films of the WFAA farm tour to Europe. This year the banquet is being sponsored by the following firms: First National Bank, Munday; Citizen's State Bank, Knox City; West Texas Utilities, Munday; Thompson Hayward Chemical Co., Munday; Knox Prairie Seed, Munday; Farmers Coop Gin, Munday; Paymaster Gin, Munday; Rhineland Coop Gin, Rhineland; Invitations have been sent to all the County medal winners and their parents.

Recently there has been some confusion among cattlemen about the use of Co-Ral for screwworm and cattle grub control, according to entomologists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Co-Ral should not be used after October 1 as a 0.375 per cent spray as recommended for grub control, they say. However, the 0.25 per cent spray of Co-Ral or 0.5 per cent Korlan spray as recommended for screwworm control, can be used at any time.

Occasional reports of the death of weak, stressed or anemic animals following the use of Co-Ral may not necessarily be due to the application of the insecticide, but merely coincide with it, say the entomologists. In some cases, as after the administration of anthelmintic drugs, animals have died as the result of handling and undue excitement.

However as with most insecticides, caution should be used when Co-Ral is used for the control or prevention of screwworms. Any death following the use of chemicals should be investigated, including a post-mortem exam, to accurately determine the factors contributing to the death, they recommend. Finally, the entomologists advise that when using Co-Ral or Korlan, the directions and precautions on the manufacturer's label should be carefully followed.

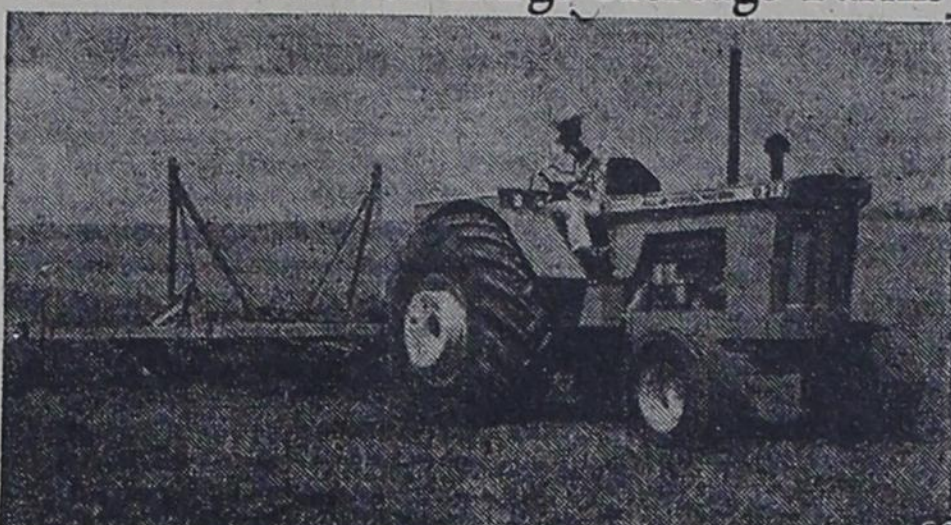

Despite today's trend toward smaller packages of food and more convenient foods, the sale of quarters and sides of beef is on the increase. In some cases, buying beef in this form can save the consumer money, but it is advisable to look carefully at the economics of such purchases. Unfortunately, all the carcass is not steak and roast. A large portion is cutting loss, fat, bone and low price cuts. In fact, it takes about 2.16 pounds of a choice grade live animal to yield just one pound of U. S. choice beef in a retail store.

In making the decision whether to buy a side of beef, first determine the price of each of the major retail cuts at the local food store. These cuts are rib roast, 8 per cent of the carcass; chuck roast, 19 per cent; ground beef, 18 per cent; T-bone and porterhouse steak, 6 per cent; round steak, 10 per cent; rump roast, 5 per cent; sirloin, 8 per cent; and stew beef 6 per cent.

To compute the total cost of retail beef, multiply the percentage of each of the cuts by the price of that cut in the retail market. Then add these individual costs and divide the total by 80 per cent, the carcass minus bone, fat and cutting loss. This gives the average retail cost per pound if the beef were purchased over the retail counter.

To compare this price with the

More Power For Large Acreage Farms

This big 14,000 pound tractor is designed for large acreage farms in the wheat, cotton and rice growing states. The newest addition to the Allis-Chalmers line provides more power and more comfort for the operator. A 119 horsepower diesel engine gives the new D-21 enough power to pull a 28-foot chisel plow. The tractor also features power steering and wheel treads that can be spaced for row crop work.

How To Buy Roses

The selection of good roses for your garden is no longer a hit-or-miss proposition in Texas. New standards under the state rose grading law will take most of the guesswork out of your purchases.

After a couple of false starts, a system of grading was devised which lets the buyer know what he is getting. The grades are set primarily by size of the plant and marks the first time a uniform method becomes available for the benefit of the rose fancier.

Four grades were selected and standards devised by experiments within the multi-million-dollar Texas rose industry. Commercial rose growers studied and tested plants for several years before arriving on a set of grades. Before the new crop is ready for sale next spring, all roses sold in Texas will be required to be properly labeled as an aid for the buyer.

The number of "branches" or canes growing out of the root stock and their relative size are the determining factors of grade. Jumbo No. 1 Grade must have at least four canes growing out of the root stock whose size must measure 5/16 of an inch or larger. Canes are measured at least three inches above the root stock. No. 1 Grade must have three canes of 5/16 inches or better. No. 1 1/2 Grade only two canes of 5/16 or larger and No. 2 Grade two canes of only 1/4 inches or better. These grade standards apply to the majority of the normal size rose bushes.

Polyantha-baby roses have a different set of grades, however. Jumbo No. 1 Grade must have six canes, No. 1 has five canes, No. 1 1/2 Grade has four, and No. 2 Grade only three canes. All canes must measure at least 1/8-inch above the root stock.

Any bush not meeting the above sizes or standards is designated as a cull and must be labeled as a cull before being offered for sale.

Benjamin 4-H's Meet October 14th

Games planned by George Doby were enjoyed by the entire group. Refreshments of milk and doughnuts, furnished by Violet Patterson were then served.

Mrs. Agnes Mayes of Amarillo spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. Emma Mayo, and attended the Goree homecoming on Saturday.

Knox Prairie Philosopher Doubts Public Opinion Poll That's Showing 68 Pct. Of Us Satisfied With Our Income

Editor's note: The Knox Prairie Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Miller Creek takes issue with a public opinion poll this week.

J. A.

Dear editor:
I have long felt that a public opinion poll is like a sports writer's guess on next week's football games. When he's right, he's an expert, and when he's wrong, he doesn't know any more about it than the rest of us.

But people like to read such things, and it's a good thing. If they didn't, if they liked to read only things which are 100 per cent right and infallibly wise, you and me would be hard up for readers, especially me.

What got me started on this was a national public opinion poll the other day which reported that 68 per cent of the white people in this country are satisfied with their income.

I don't know who all the pollsters interviewed, but they didn't get around to me.

In fact, come to think of it, I don't know who they interviewed to come up with this figure. Wasn't anybody I'm acquainted with.

I don't mind saying I'm not satisfied with my income, never have been and never will be. Moreover, I don't know anybody who is. Regardless of what a man makes or how much his income grows, if he has any confidence in his family he knows ahead of time they'll find a place to spend a little more than he makes.

I don't mean to say a lot of people don't consider themselves lucky to be getting what they are, but I just never have encountered a man who wouldn't be interested in a little more. A man with a row boat wishes he had a speedboat. A man with a speedboat wishes he had a cabin cruiser; a man with a cabin cruiser wishes he had a yacht. I don't know what it is a man with a yacht wishes, but it's something. Personally, I couldn't use a yacht, but anybody who thinks I'm satisfied with the income they have, I have a notion Mr. Gallup could have saved some money just by interviewing his interviewers.

Understand though I'm not so dissatisfied with my income I'd do what it takes to improve it. I didn't say I was dissatisfied with the amount of work I'm doing, only with what I get for it.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

NEWS for truck owners who need a new one now

Things Chevrolet has developed since the last time you bought to give you more for your money:

Double-wall construction. This feature of Chevrolet cabs and the Fleetside pickup body has two advantages. Insulation and sound-deadening material is sandwiched between the two layers of steel in the cab to give you more comfort; in the body, the lower inner wall acts as a buffer against load damage, preserving the outer appearance of the truck.

Suspension to fit the truck. Conventional half- and three-quarter-ton models have independent front suspension with variable rate coils in the rear. Variable rate coils do not "bottom out" as readily.

Mediums and heavies have I-beam suspension with variable-rate leafsprings. It automatically stiffens as the load increases—and vice versa. It means a smoother, flatter ride regardless of load, a better handling truck.

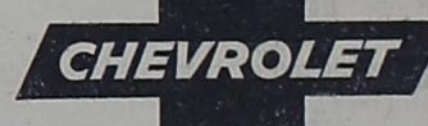

The right engine. Chevrolet never has been in better position to give you the type and size you need for maximum efficiency. Today there are many different capacities of gasoline and diesel

Chevrolet truck engines—fours, sixes, V8's.

Stronger frames. Every conventional 1964 Chevrolet truck has a ladder-type frame. This type is more resilient, better able to give with the load and terrain. Its simple design also makes it easier to mount special bodies on the truck. Its riveted side rails are stronger.

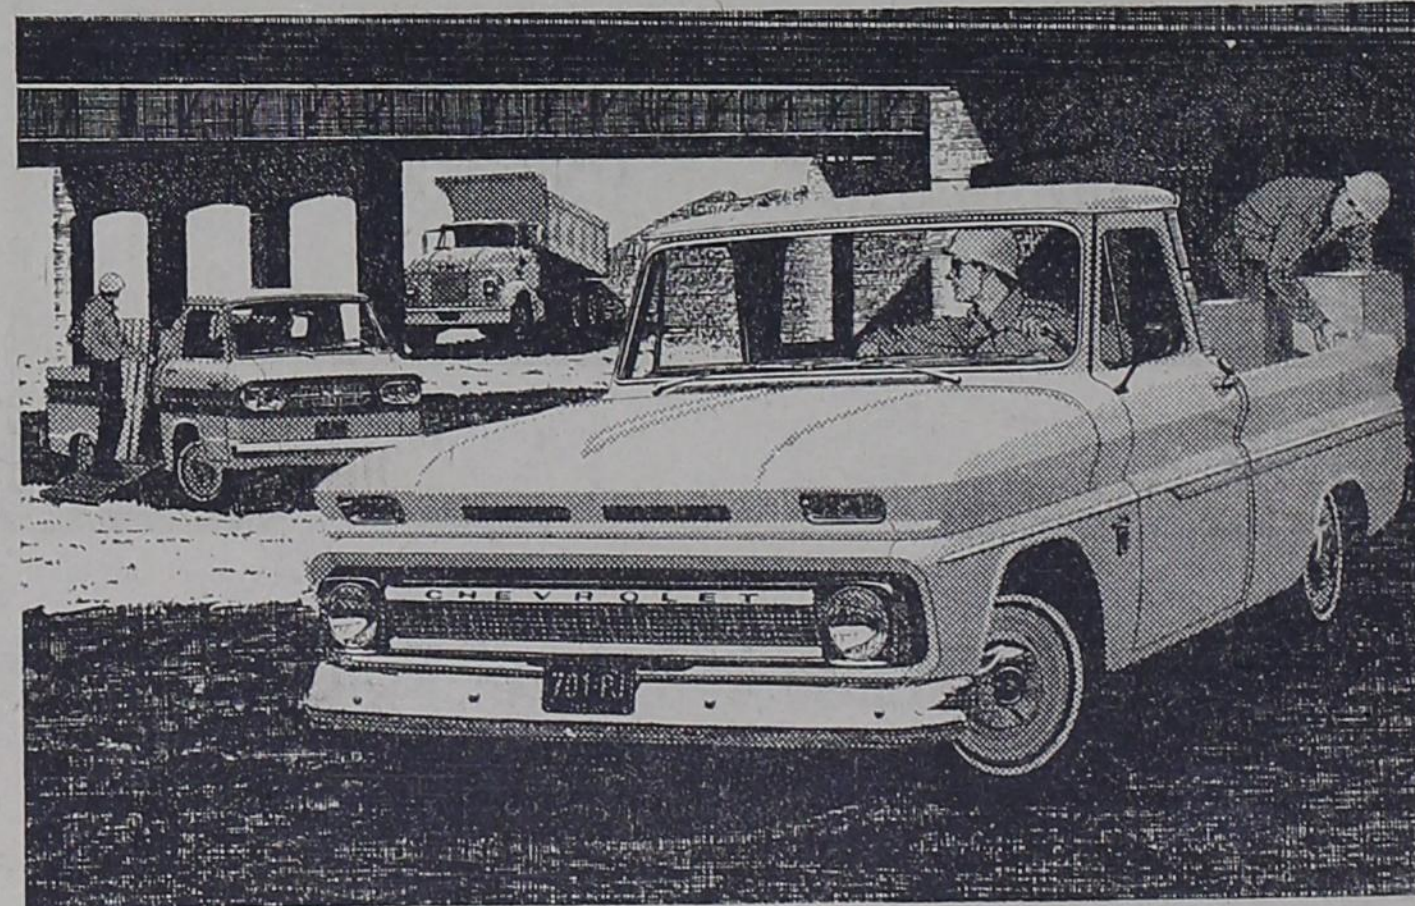

Greater model selection. This time you're going to find it a simple matter to pick the exact type of Chevrolet truck for the kind of work you do. In delivery trucks, for instance, in addition to regular panels and pickups, we have eleven different sizes of ready-made walk-in vans, some with full-width rear doors.

Quality and value. Chevrolets today are a lot more truck than your money bought the last time, and yet the price tag is just about the same as 5 or 6 years ago. Call your Chevrolet dealer for information or for a demonstration.

Quality trucks always cost less!
