from the present carrier, if possible, until bids can be taken. The present carrier is to be paid for the period of coverage until bid is awarded. Rates and conditions of interim coverage are to be negotiated by the administrator and present insurer.

Next item of discussion was new city hall and fire station priorities. Fund review shows that delivery of the last $20,000 Certificate of Obligation will be necessary to finance new building obligations. After work is done on concrete to fire station drive and accounts are settled, re-evaluation will be needed prior to further hired landscape work. Other city options on its funds are to be discussed with the City Auditor and possibly the City Attorney.

The City Administrator has been informed by Joe Lane that Mike Lane's sewer line extension is needed. The council advised the administrator to discuss this with Mike and to place this into the work schedule if he agrees to go onto sewer charge and tie on as soon as the extension can be made.

Ken Martin of Jacobs and Martin met with the council to discuss the Community and Economic Development Program for 1985. The drainage ditch extension request made last year has little or no chance for funding due to new requirements, therefore, Martin recommended we try for a street paving project instead. It has a little better chance for funding, he said. Discussion followed. Albus moved the city proceed with necessary public notices and also proceed with a house by house survey of prospective areas. Marr seconded the motion. Voting for were Albus, Marr, Decker, Tucker and Tidwell. Motion carried.

City Administrator Hertel next reported that the Texas Water Quality Board has requested filling of the old tower well as soon as possible.

Two persons had requested time with the council regarding skunks under an old house on the W85' of S71' of 4, Block 24, Wallace Addition. The owner is to be contacted about the problem.

Next the council reconsidered A. Dale Selzer's request to permit the house moved into the fire zone, previously mentioned, be allowed to remain; request also that entire block be removed from Fire Zone. Discussion followed. Council position arrived at is as follows:

1. That since the owner was not aware that the site was in the City Fire Zone when the house was moved onto N 1/2 of 1-2-3 of Block 140, R&M Addition, be allowed to remain if sufficient work is done to upgrade this house to make it presentable and livable in this area and that siding of reasonable fireproof material be installed and roof to be of asphalt shingles or other reasonably fireproof material; wiring is to be new or safely renovated with adequate breakers; said renovation to be substantially completed within 120 days.

2. That no further frame houses be permitted on this site and that the fire zone will remain the same as covered by City Ordinance.

3. That the house and site set out in item 1 are still considered to be in the Fire Zone.

Marr moved the council position in Items 1, 2, and 3 be accepted. Albus seconded; all voted for.

The Council next discussed the North Park water problem. Since possible other alternatives might be found, the Council will reconsider this matter in 30 to 60 days for further discussion.

Albus moved that bill be paid as follows: from airport fund, $49.66; from ambulance fund, $136.05; from operating fund, $16,099.36; from city hall and fire station fund, $33,539.00. Tidwell seconded; all voted in favor.

Meeting adjourned with a motion by Tidwell, seconded by Tucker.

State Of Economy Causing Changes In Farm Picture

High interest rates and narrowing profit margins for farmers are causing new and irreversible changes in agriculture.

"The sudden surge in interest rates a few years ago and persistent high real rates since then have triggered some dramatic changes in agriculture," points out Dr. Carl Anderson, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Firemen Agree On New Ordinance

Fifteen firemen were present for the regular Monday night meeting of the Munday Volunteer Fire Department. Business for the evening consisted of working on fire department equipment.

Local fire department, ambulance service and law enforcement organizations have agreed to work together to enforce a new ruling which applies in times of accidents, fires or any other situation handled by emergency service personnel. All unattended vehicles found within a one-block radius of any such emergency situation will be ticketed, and the owner fined. This is to eliminate the problem of curious onlookers who prevent these emergency workers from doing their jobs, and these organizations ask the cooperation of all local citizens in this matter.

It always pays to smile in the morning, because later in the day you may not feel like it.

Seymour Group To Host Education Board Member

Katherine Raines of Cleburne, this area's appointed representative on the State Board of Education, will speak to the public between 2 and 4 p.m. Sunday, April 21, at the Seymour High School auditorium. Her appearance is sponsored by the Citizens for Better Education in Seymour.

Mrs. Raines will address specific questions put to her by members of the Seymour organization. The program will also include a question and answer session concerning any point of House Bill 72.

Mrs. Raines is a partner in a financial planning firm and has a background in education, including three years of teaching secondary education, a term on the Cleburne school board and membership in PTA. She was appointed to the education board to represent 49 counties of Texas.

The Citizens for Better Education was formed to educate the public on the ramifications of HB 72, feeling some aspects of the bill are detrimental to the development of school children and teachers. Their major areas of concern regarding the education reform bill are sections dealing with student absences, eligibility requirements for extracurricular activities, promotion policies for elementary school, exit exams, teacher career ladder and division of counties into districts.

Members of the organization urge everyone concerned about the affects of House Bill 72 to attend this session and relate their views to Mrs. Raines.

Wheat Check-off Yields Big Returns; Producers Benefit

Though not a substitute for effective farm legislation, market development efforts, funded through state wheat check-off programs, have added an average of 31 cents per bushel to the price American farmers receive for wheat, according to a recent study by Chase Econometrics of Bala Cynwyd, Pennsylvania.

The study was undertaken for U.S. Wheat Associates, the international marketing arm of the Texas Wheat Producers Board and similar organizations in other wheat states, to measure the impact of market development programs on the U.S. wheat sector.

The preliminary results of the study were presented by Harry Baumes, Director of Agriculture Services, Chase Econometrics, to the U.S. Wheat Associates Executive Committee during their recent meeting in Washington. Texas' USWA representative and Board member, W.R. Moore, Jr., Munday, and Robert Graves, Association President, Perryton, attended.

U.S. Wheat Associates' President, Winston Wilson, originally from Quanah, now world-wide Administrator, says that the study indicates that over the last thirteen years, each dollar contributed by producers for market development purposes through their Boards and Commissions has returned $100 of additional income to the growers from expanded wheat sales, and returns $133 to the U.S. economy.

Texas Wheat Producers Board

Chairman, Otis Harman, of Tulia, was also pleased with the results of the study, which was conducted since last August. "A thirty-cent-per-bushel higher price over what it would have been without any promotion is a significant return for the one-half cent per bushel that Texas farmers invest in the program through the Texas Wheat Producers Board which operates now in only 34 counties of the Panhandle-North Texas area," he said. The Board is now in the process of conducting a state-wide referendum of wheat producers to expand the Texas level of funding and directing such activities.

According to Harman, the study will be very useful in guiding the direction of the wheat promotion program in the future, as it identifies those regions of the world where U.S. wheat farmers can expect the greatest returns from increased program expenditures.

U.S. Wheat Associates, headquartered in Washington, D.C., carries out market development activities through its 13 offices serving 90 countries around the world in principal wheat potential market areas. Primary funding is received from wheat Boards and Commissions in California, Colorado, Idaho, Kansas, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Texas, Washington and Wyoming, and matching funds are provided by the Foreign Agriculture Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

crease the cost of doing business, but they also contribute to a strong dollar, discourage farm exports, encourage imports and stimulate incentives for foreign producers to step up production, Anderson notes. It all adds up to fewer crop exports and low U.S. farm prices. This accelerates changes in the structure of American agriculture.

"Currently, farm operators with little debt have a strong advantage over those making large interest payments," notes the economist. "Rental agreements are turning away from cash rent, and traditional crop share arrangements are being renegotiated based on equitable resource contributions of both operators and landlords. Use of credit capital is declining because of low returns to farm investments."

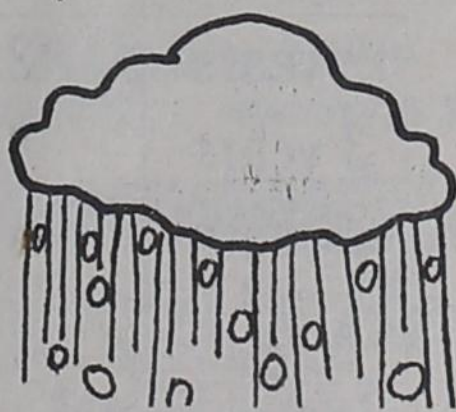

Anderson points out that the current farm economic situation discourages new entries into farming. Furthermore, new machinery purchases drop and there is more maintenance and repair work, more custom operations and more joint ownership of large machines. Marginal cropland shifts to forage and grazing programs which, over time, will lead to excess beef production and thereby lower cattle prices.

Local Couple Views Sights In Hong Kong

It is, as they say, a small world. The last person on earth Don Welch expected to see in Hong Kong was someone who went to school with his son.

But when Don walked out of a shop in that Far Eastern city, a young man immediately identified him as being from Munday, Texas. Upon an incredulous closer inspection, Don realized he had come face to face with Steve Homer, son of Philip Homer of Munday. Young Homer is presently on leave from his tour of duty in the U.S. Navy.

Another familiar face Don was hoping to see in Hong Kong was that of Bernard Pang, former Munday pharmacist. Don called the Pangs at their apartment, and Bernard and his wife, Candice, visited the Welches and took them on a tour of parts of Hong Kong not seen by average tourists.

Don said the young couple was very happy to see someone from Munday. They still think of Munday as "home", and are very anxious to return. They will do this as soon as both can obtain permanent resident visas.

Hong Kong is very crowded, and prices are very low, but so are wages. The Pangs live in an apartment building that houses approximately 5,000 people, Don said. Residents are allowed some freedoms, and enjoy some means of recreation when finances allow. But the living wage is approximately $300 in American money per month and very little is left after paying necessary expenses.

Persons in businesses who came in contact with the tour group were very courteous and efficient, Don said, but life for the average citizen is very hard.

One highlight of the trip was a voyage into mainland (Communist) China. The group rode a hydrofoil out of Hong Kong Harbor, over part of the China Sea and into Macau, then went into Communist territory under the watchful eyes of machine-gun-toting Customs guards. Don said the area of China they visited was very primitive. "They said it is about 50 years behind America, but I would estimate it is about 100 years behind a country such as Old Mexico," Don commented. "I don't know when America has been that primitive."

Don said his general impression of people in that country was "survival. Their main objective is to just survive from day to day."

Don won his trip to Hong Kong by selling $1 million worth of Southern Farm Bureau Life Insurance in 1984. He and Shirley were among over 400 couples to make the journey. The flight to Hong Kong lasted over 30 hours, as they had a 5 1/2 hour layover in Tokyo due to a thunderstorm and snowstorm. The return trip took just over 21 hours.

Wichita Falls Museum Slates Spring Fling

"Spring Fling", this area's most outstanding art show and sale, will be held on April 27 and 28. Sponsored by the Wichita Falls Museum and Art Center's Museum Guild, the fourteenth annual fair will feature approximately seventy artists and fine craftsmen. Their work will include sculpture, ceramics, drawings, painting, jewelry, toys and other media.

Hours of the fair are from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday, April 27, and noon to 6 p.m. on Sunday, April 28. Advanced tickets are $1.25 for adults and $.75 for children under 12. Gate tickets are $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for children under twelve. Shuttle buses will transport visitors from convenient parking areas to the museum grounds.

Refreshments will be available during the hours of the fair. In addition to sandwiches and soft drinks, international fare will be served including Mexican, Greek, Oriental and German foods.

The musical talent of Lee Greenwood, Caryl Weiss, and Beto and the Fairlanes is an example of the outstanding entertainment to be provided throughout both days. There will also be many local entertainers performing, such as Janie and the Heroes. The "Little Fiesta" will offer supervised play and learning activities for youngsters from 3 to 8 years of age while their parents are browsing. An added feature will be the "Kemp Street Drag" designed for the older youth.

A GARDEN OF BLUEBONNETS decorate the yard of Porter and Leona Blankenship at 710 N. 3rd Avenue in Munday. Texas' state flower grows in profusion in the Blankenship's yard. The blue blossoms can be found in many yards around town and on roadsides in every direction. This Yard of the Week was chosen by the Munday Garden Club.

CEMETERY NEWS

The Cemetery Endowment Trust fund is growing, but rather slowly. Remember, if you would like to give any amount, send your check to me and I'll credit it to the proper account.

The maintenance fund needs help now! We have local help to keep the cemetery grounds mowed and trimmed and they do an exceptional job, and with the wet season we have had so far, it has already been mowed twice this spring. Depending on the rains, it will have to be mowed several more times before fall. So, you see, regardless of the amount, it will all go to a good cause.

AUSTIN TRIP

Several members of the Benjamin Sorosis Club made a one day trip to Austin, Thursday, April 11.

They went to Stamford and boarded a chartered bus with club members from Rule, Anson and Stamford. They toured the TFWC state headquarters, the Capitol, the Governor's Mansion, and LBJ Library.

State Having To Address Issue Of Radioactive Waste

Many products and services Texans use each day results in the production of low-level radioactive waste. Disposal of this waste is a problem that the state is having to deal with.

On January 1, 1986, federal law will require states to dispose of their own low-level radioactive waste within their own borders.

Low-level waste produced in Texas is now sent to commercial disposal sites in other states. But in 1986, these sites in South Carolina, Nevada, and Washington may legally refuse to accept low-level waste generated from other states.

In response to the federal law, the Texas Legislature created the Texas Low-Level Radioactive Waste Disposal Authority in 1981. The authority is charged with establishing and operating a facility within Texas for the state's low-level waste. A site on state-owned land is most likely.

Because much of the state's low-level waste is generated by essential medical products and research, the Texas Medical Association supports the disposal authority's efforts to find an acceptable site. Hospitals, laboratories, and educational institutions produce low-level radioactive waste through diagnostic testing, biomedical research, cancer treatment, and research with nuclear reactors.

Low-level waste also is produced by nuclear power plants and industries that use radioactive materials. The low-level waste produced by nuclear power plants does not include used nuclear fuel, which is classified as high-level waste and is regulated by the federal government. Industries generate low-level waste in making machinery parts, plastics, smoke detectors, emergency exit signs, and industrial gauges and in X-raying welds for oil and gas pipelines.

During 1982, Texas produced about 30,000 cubic feet of low-level radioactive waste. By 1990, the state will produce about 139,000 cubic feet annually. Of this amount, 105,000 cubic feet will come from the South Texas and Comanche Peak nuclear power plants, which will be operating by then. By 1990, the estimated low-level waste produced every year in Texas would cover one football field three feet deep, according to the Texas Department of Health.

They left Benjamin at 5 a.m. and returned at 9 p.m. and all reported they "had a ball!"

Making the trip were Lucille Moorhouse, Jessie Roberts, Veta Campbell, Bea Parks and Pearl Ryder.

REDUCING FAT IN CHICKEN

Do the chicken you buy seem to have more fat than those you bought years ago?

According to poultry scientists, today's chickens do contain larger fat deposits than chickens did several decades ago. These present-day "fat chickens" are due to breeding. The poultry industry raises a type of chicken that matures quickly and contains more fat than their slower growing counterparts.

The meat from these fast-growing chickens is more tender, so it can be used for a variety of dishes. It is also less expensive and actually provides more lean meat for the money spent than the chickens of years past.

You can take advantage of this improved chicken product and yet watch your fat intake by following some easy preparation techniques.

* The fat deposits in a chicken are located mostly around the abdominal area. The fat deposits are highly visible and can be easily trimmed before cooking.

* Remove the skin from chicken before cooking.

* Use cooking techniques such as broiling, baking or roasting, which do not add fat.

Add up what a 9-month John Deere finance charge waiver means to you

 Are most advertised "low-rate" finance offers the big deals they're made out to be? Not compared to John Deere's 9-month finance charge waiver on new tractors, 40- to 300-hp.* As the chart shows, the John Deere 9-month waiver is more attractive than most of the low-rate offers you've read about. And, as you can see, paying off the John Deere contract early could result in an effective rate as low as 3.38%.
Don't be misled — compare real finance charges

If balance owed is paid off after	Your effective annual rate		Your total finance charge

Actual rates and finance charges will vary depending on payment schedules and rate changes on variable-rate JDFP contracts.

And the John Deere Finance Plan also includes physical damage insurance and, for qualified individuals, credit life insurance. All that on a tractor with proven high trade-in value. A John Deere tractor with a warranty backed by a solidly established manufacturer. A John Deere tractor we'll treat like our own when it comes to supplying parts and giving shop service. Added together, the 9-month finance charge waiver and the John Deere tractor deliver more real value to you.
