ON U.S. 277 IN MUNDAY

State Highway Department Proposes New Construction

A number of Munday residents gathered at City Hall Monday night for a public meeting concerning the construction of a four-lane highway on U.S. 277 from the east city limits of Munday to the Haskell County line.

Munday mayor Doris Dickerson introduced Lewis W. White of Childress, an engineer with the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. White gave a brief description of the project limits, what is hoped to be accomplished in changing the highway's location in Munday and why the project is being proposed.

Jim Freeman, resident engineer with the Childress department, outlined the three routes that have been proposed, stressing the route recommended by the Highway Department and why it is favored. The department recommends this route because of its safety factor and because it is the least expensive.

Estimates on the recommended proposal are $666,610 for right-of-way expense, $107,500 for relocation expense and $2.7 million for construction expense. The city and county will be required to finance 10 percent of the right-of-way cost.

Harold Canup presented figures for three right-of-way routes, and these figures and other details can be seen at the Highway Department office in Munday. He also explained how the appraisals would be made and how details of relocation of persons displaced by the new route would be handled.

Some concern was voiced that straightening of the highway through Munday would cause faster traffic, but highway department officials stated the local police department would have to handle this problem.

Another question asked was whether the new highway could utilize the existing drainage facilities that the city has recently completed. It was stated that these facilities would be used and would probably benefit from work on the highway. This project, officials said, should help the existing drainage problems south of Munday on U.S. 277.

The state officials voiced their hope that the right-of-way requisition could be initiated in two years. This would be followed by construction when right-of-way and relocation of displaced persons are completed.

More information concerning this project will be published by the Courier when it is available.

Gardeners Review Flower Show Plans

Members of the Munday Garden Club met for a salad luncheon Tuesday, April 2, in the fellowship hall of the Munday Church of Christ. Mrs. Joe Roberts presided over the business meeting, and various committee reports were given and discussed.

Mrs. Wes Kirschner, program leader, introduced Juanita Rhea and Bernadine Blankenship of Haskell. Mrs. Rhea has been chairman of the Haskell flower show for the past 19 years. She spoke to the group on how to organize a flower show, how to section shrubs, vines and potted plant entries and how to arrange roses, blubs and artistic groupings. She also gave some tips on how to groom roses and iris for artistic arrangements and how to judge these flowers.

Plans are in the making for the club's spring flower show, and more information will be released when the plans are final.

Write-In Candidates Are Goree Election Winners

Write-in votes played a big part in the Goree municipal elections Saturday. A write-in candidate won a spot on the Goree school board, and another will resume his former mayor's position by virtue of a write-in victory.

George Cotton will take over as mayor of Goree when votes are officially canvassed. Felton Jackson declined to take the spot this year, and the race was up for grabs when no one filed. Cotton received 63 write-in votes over a host of other candidates. Sharing in the ballots were Bob Presnall, 6; Chester Smith, 5; Richard Hutchens, 3; Felton Jackson, 3; James Peek, 2; and Billy Don Hutchens, Wayne Birkenfeld, Taylor Allen, E.B.

Hosea, Lee Patterson, Glynn Weaver and Marge Allen, one each.

The race for two city council positions was a little more cut-and-dried; Chester Smith won 93 votes and Barton Carl had 68 to reclaim their positions. Don Estes received 5 write-in votes, George Cotton garnered 3 and T.J. Trainham received one.

Six persons were vying for three spots on the Goree Independent School District board of trustees. Incumbent Jerry Atkinson led the voting with 82, Darrell Patterson received 56 and write-in candidate Terri Elliott was elected with 44 votes. Other candidates were Glynn Weaver, 43; incumbent Randy Jones, 28; Gayle Hudson, 26; and

IN SCHOOL BOARD ELECTION

Offutt, Incumbents Win Trustee Seats

One new trustee was elected to the Munday Independent School District in Saturday's election, and a former councilman will resume his place in city government after running unopposed.

Phillip McAfee, Dan Offutt and John B. Reneau III were the top three vote-getters in the school board election. McAfee led the balloting with 151, Offutt received 145 and Reneau had 135. The fourth candidate for the three spots, James Reid, garnered 95 votes.

McAfee and Reneau are incumbents on the school board. Offutt will replace Spike Bryan, who did not file for re-election.

Garon Tidwell received 128 votes in the city council election, followed by Jessie Andrade with 126 and Jessie Tucker with 124. Tucker and Tidwell are incumbents, and Andrade returns to the council after a short absence. The other incum-

When asked her impression of Knox County, Dr. Barretto said, "We are really getting to like it." The family has only been in the area a few days, and she begins her duties at the clinics this week. The family is living in Knox City.

Water Tower Project Still Short On Funds

Several persons have inquired how the fund for painting the Munday water tower is progressing. City officials received an estimate for the paint work needed and found it will cost $975.

According to bank records, as of March 31 the fund contained $436.26, so less than half the required amount has been donated.

Several MHS alumni have donated money to paint the tower to commemorate the Moguls' state football championship. Checks for this fund may be sent to the First National Bank in Munday, the City of Munday, or the Courier.

Return Band Calendar Orders By Monday

Munday Band Boosters are reminding everyone to be sure and return band calendar order forms by Monday, April 22. By sending your money to the Band Boosters, you will receive a calendar in the mail when they are printed next August.

The address is printed on the form and the return date is on the back. Club officials say they need the forms back by April 22 so work on the calendars can proceed as soon as possible.

Farm And Ranch Report

DAVID TUNMIRE, COUNTY AGENT

PRODUCERS SET COTTON PLANTING DATE

Knox County cotton producers met April 1 to set the uniform planting date for the county. May 20 was over-whelmingly selected as the planting date by the producers. Vernal Zeissel presided over the meeting which was co-sponsored by the Knox County Boll Weevil Association and Knox County Crops Committee.

The date was selected based on recommendations by Emory Boring, Extension Entomologist, and the Boll Weevil Association and Crops Committee. Zeissel told the producers that the date selected needed to be one which all the producers could work with and still reduce boll weevil damage.

Production of first one-third grown squares will be delayed until July 1 by selecting May 20 as the planting date. Most overwintered boll weevils have died by July 1. Only surviving female boll weevils are able to deposit their eggs in those squares. Squares less than one-third grown are not large enough to support a developing boll weevil.

Boring pointed out that peak boll weevil emergence generally occurs the last week of May or first week of June. Research has shown that boll weevils typically live from 10 to 22 days after they emerge from wintering habitat when they do not have squares to feed upon. The uniform planting date along with typical weather conditions of the area can reduce weevil populations in most of the area to the point that boll weevils cause little cotton damage.

Early planting will provide the boll weevil with early food and egg laying sites. This can result in the production of an additional weevil generation and larger weevil populations during the entire 1985 cotton production season.

LEAF RUST

Conditions have been ideal for wheat and prospects for a good wheat crop couldn't be better. These conditions have also been favorable for wheat leaf rust.

Last week I examined several fields with produces looking for leaf rust. We found very little rust and most of it was located on the lower leaves.

Leaf rust is easily identified. Small, round yellow or yellowish brown pustules form on the leaves which can be rubbed off by one's finger.

Rust on the lower leaves will not substantially reduce yields, but caution must be exercised to avoid damage to the flag leaf. A high percentage of head filling is dependent on the flag leaf. If the flag leaf and the two leaves immediately below it are destroyed before head filling, total loss may occur.

Three chemicals fungicides available to control wheat leaf rust, Bayleton, Manzate 200 and Dithane M-45. Bayleton is a systemic, where as the other two are protectants.

While the systemic material is much more expensive, it has a much longer residual as well as some curative action. The protectant fungicides prevent infection only and have no effect after the fungus is inside the tissue.

The potential of a wheat leaf rust problem is present in the county. The decision whether or not to use a fungicide will have to be made on a field to field basis depending on the variety, amount of rust and yield of potential.

It's A Boy

My name is Brian Urbanczyk and I must tell you about the most exciting thing that happened at my house. My mommy and daddy, Kerri and Mike, went to Wichita Falls and came home with a baby brother for me.

I wanted to name the baby Flossie, but mommy and daddy insisted on Aaron Jeffrey for a name.

Jeffrey was born Friday, April 5, 1985, and weighed 8 pounds, 1 ounce and was 22 inches long.

Grandparents include Kenneth and Joye Baker and Buddy and Peggy Urbanczyk. Our great-grandparents are C.P. Baker, Mrs. Edna Lemley, Mrs. Anna Urbanczyk and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Parks. Mrs. J.E. Tomlinson is our great-great-grandmother.

April 12 Deadline For Contracts On 1985 Crop Peanuts

A handler may contract with a producer to buy additional peanuts from the producer for export or crushing, or both, if a contract is properly filed. The amount contracted on a given farm is the amount agreed to by the producer and the handler. However, the producer may not deliver and the handler may not purchase under contract, additional peanuts produced in excess of the pounds shown on the contract and marketing card.

These contracts must be filed with the ASCS office where your farm is carried by Friday, April 12 in order to be valid.

This applies only to contracts to purchase additional peanuts directly from the producer.

A contract is not required to grow non-quota peanuts but without a contract the only guarantee is the $147 per ton loan price. The non-quota peanuts must either go to the loan or be sold for export or crushing.

Local Gymnasts Make Showing In Canadian Meet

Two members of the Munday Gym-Dandeez, Alicia Cook of Munday and Dusty Bradley of Knox City, along with two other gymnasts, one from Graham and the other from Throckmorton, traveled to St. Bruno, Canada to compete in the 1985 American Invitational Cup, 3rd Edition.

The four-member team, the Tri-City Boogie Bounders, was coached by John Mix of Graham. The group left on Thursday and returned home on Sunday, enjoying all the activities which included a banquet held Saturday night for the participants, coaches and families.

Five countries participated in the meet, including Sweden, Canada, Scotland, Great Britain and the United States. The Tri-City Boogie Bounders were the only team from Texas and they competed against 250 competitors. The gymnasts competed against an all-ages group which consisted of mostly older competitors.

Alicia placed 12th on the floor exercise and 15th on the double mini-trampoline, competing against 19 other entries.

Dusty competed against six other gymnasts and received a first place on the floor exercise, second on trampoline and third on the double mini-trampoline.

Alicia is the daughter of Johnnie and Stacia Cook and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dorse Collins of Munday. Dusty is the son of Sandy and Max Bradley of Knox City and the grandson of Leta Stubblefield of Munday.

Pink Ladies Donate Lighting System To County Hospital

The Knox County Hospital has again been the recipient of a much needed and very costly item, thanks to the generosity of the Knox County Hospital Auxiliary.

A new lighting system was recently installed in the delivery room in the obstetrics department of the hospital. This gift to the hospital from the Pink Ladies was purchased through the Healthcare Equipment Company of Dallas and is a Skytron product, the same type used in the hospital's surgery department. The cost of this item was $4,363.00, and it was paid in full when it was installed.

The Pink Ladies offer thanks to friends who so generously contribute to their re-sale store located one-half block south of the intersection of Highway 222 and Highway 6 in Knox City.

The women of the auxiliary explained that nothing in their store is ever wasted. After being on display for several months, things that do not seem to be needed in this area are transported, at the auxiliary's expense, to the Goodwill Center in Abilene, where they are gratefully received.

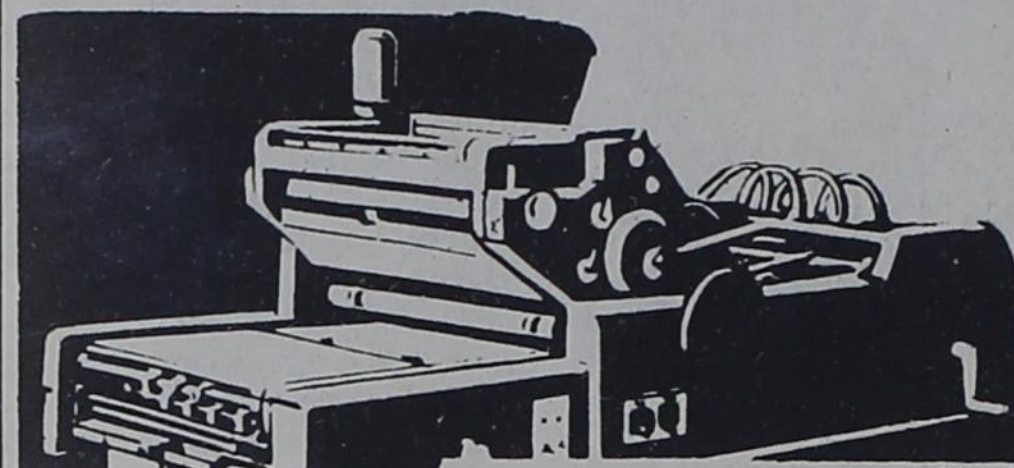

All local residents are invited to come to the store to donate, to purchase or just to visit. It is open from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week.

These faithful volunteers are to be commended for their service to the hospital and the citizens of the county.

County Considered For Nuclear Waste Disposal

It was learned last week that Knox County is one of 16 counties being considered as possible locations for a low-level nuclear waste dump. Other counties being studied by the Texas Low-Level Nuclear Waste Disposal Authority are Andrews, Brewster, Crane, Culberson, Duval, Ector, Hudspeth, Leon, Loving, Presidio, Trinity, Upton, Ward, Webb and Winkler.

Knox County had been considered before as a waste repository location, but a storm of protest broke out and authorities began looking elsewhere.

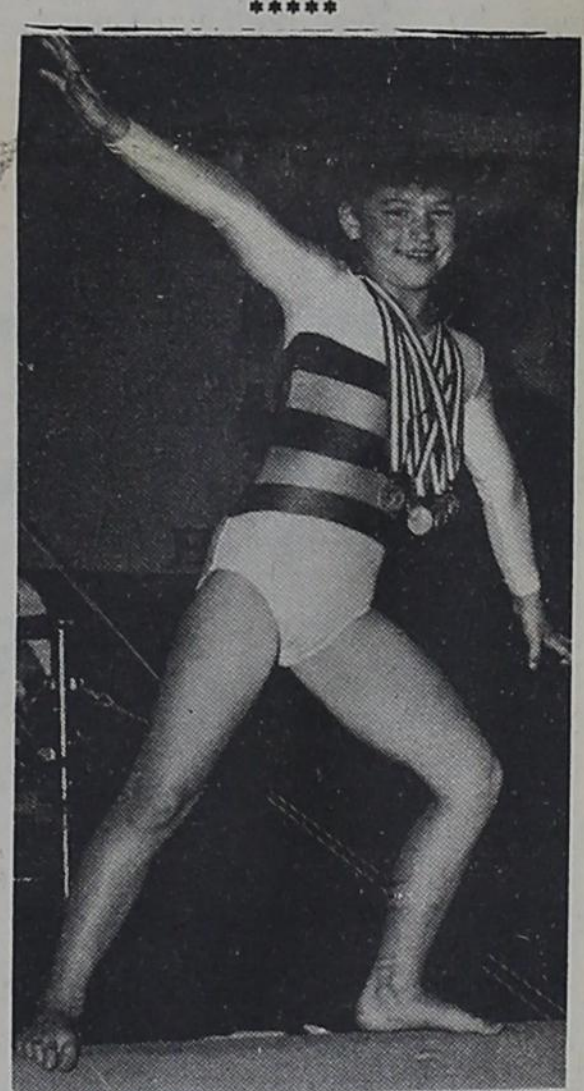

The waste disposal agency is looking for state-owned land for the dump site, and the Texas land commissioner's office lists two parcels of land in Knox County that are owned by the state. These tracts are northwest and south of Truscott, both in about a five-mile radius of that community.

Rob Harrison of Knox City, who led the protest against the dump site proposal before, has been in contact with authorities during the past several days. He said they informed him that preliminary paperwork was being done, and Knox County was being considered "on paper." But it will be four to five months before any further plans are made.

Harrison said a bill that passed the Senate in March and has been presented before the House of Representatives would wipe out the possibility of a waste disposal being located in that area. The bill prohibits the construction of above-ground or below-ground nuclear waste disposals within 20 miles of a reservoir that is under construction, has been recently constructed or a site to be constructed. As Truscott is the site of a brine lake, this law would apply in the situation.

Harrison said he would wait for more information from the waste disposal authority before lodging any further protests.

SUZANNA MOORE, daughter of Major and Mrs. Philip Moore of Altus Air Force Base and granddaughter of W.R. and Wynette Moore of Munday, won the all-around championship in the 9-11 age division of the Oklahoma State Class IV Gymnastics Championships held recently. She also won the state title in all age groups on the bars, taking runner-up honors on the beam and floor exercises and winning third on the vault.

Moguls Race Past Class AA Opponents

Both varsity and junior varsity Moguls completely ran off and left their competition at the Electra Tiger Relays last Friday. The Moguls won their division with 148 points, and their closest competitor, Olney, only had 90 points. In the JV meet, Munday earned 175 points to 145 for Childress. It was noted that the Moguls placed in every event in their meet, while the JV boys placed in all but one of their contests.

The Mogulettes placed fourth in their division with 49 points behind Bridgeport, Olney and Haskell. The girls' prospects for a good showing at the district meet are looking better all the time, as they have been consistently scoring more points than other Class A teams in various meets.

CONSUMER ALERT

by
Jim Mattox
Attorney General

"NO SALE" ON BUYING CLUBS

Wouldn't it be nice if you could join a club that would allow you to save 50 percent off the normal retail price of all merchandise? My Consumer Protection attorneys tell me there are a number of buying clubs now telling Texans that they can do just that. Unfortunately, these claims are not always true.

THE PITCH

● Salesmen at buying clubs frequently lure in their customers by promising a nice gift. In one instance, consumers were promised that they would receive a food processor for attending a presentation. What they actually got was two cheap knives!

Once the club has the consumer on the premises, the salesperson may represent that the club can save them many dollars on all sorts of items, including furniture, appliances, automobiles, dishes, jewelry, and other common purchases. This claim may prove to be false. Some consumers have found that they could have paid the same prices, or less, by shopping at regular or discount stores in their hometowns.

● So the consumers were stuck with a membership worth virtually nothing, even though they paid $500 to $800 for it. Some consumers learned that they could NOT easily return the items they purchased through the club either, even though the purchases were not what they appeared to be in the catalogue.

● Some buying clubs tell prospective members that they can give them a chance to join only once. If you hear such a statement, beware. It is a sure sign of a high pressure sales pitch. Don't be fooled by statements like "federal law requires us to make this offer only once." There is no such law.

In this situation, as in any that requires a substantial outlay of money, it is always best to think about the purchase for a few days. If it's really a good deal, it won't disappear overnight.

If you have been taken in by a buying club or you feel that you have been a victim of deceptive business practices, you may file a complaint with my Consumer Protection Division.

Motion Sickness Is Annual Summer Vacation Complaint

Whether your summer vacation takes you to the halls of Montezuma or the shores of Tripoli, you could end up fighting motion sickness in the air, on land, or at sea.

Surveys have found that about nine of every 10 people have experienced this disorder. Experts agree that no one is immune to motion sickness, given the right conditions in extreme.

The Texas Medical Association notes that many people are affected only by certain types of motion. A person who feels no queasiness riding in an airplane or the back seat of a car may be no match for the rock and roll of a boat.

The cause of motion sickness is not fully known but the problem centers on the inner ear, an organ not only of sound but of balance. The inner ear contains three hollow tubes filled with fluid. As the body moves, the shifting of this fluid sends signals to the brain to let you know the direction your body is moving. The inner ear also is sensitive to gravity's pull.

But usually the problem also involves the sense of sight. An example is reading while in the back seat of a car. While the inner ear registers the car's movement, the eyes are fixed on a book that is not moving in relation to the reader.

Sensory conflict occurs, and symptoms of motion sickness arrive. They can include pale skin color, yawning, restlessness, a cold sweat, and sometimes a slightly upset stomach. Excessive mouth watering, nausea, and vomiting may follow.

Preventing motion sickness is easier than treating it. Place yourself where there is the least motion. In a car, sit in the front seat and look ahead. In an airplane, sit over the wing. On a ship, remain on deck about midway.

If possible, lie on your back in a semi-reclined position. Look ahead at the distant horizon. Children in cars should be elevated in the front seat so they can see the horizon.

Drugs also may help. At least three over-the-counter antihistamines and several prescription drugs can be effective in preventing motion sickness. A disk form of the prescription drug scopolamine is stuck behind the ear and absorbed through the skin.

Governor Pledges No Retreat From Education Reforms

By Governor Mark White

AUSTIN—We are now entering the second half of the 69th Legislative Session, and I am pleased that there has been no retreat from the educational reforms adopted last summer.

While the state faces unprecedented budget constraints, the Legislature is honoring its earlier commitment to increase state funding for teacher salaries, equalization aid to poor school districts, and early childhood programs.

By keeping the education reform package intact, Texas lawmakers are making the future of children a priority. Providing the highest quality public school education is the most important investment we can make in the future of our state.

I do support changes in last summer's reform legislation that would improve our ability to achieve educational excellence. One such bill, sponsored by Rep. Bill Haley, clarifies the authority of educators to expell students who carry weapons, use controlled substances, or assault other students or teachers.

This change will make it possible to provide a school environment where learning can take place, and I support that. At the same time, the Haley bill does not alter our new emphasis on keeping students with more minor discipline problems in alternative education classes and off the streets.

Texas teachers support efforts to put more emphasis on academics, but they should not be expected to pay for that support by spending more time filling out forms and filing lesson plans. At my request, the Texas Education Agency (TEA) has sent letters to all school districts to clarify that none of the educational reforms should be interpreted as requiring more paperwork from our teachers.

The TEA has also installed a toll-free number—1-800-252-3575—that the public can call for answers to their questions about the education reforms contained in House Bill 72.

The hotline has been in operation for a month, and it is no surprise that the greatest number of questions has centered on what has been called the "no pass, no play" rule.

No one denies the importance of extracurricular activities in the lives of our young people. I want schoolchildren to have the chance to play sports, take a band or choir trip, or show a prize-winning animal at a livestock show.

But I also want our children to be able to read, write, perform math problems, and operate the computers that are becoming part of our way of life.

I do not think it is unfair to expect our children to work before they play or to master their schoolwork before they master the football, the french horn, or the school play.

The success of the Houston Madison High School basketball team illustrates that we are not setting an unrealistic standard by requiring students to make passing grades to participate in extracurricular activities.

The Houston Madison Marlins won the 5A Boy's State Championship on March 9—finishing the season with an impressive 40-0 record.

None of the team was sidelined by bad grades due, in large part, to an academic counseling program initiated in 1982 by the school's principal Carrie McAtee. This program enlists teachers, coaches and counselors in a team effort to monitor students' progress in the classroom and to provide tutorials before a student's grades dip to the failing mark.

This program has made Houston-Madison a winner on the basketball court and in the classroom. I am confident that the state's education reform program will see that kind of success duplicated in schools across Texas.

Radial Keratotomy Gets Good Marks In Recent Study

At first, the idea of carving up the clear outer surface of the human eye to improve vision no doubt seemed drastic and risky.

Now this medical procedure, called radial keratotomy, is gaining more and more acceptance as research continues. A recent study by the National Eye Institute brought encouraging news about this operation for reducing nearsightedness.

Results from the first year of the five-year study indicate that the procedure may be a relatively safe and effective alternative to corrective lenses.

Researchers warn, however, that radial keratotomy has been performed in the U.S. only since 1978, and long-term problems might not show up for 10 to 30 years. The American Academy of Ophthalmology regards radial keratotomy as an "investigational procedure" whose short-term benefits of better sight should be weighed against the possibility of problems later.

The Texas Medical Association says the procedure involves making eight to 16 tiny slashes in the cornea, a clear, dime-sized covering about as thick as a credit card. The slashes run from a point near the center of the cornea to the edge—like the spokes of a wheel.

The cuts weaken the cornea, allow internal pressure to form bulges at the cornea's edges, and flatten its center. This flattening refocuses the light entering the eye to eliminate nearsightedness, the inability to see distant objects clearly.

The recent study of 413 patients at nine U.S. medical centers consisted of 69 percent who had 20/200 vision or worse in the eye, meaning that the only eye-chart letter they could read was the big E. All but one of the 413 had worse than 20/40 vision, the minimum required in most states to get a driver's license without corrective lenses.

One year after surgery, 78 percent of the 413 had 20/40 vision or better in the eye operated on. The most common problems were "under-correction" and "over-correction." But the study's director reported "no severe vision-threatening complications at one year."

Vision in an eye may not stabilize for up to a year after surgery, the study notes, but nearsightedness generally decreases during this period. Radial keratotomy reduced nearsightedness in all eyes in the study but was particularly effective on those with better vision initially.

Mrs. Marilyn Preslar of Dallas visited her mother, Mrs. Chester Bowden, last week.

Knox County Konections

L. JANE LOCKNANE
COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT - HOME ECONOMICS

April 21-27 is National Consumer's Week. Actually every week is consumer's week at the county Extension office. Remember that we have research based information on many consumer topics. I hope the following consumer information will be useful to you.

CUSTODIAL ACCOUNTS FOR CHILDREN

If you have young children, you might want to consider opening custodial accounts for them under the Uniform Gifts to Minors Act. Regular savings can be deposited into the account. The interest the account earns will be taxable to the child, but because children are likely to be in the zero tax bracket, earnings are essentially tax-free. If the same amount of money was saved in a parent's account, they would be subject to tax at the parent's considerably higher tax bracket. In order to open a custodial account, each child must have a social security number. Check with a financial institution or financial planner about specific terms and conditions that apply to custodial accounts.

ELECTRONIC FEATURES COST

Consumers are buying appliances that have many electronic features without considering future maintenance and service costs. Electronic circuit boards are more sensitive to power surges and fluctuations which may result in damage. So in addition to the extra cost of these features which can be as much as $100, the cost of repairs and maintenance over the life of the appliance may be extensive.

WOMEN'S TELEVISION VIEWING HABITS

Except for the teenage years, women watch more television than men in every age category. The A.C. Neilson figures for October, 1984, show that teenage girls watch almost 18½ hours of T.V. each week. Women 18-34 watch almost 30 hours, and women 35-54, watch a little over 30 hours each week. Women over 55 watch slightly over 40 hours per week. Neilson does not report separate figures on T.V. viewership for women who work outside the home. But some researchers do note that 7 out of 10 shows frequently taped on home VCR's are soap operas.

Do You Require Printed Records For 1983 Or Earlier?

If you will ever need printed records for any prescription we have filled for you in the year 1983 or earlier, you must call today and request such information. There will be a $5.00 charge for any printout for 1983 or earlier. After April 30 we will be unable to supply printed information on prescriptions filled during 1983 or earlier.

When our new 40 Megabyte Disk Drive is installed in early May, prescription data for the years 1983 and earlier will be in an obsolete language and our new disk drive will not be able to retrieve information from our Computer History Packs. However, upon installation of the new disk drive, we will be able to supply customers with next day service on printed prescription information for insurance or tax purposes for prescriptions filled in 1984 and 1985.

TEXANS CAN BREEZE THROUGH SUMMER WITHOUT HIGH COSTS

Impossible? No. Some Texans are already making it though the entire summer without turning on their air conditioners. Others are finding "it's a breeze" to control summer cooling costs. There are less expensive ways to achieve comfort in hot weather than relying totally on your home air conditioner. The key is finding cooling strategies that work for you.

Texas homeowners have responded to rising utility costs by turning up the thermostat on the air conditioner--but still budgeting more of their income for summer utility bills. Texans also have learned to turn off their air-conditioners as often as possible -- certainly during the day if the home is unoccupied. They are closing off unused rooms and are using fans to help circulate the conditioned air.

If this is the extent of your cooling strategy, you may be missing out on significant dollar savings. A comprehensive whole-house cooling strategy can reduce summer utility bills as much as 30 to 40 percent. *****
