"Water, Water everywhere. And all the boards did shrink; Water, water everywhere, Nor any drop to drink!" -- excerpt from "The Rime of The Ancient Mariner" by Samuel Taylor Coleridge. "Did you ever have to haul water?"

This question was asked us recently. We don't exactly know why, except that the person doing the asking is kinda like we are--old enough to be living in the past.

"Yes," we replied.

At one time, as a very young boy, we lived on a rented farm where the household water supply came from a well that was dug down almost at the bottom of a canyon. Water was brought from the bottom by means of a bucket, rope and pulley. Then it was "wagged" up a pretty steep incline for a kid to the farm home.

Moguls Blank Anson Tigers In Season's Opener Friday

PRICE 20c

In a non-district game marred by fumbles, the fighting Moguls of Munday High School managed to hold on long enough to overcome Anson's Tigers on the local field, raking up a decisive 24-0 score over the Class 8-AA team.

A wet football and cases of opening PAT failed. game jitters helped contribute to 13 fumbles during the game and numerous other loose ball recoveries by the offense.

The Tigers from Anson invaded Scruggs field, hoping to reverse last year's loss to the Moguls, however, they ran into a stubborn defense which thwarted their dream.

The Mogul defense held the Tigers to a minus 14 yards in the first period, forcing five fumbles by the Tiger backfield. The Mogul defense "sputtered" itself, too, losing two fumbles in the first half of play. It was deep in the second quarter before any points were put on the scoreboard, when gears seemed to mesh for the Moguls. Chris Moore hit Dave Hunter with a seven-yard pass for the first counter, with 6:22 left on the clock. The extra point try failed. After the kickoff, the Tigers were forced to punt from their 17-yard line. A clipping penalty against the Moguls erased a touchdown, but seven plays later Moses Dena scored from one yard out, with 54 seconds left on the clock. The score was 12-0 at halftime. The Mogul offense began to move in the third stanza, but were stopped twice by a fumble and a pass interception. Munday had 97 yards rushing and six first downs.

Mogul's third touchdown. The hard-hitting Moguls forced another turnover on the kickoff, and 16 three plays later Quincy Adams ran 25 252 yards off right guard to complete Mun- 21 day's scoring for the night. Again the 2-6 were somewhat akin to those of Judge M. F. Billingsley when he told of a similar situation in his boyhood days. "Why in the world they dug a well down in the bottom of a canyon, I don't know."

Local fans were impressed by gains 2-30 made by the backfield. Lawrence Collier had 118 yards rushing, Quincy Adams \ 11-110 50, Robert Murray 46, Moses Dena 29, Robert Boyd 5, and Chris Moore 4.

The only reason we can think of is that the lower the starting point, the less digging had to be done to reach water.

We remember, too, that Dad had rigged up a slide and placed a barrel on it. At special times--we think it was on wash day -- a mule was hitched to the slide; and, upon arriving at the well, the barrel was filled with water, and the mule "snaked" it up the hill to the house.

Wagging it uphill with a 10-quart galvanized bucket filled with water in each hand was too much of a chore for teenage boys.

We remember, too, on occasion--and we don't know why--several barrels were placed in a wagon, and water was hauled from Bayant's Lake some three miles away. Such was a story told by our inquirer.

There's an area, we're told, bounded by Lake Creek on the west to Miller Creek on the east, and extending most of the way from Weinert to Goree, where water wells could not be dug because the water was so contaminated with salt that it could not be used for domestic purposes.

Cisterns furnished the home supply. But there were dry spells in the early days, as now, when cistern water was all used up, and water had to be hauled. There were stock tanks, too, but they also went dry during a severe drouth.

"There must have been a well on the Ferris Ranch," our informer said, "because I remember some water being hauled from the ranch."

As one travelled along, he said, you could always determine the type of people living in the farm homes. If just one water barrel was seen at a home, this family was not well off financially. They were sort of at the bottom of the totem pole, so to speak.

Two or three barrels meant the family was a little better off, but if a wagon was seen containing several water barrels, the family living there was in the upper crust. Water was also hauled to replenish the diminishing cistern water.

Communities within the area were known as Lake Creek, Grasshopper and

The Munday Moguls will take to the road next Friday afternoon to arrive in Windthorst in time for an 8 p.m. engagement with the Trojans.

Although this will be another nonconference game, it promises to be an interesting one, with the Trojans trying to get revenge for previous defeats. This is the fourth season in which the Moguls and Trojans have done battle.

The Moguls have won two and tied one of the last three engagements: 14-0 in 1978, 18-13 in 1979, and a 13-13 tie in 1980.

With headquarters in the Munday Chamber of Commerce office, these young people "held forth" for the entire 24 hours. By early Monday morning, they reported a total of $500 raised for the muscular dystrophy fund, and telephones continued to ring throughout Monday.

Members of the local groups who remained at their stations all night and throughout the telethon are: Mr. and Mrs. Leno Perez, Jerry Gray, Joe Rodriquez, Waymon Alexander and Robert Murray. Cokes, coffee and cookies helped keep them awake during the telethon. Munday area residents donated a total of $1105.00 for the cause.

There was a place on the Nolan Ranch known as the Cottonwood Hole, which was a sort of oasis in the desert. The hole was around 15 feet deep, and was a place where youngsters went swimming, people watered their cattle and got water for home use.

Dirt and silt washed into the hole through decades of heavy, washing rains and finally filled it up--and there is no Cottonwood Hole at present.

Another use for the cistern was for cooling the day's supply of milk for family use. Milk was placed in syrup buckets with a lid and wire bail, attached to a rope and lowered into the cistern until the bucket was about half submerged in the cooling water. When it comes to controlling bindweed and tough perennial weeds, nothing offers the advantages of Banvel®* herbicide.

Every year, perennial weed problems such as bindweed, blueweed, lakeweed and silverleaf nightshade become more of a problem-proof that past control measures have not been doing their job. Turn to Banvel herbicide to stop spreading perennial weed problems.

An application of Banvel herbicide after harvest kills tough perennial weeds before they can go into winter remission. Banvel tackles bindweed and other perennial weeds on stubble ... fallow or other cropland.

You can apply Banvel this season-and still return land to production on schedule. (See the Banvel label for application rates and instructions.)

Munday Junior Varsity traveled to Stamford on Thursday, September 3, and faced the Bulldog Junior Varsity team. Stamford was able to come out on top 16-8. However, the Moguls played a very good game and the coaches praised the boys.

Coach Redden stated, "Coach Kingston and I were real pleased with our boys' performance on the field. Their defense intercepted one of our passes for their first score. We moved the ball pretty well. We got stalled on a first down at their 20 yard line and received a clipping penalty. We were definitely penalty prone throughout the game. Coach's Comments by Coach Rogers Lankford

Needless to say, we were very pleased with the 24-0 victory over Anson on Friday night. We were especially pleased with the performance of our defense.

We held Anson to under 60 yards total offense, and allowed them no penetrations. Our top defensive performers were Robert Murray, Moses Dena and Bryan Kuehler.

The coaching staff felt that our offense was a little sloppy, particularly in the first half. But in the second half, we compiled over 200 yards and ended up with nearly 270 yards total offense.

We expect our execution to improve in the coming weeks.

The offensive line, most of whom had to play the entire game - both offense and defense, got a little tired but performed well. Lawrence Collier was our leading back, going 114 yards on 17 carries.

We thank everyone for their attendance at the game Friday night. Fan support is a very important part of our football program. This Friday night we will travel to Windthorst for an 8 p.m. contest. The Trojans defeated Wichita Falls Notre Dame 18-7 last Friday night. Sizewise they are about the same as Anson. Windthorst has a very good quarterback who runs and throws well. This will be another tough contest, but we feel that with good defense and better execution on offense, we have an excellent chance to win a ball game.  Visiting Mrs. Abbie Reynolds on Saturday was her daughter, Mrs. Martha

Watkins, of Wichita Falls.

"As we convert to lignite generating, your utility bill is going to increase."

soButaeres good newstoon?

In the early 1970's, the member cooperatives of the Brazos Electric Power Cooperative foresaw continued increasing costs and possible shortages in using natural gas as a primary energy source. In order to guarantee our member/owners the electricity they would need, we began construction of the lignite-fueled San Miguel Plant. Building a lignite-fueled plant is a great deal more expensive than building a natural gas-fueled plant. For example, approximately 30% of the total cost is expended to meet requirements of the Federal Clean Air Act. When we switch to the San Miguel plant as our primary source of electricity later this year, the effect of the high construction costs will make a noticeable increase in your monthly electric bill.

But the cost of lignite will increase more slowly than natural gas, making electricity from San Miguel more economical as time goes on. In future years, this plant will help us to slow inevitably rising costs and assure our member/owners of a reliable, available source of electricity. We believe THAT'S GOOD NEWS!

Because we saw the need early and acted on it, we will have more control of future fuel prices affecting the cost of electricity to the member/owners of the Brazos Electric Power Cooperative.

Truscott Families Are Honored Guests At Reunion September 5

By Clara Brown Truscotts were in Truscott for the first time in many decades on Saturday, September 5, at the annual community homecoming and barbecue.

The great-grandsons of the first Knox County Judge, J. J. Truscott, and the sons of World War II General Lucian King Truscott, Jr., saw their family's namesake town for the first time.

Lucian King Truscott III, retired army officer, now living in Albuquerque, New Mexico, and James J. Truscott, retired Air Force officer now living in Abilene, grew up on Army posts. They said they feel like they have a home town at last coin-medallion.

Beautiful weather helped make the reunion a success. This will be the last reunion on an odd-numbered year. From now on, reunions will be held on even-numbered years along with the Gilliland reunion. The Truscott meeting will continue to be on Saturday with the Gilliland meeting on Sunday.

The delicious meal was catered by Curly Awalt of Munday.

After the barbecue, music provided by local and neighboring bands was enjoyed until late hours.

Matt Angerer stated that he enjoyed the story time. When asked if he also liked snack time, he gave a big smile and said, "Yes!"

Painting was also the favorite of Venessa Caram, Will Dutton and Doug Edrington. Kimberly Redden chose playing outside on the play equipment as her special thing. Amy Huffman told us she liked to color best of all.

"It seems strange," said Lucian Truscott, "to see your name everywhere you look." They especially enjoyed the giant mural painted on the side of the Truscott community center and the Truscott bank building and post office.

After the barbecue, the two Truscotts were taken on a short tour, along with their wives and two of James Truscott's children. They saw the Truscott Brine Dam, the site on China Creek where one of the Truscott families lived in 1883, and the house the Truscotts built between 1900 and 1910 which served as the to finish as quickly as possible, but we post office on the Benjamin-Margaret-Crowell highway. It is now called the Tom Westbrook house.

The Truscotts are believed to have left Knox County about 1910. The time of their arrival is uncertain, but the Baylor County census of 1880 shows that in Township 2 (later Knox County) were living George Truscott, 24; Lucinda Truscott, 17; Lawrence Truscott, 8 months; and James Truscott, 47.

After the tour of the community, Paul Bullion called the families to the microphone where they were introduced to the approximately 300 attending. An informal receiving line was set up and many took the opportunity to meet the Truscott families. In appreciation of the visits of the two Truscott families, the Truscott Historical Preservation Association presented a Knox County History to each family and also gave each of the Truscotts a brushed silver

Be Proud Of The Small Town, Speaker Says

Using the subject: "The Small Town Boom", Charles Thornhill, insurance agent of Haskell, gave members of the Munday Lions Club another insight into the advantages of living in a small town last Tuesday.

"The face of America is changing from the metropolitan areas to the small towns," he said in opening his talk. "People are wanting to move back to the country. Many who have lived in the crowded cities want to return to the small town. This trend started in 1970.

"It's cheaper to live in a small town," he continued. "It's quiet, it's safer because
