White ginned the first bale at Knox City Monday afternoon. His cotton was pulled while Michels bale was picked.

Michels, who has 160 acres of the Mebane cotton stated that his crop should produce between one third to one half bale to the acre. A premium of $34 was given

MUNDAY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WIRES CONGRESSMAN McFARLANE URGING SUPPORT 12c COTTON LOAN

West Texas Chamber of Commerce Organizations and Other Clubs Wiring Washington Farm Leaders Demanding Prompt Action

The following telegram was sent from the local Chamber of Commerce to Representative W. D. McFarlane of the Munday Congressional district of Texas:

Hon. W. D. McFarlane, Washington, D.C.

We urge you to support twelve cent cotton loan at this session rather than special session, as our farmers need help at this time. Munday Chamber of Commerce.

MUNDAY TAKES SEVENTH TILT IN ROW SUNDAY

Nichols Silences Bats Of Oilers In Tight Pitchers Duel

RATLIFF BLASTS HOMER IN FIRST Victory Sunday Will Clinch First Place For Locals

Munday came another notch closer to clinching first place in the Wichita Valley league Sunday when they defeated the second place Hamlin Oilers in a tight pitching duel 3-2.

Long distance hitting, coupled with the tight pitching of Nichols, was the leading factors in the sixth straight victory for the Moguls. The fielders turned in a perfect day without muffling or miscueing a single chance.

Nichols, who hurled the Iowa Park tilt Thursday night came back Sunday and turned in one of his best performances in holding the big Oiler bats in check, allowing four scattered hits. Nichols had the Oilers shut out until the seventh when Jones liked one of his pitches well enough to sail it out of the park with Portwood ahead of him. Portwood had drawn four balls to gain first base.

Ratliff Gets Homer Ratliff, playing his second league tilt in several weeks, gave Nichols a lone run lead in the first inning when he blasted one of Hamlin's pitches over the wall.

Munday's game winning runs came in the fifth when O'Neill led off with a single. Clem Wilde rattled the boards for two bases, O'Neill pulling up at third. Ratliff sent a long fly out, scoring O'Neill and Lanchy. Wilde lined out a single scoring "Brother Clem." C. Wilde and O'Neill led the local hitters with two bingles each. Score by Innings: Munday 100 020 000 3 9 0 Hamlin 000 000 20 2 4 1

CAN CLINCH FIRST WITH VICTORY HERE AGAINST OILERS

Munday's league leading Moguls can clinch first place in the present campaign by winning their seventh straight victory Sunday when the Hamlin Oilers come here for a Wichita Valley tilt.

Haskell, who was skidded out of first place by the belated drive of Munday shook off a losing spree with a 9-6 win over the Hamlin Independents, who took the place of the hopeless last place Anson nine.

Munday now has a lead of two and one half games over the Hamlin Oilers, with Haskell trailing Hamlin.

Demonstration On Trench Silo Here

County Agent W. W. Rice announced that some trench silos will be built on the C. E. Elliott farm 2 1-2 miles south of Munday.

Rice could not give the date of the demonstration as weather conditions along with the progress of threshing of maize will be the factors in setting of exact date.

Circular letters will be sent farmers and interested business men this week end giving detailed arrangements concerning the silo work and demonstration.

Final Organization Is Pending Date Set By Governor

At a meeting in the directors room of the First National Bank here, 19 local business men laid plans for the re-organization of a Lions club.

The Lions club was formerly active here, but disbanded some time ago. General discussion as to what club should be organized here and the feasibility of such an organization was chief topics during the meeting.

Letters have been sent to Lions International offices at Chicago and to district Lion Governor at Fort Worth. Organization of the club is pending answers of these letters.

As soon as definite arrangements are completed, announcement will be made and the club will install officers.

MUNDAY BOY SCOUT TROOP WILL BE ORGANIZED MONDAY NIGHT AT METHODIST CHURCH LAWN AT 7:15

Names of boys wanting to join the troop will be taken and the troop will probably be divided into patrols, patrol leaders selected and patrol names issued. Junior Scoutmaster, Scout scribe.

50,000 BALES NEW CROP FORECAST IN KNOX COUNTY

3,000 ACRES OF LONG STAPLE IS PLANTED HERE

Acala Seed From California Planted by Farmers

PURITY OF SEED TO BE RETAINED

Seed Brought Here By W. Tex. Cottonoil Company

Farmers and merchants of Munday and its immediate trade area are watching with much interest one of the largest cotton projects attempted here in several years.

More than 3,000 acres of the rich soil of Knox prairie surrounding Munday has been planted to the highly productive Acala cotton seed shipped here from California.

The seed originated in South Texas, but was bought by a California developing concern who placed the seed on the market following several years of experimentation. The Acala brand of seed produces heavily on the irrigated lands of California.

Benge Bought Seed Tom Benge, manager of the West Texas Cottonoil Company of Munday, purchased the seed through his company and sold the seed to farmers. 3,372 bushels of the seed were planted, Benge stated.

When the seed arrived it was placed in the oil mill and run through the linters, cleaned thoroughly, making it possible for the seed to sprout quicker.

Brings More Money

The Acala cotton is a long staple being 15-16 variety and will bring more money than the shorter staple cotton. A conservative estimate of the increased revenue is $12 increase per bale. H. A. Pendleton, local ginner stated, from the present price of slightly better than 10 cents.

Pendleton commented further on the advantage of long staple cotton by saying that United States warehouses were full of undesirable short staple cotton and that buyers of short staple cotton were diminishing fast.

Most of the cotton raised in other countries is of the short staple variety and as a result the world markets have been flooded with the undesirable product.

At one time Texas cotton was in demand throughout the world and noted for its fine quality and long staple but farmers in the past few years have switched to the shorter grades, which in turn has caused world markets to switch from Texas cotton, it was pointed out.

Sanitation Drive Pushed By City

Continuing their drive to make Munday a cleaner and more sanitary city, the city council has issued orders for out-door toilets and other harboring places of germ carrying insects to be inspected.

Several out-door toilets have been declared unsanitary, and not built in compliance with city ordinances and were ordered locked, City Marshal Tug Nesbitt, the inspector stated.

The move is strictly a measure of precaution guarding against possible epidemics of typhoid fever or diphtheria, Riley B. Harrell, city clerk announced.

Harrell also stated that persons having wells in the city may get from his office free chlorinated lime to purify the well water without damaging it for drinking purposes.

MASTER FARMER AWARD MADE TO COUNTY FARMER

J. W. Zeissel Placed In Select Farmer Group By Magazine

A distinct honor was placed on Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Zeissel, prominent farming family of the Rhineland community, when Eugene Butler, editor of Progressive Farmer, notified them they had been awarded "Master Farmer" honors.

The award is made each year to farmers who conduct their farming operations and home management in a manner that comes up to the stiff requirements and standards set by the farm magazine publishers. At the last report only nine such awards was made in Texas as this year from the hundreds of farms inspected.

The same day that the award is made the Progressive Farmer will feté old and new Master Farmers and their wives with a luncheon, with their county agent and home demonstration agent and extension officials.

Mrs. A. J. Walton Died Last Tuesday

Funeral Services Are Conducted at Waco Last Thursday

Mrs. Cleopatra Walton, mother of Zach Walton, Munday, succumbed Tuesday of last week at the home of her son Bruce Walton, at Eulogy, Texas, following a brief illness.

Mrs. Walton aged 89 years and one day, was the mother of seven sons. She was born and raised in Mississippi and married in that state. She had been a member of the Baptist church for many years, joining that church in her native state.

Last rites were held for Mrs. Walton Thursday at Waco, where she was interred by the side of her husband, who preceded her in death.

Marred Reunion Plans

The unexpected death of Mrs. Walton marred plans for the annual Walton family reunion, which had been set for the first Sunday in August at Eulogy at the home of Bruce Walton. The Walton family has enjoyed these associations for the past ten years.

Mrs. Walton's sons acted as pallbearers at the services. Surviving are: Zach Walton of Munday; Otho Walton, Breckenridge; Oily Walton, Fort Worth; R. G. Walton, Stamford; Earl Walton, McCamey; A. J. Walton Jr., of California unable to attend; and Bruce Walton Eulogy.

20,000 BALES OF CROP ESTIMATED IN MUNDAY AREA

Goree Forecast Jumped To 6,000 Bales, Increase Rhineland

LOCAL GINNINGS IS SET AT 12,000

Price Prediction Over 10 Cent Mark for New Crop

With the brightest prospects in years for a bumper cotton crop, farmers and giners of Munday and its trade area are making preparations for handling and gathering the crop, which is estimated at 50,000 bales for this county.

Cotton men have forecast 12,000 bales for Munday gins and most of the men declare this to be a conservative figure. Goree forecast was placed at 6,000 bales and 2,500 at Rhineland.

20,000 For Area

At least 20,000 bales of cotton will be financed through local buyers and the First National Bank in Munday, it is believed. That figure may be increased should the Hefner gin be rebuilt for the coming crop, and it has been intimated

Three Men Admit Robbing 34 Safes In This Section

West Texas Utilities Safe, Munday Office One of Jobs Men Plead Guilty To

A series of 34 safe robberies that had baffled police of this section for several months was solved when three men were arrested in Wichita Falls by Captain Earl Draper of the state highway patrol.

One of the robberies was the West Texas Utilities office safe here and the men admitted to arresting officers that they robbed the safe here after knocking the knob from the safe.

They gave a more less detailed confession on the local safe cracking job, pointing out this was the hardest one for them to rob due to interference.

They made three attempts before they finally gained entrance to obtain more than $70 in cash. The night watchman, making his rounds caused the men to quit operations twice and the company telephone rang resulting in the men leaving the office thinking they had set off a burglar alarm.

The three men made their depredations out of Wichita Falls at intervals cracking safes from that city to Abilene. They plead guilty on arraignment.

SUMMONING SCIENCE TO HELP

About a quarter century ago, the state of Wisconsin discovered that one of its principal products, lumber, was on the way to becoming a much less profitable commodity. It was threatened from two directions. The steady depletion of the nation's timber reserves seemed to indicate the approach of a day when it would be necessary to stop the cutting of Wisconsin's trees, as a conservation measure. On the other hand, the appearance of several new substitutes for wood, apparently menaced the lumber market.

In an effort to solve the two-edged problem, Wisconsin established a forest products laboratory. It was intended to serve two seemingly contradictory purposes. One was to conserve timber, the other was to broaden the market for it. Wisconsin felt that both purposes must be served if its lumber was to continue a profitable product.

Its laboratory has been able to serve both purposes. It has enabled Wisconsin to produce more timber, and to more readily find a market for timber products.

The problem which Texas faces in regard to cotton is similar in some respects to that which Wisconsin faced as to timber. The problem of developing a wider market for cotton, through the finding of new uses for it, is not a Texas problem alone, but Texas is particularly concerned with it due to the fact that the export market, in which most Texas cotton is sold, is steadily dwindling.

A bill to make possible the establishment in Texas of the cotton research laboratory authorized by the federal government was passed at the legislature's regular session, but was vetoed by the governor because of lack of funds. Representative George Moffett of Chillicothe, author of the bill, expects to renew the effort for it at the approaching called session. The legislature should re-enact the bill and should see that there is revenue adequate for the appropriation.

Texas is in a much more uncomfortable situation in regard to its cotton than many Texans realize. Much of its staple sells for less than that of other states. Its export market, heretofore the chief outlet, is being steadily invaded by cotton from Brazil, Turkistan, China and other countries. Unless new uses can be devised for cotton opening new markets for it, Texas will presently find that its principal farm product is not worth raising. The experimentation now planned should have been undertaken many years ago, but it is not too late to make it serve Texas special needs.—Wichita Daily Times.

ODORIZED GAS

The last session of the Legislature of Texas passed a law requiring Gas companies to odorize their gas before selling it to consumers. The two gas companies, with offices in Vernon, are complying with this law and consumers in this locality should feel better protected. With the gas odorized it will enable consumers to quickly detect gas that is escaping at leaks. The Legislature enacted the odorization law following the New London school disaster last spring when an explosion of the building by gas took the lives of nearly 400 school children.—Vernon Record.

UNDEVELOPED FILM FIELD

When the first course in visual education was offered 15 years ago, thoughtful men say in it the promise of great accomplishments in the field of mass teaching. Through moving pictures and slides, they reasoned, large sections of the population could be interested in fields of knowledge otherwise limited to a comparatively small group of students.

Today, according to Gayle Starna of the University of Kentucky extension division, visual education is still in the pioneer stage. Course are offered in 25 teachers' colleges, 21 liberal arts colleges, 21 municipal and private universities and 12 state universities.

This is in contrast to the thousands of theaters serving cities and hamlets from coast to coast with a strict diet of amusement films—and some of them not so amusing.

In view of hopes originally held for the motion picture as a medium to bring light and knowledge to the masses, it seems that there has been a serious oversight somewhere along the line.

POLAND'S LAND NEED

History shows that many wars have begun over a nation's ambition for more land. Italy's adventure in Ethiopia affords the most effective and most recent illustration of that.

Now Poland is coming out with the hint that more land is needed to take care of its million jobless adults, the majority of whom exist precariously as excess baggage on small farms. And solution to the question has been placed in the hands of an emigration committee formed in the Polish Parliament.

The only trouble with this idea is that practically all the habitable territory of the world is now independent or allocated definitely to some power. Poland's emigration committee, then, faces a stiff problem. And how that problem is solved without stepping on someone's toes will be interesting to see.

Farm Bill

Last week farm legislation was brought to a head through pressure of farm organizations and others who are insisting that major farm legislation be enacted at this session. Previously the House and Senate Agricultural Committees had voted to postpone further consideration of farm legislation until next session. Because of falling prices of farm commodities including cotton, corn, wheat, etc., representatives of the agricultural sections have become alarmed at the existing situation and several meetings have been held to determine what course of action will be taken.

Love beckoned and I followed; Her sign invoked no loss. And yet, she left me stricken Before a wooden cross.

Love beckoned and I followed; She led me to a mart And bought a jeweled casket That held my bleeding heart.

Love beckoned and I followed; I was her passive slave, She vanished when I stumbled Upon a new-made grave.

THESE THINGS I ASK

A little band upon my finger
A little home in which to linger;
Two little tots upon the floor,
A friend and neighbor right next door.

A little money laid away,
A little dream from yesterday,
A little joy, a little sorrow,
A little hope for dim tomorrow.
To be a mother and a wife
Is all I ask of you, O Life.

—Edna Brewer Abbott, Big Spring

MY MAN

My man is a quiet man,
Loving his home,
But I have a restless heart
I long to roam.

He wants a little house
Down in a glade,
I lead the thought of it—
Too much shade.

He thinks an apple tree
Right for the door,
I choose windy pines
And great ocean's roar.

But, O my love's a true man
And dear is my home—
My heart stays with him,
While my wild dreams roam.

Laughing Around the World

Remote From the Real Centers

By IRVIN S. COBB

DISTANCES, as someone has so aptly said, are all relative. Also, much depends upon one's point of view. There is the story of the Texas cowboy from beyond Brounsville who made a trip to Dallas and upon his return stated to a group of friends that he didn't believe he'd ever go up north again—he didn't care for "the way them Yankees lived."

Also there is a little yarn relating to the Death Valley prospector who, having made a strike, paid his first visit to Chicago and endorsed the place by saying:

"She looks to me like she ought to make a permanent camp."
But of yarns of this sort the one I place first in by own gallery of standard favorites has to do with a Wyoming ranch foreman who was sent East by his employer in charge of a carload of polo ponies. He was gone for four weeks. When he arrived back at the ranch he wore an air of unmistakable pleasure and relief.

"Gee," he said, "it's good to get home again. So far as I'm concerned I don't want never to travel no more."
"Didn't you like New York?" asked one of the hands.
"Oh, it's all right in its way," he said, "but I don't keer for it."
"What's chiefly the matter with it?"
"Oh," he said, "it's so dad blame far from everywhere."

Wage and Hour Bill
The Senate last Saturday by a vote of 56 to 28 passed the Wage and Hour legislation bill and this legislation will be considered in the House this Thursday. The bill as amended in the Senate was much weaker than the House Bill and the House Labor committee substituted the Senate Bill for the House Bill, with some 55 amendments already made to the House Bill. It is estimated that this legislation, as originally introduced, would affect from one and a half million to eleven million employees. The many amendments offered greatly limit, restrict, and eliminate large groups of employees from coming within the provisions of this bill. Organized labor generally is supporting this legislation, because realize it will improve living conditions of all workers generally. Many farmers oppose the legislation believing that it will mean higher prices for what they buy without any protection for what they sell. Small industries in the South are opposed to the legislation because of their disadvantage in freight rates. The Board administering this legislation is given wide power and of course much will depend upon the equitable manner in which the law is administered. The bill as presented to the House provides that WPA wage scale will prevail in the South, and with the other restrictions and exemptions, many believe it will not anything or anybody very much. The thing worrying many members representing farm districts is will the city members go along with us should we go along with them and pass their Housing and Wage and Hour legislation this session? Farm legislation giving the farmer parity prices for his crops should be enacted at the same session Housing and Wage and Hour legislation, then buying power of all parties concerned will be maintained.

Tax Loopholes
The Tax Avoidance (?) Committee reported last week their general recommendation, which indicates that they expect to recommend and report a bill to Congress this week, to eliminate some of the unimportant and minor loopholes in the Tax Laws, completely ignoring many of the more important loopholes exempting wealth of millions of dollars of income taxes.

When it is realized that not more than one fourth of the income taxes assessed is collected, that it takes from five to ten years to finally settle and collect the taxes from a great number of the wealthy of the nation, and that because of the Supreme Court Decisions, tax exempt securities, stock dividends, the salaries of all state, county and municipal employees and constitutional judges of all courts have been exempted thereby losing to the Federal Government through these decisions many millions of dollars annually, it is thus better understood why the wealthy of the nation do not want any change in the Supreme Court.

Wealth has lost the last three elections. (1932, 1934 and 1936) and yet they keep their ill-gotten gains through their last line of defense, their lifetime appointed Judges on the Supreme Court.

More than $152,000,000 was expended for the Golden Gate and San Francisco-Oakland bay bridges and the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition, which is being created to celebrate the completion of the two great structures.

The WEEKLY CONSTITUTIONAL
by MAX BERNS
The Judicial Power

What is meant by the judicial power?
This is the power which our Constitution vests in the Supreme Court and other Federal courts to construe or interpret laws.
The Supreme Court, like a jury, merely passes upon cases submitted to it. And the judges, like jurors, are supposed to be impartial. Before being accepted for service, every prospective juror is asked whether he has any prejudice for or against the plaintiff or defendant and whether he will construe the law as written whether he likes it or not. He is not there to write, rewrite or repeal statutes or condemn or praise them but merely to decide controversies submitted in accordance with the law.
So also with the Supreme Court. It hears and acts upon no more than the case immediately before it as brought into Court by some litigant. If two laws conflict, a citizen cannot obey both of them simultaneously because in obeying one, he disobeys the other. Or, if enforcement of a statute causes a citizen to sacrifice rights guaranteed him by the Constitution—by the Supreme Law—he seeks relief by going to Court. The Court hears the arguments of both sides, and if constitutionality of the statute is challenged, it decides whether the statute conforms to or conflicts with the Supreme Law—with the Constitution.

Congress and Congress alone may write or rewrite laws or repeal them. All the Supreme Court does is to construe these laws and the Supreme Law—the Constitution.

INCREASE OF 64 PER CENT FARM CASH IN TEXAS

Much Of Huge Gain Is Attributed To Livestock

Cotton Prospects May Boost Figure

Based On Period Of Sixty Months By T.U. Bureau

Austin, Texas, Aug. 11.—An increase in farm income for Texas during June is reported by Dr. F. A. Buechel, assistant director of the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas. Using the average monthly farm cash income during the sixty months from January 1928, to January 1932, as a base and adjusting for seasonal variation, farm cash income had increased nearly 64 per cent over the base period in June, against 54 per cent in May and 8 per cent in June, 1936. Dr. Buechel estimated. Thus the improvement from May to June last year was 6 per cent and from June last year to June of the current year the gain was 52 per cent, he said.

"Much of this phenomenal gain in farm income during June reflects the increased shipments and improved prices of livestock and wheat," Dr. Buechel explained. "In the Edwards Plateau region wool shipments also contributed materially to the sharp increase in income."

Dr. Buechel predicts that farm cash income during the remainder of the year will maintain the favorable year to year comparisons. In the wheat areas of the state July comparisons with a year ago are expected to be even more favorable than those of June and income from livestock and livestock products should be maintained on the higher level in comparison with last year, which has prevailed for many months.

"Present indications point to a material increase in cotton production over last year," Dr. Buechel said, and if prices are maintained at present levels, the farm cash income from this source should be well above that of a year ago during the next six months."

The actual and prospective improvement in farm income, together with the relatively high level of urban payrolls, furnishes a reasonable basis for optimism with regard to industry and trade in the state during the last half of the year. Dr. Buechel declared. The oil industry too, is relatively prosperous, he said.

A pioneer in physical education for the girls of Uruguay, she wishes to gain more preparation for the work. West Texas C-C Exhibit Success

Educational Attraction Is Seen By 3119 Persons to Date

Fort Worth, Aug. 12.—As the West Texas Chamber of Commerce Natural Resources exhibit rounds out its fourth week an educational attraction of the Fort Worth Frontier Fiesta, it is evident that the phenomenal success of last year's exhibit will be equalled or exceeded this year.

The unique method of developing the progress of West Texas from the primitive to the present has proven pleasing to visitors who spend much time in developing the story for themselves.

As it has since its introduction to the public at the Century of Progress in Chicago in 1933, the West Texas map in has relief is attracting unusual attention. Groups of visitors are to be seen studying its contour and legends each evening. An accurate check of them reveals that the average visitor spends more minutes in the study than in any other exhibit in the building.

A total of 3119 persons have registered during the period. The average registrations per day have been 112, with an average of 13 states and 10 West Texas towns per day represented.

The unusual wheat yield in West Texas and high prices for lambs, wool and cattle have been the subject of much inquiry from out-of-state visitors.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

Austin.—The courts took a hand, and the legislature indicated it would do so next month, in the political controversy raging over the $22 per capita school apportionment this week. Hearing on an injunction issued by the district court at San Antonio, forbidding the state board of education to reduce the per capita apportionment below the $22 figure set last month, was scheduled, with Atty. Gen. Bill McCraw in a warm spot politically. By law, McCraw must represent the board, and oppose making permanent the injunction; but a majority of the board, led by Ghent Sanderford, Ferguson appointee, doesn't want to do what the injunction forbids the board from doing. So McCraw has worked out what he considers a nice solution. He will tell the court that the injunction can not legally lie, and should be dissolved; but he will reassure the school lobby at the same time, by declaring the reason it shouldn't stand is because the board cannot legally change the apportionment after Aug. 1, and because schools have already contracted obligations based upon the $22 figure, and these obligations can not now be impaired. McCraw declared he believes present tax revenues will yield sufficient to pay the full $22 apportionment, anyway. If they do not, then the deficit resulting will be chargeable against next year's per capita apportionment, and this appears to be the sole actual difference between the conflicting actions taken by the state automatic tax board and the state board of education.

Political Implications
But however small the actual difference between the two boards, the controversy has stirred a political cyclone. L. A. Woods, the state superintendent of education, up next year for re-election to a fourth term, has taken the stump and is making speeches all over Texas, lambasting Allred and Comptroller George Sheppard for reducing the ad valorem tax rate, charging the schools have been robbed by the "big interests." Allred, leaving for his Mexico City vacation, fired a blast in the form of a spirited written defense of himself and Sheppard, which he sent to every weekly newspaper in Texas, with promise of more to come later. Meanwhile, the senate committee seeking better supervision of rural aid distribution, met with the board of education, and heard two members, R. S. Bowers of Caldwell and Ben F. Tisinger of Dallas, caustically criticize Woods' action, charging him with being "derelict in his official duty," and rewrote 16 sections of the regulations to remove any possibility of "pressure" being put on the assisted rural schools to buy necessary photographs and other equipment as a predicate for receiving aid grants.

Montgomery Named
Julian Montgomery, lauded throughout the state by his colleagues as one of the most capable engineers in Texas, will become chief highway engineer, Oct. 1, upon retirement of Gibb Gilchrist, who becomes dean of engineering at A. & M. college. Montgomery who headed the PWA setup in Texas—the government work-relief organization operated by Ickes, which got something permanent in the way of improvements for every dollar it spent—has been the final authority on expenditure of many millions of federal money in Texas, the highway department uses to build and maintain roads. Incidentally, his appointment was forecast in this column two weeks before it occurred, ahead of any daily newspaper in Texas, and while one of the leading dailies was declaring him eliminated and not being considered.

Another Forecast
To be state pension commissioner, administering the firemen's pension law enacted by the regular session of the legislature, H. B. Satterfield, of Lufkin, is named by those on the inside as Gov. Allred's choice, with the appointment to be made soon after the governor returns from his Mexico City visit.

Governor Isbell Serves
From Rockwall, tiniest county in Texas, this week came a new governor of Texas—Claude Isbell, genial and popular state senator. Isbell served by reason of his being president ad interim of the senate. With Gov. Allred in Mexico, Lieut. Gov. Walter Woodall paid a visit to Oklahoma, where he taught school 20 years ago, and Isbell automatically became Texas No. 1 executive during his absence. More than 100 friends and colleagues gathered at a hotel dinner to pay tribute to Gov. Isbell and his charming wife, with ex-Sen. Geo. Purl of Dallas (who may try a comeback next July) presiding as toastmaster.

There's always something different about anything Fort Worth does, and this show is no exception. There's a bigness about it all that brings the feeling that what is shown is top. The show was so different from the Casino in Dallas, rival show, that it could not be compared. Dallas' Casino is sophisticated, finished, polished. The sort of place where formal clothes and etiquette seem appropriate. Fort Worth's Casa Manana is big, boy-trotter, and whopping. EXPLORER VON BAUMANN AND HIS BRIDE, NEE MISS HELEN SMITH, RETURN FROM ECUADOR JUNGLES

Billion and Half Dollar Manganese Deposit Is Discovered; Strange Tribe of Indians Are Also Found By His Exploration Party

The reporters found Cyril Von Baumann, the explorer, first today when they boarded the Grace Liner Santa Maria. His bride, the former Helen E. Smith, whom he took on his latest trip to the wilds of Ecuador, was still below decks.

"Women," Mr. Von Baumann announced, "have no place in the jungle. My wife made me shave every day." (He wears a small red beard, that just covers the point of his chin.)

Mrs. Von Baumann, looking cool and fresh in a green dress, with her auburn hair partially hidden under a green hat, emerged just then.

"I was very interested in the trip," she declared, "and I'm most anxious to go back."

"That," muttered her husband, "is what I'm afraid of. She hasn't passed the test by a sight. She almost got killed trying to pick a deadly poisonous snake of a tree limb. The snake is bright yellow, and when it's coiled it looks like a flower. Andro Roosevelt cut it in two with a machete just before she touched it."

Mr. Roosevelt, relative of the President, and his wife, accompanied the Von Baumanns on the trip. They remained in Ecuador.

Mr. Von Baumann although he failed to capture the 60-foot anacondas—more than twice as long as the longest reptile he has ever seen before—that lured him back to the jungle, made two very important discoveries. One is a 75,000,000-ton deposit of manganese, and the other a strange tribe of Indians, the Avishires, who have marked Semitic characteristics and worship idols—with hooked noses and long beards. The manganese deposit he valued at $1,500,000,000 and said he had made a sixty-year contract with the Ecuadorian Government for mining it.

RHINELAND NEWS

Rhineland schools opened their eleventh consecutive summer term on Monday August 9, with an excellent attendance. Students and teachers met at 9 o'clock in the auditorium, where they were made acquainted with the plans of the day and the objectives to be accomplished during the coming year. Mr. Hughes, county superintendent, was also present and gave an inspiring talk.

After general assembly the student body went to their respective rooms to register, receive their books, and listen to such instructions as are customary on the opening day of school.

A survey of the children's behavior and attitude led one to believe that they were eager to begin where they had left off in their quest for knowledge. Their faces radiated "vim, vigor and vitality."

One new teacher is with us this year, Miss Jean Walsh of Wichita Falls is our new English teacher. She took the place of Miss Helen Long, who decided to keep house. Miss Walsh is a graduate of Wichita Falls Junior College, and has taken a course in secondary education there this summer.

Miss Mary Ruddy is again teaching the sixth and seventh grades. She has taught these grades in our school for the past eight years. Her education was received at Wichita Falls Junior College and Texas Tech.

The lower grades are taught by Miss Genevieve Albus. Miss Albus begins her fourth term in our school. She received her education at Our Lady of the Lake College, San Antonio, Texas.

Mr. John J. Hoffman begins his twentieth term as head of the Rhineland school. He is a graduate of Catholic Normal School and Pio Nono College, Milwaukee, Wisconsin. He has also done considerable work at the University of Texas. During Mr. Hoffman's tenure the Rhineland school has developed from a four to an eleventh grade school. Where at first a small wooden structure stood, now stands a modern brick building fully equipped.

REPRESENTATIVE TEXAS FARMERS HOLD PROGRAM PLANNING MEETING FOR 1938 TRIPLE-A CONSERVATION

College Station—Texas farmers are looking for a simplified agricultural program, according to the opinion expressed by 46 farmers who attended a program planning meeting held at Texas A. & M. College on July 22 and 23.

The 46 farmers, who discussed desirable changes in the 1938 agricultural Conservation Program with Washington representatives of the Triple A, members of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee and officials of the Texas Extension Service were chosen to represent all of the different types of farming areas of Texas.

A digest of the various resolutions and recommendations passed at the meeting, now being prepared by W. E. Morgan, Extension economist in program planning, shows that the farmers preferred a one payment, simplified program for 1938.

Several general plans were developed during the meeting. A strong sentiment was disclosed for basing the 1938 program on that of 1937. Another plan that won favor program now in use in an Arkansas county whereby farmers with a cotton base exceeding ten acres match the land diverted from cotton with conserving crops, while on other farms a payment may be earned through soil conserving practices. Many favored a uniform system over the Nation that would set a payment that could be earned by an individual farmer by balancing his crop plan along specified limits.

Among those who took part in the meeting were T. L. Ayers and L. A. Reynolds, representing C. A. Cobb, director of the Southern region, AAA; R. H. Rogers, of the Planning Division of the AAA; and George Slaughter

SEVENTY ATTENDED TENTH ANNUAL BURTON FAMILY REUNION LAST WEEK

Tenth annual reunion of the Burton family was in full progress here Tuesday at the camp barracks in Scenic Mountain state park and 70 odd people were on hand for the three-day affair.

This year's host, C. M. Burton of Lamesa, said that he brought the reunion here because of the lack of shade and other park facilities at Lamesa.

He and his brothers estimated that there would be well more than 100 relatives and a few friends in the camp Tuesday night. The reunion ends at noon Wednesday.

Ten years ago the reunion had its beginning at Munday. "Seven of us boys" recalled C. M. Burton, "had been called there for the funeral of our mother, Mrs. J. H. Burton, and we agreed that every year from August 2-4 we would hold a reunion."

The seven boys R. V. Burton of Munday, W. H. and Arthur Burton of Cleburne, W. L. Burton of Dallas, Clifford Burton of Fort Worth, Escar Burton of Longview, and C. M. Burton of Lamesa, alternate as host for the reunion. The host pays for expenses until the gathering is ended, then the figure is divided by seven and each brother pays his share—never amounting to more than $15.

Only brother not in camp Tuesday was Escar, who had to be on his court reporting job at Longview. Melvin B. Burton and wife of Columbus, S.C., were the only out of state members of the family here.

The host—Burton was highly pleased with the Big Spring arrangement which permitted use of the old OCC mess hall and barracks, and the proximity to the city park and municipal natatorium.—Big Spring Daily Herald.

The FOOD PRIMER

stands for Cheese For Carrots and Cherries. For Chicken, Crab Apples And Choice Berries.

BY BETTY BARCLAY

Now that the preserving season is approaching, these "C" foods are in the limelight. Some women are planning to stock their emergency shelves with glass jars of cherries, chicken and crab apples. Others, who do not put up their own goodies each season, are purchasing supplies for next winter—feeling that prices are very likely to continue climbing.

When stocking your preserve closet, remember to purchase foods packed in containers of glass—or to use new glass containers if stocking with home-made delicacies. These jars are transparent—and through their sparkling sides you can see the quality of the foods.

Food packers are constantly improving the shape and appearance of these glass containers, so that now, shelves of cheese, cherries and crab apples are exceedingly attractive.

If you would like to try some home-made goodies this season, here are a couple of easy-to-follow recipes:

Carrots

Grade for size, color and degree of ripeness. Wash thoroughly.

Use vegetable brush. Scrape or pare to remove skins. Precook 7 minutes. Pack into clean glass jars. Add level teaspoonful salt if desired to each quart jar. Fill to within one-half inch of top with water in which vegetable was pre-cooked or boiling water. Put on cap, screwing band firmly tight. Process in pressure cooker, 35 minutes at 5 pounds; or in water bath, 120 minutes; or in oven, 150 minutes at 250 degrees.

Cherries—Cold Pack

Wash, stem, pit if desired. Pack into clean glass jars. Fill to within 1½ inches of top with No. 2 or No. 3 syrup (see below) depending on the sweetness of the cherries. Put on cap, screwing band firmly tight. Process in water bath 20 minutes; or in oven 45 minutes at 250 degrees; or in pressure cooker 10 minutes at 5 pounds.

Syrups: No. 2 Medium syrup. Use two parts water to one part of sugar and bring to a boil. No. 3 Heavy syrup. Use one part of water to one part of sugar and bring to a boil. Choose your syrup, according to the sweetness of the cherries.

PEEP SHOW FOR LADIES ONLY

—BY— MIGNON

He never had a say in it
He couldn't help his birth
But now he has the saddest heart
Of any boy on earth

Of all the sweet cuddly ages, there are in the seven ages of man, "go in on three" is about the most wonderful. Can you imagine a little wistful eyed boy in an orphanage for several weeks while the courts wrangle over who should be his mother? It breaks my heart. Somehow I can't have much pity for the unmarried mother who gave her child away, stayed out of sight nearly three years and then showed up to snatch it from a woman whose mother-heart had given it refuge and love and protection, even trying to deceive her own husband as to its birth. Do you think she did that, this foster mother, to put one over her neighbors? No she didn't. She did it for the child's sake. Starved for the love of a little one yet with arms empty, the foster mother planned a way in which she could have a baby, a real baby to love and cuddle and rock to sleep. She didn't snatch one. She took one no one wanted. She watched over it, cared for it, gave it the love which every woman who is real and human has down in the depths of her heart, a mother love. Even her neighbors could not ask prying questions to someday humiliate and hurt the little heart beating so happily under a small blue shirt and mud splattered overalls. She faked a birth that her small son might have the right to normal, safe and happy childhood. In for her. I think she is to be honored. She told her husband all about it. Someday she would have told the little boy all about it laying out the sordid details. She loves him as any mother would love her boy. It would be a crime if the judge should dare give him to the woman who bore him and then gave him away. The baby doesn't know her. "Going on three" has a little mind of his own and a heart and affections already sending out tender shoots which are entwined about the foster mother and daddy's hearts, that can not be ruthlessly torn away. May God guide the judge in his decision for there is but one, just one. In the meantime, a lonely little boy, Donald Horst, sobs in a crib—one in a long row of unwanted children—He wants his mother!!

As a rule when a man complains that his wife doesn't understand him that is just the trouble—She does.

It is a poor ambition that permits a man to desire pity.

A clever slogan heads the Grant County Journal an Oklahoma publication, "Independent but not neutral—Newsy but not nosy."

Alta Heacock says:
A real diplomat is a husband who tells his wife, "A woman as good looking and attractive as you are, doesn't need a new hat."

Every house where love abides and friendship is a guest, is surely home, and home sweet home; for there the heart can rest . . . Van Dyke.

For every wife who is a wife, and sees the lawn grow ragged, hides golf clubs beneath a rake and hoe; and papa thinks he's ragged . . . Her life

Pirates of the Range

By B. M. Bower

This safe and sane, nicely written and lovingly depicted story of the Old West may be just what you have been hankering for; it's a relief from the wider sort of drop-that-gun opus and—well, it's a typical B. M. Bower volume. The tale tells how Wylie Brooks and Steve Tison drove their herds from Texas, settled in Cottonwood Coulee, in Montana, and encountered trouble of various kinds. Villains from the Badlands a roundup, branding, a touch of romance and a shooting finish are all included in a yarn that should give you a hearty evening. Come to think of it, maybe some of the old cowboys were more or less like other folks, as B. M. Bower seems to believe. Read it and forget the weather.

SEN. CONNALLY IN FIGHT LOANS ON COTTON CROP

Washington, D.C.—Senator Tom Connally addressed the Senate last week in an effort to obtain loans for farmers on their cotton; such loans to permit the farmer to hold his cotton for a better price, yet have funds to pay his obligations. Believing that the power for the making of such loans existed and should be exercised, Senator Connally said, "The Commodity Credit Corporation not only has the authority, but has the money, with which to make the loans. The loans ought to be made, not next year, but now; not in October, but now, because now is the time when there is need for them."

"The theory back of the loans provided for has been to make the loans at such figure as would tend to stabilize or flatten out that price over the whole year rather than to force the farmer to take the very price which he has to take when he sells his cotton because at that time he is in debt and wants to meet his bank payments and pay the doctor, and perhaps the preacher, and settle his store account. He has to meet his payments, and the only way he has of meeting is to sell his cotton, and sell it immediately."

When discussion arose of returning to Washington in the fall to enact a general farm bill, Senator Connally stated, "It will be entirely agreeable with me to come back in October if the Agricultural Committees of the two Houses have a farm bill ready at that time."

Senator Connally signed a petition circulated in the Senate which urged a special session of Congress in October to consider a farm bill. During his remarks Senator Connally stated that the Agricultural Adjustment Act had aided in raising the price of cotton, but that the reduction of the gold content of the dollar did more to raise the price of cotton than all the other legislation enacted. Senator Connally was the first member of the Senate to advocate reduction of the gold content of the dollar, urging that action in Congress a year before the Administration took that step.

METHODIST CHURCH

You have doubtless heard the story of the preacher who got sick and the doctor, in taking his temperature, got the barometer instead of the thermometer. It read, "Dry and Windy." If this hot weather keeps us bring your barometer to church Sunday and use it.

Despite the fact that I have been accused of bragging on the congregation to increase the collections, may I say that the services have been well attended despite the collections. Our Presiding Elder congratulated us on the attendance Sunday night and he is paid up to date—I hope. You Methodists who are not coming to church will need some good things said about you in years to come. Better get used to being complimented while here. Whether we deserve it or not, we all like it spread on heavy.

What is the text Sunday? "You." Both the subject and the text is just "you." Sunday night we will talk it over on the lawn and try to apply the "Oil of Salvation" on the blue spots. If you are blue all over come right along and be immersed. Bring a "chip on your shoulder," and a dollar bill in your pocket. In fact come prepared. "A breaking heart often needs a broken will."

"Loving is the heart's journey; Love is the journey's end."

Car Shipments of Cattle Shows Big Increase Over '36

June Cars Are Listed at 8,177. As Compared With 4,321 Last Year; Report States

Austin, Texas, Aug. 11.—Shipments of all classes of Texas live stock during June totaled 8,177 cars, compared with 4,321 cars last year an increase of 90 per cent, according to a report from the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Cattle shipments of 5,786 cars increased 112 per cent over June last year; calf shipment, 758 cars, increased 33 per cent; and sheep shipments, 1,221 cars, increased 136 per cent. Hog shipments totaled 412 cars a decrease of nearly 20 per cent.

Aggregate shipments of Texas live stock during the first six months of the year were 46,681 cars, against 32,748 cars during the corresponding period last year, an increase of 40 per cent.

Shipments of cattle to the Fort Worth market were more than double those of June last year and shipments of sheep to this market increased 67 per cent over a year ago.

STATE POULTRY SHIPMENTS ARE AHEAD OF 1936

Austin Texas, Aug. 11.—Almost a 100 per cent increase in poultry shipments from Texas to interstate points over the shipments of June 1936, was reported for June this year by the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. A total of 63 cars of poultry were shipped out of the state, compared with 32 cars in month totaled 43 cars, against 44 cars a year ago.

Interstate receipts of eggs totaled eleven cars, against seventeen cars in June last year. Of these receipts nine cars came from Kansas and two cars from Nebraska. In June last year fourteen cars were brought into the State from Kansas, one from Missouri and two from Oklahoma.

The Texas Planning Board estimates the 1937 Texas orange crop will exceed 2,000,000 boxes. The 1936 crop filled 747,000 boxes.

Cattle Market Is Due To Boom, Said

Cattlemen In Southwest and Middle West Must Furnish Killers

"Forecasting the future cattle market is never an easy chore," said James Reid in an interview on Monday. Mr. Reid is regarded as an authority on live stock conditions, as he is Kansas City manager of the Kansas City office of John Clay & Co., live stock commission merchants with offices at all the principal markets, and a man who during his many years of experience has sold around a million and a half head of cattle. "But it must be admitted," continued Mr. Reid, "that the men who have cattle to sell this year are in an enviable position."

"Remember Mother Nature has been hard at work the past few years. As far as beef cattle are concerned, the supply of corned cattle through the eastern states is nearly exhausted. Food got so high that the men who are feeding there did not refill their lots. The Northwestern range states, which normally furnish thousands of grass beef cattle for the Chicago and other northern markets, have been in the throes of drought in recent years with the result that supplies from that section will be very small. Where, then, can killers turn for supplies except in the Middle West and Southwest? I confess I do not know."

"Much the same conditions apply to stocker and feeder cattle. Eastern states do not raise enough of these classes to meet their needs, especially when feed conditions are good like they are at present, and it looks like there will be something of a scramble to secure stocker and feeder cattle this fall."

Excursion Rates In Texas Lowered By 4 Major Lines

Special Rates Offered to Exposition Goers; Rates Effective Until October 31

Dallas, August 12.—Lowest excursion rates in the history of Texas became effective Sunday, August 1, on four major railroad lines leading into Dallas for Greater Texas and Pan American Exposition visitors. The special rate is a round trip ticket for only 75 per cent of the regular one-way coach fare and is effective each week-end on all trains of the Rock Island, Fort Worth and Denver, Katy and Santa Fe lines that arrive in Dallas on Sunday.

Return must be made on trains of these lines that leave the Dallas Union Terminal prior to midnight Sundays.

Tickets at this special excursion rate may be bought at any station on any of the four lines recognizing the rate, and can be purchased on date of departure.

"We expect these special Sunday excursions to bring a great number of Texas people into Dallas each week-end for the Pan American Exposition," M. C. Alderson, assistant general passenger agent for the Katy, who announced the special rates, declared.

The special week-end excursion rates will be effective until October 31 closing date of the Pan American Exposition.

Defects of Child Should Be Checked Before School Days

Austin, Texas, Aug. 11.—Now is the time, according to State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox for every parent to ask himself if his child is physically ready for school. A visit to the family physician will answer this question and give time for correction of minor defects before school bells ring out this September.

School children are exposed to so much infection that where a definite preventive against disease is known parents should take advantage of it.

Vaccination against typhoid, diphtheria and smallpox should be done at once. These vaccinations may save many days out of school, doctor fees, and perhaps life itself. More than three hundred children die each year in Texas from diphtheria.

A child with defective vision cannot be expected to do the required work in school until this handicap is removed. Inflamed, watery eyes, granulated lids, chronic styes, nervous actions, habitual winking may be caused by defective vision and should be attended to immediately.

The far reaching effects of infected tonsils on the system has been recognized by health workers for many years. Many of the ills of later life as heart disease, arthritis, deafness and the like, are directly traceable to tonsils that became infected during childhood and were allowed to remain untreated.

Dental defects are found in more children than any other imperfection, estimates the Texas State Department of Health, urging that children should be taken regularly to the dentist for examination and cleaning of the teeth. This precaution keeps the mouth clean and makes it possible for dental defects to be discovered as soon as they appear.

Postural defects are detectable in children much sooner today than was formerly the case. Have your family physician see if your child's shoulder blades project and if his arches are low. Simple exercises while the child is young, diligently adhered to, will prevent later developments.

Some physical defects of children, particularly underweight or malnourishment, show no appreciable present effect. If such a condition is not corrected it may result seriously in later years.

Hard and fast rules for a child's weight at a certain age are difficult to arrive at due to variation in children's bone construction and physical build, but some gain should be shown each month. Average weights for height-and-age, as computed by experts, may be had from your family physician.

Geology Book is Released By The University Texas

Austin, Texas, Aug. 11.—"Geology of Texas," Volume 3 has been released by the Bureau of Economic Geology of the University of Texas. The volume deals with the fossils of the late polyzoic formation and describes in particular the ammonites and fusulinids. Dr. E. H. Sellards, director of the bureau, stated. Earlier volumes dealt with stratigraphy, a description of the formations in Texas, and with structural and economic geology.

"The REST Of the Record"

BY JAMES V. ALLRED
Governor of Texas

In Texas we boast of our southern hospitality; in Mexico, the people don't boast of it; they live it. From the moment when Mrs. Dominguez, wife of the Mexican vice-consul at Laredo presented a beautiful bouquet to Mrs. Allred as we crossed the international boundary until now I have never witnessed such courtesy, such hospitality as has been extended to us on every hand.

As I told you last week, the Mexican government invited us to be their guests, even furnishing transportation over the railroad. We have now passed through the capital cities of three Mexican states and at each one great crowds including the Governor, the Mayor, representatives of the military and the business men have met us at station with a band, presented beautiful bouquets to Jo Betsy (my wife), and given us the very best of entertainment as long as we were with them. Of course, we realize this is an honor they are extending not to Jimmie Allred, but to the Governor of Texas; and that's why I'm prouder than ever before of the high honor the people have bestowed upon us.

We spent one day at Monterrey, capital of Nuevo Leon. It is quite modern and somewhat Americanized. We saw many Texas people there, most of them tourists, of course. We visited one of the most beautiful and modern hospitals I have ever seen anywhere, the gift of a fine old Mexican gentleman, a Mr. Muguerza. One of the finest glass factories in the world is located in Monterrey. It is almost unbelievable to see how they melt sand in furnaces, then drop it in red-hot pieces into various kinds of moulds where it cools into bottles, vases, pitchers, plates and glassware of every character. As I watched this preparation put through the burning fire, yet emerge fine-spun and clean and beautiful, it made me wonder if sometimes human beings aren't put through a torturing, searing fire—a great sorrow, for instance—that they may emerge, tested and tried, a finer, cleaner character.

American money is of course, more than Mexican money. You exchange one dollar American money for $3.60 Mexican. I got $36.00 in Mexican bills and silver for a ten dollar bill. It made me feel quite "flush" to have so much money in my pockets. I owed Jo Betsy ten dollars when we left Texas so I paid her the same amount in Mexican and still had $26.00 left. Your money seems to go farther here, everything is considerably cheaper.

Our next stop was Saltillo, once the capital of Texas when we belonged to Mexico. It is a beautiful little city of 60,000, nestling a mile high in the mountains, nice and cool in the daytime and almost chilly at night. I was surprised to find it quite an educational center. They have just started an experimental agricultural school there, trying to teach the sons of farmers to whom the Mexican government has recently given lands, the practical side of farming, stock raising and dairying. It is remarkable to see how these people, who were torn by revolution and war less than twenty years ago, have progressed; and how hard they are trying to better conditions for the underprivileged class here.

We have met many wonderful people here, some of them educated in Texas. On every hand were evidences of culture and refinement—a wonderful art gallery, fine school buildings and music everywhere. The people are overly friendly. They are completely wedded to the "Good Neighbor" policy of President Roosevelt; they love him almost as much as we do and they adore their own president, Lazaro Cardenas. I felt like saying in Saltillo, "Thank God for a people with friendship in their hearts and music in their souls."

As you perhaps know, a fine new highway has been completed all the way from Texas to Mexico City. It is wide open, a marvelous drive and perfectly safe. Since things are so much cheaper, I want to suggest to all of you who can that you make plans to spend a vacation down here some time in the future. You will enjoy it. My wife's mother and my oldest son, Jim Boy are with us, and they, too, are having the time of their lives. Like every other boy of his age, Jim boy is full of curiosity. He has been all over the train to find out how things work, turning off lights, turning on water, etc. but he is a little timid about scouting around these Mexican places much.

The Mexican government sent consul Dominguez from Laredo with us and the American government ordered Bill Blocker, our consul at Monterrey to accompany us throughout our stay. They have insisted on us staying at the American Embassy in Mexico City, so we are looking forward to a grand time this week. I'll try to have something more interesting to tell you next week. "A DIOS!"

Famous Composers Appear in Fiesta Free Attraction

Fort Worth, Aug. 12.—Melody Lane, starring the composers of the greatest song hits of yesteryear, is now offered as a free attraction at the Fort Worth Frontier Fiesta. "Think of hearing 'Sweet Adeline' sung by a quartet consisting of Harry Armstrong, who wrote the immortal song; Joe Howard, composer of 'I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now'; Phil Baxter, 'Piccolo Pete,' and J. Russell Robinson, 'Margie.' This is just one of the highlights in Billy Rose's sentimental show with its circle of eight grand pianos and a white piano in the center where the composers, one by one, play their great songs. Some of the composers sing and the other melodies are sung by Bess Coughlin, 'songbird of the Southwest,' and Charles King, start of the great motion picture, 'Broadway Melody.'

Melody Lane has been one of the most popular shows on the grounds and now that admission is free, even larger crowds are expected to enter the huge circular red building, with a seating capacity of 3,500. There will be three performances nightly. Melody Lane succeeds 'Flirting With Death' as a free attraction.

Composers—besides Armstrong, Howard, Baxter and Robinson are Vincent Rose, who wrote 'Avalon,' Ernie Burnett 'Melancholy Baby,' David Guion 'Home on the Range,' and Euday Bowman, 'Twelfth Street Rag.'

Mineral Resource Survey Completed

Austin, Texas, Aug. 11.—The University of Texas Bureau of Economic Geology has completed a mineral resource survey of 45 Texas counties in Central Texas, Northeast Texas and the Panhandle. Dr. E. H. Sellards, director of the bureau, has reported. The survey is made possible through the use of Works Progress Administration grants. Mimeographed reports on the counties surveyed have been issued by the bureau and can be obtained by persons interested in the mineral resources of Texas counties.

Dr. Sellards estimated the cost of the survey at approximately $1,500 a county, or $70,000 for the work already completed. The work is done by WPA labor supervised by a trained geologist in each county, and directed by Dr. Sellards, Dr. V. E. Barnes, and Dr. H. B. Stenzel, geologists in the Bureau of Economic Geology.

Tri-County Tennis Meet Dates Are Set

August 13, 14 and 15 Dates Announced By Rule Club

On August 13, 14 and 15th Rule Tennis Club will be host to the tennis players from Jones, Haskell and Knox Counties.

The following divisions will be included: Men's divisions, both singles and doubles. Boy's division, singles and doubles. Women's division, both singles and doubles, and mixed doubles. The last two divisions will be new and will be held every year if sufficient interest is shown. Boys under 18 years are classed as 'boys.'

Appropriate awards will be given to the winners of each division and they will have the right to enter the State T.A.A.F. meet in Wichita Falls September 3 and 4th.

Last year's meet brought players from Stamford, Munday, Rochester, Knox City, Rule and Sagerston, Hamlin and Haskell are sending over representatives this year to make the competition keener. Last summer Stamford was well represented by Johnnie Bounds and Earl Russell and outstanding players from Munday included Paul Mansell, Harvey Lee, John Easley and Dr. Roberts. Knox City will send down the old McMurry 'plowhoss' and several women players who are interested in tennis. Stamford, Munday, Rule and Rochester will also have women entries.

Winners from last year who will endeavor to defend their honors will include Bud Hudspeth of Rochester in boys' singles, Hudspeth and Qualls of Rochester in boy's doubles; R. G. DeBerry of Rule in men's singles and DeBerry and T. J. Turner in the men's doubles.

Special effort will be made to relieve the conflict between business and the time of the matches. The drawings will be made at 9:00 Friday, A.M., August 13th. Entries should be mailed to the Rule Tennis Club.

Program is Developed

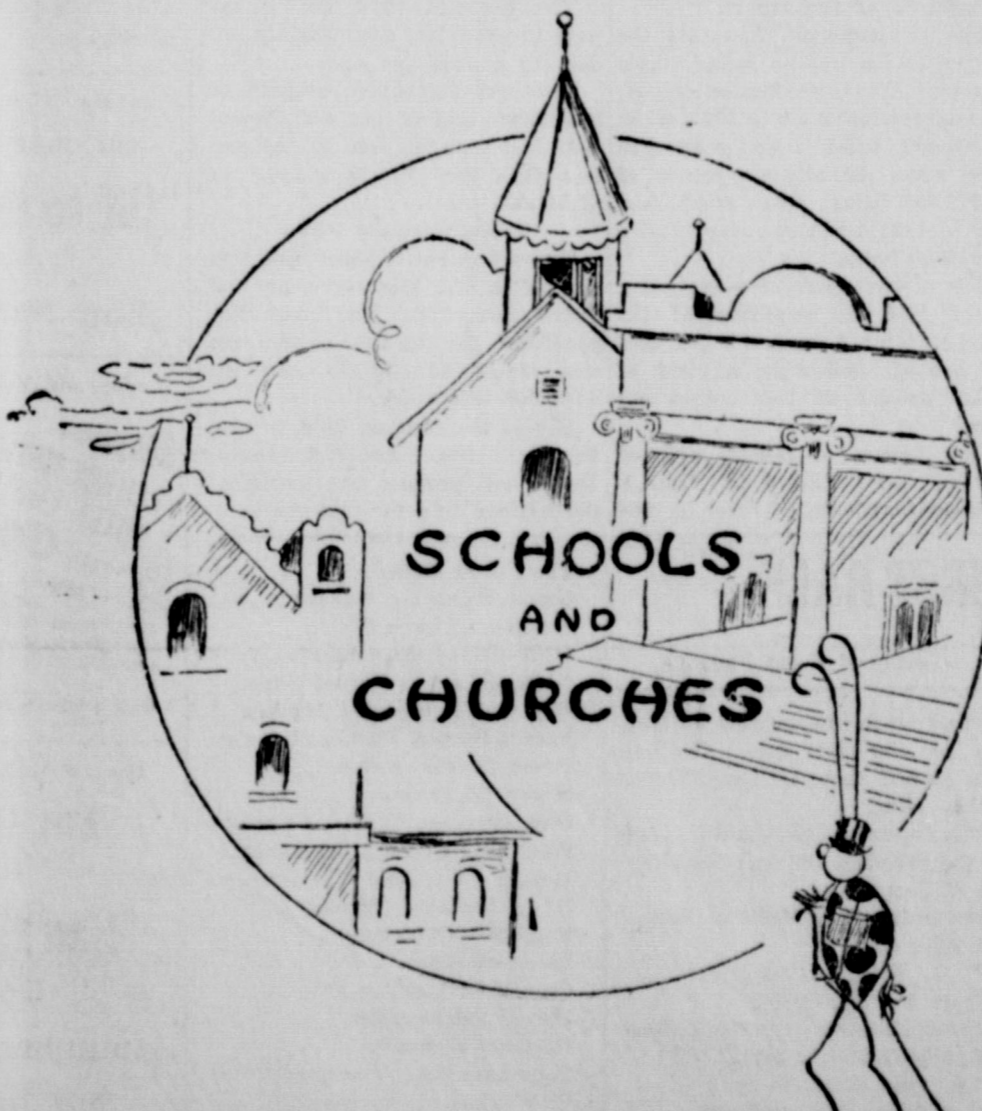

NYA students assigned to assistance in the departments of Visual Education and Public Health Education at Texas Dental College at Houston made it possible to develop a program of public health instruction through the preparation of models and other equipment. F. C. Elliott, Dean of the College, reported to J. C. Kellam State Youth Director. "Although these departments have functioned for some time there has been a marked growth since this NYA assistance has been available," he said.

Park Improvement

National Youth Administration workers at Crowell are assisting in a park improvement and beautification project through construction of a gravel walk and concrete foot-bridge, leveling and grading, straightening the creek bed and planting shrubs about the recreation area.

NIGHT GAME IS LOST THURSDAY TO IOWA PARK

Four Run Splurge in Seventh Nets Win To Iowa Park

C. WILDE GETS TRIPLE, HOMER

More Than 700 People See First Night Game There

Munday dropped a close decision to the Iowa Park baseball nine last Thursday night on the lighted field at Iowa Park, before a ladies night crowd of more than 700.

The Moguls led the Texhoma league crew through six innings of dazzling baseball, running up a 4-1 lead behind the effective hurling of Red Nichols, mound ace of the locals.

Nichols lost his effectiveness long enough in the seventh frame to get him in trouble, and his cause was not helped any by an error. Iowa Park chased four men over to take the lead and then added another in the eighth to end scoring for the night.

Munday Takes Lead

Munday jumped into an early lead and were apparently coasting into another victory. Mogul swatsmen were pummeling Gibson. Iowa Park flinger, freely, outpitching their opponents 10 to 5.

C. Wilde did the heavy hitting with a home run and a triple and was followed by Kehler. Munday's "king of swat," who garnered a triple and single.

Another game will probably be played between these two clubs, but no definite arrangements have been announced to date.

Score by Innings:

NYA WORK WILL BE CONTINUED

Announcement To Be Made Soon

Austin, Aug. 11.—An announcement concerning continuation of the NYA Student Aid program during the 1937-38 school year is expected within a few days, J. C. Kellam, Director of the National Youth Administration, said today.

Last year the School Aid program provided part-time employment for more than 14,000 students in 2,135 Texas secondary schools.

The College Aid program provided employment for more than 8,000 students in 87 Texas colleges and universities. Mr. Kellam said that minor changes in the rules and regulations governing the program and a slight reduction in the quota of jobs allotted to each school are expected.

"We fully realize that an early announcement concerning the program is desirable," Mr. Kellam said. Many school executives already are receiving applications from students seeking part-time employment. As soon as an official announcement is made, we shall make the plans for the program public."

Mr. Kellam said that when the announcement is made students who wish to apply for NYA Student Aid jobs should communicate with the principal or superintendent of the school or the president of the college which they wish to attend; under the 1936-37 regulations it was his responsibility to select the students who were employed.

To Keep Seed Pure
Farmers who have planted Acala will attempt to keep the seed as pure as possible for future plantings. Renge said. There has been some talk of getting one of the local gins to take only Acala cotton in order that the seed may be kept pure from other varieties of cotton, but nothing definite has been done towards this needed move.

The cotton at this stage is in excellent condition, but needing cooler weather. Cotton men say that there is less worms in this area than in years. The Acala makes a strong sturdy plant that will average two feet in height.

FORECAST CAUSES SHARP DROP IN COTTON MARKET; NEW CROP ESTIMATED AT 15,593,000 BALES

Largest Crop Since 1931 Predicted Monday By Department of Agriculture; Texas Production Set Slightly Over 4,000,000 Bales

The cotton forecast for August caused a sharp decline in the cotton market. Cotton was off $2 a bale immediately following the forecast, and has been unsteady with a downward tendency.

The department of agriculture Monday forecast a 1937 cotton crop of 15,593,000 bales the largest in six years.

The report, showing cotton acreage at 11 per cent higher than last year and prospects for the highest department, was expected to result in further weakness in cotton prices which have sagged as traders discounted the high production in advance of the report.

The department forecasts the largest cotton crop in United States history. Actual production exceeded this year estimate in 1925, when 16,105,000 bales were grown, in 1926 when the all-time record of 17,978,000 bales was established and in 1931 when the crop totaled 17,970,000 bales.

The department's crop reporting board said the condition of the crop on Aug. 1 was 81.3 per cent of normal, indicating a yield of 223.3 pounds of lint cotton per acre.

The bureau of census reported 142,983 bales ginned to Aug. 1, compared with 41,130 bales in 1935 and 94,346 in 1935.

The department estimated, 33,429,000 acres were in cultivation on Aug. 1 based upon the 10-year average abandonment of 2.3 per cent, compared with 34,192,000 acres in cultivation on July 1.

This year's crop will be 25.8 per cent larger than in 1935, when production was 12,399,000 bales, the department estimated.

The yield per acre estimate was the largest ever recorded for the United States, the department said. The former record was in 1898, when the final yield was 223.1 pounds per acre.

The average yield during the past 10 years has been slightly under 170 pounds per acre.

The cotton acreage estimate of 33,429,000 was 11 per cent larger than last year but was 18 per cent less than the 1928-32 average of 40,541,000 acres.

Texas Forecast Given
Texas was one of the states that showed a big increase over last years production. The Lone Star prediction for the new cotton crop was placed at slightly over the 4,000,000 bale mark.

Should the forecast hold to that figure in the September release, Texas will produce one fourth of the nations crop for this year.

that the structure which was destroyed by a fire, will be rebuilt.

Practically all of the cotton produced in this area comes from the fertile valley and plains of Knox prairie, which is a sandy-loam strip of soil running 30 miles in length and about 10 miles in width.

H. A. Pendleton, manager of the Pendleton Gin Company, a close observer of the market, has predicted a price that will range above the 10 cent mark for the 7-8 staples and from 12 cents and up for the longer staples.

Should that price be maintained "boom days" are to be enjoyed by farmers and business men of this section. Farmers at present are in the best shape financially they have been in years. The bumper wheat crop and the heavy yield of maize has put the farmers on sound financial standing and should the present cotton crop reach the bumper proportions as predicted the depression will be "whipped" in Munday.

Brothers Separated 30 Years Meet Here

W. W. McCarty was pleasantly surprised Saturday morning when he accidentally met his brother, J. G. McCarty of Yuma, Arizona, whom he had not seen for 30 years.

The last time the two brothers had seen each other was in July, 1907 at Brownwood, Texas. The two men did not recognize each other and only through casual conversation did they learn they were brothers.

McCarty stayed here for several days and Tuesday W. W. took his brother to Brownwood where he visited his brothers family. The brother of the local man will move his family to Yuma soon.

R. K. Pittman, Ropesville, Texas, is visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Guinn.

Mrs. C. R. Parker, who has been visiting her son, Homer Parker in Taft, California, left for Carbon, Texas to be at the bedside of her mother, Mrs. J. S. Reese, who fell and sustained a broken hip.
