Screen Lined Cooking School to Show Close-Up of Modern Home News

The Foard County News Offers Timely and Profitable Entertainment Oct. 4-6, in Rialto Theatre

Screen lines are a familiar sight this season. But the latest news in Cooking School conventions, as discovered by The Foard County News, has been the screen lines.

All of which means that long lines of eager pupils will be going to school again Oct. 4, 5, and 6, when this newspaper presents the much-discussed motion picture course in home economics in the Rialto Theatre.

Going to school in a theatre! It's a grand way to combine fun, instruction, a neighborly reunion and valuable instruction, all in one package. It's a grand way to get out of the rut that often attends the best and most conventional of home managers.

Just as fresh inspiration for the home is one of the by-products of the familiar Cooking School, which presents a lecturer in a model kitchen, so are new ideas and keen incentive born in the classroom for homemakers, with a novel approach and modern thing.

The kitchens that passed the recent test for this picture had to get the exacting requirements of nationally-known home economists, as well as Hollywood standards of charm, good taste and proportion.

No "false front" camera-beautiful kitchens satisfied these specialists. They insisted on working in complete, compact, modern kitchens, which actually reflect more scientific ingenuity and careful planning than any living room.

In these practical kitchens, stream lines in no idle phrase, for this simplified, labor-saving equipment is keyed in style and purpose to a busy age.

Recognizing the demands of home experts, Hollywood signed all-star kitchens, with an all-star cast, adding a continual procession of close-ups, so that every seat in the Rialto Theatre is a good seat for this amazingly pictured household course.

The class isn't all work, for there is the constant play of sparkling humor, the appeal of tender romance, and the suspense of a coherent, intelligently-directed story, which dramatizes everyday happenings—the human sort of things that really do happen.

Binding the attractive story together is the romance of home-making, a subject that holds the interest of every woman, young and old. Even The Foard County News knows that all women—brides, business types and experienced housekeepers, respond to the fascination of looking in on other woman, when she is at work in the kitchen.

Particularly do they like it when they are allowed to sit quietly and watch her prepare some dish, in which she specializes. They (Continued on Last Page.)

The death of Miss Josie Wright occurred at her home in Crowell Monday night at 10:30, following a brief illness. Miss Wright had been in ill health for the past nine years and her illness became critical last Friday at 6 p. m.

Funeral services were held in the Methodist Church Wednesday afternoon at 3:30, conducted by the pastor, Rev. E. L. Yeats. Burial was in the Crowell Cemetery by the side of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wright, pioneer residents of Foard County, with Womack Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Pall bearers were A. Y. Beverly, J. R. Beverly, C. W. Thompson, N. J. Roberts, R. R. Magee and C. C. McLaughlin.

Those who served as flower bearers were Mrs. R. R. Magee, Mrs. H. C. Roark, Mrs. Pete Bell, Mrs. Claude McLaughlin, Miss Minnie Ringgold and Miss Dine Mitchell.

Miss Wright was born June 25, 1888, three miles north of the present site of Crowell before the organization of Foard County, and her father was one of the organizers of the county. She joined the Methodist Church at the age of 13 and was a tireless church worker all of her life until ill health forced her to retire. She was also a faithful worker with children and was a close companion of her niece, Margaret Claire Shirley, and her little friends. For many years she filled the place of pianist for the Methodist Sunday School and church services and was an active member of the Co-Laborers Class.

Her friendly, neighborly disposition endeared her to all who knew her.

Survivors are one sister, Mrs. Paul Shirley, of Crowell; one brother, Julian Wright, of Vernon; and a niece, Margaret Claire Shirley, of Crowell.

Dies in Phoenix

T. E. TURNER

Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Bulkley of Swearingen have just returned from Phoenix, Ariz., where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Bulkley's father, T. E. Turner, according to a card received from Mrs. Bulkley Wednesday.

A native of Tennessee, Mr. Turner was born in Warren County, Tenn., Oct. 27, 1857, and came to Johnson County, Texas, in 1883. He came to this section in 1889 from Erath County and settled in what is now the Vivian community before Foard County was organized. He was married in Tennessee to Miss Nanny Gilantine and nine children were born to this union. Mrs. Turner and eight children survive.

SATURDAY WILL CLOSE TERM OF DISTRICT COURT

Man Sentenced and on Way to Prison In Same Day

The September term of district court in Foard County will close Saturday after being in session for two weeks.

Only one conviction was made on the criminal docket and that was a two-year prison sentence given Earl Garrett Monday morning on check forgery charges. Garrett pleaded guilty to the charges. The jury was dismissed Monday morning after hearing only one case, that of murder against Robert Jones, Negro, and a verdict of not guilty was returned.

The retrial of Roscoe Arbuckle which was slated for hearing in the September term of court was continued until February. Arbuckle was arrested in Foard County and charged with burglary. During the trial it was found that he had other sentences hanging over him so he was sentenced to 99 years in the penitentiary. This decision was reversed by the Court of Criminal Appeals in August and Arbuckle was returned to Crowell.

The remaining case on the criminal docket was that of Ransom Meadors, who was charged with wife and child desertion. This case was continued.

Record Set

What is believed to be a record, at least in Foard County, was set in the district court Monday.

Earl Garrett, who was arrested near Denton on August 14 and charged with check forgery, was sentenced to two years in the state penitentiary at Huntsville Monday morning by District Judge C. Y. Welch and was on his way to prison to serve his term Monday afternoon about 5 o'clock.

It just so happened that "Uncle Bud" Thompson made one of his periodical visits to Crowell to pick up prisoners on that afternoon. Garrett was the only person given a prison sentence in this term of district court.

Burnham-Ward Will Go 500 Feet Deeper

The O. P. Burnham-Ward No. 1, wildcat test northeast of Thalia, has reached the contracted drilling depth of 2,100 feet and, according to reports, plans are being made for the extension of the hole to a depth of about 2,500 feet. If arrangements are completed, drilling will be resumed the latter part of this week.

Gas sands and small showings of oil were struck just before the 2,100-foot mark was reached and Mr. Burnham stated several weeks ago that if nothing was reached at the contracted drilling depth and the showings were good that drilling would probably be continued for several hundred feet.

BIRTHS

Born to Mr. and Mrs. James A. Letton, a girl, Shirley Marie, Sept. 21.

The conference season for the Crowell Wildcats will be opened with the Archer City Wildcats on the Crowell High School gridiron Friday night at 8 o'clock. According to Coach Grady Graves, this will be the earliest conference game the Wildcats have ever played and the earliest for this district for the past ten years.

Change in Starting Line-up

When the opening whistle blows Friday night the Wildcats will be without the services of their shifty little quarterback, Raymond Joy. He will not be in the starting line-up due to a cold that has kept him out of all practice periods this week.

Coach Graves has been drilling Charles Branch, regular center, at the quarterback position. Franklin Evans will be shifted from his guard position to center where he saw much service in several games last year. W. F. Statter will replace Evans at guard.

Injured Starters Recovered

When the opening whistle blows the Wildcats will have their eleven starters awaiting the kick-off. John Lee Orr, who was carried from the field unconscious last Friday night due to a head injury received the closing minutes of the game, has fully recovered and will be in his left halfback position. Oran Johnson did not start the Matador game but saw service against the Bull Fighters. Johnson suffered a head injury at Floydada but from his actions against the Matadors he seems to have fully recovered and will be ready to do his share in the Wildcats' first conference tilt.

Wildcat Stock Goes Up

Stock in the Crowell Wildcat football team is definitely swinging upward again. Two very decisive victories over rather powerful opponents in the neighboring Class B district opened the 1937 season in grand style and has started a fresh outcropping of (Continued on Page Five.)

SAFE OF M.&S. CHEVROLET CO. BURGLARIZED

Two Men With Prison Records Suspected Of Crime

The safe of the M. & S. Chevrolet Company was blown open about 4:30 o'clock Saturday morning and robbed of about $120 in cash. Checks and county warrants amounting to approximately $40 were also taken.

The thieves made their entrance through a rear window. The knob of the safe was knocked off and the hole was filled with powdered dynamite. The door was blown across the room, a distance of about 30 feet, ruining an adding machine and barely missing a new automobile. The door fell short of hitting the large plate glass by a few inches, striking the facing. The robbery was discovered about 7 o'clock when the building was opened by an employee.

LOCAL GAS CO. PUTS ODORANT IN GAS LINES

Pipe Leaks Are Easily Detected by Use of Malodorant

Odorization of the natural gas used in the distribution system in Crowell and Thalia was effected Wednesday, Sept. 22, A. H. Cubertson, manager, announced Wednesday night, the action meeting the requirements of the statute enacted by the Texas Legislature in its regular session last spring.

Leaks in pipes can be detected by the distinctive odor of the malodorant and should a consumer have a leak he is asked to call the local gas office and an investigation will be made in order to locate the leak.

Plans and specifications for the odorizer that was installed at the wells north of Thalia this week have been approved by the Gas (Continued on Page Five.)

MATADORS BOW TO WILDCATS BY 40-6 SCORE

Crowell Boys Score 27 Points in Last Period

The Crowell Wildcats piled up a 40-6 score against the Matador attackers in the first home game played Friday night on the Wildcat gridiron.

Big Last Quarter

The Wildcats rolled up 27 points one of the largest last quarter scoring sprees ever staged on the local field. In scoring the four touchdowns, the Crowell lads tallied two counters after six Wildcat substitutes had taken positions in the line-up.

Matador Scores First

The invading Bull Fighters scored in the first few minutes of play and had Wildcat fans wondering if the Crowell club was overrated. A pass, Scuff to Echols, netted 10 yards and placed the ball on the Crowell 5-yard line and Scuff lugged the pigskin over from that point. Tunnell's kick for extra point was wide.

In the last few minutes of the initial quarter, the Wildcats had reversed the situation and were the point in the lead. After the Matador touchdown, the Crowell boys took the ball on the fifty and marched down the field for a Matador yard line. Fitzgerald clipped right end for the extra point. The Wildcats registered four first downs on this drive.

The second Wildcat touchdown came early in the third quarter when Simmons, Crowell fullback, laying the left end position on defense, recovered a Bull Fighter's fumble on the Matador 12-yard line. Joy put the pigskin over for a score on the second try. Fitzgerald's kick was wide.

The local lads did not score until the fourth play of the third quarter when Fitzgerald clipped right end for the extra point. He and not finding any open receivers circled right end for 27 yards. His pass for the extra point was incomplete.

Branch intercepted a Matador pass to place the ball on the Matador 38-yard stripe and Orr, Meador and Joy, took the ball to the center of the line at that point for the fourth Wildcat touchdown. Fitzgerald's kick was good.

Fitzgerald recovered a Matador fumble to give the Wildcat possession of the ball on their own 40-yard marker and Joy went over the goal line seven plays later after a steady march down the field by the pony backs of the Wildcat. Fitzgerald converted for the extra point with a place kick.

On the last play of the game, substitute Wildcat tackle,

Thalia Farmers Society to Own Gasoline Station

Thalia Farmers Co-Operative Society No. 1 voted Wednesday, September 8, to operate a gasoline filling station in Thalia. Following this meeting the Society purchased the old lumber yard in Thalia from Cicero Smith Lumber Co. of Crowell and will convert the property into a modern service station and accessory store. Gasoline will be handled both retail and wholesale.

At a meeting of the board of directors on Wednesday night of last week, Willie Cato was elected manager of the new business. Mr. Cato has been employed as bookkeeper for the gin at Thalia since 1934.

J. C. Taylor, manager of the Farmers Gin at Thalia for the past ten years, will be general manager of all property owned by the Society.

Delegates Chosen to Attend State H. D. Association

Mr. Garlinghouse and his family were here several days ago and Mrs. Garlinghouse and her aged sister accompanied them home and expect to make their home there.

intercepted a partially blocked pass and raced 40 yards for a counter. Fitzgerald put a place kick between the uprights for the final point.

Substitutes Do Good

Nichols, Gafford, Bailey, Mitchell, Clark, M. Sollis, H. Sollis, and L. Gibson, Wildcat reserves, saw service in the game and two touchdowns were registered after they took over the duties of their various positions. Bailey intercepted a pass and galloped 40 yards for the team's last touchdown.

They opened holes in the lines for backs, ran interference and per-bailey, substitute Wildcat tackle, (Continued from Page Four)

The President Speaks

Speaking from the base of the Washington monument over a world wide broadcasting system the President spoke Friday evening commemorating the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Constitution. He compared the picture of existing conditions then and now. He made clear our inter-dependence with that of other nations of the world and how all must work in harmony. He made it clear that our Government will have nothing whatever to do in becoming involved in European wars.

In speaking of the duties of modern Government he said: "In our generation, a new idea has come to dominate thought about government—the idea that the resources of the Nation can be made to produce a far higher standard of living for the masses if only government is intelligent and energetic in giving the right direction to economic life.

"That ideal makes understandable the demands of labor for shorter hours and higher wages, the demands of farmers for a more stable income, the demands of the great majority of business men for relief from disruptive trade practices, the demands of all for the end of that kind of license, often misnamed, 'liberty,' which permits a handful of the population to take far more than their tolerable share from the rest of the people."

He made clear throughout his address that his fight for judicial reform is being waged for that purpose. In his speech he said: "I am determined that under the Constitution these things shall be done."

So the court fight continues to the end that justice be done to the farmer, laborer, merchant, the masses—all alike. If you have not read my speech on judicial reform of February 18th, sent you some time ago, read it now and see how closely it follows the President's remarks of Friday evening.

Bigger and Better Bottles

Denton.—A whole bottled up—such is the situation in Three Rivers, where over 100,000 bottles are turned out a day. Milk bottles, beverage bottles, food containers and medicine bottles are a few of the glass bottles that are turned out by the glass factory located there. The necessary raw products are furnished by a heavy deposit of white, fine-grained sand near the town, which is located between San Antonio and Corpus Christi.

Although the widespread plainlands with their romantic cowboys figures have received more publicity than any other aspect of Texas, its wooded areas could well claim their share of the glory. In 1930 the total commercial forest area was 12,624,000 acres, and

I was invited to attend each of these meetings and discussed the existing legislative situation and pointed out the importance of the farmers co-operating in bettering farm conditions and particularly in working out a harmonious crop control program. At the close of each of these meetings a vote was taken on the question as to whether or not a field crop control program should be enacted by the next Congress, controlling all basic agriculture crops. With more than 500 farmers and business men present at the Olney meeting, the vote was unanimous in favor of such legislation. At Seymour, with about the same attendance, and with the bitter opposition of Mr. Ross Bates of Goree, speaking against this program, the vote was about 495 to 5 in favor of such legislation. With about 400 farmers and business men present at Munday, the vote was unanimous in favor of such a program. I am greatly interested in knowing the views of all the farmers of my district on crop control legislation and expect to cover the entire district in order to receive first hand their views.

Five towns in Texas have every right to be drity—their names are Mud, Clay, Earth, Sand and Grit.

Among other odd names is that of Round Top, so called because has an old log house with a round dome situated on a round hill. Origin for one of the most mysteriously named towns in the state, Rising Star, has never been discovered. And then there is town named Floydada by mistake because some post office employ could not read the handwriting which designated it as Floydada.

THIS IS US COMING BACK FROM OUR HONEYMOON

Mr. Frank Phillips, President, Phillips Petroleum Company, Bartlesville, Oklahoma.

Dear Sir:

It all started when I got something in my eye while we were riding with the top down.

It hurt and I cried and Harold— that's my husband—flared up and called me a cry-baby.

Oh, he's usually a Dear. But our engine was overheating and puffing steam like a peanut roaster. And such knocking, you never heard in all your life.

Well, I was practically frantic with my eye. I rubbed my good eye. I pulled the lid of my bad eye three times. I really tried everything. But no use.

Suddenly, of all the marvelous things to happen—right there, practically in the wilds of Wisconsin, we saw a gas station. Harold drove in, slammed on the brakes, and yelled to the man, "What have you got for cinders in the eye?"

As polite as could be, the man answered, "There's a big, well-lighted mirror in our rest room. Madam, and water and clean towels." And with that, he started cleaning the fuzzy spots off our windshield.

In a jiffy I had the black speck out, and what a relief! Harold felt so bad about being mean to the man that he bought some gasoline. By the way, he forgot to say it was all things. I forgot to say it was a Phillips 66 station and that's the reason I am writing to you.

Well, you never saw such a change in a car. It ran like a dream. Cool as an ice-facial and as quiet as the girl who gives it to you. The motor purred and Harold grinned and says, "She sure runs okay—okay on Phillips 66. Wonder where that Poly gas has been all my life?"

From then on, he was all smiles the whole trip. Every time we needed gas, we'd wait till we saw a 66 shield.

To make a long story short, from the time we started using Phillips 66 gasoline and motor oil, we had a perfectly marvelous trip.

In fact, we had such a swell honeymoon with Phillips 66 that I simply had to tell someone—and I thought I'd write to you and you could think that polite young man up in Wisconsin for starting us using Phillips 66 and oil.

It certainly saved us money, and you know, it says even have saved my husband some misery. But seriously, we certainly are going to use Phillips 66—and nothing else—from now on.

Yours very truly,
 P. S. The snapshot is us coming back from our honeymoon.

All School Children Should Be Examined for Decayed Teeth

Austin.—Ninety-five out of every 100 school children have decayed teeth, estimates State Health Officer Geo. W. Cox, and the average pre-school child of six years has three or four cavities.

Dr. Cox this week urged Texas parents to have their children's teeth examined now by the family dentist in order that mouth defects might be corrected early and with the least possible ill-health, pain and expense.

"It isn't possible to say definitely how much time is lost in school attendance through tooth troubles and neglected teeth," Dr. Cox said.

"But it is an admitted fact that if every school child could start the school year with teeth free from defects and well cared for the attendance would be materially improved. At the same time, the child would be spared the unnecessary suffering that comes from neglected teeth.

"Individual care of the teeth is of special importance in maintaining mouth health—and incidentally in keeping up the general health. Eating proper food, and a thorough cleansing of the teeth, twice a day, plus gum massage are essential for the preservation of mouth health.

"As a matter of fact, more parents should see to it that their children use their tooth brushes properly," Dr. Cox stated. "The mere fact that a child goes through the motions of brushing his teeth does not mean that his teeth will not decay. Cleanliness, and not mere brushing, is the thing to be emphasized. The proper way to brush the teeth is to brush the upper teeth downward and the lower teeth upward, sweeping across the gum line between the teeth, thereby reaching the areas most susceptible to decay."

And finally, sensible people have formed the habit of going themselves and taking their children to the dentist every six months, whether or not they notice any evidence of trouble. Periodic inspections enable the dentist to detect the beginning of tooth decay, which may be repaired before extensive damage is done. He can forestall threatening gum infections by appropriate treatment and also, he has an opportunity to give advice about special care which may be indicated.

The committee report recommends that leases be prepared at a conference between landlord, tenant, and county supervisor. The lease should always be in writing, it was suggested, because "disturbance frequently exists, and because of the human element of forgetfulness as to what agreements have been made." A long-time lease was recommended, in place of the one-year lease now commonly used. Cancellation clauses were suggested, for use by either party, for reasonable cause, at least ninety days before expiration of any lease year. "Where it is absolutely impossible to obtain long-time leases, we feel that one year leases should be automatically renewed, unless one of the parties gives notice sixty to ninety days before expiration," the committee said.

Each Farm Security borrower is working under a long-time plan, and it was recommended that the lease encourage him to make improvements which will aid in carrying out that plan. Improvements which he makes should be considered the property of the tenant, and he should either be allowed to remove them at expiration of the lease or to be included in the lease as to how the tenant should be compensated.

Present division of crops, on the "third and fourth" basis, was declared inequitable. "On good land it is usually to the disadvantage of the landlord, and on poor land, to the disadvantage of the tenant," the report declared, urging that "a fairer distribution should be made, based upon the respective contributions of the landlord and tenant." However, the committee condemned the "bonus" or "privilege rent," now being used in many counties of Texas and Oklahoma. It recommended that payment for special privileges be made in labor. It was also recommended that county Farm Debt Adjustment Committees act as conciliation boards, to settle landlord-tenant differences.

BIG RUSSELL BROTHERS CIRCUS TO BE IN THIS SECTION SOON

There will be a general exodus of circus admirers from this city and vicinity when Russell Bros. Big 3-Ring Circus and Menagerie gives two performances in Paducah on Saturday, Sept. 25, and in Quanah on Thursday, Sept. 30.

"When you have seen one circus you have seen them all" was a remark frequently heard in the past, but nowadays such does not hold true. The Russell Circus has a reputation for presenting more actual novel and surprising acts than any other show and because of this it claims the motto, "the highest class circus in the world." This is a big show, usually exhibiting in cities ranging from ten thousand to half a million or more in population, since a capacity crowd for one performance only will not meet the gigantic daily expense involved.

Daring exploits in the air by the Five Fearless Flyers, the Rebrax Duo from France, Miss Aerialetta, the Willis Sisters and a score of lovely aerial ballerinas; spectacular acrobatic feats by such troupes as the Six Lelands, the Connors and the Ballontena Brothers; the incredible animal intelligence exemplified by trained sea-lions, bears, elephants, horses, ponies, monkeys and a chimpanzee that is all but human—these are a few of the many attractive features presented to the stirring strains of circus band music and interspersed by the antics of those indispensable funny fellows, the clowns.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

Austin.—All set for the opening next Monday of the great three-ring political and legislative circus—the special session of the 45th legislature—the cast, which includes members of the house and senate, and most of the elective state officials, this week finished the innumerable preliminary moves, and awaited the starter's gun.

Chief performers in the three rings will be, respectively, the senate and the governor. The governor has asked the legislature to raise $15,000,000 of new revenue through taxation—an increase of approximately 60 per cent over the present general fund. He has recommended increasing taxes on oil, gas and sulphur, on pipelines and public utilities, a luxury tax.

As a counter suggestion, the senate investigating committee, headed by the veteran conservative, Tom Holbrook of Galveston, has compiled a list of alternative proposals which include reopening of appropriations, with the hope of reducing them substantially, for the current biennium; abolition or consolidation of several of the newer state bureaus, notably the liquor control board, which costs $1,000,000 a year to maintain; the old age assistance commission and the other social security agencies, including those to administer aid to dependent children, the needy blind and teachers' retirement.

Would Shift Funds

There is also material in this record available for diverting some excess revenue from oil, gas and sulphur taxes, now going to the school fund, back to the general fund. The constitution allocates one-fourth of these levies to the schools, but the legislature, by statute, has allocated one-half of the oil tax yield, and more than half of sulphur taxes, and a third of the gas taxes. Precedent for such a switch of revenues is the message of Gov. Allred himself, who in his January message to the regular session recommended the transfer. But the school lobby, one of the most numerous and effective in Texas, will doubtless combat any reduction of present school revenue to the last ditch.

The best guess of observers here is:

First, no new tax measures will be adopted, and the session will end in a deadlock, and

Second, that if revenue bills are enacted, they will be designed to raise from $5,000,000 to $7,000,000 additional instead of the $15,000,000 demanded by the executive.

Back To School

The hope of the preservation of democratic government lies in the education of the masses of the oncoming generation of voters. This week, throughout Texas, millions of youngsters were beginning or resuming their trek up the trail to knowledge. At Texas university, main fortress of the state higher educational system, nearly 11,000 students, by far the largest enrollment in history, took up their labors.

One obscure freshman, from a tiny West Texas hamlet, owes his place on the university's rolls to his gift of salesmanship and the fact that Lieut. Gov. Walter Woodul remembered the day, more than a score of years ago, when he entered the university. This lad talked Woodul out of a job as a senate messenger, working half a day, and his earnings will see him through the first semester. Woodul, entering his own son this term, recalled how he borrowed $100 from a railroad conductor friend and came to Austin for an education. He got a job as a dishwasher in a boarding house and eventually worked his way to a law degree.

Hundreds of students, working their way, find sympathetic friends in state officials who have traveled the same trail. Railroad Commissioner Ernest Thompson worked as secretary to a supreme court justice, and now a score of engineering students find jobs every summer with the commission, because Thompson remembers his own struggle. Speaker Bob Calvert ran an elevator in the capitol to get his education, and he, too, has aided several youngsters with jobs in the house.

Congressional Races

The declaration of President Roosevelt in his Constitution day radio talk that he proposes to battle on for supreme court reform has centered attention here on next year's Texas congressional races. There is the widest divergence of opinion among the 27 Texas congressmen about this and other New Deal policies. The congressmen, back home to mend political fences, are trying to guess how the people stand on the New Deal. Some, like Hutton Summers of Dallas, who has been thundering with the voice of the old preacher in Ecclesiastes against dictatorship and court reform, apparently believe the people of his district have quit FRD. Others, like Sam Rayburn of Bonham, Marvin Jones of Amarillo and the brilliant young Lyndon Johnson of Austin, are still vigorously proclaiming their New Deal allegiance. Still others are hedging for a "break" that will show them how the wind is blowing before next July's elections. State politicians, likewise, are much upset by the prospect that the court fight issue is to be kept alive, and they may have to declare themselves.

Notes

Rep. Emmett Morse of Houston hopes to get the issue of sale of whiskey by the drink, killed in the regular session, up again this time, on the theory that it would be a tax measure and within the governor's call. . . . Texas banks, seeking to restore the pre-depression good will they enjoyed, are again pointing to their willingness and ability to serve their communities in their advertising. Typical of the trend is this line from Chauncey Parsons, "your singing neighbor" on a recent radio program of the Mercantile National bank of Dallas: "The platform of this bank is to deal humanly with our clients; to share the common interests of our friends; to serve with a generous understanding on a common ground with our patrons. After all, there can be friendliness in business" . . . Another effort to submit the constitutional amendment providing for a state advertising campaign to attract tourists and industry to Texas will be made at the next regular session. The amendment failed to get out of committee last session.

McCORMICK-DEERING Farmall Tractors

WHEN the spring season is in full swing, the horse farmer is at his wits' end for time. Long hours in the field behind slow-moving teams bring him to the end of the day thoroughly tired . . . and then the round of horse chores begins.

Farmall Tractor owners will tell you that this drudgery is needless. They do more work in the field each day with their up-to-the-minute power, and when night comes, they snap the switch and call it a day.

The three McCormick-Deering Farmall Tractors—F-12, F-20, and the F-36 shown above—handle planting and cultivating of all row crops as well as the general-purpose work from plowing to belt jobs.

Ask us to bring a Farmall out to your farm for a demonstration.

Archer City—

Entering last year's gridiron campaign minus the services of even a single letterman and with only two squadmen from the team of the previous year the Wildcats, after dropping every practice game, finally began rounding out after the season was well under way and managed to win half of the conference frays, whipping out Iowa Park, Chillicothe and Archer City, while emerging on the short end of the score with Burk Burnett, Throckmorton and Seymour. With a year's experience under their belts Coach Graves' Wildcats are an amazing improved bunch of scrappers and display a smooth clicking, light and fast backfield behind a well balanced line.

Featured in the Wildcat offense is the "touchdown trio" consisting of quarterback Joy, halfbacks Orr and Meason, who, with the blocking back, Simmons, clearing the way, have left little to be desired in the ball carrying department and have, in two games against formidable opponents, played a major part in annexing a total of 72 points. Joy, Orr and Meason are each about the same weight and, although light, are very elusive and fast. Fans speak of these three boys as "Crowell's pony backs. Joy will not be in the starting line-up due to an illness during the past week.

In the line, Coach Graves has probably two of the best ends in the district in Fitzgerald and Canup. Both are of the rough and rugged type and each can do his part towards chunking passes in addition to catching them. Fitzgerald backs up the line on the defense, and does Crowell's place-kicking, both on kick-off and for extra points, in addition to his regular chores. McKown and Johnson have played consistent ball in the tackle positions and, in spite of their lack of experience, have shown up well. The guard positions on the starting line-up are manned by Evans and Co-captain Gibson. Lettermen from this year's team, these two boys love football and they pull out of the line and block with a vengeance. Starting at the center position is a brand new man, Branch, the surprise "find" of the year. Branch is one of the fastest men on the team. He plays halfback on the defense and has proven himself adept in engaging enemy heaves. Branch will play the quarterback position Friday night.

Many local fans declare that this year's Wildcat edition is much further advanced at this time of the season than ever before. Skeptical fans were treated to a pleasant shock Friday night when Crowell came out on the long end of the 40 to 6 score with Matador.

The general opinion seems to be: "Yes, they'll be plenty tough by the time they meet Burk Burnett." Although the Wildcat backers are looking ahead to the Crowell-Burk Burnett game, they do not overlook the fact that the local team has several hurdles in Throckmorton, Seymour, Iowa Park, Archer City, and Chillicothe, to get over before they can meet the defending champions on even terms on the Crowell field the night of Nov. 19.

See the new Sunrose and Eggshell shades, $1.25 each.—W. R. Womack.

Mrs. Clarence Self and Mrs. W. C. McKown of Wichita Falls visited in Crowell Tuesday.

Going to paint? Try Sun Proof, Snolite or Plasco.—W. R. Womack.

Gas Company—

Calodrant, which is being used by the local gas company, has been in use in California for several years. It is manufactured by the Standard Oil Company of California and distributed by the Humble Oil and Refining Co., Mr. Culbertson stated. The calodrant is entirely harmless as it is neither poisonous nor mauseating. It is non-corrosive to steel, iron, brass, bronze or leather and is insoluble in water.

Many small leaks, which are usually overlooked, will be found and the customer will not only be convinced that gas that flows through his meter but will also have the assurance that his health and safety are not being endangered through escaping gas.

In The News 15 Years Ago

The items below were taken in whole or in part from the issue of The Foard County News of Sept. 22, 1922.

Catches Horse Thief
More than a year and a half ago S. E. Tate had stolen from him a team of mules and a buggy. Hugh Hampton, the man who took the mules, was caught this week in Denison by Sheriff L. D. Campbell.

City Water Supply Increased
In order that there might not be a shortage of city water, an experience which has troubled several of our neighboring cities, the city council has made many improvements at the test well near the pumping station. It is estimated that this will give us a supply of at least 200,000 gallons per day, an amount sufficient for a city several times the size of Crowell.

Senior Class Notes
The senior class met Thursday afternoon and elected the following officers: Tom Beverly, president; Mattie Russell, vice president; Susie Johnson, secretary-treasurer; Roy Sloan, class reporter.

Good Water Works Report
G. N. Holton of Austin, representative of the State Fire Commission, was here last week and gave the entire water system a thorough examination and his report confirmed the opinion held by many of our citizens that we have one of the best water systems in Northwest Texas today.

Club Fair Winners
The following are a few winners of the cash prizes given in the club fair held here last week: Claude Orr, 1st prize boar pig; Lewis Burks, 3rd prize senior pig.

Robbery—

(Continued from Page One) The report of the explosion was heard by the attendants of the Quick Service Station and the night watchman, who was sitting within 100 yards of the building, but the direction of the explosion was confused and it was thought that it came from the southwest part of Crowell.

Descriptions Obtained
Pictures of two suspects in the M. & S. Chevrolet Company robbery have been obtained by Sheriff A. W. Lilly and both have been tentatively identified by Crowell merchants who noticed their suspicious actions Friday afternoon, according to the statement made by Sheriff Lilly Tuesday.

A new screw driver, which had the point broken, was found near the safe Saturday morning and it was identified by a Crowell saleslady as one that had been purchased from her Friday afternoon. She also stated that the description obtained by the officers were about the same as those of the man who purchased the tool. The man identified as the one who made the purchase was Bill Garrett, 27 or 28 years of age, Sheriff Lilly stated.

The hope of the sheriff's department were brightened when a car salesman stated that the descriptions of Garrett and B. H. Huddleston, 23, fitted two men who were seen in a car parked on the north side of the square late Friday afternoon, according to Sheriff Lilly.

Garrett and Huddleston have prison records and are the same men suspected of a car theft in Vernon Thursday. They escaped from jail in Waxahachie on Sept. 12, 1937. They are wanted in several counties on burglary charges and each of the pair has over 100 years in sentences hanging over him. All of the sentences passed on the two men have been for burglary, according to records in the sheriff's office.

9x12 felt rugs, $4.95, $5.95 to $8.25, cash prices.—W. R. Womack.

CHURCHES

Christian Science Church
Sunday School at 10 a. m.
Sunday services at 11 a. m.
Wednesday evening services at 8 o'clock.
Sunday, Sept. 26, 1937. Subject: "Reality."
The public is cordially invited.

Christian Science Services
"Reality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist on Sunday, September 26.

The Golden Text is: "For ever, O Lord, thy word is settled in heaven" (Psalms 119:89).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Thus saith the Lord the King of Israel, and his redeemer the Lord of hosts; I am the first, and I am the last; and beside me there is no God" (Isaiah 44:6).

The Lesson-Sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Scriptures imply that God is All-in-all. From this it follows that nothing possesses reality nor existence except the divine Mind and His ideas" (page 331).

Two Minute Sermon

(By Thomas Hastwell)

The Healer Who Took Time To Heal! In the gospel of John is told the story of the crippled man at the pool of Bethesda. For years this man has sought an opportunity to plunge into the waters when they were troubled and be made whole, but others always crowded him away. One day Jesus seeing him said: "Will thou be made whole?" The man answered and said: "Sir, I have no man when the water is troubled to put me into the pool, but while I am coming another steppeeth down before me. Jesus saith unto him, "Rise, take up thy bed and walk." And as the story goes immediately the man was made whole. To me the lesson here is not that Christ healed the man, for he performed many such miracles. The lesson is, that though his was a busy life, he had time to stop and give heed to a cripple whom no one else took time to notice. There is no pool of Bethesda today to which cripples may come to be healed and none of us has the power to command the unfortunate to rise up and walk, but everywhere, all about us are those who are discouraged and who need the touch of human friendship, who need some one who cares to stop and give a friendly word. Christ, when he restored health to the man that lay at the pool by the city gate, sent him away rejoicing with a light and happy heart, and it is possible today, if we but stop to think, we can help many, who, like the man at the pool, have come to feel that they have none to help them and that no one cares, and send them on their way rejoicing because there has crossed their path some one who took time to care.

GREAT TOOTH OF BUDDHA HONORED IN GAY PAGEANT

One of India's most elaborate festivals is the pageant of the Sacred Tooth of Buddha. The "superstition" lasts for ten days, ending on the night of the "full moon." Richly adorned chiefs, troops of masked dancers, gaily decorated elephants, brilliantly illuminated streets and colorful processions, turned the city into a festive center.

On the last night the climax is reached with one magnificent procession. Hundreds of elephants take part, and full-dress regalia is worn by the chiefs. In front of the elephants, whips are cracked and tom-toms and drums continually throb. Ever so often the procession halts while special dances take place. One elephant attracts more attention than its fellows for on its back is carried the golden casket of the sacred tooth of Buddha. This sacred tooth is said to have been taken from the pyre, and is held in reverence by one-third of the world's total population. The tooth is paraded around the streets and then taken back to the temple. Surrounded by a moat the temple dates back to the thirteenth century. The library contains ancient manuscripts, written with an iron stylus on talipot leaves.

Potato Puffs: Boil 3 medium sized potatoes. Put through a ricer or coarse sieve. Put 1/2 cup boiling water and 1/4 pound butter over fire and bring to boiling point, add 1/2 cup flour and cook, stirring constantly until the mixture leaves the sides of the pan. Cool. Add 2 eggs one at a time beating well each egg is added. Add potatoes to this mixture with 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, a few grains nutmeg. Drop by tablespoons in hot shortening and fry until brown. Makes 9 puffs.

Try this orange marshmallow pudding instead of a gelatin the next time you want pudding for dessert. Cut 1 pound marshmallows in quarters, with scissors. Heat marshmallows and three cups orange juice in double boiler until marshmallows are melted. Cool slightly; chill in individual serving dishes. Serve with whipped cream. Serves 6. Pineapple juice may be used instead of orange juice.

A teaspoon of ammonia in a quart of water will remove all grease and dirt from combs and brushes, after which they should be rinsed and dried in the sun. Vinegar added to dry glue make the glue fit for use again. Don't pack jars too tightly preserving fruits and vegetables. Leave a space of at least 1/2 inch at the top for liquid.

Hot, boiled and mashed potatoes are good in making cakes and puddings. They only save flour, but require shortening.

Too much water will ruin pastry tough.

Brass ornaments will brighten longer if, after polishing, they are given a thin coat of shellac.

SYNOPSIS

CHAPTER XII—Serena tries to win Quentin back, but he is adamant. He assures Vicky that he never really loved Serena. She knew all along she had really lost Quentin, for she had never loved him.

CHAPTER XIII—While Quentin is out, Dr. Cudworth, the village doctor, calls, very much excited, saying Spencer Morrison is dying. Entering the Morrison home, Vicky finds the doctor very disturbed. He looks pointedly at Serena.

(Chapter XIII Continued)

Only comfortably tired. It was while I think. Only when I was in this near home," Vicky said, "I begin to want to see children; it's the only time I just before we see them—"

"Tired, Vicky?"

"I wonder if he'd like to have Doctor come?"

"I wonder if he'd like to have Doctor come?" she asked. "I wish you'd send him straight over. Cudworth asked for him, and when I said Quentin was over at the hospital, he said, 'My God, this may be life and death!'"

"Button your coat up around your face, Mrs. Hardisty." They were at the doorway now; the chilly spring night rushed at them like a living thing. Vicky went off alone into the dark.

"What's happened?" she asked, when she arrived at the house. For it was obvious from the manner of both Serena and the village doctor that something more than ordinary illness was afoot. "Is he gone?"

"He can't live," Serena said in a quick whisper that held a puzzling hint of stubbornness, of defiance in it.

"Why, but he was well yesterday, better than he's been for weeks! At least—" Vicky hesitated, looking at the doctor as one deferring naturally to his opinion. "I don't know anything about it," she said, "but he came to the fence to speak to me and he seemed—"

"Exactly!" the doctor said sharply. "He was better; I saw him Sunday. I was called today, three hours after he first began to complain of violent pain, and I find the man dying!"

He looked at Serena, and Serena returned the look with one that, more definitely than her voice had done, expressed defiance.

CHAPTER XIV

"I'll not sign any death certificate, mark my words!" Cudworth said, in a menacing undertone. Victoria, shocked beyond the power to grasp what all this meant, glanced bewilderedly at sickroom door.

"He'll hear us!" she breathed. "He is—he isn't dead, is he?"

"He don't have to sign anything," Serena said sharply, in a voice clear but hardly as strong as a whisper. "I never asked you to sign anything! Dr. Hardisty'll sign it. He knows all about the case!"

"Spencer Morrison says he's been poisoned!" Cudworth said shortly to Vicky. Vicky could only stare at him in horror. "Come in," the doctor directed her, leading the way. She followed him into the sickroom.

A subdued light was burning there; Vicky had never been in Spencer's room at night before, but once or twice, when he had been unusually lame and had stayed in bed, she had come over in the daytime for a chat or for a game of cribbage. Tonight everything was as usual: books and photographs, chairs and rugs and lamps, but she sensed this rather than saw it, for her anxious eyes were instantly fixed upon the man who lay panting, propped in pillows, in the wide, comfortable bed. The worn, deep lines of the disillusioned face were accentuated now by his violent illness. He smiled a ghastly smile as she came in, and stretched his lean hand toward her.

"That dope seems to have quieted things down, Doctor," he said in a hoarse whisper. To the man who was now moving about the room sharply: "While I was out of the room nobody came in? Nobody touched anything on that table?"

The woman shook her head; she looked half sick with fright and bewilderment.

"That's all right then," said the doctor. "Bime-by nurse come. You

A FEW SPUTTERS OF WISDOM

Two heads are better than one—when they're on the same shoulder. A man isn't crazy because he is in love—but it helps. A flirtation is just an empty spoon. Yes, just an empty spoon. You never can tell a woman. If you can, you should not.

stay here, watchee all time." "I not go," the amah said.

"I was pretty near done for—did he tell you?" Spencer whispered, holding to Vicky's hand. He ignored Serena, looking away from her with a frown.

"You had a bad upset," Vicky said, looking down at him, trusting her face did not betray her appalled thoughts.

"I'll get through this, won't I, Doctor?" the sick man whispered. "I would be wrong to deceive you, Mr. Morrison," the old doctor said solemnly. "You're already sinking, sir. The absence of pain and the pulse both show it. It's no time for me to say anything else to you. If there are affairs for you to settle—"

"Vicky, can't you get hold of Quentin?" Spencer gasped.

"He's coming, Spencer. He was at the hospital, but I left word. What did you take?" Vicky demanded, in a sort of wail.

"I didn't take anything! She gave it to me. I want you both," Spencer said panting, "to remember what I say; she tried—a week ago she tried to double my sleeping stug; she brought it to me. I've not been taking it lately; I've been sleeping better. She told me I'd better make sure. She knew I was going back to England; she didn't want to go, and I told her she'd take care of herself if she didn't come! That drove her crazy. I saw it—she's been half crazy anyway, lately. I told Amah to watch everything I ate, and she did, but today I was asleep when she brought me up my lemonade. It was there when I woke up; I ought to have thought that Serena had been at it—"

Serena, whose face was ghastly, looked from one to the other. "That's not true," she whispered sharply in the silence. And abruptly she left the room. Spencer struggled to speak.

Quite suddenly, out of the night, Vicky was awakened by a step she knew sounding on the stairs, a voice out in the hallway. "Quentin's here!" she said. Dr. Cudworth turned quickly.

"You stay right here, Amah," he said. "You watch master! He and Vicky went out into the hall, and when she saw Quentin, pale and shocked, but strong and big and adequate and infinitely comforting, Vicky experienced one of the good moments of life, fear turned to confidence, peril to safety, and the horrors of the black night seemed less black.

"What's the matter with him?" Quentin asked. Serena began a frantic explanation; the other doctor brushed her aside.

"He's taken poison," he said bluntly.

"Suicide?" Quentin whispered, with a glance toward Spencer's door.

"Nothing of the kind," Cudworth answered sharply. "The man no more wanted to die than you do! He told me that he'd been much better—I tell you, I can't sign it, Doctor," he interrupted himself to say agitatedly. "You may if you like! But there have been things going on here that are against the laws of God and man, sir! I'll not do it, my professional honor forbids it!" Quentin, evidently trying to grasp the situation, looked from face to face.

"Who suggested poison?" he asked sharply.

"No one!" Serena said, on a passionate breath.

"Doctor, the man himself told me," the village doctor said, his forehead shining with sweat. "I saw him Sunday in good health. He was talking then of going back to England. He didn't say when; he tells me tonight that it was to be at once, and that he was leaving this wife. I tipped off the Chinese woman—I told her to watch him, I knew something was wrong! He told me that she, the amah, often brought him up lemonade in the afternoon and that this afternoon it was there when he awakened."

"Ah, but that's nonsense!" Quentin said in his honest, troubled voice.

"Of course it is!" Serena said. She went over and clung to Quentin's arm. He disengaged her hand without seeming conscious of her presence and turned to Victoria.

"Why did you come here, dear?" he asked in a concerned, tender voice. "It will only distress you horribly. You don't belong in this!"

"Spencer asked for me, Quent," Vicky raised her eyes to his and saw Serena, pale and tense and watching, looking at them. And she felt an odd twist of something like pity in her heart.

"Nonsense or not," little Dr. Cudworth said inflexibly. "I could not—professionally I could not ascribe this to a natural illness. Serena faced him down.

"You could mind your own business!" she said with a hiss on the last word. "If you don't want to do it, knowing, as I told you when you got here, as everyone knows, that he's been a sick man for years, I say that if you don't believe that a man who takes no exercise, and is not strong, could eat something, or take an opiate, that would make him desperately Man's life means tender 'teens, teachable twenties, tireless thirties, fiery forties, forcible fifties, serious sixties, sacred seventies, aching eighties, shortening breath, death, the sod, God.

Some people say the letter E is the most unpopular letter in the alphabet but because it is always out of cash, ever in debt, and never out of danger. But I say E is never in war, and always in peace. It is the beginning of existence and the commencement of ease and the end of trouble. Without it there would be no meat, no life and no heaven. It is the center of honesty and makes love perfect. Without it there would be no success.

"That couldn't be done, Serena," Quentin said quietly. "I have never had this case. But I'm positive—I don't believe—I know—Dr. Cudworth isn't seriously suggesting—"

"You may do as you think best, Doctor," the other doctor said abruptly. "I would have entire faith in anything you saw fit to do. But I personally must decline the responsibility."

"I have nothing to do with it," Quentin said briefly. Serena turned on him.

"Spencer had acute indigestion, and he's got a bad heart," she said. "But believe me, if there's any investigation, if there's one word of talk, you're in this, too, Quentin Hardisty! I'll not stand it. I'll not face a coroner and be questioned, while you are quietly enjoying yourself over there on the lawn with your wife, laughing and carrying the children into the house!"

"I don't think that'll happen," Quentin said. But Vicky saw that his face was pale. "I wish you'd called me earlier!"

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE MATADOR GAME

The Matador Matadors were true to their name for three quarters Friday night. They were stubborn and hard charging.

Matador has always been a good friendly opponent to Crowell. The relation between our teams has always been on the highest plane.

W. F. (Rudy) Statser returned a kickoff like a backfield star. He blocked and tackled well throughout the game.

Some fans say that this year's guards are the best Crowell has ever had. However, we remember Brisco and Cogdell of '34 as plenty good. Gibson and Evans have been doing some sweet blocking.

After Dick Todd saw the Eldorado scrimmage he pronounced

Fitzgerald our most valuable player. Bernice hasn't had a let-down since.

"Mosby" McKown certainly rushed the passer and kicker at times Friday night. Let's keep an eye on him.

Some fans think Branch is our best new man on the team. More power to you, Charles.

We were glad to know that Orr was not seriously injured and will be back in the lineup for our first conference game Friday night. It makes a team stronger to have good defensive men on reserve like Solis and Mitchell are.

When a team plays the last half better than they do the first half as Crowell has done in both of our games this year, we believe the players are observing training rules. Let's help them continue this by giving them a word of encouragement occasionally.

Mrs. Marion Crowell and Mrs. H. Schindler will discuss "Safety" from two standpoints, in the schools and in the home. A short business session will also be held in the forenoon.

A covered dish luncheon will be served at the noon hour. The afternoon's program will include a travelogue of the Southern States. Mrs. E. V. Halbert will use North Carolina and Miss Frankie Kirkpatrick, South Carolina, as the bases of their discussions. "Jews in America" is the subject of a talk which will be given by Mrs. N. J. Roberts.

This is the opening meeting of the year's work and it is desired that there be a large attendance.

Crowell P. T. A. Has First Meeting of Year

The Crowell P. T. A. met Tuesday afternoon in the high school auditorium for its first regular session of the year.

Mrs. Allen Sanders, president of the local P. T. A., presided. After the sing-song, visitors from Truscott, Thalia and Foard City were introduced.

Mrs. Alva Spencer gave a beautiful violin solo. Her accompanist was Miss Anne Lee Long.

A challenging address was delivered by Mrs. T. R. Odell of Haskell, who is president of district 13.

Refreshments were served by the mothers of the Intermediate Department.

Hostesses for this meeting were:

Miss Anne Lee Long, Miss Frances Hill, Miss Florence Black, Mrs. E. C. King, Mrs. Wylie Ellis, Mrs. O. W. Orr, Mrs. Clyde Cobb, Mrs. John Rasor, Mrs. P. D. Moseley, Mrs. Pete Bell and Mrs. Raymond Burrow.

B. & P. W. CLUB

Long skirts, short skirts, hobble skirts, scalloped skirts, beaded-trimmed skirts—in fact, every kind of skirt worn since the gay '90's up to and including 1937, were seen in colorful array at the costume dinner party given by the B. & P. W. Club at O'Connell's last Thursday evening. This was the first dinner meeting of the new club year and officially opened the series of programs on "Our Town's Business."

The program was in charge of Mrs. Alice Bell and opened with the singing of songs of yesterday and today. The new president, Mayme Lee Collins, made a short address, giving a brief resume of the club's accomplishments, and concluding with plans for 1937-38. A musical contest was conducted by Mrs. Mae Solomon, and another called "The Romance of the Horse and Buggy" was enjoyed. Mrs. Bell "recited a piece" from McGuffey's reader.

Guest speaker for the evening was George D. Self, who gave a delightful travel talk entitled "Seeing Texas." In a most interesting way, he took the group on an imaginary trip to the points of interest in our great state, painting vivid word pictures and imparting bits of knowledge about the state of which those present were unaware. Mr. Self has visited the club on several occasions, and is always an asset to any program.

Invitations from the Dallas Club to a get-together at the Pan-American Exposition and to a Pre-Convention Rally at Childers were read by Lottie Russell, corresponding secretary.

Miss Mayme Lee Teague was welcomed as a new member.

Refreshments were served to the mothers of the Intermediate Department.

Very interesting talks on girls' camps were given by Joyzelle Tysinger and June Billington. Mrs. Marion Crowell gave "Shoulder to Shoulder."

"The Ambitious Guest" by Hawthorne was very interestingly reviewed by Mrs. Gordon Bell.

Miss Mildred Cogdell was leader for the afternoon.

Mrs. Frank Hill, Mrs. Hartley Easley and Mrs. Annice Bell of Wichita Falls were guests.

Refreshments were served to the mothers of the Intermediate Department.

ADELPHIAN CLUB

Mrs. E. L. Yeats was hostess to the Adelphian Club at her home Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 15. Mrs. Jno. Rasor was leader of a most interesting miscellaneous program.

Mrs. Esca Brown gave an article on "Paper Bags" found in the Fortune Magazine, telling how the bags are made and the many different kinds and their many uses.

Mrs. Roy Steele gave a most informative article on "Chinaware," telling of the materials used and the time required in firing the different kinds of chinaware. Mrs. Sam Bell gave the history of tea and its importance, both in England and America, the collecting of teapots as a most interesting hobby and the individuality of the teapot.

Refreshments were served to thirty members.

COLUMBIAN CLUB

The year's activities of the Columbian Club were ushered in with a delightful Spanish luncheon at the home of Mrs. R. L. Kincaid last Wednesday when Mrs. Kincaid was hostess to club members and to the members of the Junior Columbian Club. A delicious three-course luncheon, which emphasized the Spanish idea in each course, was served at quartet tables. At each table sat a past president of the club. Place cards were beautiful pictures of western places of interest visited by the hostess during the past summer. Each table was centered with a small bowl of zinnias, white roses and other cut flowers were used for house decoration.

After the luncheon and a few words by the hostess, a short club meeting was held, with Mrs. T. L. Hughton presiding. Mrs. Hughton presided at the time the Columbian Club was organized and is also a former president of the club. Greetings were given by the present president, Mrs. I. T. Graves, in which she gave a brief glimpse into the work planned by the club for the year. The studies and these studies will be on Pan-American countries.

An informal resume of work done by the club, in the past, was indulged in by the members as the concluding phase of the day's entertainment.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY

Miss Camille Graves was delightfully surprised on her birthday Wednesday when her aunt, Mrs. Grady Graves, complimented her with a bingo party.

The guests were asked to register as they entered and also to write a wish for the honoree's future. A toast to her was given by Miss Virginia Mae Coffey. Games of bingo were enjoyed.

Following a color scheme of pink and green, which was used in the party appointments, refreshments of grapefruit punch, ice cream and mint were served with the birthday cake to the following: Misses Graves, Virginia Mae Coffey, Marjorie Spencer, Billie Brown and Juanita Brown, and Franklin Evans, H. K. Edwards, Bernice Fitzgerald, J. S. Owens, Richard Kelsey, Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Graves and the host and hostess.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED

Mrs. Clint White was honored last Friday at noon, when her niece, Mrs. Moody Bursey, entertained two tables of friends with a three-course luncheon in celebration of her aunt's birthday.

The tables, covered with madeira linens, were laid for Mesdames White, Grover Cole, A. Y. Beverly, J. R. Abee, L. J. McFarland, Hively, Mark C. W. Thompson and T. B. Klepper.

Following the delicious luncheon, the guests enjoyed the pleasures of conversation.

months before returning to his home in Williamson County. Two years later he returned with his father, "Uncle" Had Thomson, and family when they settled on a farm about four miles northeast of the present site of Crowell on Jan. 5, 1890. Mr. Thomson was single at that time and worked as a cowboy on several ranches near here until his marriage to Miss Emma Presley of Bryan, Texas, Aug. 4, 1898.

The greater part of Mr. Thomson's life was spent on the farm, however, from 1907 until 1914, he was in the feed business in Crowell. He was county commissioner of Precinct 4 for eight successive years, retiring in 1932.

In 1903 he was converted and joined the Crowell Methodist Church during the pastorate of Rev. M. W. Clark and since that time he had been a faithful attendant at church services until ill health overtook him. His quiet disposition and friendly manner had made for him a great host of friends throughout this section.

Survivors are his widow; four children, Adrian, Henry Earl and Walter Thomson, of Crowell, and Mrs. Mason Brown, also of Crowell; four grandchildren, one brother and two sisters.

Three First Games

The Archer City game will mark three first games on three consecutive Fridays. The first game of the season was played at Floydada. The second one was the first home game of the year, played with Matador and the Archer City game will be the first conference game.

The Crowell team has rolled up 72 points in victories over the first two teams and, according to Frank Morrow, sports editor of the Wichita Falls Record News, the Wildcats are slated to run over the visiting Wildcats by about 45 points, but that is a lot of points and W. E. would be satisfied with half that many counters with Joy out of the line-up.

The Archer City team is a mystery to local fans. Their strength has not been put to a good test. They have good material and a new coach so it will not be until Friday night that we will know very much about the invaders for this week.

Subs Do Good

Two touchdowns were scored on the Matador Bull Fighters Friday after John Lee Orr had been removed from the game and six subs had been put in the game. Jack Bailey, substitute tackle, intercepted a pass and scooted 40 yards for a touchdown. Bailey has to his credit, although he didn't play but just a few minutes, something that another Wildcat lineman, with the exception of the ends, will probably not duplicate this season. One excited fan stated that he didn't know whether to run or sit on it, but it looked as though Bailey did a good job of out-stripping a Matador player in speed. It might be mentioned, too, that he wouldn't have moved over five yards had it not been for the blocking of his mates. Even after the subs were put in, holes continued to be made in the Matador line and these boys do a swell job of making it tough for the regulars in workouts.

A Tradition W. E. doesn't know whether this just happened or was done knowingly by the officials of the Crowell and Matador schools, but the Wildcats and Matadors have met in the second game of the season on the same Friday for the past several years.

W. F. Statser looked mighty good at the tackle position Friday night, but this boy does fine work wherever Coach Grady Graves might happen to put him. He is a jewel to a coach as he is one of the best defensive players on the squad and can play any position in the line, although he alternates with Gibson and Evans at the guard posts.

Rotary Club

The regular weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club was held at O'Connell's Lunch Room Wednesday and was presided over by the vice president, Jack Seale, in the absence of the president, Hubert Brown, who was out of town.

The program was in charge of Henry Ferguson. Miss Mildred Cogdell gave a very interesting travelogue of her recent trip to the Eastern States and Canada.

M. O'Connell and Robert O'walt were elected new members of the club at the Wednesday meeting.

Claude Callaway was the principal speaker on last week's program and he brought the club members much valuable information as to what had been done for crippled children in this country.

of Ted Scott and his adventures in aviation, as he begins the daring deed of writing his name across the sky, by making a non-stop flight from New York City to Paris. Ted is a worthy hero, and the story is full of interest.

Elba Simmons, household linens; Ruth Steele, family meals and sewing; Elsie Vecera, flower gardens; Gayola White, family sewing; Joyce White, taking care of yard and ironing; Thelma White, household linens; Marie Wells, summer wardrobe and canning; Frances Welch, remodeling three bedrooms in my home; Margaret Woods, taking care of yard; Faye Zeibig, taking care of yard.

LIBRARY NOTES This week the library has two new books that children will be interested in reading: "Nan of the Gypsies," by Grace May North, and "Over the Ocean to Paris," a Ted Scott flying story, by Franklin W. Dixon.

"Nan of the Gypsies" is a story of a Rumanian girl who left Europe with a band of gypsies and came to America to make her home, where Nan's troubles begin with the cruel gypsy leader, Anselo Spico. Anselo hates Nan's protection of Tirol, an invalid lad, and the devotion of Manna Lou, Nan's foster mother. Nan leaves the gypsies, and begins her adventures in civil life.

know that if they watch closely, while she measures and mixes and completes the entire cooking operation, this close-up personal study will be more helpful than hours of reading recipes or blind experimenting.

Not only does every person in the audience share this close-up of each stage of the actual preparation, but the kitchen expert clearly explains her methods, so that the measurements on the free daily recipe sheets will make it possible to duplicate that feathery cake and flaky pastry.

Chatting in true neighborly style with her listeners in the Rialto Theatre, the presiding home manager will pass on her own discoveries in labor-saving short cuts. There will be dozens of helpful hints and suggestions for utilizing valuable kitchen products and labor-saving equipment.

Busy women will thrill to the convenience of one-dish meals and economy in marketing and cooking possible through full use of the electric refrigerator.

Other homemakers may find special interest in the thorough special study of laundry methods. French frying and shallow pan frying will be considered. There will be simple thrift meals, party and late supper dishes and guidance to entertaining with confidence. Even beauty secrets, so dear to every feminine heart, will not be overlooked.

Worried questions, put by the bride-pupil in this screen romance, are bound to solve many a problem for more experienced housekeepers. Peer into the mixing bowl with her and see how it's all done, or join her in a study of the wonders of frozen desserts and molded ice-box salads that taste better than they look.

Free recipe sheets will be distributed daily, so that the inspiration of the new recipes can be carried home accurately.

Although it won't be possible to lift those tantalizing culinary triumphs out of the picture, there will be plenty of daily gift bundles at this profitable 1937 school.
