Rescue of Cynthia Ann Parker from Indians Related in Diary of First Palo Pinto Teacher

Editor's Note: The following story concerning the re-capture of Cynthia Ann Parker from the Indians in 1860, was written by Mrs. J. H. Baker, first teacher of Palo Pinto County, Texas, and was recently published in the Dallas Morning News. Since the event occurred in 1860, a monument was erected last year at the site in the northwest part of the county. The article should prove of great interest to our readers. It was seventy-seven years ago in December that Cynthia Ann Parker was recaptured from the Indians by Capt. Lawrence Sullivan Ross and his early day rangers on the Pease River.

Excerpts from the diary of the James H. Baker, first school teacher of Palo Pinto County, Texas, and heretofore unpublished details of her recapture, as well as some thrilling history of that standing band of intrepid, ear-ear rangers, whose bravery saved the frontier of Texas for civilization and drove away the merciless red men.

ANNUAL REPORT OF COUNTY AGENT SHOWS UPWARD TREND IN AGRICULTURAL CONDITIONS

At present, farmers of Foard County are in better financial condition than they have been in the past eight years, according to the annual narrative report of the county farm agent, John W. Nagel, which was released this week.

Foard County farmers are being Extension-minded and are beginning to see that it is as important to produce as well as to consume. The report further shows that farmers have also started to modern methods of handling their farm commodities and modern ways of storing same.

There were applications signed for a hundred and thirty-seven acres in 1937 of which one hundred and sixty-four were in corn and sixty-four were in cotton. During the past four years given money to producers with a view to paying taxes, land notes, buying supplies, equipment, pastures, and numerous necessities for the farm and farm home.

Government programs have allowed the farmer an opportunity to build up the soil on his farm which has been much needed for a number of years.

General Agricultural Condition of county has a wide variety of soils ranging from a light sandy to a heavy clay loam, and an area of 450,345 acres of which 331,245 acres are devoted to stock raising. Approximately 110,000 acres are devoted to crops. There are 830 farms in Foard County and the principal crops are: wheat, cotton, sorghums, and some fruit. Livestock consists of beef, dairy cattle, swine, sheep, poultry, mules and poultry. Practically all of the farming in the county is done by tenant farmers and approximately one hundred per cent of the farmers are

1937 Plan of Work

These demonstrations were advertised so the surrounding farmers could read and understand the value of them and were also engaged to go see and study the demonstrations while they were in progress.

from Palo Pinto County. Each man promised to come with plenty of ammunition and food. Volunteers were to hold a rendezvous in the northern part of the county in a few days when they would be organized into a company and a Captain appointed.

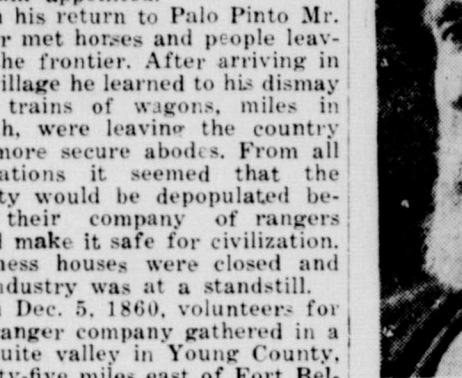

On his return to Palo Pinto Mr. Baker met horses and people leaving the frontier. After arriving in the village he learned to his dismay that trains of wagons, miles in length, were leaving the country for more secure abodes. From all indications it seemed that the county would be depopulated before their company of rangers could make it safe for civilization. Business houses were closed and all industry was at a standstill.

On Dec. 5, 1860, volunteers for the ranger company gathered in a mesquite valley in Young County, twenty-five miles east of Fort Belknap, and organized their company. Men were there from all adjoining counties and many from distant ones who had come to offer their aid in the settlers' fight for safety and protection against the Indians.

LIGHT SIGNALS INSTALLED AT R. R. CROSSING

Flashing Lights Will Warn Motorists as Trains Near

Two flashing light warning signals are being installed at the railroad crossing five blocks east of the square on State Highway 28 by the Santa Fe Railway Company and are expected to be put into service some time next week.

Each of the signals will be equipped with four lights, two facing opposite directions, which will flash on the approach of a train. On each of the poles there will be four large horizontal lights with letters which will automatically be turned on when a train nears the crossing and form the word "stop." The above warnings are for night, and during the day large bells at the top of the poles will warn tourists of approaching trains. In addition to these warning signals the customary railroad crossing signals, with reflector buttons, will be on the poles.

The flashing of the warning signals will be automatically started when a train approaching from the south reaches a distance of 1,000 feet from the crossing and one from the north will start the signals at a distance of 1,500 feet.

The work was started Tuesday, Jan. 4, by a crew from Amarillo and will be completed Friday. The signals will be put into service just as soon as they can be inspected. Installation of the lights is being done as a W. P. G. M. project with the Santa Fe Railway Company as sponsors.

Electric current, which will be stepped down for the operation of the signals, will be obtained from the local station of the West Texas Utilities Company.

JOE MURPHY OF HARDEMAN CO. DIED SUDDENLY

Funeral Held at Home Sunday Afternoon at 2 O'clock

Joe Murphy, 68, Hardeman County farmer and father of Mrs. Clyde Ketchersid and Mrs. Guy Ketchersid of Crowell, died suddenly at his farm home two miles north of Pease River last Thursday at noon, Jan. 6, following a heart attack.

Funeral services were held at the home Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock conducted by Rev. P. P. Lewis, Baptist minister of Quannah. Interment was made in the Crowell cemetery with the Smith Funeral Home of Quannah in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Murphy is a former Foard County resident, having lived on Pease River in 1922, 1923 and 1924, and since that time had lived on the farm where he died. He was converted and joined the Baptist Church when fifteen years old.

Mr. Murphy was born in Goliad County Nov. 24, 1869, going from there to Brown County where he was married to Sallie Naron on Dec. 26, 1897. Six children were born to this union, two daughters and four sons, all of whom survive and were present at the funeral. They are Mrs. Mrs. Clyde Ketchersid and Mrs. Guy Ketchersid of Crowell; J. B. Murphy of Quannah; H. L. and V. B. Murphy of Bishop, Calif., and Altus Murphy of Penwell, Texas. Mr. Murphy is also survived by his wife and twelve grandchildren.

About 700 People Are In Attendance for "Fathers' Night"

The largest crowd ever to attend a regular Crowell Parent-Teacher Association meeting was present for the "Fathers' Night" program held at the Crowell High School auditorium Monday night, following which the formal opening of the new $73,500 grammar school building was held. The opening of the new building climaxed a struggle of several years by local school officials, in which they received the hearty cooperation of the citizens of Crowell and Foard County, to secure the building.

An orchestra, under the direction of Marion Crowell, entertained with music as approximately 700 guests assembled. Mrs. J. T. Billington, hospitality chairman, assisted by Mrs. E. C. King, presided over the register.

After several selections by the Crowell High School band, Mrs. Allen Sanders, president of the local Parent-Teacher Association, welcomed the guests.

A chorus composed of Intermediate boys and girls, with Miss Anne Lee Long directing, rendered several numbers.

Supt. I. T. Graves was the principal speaker. He outlined the Grammar school project from the razing of the old building to the completion of the beautiful structure of which the people of Crowell and Foard County are justly proud.

Charles L. Martin, administrator of the Wichita Falls district of the Works Progress Administration, was present and in a few words paid tribute to the WPA and to its workers.

The concluding number on the program was selections by a quartet composed of John Rasor, Ebb Sciles, Ernest King and Wiley Eales. They were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Arnold Rucker. It is the custom of the P. T. A. to make awards according to the number of mothers present, but the fathers were counted at this meeting. Awards of World Globes were given to Miss Mary Ragland Thompson's room in the Coach Grady Graves' Wildcats will meet the Terrible Turks from Turkey in their own lair Thursday night, (tonight,) at 7:30 o'clock when the two quintets tangle in a practice game which is as important to the Crowell boys as a "Big Five" contest because of the rivalry of the two clubs. The Wildcats will be out to get a little revenge, as the Turks have handed them more defeats on the Crowell court than any other team in West Texas.

Fans are looking forward to the game Thursday with much interest as close, hard-fought tilts are always displayed when cagers from these schools meet. Although Turkey has not been in the Northwest Texas Basketball Conference, their annual tussles with the Wildcats are always anxiously awaited by fans because of the friendly rivalry of the quintets, of which the "Gobblers" have the edge.

The Turkey club is again establishing a fine record as they have won the majority of their games this season. They divided a two-game series with the Childress Bobcats last week, winning their home game, 37 to 33, and lost in the second game, 18-11. They have defeated Silverton, Flomot, and several other strong teams in that district. Childress has a stronger club this year than the one that competed against Crowell last year in the "Big Five."

At present, the Wildcats have won five practice games over Chillicothe, Paducah, Seymour and Harrold with decisive scores and their first "Big Five" game over the Vernon Lions, 32-27, last Friday. Their only defeat of the season was handed to them by the Paducah boys.

The Wildcats will be ready for the strutting Turks tonight as they finished their practice sessions for the week yesterday afternoon in excellent shape and should be running at top form when the opening whistle blows.

Kelsey and Orr will be the probable starters at the forward for Roosevelt Did—Roosevelt Did Not Some weeks ago the New York Daily News caricatured a bloated but disheveled gambler of Wall Street stripped of about everything except plug hat and gold cane, emerging from the wreckage of ticker tape in a condition that bode of what has been striking that region under Roosevelt. The would-be profiteer in the peoples' daily bread, now bewildered, was made to represent the Old Deal in the act of spitting its wrath upon the New Deal and saying that President Roosevelt was not responsible for the recovery, if we had it, but he is responsible for this new depression, if we have it, but if we do not have depression he is not responsible for avoiding it.

A spokesman for Henry Ford—of Model T and V-8 fame—proceeds to call something or somebody, or everything and everybody, the New Deal in particular, a bad mixture of weird politics—with poor political sense and poor business sense combining to bring home a conglomerate brood of rouny and mite-infected mongrel chickens to perch poultry house, feet in the National past.

Mr. Ford's speaker was Bill Cameron, Mr. Cameron commits a grievous error when he labels the New Deal the invention of business men of a certain (meaning low) type, and that it was conceived by second-string business men to whom business meant only a spring-board to something more congenial. When he intimates as he did intimate, that the Roosevelt administration is headed by men not strong enough to refuse what is asked, and second-string business men who are shrewd enough to ask those who are soft and can be driven and are driven, he brings to Ford's cause less of good than harm.

Mr. Cameron almost falls into the easy to avoid kind of error when he says that New Deal policies are concocted in certain unbusinesslike ends—that that business supported the candidate who agreed to accept it.

Both Sides Play Dirty Pool Henry Ford's Bill Cameron speaks in a manner unworthy of Mr. Ford—whom the American people have made fabulously rich. Likewise unworthy and un-American is the game of dirty pool being played by vicious minorities who, on one hand, are trying to lynch the New Deal, and the over-ambitious near-New Deal orators who, on other hand, are trying to lynch industry.

Expressing sincere conviction is one thing—malicious smearing is quite something else. No normal person would knowingly seek to associate Mr. Roosevelt with low cunning. To be sure, the President, himself, serious blunders, but even the most partisan anti-New Dealers, those who disagree with Roosevelt bitterly in policy and procedure, know that even his worst mistakes are made in the blindness of devotion to cause and duty—as he sincerely interprets cause and duty.

But Mr. Cameron is impressively right when he draws a distinction between two types of businessmen—one creates business as an inventive builder, the other is a man by business. The public regards Mr. Ford as a business maker and an outstanding American, despite the unwise and unbridled statements of his spokesman. Likewise the people regard Mr. Roosevelt as a true and sincere statesman along with his mistakes, despite the obviously consensual ravings of Secretary Ickes and Assistant Attorney General Robert H. Jackson.

President Roosevelt, in what appeared to be an ill-advised, and most certainly ill-starred campaign against Big Business retaliatory to its hanging this recession on the White House, indulged in some indiscriminate and precise damaging accusations—or allowed his lieutenants to do so. The days are heavy with the imminence of evil, and in the hour of our country's travail there should be but one side, with every American on that side.

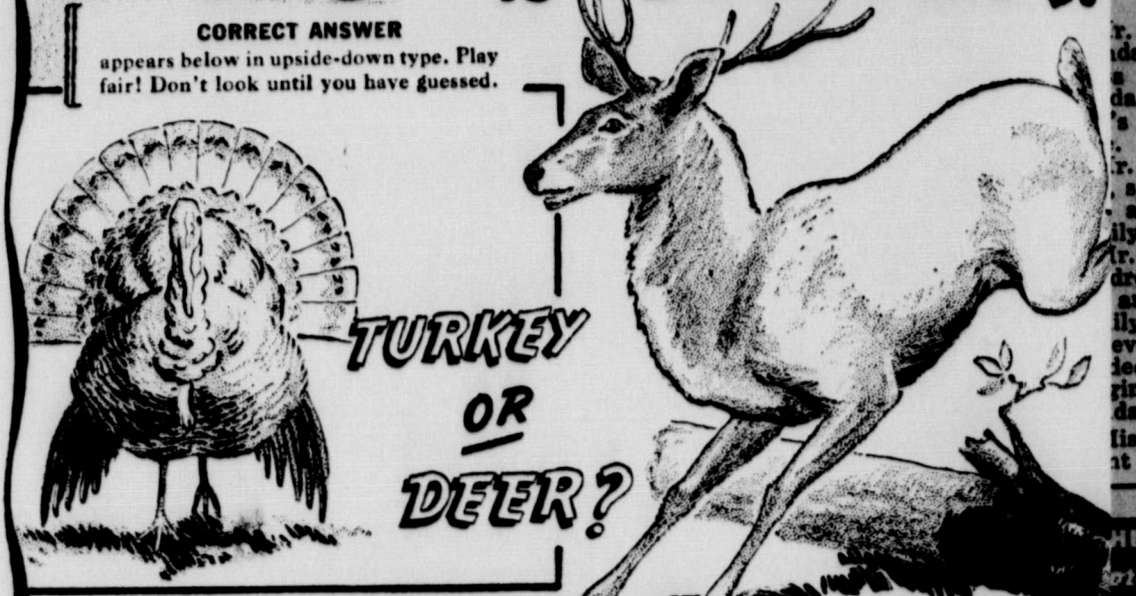

But since we have two sides, with the issues sharply drawn, both sides should stand against empty gestures and intemperate speech by tightening the leash on fiery and intemperate spokesmen—and I do mean both sides. Both factions should avoid involvement in the unseemly, such as becoming mixed up with Gen. Hugh S. Johnson's famous termites and trousers.

Before leaving this subject it is fitting that commendable notice be given the statement made by Secretary Henry A. Wallace. Mr. Wallace said, "It doesn't do either labor or agriculture any good to scare capital; instead they must all find ways to work together."

He said that "balanced abundance" could be achieved only through the co-operation of agriculture, labor and capital, and added, "capital itself is different from a few shortsighted capitalists."

Pure Theory—Impure Fact Secretary Wallace also said that most people discounted the business expansion of last spring and regarded it as unwholesome. This brings us up to the subject of the incipient, or budding, or threatened boom of 1936-37. Marriner S. Eeles, the chairman of Federal Reserve, told the Senate Employment Committee that payment of the soldier's bonus in 1936 helped to bring on the present recession by throwing recovery out of balance through the creation of inflationary psychology. They still call it "recession" here. If Mr.

GUESS WHICH IS FASTER!

CORRECT ANSWER appears below in upside-down type. Play fair! Don't look until you have guessed. BUT YOU DON'T HAVE TO GUESS WHICH GASOLINE STARTS FASTER! Your best buy in cold-weather gasoline is Phillips 66 Poly Gas... the highest test motor fuel which costs nothing extra... because Phillips is WORLD'S LARGEST PRODUCER of Natural High Test gasoline. It starts even icy motors with split-second speed. Delivers more pep and power. Increases mileage by warming up faster with less choking. Try a tankful. You'll feel that difference!

ANSWER: Average maximum speed of the white-tailed deer is 30 miles per hour, of the young buck deer is 45 miles per hour. But a turkey, at least when frightened, is faster. It has been timed at 55 miles per hour by automobile speedometer.

Eeles is even suspected of being right he stopped short of a complete diagnosis. Let us skip pure theory and proceed to impure fact by admitting that the surest way to always have what we like is to always like what we have. Destiny is what happens, not always what we plan. According to some economists who pretend to know, there is really no new recession—at least it is simply nothing more than a return to that normalcy of 1933-34, called depression. The brief upturn of last spring was but the temporary delirium of Governmental heavy spending.

It bore all the earmarks of a real boom while the easy money lasted, but now that the veterans have spent their bonus cash, the same old slump comes back with a sudden thud—like falling out of bed. In addition, and contributing largely toward making matters no better fast, the $4,800,000,000 relief goose has stopped laying her golden eggs and gone broody—and persists in following her maternal instincts in spite of all the tricks and blandishments known to brain-trusters and sophomores for persuading Gossie to give up setting and resume her egg-laying activities. So we must wait on the caprice of Mrs. Goose—and doggedly cling to our faith in America's common sense recuperative qualities.

Political Rat Poison Associate Justice George Sutherland quits the United States Supreme Court, and his resignation leaves a situation potentially dangerous—like TNT, dynamite and political rat poison. It is literally packed and stuffed with the inherent possibilities of all these. So, swiftly do things move in Washington that the President may nominate and the Senate peacefully confirm Justice Sutherland's successor before this can appear in print, and the whole matter be happily closed before you read these lines. We fervently hope for this. Next to the Presidency, a place on the United States Supreme Court ranks as the juiciest plum of the entire orchard, and many Senators are suspected of giving sanctuary to private and probably biased personal opinions as to whom Mr. Roosevelt should nominate.

We can just wait and pray that the selection of this Supreme Court Justice will not explode a lot of tainted or rancid and inflammable political fat into the controversial fire. That fire is already too hot. Old-Age Pensions The Old-Age pension bloc in Congress, consisting of forty members, held a conference Monday, Jan. 10. Those issuing the call included all groups to attend and send representatives, and declared that "the movement for old-age pensions... transcends all factional and political differences. House Steering Committee pensions is composed of following: Charles N. Crosby, James Oliver (Me.); Harold Sheppard (Calif.); Mark Smith (Wash.); John H. (Calif.); Gardner R. (Wis.); Dewey W. (Minn.).

One of the consistent champions of reasonable old-age pensions is Congressman Will Rogers, Oklahoma. The bill sponsored by Rep. Rogers calls for a pension of $30 per month, because of its moderation the bill has received much able attention throughout the country. Agriculture and old-age pensions may yet prove to be stepping-stones to real and permanent recovery.

Drives Car 20,000 Miles Without Water and Without Radiator

Captain Roy A. Good, former U. S. Army test engineer, will be in Crowell on January 13 on a 20,000 mile test drive. He is making throughout the middlewestern section of the United States, The Phillips Petroleum Company, of Bartlesville, Okla., recently asked Captain Good to put Phillips 66 motor oil to the most severe and uncompromising test to prove its ability to provide complete and satisfactory lubrication under the worst possible conditions.

Captain Good has removed the radiator from his car and bored holes through the water jacket, leaving no water whatsoever for cooling purposes. In a car designed to be cooled by water this means that the motor will run from two to three times hotter than usual, reaching temperatures of almost 600°, thus subjecting the oil to greater heat and pressures than are ever encountered under actual driving conditions. Captain Good, who has had more than eight years service testing motors and lubricants for the government, states that motor oil which will stand such terrific abuse will give thorough lubrication protection in any climate and under any conditions which might arise in normal use.

The test car is a stock model, low priced car and, from the side, looks like any other car of this model. It is therefore quite surprising to find the grill and radiator removed and to see the motor entirely exposed at the front. Air passing over the engine becomes so hot that it is necessary to provide an outlet to take the hot air from the back of the motor out through the side of the car. If this were not done the floor boards of the car would become so hot that Captain Good could not stand the heat on his long drives during this test.

Captain Good states that the 7,000 miles already covered on this test have conclusively demonstrated Phillips 66 Motor Oil is protecting the motor perfectly however he intends to continue the test until 20,000 miles are completed. Phillips 66 Motor Oil is available at Phillips 66 stations for a short while on his way through this city.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

Austin.—The groundwork of a hot political contest over the office of State Land Commissioner was laid here this week, when Gov. James V. Allred launched a vigorous offensive against Bill McDonald, present incumbent. Allred's conduct of the land office by asking the Attorney General to file suit to invalidate the renewal of a lease on State-owned riverbed land in the KMA field, Wichita County. The renewal, issued to the Venmex Oil Company, was issued by McDonald Dec. 7, after the company had failed to pay rental for six years. Two members of the State Mineral Development Board—Allred and Railroad Commission Chairman C. V. Terrell,—had previously overruled McDonald's action in renewing this lease, holding only the board, of which McDonald is the third member, had power to renew leases, instead of the Commissioner alone. Allred retained Everett S. Looney, as special counsel for the state in the suit filed by McCraw at Allred's request. Meanwhile, Allred refused to sign a land patent issued by McDonald on another tract, claiming the valuation placed on it was too low, and had been changed from the surveyors' recommendation of $5 to $1 per acre. McDonald cancelled the Venmex lease renewal, after the suit was ordered, stating he would let the courts decide the matter. The lease, according to Allred, is worth a million dollars.

Teachers Are Aroused H. L. Mills, chairman of the permanent school fund land committee of the politically powerful State Teachers' Association, wrote Allred, urging legislation to change the method of leasing state lands now used by the Land Office. He claimed the school fund has lost $1,250,000 through McDonald's policy of accepting low cash bonuses and high royalties, instead of high cash and minimum royalties, as formerly was done. Mills also commented on the activity of "vacancy hunters," which was reviewed at length in this column recently, and expressed the fear that aroused public sentiment might force a change in the present law that permits trial of vacancy suits in Travis County, as was recently evidenced when the Senate passed a resolution asking the attorney general to transfer vacancy suits in Polk County to the courts there. He urged the state employ surveyors, do its own "vacancy hunting," and give the holders of vacancy lands that are discovered the preferential right to buy such land, sharing the mineral wealth with the state school fund, rather than giving the private "vacancy hunter" all the advantage against the farmer or land-owner who believes he owns the land. The Senate investigation committee, headed by T. J. Holbrook, has indicated it will probe the Land Office administration in the near future.

Oil operators coming to Austin declare that recent activity of vacancy hunters in Texas have seriously curtailed exploration and development of new oil fields, operators having been victimized by litigation over land titles in many cases where new oil fields have been opened up to development. There was some talk that a special session of the Legislature might be called during the year to correct the situation. If a strong candidate for Land Commissioner against McDonald, former Eastland County official who is serving his first term, is brought out, there is certain to develop a hot election fight in July.

Frank Cates Asks For Second Term as Commissioner

Frank Cates makes announcement this week that he is a candidate for re-election as Commissioner of Precinct No. 1 and authorizes us to place his name in the announcement column. He will make the race for this office subject to action of the Democratic primaries in July.

Mr. Cates is asking the people of this precinct to elect him this office for the second time. He has fulfilled the duties of the office during the present term to the best of his ability and feels like this experience will enable him to render better service if re-elected.

In regard to his candidacy Mr. Cates has the following statement to make: "I have worked hard and have put forth every effort possible to make you a good commissioner for the past year and sincerely trust that the voters of this precinct will see fit to elect me to this office for a second term."

and revered Chief Justice R. R. Gaines of the Texas Supreme Court. He left University to enter the World War, and became the youngest Lieutenant Colonel ever commissioned, being promoted for distinguished service. He returned to practice law and take a leading part in building his home city of Amarillo. Twice elected mayor of the Panhandle metropolis, Thompson gained statewide notice as the "Fighting Mayor" who really reduced public utility rates there. This won him appointment as successor to Pat Neff as Railroad Commissioner. In Austin, Thompson's record in running the oil industry out of chaos into orderly production and prosperity has won him national recognition as an administrative official, whose large single contribution has been increase of millions of dollars in public school funds from the state's oil resources. An affable personality, ability as a public speaker, and a man whose political courage are assets which will enable Thompson to render a real contribution to the campaign for the governorship this year, during which the voters should have opportunity to learn much about the affairs of their state and its tremendously important business and financial aspects.

Notes

The strange anomaly of a state that has 18 million dollars cash on hand, and yet is "broke" to the tune of over $17,000,000 was pointed out by State Treasurer Charley Lockhart's figures at the end of the year. Despite a cash balance of $18,266,057 in all funds, the important general revenue fund was "in the red" to the tune of $17,727,061. . . . Responding to the plea of . . . The Highway commission has contracted for a scientific study of the $174,000,000 road bond indebtedness of counties and districts, to be made by the Norman S. Taber & Company of New York, consultants, who will recommend a plan of reducing this indebtedness, which may involve use of some of the funds in the county and road district highway fund, which now exceeds the revenue needed to retire state-assumed county bonds. The latter fund totaled $8,926,256 on December 31. The survey will cost $25,000 and will be ready by November 1. . . . Dick Tullis, former FHA director in San Antonio, has announced he will be a candidate for Railroad Commissioner against C. V. Terrell. Tullis enjoys the distinction of having lost his Federal job through action of President Roosevelt himself, when he incurred the enmity of Congressman Maury Maverick, who went straight to the White House to have Tullis ousted. . . . Gov. Allred, on his recent visit to Austin, received assurances from the highest sources that he "would be taken care of," probably with one of several Federal judgeships that will be vacant in Texas by that time, when his present term as Governor expires. This was forecast months ago in this column, and nothing has occurred to change the situation, according to a hitherto unimpeachable source.

Annual Report— (Continued from Page One) Agricultural Conservation at several meetings, the farmers were convinced that something should be done toward improving the staple of cotton in the county. As a result of these meetings, 154 farmers purchased 1,900 bushels of good staple cotton seed of which a major portion was Watson. Farmers with long staple cotton received as much as $19.00 per bale more than the short staple producer before the government aided the short staple man with cotton loans.

Another great feature that was stressed very highly to the farmers was to pick their cotton instead of snapping it. At the last of the cotton season a larger portion of the farmers started picking their cotton and received from five to ten dollars more per bale than the man that snapped his cotton. There were not certified wheat seed sowed in the county in 1937, however, there were over 55,000 pounds of certified Turkey Red seed sowed in 1936 and a great number of the wheat farmers secured their planting seed for 1937

CROWELL WINS OVER STRONG VERNON LIONS

Spectacular Rally in Last Half Brings Wildcats Victory

Displaying excellent team work, the Crowell Wildcats overtook the roaring Lions in the last period of their "Big Five" game at Vernon Friday night and rang up their initial Northwest Texas Basketball Conference victory, 32 to 27. The eyes of the conference were focused upon this scrap with much interest as these two squads are reputed to be two of the strongest fives in the race.

The fast-stepping, distant shooting Lions took the lead early in the first period and managed to hold it until the first few seconds of play in the last period when the long shooting for which the Lions had established a reputation boomeranged and the Wildcats started hitting the basket with long shots from the finish of the initial quarter stood at 7-4 in Vernon's favor, and they increased their lead to 15-9 by the end of the half. The Wildcats were determined when they returned to the court for the second half and outscored the Vernon dribblers in the third quarter, 10-5, to set the score at 20-19 with the Lions leading by one point in the last period, the Wildcats increased their pace to the straining point and again outscored the Vernon lads, 13-7, to establish themselves the victors, without question, with a 32-27 score.

Crowell's chances were gloomed when Kelsey was forced from the game in the latter part of the second quarter because of fouls, but the play of his substitute, Smith, and the fast, splendid play of the team as a whole, overcame this obstacle with ease. The pace set by the Wildcats in the last half was gruelling and the fastest they have displayed this season. Vernon fans were confident of victory until the last few seconds, because it didn't look like a team could stand the fast pace without breaking.

Nixon, Vernon guard, fouled out early in the last period, and in the closing minutes Belew, Lion forward, retired from the tussle on account of fouls. An individual star for the Wildcats could not be named because the fiery play of those who did not score equalled the play of those who did the scoring. The defensive play of the five stopped the mid-court shooting of the Lions' and Fitzgerald could be named outstanding for that. Nelson took practically all of the Vernon shots off the backboard and with his all-around play would place him in the outstanding class. Orr covered himself with glory with fast defensive and offensive play and was as outstanding as if he had sunk every Wildcat point. Smith took the duties of the regular, Kelsey, who fouled out early in the game, without missing a stride. His long sinker helped greatly to rally the Crowell boys in the last minute. Although a substitute, he was of first string caliber in the game Friday night. Owens set the pace during the last half and did much in keeping up the "won't be beaten spirit." Owens' fast dribbling and quick, accurate passing, caught the Lions off-balance on many occasions.

S. Judd, center, and Belew, forward, were easily outstanding for Vernon. Judd kept the Crowell lads in trouble with his shooting until the last half when Crowell's defensive became effective enough to stop him, but he was a threat throughout the contest. Belew's floor work placed him at the same height as his team mate, Smith. A total of 24 personal fouls and one technical foul were called during the tilt. Crowell drew the technical foul for calling time out while Vernon had possession of the ball and 11 of the personal fouls. The Wildcats were given 14 gratis shots and made 8 of them, while the Lions were only able to sink 5 of their 14 from the farmers who planted certified seed in 1936. Foard County produces the highest milling quality wheat in the State of Texas.

Agricultural Councils The Foard County Agricultural Council has been active for a number of years and meetings have been held during the past year and problems such as, crop improvement, poultry improvement, and various others were discussed. A study of the farming conditions was also made, and it was through the council that the agent distributed information regarding the Agricultural Conservation Program to the farmers. By using this method in distributing information to the agricultural class of people, it has enabled the farmers to better certify themselves with the government program to such an extent that a belief in the program has been strengthened.

There are other Agricultural Organizations in this county. At the beginning of the year most of these organizations had regular meetings each month and discussions were made on different problems that arose in the county.

Rodent Control A large amount of work was done on prairie dog control on farm and ranch land during 1937. There has been approximately 800 pounds of poisoned grain used in eradicating prairie dogs on several thousand acres of land.

Margaret Curtis Asks Re-Election as Co. Treasurer

Authorization has been made by Miss Margaret Curtis to announce that she is again a candidate for re-election to the office of county treasurer, subject to the action of the voters in the Democratic primaries next summer.

Miss Curtis, in announcing, makes the following statement: "I hope that my records as your treasurer in the past will warrant your vote again this year. I have done everything possible to justify the faith shown in me in the past by carrying on as efficiently as it has been in my power. "I appreciate the support and co-operation which the voters of this county have given me in the past and trust that you will see fit to re-elect me to this office. "If you re-elect me, I assure you that I shall continue to put forth my best efforts in the interest of the county."

Box score table for Crowell vs Vernon game, showing FG, FT, FTM, PF, TP for both teams.

After launching their victory march at the start of the last half, the Wildcats tied and passed the Lions in the early part of the last period, but were never able to obtain a comfortable lead until the last few seconds of play. The Wildcats led by two points until late in the game when the Lions whittled the lead to one point by sinking a gratis shot, as the result of the Crowell captain calling time out while Vernon had possession of the ball. This was quickly overcome when Bernie Fitzgerald swished a long shot through the net and a few seconds later, after the Wildcats had recovered possession of the ball, Smith duplicated the feat of his team mate a second before the final whistle, to put a story-book climax on a game that had the fans on the edges of their seats from the first whistle.

Leave For Trip Mr. Baker writes in his diary: "Dec. 13. About 10 a. m. Captain Ross with about seventy men arrived. Forty-seven men of his company and twenty-three Dragoons from Camp Cooper. They are well-mounted and well equipped for the trip. We are now 140 men and more are expected. We have seen thousands of buffalo on our left today. Some of the men say 10,000 and no doubt they are correct.

A few miles north of Beaver Creek we suddenly came to a halt and all were eagerly looking at some objects to the east of us. They were determined to be Indians, six in number. Six men were detailed to charge them and went off at Gallop speed. All charged bravely, each vying with the other, anxious to distinguish himself above the others and bring back a scalp. Just as the blow was about to be struck that would crown their heads with glory, who can estimate the mortification of the men when it was discovered that the Indians were buffalo hunters from Grayson County.

Buffalo Herd Stampedes "A very large herd of buffalo was feeding near our trail just as we stopped for camp and some of the boys went over to the herd to kill one. A considerable portion of the herd ran over our trail in front of us and such was the compactness and regulatory of the herd as it ran that the sight was terrifying and would have borne down almost any obstruction in its path.

Our boys from Palo Pinto and Belknap came in tonight so that our company now numbers ninety-five men. Lobo wolves are howling in all directions and indicate that they are near us in great numbers. The other companies are camped about four miles above us on the river.

"Dec. 19. We were on the march at 9 a. m. We traveled about twelve miles and crossed the trail where the Indians came out of our country on the last raid. On this trail our guides found a pillow slip with a little girl's belt and Mrs. Sherman's Bible in it. Mrs. Sherman was the lady who

The Wildcats, Smith, substitute Wildcat, who took over in the game against the Lions at Vernon last Friday when Kelsey was removed from the scrap on account of fouls and did a splendid job in aiding the cause of the Crowell boys, is likely to see service in the conflict tonight.

Bernice Fitzgerald struck her post stride in the last half of the Vernon game to stop the Lions' long shooting and do a little sniping of his own, will start in the center position of the Crowell club.

J. S. Owens, who led the Wildcats to victory over the Lions, and has been the spark plug of the local five this year, will be ready to go at his guard position.

Junior Nelson will be at the other Wildcat guard slot. He is one of Crowell's strongest defensive men and has displayed an uncanny ability of taking the enemy's shots from the back board to give the Wildcats possession of the ball. This ability has pulled the Crowell dribblers out of several tough spots.

The probable starting line-up for the Turks is as follows: Arnold and Johnson, forwards; Johnson, center; Lane and Chandler, guards.

Claude Callaway Is Candidate for Judge, Re-election

The following statement was issued Wednesday by Claude Callaway in regard to his candidacy for County Judge:

"In announcing my candidacy for re-election as County Judge and Ex-Officio County Superintendent of Schools, I sincerely thank the people of Foard County for the wonderful co-operation given me. You have made it possible for me to give you an economical business administration.

"When I made the campaign in 1936 I promised to give you an administration of business and economy. In keeping with my pledge, Foard County has not issued any bonds nor time warrants given since I have been your county judge, and this is one of the very few years in the history of your county that there have not been either bonds issued or interest bearing warrants given that added to the debt of Foard County.

"I also promised you, if elected, I would assure you the maximum amount of improvements, and appropriations from the State Highway Department. Trying to fulfill this promise, there have been about $135,000 appropriated for Foard County road work and road improvement, with $85,000 coming from the State Highway Department, and the remaining $50,000 coming from the PWA and WPA.

Four miles of this beautiful highway have been completed, with eight miles now under construction, and in the very near future the other five miles of hard surfacing will be started. I want to call your attention to the fact that this program has been done without any cost to Foard County. I will admit to you that this wonderful program has been made possible by perfect co-operation of your commissioners' court, the people of Foard County, and the State Highway Department.

"I pledge you that I have done everything in my power for the schools, and having the co-operation of your teachers and trustees, I find that the business affairs of most every school is in better condition than at the beginning of 1937, and I will continue to give the best that is in me for your schools.

"I can see a great need for a farm-to-market road program that is possible for Foard County to have with very little cost to the county. If you see fit to re-elect me for the next two years, it would be a happy privilege to help you make this program materialize in a hard surfaced road serving each community as farm-to-market and

J. M. Marr Asks Re-Election As Com'r. Precinct 4

We are authorized this week to make the announcement of J. M. Marr of the Vivian community for re-election to the office of Commissioner of Precinct 4, subject to the action of the Democratic primary in July.

Mr. Marr makes the following statement regarding his candidacy: "In making my announcement for this office, I would like to say that I have done my best to make you a good commissioner—have exerted my every effort to do the things that would be the most helpful to my precinct and county as far as my authority as your commissioner would permit. I fully realize there is road work that was not done, but would have been done were it not for the fact the funds to carry on this work with, were not available.

"I take this method in saying I have tried to serve you people in the most economical way I possibly could as your commissioner—and will further say the work I have carried on has not involved our precinct in any way. The experience that I now have enables me to make you a better officer than I have ever been before.

"I thank you for the splendid support and co-operation you have given me in the past, and trust that you will accord me the same support in the coming election."

Be courteous to all school employees at all times.

When you go to a class room, go to your seat at once.

SO THEY SAY—

"Do you think students should get married while they are still in high school?" is a question which has arisen recently. Here's what CHS students think about it:

Mozelle: "Sure, if they get a chance."

John Lee: "Yeah, if she is a blonde."

Prof. Graves: "I think it would be better if they waited, although some very successful marriages have resulted from high school marriages."

LYNN THOMPSON: "Sure, if they want to."

Marjorie Spencer: "It's O. K. if they want to."

J. S. Owens: "O. K. if the girl is old enough to make a living."

Wanda V. Gamble: "Yes, but I don't know why."

Ruth Steele: "No, high school isn't the place to get married."

Faye Zeibig: "No, I don't think they should because high school is the place to think about your studies, and not house duties."

Edward Gafford: "Just plain no."

Frances Davis: "No, high school is not the place to get married."

Mary Bruce: "Yes, indeed, if he is a Russian."

MID-TERM EXAMS

Every student should be interested in making good grades on his mid-term exams. If everyone would stay home and study this week, the teachers would not have to put so many red marks on his papers.

I OWE THE WORLD

One much discussed question, "Is the world growing worse?" would be difficult for which to establish a standard of judgment.

One type of progress usually advances at the expense of another. Generally speaking, material progress has been made at the expense of moral and spiritual stability.

When our forefathers fought through their pioneer lives one fact was indelibly impressed on them—reward came in proportion to industry. Today in our complicated economic set-up, many be-

COME PUBLIC CHARGES AND OTHERS WOULD HAVE PARASITES.

In the last few decades the despicable attitude that, "the world owes me a living," has characterized many. A modification of this has cropped up among campus workers. Many who have been helped by work seem to think they have an inalienable right to sit down on the job and return nothing for this aid.

In the past the policy of the school has been one of trying to bring the workers to the realization of their duty. Some have failed miserably in rising to the responsibility and the consequence is the penalty of hardship imposed of which we have been made aware this week.

Activities of Foard County H. D. Women

(Myrna Holman, Agent)

Installing a water system at their home was not a very expensive job, according to Miss Opal Carroll, member of the Gambleville Home Demonstration Club.

The men of the family dug a well east of the house, combined the best parts of two old windmills to make one good one, and placed a one hundred gallon tank on a tower nearby. Pipe which had previously been used on another farm was buried about fourteen inches and the water which proved to be soft, piped to various parts of the house and yard.

The water was piped into the bath and sink in the house. Two hydrants were placed in the yard. One was placed in the front yard and grass started in the back yard so that water could be easily run into the wash house. The family is very well pleased with the results, according to Miss Carroll.

Reports have been made on home demonstration work in the county for 1937. The following is a brief summary of these reports:

One hundred and fifty-three women and 89 girls were listed in seven women's and six girls' clubs during the year. One hundred and forty of the women and eighty of the girls completed all or part of the co-operators' goals outlined in the 1937 plan of work.

Twenty-eight girls completed all goals set in wardrobe work. Many others did a lot of the work but did not complete all eight of the goals. They reported making a total of 563 garments. Fifty-one kept clothing accounts showing a total expenditure of $440.94. Sixteen closets were built and twenty-three remodeled. Seventy-seven equipped work boxes, 54 checked the good looks chart for girls, and 62 made dresses.

Seventy-seven of the eighty-nine 4-H club girls enrolled made garden plans, 57 of these checked their plans and selected amounts of leafy, green, or yellow colored vegetables, 42 conserved at least 30 containers, and 59 prepared leafy vegetables at least six times during the year.

Of the 153 women enrolled 140 made a budget and planned the production of leafy, green, or yellow colored vegetables. Fifty-three presented a container of leafy, green or yellow colored vegetables for scoring in the judging demonstration, and five were able to preserve the entire amount of leafy vegetables planned for.

Many others preserved a large portion of that planned for and still others provided sufficient amounts through exchange when it was not possible to produce and preserve it at home. A total of 16,074 quarts was reported canned. Nine hundred and fifty pounds of fruit and vegetables were stored fresh.

Fifty-two women reported making hotbeds, cold frames, or frame gardens. Eighteen organized cellars and eight built new ones.

Reports show that 77 kitchens have been improved during the year at a total expense of $1,542.41. Fifteen installed water systems, 20 screened windows, 25 improved floors, 35 improved walls and woodwork, and 104 adjusted the height of working surfaces.

DRAMATIC CLUB

The "Footlight" players club is the name of a newly organized dramatic club in Crowell High School. The purpose is to stimulate interest in drama. The club will present programs of one-act plays at various times and also full-length evening plays.

The officers of the club are A. Y. Olds, president; Marjorie Spencer, vice president; Virginia Coffey, secretary and treasurer.

The program and roll call was answered with suggestions of "What shall we study next year?"

The present slate of officers was elected to serve during the year 1938-39. Mrs. N. J. Roberts gave a history of the Monroe Doctrine, told what it is and of what value. Then, in a lighter vein, Mrs. R. L. Kincaid described "Jesters at Neptune's Court."

The club will act as hostess club to the County Federation on Wednesday, Jan. 26, in the home of Mrs. N. J. Roberts.

GAMBLEVILLE H. D. CLUB

Fruits are the only source of the organic acids necessary in the diet, the Gambleville H. D. Club women learned at the meeting with Mrs. Frank Gamble, Thursday, Jan. 6.

There were nine members and one visitor present.

FOARD CITY 4-H CLUB

At the regular meeting of the Foard City 4-H Club at the school house the members studied class types and breeds of chickens. There are four classes of chickens, stated Miss Myrna Holman, home demonstration agent.

The American chicken is a heavy chicken, red ear lobes, yellow shanks, yellow skin and a brown-shell egg.

Elizabeth Evenson was a new member. The next meeting will be Tuesday, Jan. 18, at the club house, and roll will be answered with "Family Fun Night."

E. G. Grimsley in Commissioners Race, Precinct 2

In the announcement column of The News this week will be found the name of E. G. Grimsley of Thalia, who has authorized us to announce his candidacy for Commissioner of Precinct No. 2, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries in July.

Mr. Grimsley has lived in the Thalia community for sixteen years and is well known to the people of Commissioners Precinct No. 2 and has no hesitancy in asking the voters for a fair and favorable consideration of his candidacy for this office in the Democratic primaries in July.

In making his announcement Mr. Grimsley had the following to say: "I feel that I am well qualified to attend to the duties of this office and if elected I want to assure you that I will give fair and impartial consideration to all business that affects the people of this precinct. I will appreciate your influence in the campaign and sincerely solicit your vote when you go to the polls in the coming election."

Wildcats Face Hard Part of Schedule

The Crowell Wildcats face the most grueling part of the 1938 schedule during the next ten days, which includes the coming weekend holidays, when they will play six cage games, after which they will attend the Matador tournament on Friday and Saturday, Jan. 21-22.

This number includes "Big Five" conference tilts with Olney, Wichita Falls and Quannah. The Crowell boys will travel to Olney tomorrow night (Friday) and then entertain the Quannah Indians here the following Tuesday. On Thursday night, Jan. 20, two of the strongest teams in the conference will scratch it out when the Wildcats meet the under rated but very powerful Coyotes from Wichita Falls on the Crowell floor.

The practice game for this period is with the Turkey Turks in the Crowell gymnasium tonight.

The card for the coming week leaves but little time for workouts preparatory for the Matador tournament. The Wildcats will have a practice session next Tuesday after scrapping the whooping Redskins from Indianville the night before. The second and last workout will be held Wednesday afternoon, after which they will start a series of games Thursday night with Wichita Falls that will put them through the week-end.

The number of games played at the tourney will determine the exact number of contest games the Wildcats will participate in during the coming week.

Coach Grady Graves is preparing to take advantage of the practice session that will be held next week to take his Wildcats through their possible three-day grind the latter part of the week.

Safety Lesson--

Because of the speed and recklessness of drivers on highways, the average life of a person is cut in half. The average life of a person, ordinarily, is sixty years, but because of the high death rate in highway accidents the average life of a person is lowered to thirty years. In the large majority of the accidental deaths, the driver at fault is a person killed, Mr. Vance pointed out and warns drivers to be careful and observe laws while driving a motor vehicle.

Increasing Personnel

In co-operation with the safety drive and as the result of the stricter license law, which went into effect in November, over 400 commercial drivers have applied for licenses in the Wichita Falls district and seventy-five men will be added to the personnel of the Department in the near future to

Frank Moore Will Seek Re-Election As Public Weigher

Frank Moore announced this week that he is a candidate for re-election to the office of Public Weigher, Precinct No. 1, and authorized that his announcement be made in this issue of the paper.

Mr. Moore makes the following statement in regard to his candidacy: "In announcing my candidacy for a second term, I wish to express my appreciation to the farmers and voters of Foard County for the co-operation given me during the year that I have been in office.

"I have tried to render efficient service, and will ask for and appreciate your consideration in my campaign for re-election, and if elected, will continue to discharge the duties of this office to the best of my ability."

Further enforce laws on the Texas highways, according to Mr. Vance.

Sixteen commercial licenses have been obtained from the office of the Driver's License Department in Crowell during the past two weeks. Eleven licenses were secured on Tuesday, Jan. 4, and five last Tuesday. One applicant was refused a license because of poor eyesight and was advised by the officers to consult an optometrist.

Officers will be at the sheriff's office in Crowell on each Tuesday from 8:30 until 10:30 o'clock and those in doubt as to whether or not they are required to have a chauffeur's license are advised to inquire at that time.

Anyone who drives an automobile is required by law to have a driver's license and those who do not have one should present themselves at the time stated above.
