LARGE CROWDS ATTEND CROWELL FFA PROJECT SHOW SATURDAY; K. HALBERT WINS TOP HONORS

Several hundred people attended the first annual project show of the Crowell Chapter of Future Farmers of America held at the old Motor Company building Saturday. The livestock was exhibited on the east side of the building, and the poultry and other displays were made in the show room.

Kenneth Halbert High Man
Kenneth Halbert won top honors with his entries by capturing two grand champion prizes, three first places, two second places, two third places, and one fourth place. His baby beef and Hampshire gilt were proclaimed grand champions.

James Welch Close Second
James Welch pushed Halbert for honors and was a very close second. Both boys won the same number of places, but the two grand champion prizes gave Halbert a narrow margin.

Welch carried off five first places, one second place and four fourth places.

Tie for Most Entries
Halbert and Welch tied for the honors of placing the most entries, although Welch had entries in the larger number of divisions.

Showmanship Medals
Showmanship medals, donated by the Farmers and Business Men's Association, were awarded to boys in the baby beef, poultry, and swine divisions who displayed their entries to the best advantage.

Tommie Haseloff won the showmanship medal in the baby beef division and Halbert was awarded the medal for swine. Bob Middlebrook carried off the medal in the poultry division.

Medals, also furnished by the Farmers and Business Men's Association, were awarded to the boys placing the most entries; this instance two medals were given as Welch and Halbert tied for this honor.

Judging by Frank Wendt, Harman County Farm Agent, began at 10 o'clock in the morning and continued until 2 o'clock that afternoon. During this time, 125 prizes were awarded by Mr. Frank Wendt.

Francis Todd, Vocational Agriculture teacher in the Quannah school, was in charge of the show to the illness of Walker P. Todd, local chapter adviser, which made it impossible for him to be present and he in charge of the show that he had planned and promoted for several months.

Grand Champions

ROOKIES HOLD SPOTLIGHT IN WEEK'S DRILL

Senior - Rookie Clash Will Close Second Practice Week

The rookie Wildcat gridders are showing up well after one week of practice and are giving the more experienced lads plenty of competition. The boys who are drilling at present are rookies, and squadmen and lettermen of last year's squad.

Game Next Friday
A practice game will be held next Friday afternoon between the Seniors and members of the squad now in practice. The starters of 1937, with the exception of those who are seniors, will not participate, according to Coach Grady Graves.

The Sophomores of the practicing squad defeated the Juniors and Freshmen two touchdowns in a scrimmage last Thursday afternoon. Many of the rookies gave a good account of themselves in this tilt, and they will be depended upon to carry their part of the game in the scrimmage next Friday.

Week Lay-Off

The game between the Seniors and the rookies will close the second week of the six-week spring training period and will conclude the workouts until Monday, March 28. This lay-off for one week will be observed because of the approaching county meet here Friday and Saturday, March 25-26, so football drills will not conflict with track workouts. Many of the gridmen will start practicing for the meet next Monday.

Starters to Report
The seven 1937 starters will report for practice the first time when workouts are started after the county meet, and will continue to practice during the remaining four weeks.

More Rookies Report
Four rookies, Billy Ownbey, Glendon Russell, Sam Russell and Billy Stephens, were in uniform for the first time Monday and have reported every afternoon since.

Rookies Show Promise
Among the rookies who have shown most promise to date are Ownbey, Frank Dunn, Daniel Brisco, Murphy Sillis, Jack Fitzgerald, and Joe Spencer. Ownbey has been reported every afternoon since.

March 19 Deadline for Signing 1937 Farm Worksheets

The deadline for cotton farmers to sign the 1937 Farm Program worksheets has been set on March 19, according to County Agent John Nagy.

Any farmer who does not sign last year's worksheet will not be able to get a cotton allotment next year.

For the good of individual farmers and all of the farmers in the county, cotton producers who have not already signed a 1937 worksheet are urged to do so as soon as possible.

LARGE PAYROLL IN COUNTY ON TWO ROAD JOBS

Over $10,000 Released Here to Workmen on State Highway 16

A payroll of approximately $10,000 is paid to Foard County workmen who are employed surfacing State Highway 16 both north and south of Crowell, and will continue to be paid monthly until the work is completed.

A sum of $32,500 will be paid for the surfacing work on a five-mile strip of Highway 16 south from Beaver Creek, five miles south of Crowell, and the larger part of this will be paid to Foard County people.

The amount is being spent at about $350 per day and will last approximately three months.

A more definite check-up could not be made at present on the payroll for the work on the road north of Crowell, as it is a WPA project, sponsored by the State.

The surfacing south is being done with a $32,500 allotment by the State Highway Commission.

Work on the south road started Monday, March 4, and about one-half mile of the road bed has received the first course of gravel.

Sixteen trucks and twenty workmen are being used at present. The gravel is being taken from land owned by Jim Minnick, on the north bank of the Wichita River, one mile east of the bridge.

Retail Value of Relief Commodities Distributed Given

The estimated retail value of surplus food and clothing commodities distributed to relief clients in Foard County in the month of January was $572.40, which is an increase of many dollars over the commodities distributed in December, according to Forrest Bark, commodity clerk.

FOARD COTTON PRODUCERS TO VOTE IN COTTON-MARKETING REFERENDUM ON SATURDAY

TEXAS RANGER

First and only woman Texas Ranger, Mrs. Frances Haskell Edmondson, deputy sheriff of Bexar county, Texas, is shown after her arrival in New York recently to study metropolitan law enforcement methods. Mrs. Edmondson, a daughter of Charles N. Haskell, first governor of Oklahoma, is also chairman of the women's division of the Texas state Democratic executive committee.

Cotton producers of Foard County will vote for ratification or rejection of cotton-marketing quota, as a part of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, Saturday, March 12, from 9 a. m. until 7 p. m., according to a bulletin released from the County Agent's office this week.

The cotton-marketing quota will be settled by a referendum of cotton producers of the United States to be held March 12. If two-thirds of the cotton farmers voting in the referendum favor the cotton-marketing quota, the cotton-marketing quotas established pursuant to the provisions of the Act, will become effective for the 1938 crop. If more than one-third of the cotton producers voting oppose the cotton-marketing quota, the quotas shall not become effective in 1938.

Vote at Crowell or Thalia

Farmers of Foard City, Vivian, Black and other neighboring communities will cast their votes in the office of the county farm agent in Crowell. Those living in Thalia, Riverside and Rayland will vote at the Farmers' Service Station in Thalia. Votes must be cast between the hours of 9 a. m. and 7 p. m.

Following are facts that cotton producers should keep in mind as they vote in the March 12 referendum:

Cotton Situation

The 1937 American cotton crop was 18,700,000 bales and the 1937-38 world supply of all cotton was 50,600,000 bales. These figures are the largest on record. This year's supply of American cotton, which is almost 35 per cent above normal, has been exceeded only twice in history.

The carry-over of American cotton on next August 1 is expected to be the second largest on record. A 1938 cotton crop, even 4,000,000 bales less than the 1937 crop, would result in the greatest supply of American cotton on record.

Operation of Quotas

Each cotton farm would have a cotton-acreage allotment. Marketing quotas in 1938 would neither increase nor decrease the cotton acreage allotment of a farm. The marketing quotas would be either the actual or normal production of the acreage allotment, whichever is greater. No matter how high the yield, all cotton produced on the acreage allotment could be sold without penalty.

Marketing quotas would bring the supply of American cotton to a more reasonable level, but the supply next season would still be far above normal.

Marketing Quotas Would Mean
If a farmer plants within his acreage allotment, he will be eligible to receive agricultural conservation payments. He would also be eligible to receive cotton-price-adjustment payments on 1937 cotton. Cotton producers would be eligible for a loan on all cotton they produce in 1938 and they would be protected in their efforts to adjust supplies.

Overplanting
Under this act a farmer who overplants his allotment would not receive any agricultural-conservation payments or receive any cotton-price-adjustment payments on 1937 cotton. He would not be eligible for a loan on the cotton on his acreage allotment. (Loans on excess cotton would be at 60 per cent of the rate to co-operators.) He would have to pay a penalty of about $10 per bale on cotton marketed in excess of his quota.

Eligibility to Vote
Only farmers who were engaged in the production of cotton in 1937 are entitled to vote.

No cotton farmer (whether an individual, partnership, corporation, firm, association, or other legal entity) shall be entitled to more than one vote in the referendum, even though he may have been engaged in 1937 in the production of cotton in two or more communities, counties, or states.

There shall be no voting by proxy or agent, but a duly authorized officer of a corporation, firm, association, or other legal entity, shall be allowed to cast its vote.

In case several persons, such as husband, wife, and children, participated in the production of cotton in 1937 under a lease or sharecropping agreement, only one person shall be eligible to vote.

In the event two or more persons were engaged in producing cotton in 1937 jointly, in common, or in community, each person is entitled to vote.

Since marketing quotas are applicable to cotton with a staple which is 1 1/4 inches or more in length, a person who was engaged in the production of such cotton in 1937 shall not be eligible to vote unless he was also engaged in the production of such cotton in 1937 the staple of which was less than 1 1/4 inches in length.

QUESTIONS ON NEW FARM ACT ARE ANSWERED

Answers To Enlighten Cotton Producers on 1938 Farm Act

Many questions dealing with the new farm act, and especially with the cotton marketing quota, were recently answered from College Station by George Slaughter, Wharton, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Conservation Committee, in the course of a radio talk over WTAW of the Texas A. & M. College.

Among questions which have been bothering producers and which were answered by Slaughter were "If marketing quotas are approved on cotton, how will they be put into effect on individual farms?" and "Will farms producing cotton in 1938 for the first time in recent years receive allotments?"

To the question, "How do cotton marketing quotas under the new farm act differ from those under the Bankhead Act?" Slaughter replied, "Under the Bankhead Act each cotton producer received a poundage allotment and paid a tax on all cotton ginned in excess of that allotment."

"In other words, the marketing quota places a premium on efficiency." (Continued on Page Four)

WHAT WE THINK (By Frank Dixon) I have always taken an interest, and a more or less active part, in the Chamber of Commerce in the town near which I live. I believe that the Chamber of Commerce is one of the most important of the community organizations. There is brought together a group of people who represent a cross section of the business interests of the community. It is not dominated by any particular religious or political belief. It is an open forum in which the community can meet and talk over its plans and problems. A few weeks ago I made a talk before our Chamber of Commerce in which I pointed out that we were losing our grip and did not have the energy and vision and pep that such an organization should have. I pointed out that when a new project was proposed it was not received with any degree of enthusiasm, and when a committee was appointed to look after it, nothing was done about it and the only thing that came up at the next meeting was a bunch of excuses. The reason, I told my listeners, is that we have let this organization go to seed. We have continued to put old men on the committees and the board of directors. These old men want the name of being director and chairman of this and that committee, but they don't want to get out and work at it. They don't want to be bothered. What this organization needs, I held them, is for half of the directors to resign and appoint some young business men in their places. Half of the committee chairman should resign and some young men should be appointed in their places. The suggestion was received much the same as though a Japanese plane had flown over the house and dropped a bomb in the midst of the meeting. When I sat down three of the old directors were on their feet at once trying to talk. They had a thousand reasons why the responsibility should not be turned over to younger heads and younger minds. I don't know what they are finally going to do about it, but I am convinced that unless they do follow the suggestion that the organization is going to remain more or less static during the coming year and we will come to the end of the year without much to show for the year's work. I imagine that the same treatment would be desirable for 98 per cent of the small town Chambers of Commerce in this country. Most of them don't accomplish much, and the reason is too many old heads. It takes young men with energy and new ideas to put things over these days. The experiment is worth trying by any small town civic organization. It will change the motto of the organization from "Let's Wait," to the better one, "Let's Go."

I have no sympathy with the persecution of Henry Ford and other industrialists like him who have given employment to large numbers of people. I think it is men like Ford, and these others who have made possible the employment of thousands, who, but for the genius of these industrialists, would be living in shacks on the land trying to grub a precarious existence from the soil, or living from hand to mouth doing odd jobs and having occasional employment. I like the thought expressed by Bruce Barton, author and advertising executive. Mr. Barton thinks that one Thomas Edison is worth more to the country than a hundred sessions of Congress, and that Ford has had more influence on the development and prosperity and happiness of the country than a half dozen of our presidents. "Years ago," Barton says, "Henry Ford took hold of the automobile when it was a heavy, cumbersome, complicated machine which only a skilled mechanic could keep in operation. He cut out dozens of superfluous parts, reduced the weight and cost and produced a machine which any one—even some who are below the level of normal intelligence can operate.

Process Industry Expansion Shows Southward Trend

Dallas.—Statistical evidence of the southward trend of industry, contained in tables on nation-wide expansion and modernization of the process industries, is cited in a report of the All-South Development Council as re-enforcing Texas' position as one of the most physically attractive areas for such expansion. Total investment in new buildings and equipment in the process industries—headed by pulp and paper, rayon, heavy chemicals, petroleum products, asbestos, and asphalt, and glass—for 1936 and 1937 was around $350,000,000. What "Business Week" calls "a mass movement with profound implications" is the fact that 318,326,000, or 53 per cent, of this new investment was in southern states. This percentage is especially noteworthy when it is considered that in 1935 the 16 southern states contributed only 16.2 per cent of the national total of $45,759,763,000, in "value of manufactured goods."

entail. Florida topped the whole country with $56,919,000 worth of new investment in process industries.

Virginia, with $20,950,000; Ohio, with $19,675,000; and California, with $19,285,000, are among leading states in this field, though their physical advantages and resources hardly compare with Texas'. Alabama, Tennessee, South Carolina, Georgia and New York state also ranked high.

By sections, other than the southern, these industries divided their investment fairly evenly. Midwest states got $38,963,000; Far West states $29,380,000; Middle Atlantic, $29,316,000; Rocky Mountain, $25,710,000, and New England, $3,830,000. New pulp and paper enterprises, a field in which the South is especially interested and qualified, accounted for a dominant share—$138,000,000—of the $350,000,000 total process industries' construction in 1936-37. Rayon was next, with $49,300,000; heavy chemicals, $38,500,000; petroleum products, $32,700,000; coke and manufactured gas, $25,200,000; sugar refining, $11,200,000; asbestos and asphalt, $11,000,000; glass, $9,100,000; distilleries, $7,300,000; lime and cement, $4,200,000; rubber, $3,300,000; paints and varnishes, $2,600,000; compressed gases, $2,500,000; soap, $2,300,000; fine chemicals, $1,900,000; vegetable oils, $1,900,000; miscellaneous, $9,000,000.

Beloved let us love one another, for love is of God; and every one that loveth is begotten of God and knoweth God.—1 John 4:7.

The most uncomfortable person in a lawsuit is the client who has lied to his lawyer.

Instead of paying as we go these days, we have dropped back until it is the generation after the one that does the going, that pays.

There is some talk of the government taking over the railroads. It is not clear why anyone should suggest such a move as long as the budget is already so badly out of balance.

As an evidence that a tax once levied is never taken off, we would call attention to the announcement by the first assistant postmaster general that the three cent postage rate would be continued.

Cultivate the habit of doing the best you know how with everything you undertake. Any man who will adopt early in life this policy, has in him one of the important elements of success.

The Japanese may attempt to make it appear to the world that their attack on China was justified because of the sins of China against Japan, but so far Japan hasn't shown any sin of China's comparable to her own act of bombing the Panay.

William Allen White, well known Kansas editor, celebrated his seventieth birthday recently. At a surprise reception held for him in the office of his daily paper some one asked him when he arrived on the scene if he had punched the time clock. "No," he replied, "I own a time clock and it's a lot harder to own one than it is to punch one." Every man who has tried to run a business knows that White is right. The owner of the average business works harder than any one else in the concern—and often gets less out of it.

In the past, before health and sanitation had come into being, the surplus population of the earth was periodically reduced through plagues and epidemics which usually took off the weaker members of the race. In this way a balance was maintained. With modern science and the advance of medicine and sanitation, epidemics do not occur. Wars, however, periodically sweep through the world and do the same thing that disease used to do, except in the case of war the strongest and healthiest members of the race are taken, leaving the weaklings from which to build another race.

J. Edgar Hoover says that crime begins in the American home. That is checking it up to the fathers and mothers of the land. What Mr. Hoover says is doubtless true. It is also true that the home itself pays a big price when crime claims one of its members. It is often said by officers that the innocent members of a family suffer more than the guilty member of a family who may be arrested and sent to the penitentiary. In every meeting of the family there is a vacant chair and the heartbreaking thought that this son or brother is doing time in some penal institution in the land. If he were dead there would be a feeling of grief and regret because of his absence, but the situation is not so merciful if he is alive. His wrong doing is a pall on every meeting of the family group, a pall that time and passing years does not lessen.

We have little sympathy for the criticism of the Federal Bureau of Investigation as it is conducted by J. Edgar Hoover. We consider it the finest law enforcement agency this country has ever seen, and the most efficient. It is the only organization in this country that has been able to cope with the kidnaper. Since 1932 there have been 114 kidnaping cases. The Federal Bureau of Investigation has solved 112 of them. The convictions include 44 life sentences, 6 death sentences. There have been 5 suicides, 6 were killed by officers, and two were killed by citizens. Under the operation of the Federal Bureau of Investigation the operations in this heretofore comparatively safe field of crime have been greatly curtailed.

Aspects of Advertising

Two men spent an afternoon together at golf. They were not very well acquainted, and at the clubhouse after one said to the other, "By the way, what is your line of business?" "I am a minister," was the reply. The other in great confusion apologized to the cloth for the shocking profanity he had used on the course. "Never mind," twinkled the minister, "I'd probably swear, too, if I played as badly as you do." That story—it's common property—may come to the minds of readers interested in the trends and problems of advertising. Perhaps some will draw an analogy between the golfer who compensates for his lame game by bad language, and the advertiser who tries to conceal his lack of anything to say for his product, by much irrelevant talk about glamour and sex appeal. His type exists, certainly, but there is evidence that he is not the whole picture, perhaps not much more than a rough edge of it. An aspect of advertising to which the laity have given little attention is that in which the "adman" has set up checks upon his own behavior. Back in 1911, counsel for Printers' Ink, a leading advertising magazine in the United States, drew up a statute which would make false advertising a misdemeanor. Most of the 48 states have since adopted The Printers' Ink Model Statute as written or with slight modification. You've heard the slogan "Truth in Advertising?" It came out of the 1912 convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World (now known as the International Advertising Association). And from the same meeting came the National Better Business Com-

Chillicothe lost a good game to Crowell baseball team Friday by the score, 1-0. The game was played to a large crowd and an appreciative one. Both teams were in fine fettle and played a game that was indeed well worth witnessing.

The loss by Chillicothe was due to nothing less than lack of pitchers. Had the visitors had another George Cates to put in the box, no doubt the score would have been tied. Crowell's score came in the ninth inning when a fresh pitcher took the mound and walked two men, and walked Cates in from third base. A runner's spike ripped Beverly's leg, delayed the game several minutes but did not impair his flashing style in the least.

A debate will be held at Gamble Friday night, March 11, and the subject and debaters are as follows: "Resolved, that the world has reached its zenith and is on the decline." Affirmative—R. B. Bell, Mrs. Vernon Pyle, Fred Rennels, Mrs. Allen Sanders, Dave Sollis.

According to a local physician there is a case of smallpox in the county. It is that of S. E. Norris, north of town. Mr. Norris is thought to have been exposed at Vernon.

F. J. Halenack, who lives about 7 miles north of town unearthed a large flat rock in his field while plowing and upon investigating found a large hole, filled with rocks. After cleaning the rocks from the hole, it was found that it had once been the home of an early settler of the county. It is generally thought that it belonged to John Wesley, who is yet alive and living within a few miles of the farm. Mr. Halenack has been living on the place for 13 years and did not know that he was growing cotton on the roof of Mr. Wesley's house.

The Crowell FFA meat judging team won second place in the Vernon district meat identification contest held at the Vernon Meat Company Tuesday afternoon. Chillicothe, Crowell's old rival, won first place with a margin of ten points. Quanah placed third with Archer City and Burkhardt taking third and fourth, respectively. Westover and Harold, the other schools in this district, did not have representatives at the meet.

Chillicothe scored 468 points to Crowell's 458. A score of 480 points is the highest that is possible. Carl Connell was high point man for the Crowell team and won a Future Farmer pin awarded by the local chapter to the highest man in a district meet.

Colorado and Wyoming are the only states whose boundary lines are straight lines. The state of Delaware has an average elevation of only 60 feet above sea level. Finland is the most densely forested country in the world. Water is taken from the Mediterranean sea by the sun three times as fast as it runs in from the rivers. If it wasn't for the water flowing into the Mediterranean from the Atlantic ocean it would dry up.

The Laurentian Mountains
The Laurentian mountains are older than either the Rockies or the Himalayas, cover more than nine-tenths of the province of Quebec. Their height varies little more than 1,000 to 1,500 feet.

mission, whose purpose is to forward higher standards of honesty and reliability in advertising. Every large city and many a smaller one in the United States now has a Better Business Bureau—of whose services the reader probably needs no description. Defenders of modern advertising could say much of the educational work of advertising clubs, that in which the "adman" has set up checks upon his own behavior. Back in 1911, counsel for Printers' Ink, a leading advertising magazine in the United States, drew up a statute which would make false advertising a misdemeanor. Most of the 48 states have since adopted The Printers' Ink Model Statute as written or with slight modification. You've heard the slogan "Truth in Advertising?" It came out of the 1912 convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World (now known as the International Advertising Association). And from the same meeting came the National Better Business Com-

In The News 15 Years Ago

The items below were taken in whole or in part from the issues of The Foard County News of March 9, 1923.

Big Land Deal
One of the biggest real estate deals ever made in this section of the country was made a few days ago between J. H. Lanier and John Ellis of Crowell and W. J. Franks of Memphis. The purchase involved over $138,000.

Track Meet
The county meet held here last week-end was probably the most successful staged in Crowell since the organization of the Interscholastic League. An immense crowd was present on both Friday and Saturday.

The judges were George Self, Marion Hughston, and Jack Brian. Louis Louison worked with the officials as starter.

First Game of Season, 1-0
Chillicothe lost a good game to Crowell baseball team Friday by the score, 1-0. The game was played to a large crowd and an appreciative one. Both teams were in fine fettle and played a game that was indeed well worth witnessing.

The loss by Chillicothe was due to nothing less than lack of pitchers. Had the visitors had another George Cates to put in the box, no doubt the score would have been tied. Crowell's score came in the ninth inning when a fresh pitcher took the mound and walked two men, and walked Cates in from third base. A runner's spike ripped Beverly's leg, delayed the game several minutes but did not impair his flashing style in the least.

Debate at Gamble
A debate will be held at Gamble Friday night, March 11, and the subject and debaters are as follows: "Resolved, that the world has reached its zenith and is on the decline." Affirmative—R. B. Bell, Mrs. Vernon Pyle, Fred Rennels, Mrs. Allen Sanders, Dave Sollis.

Small Pox in County
According to a local physician there is a case of smallpox in the county. It is that of S. E. Norris, north of town. Mr. Norris is thought to have been exposed at Vernon.

Finds Early Home
F. J. Halenack, who lives about 7 miles north of town unearthed a large flat rock in his field while plowing and upon investigating found a large hole, filled with rocks. After cleaning the rocks from the hole, it was found that it had once been the home of an early settler of the county. It is generally thought that it belonged to John Wesley, who is yet alive and living within a few miles of the farm. Mr. Halenack has been living on the place for 13 years and did not know that he was growing cotton on the roof of Mr. Wesley's house.

Bond Issue Carried For Municipal Power Plant at Electra
A bond issue for $122,000 carried Tuesday in Electra, 504 to 97, for the purpose of constructing a municipal electric light plant with the aid of a federal grant, according to a dispatch in the Wichita Falls Record-News Wednesday.

The election campaign, which reached bitter stages in the final days, started with the announcement of the loan and grant of $221,818 of federal money. Of the total amount $99,000 was an outright grant from the government. The five to one majority cleared the last obstacle in the construction of the municipal enterprise, according to the report.

"Baker's Dozen" Old Rule
The term "baker's dozen," dates back to early English days, when tradesmen, fearing antifraud laws, often gave 13 articles to a dozen.

New Farm Act—
(Continued from Page One) ficient production, while the Bankhead Act, in effect, penalized it." Q. If two-thirds of the farmers taking part in the cotton referendum vote for quotas, will they apply to states, counties, and communities where they are not approved? A. The cotton problem is a national one, and not confined to any one state or county. Consequently, the quotas, if approved by two-thirds of the cotton farmers, will apply wherever cotton is produced. Q. What are the commodities of which direct control is contemplated? A. Cotton, tobacco, rice, corn, and wheat. Because of minimum production requirements, corn quotas will probably not apply to Texas. Q. How does the act provide control of these crops? A. After supplies reach certain levels, marketing of the crops is regulated through the imposition of quotas. While the act puts the quotas into effect, they are subject to rejection by a one-third vote of a producers' referendum. Q. How will this control surpluses? A. By providing penalties on sales in excess of farm quotas. Q. Will the marketing quotas be put into effect each year? A. They are put into effect

NOBODY'S BUSINESS BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

Austin.—Split by the rock of internal dissent among its members, the Senate investigating committee, which has held the political spotlight in Texas these past two weeks, was out of action, probably for the duration of the summer campaigns this week. The committee unceremoniously quit work during its Austin session when Sen. Joe Hill and Chairman Tom Holbrook walked out, breaking a quorum, as Senator Weinert of Sequim was absent. The break came after Hill attempted to re-claim his motion for subpoenas for the bank accounts of Attorney General Bill McCraw, Tom C. Clark, his former law partner, and the account of the McCraw & Clark partnership. The motion lost on a tie vote. Hill and Holbrook voting yea, and Sen. Collie and Stone no. Then Hill moved to recess until Thursday of this week, and that motion lost by the same vote. Then came the walk-out, right in the middle of cross-examination of Land Commissioner Bill McDonald, about his own personal bank account. Without a quorum, the committee automatically went out of session, and can only be called back by action of three of its members. Land Probe About Done

The committee did a fairly effective job of investigating the Land Commission—the job it originally began, the adjournment will probably have little effect upon that phase of its work, since the record already compiled about the Land Office is sufficiently complete to effect changes in Land Office procedure by the next session of the Legislature, most observers here believe. When the committee strayed off into the political arena, and mixed into the Governor's race, it quickly lost public confidence, and with a majority of its own members convinced of this, it probably will hold no more sessions until after the primary elections. Bill McCraw, appearing by invitation at the session here this week, served notice that he will run for Governor, which everybody already knew, then underwent a two-hour questioning at the hands of Chairman Holbrook, in which he answered some questions with the greatest ease, and wise-cracked his way around the others in a manner which kept the laughing crowd with him, and confused the solemn Holbrook. Opinion here was that McCraw, if he didn't help his race by his appearance, certainly did not hurt it. Meanwhile, Gov. Allred still withheld any statement of his intentions, but observers here almost unanimously had swung back to the belief that he will not run, and is simply holding off a commitment until the last possible minute. Harry Hines, Allred-appointed Highway Commissioner, and oil man, this week brought in a 10,000 barrel well, opening a new field in Henderson County, indicated to close friends he will spend some of his new oil riches by entering the race for Governor, provided Allred stays out.

Budget Task Starts
Affecting the pocket-books of every tax-paying Texan was the work of a Senate finance subcommittee, headed by John Redditt of Lufkin, which this week began preliminary work on the appropriations bills for the next biennium, to be submitted to the regular session next January. Under new authority granted by the last session, the Legislature is given vast power to effect economy by reorganizing departments, through putting in or leaving out of the appropriation bills, jobs, departments and even whole bureaus. The budget bill worked out by this committee, however, has to run the gauntlet of the House and Senate, and compete with the budget compiled by the Board of filling a backfield in practice and shows good promise of being ready to step into the shoes of a retiring back in 1939. Dunn, as a result of his work during the past week, is off to a good start for one of the guard positions made vacant by graduation. Jack Fitzgerald is offering lots of competition to the center prospects and is using his weight and speed to good advantage in scrimmages. M. Sillis, who drilled with the team last fall, has shown that he is a package of dynamite in the line and this boy is well on his way to grabbing a regular berth before many seasons have passed. Daniel Brisco and Joe Spencer, rookies, are doing fine work in the line. H. C. Brown did nice backfield work in the intersquad scrimmage last week.

Charles Branch, 1937 letterman, is being groomed for one of the guard positions and this speedy, hard blocking footballer is taking the hard knocks of that position and is liking it. Ed Gafford and Jack Bailey are back in harness at their old line position and according to their performance so far will give the starters trouble when they report for drills. Hugh Sillis has the inside track on the vacant fullback position and his work has satisfied all onlookers that he is capable of performing those duties.

The boys are being shifted from position to position during the early practices by Coach Graves in an attempt to discover the best abilities of the individual and no boy will be played regularly in any one position until next fall, at which time the gridgers will start scrapping for their positions.

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Blessed be the Lord, who daily leadeth us with benefits, even the God of our salvation" (Psalms 68:19).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God's thoughts are perfect and eternal, are substance and Life" (page 286).

Dickens' Visits to United States

Dickens came to the United States in 1842. The result of this journey is to be found in "American Notes," published in 1842. His second tour of the United States began late in November, 1867, and lasted until the middle of April, 1868. During that time he took in as a result of his readings a sum approximating $100,000. During his second tour he tried to correct his impressions of America and publicly acknowledged his change of feelings at a farewell dinner (which cost $40 a plate).

Meaning of Whitechapel

Whitechapel is a parish and parliamentary district, east of the nucleus city of London. It is one of the poorest portions of the metropolis and was formerly notorious for its criminal population. From 1888 to 1891 it was the scene of the atrocities of Jack the Ripper. Within its boundaries are the tower of London and London hospital. It is intersected by Whitechapel road, the name is derived from a former medieval chapel, when all distances east of London were calculated.

Capitals of Pennsylvania

The year after Penn's arrival the Provincial government was established in Philadelphia, which remained the capital until 1799, when Lancaster received the honor on the first Monday of November of that year. By an act approved February 21, 1810, says the Philadelphia Inquirer, Harrisburg was declared to be the capital after 1812. From that date Harrisburg has been the capital of Pennsylvania. Philadelphia was the capital of the United States from 1790 to 1800. Lancaster and York were temporary capitals during the Revolution, Lancaster for three days from September 27, 1777, until September 30, 1777, when York became the capital.

HIGHLIGHTS

It seems that all the girls are after Frito Gonzales, but Frito only has eyes for Marjorie. It seems Helen is taking Margaret Wood's boy friend away from her, or is she? This boy, Frito, seems to be a fast worker, anyway, he covers a good bit of territory. It seems that Wanda Gamble is being involved in the High School romance of the year—"The Shoe Romance." If further information is desired see Cecil and Bogy, the eternal triangle. Will those Truscott boys never stop coming to Crowell? Flash!—Wilson Starnes has actually started to B. Y. P. U. In reference to the hay ride Saturday night it seems that the weather was quite cool. Is it true that Elsie Vecera stood Gilbert Lankford up Saturday night?

FLASHES

Congratulations to Camille and Juanita for picking boy friends—like those from Chillicothe Sunday night. Scene again and again the past week: Edward Gafford courting Billie Brown. Dorothy Winingham—a bright light that flashes out is still flashing. Daphn McClure, Dorothy Fleisher, Dorothy Winingham and Mary Bruce, Robert Saunders and other males, were seen together Saturday night. Can it be true that Joe Spencer has turned his car over in a ditch on the way to Elsie's house or coming from there Sunday night? This week we're boosting: Theda Wright and Gordon Thomson. Tommy Haseloff and Virginia Coffey continue to look serious and more serious. Boys from out of town here during the week-end nights were: Jim Carroll and J. D. Sandifer. And now it seems that Gonzales has put the skids under Marjorie Spencer's line and turned his affections to Frances Johnson. Bernice holds his own by taking a certain girl from Childress riding Friday night. Was Marie really second choice to Edward Saturday night? It seems that the City Lake still makes a good place for dancing to say nothing for the Country Club.

ARE YOU DREAMING?

The greatest of men are dreamers. Not the possessors of idle illusions or mysterious interruptions of slumber but possessors of vision that often seems so unreal, that their fellowmen term it "Merely a dream." America was discovered, the Panama canal built, aviation perfected, as well as many other notable achievements because of some one's vision, that seemed so unreal that it too, was termed "merely a dream." High school campuses are not excepted, each has its "dreamer." Usually an insignificant person on

PARDON MY YAWN, PLEASE

Spring is here!
Trite? Yes, but true. Little brother asks for the eleventh time, "Mama, kin I go barefooted now?" And her ready reply is: "No, not until the mesquites are in leaf."
On the campus there are no few reminders of the presence of our most welcome season of the year. Already the shameless yawn is very much in evidence, and heavy-lidded eyes assume a faraway look. Moth balls have been put in the old winter suits, shirt collars fly open, two sparrows chirp a duet and flit back and forth in the library, and here and there may be seen a translucent dress. Even the good kind, Ahasuerus, has slipped out of his "long handles."
But an age of streamlining and air conditioning can alter very little the underlying spirit of spring. There will still remain the primal yearning in humanity to get next to Nature and to feel the pulse beat of life. The good earth has no substitute.
Ho—ho—hummmm, Gee, but I would hate to see an earthworm now.

Brief Bits of News From Here and There

The United States Army Air Corps is making a strong bid for young men to join the Air Corps. The requirements of applicants are that they be between 20 and 37 years old, have two years college, perfect eyesight and good physical set up and unmarried. A $500 bonus is promised to candidates after three years service. Cadets receive $75 a month during training and then $245 a month during three years of active flying as second lieutenants in the Air Corps Reserve. New planes are being purchased by the army faster than the training school at Randolph, Texas, can turn out flyers. The training school plans on taking in 345 students this year instead of the usual 150.
The Ontario Supreme Court recently ruled that the $500,000 left by the will of Charles Vance Millar to the woman who bore the most children in ten years after his death should be divided among four women, each of whom bore nine children. A condition of the distribution is that one contender must prove that two of her nine offspring were not still born, and another must prove that five of her nine children are not illegitimate.
In his column, "The Brighter Side," Damon Runyon the successor to the late Arthur Brisbane as Hearst's commentator recently stated that the Sunday sermon page of the average daily was too dull. Dr. John Haynes Holmes, rector of the community church of New York replied by saying, "The Monday morning sermon page is in the same category with the society page, and if there is anything worse than that I don't know what it is." Dr. Holmes stated that sermons were not reported as were plays, symphonies and baseball games. Instead they were merely reprints of material handed in.
It is reported that more "baby bonds" were sold in January than in any month since they were put on sale in March, 1935. The maturity value of the bonds sold in January is $133,000,000, a $3,000,000 increase over January, 1937.
Whitman's Tribute to Bible
Walt Whitman's tribute to the Bible is as follows: How many ages and generations have brooded and wept and agonized over this book! What untellable joys and ecstasies, what support to martyrs at the stake from it. To what myriads has it been the shoe and rock of safety—the refuge from driving tempest and wreck! Translated in all languages, how it has united this diverse world! Of its thousands there is not a verse, not a word, but is thick-studded with human emotion.

Moffett Using Influence to Locate Federal Cotton Research Laboratory in Texas; Attends Meeting in Dallas

To further emphasize his earnestness in working for a cotton research laboratory for Texas to find new uses for cotton, Representative Gen. Moffett of Chillicothe, is now using paper manufactured from cotton. A letter received from Mr. Moffett, written on this type of paper, says he returned a few days ago from a meeting of the State-wide Cotton Committee in Dallas, where a thorough discussion was had on ways and means of getting the Federal Cotton Research Laboratory, provided for in the new 1938 crop control law, located in Texas.

Being a sponsor of a cotton research laboratory while in the Texas Legislature Mr. Moffett was asked to help draft a strong resolution which was sent to Secretary Wallace and the members of the Texas delegation in congress. Mr. Moffett has the following to say in regard to the resolution that was drafted:

"Among other things this resolution sets forth, that Texas is the chief cotton producing state, that ninety per cent of the entire Texas crop, in the past, has been sold abroad, that foreign demand for Texas cotton has shown a severe drop, thereby grievously affecting Texas cotton producers, that more than in any other state, the Texas farmer must find new markets and outlets for cotton, that in the last few years the people of Texas have shown a strong interest in the establishment of a cotton research laboratory, that about a year ago a bill passed both branches of the Texas Legislature to accomplish this purpose (later vetoed by Governor), and that on the basis of these reasons and facts, Secretary Wallace is respectfully requested to locate the cotton research laboratory in Texas."

"It is probable that Texas is leading the parade in the effort to locate this cotton research laboratory, as no other state legislature has taken any action whatever on this matter. It is generally conceded however, that in order to

Easter Seals will bring these children, patiently waiting for help, a step nearer to being self-sustaining and valuable citizens rather than charges on the state.
There is probably an Easter Seal sale committee in your county. I urge support of the local committee in the sale of seals. If no county organization has been formed as yet, I ask everyone interested to write the Texas Society for Crippled Children, 324 Wilson Building, Dallas, for information concerning this effort to aid children who cannot help themselves.

ADELPHIAN CLUB

Mrs. Verne Walden, Mrs. John Long and Miss Florence Black were hostesses for the Adelpian Club, at the club house on March 2, with a program celebrating Texas Day.

Miss Frankie Kirkpatrick was leader of the program which was furnished by the Alpha Junior Adelpians and the Juniors under the direction of their sponsors, Miss Kirkpatrick and Mrs. George Self.

A book, in the form of short stories telling of the lives and historical happenings of the pioneers in the making of Texas, was reviewed by the Juniors. The Alpha Junior Adelpians sang a group of old Texas song favorites, accompanied at the piano by Miss Dorothy Wainwright. Miss Wainwright also played a violin solo. To conclude the program all members sang "Texas, Our Texas."

Mrs. Ab Dunn played modern Texas songs, while refreshments were being served in the dining hall where the table was attractively decorated in the patriotic colors. Red, white and blue sandwiches, star-shaped cookies and custard were served.

The Adelpian Club was presented with a hand-made gavel, made by Rev. E. L. Yeats, from a portion of the Cynthia Ann Parker tree. The gavel is appreciated for its historical value and also for the reason that it is hand-made.

CROWELL GARDEN CLUB

The Crowell Garden Club will meet Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Christian Church.

The program promises to be of special interest and each member is urged to attend. Answer to roll call is to be given with garden queries. Mrs. L. A. Andrews, as leader, will talk on "Annuals for spring planting" and "Consider the Lawn."

In connection with this meeting, the Garden Club is sponsoring a shrub shower for beautification of the new city park. If anyone has a shrub of any kind to spare from his yard it will be very much appreciated and planted in the park which is under way on south Main Street. Whether a member of the Garden Club or not, if you have any shrubbery to spare, please bring it to the Christian Church on Friday afternoon.

RE-UNION HELD SUNDAY AT W. R. FERGESON HOME

Twenty-three relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Fergeson in the Foard City community Sunday, March 6, for a re-union. Dinner was served buffet style, each family bringing a covered dish. Games were played in the afternoon.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Will Johnson of Chillicothe, Miss Susie Johnson of Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. Wess Beatty and daughter, Nancy Ruth, and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Lankford and daughter, Geanane, of Quanah; Mr. and Mrs. Obbie Stevens of Childress, Mr. and Mrs. Midge Adcock of Truscott, Mr. and Mrs. John Rader and son, Billy John, of Crowell; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fergeson, Carvel Thompson and Floyd Fergeson of Foard City; the host and hostess and their son, Howard.

COLUMBIAN CLUB

A Texas Day program was given with Mrs. N. J. Roberts as leader. She gave present-day events in Texas. Roll call was answered to with quotations from Texas markers and monuments.

Mrs. A. E. McLaughlin gave a description of the new floor in the capitol at Austin, of which it is said that "Texas history, Texas marble and Texas talent, combine to make one of the most beautiful floors in the world."

A history of the "Eyes of Texas" was given by Mrs. Marion Crowell.

After adjournment, the hostess served a refreshment plate to members and one guest, Mrs. Crowell.

RIVERSIDE P. T. A.

On March 3 the members of the Riverside Parent-Teacher Association held their regular meeting in the intermediate room. Mrs. Rennels' pupils held a "spiced peanuts" sale and used the proceeds to buy curtains for their room. Birds in crayola form the motif. This made the P. T. A. meeting room more cheerful.

Mrs. Bailey Rennels, chairman of the nominating committee, announced the selection of officers for the coming year. Mrs. Sam Kuehn was nominated for president, Mrs. Claud Orr, vice president, and Mrs. Garry Halbert for secretary-treasurer. Those nominated were elected by acclamation. Due to illness, Mrs. Ervin Reed was unable to give her report. The business of the association completed, the president, Mrs. Hembree, turned the meeting over to Supt. Grady Halbert, who rendered a discourse on "Education for Spiritual Values."

MUSIC CLUB

Mrs. A. F. Wright was hostess to the Music Club at her home Tuesday afternoon. During the business session, the organization was further completed. The name chosen was "The Harmony Club" and henceforth, the club will be known by that name.

A program on "American Composers" was given. Miss Anne Lee Long gave the story of the life of Edward McDowell and Mrs. Foster Davis played, as a violin solo, "To a Wild Rose." She was accompanied by Mrs. Leonard Male. Mrs. Male played a piano solo, "To a Water Lily," also by McDowell. Mrs. Chas. W. Thompson and Mrs. J. R. Beverly, accompanied by Mrs. A. L. Rucker, sang two duets, "Absent," by Metcalfe, and "Suwanee River," by Stephen C. Foster. Mrs. T. B. Klepper gave a character sketch of Foster.

The hostess, assisted by her daughter, Theda, served a delicious refreshment course, at the close of the program.

Mrs. Clint White will be leader of the program at the March P. T. A. meeting next Tuesday, March 15, at the High School auditorium at 2:30 p. m.

After a sing-song, Mrs. Hubert Brown will discuss the subject, "The Need of Success." Miss Mildred Cogdell will give excerpts from the National Parent-Teacher magazine.

GOOD CREEK H. D. CLUB

It is desirable to wash thoroughly all dried fruits, when preparing them to cook, even those in sealed packages, was learned from the demonstration given by the agent, Miss Myrna Holman, at the meeting of the Good Creek Home Demonstration club on Friday, March 4, at the home of Mrs. Glen Jones.

One reason for washing dried fruits is because sulphur dioxide is used in the drying of some fruits to preserve their color. Too much sulphur dioxide taken in the body causes too much acid.

There were two visitors present, Mrs. W. M. Godwin and Mrs. Walter Thomson of Crowell.

The next meeting will be on Friday, March 18, at the home of Mrs. J. B. Little.

GAMBLEVILLE H. D. CLUB

"Dish cabinet shelves may vary from 3 to 12 inches in depth," stated Miss Myrna Holman, county home demonstration agent, at the meeting of the Gambleville Home Demonstration club on Thursday, March 3, with Mrs. W. J. Garrett.

These shelves should be easy to move and adjustable so that they may be moved to fit the articles to be stored on them, the women learned.

During the business meeting Mrs. Frank Cates was elected council alternates.

Next meeting will be with Mrs. C. W. Carroll, March 17.

WEST SIDE H. D. CLUB

A program on "Romances of the Bible," was led by Mrs. S. E. Tate when the West Side Club met with Mrs. F. A. Davis on March 1.

Jacob's lavish love for Rachel was given by Mrs. F. B. Bryson. Vashti was the first to disobey from the marriage ceremony, according to Mrs. Donald Norris.

The romantic betrothal of the attractive widow, Ruth, and the wealthy Boaz, was discussed by Mrs. F. A. Davis, and the depraved love of the gangster, Jezebel, and the weak king, Ahab, was given by Mrs. Gus Patton.

Mrs. Tom Patten, Miss Mary Britt and Miss Louise Eubank were visitors. The club will meet on March 9 with Mrs. C. R. Bryson.

FOARD CITY H. D. CLUB

"Storage in the kitchen should be planned for each individual, as there is no ideal kitchen. The kitchen that fits one family would not do for another." These facts were emphasized by Miss Myrna Holman, home demonstration agent, at the regular meeting of the Foard City home demonstration club, March 1, at the club house.

A diagram showing the kitchen of Seven C's listed the seven C's as: Convenient arrangement, Complete in equipment, Comfortable to work in, Colorful, Cleanable, Cupboard wise, and Communication. Consider first, how much space is needed; second, how to utilize all the space below and above the working surface; third, store kitchen articles where they are first used.

Miss Holman concluded her demonstration by showing how to adjust cabinet shelves to secure adequate space for all dishes, etc. Nearly all cabinet shelves are too deep and too far apart to hold dishes

Makes Plea For Texas Cripples

Charles F. Ashcroft

Easter Seal sales for Texas crippled children commence April 1 and last until Easter Sunday. Charles F. Ashcroft, President of the Texas Society for Crippled Children urges that everyone wishing to help a crippled child, buy seals. Each Texas County is being organized for this humanitarian purpose. Funds will be spent in Texas.

P. T. A. Council for County to Be Organized Saturday

A county council of Parent-Teacher Associations of Foard County will be organized Saturday afternoon, March 12, in the district court room, according to Mrs. L. A. Andrews, 4th vice president of 13th district. Riverside, Crowell and Foard City units have already voted to join the county council.

The following program has been planned: "The importance of the District and State organizations to the local Parent-Teacher Association." Mrs. R. L. Kincaid, a state officer; "How a Parent-Teacher Association helps the school—from a teacher's viewpoint." I. T. Graves, superintendent of Crowell schools; "What Cooperation in Parent-Teacher Association work can mean to the schools of the county." Judge C. C. Callaway, county superintendent.

Every member of these associations is urged to be present, also members of the Thalia P. T. A. and any educator or parent in the county who is interested in organized child welfare work, says Mrs. Andrews.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

To improve the flavor of cooked meats, peas, corn and lima beans, add 1/4 of a teaspoon of sugar to two cups of vegetables.

Try using baking soda in your bath. It not only softens the water, but is cooling in hot weather and helps to correct body odors. For excessive perspiration wash the armpits with hot water and soap, wipe dry and apply dry soda with a powder puff.

Two Minute Sermon (By Thomas Hastwell)

Loafing Christians: Not long ago I attended a session of a men's Sunday School class. There were twenty-five men present out of an enrollment of sixty. Every one on the roll was a member of the church, and their ages ranged from thirty to sixty. An effort was being made to get the membership out, and the teacher called for volunteers to see absent members during the week and extend an invitation to them to be present next Sunday. I was amazed to see but six of the twenty-five offer their services in the campaign. The offer came after a most earnest appeal by the teacher for help. I was told that this was the average interest manifested by the members of the group toward work of this kind in the class. Something is wrong with the training and the teaching of such a group that no more responsibility was felt for the program of the class than was shown here. Had this been a group of young boys I would not have thought so much of it, but here was a group of men who were the very backbone of their congregation. They had reached the age when their responsibility to their church was evident to them. They should have been intensely interested not only for the cause they represented, yet with stolid indifference they refused to spend five minutes during the week in the service of their church. I left the class session feeling that I had been present in a group who were willing to let it appear by mere attendance they were interested in their church, but who were unwilling to give the slightest service to its cause. I wonder how deep a cause goes that does not inspire some measure of willing service.

RIVERSIDE 4-H CLUB

All toys for young children should be educational, Miss Myrna Holman told the Riverside 4-H Club at its last meeting. Charlene Gray, Laura Jean Davis and Flora Belle Blevins were appointed as hostesses for the next meeting on March 22.

es and cooking utensils conveniently, although there is plenty of space.

There were twelve members, one visitor, Mrs. A. O. Barker, and Miss Holman present. The club will meet again March 15, with Mrs. Taylor as leader of a program on Texas.

Activities of Foard County H. D. Women

(Myrna Holman, Agent)

One should have enough watering devices that no chicken will have to wait for a drink, members of the Black 4-H Club learned at their meeting on Wednesday, March 2.

One of the most inexpensive watering devices can be made from a pie plate and a three pound baking powder can by putting a nail hole in the can just below the rim of the pie plate, the girls also learned.

The club will meet again on Thursday, March 24, with the Vivian 4-H Club.

With thirteen week-old baby chicks and two other hens setting, Beatrice Lewis of the Foard City 4-H Club, expects to get started soon with all twenty-five chicks, the number set as a goal for co-operators to raise.

Her chicks are the dual purpose Rhode Island Reds. Thirteen chicks were hatched from the sixteen eggs set. These are covered by the hen and are being fed chick starter.

FFA Boys Set Trees On School Grounds

The Crowell FFA boys have been doing their part toward beautifying the Crowell High School campus during the past two weeks.

They took the prize money won from the Garden Club and, after adding more, purchased two large Arizona cypress trees. These trees were planted in front of the high school building. Chinese elms were placed in front of the new grammar school building and around the work shop.

The boys plan to add something new in the way of living plants to the campus each year.
