Look To The East

by Aaron Edgar

Ah! At last she's here - and what a delightfully pleasant experience it is!

Seemed like she'd never get here, as we were here in waiting, like, say, waiting for a train that was behind schedule.

She was scheduled to arrive on March 21, according to makers of the calendars we go by. But things went wrong, because that date was not a fit one for man nor beast, as we remember.

Surely she'll be here by Good Friday, people thought, so they went ahead and set out tomatoes and stuff. Sometime later, we heard over the radio waves that some people were buying and setting out their fourth batch of tomato plants.

Interspersed between some of the wintry days was an occasional balmy one, keeping our spirits just atop the low plane of living. This business of having to wear heavy clothing because of the actions of "never say die" Old Man Winter was getting a little bit on the monotonous edge.

Finally, she saw her opportunity, and quickly made her appearance. She sprang. She sprang, she arrived, and all those things.

She saw her opportunity to wedge through a hole in the jet stream, shunned the impediments thrown in her way by chilling winds, and came upon the scene in all her glory, but without much fanfare.

In case it hasn't dawned on you, it's Spring we're talking about. We refer to the season in the effeminate term because the season is a fastidious sort of thing that likes her surroundings to take on flashy colors and add much beauty to all her surroundings.

And that's what has been going on. Mother Nature decided at last to cooperate, and what a transformation that's been going on! Dormant things of nature have put on "new dress" and new life, revealing the fact that, indeed, we do have a simulation of the resurrection with the arrival of spring.

What is more lovely, more satisfying, than the lovely colors and delicate touch of the first iris blossoms? Or the first opening bud of the lovely rose? Or the varied hues of green in the grass and ground-cover, the shrubs and trees?

Surely, the season's great paint brush is in the hands of the "Master Painter", and his work is a gentle reminder that miracles never cease to happen.

We believe that Spring is our favorite month of the year. The loveliest scenes that eye can imagine burst into life as Mother Nature becomes decked out in all her finery - in the home flower gardens, on the hills and valleys of the countryside, and even in the "boondocks", which is one of Glenn Shelton's favorite expressions.

Not only are the flowers cared for by human hands in the gardens of many providing untold beauty to gladden the hearts of watchful people, but the wild flowers of nature burst out in color everywhere.

A drive over the highways and byways of our surroundings can be most rewarding during this season.

Spring arrived just right for members of the Munday Garden Club to stage their annual flower show, which was an event of last Friday. Those who attended the show viewed the best that human hands and nature could produce here in Munday, and ladies of the garden club should feel well commensurated for their efforts. Nature didn't cooperate too well last year, you know!

So, what heart could be heavy after God and nature have finished with Spring? What person could feel lonely, when there are so many things to see and touch?

We would not, by any means, belittle the fall season. This is our next favorite. Then it is when Nature changes her dress, and people travel from far and near to view the fall colors over much of the countryside.

Another reason we favor Spring is: Look what it does to a young man's fancy! And if it can do this to a young man, perhaps an old man could be helped a wee bit, too!

"Have a nice day!"

60-year-old Man Slain At Goree Last Saturday

A 60-year-old man is dead and another facing a murder charge following a shooting spree at the victim's home in Goree last Saturday afternoon.

Jimmy Lee Mayze was found dead in his three-room home at about 5:10 p.m. Saturday when Sheriff Gene Nix investigated an anonymous call about the body. Mayze was shot once in the chest from about 15 feet away with a .22 caliber rifle, according to Sheriff Nix.

A suspect, Eddie Russell Jr., was arrested and was arraigned Monday afternoon on a murder charge. A rifle believed to be the murder weapon was found at Russell's home, it was stated. Russell, 62 years of age, was picked up about 6 p.m. in the area. Time of the shooting has been placed at between 3 and 4 p.m.

Motive for the murder was not readily determined, although the two reportedly had been in an argument about money. The investigation revealed that the pair had been drinking heavily.

Mayze, who was unemployed, was pronounced dead by John Phillips, justice of the peace at Munday, who ordered an autopsy.

Funeral services for the victim were held at 10 a.m. Wednesday from the West Beulah Baptist Church in Goree with Rev. Willie Johnson of Roby officiating. Burial was in Old Gloree Cemetery under direction of McCauley-Smith Funeral Home.

Survivors include one son, Robert Lee Mayze of Goree.

Cotton Planting Date For County Is Set For May 23rd

Better than 200 persons - Knox County cotton farmers, their wives and invited guests - enjoyed a fish fry at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, April 28, at the elementary school cafeteria in Munday. Purpose of the meeting was to determine a uniform cotton planting date for Knox County.

Those present unanimously set Monday, May 23, as the date to start planting their 1983 cotton crop.

This meeting was sponsored by the Knox County Boll Weevil Association and the Knox County Program Building Committee, members of which have

Bluebonnets In "Boxes" About Town Is "Brain-child" Of Local Woman

By Aaron Edgar

"Bluebonnets blooming everywhere!" This is the thought of many persons this time of year when they behold the Texas state flower in bloom as they travel the highways of Texas this time of year. They find the lovely flower blooming even in desert places along the rights-of-way.

Even more than this, the observer finds the lovely bluebonnets blooming in the yards of many homes in and around Munday, lending the loveliness of spring in many places.

This loveliness has become prevalent even in the business section of Munday this year, as the Texas Bluebonnet is now in full bloom in a majority of planter boxes that were placed about town a number of years ago as a project of the Munday Chamber of Commerce. As the years passed, many of these boxes were unattended, and plants placed therein failed to survive.

It's different this year, all because of the brainchild of one woman who carried her idea into completion.

This person is Mrs. L. L. (Maebelle) Wise, a member of the Munday Garden Club, who conceived the idea of beautifying our downtown area by planting bluebonnets in all the planter boxes.

Collecting the seeds from her own yard, she planted them in the 35 planter boxes in the downtown area. Much of the planting was done all by herself during "after hours" of the business establishments. She cleaned the planters and planted the seed at proper time. She carried the water in jugs from her home to water them, giving each planter her personal care - this after most of us had retired to our homes for rest and recreation, or for an evening of pleasurable activities.

She received a very limited amount of help from others. Even after the plants emerged, many of the "boxes" would have gone unattended as usual, had it not been for her determination to carry her project through to completion.

The plaque which was presented a few days ago, was intended for a presentation at the Chamber of Commerce banquet, but Mrs. Wise suggested that "we wait until the bluebonnets are in bloom".

The plaque is worded: "Special recognition award to Maebelle Wise for personal recognition to downtown beauti-been unified in their fight against the boll weevil for several years.

By following this uniform planting date, boll weevils wintering in the area will have emerged and died out before cotton squares have developed enough for them to deposit their eggs. This will go a long way toward weevil control in the area.

Emory Boring, Extension entomologist, and Al Alexander, Extension agronomist, both of Vernon, explained the boll weevil infestation in Knox County and detailed efforts for their control to the assembled group.

Details of their discussion are contained in the Knox County Farm and Ranch Report in this issue.

Rhineland Gin Patrons Receive Annual Dividends

Patrons of the Rhineland Co-op Gin who attended the gin's annual meeting held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday night, May 3, returned home quite a bit richer than before, as dividends were paid out on a basis of $13 per bale. This was based on last season's operations of the gin.

Due to weather conditions at planting time last year, with heavy rains, hail and destructive winds cutting down on cotton planting, the Rhineland gin processed about half the amount of cotton as in 1981. Patron dividends were paid on a little over 5,000 bales for 1982, whereas the ginnings amounted to better than 10,000 bales the year before.

The meeting Tuesday night was a gala occasion for the gin's patrons, as they enjoyed a delicious banquet meal catered by Dairyland of Jacksboro. The meal consisted of barbecued brisket, sausage, slaw, potato salad, pinto beans, green beans and other accessories.

An auditor's report made during the business meeting revealed that the gin is in "good shape", according to Gary Wilde, manager.

Total dividend checks, based on $13 per 500-pound bale, amounted to $67,230, according to Wilde.

New officers and directors were elected at the meeting, but names of these were not available for The Courier, due to an earlier deadline.

Several guests were in attendance, and these were recognized by the president of directors. Plans had been made for a round 150 guests.

Adding her personal thanks, Callie Ann Combs, chamber manager, said: "We want you to have our special recognition award for downtown beautification this year. We do want you to know how much we appreciate what you have done. Your activities have not gone unnoticed, and we thank you for your interest in our city. The result of your labors is giving us all 'a lift' as we see these lovely flowers in bloom."

Ideas like this, and dedication to a purpose as shown by Mrs. Wise would mean a lot to our town if we all practiced them dutifully!

Munday Bands Present 1983 Spring Musicade

The sounds of music filled the Munday High School auditorium Tuesday night as the Munday bands presented Musicade '83. The bands were under the direction of Rodney D. Bennett.

The fifth grade beginning band began the concert with their renditions of "Carnival of Venice", "America", "Chop Sticks" and "Band Boy's March".

Numbers performed by the sixth grade were "Join the Parade", "Southern Roses" and "Away We Go".

These two bands have improved greatly since the beginning of the year and this was very evident in their performance at the concert.

The high school band played several numbers during their section of the show, some of which were familiar, and others not so well known. "American Sea Rhapsody", "British Isle Melody", "The NFL Today", "Winchester March", "Tropical Twilight" and "We Got The Beat" were all well received by the audience.

A highlight of the show was the presentation of awards by Mr. Bennett. One band member in each grade received an award for outstanding achievement. These honors went to the following:

Seventh grade - Alexis Bordovsky; eighth grade - Leann Oustad; freshman - Salwa Choucair; sophomore - Jolanda Ramirez; junior - Wilda Smith; and senior - Angela Meers.

The very important John Phillip Sousa award is presented each year to the band member the director feels has turned in the best all-around performance, not only on an instrument, but also by being cooperative, helpful and a leader in the band. This a-

FHA Honors Mothers, Secret Grandmothers

Mothers and "secret grandmothers" of the Munday Future Homemakers of America were honored at the annual spring banquet on Monday, May 2. The FHA members chose their secret grandmothers earlier in the school year and have surprised them with gifts and other expressions of thoughtfulness since that time. Each member identified herself to her "grandmother", and they sat together during the banquet.

Julie Partridge gave the invocation, and Rhonda Redder provided dinner music during the meal.

County Receives Mixed Drink Tax

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said collection of the state's 10 percent mixed drink tax during the first quarter of 1983 was up 2.7 percent over the same period last year.

Bullock said the state received $36.1 million in taxes on the sale of mixed drinks during the first three months of 1983.

Bullock's office is sending checks totaling $10.5 million to 220 counties and 415 cities as their share of the gross receipts tax on mixed drinks for the first quarter.

The state's general revenue fund will receive the balance - $25.6 million - of the tax money collected.

The mixed drink tax is collected by the Alcoholic Beverage Commission and city-county rebates are sent out quarterly by the Comptroller's office.

Bullock said the mixed drink tax brought in a total of $140.2 million during 1982.

Knox County's total mixed drink tax revenue for the quarter was $997.52. The county received $149.63 as its 15 percent remittance.

Executive Cites Danger Of "Quick Fix" Legislation

Any contemplated "quick fix" to bring down the price of natural gas could lead to serious gas shortages in the future, Lone Star Gas Company Senior Vice President Douglas W. Williams warned recently.

Testifying before the House of Subcommittee on Fossil and Synthetic Fuels in Washington, Williams urged the federal government not to cancel key provisions of contracts between natural gas producers and the pipeline companies that buy their gas.

"We believe that responsible parties should abstain from 'quick fix,' short-term solutions and continue with the transition to free markets for new gas contemplated by the Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978, and thereby assure continued adequate supplies at reasonable prices," Williams said.

Several energy-related bills have been submitted to the 98th Congress, many of which would override existing contract provisions between producers and buyers of natural gas. Williams warned that legislation which might infringe on the sanctity of contract obligations could cause severe disruption within the natural gas industry, with both utilities and their customers being penalized.

Lone Star Gas Company is aggressively and successfully negotiating with producers to control gas purchase costs, Williams said. Many of the company's contracts provide for price renegotiation between buyer and seller.

In addition, Lone Star is continuing to secure voluntary price concessions. To date, prices have been lowered in 130 contracts, a reduction of about $85 million by December 1983 in gas cost to the company and for the benefit of consumers. "The marketplace is slowly but assuredly correcting itself," Williams said.

"The negative gas supply implications which will result from impairment of both existing and future gas purchase contract obligations cannot be overemphasized," Williams told the subcommittee. "We must not be lulled into a state of complacency by the current gas surplus situation."

He explained that the number of rigs exploring for domestic natural gas reserves recently has fallen nearly 20 percent, and the prospect of less funding for the increasingly expensive search for natural gas will cut the number even more.

Indefinite price escalator clauses, which allow periodic adjustments in the cost of gas, assure producers of recouping current and future costs of producing gas, and many of these clauses permit downward price moves as well as upward. Abolishment of the escalator clause would, Williams added, result in short, probably year-to-year, contracts with little encouragement for exploration and development of new natural gas supplies.

If new legislation is enacted stipulating what provisions gas purchase contracts may contain, economic uncertainty would result in an almost certain shortage, he explained, because producers would not be able to finance new capital investments.

The NGPA continues to be the best compromise to insure future gas supplies at competitive prices, Williams said. The gas industry is resolving current problems through voluntary renegotiation and exercise of existing contract provisions.

"When a fellow says, 'it ain't the money, but the principle of the thing,' it's the money." Kin Hubbard

Farm And Ranch Report

CHARLES SIEPEL

KNOX COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT

Knox County Cotton Uniform Planting Date

The Knox County Boll Weevil Association and the Crops and Livestock Committee has set May 23, 1983 as the cotton uniform planting date. Boll weevil infestations have increased during the past two years and the boll weevil infestation during last September and October were the heaviest since 1976.

Uniform planting prevents the production of squares 1/3 grown or larger until the first week in July. Squares smaller than 1/3 grown will not support the development of boll weevil larvae. Since boll weevils survive 10 to 22 days after they emerge from overwintering habitat only those female weevils that emerge after mid June in most years can survive long enough to deposit their eggs in squares that will support the larvae. Uniform planting does not cost anything but when all producers cooperate it will reduce the weevil infestation level and damage during the entire growing season.

Data from boll weevil traps in 1982 indicated that overwintered boll weevil emerged into late June and in some cases early July. These later emerging boll weevils infested the earlier planted fields. The cool conditions last year apparently allowed the weevils to emerge later and survive until after 1/3 grown squares were present in the earliest planted fields.

Temperatures this past winter have not been low enough to greatly reduce overwintered weevil populations. According to information provided by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station Entomologist, Dr. J. E. Slosser and Mr. Rex Price as of March 21, 25% of the overwintered weevils have survived. In years of severe winter conditions only 5% survival has been observed.

Because of this high level of weevil survival it is imperative that producers wait until the uniform planting date to plant their cotton. Weather conditions this spring will be important in determining the number of weevils that survive long enough to infest cotton. Warmer conditions in May and June will get a higher percentage of the weevils out earlier. Weather conditions in July will determine the level of weevil population increase. A larger weevil population can be expected if temperatures are below normal and above average rainfall is received during July.

Because of the high level of participation in the PIK program, many fields near favorable weevil overwinter habitat where boll weevils have been a major problem in the past will not be planted. The overwintered weevil that would have infested these fields will have to move to neighboring fields to find cotton. The longer it takes them to locate squaring cotton the higher will be the level of mortality. Earlier planted fields that are not usually infested with overwintered weevils may be infested because of the movement of these overwintered weevils. Boll weevil pheromone traps have proven effective in determining the need for early season weevil control where weevils have been a major problem in the past. The traps must be in place several weeks prior to the 1/3 grown square stage to obtain reliable information on the number of overwintered weevils moving into the field. The need for early season weevil control can be based on the number of weevils caught in pheromone traps the week prior to the 1/3 grown square stage. This technique was developed by Dr. D. R. Rummell, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station

Pate Meinzer, Old Time Area Cowboy, Succumbs

Pate Meinzer, 65, of Benjamin, one of the oldtime cowboys of this area, passed away at 2:55 p.m. Tuesday, April 26, 1983, at the Knox County Hospital following a long period of illness.

A native of Knox County, Meinzer was born on January 13, 1918, in Truscott, and spent his entire life on the ranges of Knox County. He married Earlene Cole on January 25, 1947, in Seymour.

Mr. Meinzer had been a cowboy on the League Ranch for many years. A quiet, unassuming person, he was proud of his role as a cowboy. It was a life he loved and knew best.

He was elected justice of the peace for Knox County Precinct 2 in 1982, but his health prevented him from serving in this capacity for very long. He was a member of and a deacon in the First Baptist Church of Benjamin.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Friday from the First Baptist Church in Benjamin with Rev. Clyde McCullough of Texas City and Rev. K. E. Woolley, retired Baptist minister of Benjamin, officiating. Burial was in Benjamin Cemetery under direction of Smith Funeral Home of Knox City.

Serving as pallbearers were Tyke Meinzer, Gene House, Mike House, Ned Jones, Claude Jennings and Kenneth Benson. Named as honorary pallbearers were two other well-known cowboys, Jack Idol, former manager of the League Estate, and Togo Moorhouse of the Moorhouse Ranch.

Surviving him are his wife, of the home; two sons, Wyman Meinzer of Benjamin and Rick Meinzer of Rhineland; a daughter, Pattie Traveria of Frederick, Md.; five brothers, Doug Meinzer of Knox City, Lewis Meinzer of Childress, Bob Meinzer of Albuquerque, N.M., Walter (Buck) Meinzer of Seymour and Wylie Joe Meinzer of Wichita Falls; two sisters, Nella Beth Swanner of Arlington and Claudia Renthrop of Midland; and three grandchildren.

LOCAL
Staff Sgt. Ken Booe of Bergstrom Air Force Base, Austin, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Booe.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Irland of Big Spring were here over the weekend to visit Mrs. Irland's sisters, Merle Dings and Ina Cowan, and with friends. Merle returned home with the Irlands for a visit.

Large Crowd Attends Singing

Out of town singers were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Williams and Mrs. Reba Wheatley, Haskell; Sue Conners, Rule; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Robertson and Marie Parker, Red Springs; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Christ and Ruby Magee, Knox City. A good crowd of local people attended.

After singing from 7:00 to 9:00, refreshments were served. All who attended expressed their enjoyment of the evening.

The Senior Citizens would like to thank everyone for attending and especially Mrs. Christ and Eunice Raynes for sharing time at the piano and Tom Christ, Lloyd Robertson, Marie Parker and Keith Davis along with Nolan Phillips for leading the songs for us. We surely do appreciate all of the help we received.

THESE YOUNG MEN won major awards at the Munday FFA banquet last week. James Tidwell, left, a senior, won the DeKalb award, which is presented yearly to an outstanding student. Todd Thompson, center, was named Star Greenhand for being the top beginning ag student. Bryan Kuehler, at right, also a senior, was named outstanding Farm Power student. The Star Chapter Farmer, Ruben Escamilla, is not pictured.

Annual FFA Banquet Held Friday Night

Various farming and agriculture awards were presented to members of the Munday Future Farmers of America at the annual FFA banquet held Friday, April 29.

A meal of barbecue, beans, potato salad, rolls and peach cobbler was served to the FFA members, their parents, advisors and special guests. Paul Wright provided musical entertainment during the meal. Dent Offutt gave the invocation.

The opening ceremony was given by the chapter officers, led by president Danny Hertel. Other officers are Danny Sloan, vice-president; Greg Urbanczyk, secretary; James Tidwell, treasurer; Paul Wright, reporter; Chris Moore, sentinel; and Kregg Sanders and Dent Offutt, historians.

Each officer introduced his parents, and Kregg Sanders introduced special guests, who were members of the Munday school board, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Lowrance and Mr. and Mrs. Doug Donoho. Chapter president Danny Hertel introduced the 1982-83 FFA sweetheart, Kristi Smith.

Presentation of Greenhand degrees was conducted by Chris Moore. Danny Sloan presented Chapter Farmer degrees.

The highlight of the evening was the presentation of awards by Eddy Nelson and Greg Rawdon, chapter advisors. Todd Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Thompson, won the Star Greenhand award. Ruben Escamilla, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Escamilla, was named Star Chapter Farmer.

After Mr. Rawdon introduced the third-year vocational agriculture class and the farm power class, he presented Bryan Kuehler the award for the outstanding farm power student. Bryan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Kuehler.

The DeKalb award, which is presented every year to an outstanding senior member of each chapter, went to James Tidwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tidwell.

Every year the FFA members select a person or persons who they feel have been most supportive and helpful to the vocational agriculture program. This year the Honorary Chapter Farmer degrees went to John Reneau of Munday and the Brazos Valley Young Farmers. Dale Bloxham accepted the award for the group. The winners were given plaques and certificates by the officers.

Proficiency awards were presented by Paul Wright to the following students: Todd Thompson, crop production; Shawn Cude, diversified livestock; Kregg Sanders, beef; Scott Jackson, rabbits; Neil Waggoner, sheep; Scotty Jackson, poultry; and Jeannine Smith Echols, swine.

Greg Urbanczyk recognized Mark Brown as the top fruit salesman for this year, and Mark was presented with a check. Second top salesman was Terry Shields, and he was also given a monetary award. Others recognized in the fruit sales were Jerry Shields, Shawn Cude, Dent Offutt, Leandro Hernandez, Scotty Jackson, Tony Wilde, Jeannine Echols, Ray Killian, Danny Hertel, Frankie Stinnett, Kregg Sanders and Russell Smith.

James Tidwell introduced the various FFA teams which participated in contests this year. The FFA quiz team placed sixth in district competition. The junior grass judging team won second place in the Miller-Brazos Soil and Water Conservation District contest, and the tractor mechanics team placed first in area competition and eighth at the state level. The chapter also received the State Superior Chapter Rating Award.

The officers presented their closing ceremony to end the banquet.

Future Teachers Learn The Ropes

Wednesday, May 4, was the day of the elementary track meet and the annual Student Teacher Day. Members of the Munday FFA Chapter each year spend one day teaching a class in elementary or junior high school. This gives the student valuable experience in the teaching field as well as helps them to understand more about the role of a teacher in the learning environment.

Cooperating teachers provide lesson plans for the student teachers and assist them in their preparation to teach. In addition, many teachers sit in on their classes to observe the student teacher.

Students get "hands-on" experience in everything from roll call to recess. They also have lunchroom duty, which the students enjoy because they receive teacher's plates complete with iced tea.

The students also accompany the elementary children to the track meet and help maintain order.

FTA members look forward to this day each year and many have decided (or decided not!) to teach after participating in this annual project.

Land Bank Drops Loan Interest Rates

Interest rates on Land Bank variable rate loans will be reduced to 11.00 percent on farm loans and to 11.50 percent on rural residence and farm-related business loans effective May 1, 1983, said Dale E. Bullinger, president of the Federal Land Bank Association of Haskell.

In addition, the Land Bank has reduced its Bank closed loan fees to 1 percent on farm loans and to 2 percent on rural residence and farm-related business loans, according to Thomas H. Benson, president of the Federal Land Bank of Texas. These reduced fees are effective April 25, 1983.

"The adjustments follow reductions made earlier this year," Benson said. On January 1, 1983, the Bank's interest rate on farm loans was lowered to 11.25 percent. The interest rate for rural residence and farm-related business loans was lowered to 11.75 percent. Bank closed loan fees subsequently were reduced in February from 4 to 2 percent on farm loans and from 7 to 4 percent on rural residence and farm-related business loans. The fee reduction was made possible, Benson said, by the decrease in the Bank's cost of funds.

The Federal Land Bank Association of Haskell makes long-term real estate loans in the counties of Haskell, Jones, Knox and Baylor.

An Honest Man Lives In Munday

What would you do if you found a $20 bill lying on the street? Most of us might decide the old rule about "finders keepers" would apply. But not Aaron Edgar.

As Mr. Edgar walked across North Munday Ave. from the Munday Courier office to the M-System one day last week, he spied a $20 bill about mid-way across the street. He picked it up and did as his conscience bade him, walked on to the store and asked a clerk if anyone had mentioned losing some money. She replied that yes, a young man had been very upset over losing $20. After inquiring as to the identity of the man, Mr. Edgar began searching for him.

Deciding to go home and use the telephone to trace the owner, Mr. Edgar remembered he had just picked up his new Big Country phone book at the post office and it was still in his vehicle. So he looked up the address and drove to the house to turn the money over to the rightful owner, who was understandably very grateful.

This chain of events is rather unusual in itself, as money that is lost is often lost forever. It was just coincidence that the money had not blown away from the scene of the loss, that the persons who lost it said so in the store, and that Mr. Edgar asked the right clerk if she knew anything about the loss.

But the biggest coincidence is that Mr. Edgar was the one who found the money. Wonder what would have happened if someone else had found it? *****

Munday Girls Take Wins At 4-H Roundup

Members of the Munday Junior 4-H participated in two contests last week, a method demonstration and illustrated talk workshop in Benjamin on Tuesday, April 26, and the District III 4-H Roundup at Midwestern State University in Wichita Falls on Saturday, April 30. At the workshop, Andrea Longan and Brandi Crawford gave a demonstration and talk on nutrition entitled "How To Fix Your Own Lunch". These girls are in pre-4-H.

April Offutt and Ann Parker talked about pet companionship and Robin and Jae Jae Reneau used sheep as their topic. Angie Offutt had an entomology demonstration about bees. Kacy Longan and Dixie Reid participated in the open class, and demonstrated their ventriloquism talents.

These illustrated talks were given before a crowd of parents and 4-H leaders, and all the girls except Andrea and Brandi advanced to the District Roundup.

At the Roundup, Kacy and Dixie won first place in the open class with their ventriloquism act. Robin and Jae Jae also had first place in sheep and goat production and in nutrition. Angie took third in the entomology division.

Parents of all these girls are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Longan, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Parker, Mr. and Mrs. John Reneau, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Offutt and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Reid.
