YOUR Washington and MINE

(By James E. Pope) Washington News Commentator.

What God Has Put Asunder

Before keeping his rendezvous with the fifty millions of the deep, President Roosevelt warned the boys in Congress to be careful—and sparing—with the Government hay, and to not forget the flamboyant yesterdays, with their lamentable and mournful aftermath. He modestly demands that the new farm setup be kept within the current half-billion dollar annual farm program expenditures.

The President had been told that the need existed for a much bigger sum, and a few had made so bold as to suggest a billion dollars as the amount required for saving the farmers the way farmers deserved to be saved on the eve of any approaching election. So he sent the Senate a letter in which he said:

"I feel that every effort should be made to keep the farm program within the present limit of $500,000,000 per annum."

Then, obviously in answer to those optimistic ones, and intimating that he would not oppose the use of more money, provided the boys on the Hill went out and raised the dough, President Roosevelt adds meaningfully:

"I then urge that steps be taken to provide the necessary increase in revenues to meet any expenditures under the new farm program in excess of this."

So what? Plenty—and then some! A correspondent who, day in and day out, mingles with Congressmen en masse and interviews them singly or collectively will, right off, sense a note of dismay now pervading the herd. True, the President will not mix or meddle in their private political affairs, but he wants to help them. But adroitly he leads the boys up to view the unpromised land of 1928 with political whipping-posts gleaming along the beautiful landscape, and invites all to make a picnic of it, to have a good and jolly time, if they feel inclined toward recklessness—then by agile innuendo reminds them that the gloaming soon dies, and with the onfall of the night they needs must return home by the weeping cross.

Pre-election tax levies and Congressmen seeking re-election are what God has forever put asunder!

Would Remove Vice from Presidency

Democrats in Washington proclaim, and Republicans agree, that Mr. Garner has, by his record achieved the impeachment of that stigma of nominality heretofore commonly imputed to the Vice Presidency—that he has rescued it from the shadows of obscurity and brought it out into the blinding sunlight of recognition. As it relates to Mr. Garner personally, Texas Democrats and Garner admirers in other states would remove vice from the Vice Presidency in 1940! In a glowing tribute to his illustrious fellow Texan, Senator Morris Sheppard said:

"... his service as Vice President is a landmark in American history, in that he has taken the Vice Presidency out of the category of merely a nominal position and made it a place of real usefulness and power. His service as Vice President is but another step in one of the most useful and outstanding careers in our country's annals."

Said Senator Bennett Champ Clark, of Missouri: "I can say to the Senator from Texas that the people of all other states and citizens of the United States join in the pride and admiration which the people of Texas feel for Vice President Garner, who has restored the Vice Presidency of the United States to the position of a great office of great prestige and influence which it was originally intended to have, and which it had in the early days of this Government."

More Power to Indiana's Rep. Ludlow

Rep. Louis Ludlow of Indiana is campaigning for his proposed referendum on foreign wars, the essence of which is to leave the decision for this country going to war in the hands of the people, to be determined by popular vote. He brings out some ingenious argument for confounding his critics. For example:

"A declaration of war is no idle and inconsequential thing. It signs the death warrant of our fine young manhood. Surely it is a matter of sufficient importance and trust to the decision of all our people, with women having equal voting rights with men, as is proposed in my resolution. Women go down into the valley of the shadow of death to bring our boys into the world. Why should not they have something to say as to whether their own flesh and blood shall be hurled into the hell of foreign conflict?"

Rep. Francis H. Case of South Dakota, intervening, insisted that the right to vote on such a referendum should also be extended to boys over the age of 18, as boys would be drafted.

Rep. John R. Murdock of Arizona: "... In a war-torn world, such as this at present, we cannot afford to present a show of weakness. Therefore, while I am talking peace, hoping for peace, praying for peace, I want to see my country so thoroughly prepared for defensive war that nobody will pick a quarrel with us."

Rep. William B. Barry of New York: "Let us concentrate our fight on the enemies of democracy

ASKS RAIL BOOST

John J. Felley, president of the Association of American Railroads which has applied for a 15 per cent blanket increase in freight rates, points out that during the past four years, due to causes beyond the control of the railroads, there has been an increase of $952,355,000 per year in the roads' operating costs.

Contagious Diseases Among Children Need Immediate Attention

Austin.—"It is a great mistake to treat even light cases of measles, chickenpox, mumps, scarlet fever, or any other of the communicable diseases of childhood as though they did not amount to much," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. "Treatment of that sort makes it possible for these diseases to spread and cause serious outbreaks among children whose impaired resistance makes them easy victims to any form of infection."

"Some of the most serious outbreaks we have had of scarlet fever, as well as of other diseases in different parts of the state, have been traced to mild cases—that is, to cases too light for the doctor to be called. In some instances the children have continued to go to school and to associate and play with other children. In others, after they have been kept at home for a few days suffering from what was believed to be just an ordinary cold, they have returned to school and have scattered these germs around among their schoolmates. Eventually a group of cases—sometimes very serious ones—has developed from the carelessly-handled mild case. The result was another epidemic that could have been prevented."

"There are several things worth remembering in connection with children's diseases. Nearly all of these diseases begin with a digestive upset or with symptoms closely resembling those of the common cold. Accordingly, it is a wise at home and let the world settle its own problems, which they, in most cases, created themselves."

About 1595 A. D., Shakespeare said: "War is a game that, were their subjects wise, Kings could not play at," and in 1848 the great Alexander Campbell, in discussing Shakespeare's words, added his own: "For, were both kings and people wise wars would cease and nations would learn war no more."

In 1937, America has no king and she has no war—and we say two fervent Amens!

Rescue the Home-Owner

Rep. Henry Ellenbogen of Pennsylvania introduced a bill to reduce the rate of interest on home loan mortgages to 3 1/2 per cent, instead of the 5 and 6 per cent he claims as now being charged, and to spread the payments over a period of 25 years, instead of the 10 and 15 as now provided. He has this to say in support of his measure:

"Just think of it, the very agency which Congress established to save the home owner from foreclosure is now closing in on him. Every fifth home owner who obtained a loan from the HOLC has either been foreclosed or is in danger of being foreclosed. I want the HOLC to remain a rescue agency to silence the sheriff's hammer."

Conflicting Views

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, Michigan: "I agree with the President that there is no necessary reason why today's recession should not stop and why private business and initiative and investment should not meet the situation. I simply plead that these recuperative forces shall have a reasonably decent chance."

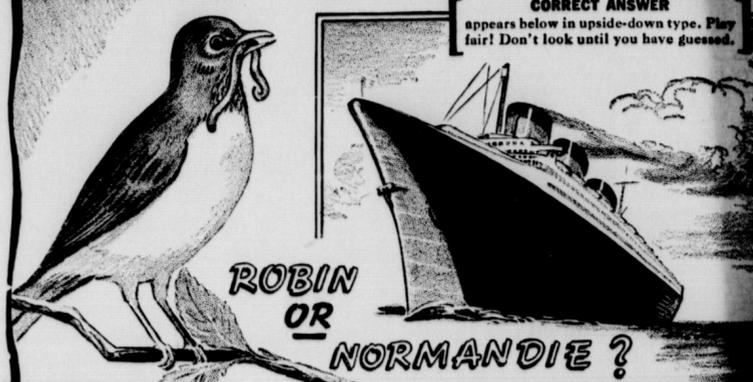

Rep. Michel J. Bradley, Pennsylvania, answering critics of the wage and hours bill: "I submit that we cannot tell these people who are suffering under these intolerable conditions in the sweatshops that because we do not like the bureaucrats in Washington we are going to condemn them, the workers, to starvation wages. That is no answer to give to men who are trying to feed their children; and they cannot feed them on $11 a week; and we cannot alibi ourselves because we do not like the bureaucrats in Washington."

Changing Lubricants for Winter Necessary

(Note: When it comes to caring for their cars, there are two general types of owners: the so-called mechanically-minded, who take proper maintenance steps because they know what each unit needs in order to perform at its best, and the great rank and file who have little knowledge of their cars' mechanics and who enter a service station only when something goes wrong. For the benefit of the latter group, C. W. Wood, national director of service for Chevrolet, has written a series of articles on preventive service, giving the "reasons why." Following is the first of them.)

Motorists who want to derive maximum satisfaction from the winter operation of their cars are taking time now, at the approach of cold weather, to have all lubricants changed. Increased demands imposed by cold weather make the step most important. It is one of the first things that should be done when winter makes itself felt.

Lubricants should be changed at three points, the crankcase, the transmission housing, and the rear axle housing. Motorists who understand the reason for this will give the job the attention it merits. And that reason is simple.

Lubricants tend to become thin and lose their lubricating quality under extreme heat, and to thicken under extreme cold. For this reason, summer-grade lubricants are made heavier-boiled than winter-grade, because they must withstand, without excessive thinning, not only the heat developed in operation but high outside temperatures as well. Winter lubricants, on the other hand, are thinner at normal temperatures than summer lubricants, so that not even very cold weather will make them too thick to flow.

It is highly important that summer oil be drained from the crankcase, and the latter thoroughly flushed to remove all trace of it, before cold weather sets in. The ber of interesting games were employed. They included Railroad Christmas Spelling, Scrambled Christmas words and others. Refreshments of cookies and hot chocolate were served by Mrs. Howard Bursey and Mrs. J. Bailey Rennels to the members and one visitor, Mrs. Bill Hudgins.

refill should be made with the grade of winter oil recommended by the manufacturer for that make and model. This will assure a supply of fresh, clean lubricant, of the proper consistency for the engine in question. And what is equally important, the flushing will rid the crankcase of any accumulation of dirt, moisture, and other foreign substances which, if left there, would tend to form sludge and choke the oil lines.

At the two points where heavier lubricants are used, the case is similar. Transmission gears, and the ring gear and pinion in the rear axle, operate in a bath of lubricants, which for proper results must be of the right consistency. If the car has hypoid rear axle, be sure to get the lubricant recommended for that type.

Just to be sure, the winter check-up should include an inspection of the numerous other lubrication points on the car, and the filling, with recommended lubricant, of all that are not full. This includes front wheel bearings, steering mechanism, spring shackles, brake linkage, and fan.

COFFEE CONTROL EFFORT ABANDONED

The government of Brazil abandoned recently its 31-year-old policy of limiting the export of coffee to world consumption for the purpose of maintaining a uniform price, and will adopt instead, the dog eat dog method of unrestrained competition with coffee producers of other countries.

The plan worked with a reasonable degree of success until growers, taking advantage of the assured price, produced larger and larger crops of coffee.

The abandonment of the attempt to control the price of coffee by Brazil is pointed out by enemies of crop control and production control in this country as evidence of the ultimate failure of all of such effort.

It is predicted that the abandonment of Brazil's policy of export control will make itself felt in this country in from four to six weeks by a reduction in the retail price of coffee.

WAR CAN BE STOPPED

Within the past two years the world has witnessed two of the least justifiable wars in a century without an effective measure of protest from the non-combatant nations of the world.

We talk world peace yet in our civil life demand a police force and even an army and a navy to defend the rights of society against the outlaw, and the despoiler, and the robber, and the thief.

We talk of world peace yet we know in our hearts that world peace in our world is little more than a threat of armed force than it is possible in civil life without the shadow of the law and an armed police force.

If we mean what we say when we say we want world peace, instead of attempting to plead with the despoiler after he has assaulted society, the peace loving nations of the world will rise up and say this thing shall not be, and will oppose it not only with commercial boycott, but with the force of united armies and navies as well.

LA GUARDIA DEPUTY

Most important man in the New York city set-up (besides Mayor LaGuardia) is Magistrate Henry H. Curran, pictured puffing a cigarette after hearing that he had been appointed to the office of deputy mayor.

Under such a program Italy would have hesitated to savage Ethiopia and Japan would not have dared to ruthlessly invade China.

We hysterically proclaim we do not want war, yet are forced to submit to it because we lack the intelligence and the initiative to apply the only means that will stop it that is recognized by wrong doers in this unchristian world.

Thomas E. Dewey, who was elected district attorney of New York County in the campaign in which La Guardia was re-elected mayor of New York City, has won national wide recognition for his fight against racketeers.

WHAT WE THINK (By Frank Dixon)

I cannot help but view some of the proposed remedies for the adjustment of our economic situation with genuine concern, my concern is inspired, but because the remedies in themselves would produce an undesirable situation, but because I feel their immediate application, in full force, will prove too drastic, and in the attempt to correct all the accumulated evils of years, the adjustment of our economic order will prove difficult.

I believe that the depression is a reproach upon human intelligence to our scheme of living that we might discover whence it was leading us, we rushed madly on, heedless and heedling ignoring all danger signs and warnings, until we finally came, as common sense should have taught us one day would, to a dead end, from the escape of which none of the schemes and practices and policies, to which we had become accustomed, would afford any relief or solution.

It is not my thought to blame any political party or group for the situation. All are in a measure to blame. The problem now is how to get out, and how to re-establish the economic order on a basis that a recurrence of the present devastating debacle shall not be probable.

To this the best minds of the country are devoting their most earnest and prayerful thought.

I believe that in the future set-up of our government there should be some agency whose business will be to watch trends and effects of policies and practices to the end that corrective measures can be applied to wrong practices and policies before the cancer has eaten too deeply.

The idea may be too Utopian to permit of practical application, but nothing is more discouraging than the thought that even after we recover from this depression, there looms ahead of us successive depressions, because we are unable to summon to our aid, simple intelligence. I think that corrective measures should be applied as soon as a fault makes itself known, rather than waiting until the whole economic order is flat on its back, through an accumulation of evils.

I feel also that the readjustment program should be definitely laid out so that business may know in advance what has to meet and thus be able to plan for it.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

Austin.—Faced with the probability that the highway development program in Texas will be set back five years, if Congress approves the suggestion of President Roosevelt that Federal aid appropriations for 1939 be reduced by nearly one-half, good roads advocates of the State, led by Chairman R. L. Bobbitt of the Highway Commission, and the Texas Good Roads Association, and backed by county judges and commissioners of the state, were laying plans this week for a huge protest mass-meeting to be held in Austin December 17.

Pointing out that 90 per cent of money spent for roads goes essentially to labor, either directly or in the production of road-building materials, Bobbitt declared Texas will lose $12,273,957 from its 1939 road funds if the above is consummated.

Two Important Decisions Texas's Supreme Court this week rendered two important decisions affecting state finances and state politics, when it upheld the law imposing a graduated tax upon chain stores, which if finally upheld, will yield about $1,000,000 annually, three-fourths of it to the general fund, and also ruled valid the state's anti-trust laws.

Political Situation Announcement of revival of the Ferguson Forum, the political mouthpiece of the two ex-governors, Ma and Jim, brought a revival of the perennial rumors that Ma might again be a candidate for Governor in 1939.

WE HEAR

By W. E. HURD

business section, when they are crowded, is no place for them. Many of the youngsters popped their firecrackers on the court-house lawn. W. E. heard one lady state that she would like to see the windows but she was afraid some one would throw a firecracker under her. Several young men who consider themselves as "grown" seemed to derive much entertainment from this practice.

Some Fun

A practical joker (or jokers) in our neighboring town of Thalia thought that because The News printed Santa Claus letters for kiddies in this trade territory, it would afford him (or them) a splendid opportunity to pull one of his (or their) rib ticklers. Well, we got a laugh out of it.

All of the letters were typewritten, even to the names, and those whose names were signed were either high school teachers or students. The letters were accompanied by a note (typewritten) from a teacher asking that the letters be published for her little pupils. The majority of the letters asked for the usual Christmas presents but two or three were "pretty rich."

Warning, Crowell Boys

One letter that carried the name of a prominent Thalia young man asked for "a big gun that goes bang, because those Crowell boys are always getting in my way."

Another wanted "a date to come after his friend at Kings High, (name of Crowell girl.) I also want a date with a most beautiful girl, Miss —."

So it is presumed that some one, other than the persons whose names were signed, put in a lot of mental effort and wrote all of the letters to get a laugh at the victims. Pretty clever, too.

W. E. Wonders how the Chillicothe sports expert feels now that Dick Todd was placed on the All-Southwestern Conference team after he had popped-off and stated, "Without a doubt Todd is the most over-rated player in the conference. Mentioned as All-American, he won't be able to make the all-conference team." Come again, Mr. Bostic.

Well, anyway, Crowell is proud of the former high school star, and would have been, even if he had failed to make the all-conference team. He is a grand player and established a reputation in the Southwest. Our hats are off to him.

GION MATSURI IS AMONG OLD JAPANESE FESTIVALS

Among the many festivals of Japan is the Gion Matsuri. It follows the tradition of the luxurious Ashikaga dynasty, whose emperors built the Silver and Golden Pavilions, two of a collection of gem-like shrines in the Kyoto district, says the New York Times. Though Yoshimasa and Yoshimitsu, rulers who built the pavilions, were tyrants, their reigns saw marked progress in Japan's arts and crafts.

The Gion ceremonial brings back something of the splendor of old Japan. In the procession of officers, pages and halberd bearers, handsomely costumed in the pattern of imperial days, follow horsemen and gilded chariots to the Gion shrine. Here and at Kyoto's former imperial palace services, with many priests in attendance, are held, the object being to propitiate the deities of the shrine. Features of the fete are decorated cars carried on the shoulders of men, armored knights, musicians and the dance of the chigo, or sacred page boy.

Basketball Here Again

The Wildcat eagles opened their home season Tuesday night with a 27-20 win over the Chillicothe Eagles and gave local fans their first peek at the 1937-38 basketball squad, as every man on the roster saw service.

Good, Too

Although the Cats are still a little sluggish due to the short time they have been practicing, they have given a good account of themselves by winning their first two games and just as soon as Coach Grady Graves can do a little polishing on their passing and shooting, they will be performing as the champions they are. The boys will be out to win the trophy for the third time and take permanent possession of the large cup offered to the winner of the Northwest Basketball Conference.

He Can Take It

The Wildcats are not only good basketballers but are also great "razzers" and Tuesday night they landed on Bernice Fitzgerald, regular center. Bernice has had hard luck in the first two games and has not been able to find the basket for a point. His kid brother, Jack, saw service against the Eagles and was able to register five points and the Cats had a lot of fun at Bernice's expense. Even though he has not been able to score yet, Bernice has played good defensive ball and is a "whiz" at taking the ball from the backboard. He will start registering basket hits soon, or W. E. will miss his guess.

Good Time Had By All

A good time was had by the large crowd that attended the Christmas opening festival last Friday night and many lingered long after the program had been finished looking at the large number of attractive windows decorated by the merchants for the occasion, which opened the shopping season with a "boom." Of course, the kiddies were on hand to greet Santa and the older folks were here to watch and participate in the "turkey chase" and take the town in. Crowell merchants are pleased with the manner in which the people of this trade territory attended the program they had made possible and invite each and every one to do their Christmas shopping in Crowell early.

A look at the list of winners in the window contest reveals that very few of the younger men and boys took part. That may be attributed to the fact that they chose to stand on the crowded street and keep people and nerves on edge by dipping firecrackers under everyone who passed. Fireworks are fine in their place but the sidewalks of the

KEEP OUT OF POLITICS (By Wayne Knew)

If you'd like to live a normal life, to have six kids and one good wife, to garner wealth beyond the rank, to own the mint and half the bank, if you want to weigh your licks, then keep out of politics.

If you love your neighbor true and like to smile and work to do, if your business is sublime and you pay your debts on time; if you know most all the tricks, then keep out of politics.

If your friend seeks your advice and speaks as though he thought you wise, and says to you as if in fun, "For what office shall I run?" Tell him now, your words don't mix, keep yourself from politics.

If all mankind is your friend from east to west, from A to end, if you're happy with your lot and like the house and land you've bought; if you love your cows and chicks, then keep out of politics. Then, when life's race is run and you've done your bit and had your fun, you can leave without regret for the tasks unfinished yet, and say aboard the River Styx, I kept out of politics.

E. L. YEATS, Pastor.

Christian Science Church Sunday School at 10 a. m. Sunday services at 11 a. m. Wednesday evening services at 8 o'clock.

Sunday, Dec. 12, 1937. Subject: "God, the Preserver of Man." The public is cordially invited.

Christian Science Services "God the Preserver of Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Dec. 12.

The Golden Text is: "The Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be glory for ever and ever" (11 Timothy 4:18.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "The Lord is good to all; and his tender mercies are over all his works" (Psalms 145:9.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "To those leaning on the sustaining infinite, today is big with blessings. . . Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need" (Preface vii, page 494.)

Two Minute Sermon

The Program Should Develop Leaders: Not long ago I visited a Sunday school. When it came time for the classes to take up, there was a shortage of two teachers. A hurried canvass of those present was made to discover if some one could be found who would take charge of these classes, both of which, it happened, were made up of young people. Only one person could be found to supply the emergency, so both classes were combined and the one teacher, who by the way had made no preparation of the lesson, attempted to teach the combined group. The success may be imagined. The effect on the young people, who made up the two groups, can also be imagined. We have, in this incident, which I imagine is duplicated in many Sunday schools in the country several times a year, the key to one of the reasons why young people do not attend Sunday school in larger numbers than they do. For some reason the teaching and training system of the average Sunday school does not develop and train leadership in the degree that it should. The program of Christian education is big enough and challenging enough to enlist the best leadership and the best talent in every group, and the training should be such that the product of the church school should become inspired with a real desire to work as leaders and teachers of others. If the program does not inspire its students to this degree, it is lacking in a vital element and the sooner the reason for the failure is discovered, the sooner the potential leadership is going to catch a real vision of service and become inspired with a desire to bring the message of the Christian religion to others. When this is done there will be no lack of competent leadership in any group.

Open Cage Season With Win

The high school basketball boys opened the season last Friday afternoon with a victory over the Thalia all-star team by a score of 24-18.

Coach Crews has gathered a group of well-balanced and aggressive players, who with their personal knowledge of the game, should be strong contenders for high school honors this year. Following is the Crowell line-up: Beverly, forward; Cook, forward; Aubrey, center; Cates, guard; Buckley, guard.

Poisoned by Medicine

It was a narrow escape for Austin Wiggins of Electra when he took medicine about three weeks ago that poisoned him. He had a prescription filled at a drug store and when he took the medicine, according to the direction on the bottle, his condition became critical. Medicine was injected into his system by physicians to counteract the poison.

Club Boy Enjoys Trip

I wish to say a few lines in The Foard County News about my trip to the Dallas Fair. I was one of the club boys and won first prize on baby beef. I got a free pass to the fair. I think every boy in the county should be a club member. I enjoyed my trip to the fair fine. There were four hundred and ninety boys in camp. We played football and baseball. I went up on the tallest building in Dallas. We stayed in Dallas three days.—Claudius Carroll, Vivian, Texas.

Rabbit Drivers Make Good

Some thirty or forty people engaged in the rabbit drive southeast of town on Thanksgiving day and the report is that they killed between 400 and 500 rabbits.

Celebrate Birthdays

On Saturday, Dec. 2, Mr. and Mrs. H. Hunt of Margaret celebrated their birthdays with a turkey dinner. About twenty-five relatives and friends were present. While not given as an old-settlers reunion it happened that all the men present, with the exception of the Margaret Methodist minister, had been residents of Foard County for thirty-two years or longer.

Miss Annise Davis of Odessa spent the week-end with her father, J. C. Davis, and family. She was accompanied by Bill Phillips, also of Odessa.

Buck Clark and son, P. D., returned from Lubbock Friday where they had been pulling bolls. They reported that most of the cotton was gathered there.

Mrs. Fred Taylor of Margaret spent the week-end with her father, J. C. Davis, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Rutledge visited their son, Quincy, and wife at Elliott Sunday.

Will Raines and family and T. C. Davis and wife spent Sunday with relatives in Farmers Valley.

Most of the cotton is gathered here until more opens. The amount that opens depends on the weather during this month, but there will be a great many of the younger bolls that will not open.

Miss Lottie Jordan, daughter of Jim Jordan, old time settler of this place, spent Sunday night with relatives here. They now live near San Antonio.

TEN BEST STORIES OF THE YEAR

1. News of the Japanese-Chinese conflict constitutes the greatest story of 1937 in the opinion of students in Crowell High School. The others are as follows:
2. Civil War in Spain.
3. New London School Disaster.
4. English Coronation.
5. C. I. O.-A. F. of L. Struggle.
6. Proposed Supreme Court Changes.
7. Crash of the "Hindenburg."
8. Disappearance of Amelia Earhart.
9. Ohio Valley Flood.
10. Death of John D. Rockefeller.

PICK-UPS

"It Is Done"—is the new 1937 edition of the campus etiquette book at the University of Washington. Every man at the institution will have a copy of it in his library if the co-eds have their way.

Among the un-Emily Postian things Joe College will have called to his attention is the habit of monopolizing the sorority's only davenport, breaking blind dates, and letting frail co-eds open heavy campus doors by themselves.—The Rotunda.

A professor in one of the eastern schools gave his reasons for classifying women as angels—they are always up in the air, always harping on something, and they never have an earthly thing to wear.

- Eight qualities desirable about a girl: (states Charlie Clark)
1. Dress well.
 2. Don't eat much on dates.
 3. Pleasant conversationalist.
 4. Don't eat much on dates.
 5. Don't be snooty.
 6. Don't eat much on dates.
 7. Be a good dancer.
 8. Don't eat much on dates.

JOKES

Bill Russell, a certain rigid Emily Post adherent, has vivid memory of Western courtesy.

Mrs. Graves was struggling with a cup of hot coffee in a small town railway station, trying to drink it before the train pulled out. A cowboy, seated nearby, noted her plight, and seeing the guard waving to the woman, came to the fore.

Bill: "Here, ma'am, you can take my cup of coffee. It's already sauced and blowed."

Mrs. Sloan: "What do they call baby pigs?"

James Erwin: "Hamlets."

Coach: "How does your little cheering section make so much noise?"

Faye Zeibig: "We give them all a cheering drink."

Coach: "What?"

Faye: "Root beer."

Three Wildcats played their last game on the Crowell team against Burk Burnett. These fellows are all graduating seniors and to them this issue of the News is deservedly dedicated.

The boys have worn the black and gold for the last three years. The school is justly proud of them for their part in putting her on the map, not only in the light of athletics, but as a clean, sound school.

No tribute could be too high for these Wildcats to show them how much they are appreciated by the student body, for without them the team would not have gone places as it has this season. Praise has not all come from the school, but from various coaches and sports writers over the district.

The student body congratulates them on their playing and type of sportsmanship, and is more than pleased with the record they have maintained throughout the season.

Wildcats, we're expecting you to write as good a success story in the future as you have on the gridiron.

IT SEEMS

It seems James Long is two timing his lady. He took Juanita Johnson to the preview after her party.

Frances Davis has a heart large enough for two. Well, after all Banks is at school, and R. D. has a good looking car.

Mike is putting in his two cents with Mary while she and Bob are "on the rocks."

There was a great demand for handkerchiefs at the preview Saturday night.

Where did Wilma Jo, Billy, Dorothy, and Shorty see Bernice, Juanita, Charley, and Theda Friday night? Ask them?

We wonder why Betty Lou kept passing up and down by Juanita Johnson's house Saturday night? After all, Cecil did take Joyce to the party.

Marvin, don't forget to keep in training. Or did you know, you were courting Glenn's girl Friday night?

HAIR RAISER

It seems that Clark Gable, movie star, has a horse named Sunny and the horse knows some tricks. One of them is to pick Gable up by the hair. Anyway the picture speaks for itself.

Oma Floy says she was just riding around with Marvin and Mary Owens, but she wouldn't reveal who was in the back seat with her. That we have to guess who L. T. Derington, R. D. Stewart, Charlie Clark, Bernice Fitzgerald, Glendon Russell, Billie Russell, Marvin McKown, and Wayne Canup courted Friday night is something uncommon.

Mary Bruce has been gradually losing weight ever since he has been bound for California.

Faye just loves typing now that she has Ruby's ring to flash as she peeks the keys.

LOCALS

Nell Roberts, Clara May Phillips, and Audrey Abston of Thalia visited Dorothy Flesher from Friday afternoon until Monday morning.

Betty Stinebaugh visited Cecil Carroll in Gambleville Sunday afternoon.

Marjorie Spencer, Juanita Brown and Thelma Moore went to Quannah Sunday.

Mary Lankford is in the hospital at Quannah.

Mary Elizabeth Hughtson, student at T. S. C. W., is home recovering from an operation.

Garland Robery was absent from school Monday.

Mozelle Lemons visited in Wichita Falls Sunday.

FRIENDSHIPS WHICH ENDURE

The wise man judges his friends, not by their highest or lowest points but by their average levels of conduct. If one expects his associates to live up to their best moments every hour of every day, he will meet with disappointments every time he turns around.

On the other hand, one who forsakes a comrade because of an occasional unworthy act will soon find that he hasn't a friend in the world. There are traces of nobility in all of us, yet each of us sinks at times to the petty, and ignoble. That is true of you; it is true of your friends. Among the people whom you know, you will find none, by and large and in the long run, who suit you very well. As they go along one day after another, you will find them honorable and likeable. They are naturally the ones to whom you will turn for companionship.

But some day one of these friends will slip. He will do something that you do not approve. He will descend to something foolish or unworthy; at least so it will seem to you. This will constitute a crisis in the relationship. If you are shortsighted you may act as if this slip, this deviation from his usual course, represented his true character. You will cut him cold. That is what many people do. They are fawty in vision. They act as if the present moment were all eternity. If a friend disappoints them at this moment, they forget the long past; the days and years of true friendship and affection. They are unmindful of the future and of what it may mean to them. They do not like the immediate act, so they sever the ties of friendship. Try to be a real friend and have friendships which endure.

Foard City Scholastics

(By School Reporter)

Caps, gloves, mufflers, sweater sets—cold weather regalia—holds the spectators' eyes around Foard City this week. Winter is making its annual Yuletide debut, and many are hoping Santa must ride over a deep layer of snow Christmas Eve.

Santa came early in the guise of community friends to give the John Johnsons a farewell Christmas tree Wednesday night. Wayne and Geneva will be greatly missed by their school mates.

In the Christmas spirit Foard City's ex-students are planning a presentation of a three-act play for the community. With "Bud," Oma Floy, Mary, R. J., Hazel—well, it couldn't help being good. The title is called "The Blundering Herd," and it tells of the antics of a group of people on a dude ranch.

Useless, say the students; necessary, say the teachers—but still they come every six weeks—those exams. Perhaps soon the curriculum makers will make statewide a better plan for testing improvement, than taking tests. But until then—

State Welcome To Industry Is Seen Necessary

Leaders Favor Program to Encourage Business; Laud Economy

Dallas. (Special) — Belief that Texas could easily meet any "challenge" of other states in bidding for industrial growth by moderating its seeming official aloofness to industry—which at present contrasts with its unofficial but widely-evident sentiment for courting new business—was expressed today by Homer Mitchell, outstanding Texas insurance authority, and Hubert M. Harrison, manager of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce.

This was the general consensus of business leaders reflected in a survey by the All-South Development Council as to what the recently announced co-operative drive of nine southeastern states to promote their industrial expansion, individually and collectively, means to Texas' ambitions to become adequately industrialized.

"Of course, we have plenty of outstanding physical advantages here in climate, resources, labor, fuel, population and purchasing power," said Mitchell. "But we can't feel really sincere about inviting our industrial friends to invest here, on the basis of these fine potentials, without warning them of their liability to having help carry the load of an unnecessarily expensive state government, and admitting frankly to them that the trend of legislation in recent sessions has posed grave problems for not only new industry, but for the industries which have contributed to the upbuilding of Texas to date. Obviously, the record as it relates increasing burdens placed upon industry may be credited with nullifying, in the minds of many potential converts to Texas, the state's other attractions."

"Drawing up a program of objectives similar to that of the southeastern governors group would be helpful, whether any special board—which would cost money — were organized to promote it or not; because just going on record, as they have done, would prefer bring a realization that we would have to exercise sufficient business acumen and restraint, as a state, to make our claims stand up under test. But surely we—as a state—can't brag much about our business acumen right now."

Harrison maintained that "Texas has been and is getting plenty of advertising, from its organizations and from commercial organizations and industries interested in attracting investors and 'population' here. And it looks as though we're starting on an 'economy in government' cycle. That, unquestionably, would be our very best publicity."

Pointing out that "we have no established policy affording industry that security which invites investment of capital and personnel, which is what these other states are seeking to establish," Richard Davy, Corpus Christi chemical engineer, said "in consequences new industry, when it analyzes what has gone before, approaches us with extreme caution."

back in school this week. Such sliding as we do have these days. Up and down—down and up—the colored balls are forgotten in the fascination for the new slide.

Know Texas

Prairie Dog Blues
 Denton.—Under the Soil Conservation plan progressive Crockett County ranchmen are ridding their ranges of prickly pear, cedar, mesquite and prairie dogs. In all, contracts covering 1,185,748 acres of land have been prepared in the office of the county agent. Other improvements listed in Crockett's program include 24 header tanks and 990 rods of fence.

History of Disasters

Four wars and two floods are the main catastrophes which Texans have to look back over since the beginning of statehood. The wars, of course, begin with the struggle for independence, on through the Civil and Spanish-American wars.

Clyde V. Wallis, industrial development manager of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, is one of many who see the recent taxless session as possibly marking a "turning point" which, if true, will brighten the industrial outlook. "While we cannot say the session was completely pleasing, because it revealed distressingly the cumbersomeness and inefficiency of the machinery, nevertheless it was encouraging to some extent, as showing that at least it's much harder to pile on new taxes than it has been heretofore. And unquestionably it helps our 'sales talk' to prospects, to show them that here was one time, at least, that some sort of official resistance to 'slapping it on' was put into the record."

to the World War, when 200,000 Texans went overseas. Greatest natural tragedy was the Galveston Hurricane in September, 1900, when from 5,000 to 7,000 lives were wiped out. Just a year before the Brazos flood swept across the country, taking heavy toll of lives and property.

"Turnabout" Cactus

The "turnabout" cactus found in Jamaica is so called because it turns night into day by blooming regularly only after dark. Its flowers are exquisite and creamy white, and emit a delicate perfume.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm. Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

LOCATING THE CAUSE

The first and most important step toward correcting any ill is to locate the cause. Chiropractic locates the cause and then by adjustments removes the pressure that causes the illness.

An examination may prove your turning point toward perfect health.

LIBRARY NOTES

"A Woman's Hardy Garden," by Helena Rutherford Ely, should be of interest to garden lovers everywhere, and it should especially be interesting to home-makers and members of various garden clubs. This book tells of shrubs, hardy perennials, biennials, and annuals of simple culture. It contains material on hardy gardening and preparation of the soil, plans for a garden, planting, insecticides, and many others. Also several plans are illustrated by drawings. There are approximately fifty illustrations of different flowers, walks and gardens.

The author's sole purpose was to give information to help gardeners plant and make their gardens grow, and this purpose was realized.

FFA Activities for Week Features Work With Calves, Hens

Fifteen calves were dehorned, castrated and branded by members of the Vocational Agriculture I class on the F. C. Borchardt farm, several miles southwest of Crowell, Thursday morning, Dec. 2.

Several of the boys proved to be "green hands" and it was difficult to determine which was the more dangerous, the stamped calves or scared boys for either would run over anything to get out of the way.

However, a few of the boys were adept and soon caught the trick of throwing a calf and the job was completed in a fairly short time. Ernest Spears let the class use his bus to make the trip.

About 300 hens were culled, wormed, dusted for lice, and vaccinated for roup for M. F. Crowell, who lives in Crowell, Tuesday afternoon.

Each hen was examined for her laying qualities and if she passed inspection, she was vaccinated for roup and colds by injecting 1 c. c. of bactin into the wing. She was then given a worm capsule to expell round worms and tape worms, and dusted with sodium fluoride for lice. Parasites, diseases and culls are largely responsible for low egg production at this time of the year when the price of eggs is highest.

Mr. Crowell gave each of the boys a cull hen, which was sold and the money put into the chapter treasury.

The boys who did this work were: Cecil Carroll, Franklin Evans, Billy Russell, Glendon Russell, Mr. Crowell, and Walker P. Todd, adviser.

An NYA work project has been approved affording employment to a group of needy youths in Hereford serving and preparing food in the public school cafeteria. J. C. Kellam, State Youth Director, said.

NYA Assistant Dist. Supervisor Here Wed.

Representing J. C. Kellam, State Director of the National Youth Administration, H. A. Ziegler, Assistant District Supervisor, spent Wednesday in Foard County inspecting work projects and meeting with the County Advisory Board.

The Advisory Board meeting was held at 1 p. m., in the office of the County Judge. Ziegler stated that these meetings are held periodically for the purpose of hearing a report of the progress of the program and a discussion of matters that have to do with its activities. The four-point program of the National Youth Administration was discussed at length with emphasis on the educational and job placement phase of the program. In discussing the eligibility of youths for employment on the program, Ziegler stated that to be eligible for NYA, youths must be members of families certified to the WPA relief rolls, between the ages of eighteen and twenty-four.

Many youths previously employed on the program have secured seasonal employment, and some have found permanent employment. At present Foard County has the following NYA work projects in operation: a county-wide clerical project, sponsored by the County Judge, and a highway beautification project, sponsored by the State Highway Department. Foard County's NYA Advisory Board is composed of the following citizens: L. T. Graves, chairman; Mrs. R. L. Kincaid, Mrs. N. J. Roberts, H. E. Thomson, George Self, T. B. Klepper, T. M. Haney and Judge Claude Callaway.

Basketball

Eagle guard, placed second with 12. Jack Fitzgerald, Wildcat second stringer, grabbed third place with 5 points.

The Crowell starters were ragged on their goal shooting during the first period but once they hit their stride in the second quarter and retired to let the second string finish the scrap. This was the third game for the Chilli-cothe boys as they had played in the Medicine Mound tournament last Friday and Saturday, in which they won second place. They dumped Medicine Mound and Kirkland quintets, but were defeated by Five-in-One in the final game.

Seymour Game
This marked the second game of the season for the Crowell squad as they had beaten the Seymour Panthers, 36-17, in a practice game at Seymour last Thursday night.

The Crowell lads grabbed the lead in the first few seconds of play and were not behind at any time. The score by quarters is as follows: 11-5; 26-12; 29-14; 36-17. Kelsey was high point man for the Wildcats and Mikeska led the Seymour boys in scoring. Owens and Nelson were outstanding defensive men for Crowell and Butler was the defensive star for the Panthers.

Players who saw service in this game were Kelsey and Orr, forwards; B. Fitzgerald, center; Owens and Nelson, guards; Smith, center; J. Fitzgerald, forward; Dunn, guard.

The game was fast but ragged and rough with bad passing and shooting the only drawbacks to an otherwise exciting game. Seymour will meet the Wildcats in the Crowell gymnasium Tuesday night, Dec. 21.

The Austria white chickens lay as well and are much heavier in weight than the leghorns, according to Mrs. W. B. Jones of the Foard City Home Demonstration Club.

The Austria whites are a mixed chicken created by breeding white leghorns and black Austria lops. Mrs. Jones had 425 hatched off on March 8 and found that some of them had started laying in July. One hundred and seventy-five of the pullets were kept for laying purposes, the others eaten or sold.

The Austria whites weigh six pounds or more and it is claimed that they are healthier than some of the lighter breeds. The average life is from three to five years, while that of the leghorn is one to three years, according to Mrs. Jones.

A new stove and mechanical refrigerator do much to improve the kitchen at the home of Mrs. Frank Cates of the Gambleville Home Demonstration Club. The kitchen has also been newly papered. The paper has a cream background with green and red figures in it. The woodwork is to be painted also.
