Quebec city was founded by ques Cartier, the St. Malo adenturer, in 1608, and since that ime has written its epic story in attlements, and monuments, hurches and universities, quaint ouses and winding cobbled treets. Two structures overshad ow the entire city—the Chateau Frontenac and the Citadel. Both are perched atop precipitous Cape Diamond overlooking the St. Lawrence, and side by side they contrast the graceful architecture of a Norman chateau with the grim bastions of a fort designed by the duke of Wellington.

SPORTS COMMENTS: Reddy Kilowatt, whose kitchen battles have made him famous in many thousands of West Texas homes, last year chalked up another victory against Meanie Drudge, nemesis of the fair sex. In a grudge fight from start to finish, Reddy electrified a huge crowd composed mostly of women. His great range of blows to Meanie's bread basket had the customers shouting with joy. The knockout came when Reddy ironed him out ready for the vacuum cleaner. As the dim light went out in Meanie's glaring lamps, many hundreds of homes were properly illuminated by the I-E-S shiners Reddy introduced. "Give me frigidaire," Meanie cried as he went down for the full count. The fans were turned on ... but too late for Meanie Drudge. What he needed then was not a ventilator but a warming pad. Meanie was out, cold as an electric refrigerator.

It took a toaster to bring Meanie around . . . that and a shower with an electric bot water heater providing the warm glow of life. First thing he did was yell for a cup of coffee made in an electric percolator. Next he wanted nourishment. "Bring on the food mixer!" he yelled.

Sports writers gathered around his table looking for a convenient outlet. "Fellows," Meanie announced, "you can quote me as saying I'm a reformed man. From now on I'm living the modern way . . . the electric way."

Crowell Wins—

The first, second and fourth pe riods went to the Wildcats, but Thalia outscored Graves' dribblers in the third.

In the second period when the first string Wildcats showed signs of starting rough tactics, which would eventually retire some play ers on fouls, Coach Graves sent in his second string and allowed his starters to cool their heels and tempers during the remainder of the second frame and greater part of the third before letting them back into the scrap.
The Thalia boys last night sad-lacked the form with which they have run up an impressive record this season, but show that they are well coached with their floor work and ball handling. Their weakest point was that the were never able to get their sight leveled on the goals.

Thalia Juniers Win

After having his Crowell jun ior team together for two work-outs, G. C. Foster threw them against Jack L. Coppage's Thalia Juniors to be slaughtered during the first half, but Foster's cohorts came back in the last half to outscore the Thalia lads and narrow the margin to a tally of 21 to 15 in favor of Thalia before the final whistle blew. These two junior teams will also play in the Thalia gym tonight.

THE BACKBONE OF FOARD COUNTY

The merchants and other business people listed in this commercial review of Foard County, are local people, a part of this community. Their interests and yours are one. They pay taxes here, contribute to churches, schools, charities and other local institutions that are requisite to the welfare of any community-not for any selfish gain or reason, but because these local institutions are their own as well as yours and they are glad to do their share. Do mail order houses do that? Do peddlers or out of town business interests of any nature do it? No, they don't. They take but never put and you can't keep on taking from anything without eventually impoverishing it and having nothing left from which to take for either you or

Isn't it good logic and common sense then for you to patronize these local merchants who have helped and will continue to help make this a finer community for you and your children and their children also?

These local merchants do not ask charity. They offer a full measure of value for every dollar received. Their goods are priced fairly, all of them. You don't pay fifty cents for one dollar article and then turn around and pay a dollar and fifty cents for another dollar article. They don't resort to such subterfuge. You get sixteen ounces to every pound, thirty-six inches to every yard, a hundred cents of value and service for every dollar, with a smile wrapped in every bundle. LOCAL MERCHANTS ARE LOCAL ASSETS. HELP THEM THAT THEY MAY HELP YOU.

One must remember that successful business houses are an absolute essential to the progress of any town. In fact a community cannot exist without them. Though they are dependent on your support, you and your community are in turn dependent upon them and a perfect spirit of co-operation between you makes for the ideal community.

The seniors are getting set for the last eighteen weeks of school. No one can seem to find quite enough half-year subjects to take in order to graduate. There was a good deal of confusion that Monday morning after mid-term with every one trying to decide what to take and when. However, Mr. Graves soon had everyone straightened out.

There are rumors about a senior Valentine party. If plans work there should be goings on in this class. Many are already looking forward to all that will be nappening, such as, Senior Day. But seniors, remember, a good time won't help you toward the credits you will need to graduate and you must study. If you wait until the last six weeks to study. you probably won't get it done. Don't you think it would be wiser to study the first of the semester instead of the last, just in case?
One of the class's resolutions should be to have every one of us n the graduation class.

Our Schools Are Worthy Institutions

To those who have made our schools possible, we pay tribute. Likewise we salute the teaching profession, men and women who have given more liberally of their time and effort in making our schools outstanding in the field of education. Their qualifications tell a story of careful preparation.

Today, as never before, we see the necessity of broader education. Barriers crash before those who are prepared. Every child should be given the opportunity of attending first class educational institutions. We are fortunate in Foard County. Our schools rank high among those of the state.
