

how's this, wheat farmers---

35c PER BUSHEL

in trade for the Foard County News?

For a limited time only—this and next week—this newspaper will accept wheat in payment for subscriptions, at the rate of 35c per bushel. And Mr. Wheat Farmer, you are now enabled to accomplish TWO purposes—pay your subscription (whether in arrears or not) and help your favorite worker in the subscription campaign. We believe there are many farmers in this county who like the Foard County News and wish to keep on taking it and the publisher wishes to help provide an outlet for the farmer who has the wheat and no money.

All that is asked is that you bring the wheat to the Foard County News' office, sacked, and state which worker you desire the credits for your subscription to go to. No subscription will be accepted for more than five years nor less than two years on the wheat proposition. An even eleven bushels will pay for a two-year subscription. BRING IN YOUR WHEAT, MR. FARMER, AND KEEP ON READING THE FOARD COUNTY NEWS.

ALL SUBSCRIPTIONS IN ARREARS WILL BE DISCONTINUED AFTER THIS WEEK UNLESS SETTLED FOR

DON'T STOP! WHEN YOU HAVE WON YOUR FIRST VICTORY

IT'S NOT A GOAL BUT ONLY A STEP FORWARD!

So evenly have the honors been divided up to the present time in the big prize campaign that it depends almost entirely upon the individual efforts of each candidate during the remaining few weeks as to who will finish with flying colors and be acclaimed the winners of the highest honors and biggest prizes. If you halt for a moment; if you weaken for a single day; or if you overlook one opportunity to better your chances to win, you are taking a desperate hazard of losing the big prizes that are within your grasp, and which really belong to you, if you but hustle.

Candidates, the First Period is history. If you did not accomplish your aim during that time, it is up to you to work all the harder now. If you are in the lead now, try and stay there—if not, do your best to get there. You can't win by watching the others.

And the friends of each candidate who are reading this have promised a subscription "later on." The campaign has passed the stage where a promise means anything. If a drowning man calls for a rope, you don't say "wait until next week." When a hungry man begs for food, you don't say "See me on pay day." When a candidate in this race asks for a subscription, promises have an empty sound unless you back them up with the old check book.

From Now Until the Finish Is When 100 Percent Efficiency Counts!

And remember, Candidates, the battle is on. The race is for that wonderful automobile, worth $727.00, and at this stage where the leaders will soon be pulling away. You can be one of the leaders. It is in you to be a leader. In every person living lies dormant Salesmanship Ability, which if developed, will lead to the better things in life. The drive to make this newspaper read in every home in this part of the country and surrounding territory, has started now in real earnest. Unless we FIGHT for everything that is in us, we are unworthy of the higher prizes and the confidence the subscribers place in us.

Candidates, show your mettle and work hard for those subscriptions the longer the term, the better. Don't let it be said that there is one laggard in this list of candidates. If THIS battle is not FOUGHT and fought hard, other battles which you undertake in life will not be fought. Just as in this campaign, so it is with LIFE. Nothing is easy. Nothing that is considered great was ever easy to put across. The idlers, the drifters, the wishers and others of like tribe, will not win big in this campaign and will not be winners of the better things of life.

Put your shoulders to the wheel and let's show everyone that we will put this campaign over big. Be a winner, not a wisher.

how about it subscribers?

When one of the faithful workers for your home paper has called on you for help in the campaign which you can only give with a subscription, have you said:

You'll have to see my wife, she attends to all that sort of things—

"Come around and see me just before close—"

"I'd like to see you win the car, but I'm paid pretty well in advance, no—"

"I'm taking more papers now than I get time to read—"

"I'd like to help you but I haven't any money—"

"I'd give you the subscription if I knew you'd win, but—" —if you have given an excuse, any of the above or others, instead of a subscription, are you treating your friends right? You are either for them or against them. The time has come when good wishes, kind words, excuses or promises mean nothing more than that you have turned your back on a friend. If you want to see your favorite win, you must say it with subscriptions!

DON'T WAIT—EXTEND YOUR SUBSCRIPTION THIS PERIOD—GIVE HELP AT THE TIME IT WILL COUNT MOST!

Beginning of Third Period Finds "Weekly Payroll" Workers Running Closely—Any Worker Can Win

Miss Lou Dell Green lead at the close of the First Period, with the others closely in behind and threatening to crash into the lead at any moment.

Any "Weekly Payroll" worker that halts now for a single moment, or is satisfied with small results, might as well begin figuring on a basis of 20% commission for their efforts, for they surely will not be among the big prize winners on August 22.

RELATIVE STANDING

MISS LOU DELL GREEN, Crowell	408,925
MISS LORENE SHULTZ, Thalia	402,775
MISS DOROTHY HINDS, Crowell	399,750
JOHN WISHON, JR., Crowell	394,675
MRS. S. E. MILLS, Truscott	393,550
MRS. JOHN L. HUNTER, Margaret	246,725
MISS CLARA SKIPWORTH, Crowell	245,075
MRS. ELLA RUCKER, Crowell	238,700

They are closely bunched. Too close for anyone member to be confident. The fight is getting hotter, so watch them come down the homestretch.

WORKERS—Anyone not making three cash reports each week remaining in the campaign, will be declared INACTIVE in accordance with the Rules and Regulations.

The above standing is relative for publication and does not necessarily mean all the credits each worker has to their credit, for they have the privilege of reserving.

mr. reader---

Don't Wait Until Your Subscription Expires

---BUT RENEW IT NOW!

Listen, Subscribers, if you have a favorite in this campaign, why not help them win a wonderful prize? If your subscription is paid up, but only has a few months to run, why not extend it, so that credits will be given to your friend—and let them win a prize. You probably have been a reader of the Foard County News for years, and will continue to be one, so if you hand one of our energetic workers a subscription, we just extend it that much farther upon our books. There is no need to wait for the subscription to expire, but renew TODAY.

Our Slogan is, "Everybody Extend Their Subscription One Year from Date," and your subscription, with a few more, may be the necessary amount to put your friend over the top, and make you their friend for life. The workers want to know who their friends are, the REAL FRIENDS, who will help them with a substantial subscription.

HAVE YOU TURNED YOUR BACK ON A FRIEND?

THE WAR ON POLIO

The term "polio" is a somewhat recent designation for the dread disease more commonly known as infantile paralysis. It is really an abbreviation, or simplification, of the word "poliomyelitis," the medical term for this malady.

While peculiarly a disease of children, adults are by no means exempt from it. Perhaps the most prominent American who has suffered from polio in recent years is Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York. His almost complete recovery, through scientific treatment, has strongly brought to attention the fact that the disease does not necessarily make its victim a permanent cripple.

In gratitude for his own recovery, and in a desire to place proper treatment within the reach of all who are similarly afflicted, Governor Roosevelt has recently taken the lead in a national crusade against polio.

At Warm Springs, Ga., where the governor's cure was effected, there has been organized a non-profit making foundation, under the presidency of Dr. John Rurak, famed pediatrician of Baltimore, also a polio victim, who has been a patient there since last April.

The need for such an organization is emphasized by the fact that there are more than 300,000 cases of infantile paralysis in the United States alone, and the number is increasing. The movement for the eradication of this blighting disease should have the hearty support of humanitarians and philanthropists everywhere.

A GODD CODE FOR ANYBODY

Mahatma Gandhi, the leader of the revolution against British rule in India, told newspaper men the other day the rules of conduct which have governed his own life. He would not presume to lay down rules for anybody else, he said, but he had a code which he had consistently followed. These are the rules of life, as Gandhi observes them:

- Love.
- Truth.
- Chastity.
- Fearlessness.
- Service to others.
- Control of appetites.
- Belief in the equality of all mankind.
- Abstention from alcohol, tobacco and drugs.
- Belief that all great religions are of equal worth.
- Taking nothing that is not paid for by one's own work.
- Valuing possessions not for themselves but for their usefulness.
- It is not easy to live in a world which professes, in the main, such a code, and to obey it literally. For while these rules of conduct as laid down by Gandhi differ in no important respect from those laid down by Jesus Christ and before Him by Buddha and other great religious teachers, very few human beings have had the hardihood to even attempt to live up to them. Gandhi himself, even his enemies admit, comes about as close to it as any man in modern times.
- It seems to us that one of the causes of the trouble in which the world finds itself today is that most people have forgotten these ancient rules of life, which have always been sound and still are. We have been carried away, all of us, both in America and elsewhere, by the idea that there is some magic in material possessions which will make us happy in spite of ourselves. Nothing was ever farther from the truth.

THE CIVIL LEGION

Among the genuinely patriotic organizations of the United States is the Civil Legion, composed of men who served the nation in official civil capacities during the World War. War governors of the several states, members of non-military war boards and commissions, and others who gave their services in the prosecution of necessary war activities at home are eligible for membership.

It is the announced desire of the Civil Legion to cooperate closely with the American Legion in all matters pertaining to the national defense. In fact, it is expected that a resolution will be passed by the American Legion at its coming national convention endorsing the Civil Legion and formally accepting this cooperation.

In seeking a closer affiliation with former military men, the Civil Legion declares that it "has never and will not engage in any financial enterprise or adventures of any kind, and that it seeks no appropriations or contributory gifts."

By keeping alive the patriotic spirit which animated their members during the war, both the American Legion and the Civil Legion may further contribute to the safety of the nation in case another war should unhappily occur. But neither desires to see another war, and both may be depended upon to use every honorable means to prevent such a calamity.

A ROYAL TARGET

Former King Alfonso XIII of Spain would hardly class as a great ruler, but he has the distinction of having been the target of would-be assassins oftener than any other monarch—ten times to be exact—and came through unscathed.

Alfonso was proclaimed king on the day of his birth, May 17, 1886, his father having died some months before of tuberculosis, at the age of 28. The first attempt on Alfonso's life was on the day of his coronation, when he was 18 years old. Among the most spectacular attacks made on him was one while driving with President Loubet of France, in Paris, and another on his wedding day, May 31, 1906, when a bomb thrown at him and his bride while riding from the church killed twenty or more in the streets of Madrid, the royal pair escaping injury. The last attack was on April 15, 1913, when an anarchist fired three shots at him. This time the king wheeled his horse and ran down his assailant.

In between were attempts by bomb and pistol, but he seemed to have a charmed life. Throughout all these ordeals Alfonso displayed absolute coolness and courage, which greatly added to his popularity. For in spite of the many attempts to assassinate him, he was popular with the Spanish masses.

When the revolt against the monarchy became too great to be withstood last April, Alfonso quietly abdicated and left the country. Those who have watched his career will hardly believe that he fled through lack of personal courage. His action was doubtless inspired more by a desire to see Spain saved from the terrors of civil war. If he sometimes sighs for the lost glories of kingship, he may also reflect that he is extremely lucky to be alive.

The Statue of Liberty is to be repaired and illuminated. The thing she stands for needs a little refurbishing, too.

Jap Finds Comet with Home-Made Telescope

Masaji Nagata, an obscure Japanese grower of garden truck, of Brawley, Cal., startled world astronomers by finding a new heavenly body with a two-inch telescope he built himself. The comet will probably be named after him.

SILVER

If I had loose capital to invest today I would buy silver. The metal is selling now at the lowest price in history, measured by the gold standard. In the money markets of the world last week it was under twenty-nine cents an ounce. The average price of silver for the past fifty years has been well above sixty cents an ounce; during and just after the war it touched $1.30.

Silver is certain to come back. The President of Mexico has issued a decree restoring silver to its old position as money. One of the causes of the unrest of India has been the demonetizing of silver, and economists think that silver will be restored to its old position there.

Anybody who buys silver now stands a good chance of doubling his money within three or four years, possibly sooner. And if he needs cash in the meantime silver is a commodity on which an extremely high percentage of its market value can always be borrowed.

DAVIS

Keep an eye on Norman H. Davis, the gentleman who has just been appointed the American member of the Finance Committee of the League of Nations. Mr. Davis has the confidence of financial leaders and of statesmen on both sides of the Atlantic to a degree approached by few other Americans. A native of Tennessee, Mr. Davis was one of President Wilson's chief financial advisers in the peace negotiations. Then he came back to America, first as Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, then as Under Secretary of State and for a time was acting head of the State Department. His new job is to guide the nations of Europe in financial matters.

Mr. Davis has never run for elective office, but if the Democrats elect a President next year or in 1936 I venture now the prediction that Norman H. Davis will hold a high position in the Cabinet or the Diplomatic Service.

BAKER

Another Democrat worth keeping an eye on is Newton D. Baker. Lots of Democrats would like to see him President, but I don't think he will be the party's nominee in 1932. He will be heard from in the campaign, however, and will figure large in any Demonstration administration in his lifetime.

Mr. Baker is, I believe, the most effective and convincing orator in American public life today. His address last week before the Institute of Politics in Williamstown, Mass., was the clearest exposition of the present political-economic condition of the world that I have read.

CHICAGO

TAX MEASURES THE MAN

The man who is careful, keeps down expense,
Who uses in business good common sense,
May never be rich as they call men today,
But he never misses to have tax to pay.
The man who to business pays little heed,
Keeps buying things he does not need,
Is a man very likely who pays little tax.
He accumulates nothing; his methods are lax.
The First State Bank would advise that the man,
Who pays no tax better change his plan.

CHURCHES

Christian Science

Sunday, 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Subject for Sunday, August 9, "Spirit." Sunday School at 9:30. Wednesday evening service at 8 o'clock. The public is cordially invited.

Christian Church

Dr. Packard is more than pleasing fifth his fine messages. If you have not heard him you certainly are the loser. Hear him both morning and evening.

Attendance is good, attention is good, interest is good, the offering is good, the singing is good, in fact, a spirit of revival is already upon the church and there is no limit to the far-reaching effect of our labors, unless we limit the power of God by our failure to do our part.

Next Sunday morning we urge every member of the church to be present at Sunday School and the communion service. Let us make this a great reconsecration of our time, and talent and means to our Master's service. Let it be a time when we, as the church, lay ourselves upon the altar before God, to be used of Him. Let us bring others, too, that they may get the benefit of this great spiritual service.

Have you led someone to Christ during this meeting? If not, look around you and see how many friends and acquaintances you have that are unsaved. Pray for these specific ones, talk to them, let us know who they are. The least each of us can afford to do is win a minimum of one for Christ. To do less is to prove false to Him who has saved us.

Study, pray, work, come to the services and let God take care of the result.

Christian Science Churches

"LOVE" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, August 2.

The golden text was from Zephaniah 3:17. "The Lord thy God in the midst of thee is mighty; he will save, he will rejoice over thee with joy; he will rest in his love, he will joy over thee with singing."

The service included the following passage from the Bible (1 John 4:16). "And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him."

This citation from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, was also read (pp. 319-320):

"A misplaced word changes the sense and misstates the Science of the Scriptures, as, for instance, to name Love as merely an attribute of God; but we can by special and proper capitalization speak of the love of Love, meaning by that what the beloved disciple meant in one of his epistles, when he said, "God is love."

SERMONETTE

THE RADIO

By Arthur B. Rhinow

"Let's see what's on the air." We turn the dial on the radio, listen to a bit of music here, a few sentences of a lecture there, finally make our selection, and settle ourselves comfortably to enjoy the entertainment of our choice.

We choose what appeals to us, and that depends upon our mood, our disposition, and in the last analysis upon what we are. People of refinement will not choose a coarse program, coarse people "get no kick" out of refined entertainment. Both but even humor may be coarse or fine. In fact, we can pretty well tell a person's character by what he laughs at.

The radio offers variety, but we only get what we tune in on. And the heart is a radio, in possible touch with infinite variety; but we only "get" what we are attuned to. To be sure, we come in contact with much that we do not care for, but it never reaches us, it never "gets" us, unless we are attuned to it.

If you are a materialist, you will unconsciously tune in on material things, and you will become coarser every time you receive; if you are spiritual, you will become more spiritual every time you tune in. Whether the music that comes floating to you through the ether be the major music of joy or the minor music of sorrow, it will make more of a man or beast of you, according to what you are.

Some radios have a short reach, others reach almost around the world. Some hearts are narrow and selfish, and they often hear discords; others are broad in their sympathies, and they hear beautiful music. And when we tune in on God, we hear infinite harmonies, absorbing the discords of life, and we know that all will be well.

be chosen. Similar eliminations will be held in four other districts, ten contestants in all being qualified for the final Audition. These boys and girls will be taken, by way of Washington, D. C., to New York, where the National Finals will be broadcast through a coast-to-coast radio network. The final rating of these contestants will be made by a board of distinguished musicians.

Practically all winners of the four previous Radio Auditions are now well along the road to success, by virtue of concert engagements, professional broadcasting and, more recently, the sound movies, for which young singers who screen well are in demand.

Mrs. Crews reports that Raymond Burrow and Miss Elsie Schindler of Crowell have already entered the contest.

Dr. Packard Speaks at Rotary Luncheon

Dr. Paul Henry Packard, who is conducting the Christian revival here, was the principal speaker at the luncheon of the Rotary Club Wednesday. He spoke on the challenge of the church, stating that this challenge was the biggest thing in the world, and on a man's responsibility to his son.

"Men are so busy now with matters other than the church that those following us do not get a square deal," Dr. Packard stated. "We just have to refer to the past to see that the principal progress of the church has been made by very busy men."

The importance of fathers spending more time with their sons was stressed by the speaker and a few interesting illustrations along this line were given.

John Raser was in charge of the program. C. V. Allen was a visitor at the luncheon.

THIS WEEK in Washington

(Special to The News)

Washington, D. C., August 6.—(Autocaster)—President Hoover's recent pronouncement regarding economy, with his order for cuts in all departments has created consternation in the ranks of the admirals and generals, both those stationed here and elsewhere. There are more "brass hats" in Washington right now than during the height of the war and many of them are busy designing new ships, most of which will not be built, according to this latest order. Others are in command at obsolete navy yards.

Army officers, with the exception of the Engineer Corps, which is one hundred percent busy on reclamation and similar projects, are also dismayed by the order. Some time ago a rule was issued by the Chief of Staff that provided that army men around Washington wear civilian clothes at all times, except when on military duty. The order was designed to cover up the fact that hundreds of officers are doing clerical work at high army pay. It was feared some Congressman would uncover the condition and start something, as the camouflage was ordered.

Another arms group that finds the order distasteful is that of the Cavalry. They see the abolishment of the mounted division and the cessation of all chances for polo playing and fox-hunting at Government expense under the pretext that the horses need exercise and training.

President Hoover apparently is well aware of this situation and took steps to protect the taxpayers. His order was issued in the form of a letter to all department heads in Washington pointing out the loss in revenue this year and the huge deficit that exists of some $903,000,000, and "suggests" that all heads make an effort to curtail their expenditures, even dispensing with projects already under way, unless such action will result unfavorably to public welfare. His letter requires definite action by August 17. In other words, immediate action.

It is general talk here that the President's friends are bringing pressure to bear upon him to endorse a bond issue to provide employment on public works during the coming winter. The amount of the issue is generally placed by Dame Rumor at five billions of dollars, which would provide work enough to keep practically everybody busy until economic conditions right themselves, the proponents of the plan assert.

Such a huge issue, even if offered at three percent only, would be over-subscribed many times, it is said here. The issue would have an added advantage in luring hidden capital from its present hiding places and putting it to work. Secretary Mellon is said to be against the plan.

Financiers figure the loan could easily be repaid and the loan retired in forty years without becoming an undue burden on the taxpayers. At three per cent the yearly interest would be $150,000,000. By adding one per cent to the tax, or $50,000,000, and investing that in a sinking fund at interest, the loan could be repaid in forty years. The plan has many supporters but Mr. Hoover has given no intimation as to what action he is likely to take. It is conceded that some measure like it will be absolutely necessary to obtain the revenue needed to run the Government and take the place of the loss from reduced payments on the income tax and the quarter of a billion dollars the Germans have been excused from paying on reparations for a year.

MADE THE DEPRESSION PAY LARGER DIVIDENDS

(Tucumcari News)

The depression didn't bother G. W. Hill, president of the American Tobacco Company, a whole lot.

He increased his advertising, increased it to such an extent his company spent more for advertising during the year 1930 than any other concern had ever spent in one year for a like purpose.

And what was the result?

Read it and weep, you business men who cut your advertising to the ridiculous stage last year and are continuing the cut this year.

His advertising piled up a net income for the American Tobacco Company of 43 million dollars, which was an increase of more than 40 per cent over the preceding year, the best year in the company's history; a year when the country was prosperous.

The stockholders of the company were so well pleased with the management of Mr. Hill he was voted a salary for the year of approximately $2,283,000.

The colder the iron becomes the harder the blacksmith hammers it.

The steeper the hill the more gas the motorist gives his auto.

The more severe the drouth the deeper the farmer cultivates.

The poorer the farm animals become the more the farmer feeds.

The colder the weather the more coal is piled into the fire.

Still there are merchants who cut their advertising as soon as business becomes the least bit shaky, cut it in face of the fact everything illustrates beyond arguments that advertising is the only means through which they can draw customers to their stores.
