

DRILLING OF DEEP WILDCAT WEST SOUTH OF CROWELL IS RESUMED TODAY; USE ROTARY

Drilling operations on the 5,100-acre oil test on the J. W. Crowell ranch 11 miles southwest of Crowell will be resumed late this afternoon (Thursday) with a rotary rig. The test was spudded during the latter part of May and the hole was dug before a cable-tool rig and seventy men moved from the rotary rig to make room for a rotary rig. Continued rains caused a delay in resuming operations, but it was not until last night that the rotary equipment was placed on the grounds. The derrick is 122 feet in height and has a 24-foot square platform on top. A Fairbanks-Morse diesel engine will furnish power. After starting, the rig will be continued twenty-four hours each day, with three shifts. The test is being operated by Grady G. Spearman and R. F. Brady of the Wynne Drilling Company. The Wynne Drilling Company holds the drilling rights for this wildcat test. It has moved their family to Crowell and established a headquarters here.

Huge Sign to Serve as Aviator's Guide Being Painted Here

A mammoth sign is being painted on the top of the Self Motor Company building today (Thursday) and will serve as a guide for aviators, as the sign will be so large that it can be seen from a height of over 5,000 feet.

This work is being done as a Works Progress Administration project, under the sponsorship of the Federal Bureau of Air Commerce, and under the supervision of F. M. Summerour of Ft. Worth. The Texas State Highway Department is furnishing transportation for both workmen and equipment, in co-operation with the Bureau of Air Commerce. L. P. Tilley of the State Highway Department, who is in charge of the department's equipment here, was in Crowell Wednesday afternoon.

The letters, which will spell "Crowell," will be fifteen feet in height and will cover the length of the building, which is 130 feet. The body of each letter will be formed by a 12-inch strip of orange paint with a 3-inch black border, making the body of the individual letters 15 feet in width. A meridian arrow pointing to the north will be 60 feet in length.

It is said that this combination of colors is so easily read that as many as three towns in a district can be located from the air by the signs.

FOREST SERVICE NURSERY NEAR RAYLAND MAKES PROGRESS IN PITE OF WEATHER CONDITIONS

Forest Service Nursery located near Homer Faugh's farm is immediately northwest of Crowell, is staging a comeback. The farmers in this neighborhood are well aware that the hail storms and six floods, fell in May and early June, something for any plant life to grow under. It's true that trees can stand much abuse, but it is likewise true that small trees are more helpless than our field crops.

According to Raymond L. Busseyman in charge, seeds of approximately 20 different kinds of trees and shrubs are being very good considering the conditions that they have been through. About 500 plants are as much as being high now and can be seen along the highway just north of Rayland. Honey locust, green ash, can be seen west of Baptist Church in rows that range east and west. North and south, can be seen catalpa, west and desert willow along the highway. Other trees being grown include Burmese and Chinese Elm, Kentucky Coffee tree,

NEW SPEED KING

Floyd Roberts of Van Nuys, Calif., is shown after winning the 500-mile Indianapolis motor speedway race. Roberts finished about five miles ahead of Wilbur Shaw, winner of the 1937 classic. Driving a streamlined, all-aluminum Miller-built car, he established the remarkable average of 117.3 miles an hour, smashing the record of 113.58 hung up by Shaw last year. Roberts drove the entire distance without relief and made only one 30-second stop. Roberts' victory won him $38,000.

NEW BUILDING AT FIVE-IN-ONE IS DEDICATED

State School Supt. Is Principal Speaker for Occasion

Dr. L. A. Woods of Austin, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, addressed an audience of approximately 800 people in the auditorium of the new Five-in-One school building Sunday afternoon as a feature number on the dedication program. The new building, one of the most modern in this section of the state and valued at $84,700, was completed in April. It replaces a $70,000 structure which was destroyed by fire June 30, 1937.

Preceding Dr. Woods' address, Ira V. Younger, superintendent of the Five-in-One school, gave a brief history of the school, beginning with its formation in 1928. He also introduced the school board, architects, contractors, and WPA officials, who directed construction of the building, and a number of school officials, including Warner Rascoe of Wichita Falls, deputy State Superintendent. The program was concluded with a prayer of dedication by Rev. H. F. Peiman, pastor of the Zion Lutheran Church.

Other features on the program included music by the school band of 24 pieces and by the Musical Maidens. The building was inspected in the afternoon. It contains 11 recreation rooms, study hall, library, two laboratories, auditorium, two music rooms and offices. Facilities for still and moving pictures, radio and inter-communication systems, controlled ventilation, steam heating equipment, and other innovations made the building one of the most modern in the state.

The school has a faculty of 12 teachers and approximately 300 students.

Several from Crowell Attend Elliott Meet of Agriculture Men

Several Crowell people attended the Adams watershed field day at Elliott Monday at which time leading agriculture men of the United States discussed the benefits derived from soil and water conservation. This meeting brought together more than 2,000 farmers, business men, and agriculture workers of West Texas and Southern Oklahoma.

Dr. H. H. Bennett of Washington, D. C., chief of the Soil Conservation Service of the Department of Agriculture, was the principal speaker of the program. Dr. Bennett pointed out that the soil conservation program is a young program in the United States and it should have been in operation since the first plow was put in the ground at Plymouth and Jamestown. It is a known fact that soil conservation was practiced in older times but it is also a fact that it has been practiced but little in the United States until recently, Dr. Bennett stated, and that to date only the surface of soil conservation work had been touched.

There are yet many years of work ahead of the soil conservation service, he stated, and told that in Missouri one-half of the top soil had been eroded and that in Iowa one-third of the top-soil was also eroded. In the black land district of Texas, some of the land can not be called black land because of the damage done by erosion, as only limestone rocks were showing today.

Dr. Bennett commended the work of R. E. Dickerson, superintendent of the Spur Experimental Station, for the work he has been carrying on and demonstrating to farmers the need of water conservation. Those from Crowell who attended the meeting were John Nagy, Jodie Boston, Walker P. Todd and Francis Todd.

Claude Youth Injured in Car Accident East of Crowell Wednesday

Wayne Clark of Claude, who has been hauling wheat in the county for the past two weeks, was severely injured Wednesday night when his loaded pickup overturned. The accident occurred on State Highway 28 seven miles east of Crowell about 7:30 o'clock.

Clark was returning to Crowell with a load of wheat when the right rear tire blew out, causing Clark to lose control of the vehicle. The pickup swerved to the opposite side of the road and was thought to have turned over three times before coming to a standstill with all four wheels on the ground. The wheat, owned by Howard Williams was scattered over the highway.

Clark was found and rushed to Crowell for medical attention by Earl Davis, and was unconscious at that time. From Crowell, Clark was taken to the hospital in Quanah. The seriousness of his injuries were not known here Wednesday night, but it was reported that he suffered a back injury and painful cuts and bruises.

WILDCAT OIL TEST NORTH OF THALIA REACHED 1,330 FEET; OIL LIME TO BE DRILLED SOON

A drilling depth of 1,350 feet was reached in the second hole on the wildcat oil test of O. P. Burnham and Associates on T. L. Ward's farm three miles north of Thalia Tuesday afternoon. Drilling of the second hole was started Saturday, June 4, after work on the first hole was abandoned because of collapsed pipe at approximately 1,500 feet.

Drilling of the second hole has gone ahead at a rapid pace because this hole is being drilled just fifty feet west of the first hole.

Drilling with the rotary rig, powered with a gasoline engine, will be stopped at a depth of 2,010 feet, at which depth the oil lime struck in the first hole will be reached. The eighty-six-foot steel derrick will be removed from the hole when this formation is reached.

When the derrick is removed, a Slobberger test will be made on this hole. If tests are favorable Over 217,500 bushels of wheat were brought to Foard County elevators last Wednesday, according to reports from the elevators, to raise the total of 1938 wheat harvested in this county to approximately 381,200 bushels.

Harvest was resumed in some sections of the county the latter part of last week, after it had been stopped because of rain, and the only delay since that time was a short time Wednesday morning, following a light shower Tuesday night.

Harvest Nears End

According to elevator men of the county, the 1938 wheat harvest is rapidly drawing to a close, as combines are completing their work each day. It is predicted that the harvest will be completely finished in a little over a week, as combining should be over by the first of next week.

Very Few Threshers

The smallest number of threshing machines in the history of Foard County will be used in the harvest this year. Each year, since about six years ago, has seen a fewer number of threshers in the fields of the county, but 1938 is the first to see only three of them operating. Les Johnson started threshing wheat belonging to J. W. Wishon Wednesday, after threshing oats. The threshing rig of M. F. Crowell will be put into operation Thursday or Friday, on Dr. J. M. Hill's farm, and the third of these machines will be operated by Leon Solomon.

There will be enough men employed on these three threshing rigs to operate approximately fifty combines, but the threshers will be in operation for only a very short time.

The opinion that the farmers who bound and shocked their wheat for threshing will suffer the least losses was expressed many times by wheat farmers and elevator men during the past two weeks. Wheat that was shocked escaped about half of the damaging hails, rains and winds which swept the county this year.

Wheat Damages High

With the closing of harvest, Foard County is facing what will probably be the shortest wheat crop in history, according to the number of acres of land sowed. It is estimated that about 65,000 acres were planted in wheat this year, and the total for the entire 1938 crop is predicted to be about 525,000 bushels. Wheat men estimate that hail, rain and wind have damaged the crop a little of fifty per cent. The last damage done to Foard County wheat was last Wednesday night, when an extremely strong wind blew ripe wheat to the ground. The eastern section of the county suffered the greatest loss from the strong wind.

Wheat Prices Up

The price for wheat jumped from 53 cents per bushel to 67 cents during the past week. Wheat was selling at 67 cents Wednesday afternoon, and that is the highest price to be paid for new wheat this year.

Civilian Refuges in China Increase in Past Ten Days

New York, June 8.—Last-minute dispatches from relief agencies in China reveal that the number of civilian refugees has increased from 45,000,000 to 60,000,000 following air raid bombings in the past 10 days, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt Jr., national chairman of the United Council for Civilian Relief in China, declared today.

Most of these 60,000,000 innocent non-combatants are without food and shelter and are facing epidemics constituting the greatest health danger the world has known since the Black Death of the Middle Ages, Colonel Roosevelt said.

He appealed to all Americans to attend the "Bowl of Rice" parties to be held throughout the nation on June 17 to aid the victims of Japanese aggression.

Colonel Roosevelt received information in a cable from Dr. T. S. Wang, chairman of the Shanghai Medical Association, that a widespread epidemic of typhoid and cholera in the International Settlement "seems inevitable."

"The total of 163 cases of typhoid and 135 of cholera, with 56 deaths, which has been officially reported to Shanghai health authorities in the past seven days, unquestionably is far short of the actual number," Dr. Wang said in his dispatch to the national headquarters of the United Council for Civilian Relief in China.

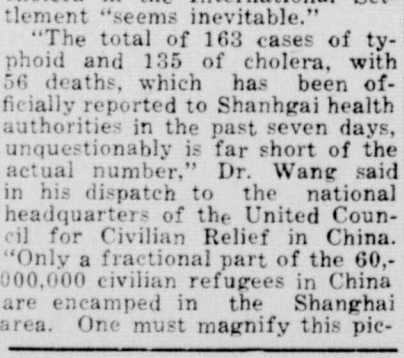

"Only a fractional part of the 60,000,000 civilian refugees in China are encamped in the Shanghai area. One must magnify this picture of disease 200 times over in order to visualize the situation in China as a whole."

Dr. Wang pleaded for immediate medical supplies and sanitary equipment in order to prevent the epidemics from wiping out millions of the Chinese war victims. Colonel Roosevelt declared, "Four tons of quinine shipped to China within the last three months were enough to treat only a small fraction of those in urgent need of medical attention, said Colonel Roosevelt."

Your Electric Servant

"Folks, I'm Reddy Kilowatt, Your Electrical Servant. I don't want a formal introduction. But I do want to get on such friendly terms with you that I can say, 'Howdy, Bill,' and 'Howdy, Mary.' I want you to invite me in, see? I won't be any trouble. In fact, I'll do all the work you've been doing. That's my specialty. While my name is new right here in West Texas, you've had the benefit of Electric Service all the time. My entrance into the picture merely gives personality and a warmer touch to it. Too, I can tell you more ways in which to use the West Texas Utilities Company. Make 'em work for you! Their rate of pay—well, let's say 'My Rate of Pay'—is so small you'll be positively flabbergasted at the work I do for a few pennies. I'll be with you from now on... in the papers, in the show windows, and—I hope—right in your home and business. You see, folks, I'm Your Electric Servant!"

Calvert Visits

WHAT WE THINK (By Frank Dixon)

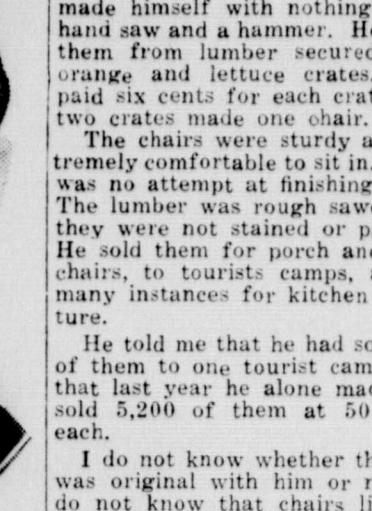

Hon. Bob W. (Bob) Calvert of Hillsboro, candidate for Attorney General of Texas, was a visitor in Crowell Monday afternoon in the interest of his campaign.

The other day I met a man who was selling chairs that he had made himself with nothing but a hand saw and a hammer. He made them from lumber secured from orange and lettuce crates. He paid six cents for each crate, and two crates made one chair. The chairs were sturdy and extremely comfortable to sit in. There was no attempt at finishing them. The lumber was rough sawed and they were not stained or painted. He sold them for porch and lawn chairs, to tourists camps, and in many instances for kitchen furniture. He told me that he had sold 200 of them to one tourist camp, and that last year he alone made and sold 5,200 of them at 50 cents each. I do not know whether the idea was original with him or not. I do not know that chairs like his are made any place else in this country. If he is the originator and only maker of this type of a chair and can make and sell 5,200 sturdy, practical, comfortable chairs in one year from lumber that ordinarily goes into the fire, in the dump or kindling pile, in the midst of one of the greatest depressions this or any other country has seen, he is a genius, as much of a genius in his way as is Henry Ford. I was all the more interested to learn that all of the 5,200 had been sold in two or three counties around his home. I bought one of the chairs; not that I had any use for it, because I did not, because of my admiration for a man who refused to let a depression whip him and who had the energy and the initiative to devise and construct an article, and the enterprise to go out and sell it, in an already crowded market, in the midst of a depression. I have no doubt that in a thousand and more localities in this country there are opportunities for a shop of this kind and a market for products of this kind, but I wonder in how many of them there are men with the initiative and the genius that this man had. A thing that should not be overlooked in this achievement of making and selling 5,200 of these chairs in a year is the fact that these were all sold in an agricultural section of the country that does not have a single large industry and which has not raised a profitable crop in five years. It may come as a shock to some men who may read this, who have declared time and time again that no work could be found, and that a living could not be made, while at the same time in the city dump outside the city limits there was material to be had for the picking up, sufficient to establish them in a good and paying business. We have heard a good many times of Russell Cromwell's story "Acres of Diamonds," but this is the first instance that has come to our attention where the acres of diamonds were found in the city dump.

Your Horoscope

June 14, 15—While generally very generous along money lines to your friends, you can be very close. Unless duty holds you to a certain town you like nothing better than to change your location every little while. While you are given to asking advice from others if it does not coincide with your desires you do not follow it. If necessary to keep peace in the family you will sacrifice your own desires, much as you like to have your own way. June 16, 17, 18—You would make a confidential clerk of more than ordinary value. You are lighthearted, have a serene disposition, love all the comforts that come your way but would not be a success as a business man as you are too impractical. You are susceptible to sympathy and flattery which often proves disappointing, but does not hurt you. You could save yourself a good deal of worry and disappointment if you would be more practical and less idealistic in your ideas.

Lumber Measure

Sometimes the lumberman talks a different language than we do. We asked him what he meant by "board feet," notes a writer in Hoard's Dairyman. A board foot is one piece of wood one inch thick, and a foot long, a foot wide, we learn. How do you figure the number of board feet in an order of lumber we might leave? It's like this: Multiply the number of pieces by the length in feet; this times the width in inches, and that multiplied by the thickness in inches. Divide your answer by 12 and the number of "board feet" is the result.

Louisiana Sugar Cane Industry

Almost two centuries old, the Louisiana sugar cane industry was first introduced into the Western Hemisphere by the Jesuit monks who followed La Salle and other early explorers into the rich Mississippi delta lands.

Crowell, Texas, June 16, 1935

It is of the Lord's mercies that we are not consumed, because his compassions fail not. They are new every morning; great is thy faithfulness. — Lamentations 3: 22, 23.

One of the best examples of the power and influence of advertising is to be found in the example of the success achieved by the advertising writers in popularizing cigarettes with women. This was a shrewdly executed piece of work.
At first the good looking girl was shown with the package of cigarettes. Later on she was lighting them, and a few months later she was smoking them and telling the world that they were good for everything from falling hair to fallen arches. The successful manner in which the campaign went over is a tribute to the skill of the advertisement artist and writer. Now that liquor is back, the same routine has begun on liquor, and, if past results are a guide the same degree of success will be accomplished in the matter of popularizing liquor with women and incidentally greatly increasing sales volume.

Some folks, when they grow old, develop into kindly, genial and tolerant souls. This type never lacks for friends even when advancing years put them out of touch with the world of events in which they live. The other type becomes peevish, petulant, critical, forever nagging those about them and the world. They do not attract friends. Most folks do not care to visit those from whose presence they go upset and discontented. The secret is that the first type thinks of others, and the second only of themselves. The remedy is for the unhappy ones to quit thinking of and feeling sorry for themselves.

In Germany, Russia or Italy, a criticism of the administration means prison and possibly death.
In this country and in England one can make most any criticism of the administration, no matter how harsh, and escape being punished for it. Perhaps this is better. If one gets it off his chest he forgets about it, but if he has to suppress his criticism it smoulders along and his grievance magnifies itself. It's things like this that result in uprisings against the government.

If you go about quietly and tend to your business, are industrious and thrifty and live within your income and don't mortgage your future with partial payments on everything you imagine you want, you won't attract any considerable amount of attention, but you will be a worthy member of that group that makes up the backbone of this country.

A bond of greatest friendship must exist between the wolf and the stork since the fact that the wolf at the door never seems to interfere with the coming of the stork, in fact, the bigger and nearer the wolf the oftener the stork comes.

MEN WHO PLAN NOW

(An editorial from the Rotarian Magazine.)

It IS strange. But it happens so often that it must be a response to something basic in human nature. In so-called hard times, when many businessmen forlornly complain that "there is no business contrive to find business; and, what is perhaps still more astonishing, new enterprises put down roots, get a healthy start, make sturdy beginnings of vigorous growth.

Is it that these business "downs" have special purposes which many of us, blinded by easy success in more prosperous periods, fail to see and use?
The late Edward A. Filene, a merchant of Boston, Mass., whose thinking was never bounded by national borders, once said: "I have noticed that business success tends to breed business failure.
Success often makes men contented; lessens incentive. It is when people are not doing very well with what they already have,
that they are most willing to listen to and try out new ideas that may save them."

A certain chewing-gum manufacturer, a great believer in advertising, undertook one of his most impressive advertising campaigns during a time of severe business stringency. His competitors were cutting down, or cutting out, their advertising. He doubled his appropriation. He reasoned that with fewer advertisements seeking reader attention, his own aggressive copy would attract all the more notice; and it worked out exactly that way.

Great industrial improvements have been made, or initiated, in periods far from prosperous. Chas.
E. Duryea, first to build a successful gasoline automobile in the United States, began his first car in 1891, was building his fifth in 1894; and between those two years the country was passing through one of the worst panics ever known. The basic work on the first successful telephone was done by Alexander Graham Bell in the early '70s, when the United States panic. Instances of this kind, great or small, could be multiplied almost endlessly, but more to the point would be the personal parallel many a reader may draw as he recalls times when he was so hard put to it that, to survive, he had to do strenuous new thinking and make drastic revisions of unprofitable habits—which revealed hitherto untapped potentialities that proved his salvation. . . . and more.

Men who plan constructively now, may find that these so-called troubled times, viewed in the light of what they can do for us instead of what they appear to be doing to us, will yield magic returns.

Governor Martin, of Oregon, was defeated by Henry H. Hess in the recent primary held in that state. It is reported that the thing that contributed most to Martin's defeat was his war on labor racketeers. Most folks would rather be defeated because of their opposition to this type of racketeers than elected with their vote.

Early Clock Making

Prior to 1800, clock making in America was considered as an individual trade like that of the col-bler but shortly after the beginning of the century it became a regular industry and we find many clockmakers who are known for the beautiful examples they left behind.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

Austin.—One of the most unusual races for the governorship of Texas within the memory of political observers here is being effected, and will reach its first climax on July 23. It is remarkable in history of the field—the first, for the size of the field—14 applicants filed when entries closed, and the prospect that 13 of these names will go on the ballot. It is likewise remarkable for the lack of division among the leading candidates upon issues, and for the singular lack of personalities or "mud-slinging" which has characterized the first month of active campaigning.

At this stage, political opinion generally holds to the belief that three of the candidates—Willam McCraw, Ernest O. Thompson and Tom Hunter—have much possibility of going into the runoff.
The first two named are regarded here as the best—almost certain to go into the second heat.
But the last six weeks of campaigning, of course, can bring surprises and upsets, and with the unusually assorted variety of material that is entered, a dark-horse may nose out one or more of the favorites.

Looks Bad For Vernest

"Vernest O. Thompson, or Vivan O. Thompson, or whatever finally turns out to be the real name of the Dallas entrant, was summoned this week to appear before the Democratic State Executive Committee at its Monday meeting and show cause why he shouldn't be ruled off the ballot for fraudulent filing, after Eyer-ett O. Looney, a committee member, filed a protest against listing him as a candidate. In Dallas, his campaign manager said Thompson wouldn't appear. On the eve of the committee meeting, the temper of the committee was apparently somewhat nasty about the

Few Issues Developed

Ernest Thompson this week took cognizance, during a West Texas speaking tour, of the promptness with which McCraw, his leading opponent, has adopted the platform and issues which Thompson has espoused. He declared that he announced the question of whether an old age pension applicant has children or other relatives able to support him or her, as a test for eligibility. He contended that the constant "prying" into the personal affairs of aged people by "whitecollared army of case workers" was a greater hardship than not getting a pension, and declared that enough would be saved in pension administration, costs by eliminating the necessity of "asking Grandma a lot of insulting questions" to pay the pensions of those who might be added to the rolls by eliminating the question of support by the children.

McCraw Bids For Farm Vote

McCraw, on a Valley tour, made a strong bid for the farmer vote in that rich agricultural area, by promising to "call in real farmers and ranch men to sit around the council table" to discuss their

Cowboys to Open Annual Round-Up Fourth of July

problems when he is Governor. Thompson has been making a bid for the farm vote, with strong pledges for a constructive land conservation program, and McCraw's advisers obviously were seeking something to offset the Thompson rural strength.

Relative position of these two leading candidates appeared, according to best reports here, to be little changed during the week. McCraw was generally believed still in first place with Thompson forging steadily forward, and the Texas Press Association con-cluded a successful 59th annual convention by electing Deskin Wells, brilliant young publisher of the Wellington Leader, president, Walter Buckner, of the San Marcos Record, was named vice president, and Uncle Ben Harigel, of Lagrange, and Sam Harben, of Richardson, were renamed treasurer and secretary, respectively. Harben will serve his twenty-eighth term, having won over Garland Farmer, of Henderson, the first opponent he has ever had as secretary. Among resolutions adopted were those favoring paid advertising of governmental financial statements, and condemning the giving of free publicity space to competing advertising mediums, including movies and radio. The Kerville Mountain Sun, published by Mrs. W. A. Salter, won the award as the best Texas weekly, for the second time.

Allred Address CIO Union
Austin observers believed the last possible barrier to the appointment of Gov. Allred as Federal Judge was removed this week when the Governor addressed the Oil and Gas Workers' Union convention in Houston. The organization is affiliated with the CIO. Allred, more than a year ago, vigorously attacked the tactics of sit-down strikers in the East, and warned it wouldn't be tolerated in Texas. The CIO unions were the only ones over to use the sit-down strike as an industrial weapon, and there were rumors here that John L. Lewis would personally protest Allred's appointment to the Federal bench. Allred's address was conciliatory, and he declared he didn't even know when he made his declaration, that the Oil and Gas workers were a CIO union. He praised their law-abiding record, and expressed complete friend-

Beware of ambition for wealth; for there is nothing so characteristic of narrowness and littleness of soul as the love of riches; and there is nothing more honorable and noble than indifference to money.—Cicero.

Christian Science Services "Is the Universe, Including Man, evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 19.

The Golden Text is: Our help is in the name of the Lord, who made heaven and earth" (Psalms 124-8).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "The Lord hath brought forth our righteousness: come, and let us declare in Zion the work of the Lord our God. . . He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heaven by his understanding" (Jeremiah 51:10, 15).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "There is but one creator and one creation. This creation consists of the unfolding of spiritual ideas and their identities, which are embraced in the infinite Mind and forever reflected" (page 502).

Health Officer Advises Typhoid Vaccination

Austin. — No matter how busy you are just now planning your vacation, looking up maps, camping sites and equipment stored since last summer, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, advises all Texans to add one extra item to their list of things to be done before vacation starts.

The advice: "If you have not been vaccinated against typhoid within the last year or two, go to your family physician and have him give you the three 'shots' that will protect you against the disease. It takes several weeks for the protective treatment to establish itself throughout the system, so it is an undue risk to wait until just before starting your vacation to attend to typhoid vaccination."

"Typhoid fever is much less of a menace than it was a number of years ago. But it still is the cause of much unnecessary sickness. Typhoid fever is contracted through the mouth. You either eat or drink the germs. Typhoid is transmittable through the use of water, milk or other foods that are contaminated by typhoid germs passed on by someone ill with the disease or someone who has had the disease."

"Vigilant protection of public and private water supplies from pollution, pasteurization of milk, protection of food supplies from contamination and such sanitary precautions have reduced greatly the incidence of typhoid fever in Texas."

"But there are certain other sources of danger that cannot be reached by public precautionary measures. Certain persons who have had typhoid fever continue to pass the germs that cause the disease long after they have recovered from the illness—these persons are called typhoid 'carriers.' When they are careless in their personal habits they are likely to leave typhoid germs on any food they touch. In recent years some of the more serious outbreaks of typhoid over the state have been due to careless carriers."

"There are other sources of typhoid: a stream or spring along the highway may be clear and sparkling but that is no guarantee the water is free from contamination. Milk may be a source of danger. If unsure of the safety of your milk or water, always boil them before using. The Texas State Department of Health can warn you against sources of infection—but vaccination is the only sure way against contraction."

First Paper in County One of the earliest papers printed in this county was brought to us one day this week by J. W. Beverly. It was the Hardeman Mirror and was published at Margaret. This particular copy was dated April 15, 1886, and was the 11th number of Volume 1. It was without doubt the first publication in Hardeman County, which included what is now Foard County.

The paper was a four-page, six column sheet and was edited by W. J. Grant and J. W. Murray. Mr. Beverly says Murray was the writer and Grant was the mechanical man. It was a splendid sheet and contains much interesting matter. Margaret was then the county seat of Hardeman County. Crowell was not thought of at the time upon which the town is now situated, was, in all probability, pasture land.

Origin of "Red Tape" Red tape, as the popular name for official and legal formality and delay, originated in England during the Eighteenth century and arose from the custom of tying documents in red tape. The custom of tying up papers in such tape dates back several centuries, reference being made to it in an advertisement printed in a London paper published in 1685. Sidney Smith did much to popularize it in the satirical sense. Such a word was just what the common people wanted with which to ridicule the delay of government business. It was natural that the ordinary man, impatient for action on his particular case, should ridicule the tying and untying of red tape which bound the dispatch and document cases.

The Name Hermine The name Hermine, Hermine or Herminia is of uncertain origin; or rather, it may have two origins, its meaning depending upon which is chosen. It may be the feminine of the Latin Herminius, meaning "lordly," which would account for the meaning "autocratic" sometimes given it. Or it may be the feminine of the Teutonic Herman, which has two meanings, "popular" and "warrior." Hermine of Greek origin and meaning "Maid of high degree," may be a variant of Hermine. St. Hermine, second century, was well versed in medicine and attended the sick. The Greek Hermione, daughter of Menelaus and Helen, was extremely beautiful.

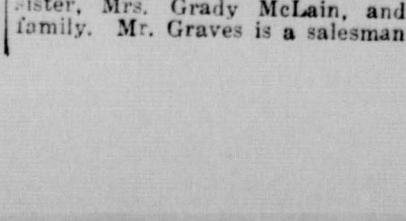

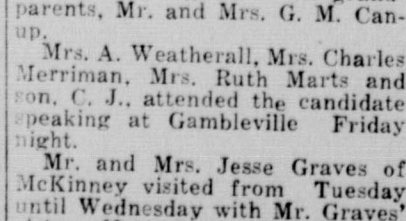

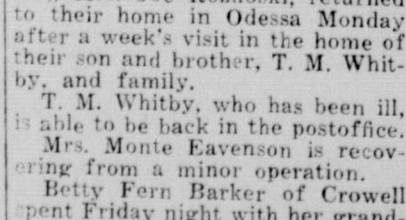

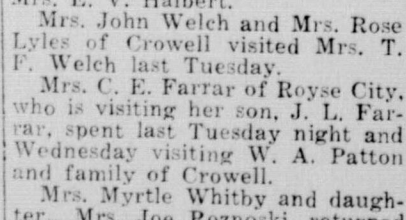

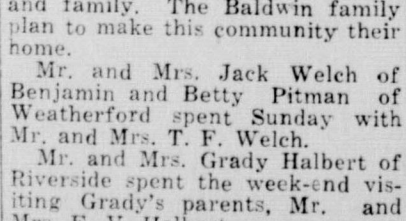

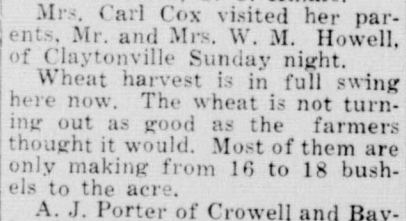

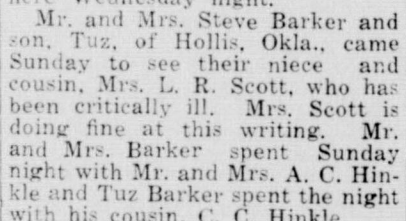

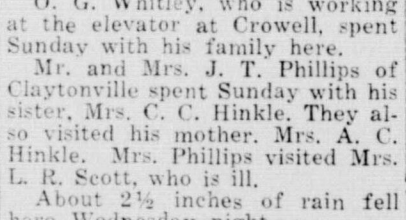

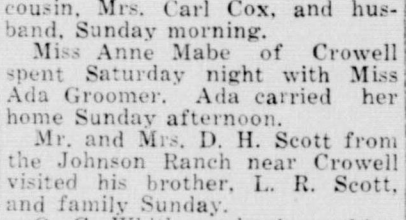

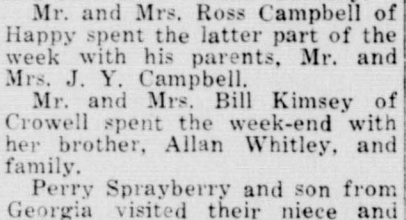

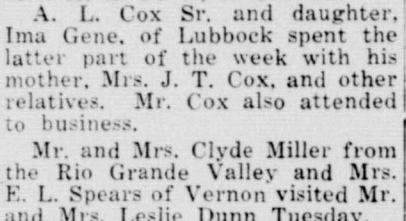

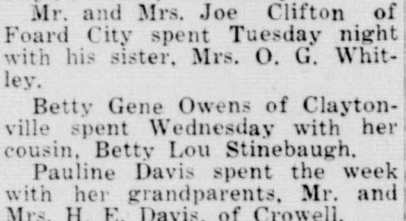

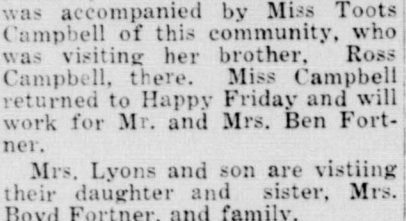

Nansen, the Explorer Fridtjof Nansen, Norwegian explorer, statesman and humanitarian, was the first scientist successfully to exploit the idea of a floating observation station, amid the Polar ice; and his station—that immortal ship, the Fram—drifted deliberately driven into a region where no rescue vessel could ever hope to reach. Nansen was the first polar explorer to ignore the old axiom that an expedition must not advance without securing its "line of retreat." Fram (meaning "forward") was his motto and his method. He knew that once he entered the ice no question of retreat could arise.

GOOD KIDS GET FREE SODAS

What a kid will do for an ice cream soda was illustrated by the experience of Charles Balaban, druggist at Camden, N. J. Balaban let it be known he would give a free soda to every boy and girl who received an "A" in department on their report card. Between 100 and 150 pupils of the Yorkship public schools came in with "A's." Balaban said the rush got so great he had to withdraw the offer until further notice. Here are some of the good pupils sipping their sodas.

Two Cows Per Farm

Farms which already have dairy cows may also increase their herds to the extent of two cows above the "normal" number under the same conditions of use and sale. Instead of increasing the number of cows, however, more liberal and better balanced feeding will often result in a greater profit. The greatly increased acreage of feed crops, both grain and forage, should discourage the stunting of feed which was sometimes found necessary when less feed was grown. It is well known that many a cow has never had a chance to show what she could produce because she has never been well fed through a whole lactation period. Green pastures, either native or planted, permanent or temporary, are the best and cheapest source of milk. When green feed is not available in the fields and pastures, silage is the best substitute. The trench silo provides a cheap and efficient means of storing succulent feed indefinitely, which is in reach of every farmer, whether tenant or owner. Any of the forage crops may be successfully ensiled, either cut or in whole stalks. Corn, grain sorghums, sweet sorghums retain their full nutrient value in the silo, which they do not when stored dry in stacks. Mrs. T. A. Falconer filled a silo in 1936, but good grazing on the wheat and oat fields the following winter kept her livestock in fine condition, and the silo was not opened. The past winter was not so favorable for grain grazing and the silage put up in 1936 met the needs of 1938. When southwestern farmers thus store feed in the surplus years the perennial dread of droughts and hard winters will be greatly minimized.

Running Start Pitkin Urges 1938 Crop of Graduates

Get a job—get to work doing that which leads in the direction of a job. Get a running start. This is the counsel of B. Pitkin, author and lecturer, at the 1938's June 15th meeting of the Foard County Home Demonstration Club. Pitkin, author and lecturer, gives to 1938's June 15th—an army equal in number to the population of Cleveland—as it is turned loose for itself for the first time. The most important thing for a student out of high school is to learn to not the parallel of any single job, but that the real world is a place where Dr. Pitkin in an "How to Get a Start in the Current Rotarian Magazine" once the job seeker has a real of reality, then he is to move on to his problem of a living and the real world is a tough place to tackle best by the job—by getting his start first. Bright young beginning to learn the art of changing the old all done is half done' to run is half done.

Some Bull—Value $15,000.00

Rotan, Texas, June 16.—New Hereford history was made this week when John B. Strubling, Hereford breeder of Rotan, Texas, announced the sale of a one-half interest in the herd bull, Advanxiety, to Drs. W. J. and J. L. Jenkins, physicians of Galveston, Texas, who maintain a Hereford breeding establishment at Normangee, in Madison County, Texas. This sale not only establishes a new record for the sale of partial ownership in a herd bull, but sets a new high in Texas herd bulls, when the $15,000 value was established.

Mexico's Mining Country

In early colonial times the mining country of the west coast of Mexico stretched from the Gila River in Arizona, across the deserts of Sonora, down the Sierra Madre range to Jalisco. The Mural

Any type of wall decoration—painting, tapestry, fresco, even

Red Coral Always Prized

It is red coral that is and always has been prized, not solely for jewelry and buttons, but as a charm to bring safety, health and secrets not revealed to the ordinary person. As ancient Gauls rushed headlong into battle, they trusted their safety to their swords, strength and their shields or helmets. Many Italians and Indians regard coral as protection against the "evil eye." The world's red coral comes from the reefs off the Mediterranean coast of Africa, says the Washington Post, and is obtained chiefly by Italians.

Largest Snakes in World

The Japanese Spaniel

The Japanese Spaniel has an oriental background, like the Pekingese. In fact, a more appropriate name for the breed might be Japanese Pekingese. It is not a true spaniel. On the other hand, it is not a variety of Pekingese. The Japanese spaniel is a lively, highbred little dog which may average around seven pounds in weight. It is believed that these dogs originated in China. The story is that a ruler of China gave a pair to the emperor of Japan and they were developed in that country.

Tecumseh, Expert Marksman

Tecumseh, the Shawnee chief, was an expert marksman who did not have to rest on his laurels. He could affirm them whenever anyone doubted his skill. Once several other redskins, also handy with bow and gun, bet him they could each knock off more deer than he could in a three-day hunt. The best any one of the challengers could do was 12 deer. Tecumseh got more than 30.

Washington's Birth Date

George Washington was born on what was then, in England and her colonies, February 11, 1732, and until he was twenty he observed his birthday on that date. But in 1752 England adopted, by act of parliament, the Gregorian calendar in place of the Julian. The latter no longer represented the true astronomical year, it being at that time eleven days behind. The act ordered that this difference be struck from the calendar and that the day following September 2, 1752, be regarded as the fourteenth of the month. Thereafter, what had been February 11 became February 22.

Explanations on 1938 Soil Conservation Program

New Farm Program Assignments Any person who may be entitled to any payment in connection with the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program may assign his interest in such payment as security for cash loaned or advances made for the purpose of financing the making of a crop in 1938. No such assignment will be recognized in writing on Form ABC-69 in accordance with the instructions by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and is filed in the county agent's office. Restrictions on Payments All or part of any payment which otherwise would be made to any person under the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program may be withheld, (1) if he has adopted any practice which the secretary determines tends to defeat any of the purposes of the program, (2) if by any corporation, partnership, estate, trust, or any other device, or in any manner whatsoever he has offset, or has participated in offsetting, in part or in whole, the performance for which such payment is otherwise authorized, or (3) if, with respect to forest land or wood land owned or controlled by him, he adopts any practice which the regional director finds is contrary to sound conservation practices. Wheat Insurance J. D. Miller has now started to work on wheat insurance in this county and he will start writing policies as soon as blank policies arrive. If you do have an old wheat contract your premium rate may be worked out and if you do not have a contract only a proximate premium rate will be given your farm.

Morning Coffee to Honor Seymour Guest

Mrs. Esca Brown was hostess at a delightful coffee at her home last Saturday morning as a compliment to her cousin, Miss Mildred Ballow of Seymour and Mrs. John Sheffield of Austin.

After greeting an informal receiving line composed of the hostesses and the two honorees, the guests were invited into the dining room where Miss Frances Hill poured hot or iced coffee. Miss Frances Henry Johnson assisted Miss Hill in the dining room and served a sandwich, a toasted cheese sandwich, brown bread, cake and mints with the coffee.

Miss Johnson also passed attractive cards bearing the news of the approaching marriage of Miss Ballow to Leslie Hammond of Philadelphia, Penn., which will take place at Harrison, Ohio, on June 27. The couple will be married by the bride-elect's uncle, who is a Presbyterian minister in Harrison.

The reception suite was made very attractive with cut flowers of the season. Before leaving, the guests registered in the bride's book.

Miss Ballow and Mrs. Sheffield are well known in Crowell, having visited Mrs. Brown on numerous occasions.

Thalia Teacher Marries at Olton

R. D. Wheelock of Silverton, athletic coach in the Thalia schools for the past two years, was married to Miss Myra Myrl Brewer in a wedding ceremony in the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Marjorie Brewer, of Olton, on Sunday evening, June 5, at 8 o'clock. The pre-nuptial music was played on violins by W. C. Brewer, brother of the bride, and Lindsey Swafford, cousin of the bride, with piano accompaniment by Miss Betty Rose Howard. When the strains of Lohengrin's "Wedding March" had died away, Orin Brewer, brother of the bride sang "Sweethearts True." Rev. C. R. Teague, great uncle of the bride, solemnized the rites of matrimony with the beautiful and impressive ring ceremony.

The bride wore a street dress of powder blue and marquisette over taffeta with pink and white accessories.

Mr. Wheelock is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wheelock of Silverton. He graduated from Silverton High School in 1931, from Wayland Baptist College of Plainview in 1934, and from West Texas State Teachers' College of Canyon in 1936, following which he secured a position as teacher and athletic coach in the Thalia schools.

Mrs. Wheelock was valedictorian of the 1933 graduating class of Olton High School. She again attained highest honors when she graduated from Wayland Baptist College in 1935. She is an excellent pianist and violinist.

After a short honeymoon trip, Mr. and Mrs. Wheelock will attend Texas Tech at Lubbock during the summer sessions. Mr. Wheelock will work on his master's degree and Mrs. Wheelock will receive her B. A. degree at the end of the summer.

Mr. Wheelock is a member of the national, scoutmistress, Tuesday morning.

Feature of the program was the study of badges and work on the troop's "International Friendship" scrap book. The laws and motto were reviewed by the Girl Scouts.

West Texas Utilities To Introduce "Reddy Kilowatt" Friday

With the announcement in today's issue of The Foard County News introducing "Reddy Kilowatt," C. R. Seale, local manager of the West Texas Utilities Company, made this explanation of the new addition to the company's staff: "For a number of years, we've been seeking some way in which electric service could be pictured to the public. Practically everyone knows about electricity. But to many persons it is a mysterious force which they believe comes out of the sky. In fact, however, it must be generated at a high voltage, then subdued and more or less served on a platter in homes and business where it may be safely used at a mere turn of a switch.

"In Reddy Kilowatt we believe we have a figure which illustrates electric service in an unmistakable manner—one which immediately suggests electric service."

In order to help acquaint WTU customers with "Reddy" Mr. Seale said that free balloons bearing Reddy's picture and small pasteboard cutout figures of the little fellow will be presented to all children, accompanied by an adult, who visit the local office Friday.

"We preferred a character such as Reddy Kilowatt because we regard our service as friendly and helpful," Mr. Seale declared. "We felt that our sentiments could best be expressed by a real, lifelike electric servant. That's how Reddy came into being. He typifies modern electric service as it is available in every home."

Warehouse Receipts

When grain is stored in warehouses or elevators negotiable receipts which evidence title to the grain are issued to the owners. These receipts are bought or sold and can be used as collateral on loans.

Newspaper Ads Bring Tourists To Mississippi

Dallas.—The quickly-proved success of a newspaper advertising campaign by the State of Mississippi on its new north-south paved highway, says a report of the All-South Development Council, contains a valuable tip for Texas in its cultivation of the highly-representative tourist industry.

An expenditure of $6,199 last December and January by the Mississippi Advertising commission, state-owned and state-operated, was returned 80-fold through increase in gasoline tax receipts alone, the commission reported. These receipts for the first quarter of 1938 were $473,070 above those for the same period of 1937.

That the benefits were not confined to the actual state coffers alone is indicated in the fact that hotels along the new highway reported a 30 per cent increase in tourist registrations; restaurants had a 25 per cent gain in transient trade, and communities throughout the state noticed increased tourist traffic.

Texas, which "discovered" the profits of tourism in an impressive way in 1936 and 1937, when the Centennial and Pan-American expositions formed the basis for abundant advertising of the state, still has attractions worthy of as vigorous exploitation as those of any of the many states which are permanently in the tourist business, the report points out. The Lone Star state got a tempting picture of tourism profits when her 1936 retail gasoline tax receipts showed a $4,000,000 jump, more than writing off the state's official $3,000,000 investment in the Centennial.

In a state as large and as varied as Texas, stimulation of tourist traffic could profitably be carried on within the state as well as by attracting outside visitors, the report noted.

Undoubtedly there will be some carry-over of tourist interest in the state, by word-of-mouth advertising, but with competition among the states growing more intense each year for this business, as well as for new industrial location, a program designed to publicize Texas' tourist lures is needed to keep this "new" money flowing into the state.

Records of development of such states as Florida, California and Colorado which have carried on long-continued tourist advertising campaigns show that, in addition to tourist revenues, the states have benefited from acquisitions of new permanent residents and new business establishments as a result of this merchandising their attractions.

The Mississippi is "sold" on the idea after its brief and modest—but profitable—trial is shown in the fact that the commission has upped its budget from $6,199 to $15,000 for this year.

One form of advertising which would be somewhat indirect but

NO BOOKS FROM FAR EAST

Austin.—The academic world is feeling the pressure of the tense world international situation, according to Donald Coney, head of the Lamar Library at the University of Texas. The library recently received a letter from the Shanghai agent who furnishes it with books from the Far East, expressing his thanks for an order of May 12 for two volumes. But no two volumes came with it. "We . . . regret to have to advise that these cannot be had at present," the dealer wrote, "as the offices of the publishers have been closed by the Japanese Military authorities. They are likely to remain closed until after the conclusion of the present hostilities."

The library is now virtually out of the direct touch with the two danger spots of the world—the Far East and Spain. Two years ago its Madrid dealer was shown in later its Barcelona dealer regretted that their business relations with the world must cease until "certain difficulties" were cleared up.

LIBRARY NOTES

The library has added the following this week:

"Fugitive Father," by Clarence Badington Kelland, author of very amusing and entertaining novels; "Oh, Doctor, Be Careful," a story of two widows and a bachelor doctor who was considered a "good catch," by Marjorie Burcham Bayley; "The Girl at Cranada 9000," a very intriguing mystery of a girl in the mad whirl of metropolitan life, by H. L. Gates; a group of short stories by various modern and animal stories for children by present-day authors.

The library has a wide selection of fiction, poetry, drama, biography, books of travel, and twenty-various assorted magazine subscriptions, so that it is possible to please even the most particular reader.

WEST SIDE CLUB

"A utensil is a proper investment, according to the number of times it is used," stated Miss Myrna Holman at a demonstration of kitchen utensils to the West Side Club which met with Mrs. A. E. McLaughlin, Wednesday, June 8.

Much thought should be given to the selection of utensils, paying attention to size, shape and material, which all depends upon the purpose for which the utensil is to be used. Knives should have firm blades, convenient handles firmly put on with a good balance between the blade and the handle.

A helpful bulletin entitled, "Selection of Small Equipment for Farm Kitchens," may be secured by writing to Oklahoma A. & M. College at Stillwater, Okla.

Mrs. Roy Steele was elected alternate to Short Course. Mrs. Chas. Bryson is the club delegate.

The club will meet June 22 with Mrs. Roy Steele for a lesson on "Fruit Cookery." Roll call is to be answered by naming a fruit and giving definite information concerning it.
