Schools Will Be Represented at Meet Next Week

The District 4 one-act play tournament will be held in the Crowell High School auditorium Saturday, April 15, according to an announcement this week, by T. Children will meet here last year with its presentation of "Neighbors."

Although definite plans have not been completed, Mr. Graves stated that three plays would be presented on Saturday morning and three on the afternoon and three would be chosen by the judges to compete in the finals Saturday night.

Crowell High School will present "Thank You, Doctor" in the tournament and the cast has been rehearsing for about two months under the direction of Mrs. I. T. Graves.

The Crowell cast will be as follows: Jimmie Williams will play the part of the doctor and Louise White will portray the part of Mrs. Norman Lester. Joyce Eubank will play the nurse's role, and Wallace Beverly has the part of the detective. John Lee Orr cast as jewelry salesman.

The complete program for the tournament will be given in next week's issue of The News.

Football Teams to Open Season Sunday, April 9

Teams in the Foard County football league and in the Crowell City League will play their first games of the season Sunday afternoon. Each league is composed of four teams and double round schedules with split season will be followed in each league.

By an agreement of the managers, the Crowell Chevrolet team exchanged places with the Vivian team in the Foard County League. This will have no effect upon the schedules and correct schedules for the first half of the season, with rosters of each team in the league, will be mailed to managers of the Foard County League in the next week in order that they may be on hand for the second game of the season.

In the Crowell City League, the Chevrolet team will invade the territory of the Vivian team for its first game while the Crowell High School team will invade the territory of the Vivian team.

The Crowell Chevrolet team will entertain Thalia on the local level in the Foard County league's opener and the corner rug squad will play their first game at Bayland.

Volunteer Wheat Must Be Plowed Under by April 15

All volunteer wheat must be plowed under by April 15 or it will be classified as wheat on the allotments for the 1939 Soil Conservation Program and penalties will be made for such, according to a release Wednesday by Weldon P. Herman, administrative assistant. Notices are being mailed to wheat farmers of the county this week.

If the volunteer wheat remains on land in excess of the allotment, a farmer will not be entitled to the wheat subsidy payment of eleven cents per bushel, and also will not be paid the conservation check on the 1939 wheat crop, without being penalized.

A check will be made on the farms in Foard County shortly after April 15 to determine the farmers who have plowed under volunteer wheat in order to comply with the 1939 program.

Further information concerning the plowing under of volunteer wheat may be obtained at the AAA office in Crowell, but if there remains any doubt as to whether or not the wheat allotment will be exceeded, it is advisable to obtain definite information as soon as possible.

Crowell Dollar Day Continues Through Friday, Saturday

The city-wide Dollar Day held in Crowell Wednesday will be continued through Friday and Saturday, according to an agreement by Crowell merchants Wednesday.

It was originally planned for Dollar Day to be held for only one day, Wednesday, but due to the cold, wet weather it was decided that dollar days would be continued on both Friday and Saturday in order to give shoppers of this trade territory the advantage of the excellent bargains offered by Crowell merchants Wednesday.

The bargains offered by the merchants listed on the circulars which were distributed over this territory during the past few days will still be in effect on these two days with a very few exceptions.

Shoppers may be assured of genuine bargains in Crowell this week and are invited by local merchants and business men to visit their stores Friday and Saturday, or any time they are in Crowell.

C. T. SCHLAGAL RE-ELECTED AS MAYOR OF CITY

Three Aldermen Are Chosen At Election Tuesday

Thirty-one votes were cast last Tuesday in the city election in which C. T. Schlagal was re-elected as mayor for the City of Crowell and three aldermen were elected.

George Self and M. O'Connell were re-elected and Gordon Bell was elected to succeed M. S. Henry, who was not a candidate for re-election.

For the first time in a number of years and probably for the first time in the history of Crowell, there was not a name written on the ballots in an election in which there was only one candidate for each office.

This is also probably the lowest number of votes ever cast in a city election in which a mayor was elected. There were seventy-five votes cast in the mayor's election in 1937.

The city council will be re-organized and the new member will be installed at the first meeting of the council following the election, which will be on Tuesday night, April 18.

CORRECTION

Due to mistakes in preparing results of the Foard County interscholastic league meet held in Crowell recently and a typographical error there were three errors in the results as printed in last week's issue of The News. Corrections are as follows:

Thalia junior girls won their division of the playground ball contests. This event was omitted last week, as was the fact that the Thalia girls won the county volleyball championship. The contests were held several weeks ago and the volleyball division was not included in the report by an oversight and the points were not added to Thalia's total points last week.

Norther Grips County; Snow Falls Thursday

Snow fell in Crowell early this (Thursday) morning in what seemed to be history's attempt to repeat itself. The snow followed a norther which gripped Foard County Wednesday and today and caused thermometers to drop several degrees, although the freezing point had not been reached this morning.

On Wednesday, April 6, of last year the day changed from spring to winter in a few hours and a freeze, accompanied by snow, swept the county that night. On the following day, the county experienced one of the most severe snow storms in its history. Due to the rapid change Wednesday, it was feared that the same might happen this year.

Rain fell at intervals from heavy clouds throughout the day but only enough moisture fell to make the ground slightly muddy. Late Wednesday heavy rain clouds passed over the county from the west, but no moisture was received from them.

About one-eighth of an inch of rain was reported in Crowell Wednesday.

Old-timers here classified the cold weather as the "Easter spell" and predict the remainder of April to be agreeable.

Training School Being Conducted at Baptist Church

Large crowds have been assembling at the First Baptist Church each evening this week at 7:30 for a program of training and fellowship, according to a report furnished The News. The program is being sponsored by the Baptist Training Union with Miss Margaret Curtis as director.

Classes are being taught by capable teachers for all ages from the youngest child to the oldest adult, and the school will continue through Friday night with an inspirational period between classes.

The local church is to be congratulated for its interest in and co-operation with the state work. In Texas there are 8,000 unions with a combined membership of 168,000. The church here has five unions of this number and 154 members.

The public is invited to attend any or all of the meetings this week, the report stated.

It has come to my attention that you are to enjoy this privilege and that you are retiring from the position of rural carrier at Crowell after (Continued on Last Page.)"

Signing of Wheat Subsidy Application Blanks Is Started

Application blanks for 1939 wheat subsidy payments are now ready for the signatures of wheat farmers in Foard County, according to information released this week by Administrative Assistant Weldon P. Herman.

Farmers are urged to come to county agent's and AAA office in the basement of the court house at once and sign the blanks. Failure to do this will delay payments.

Cards have been mailed to farmers in the county who received an allotment for 1939 and produced wheat in 1938 bearing this information and included with the card is a blank which is to be filled with the necessary information and returned to the AAA office. A card must be returned to the office before a farmer can make application for the subsidy payment.

The information to be placed on the card is the number of acres in the farm, with serial number and total wheat production for 1938. This information is very important the farmer is asked to either mail before coming to Crowell to sign the blank or to bring it with him when he signs. This will assist those in the AAA office in handling the applications more rapidly.

Blessed is that man that maketh the Lord his trust, and respecteth not the proud, nor such as turn aside to lies.—Psalm 40:4.

Walter Lippman is of the opinion that the Nazis have lost their opportunity to deliver a knock-out blow in world affairs. They lost their chance at the Munich conference. At this conference Czechoslovakia was sacrificed and England made a humiliating peace, but in the deal the diplomats of England staved off a war for which neither France nor England were prepared.

There is an abundance of everything on this earth for every need and every want. There is enough to provide comfort and even luxury for everyone. The reason all do not enjoy these things is because we have not yet learned how to care for and use the things that this world provides. By refusing to live and do as he should man deprives himself of many blessings. The money spent on war, gambling, liquor and vice, if properly used, would provide every want, every need, and every luxury that mankind could find use for.

The United States by its attitude toward an adequate program of preparedness has contributed greatly towards world peace. No sooner was the program announced than the war talk began to subside. The backbone of every democracy in the world began to stiffen.

The Kansas legislature has made a move to cramp the style of those on relief who move from place to place, by requiring three years residence in the county, and five years residence in the state, before applicants may become eligible for relief.

Gandhi has won again his demands for his people. The demands were granted by England, not to save the life of Gandhi, but because of the influence this strange little man exercises over millions of people in India.

Common sense is one thing the schools can't teach. It was Robert G. Ingersoll who said: "It is a thousand times better to have common sense without education than to have education without common sense."

Until you have worn blisters on your hands trying to do something for the town and given money to the point of sacrifice, don't criticize what some one else is trying to do.

Strange isn't it that gangdom seems to flourish best in those cities where a list of the professional bondsmen reads: Laoco, Rabinowitz, Binoglio, Fariantelli, Gallucci, and DeGiovanni.

WHAT WE THINK (By Frank Dixon)

According to history Aristides the Athenian general and statesman lived about 468 B. C. He was one of the ten generals at the famous battle of Marathon and is regarded as the model of all ages as the classic example for probity in public life. Notwithstanding this he was ostracized and sent out of the country because of the fact that a local leader disagreed with his policies.

The matter of ostracizing a citizen was accomplished by a vote of the people. The voters cast their votes by writing their decision upon a small shell known as the ostracism shell. Incidentally it is from this practice that we get our word ostracize.

The story is told that on the day the voting was in progress a man approached another on the street and asked him to write his vote against Aristides in the ostracism shell. "Why do you wish to vote against and ostracize Aristides, do you know him?" the man asked. "No," the voter replied. "I do not know him, I have never seen him. I want to vote against him because I am tired of hearing him praised and spoken well of." It sounds so unjust, but I wonder if we have made any progress along this line in this enlightened age.

The story and this thought came to me the other day when I was approached in my home town with the bearer of a petition for a candidate for the school board and asked to sign the petition in order to get the candidate's name on the ticket. I knew that there was already a full quota of candidates out for the places and asked my friend what was the purpose of the candidate for whom he was circulating a petition, what his platform was. "I don't know that he has any platform or any plan," the carrier of the petition said. "All I know is that he is out to get John Smith, the superintendent of the schools." "Why does he want to get him?" "I don't know," the carrier of the petition said, "except that he doesn't like him."

The conversation developed that the prospective candidate was not a school man, knew nothing about the conduct or management of a school or the arrangement of its curriculum, yet he had allowed his name to be used and was willing to go out and do what damage he could to the town's educational institution because he had had a personal difference with the superintendent and had a personal grudge against him. Continued questioning brought out the fact that the grudge was so petty and trivial that I will not repeat it because it would appear so little, and narrow, and ridiculous in print.

I refused to sign the petition. My conclusion was, that if this party represented a cross section of the intelligence of the electorate of my community it was certainly at a low ebb. I believe that of all the officers in our government where common sense and sanity and tolerance and broad mindedness and intelligence should rule, the election of members to the school board should come first.

I wondered too how far we had come in our thinking since 468 B. C. when Aristides was ostracized by an ignorant majority who permitted a petty personal animosity to warp their judgment and influence their vote.

STUDENT ENGINEERS DRAFTED

Austin, Texas, April 4.—Five top-rank University of Texas student engineers have been drafted by the Westinghouse Electric Co. to exchange their college workshops for the laboratories of big industry.

Franklin Peabody of Dallas, Alvin Willis of Austin, William H. March of Tyler, mechanical engineers, and Thomas Vernon of Taft and John Traxler of San Antonio, electrical engineers, will begin a 9-months training course with the Pittsburgh company in September.

Egg Marks The Spot, Officer

Patrolman Harold Nickerson of the Detroit Police put his ticket book away when Betty Dane, Wayne University student, explained that her driving with an egg was only part of a sorority initiation stunt. She did it, too, without breaking the egg, by using a Chevrolet, in which vacuum from the motor supplies nearly all the power necessary in shifting gears with the new steering-column shift lever.

Cancer Death Rate Continues to Rise Year After Year

Austin.—The fact that cancer ranks second as a cause of death in Texas, that 4,370 Texans died of cancer last year and that the death rate has increased 172 per cent in the last fifteen years makes cancer one of our greatest medical and public health problems," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Cancer is not a hopeless, incurable disease. It is not contagious or in itself hereditary. There are thousands of men and women in this country who have been successfully treated for cancer. Yet the death rate continues to rise year after year. The important thing in curing cancer is to discover the disease early and begin treatment during its early stages. Cancer announces itself by symptoms that are frequently painless and apparently trivial, thus giving the disease an unseemly advantage. Early diagnosis is the one powerful antagonist."

Doctor Cox lists cancer danger signals as: any lump in the breast or other part of the body; any persistent sore, particularly on the face or mouth, any unusual discharge or bleeding from any part of the body, such as vomiting of blood, passage of blood from the bowels, or unusual bleeding of any bodily passages, especially after middle-age. These symptoms may be from some other cause but should be diagnosed by a physician.

"Two fundamental rules should be followed in cancer treatment. First, have an annual physical examination by a reputable physician. In this way incipient cancerous conditions can be discovered and by proper treatment the disease can be conquered. The second rule is to steer clear of 'cancer quacks' and 'amazing cures'."

The month of April has been proclaimed Cancer Control Month by Governor W. Lee O'Daniel in a proclamation issued at Austin. The Women's Field Army for the control of Cancer and the Texas State Department of Health are collaborating in an intensive campaign of education against the disease, the control of which depends above all else on an intelligent and alert public.

Reduction in Motor Vehicle Fatalities Reduced in 1939

A 13 per cent reduction in motor vehicle fatalities in Texas for the first two months of 1939, as compared with the corresponding period of 1938, was announced today by Harry Phillips, Traffic and Safety Engineer of the State Highway Department.

"Fifty-one lives were saved in that time," the Traffic and Safety Engineer said, pointing out that 287 persons were killed in traffic accidents in the first two months of last year, while there were 236 fatalities this year.

Dallas and San Antonio record the largest number of fatalities for Texas cities, with 9 persons killed in each city. Houston followed closely with 8 fatalities, and Fort Worth was third with 7. Austin, El Paso, Galveston and Laredo do each have 2 fatalities in the two months, and Port Arthur, Corpus Christi and Waco had 1 each.

"Amario, Beaumont and Wichita Falls were the only cities of more than 45,000 population that had no fatalities," Mr. Phillips said. Traffic fatalities in towns and cities were reduced 39.7 per cent in the period, and there was a reduction of 18.6 per cent on the state highways. Fatalities on country roads showed a 44 per cent increase.

How Farm Shares In Auto Profits

Results of the Ford Motor Company campaign to develop new farm crops that industry can use are indicated by an article in the 1939 Ford Home Almanac, now being distributed throughout the United States.

For every million Ford cars and trucks built, the company uses 89,000,000 pounds of cotton—the crop from 558,000 acres—the Almanac article shows. Other purchases of farm products necessary for the manufacture of a million Ford units are listed as follows: Five hundred thousand bushels of corn, for making rubber substitute, butyl alcohol and solvents; 2,400,000 pounds of linseed oil, for making paints; core oil, soft soap and glycerine; 2,500,000 gallons of molasses, for making antifreeze, shock absorber fluids and solvents.

Three million, two hundred thousand pounds of wool, which helps to make upholstery, gaskets, anti-rust, floor coverings and lubricants; 1,500,000 square feet of leather, for making upholstery and hide-glues; 20,000 hogs to supply the lard oil for lubricants, oleic acid and brush bristles, and 2,000,000 pounds of soybean oil for enamel, plastics and many other uses.

Brief Bits of News From Here and There

Ninety per cent of the military aircraft plants in this country are on the coast where they are vulnerable to every attack. A part of the new defense program contemplates moving some of these factories inland.

Aviation experts agree that this country's defense would be more secure if all its airplane factories were located between Chicago and Denver instead of on the Atlantic coast as the majority of them now are.

Thirty per cent of those making the attempt answered the questions correctly. The contest was not regarded as a success from the standpoint of stimulating movie attendance.

One of the features of entertainment at the New York World's Fair will be a bull fight staged by two of the world's best known bull fighters from Spain. "Devil's Island," the moving picture showing the horrors of the French penal colony was exhibited for two months in this country before the French government discovered it was being shown. The French government ordered its suppression threatening, if it were shown, to bar the film company's pictures from France for two months. The picture is said to have been taken off the market. It was purported to be an expose of conditions in the notorious French penal colony on "Devil's Island."

Those from Crowell who will enter the track and field events are John Lee Orr, Que Meason, Jess Whitfield, J. S. Owens and Raymond Joy.

Riverside will be represented in the high school senior girls' declamation by Mary Tamplin and in the high school senior boys' declamation by Lawrence Ferguson.

Among those who are expected to enter the track and field events are Earthman, Capps, Gobin and Gray. Thalia's girl volleyball team will also probably attend the meet.

All rural school literary events, except ready-writing and extemporaneous speaking, will be held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. No information has been received from the rural schools in Foard County as to whether or not they will have any representatives at the meet.

The preliminaries for the track and field events will be held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock and the finals are scheduled to start at 1 p. m.

As outlined in the rule book, officials declared that the umpires would have complete authority to settle all disputes and his decisions would be final. Only managers or captains will have the authority to represent their teams in any dispute and umpires will have the power to eject any player from the game who will not abide by the rules adopted by the league and outlined in the rule book.

Each team in the Foard County League must have rosters and a two-dollar entrance fee posted with the secretary, Henry Ashford, or president, Tom Davis, before the first game, or that game is automatically forfeited.

part in the workouts this week. Ted Crosnoe has been absent from workouts because of a sprained ankle and is walking with the aid of crutches at present. Junior Haseloff has not reported for practice during the past few days due to the influenza, but is expected to return to school Friday.

The performances of four of the rookies during the past few days practically assures them of starting the game against the all-stars next week and at present are outstanding to replace the Wildcats taken from the team this year by graduation. They are A. Y. Olds and Bill Ownbey, backs, and Charlie Clark and Clyde Eddy, linemen.

Twenty-three players have reported to each of the practice sessions held this week, and Coach Grady Graves plans to start heavy work outs next week and continue them during the remainder of the spring training period.

Sen. Tom Conally Introduces a Bill to Exclude Aliens

Washington, D. C., March 27.—Senator Tom Conally of Texas today introduced a bill in the Senate to provide for the exclusion from immigration to this country and for the deportation of aliens already in this country who are advocating the making of changes in the American form of government. "Under existing laws, aliens residing in the United States can be deported on certain grounds," Senator Conally said, "and the effect of my bill is to add to these grounds the advocacy by such aliens of changes in the American form of government."

Continuing, Senator Conally asserted: "Subversive and un-American influences being fomented and agitated by aliens, residing in the United States are a constant threat to American institutions. These hostile and un-American activities ought to be stamped out and suppressed. This result can best be accomplished by deporting all those who take part in such un-American activities. These foreign and alien agents and incendiaries, whether advocating the establishment of Fascism or Totalitarianism or other foreign 'isms' in the United States, or whether advocating that the principles of Communism be substituted for our constitutional Democratic system are both dangerous to our domestic peace and to our representative form of government. Such aliens ought to be deported and returned to the country of their origin," Senator Conally declared, adding:

"The Constitution of the United States protects every American citizen in the enjoyment of free speech, free press and free assembly and all of the other personal guarantees in our bill of rights. I would in no wise restrict or abridge the exercise of these rights by American citizens. Under these constitutional guarantees, any American citizen has the right to advocate any change in the form of government of the United States according to legal and constitutional methods. However, I do not believe that aliens who spend their time in agitating and preaching for the overthrow of this government of the United States and the changing of our fundamental, constitutional system should be allowed to remain in the United States and freely ply their nefarious practices, seeking to destroy the government whose protection they claim," Senator Conally concluded.

SENIOR DAY

As the end of school is drawing near, the great day to which the seniors have been looking forward to since they were freshmen high school, is also drawing near—Senior Day. The seniors have been working all this year toward this day.

The bus will hold thirty-five. There will be thirty-two students, two class mothers, and one sponsor. The seniors plan to leave on Thursday afternoon after school and return to Crowell Sunday night.

SENIOR PICNIC

If anyone was near the South Crockett Park Wednesday night and heard any unusual noise, we will advise your fears by telling you it was the seniors having a picnic.

The picnic was supposed to have been Thursday night, but it was postponed until Wednesday night. The girls took sandwiches and sodas, etc., and the boys furnished the soda pops. They all enjoyed the sandwiches and the boiled eggs immensely.

A few games were played such as tag and flying Dutchman, and when they gathered around the fire and ate what there was left.

After the remaining sandwiches were eaten and the pops were drunk, they played London Bridge in Falling Down, and Froggie in the Middle.

They were accompanied by Mr. Foster, and we are sure all of them had a grand time. We are sure more students would have participated in this picnic had they not forgotten about it after it had been postponed.

STYLE SHOW

The Future Homemaking classes presented their style show Friday night. The third year girls modeled their special occasion dresses. Theda Wright won first place; Jenny Dee Coffey, second place; Margaret Long, third; Thelma Lois Moore, fourth; Mary Louise Cauton, fifth place; and Faye McCurley placed sixth.

The second year girls modeled all-purpose dresses. The winners were picked from these girls that were considered: Faye Griffin, Oma Floy McLain, Reed Saunders, La Voyce Lefevre, Laura Bell Whitfield, Sammie Gene Mills, Beverly Hughston, Dorothy Nell Bergs, Mary Ella Rettig, Leota Murphy, Iva Mae Bradford, Maxine Johnson, Dorene Gibson, Betty Stinebough, and Doris Campbell. These girls placed in order of rank: for first place Beverly Hughston; second, Doris Campbell; third, Faye Griffin; fourth, Dorothy Nell Bergs; fifth, Dorene Gibson; sixth, Oma Floy McLain; seventh, Laura Bell Whitfield.

In the F. H. T. Club different contests are being participated in. This year there are several new contests. One of which is the choral contest. Faye Zeibig and Ruth Steele placed first in this contest, Jenny Dee Coffey and Thelma Lois Moore placed second, June Billington and Virginia Thomas placed third, Dorothy Mills and Virginia Adams placed fourth, Beverly Hughston and Sammie Gene Mills placed fifth.

In the amateur contest Dorothy Wingham placed first, June Billington placed second, Ruth Catherine Cates placed fourth, and Bonita Liles placed third.

FOR SENIORS ONLY

Seniors, you have all heard the old saying "A stitch in time saves nine." Have you taken your stitch toward graduating or must you at this late date take nine? You must remember that you still have your studies hanging around even if your time is all used up getting ready for the banquet and senior day, and graduation. We will all give three cheers if that one stitch saves you.

SIX WEEKS EXAMS

The six weeks exams will all come knocking at our door Thursday this week. Are you prepared? We do hope these things called demerits will not keep any of you intelligent students from the exemptions. If by chance you are capable of learning why don't you take some friendly advice and cram if you haven't been the ideal student and studied all this six weeks.

NEW LIBRARY BOOKS

Fifty-seven new books have been added to the library this week. The books are prose and fiction. We are always glad to get new books in the library, especially the good books like we got this time. Last year we added a few books to our library, but the books this year are better than we have ever gotten before. Some of the authors of the books are: Gene Stratton Porter, Jack London, Louise Alcott, Katherine Norris, Sinclair Lewis, Booth Tarkington, Irwin S. Cobb, Will James, Westcott, Charles Dickens, Rudyard Kipling and Halliburton. All of these authors are very well known, and we are sure all of the students will enjoy reading them.

OUR REGRETS

Poor Pat! Our most beloved janitor met with an accident. It seems that a baseball bat proved to be harder than Pat McDaniel's head when he was so rudely interrupted by one that hit his head. Pat, we hope your nose straightens out very soon.

DISTRICT MEET

The students of CHS are still doing many things getting ready for the District meet to be held in Childress Friday and Saturday. The tennis games will be played Friday. Miss Cogdell will accompany the tennis players. The students entering in the literary events and track will go on a bus Saturday. We are all patting each other on the back and saying, best luck, pal. Really we all mean it.

SAFETY FIRST

The American History students will assume the studies of the book, "Drive and Live," after the six weeks exams at the end of this week. They will have this book for two weeks instead of their regular lessons. Posters and safety slogans will be made during the study of this book. The purpose of this book is to make the students realize that an automobile can cause many deaths and make them conscious of the rules of safety.

ODDITIES

Mrs. Sloan's new glasses. Statter is worse than Zeibig. Mr. Foster says that everything that has been in the paper about him lately is not so, but we'll tell you something that is so—Professor Foster, being ill, asked Mrs. Russell to take his temperature. Mrs. Russell placed the barometer in his mouth, and when she took it out it read—Hot and Windy. Pat McDaniel's head isn't as hard as a baseball bat. The science students are trying to get in their 50 experiments. It isn't an oddity that some of the most intelligent of dear old CHS will not be exempt on account of demerits.

There is a nation-wide movement to close all one-room school houses and consolidate all small schools in larger units with bigger classes and fewer teachers, and spend the saving on kindergartens, vocational training, and higher salaries. A survey of 47 states showed that 90 per cent of American schools are in communities of less than 2,500 population. There are 138,000 one-room schools and 24,000 two-room schools. 17,428 communities have consolidated their schools.

Our Weekly Sermon

(By the late Rev. James M. Gray, D. D., former president of Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.)

The Meaning of Christ's Death

Text—Jesus, when he had cried again with a loud voice, yielded up the ghost.—Matthew 27:50. Why did Jesus Christ die? No other explanation of His death is satisfactory, or even possible, than that He suffered as a substitute for guilty men. We may profitably consider this fact while meditating on the transcendent event commemorated on Good Friday.

1. Christ's death occupies the foremost place in the New Testament. There are, for example, twenty-eight chapters in the Gospel of Matthew, and eight of them at least, or more than one-quarter of the whole, was taken up with the story of His crucifixion and the events immediately leading up to and following it. About the same proportion is seen in John's Gospel, to say nothing of the emphasis laid upon His death in the epistles of Paul and the book of Revelation.

2. Christ's death awakened the greatest interest in heaven as well as on earth. Peter tells us that these "things the angels desire to look into" (1 Pet. 1:12). Moreover, when Moses and Elijah brought back to earth, were conversing with Jesus on the Mount of Transfiguration, it was about "this decease which he should accomplish at Jerusalem" (Luke 9:13).

3. It was the central object ever present in Christ's own thought and teaching. Men come into the world to live, but He tells us that He came into the world to die. "The Son of man," said He, "came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many" (Matt. 20:28). In another place, with application to Himself, He says, "Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone; but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit" (John 12:24).

4. Christ's death was voluntary. In John 7:30 we read that at a certain crisis, "no man laid hands on him, because his hour was not yet come." And again He Himself said, "I lay down my life, that I might take it again. No man taketh it from me, but I lay it down of myself. I have power to take it again" (John 10:17, 18). Furthermore, it is specifically said that in His death He "yielded up the ghost." In other words, the raising out of His Spirit from His body was the act of His own will.

5. At the same time He died with peculiar agony, not merely that of a physical but a spiritual kind, crying out, "My God! My God! why hast thou forsaken me." Whoever heard of God forsaking a martyr to His truth! And if Jesus was forsaken in any sense, must it not have been as a substitute for us?

6. There were wonderful phenomena accompanying His death as that of no other man: "The veil of the temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom; and the earth did quake, and the rocks rent, and the graves were opened; and many bodies of the saints which slept arose, and came out of the graves after His resurrection, and went into the holy city, and appeared unto many" (Matt. 27:51-53).

7. It was a predicted death. Away back in the Garden of Eden it was pointed out in the words addressed to the serpent, "I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed; it shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel" (Gen. 3:15). Isaiah, the prophet, spake of Christ seven or eight centuries before His birth, saying, "He was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him, and with his stripes we are healed" (53:5). And Daniel said, He should be cut off, but not for Himself (9:26).

8. It was a predestined death. For Peter says, "Ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, . . . but with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot: who verily was fore-ordained before the foundation of the world" (1 Pet. 1:18-20).

9. Finally, it was a death which has been commemorated by an observance that never can be hid or explained away, namely, the communion of the Lord's Supper, in which Christians eat the bread and drink the wine in remembrance of His dying love.

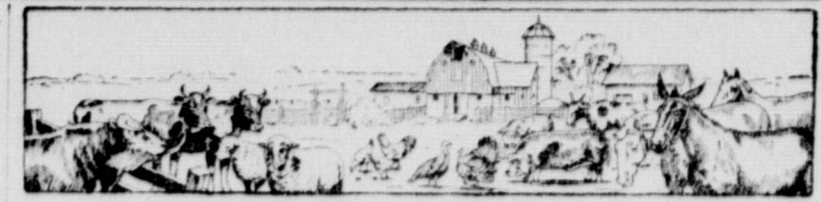

This is the reason an inspired apostle was able to say, "Whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved" (Rom. 10:13).

THOUGHTS OF SERIOUS MOMENTS

He who is not contented with what he has, would not be contented with what he would like to have.—Anonymus.

True contentment depends not upon what we have; a tub was large enough for Diogenes, but a world was too little for Alexander.—Colton.

The most profound joy has more of gravity than of gaiety in it.—Michel E. de Montaigne.

Keep the Horse in Front

By T. C. Richardson, Secretary Texas Breeder-Feeder Ass'n.

There ought to be some sort of livestock and poultry on every farm in the Southwest. It offers means of increasing farm income besides distributing both labor and income throughout the year. "A farm is not a farm without its barnyard noises," said some wise man. The whole theme of these articles is to encourage and in some small degree to point the way to a balanced farming system in the Southwest which will relieve the uncertainties of crop-farming. But—

And it is a great big "but"—we must be careful to not get the cart before the horse. Farm livestock and poultry are primarily a means of manufacturing raw materials—feed and pasturage—into more usable and salable forms. If the farm hasn't the feed—at least a large part of it—it is not ready for livestock. We have all seen the tragedy of feed shortages, forcing the sale of animals at a sacrifice or keeping them at an excessive cost by purchasing feed.

What the farm flocks and herds live and thrive on next winter depends on the kind of feed and pasturage available, the facilities for taking care of them, and above all, the amount of feed to keep them growing and producing twelve months in the year. The feed must precede stocking the farm with feed-consuming fowls or animals, and now is the time to start producing the feed.

"Livestock without feed is a farm tragedy," says Sam A. McMillian, who ought to know, for he has, like many of us, seen too many tragedies of "going into" the livestock business without the fortification of feed supplies to avoid having to "go out" under pressure.

We Americans are constitutionally inclined to "bore with a big auger," to think a business beneath consideration if it isn't a big business. It is mighty easy to over-estimate the carrying capacity of a pasture, to "guess" we have feed enough for twenty cows or a hundred hens and find out, too late, that we have feed enough for only half as many. It is not only a matter of safety, but a matter of profits, to have more than enough rather than less. Livestock and poultry are not like annual crops—they grow and require feed 365 days in the year. The very fact that they go on producing when crops are not growing is what makes them valuable in the farm set-up. But a few well-fed every day are better from every standpoint than many half-fed, or well-fed for a few months and half-starved the rest of the year.

There is just now a sort of "boom psychology" in certain types of livestock, especially beef cattle, sheep and hogs. The prices of these animals have held up better than most other farm and ranch products, which is always a temptation to over-stocking. "In at the top and out at the bottom" is the sad history of many business enterprises, including every sort of farming enterprise. It is scarcely necessary to say that the "in-and-out" is seldom the winner in any line of business.

But Southwestern farms must have livestock and poultry, each in proportion to the size and type of farm. It is essential to the present as well as the future of farming in this favored region. All I am trying to say here is that we must "grow into" rather than "go into" that phase of sound farm management, and "growing into" it means growing the feed ahead of the consuming needs of the livestock.

As we plant feed at this season we plant the eggs for the Christmas market, the cream for every day after summer pastures fall, the fat hogs and heaves of next winter and spring, the fat turkeys for Thanksgiving. Let's not get the cart in front of the horse.

A fairly large audience greeted Governor T. W. Davidson in the district court room here Tuesday after the announcement had been given out that he would speak at that time. The speaker was introduced by Judge G. W. Walthall and went directly into the discussion of the issue being discussed in the state campaign.

Landslide Vote

The vote in the special election Monday was a fair and thorough test of the sentiment of the property tax payers as to whether they want to pave the Crowell streets. The vote showed that 178 were for and 26 against the adoption of the amendment making it possible to pave.

Storm Does Damage

The storm that struck here last Friday afternoon was one of the severest we have witnessed in several years. Mrs. John Lilly of near Foard City had started to the storm house with her baby when a piece of plank struck her on the head rendering her unconscious for some time. A boy belonging to George Little was caught by an overturned wagon and injured. At Foard City, a tin scattered over the prairie. A barn was blown over at Jim Bell's farm a house on A. Brian's farm was badly damaged. Sam Russell lost a granary and chicken house, some of the outbuildings at Bob Bell's were moved and the big barn at Mrs. W. S. Bell's was partially wrecked.

Oil Row Threatened

Of intense interest to all oil-producing areas in Texas this week was a strong indication that disruption of the industry might grow out of an apparent alliance between Lon Smith, commission chairman, and Jerry Sadler, new commissioner. The pair "got together" and issued a proration order abolishing Saturday shut-downs for April, and drastically hiking allowances in the Panhandle, North Texas and East Texas fields, and slashing production by thousands of barrels in West Texas, Southwest Texas and the Gulf coast area. Total allowable was kept well within the Bureau of Mines estimate. Austin was full of talk, in the wake of the order, of a possible court attack upon the order.

Ernest O. Thompson, the Commissioner whose expert knowledge of the oil business as well as whose legal knowledge, has been the guiding force on the Commission for the past three years, with the result that the industry has been brought out of a chaotic condition and kept on a profitable, even level, was not consulted by his colleagues in writing the order. No oil order written by Thompson has been successfully attacked in courts in years, and he enjoys the confidence of every lawful element of the industry. If Sadler and Smith have decided to "take over" regulation of the industry, many oil men feel that a reversal of policy which may disrupt all business in Texas, and bring on another siege of turmoil and court battles, may be in the making. Smith, facing re-election in 1940, has bitterly opposed Thompson, who with the support of Terrell, defeated last August by Sadler, held the balance of power in directing the Commission's proration policies.

Names and News

Another effort to obtain an investigation of the prison system by a committee on which "business men" will be represented, as well as the Legislature, was started in the House this week, after veto of an investigation by a legislative committee by Gov. O'Daniel, and the veto was upheld in the House. Rep. J. Ed Winfree, of Houston, who passionately contends the prison system is in need of a "clean-up," argues that a fair investigation cannot be obtained unless outsiders are on the probing body. . . . Argument over the social security tax raising program has built a log-jam, behind which is banked a flood of legislation, including much that is meritorious. Awaiting action are bills providing for control of venereal disease, renewal of drivers' licenses, permitting the Public Safety Department to lift the truck load limit in emergencies, to move perishable crops, such as Valley citrus, and numerous others. . . . Death in Dallas last week of former Chief Justice Nelson Phillips of the State Supreme Court, removed one of the State's most brilliant legal minds from the current picture. . . . Jim Goodman, House member from Midland, has organized a strong bloc of House opposition to the so-called County Judges Bond Bill, which would force gasoline tax payers of the State to take over nearly $200,000,000 worth of "dead horse" county lateral road bonds, in order to obtain some small relief for ad valorem property tax payers. The bill is sponsored in the Senate by Sen. Will Pace, of Tyler, Smith County, under its terms, would receive $433,350 of ad valorem tax relief, and gasoline tax payers of that county would have to put nearly three times that sum into the pot to retire the bonds of other counties. . . . Quick confirmation of Jim West, Houston oil magnate, as Chairman of the State Highway Commission, was expected this week by the Senate. West was praised as an able and successful business man by most of the group of East Texas Senators, whose opposition blocked appointment of Carr P. Collins of Dallas, and J. C. Hunter of Abilene, to the Highway

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

Austin.—The special interest lobby's highly-touted "program" to freeze a $40,000,000 sales tax constitutional amendment into the Constitution of Texas went down to overwhelming defeat in the House of Representatives this week-end, after failing to muster a majority vote, much less the two-thirds necessary to submit it to the people. The Petsch amendment thus is dead beyond recall, unless a two-thirds majority of the House can be recruited to revive it, and that seems highly unlikely. In the Senate, another sales tax amendment met rough going, and the consensus of observers here was that there will be no sales tax written into the Constitution by this session. Thoughtful men in both houses were looking toward money by means of an omnibus tax bill, but in both houses there was such a wide divergence of opinion that a deadlock with no tax hike at all was still regarded as a strong probability.

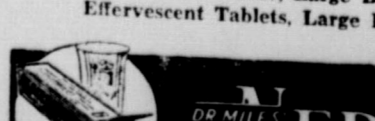

O'Daniel Threatens

Gov. Lee O'Daniel in his Sunday morning broadcast, largely offset the plea for harmony voiced by Lt. Gov. Coke Stevenson in the Senate Friday, when the Governor, abandoning the singing of "That Old-Fashioned Love In My Heart" sent out into the peaceful atmosphere of a gorgeous Palm Sunday morning a truculent, fighting talk that bristled with the threat that unless the citizens got behind the lobby-supported scheme of a Constitutional sales tax sponsored by the Governor, they "will be sorry that they didn't" O'Daniel, whipped and sore, left off the hill-billy music and the sticky songs, and "poured it on" opponents of his tax scheme. Then he became Lawyer O'Daniel, and quoted a section of the pension act passed by the 45th Legislature, placing a ceiling of $30 a month from State and Federal sources for pensioners, and tried to prove total income was the same as his "30 cents for everybody" plan. His speech was regarded by listeners as unlikely to compose the divergent opinions in either house, and its immediate reaction was unfavorable in both houses.
