Scout Troops of Thalia and Crowell Participate in Camp Here Friday-Saturday

A feature event on the program of the Boy Scout Camporee in Crowell last Friday and Saturday was the presentation of the Thalia Troop No. 53. The impressive ceremony began Friday night with R. K. Vernon, field executive, presiding. Bailey Rennels is master of the Thalia Troop. The presentation of the Thalia Troop was made by Mrs. Ellen O'Connor McGaffey, who was assisted by Mrs. L. E. Gaffard, and Mrs. W. L. Lilly. The ceremony was held at the Thalia community center, which is a fully organized Boy Scout troop affiliated with the Boy Scouts of America.

The long arm of the law again reached out to find a woman who has been sought for two years by Foard County officials on a check forgery charge. A written confession, signed by Mrs. Ellen O'Connor McGaffey, was received here last Friday by Sheriff Amos W. Lilly to close the long search. This woman is also wanted in forty-five cities in Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana, and is being held at Groesbeck, Texas, at present. The confession was written concerning a forged check for $35 which was given here in July, 1937. Pictitious names were used on the checks, and the woman and her husband secured the endorsement of a local woman on the pretense that they were going to rent rooms from her. Mrs. McGaffey wrote that her husband, who is now in an Oklahoma jail, forged the check, and that she cashed it at the Crowell bank. Mrs. McGaffey's arrest was made in Bryan when an officer recognized her from police descriptions. Sheriff Lilly received notice of her arrest from Austin and at telephone conversation with Groesbeck officials verified the fact that she was the woman wanted in Crowell, and the arrival of the signed confession was a few days later.

McLain, 76, who died at his home 8 miles southwest of Crowell Monday night at 9:30 o'clock, were held in the Baptist Church in Crowell Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock with Elder L. E. Garner, pastor of the Quannah Church of Christ, officiating. Interment was made in the Crowell cemetery with the Womack Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Pall bearers were Henry Johnson, Virgil Johnson, John Nagy, A. W. Barker, Grover Owens and T. A. Spears.

Flower bearers were Misses Mary Ermine Owens, Marie Wells, Daphne McClure, Marjorie Bradford, Lavoyce Lefevre, Helen Harwell, Evelyn Evans and Faye Zeibig. All of those named above, with the exception of Miss Lefevre, were members of the graduating class of Crowell High School, of which a daughter, Miss Oma Floy McLain, was a member.

Honorary pall bearers were Ben Barker, Franklin Evans, Herman Sandlin, James Sandlin, Blaine Barker, and R. J. Owens.

Out-of-town friends who were present for the funeral services were Mrs. Letha Parsons, Mrs. Guy Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sparks, all of Abilene.

Relatives from out-of-town attending the services were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rea, Mrs. Effie East and Mrs. Thelma Bennett of Kirkland; John Rea of Rochester, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Rea and Miss Myrtle Rea of Memphis.

Pete Hardy McLain was born in Walker County, Alabama, and very little is known of his early life as he was orphaned at the age of two years. He came from Alabama to Texas when he was about 17 years of age and settled in Collin County, later moving to Johnson County.

He was married to Miss Leona Vauter in Johnson County and she died there after they had been married five years. No children were born to them.

In 1918, Mr. McLain moved with his family to Foard County and settled on the farm 5 miles northwest of Foard City where he made his home since coming to this county.

During his long residence in this county Mr. McLain proved himself to be an excellent citizen and a host of friends mourn his passing.

Mr. McLain was converted about 40 years ago in Johnson County, where he united with the Church of Christ, which church he was a member at the time of his death.

He is survived by his widow, five daughters, Mrs. Ina Sparks of Abilene, Mrs. Treva Spears of Crowell, Mrs. Donna Young of Fort Worth, Miss Oma Floy McLain and Miss Yvonne McLain; one son, Clinton McLain of Crowell; one stepson, Ray Austin of Amarillo; one brother, Joe McLain of Dallas, and a number of other relatives.

French Babies Protected From Gas Attack

In the event of war and threat of gas attacks, French babies under two years of age will be protected by means of a respiratory device which is connected with the gas mask of the mother. Not strong enough to open the air vents in a regulation gas mask, they are protected by this means. The baby's covering is made of fireproof silk. Professor Le Mee, left, invented the device.

Annual Report On Cemetery Is Released Wed.

The annual meeting of the Crowell Cemetery Association was held in the Womack Funeral Home Monday afternoon, May 22, and following is the report given The News by Mrs. N. J. Roberts, president:

"The meeting advertised for the Cemetery Association was poorly attended and showed a decided lack of interest in the organization, which should merit more consideration from our people. Your president calls a meeting near the first of June each year and at the time the cemetery year books are prepared. The report is given at these meetings and every dollar spent during the year is accounted for. Problems demanding attention are discussed.

"We are opposed to promiscuous laying of curbs around lots without the mechanic first getting locations from our records at the Womack Funeral Home, and are desirous that those which have been misplaced be moved at once to avoid any further complications. There are lots on the west side that are of different dimensions and these measurements must be secured from our maps or the records.

"We also resent the haphazard method that has been practiced in placing tombstones. Our sexton is on the job. He has a blue print of the cemetery and knows where these stones should be placed. We have him hired to keep the entire cemetery, but recently having to pay him to clean up after those who leave their rocks and cement after doing concrete work.

"Please be at the cemetery to receive a monument. Some truck drivers are very inconsiderate when making these deliveries. They often cut deep ruts across lots, through carelessness, do damage that is difficult to correct, and oftentimes these stones are not properly placed.

"The sexton was put on regular duty March 1st, and will be retained as long as our means will justify. He tries to get over the entire cemetery as often as possible, and he has received no title to this spring on its general appearance.

"While there are some few who prefer to keep their individual lots, we heartily recommend retaining a keeper and urge all who

FIRST LOAD OF 1939 WHEAT IS RECEIVED HERE

Sold to Local Grain Company Tuesday Afternoon

The first load of wheat from the 1939 crop was brought to Crowell Tuesday afternoon, May 30, from the M. L. Hughston farm six miles east of Crowell, and arrived on the same date of the first load of wheat to arrive in Crowell last year.

The load of wheat, which tested 63, totaled 87 bushels and a premium of five cents per bushel over the market price was paid to Mr. Hughston by the Self Grain Company.

The Farmers' Elevator in Crowell received its first load of 1939 wheat from Raymond Grimm of Thalia. This load arrived at the elevator only a few minutes after Mr. Hughston's wheat. Mr. Grimm's wheat, which tested 61, has not yet been sold and is being held in storage.

The new 22,500-bushel capacity Farmers' elevator being constructed south of the old elevator will be ready for wheat Monday, according to a report Wednesday afternoon. This elevator is equipped with the latest type of machinery and has a handling capacity of 3,000 bushels per hour. The association plans to handle the most of its wheat with the new elevator. Jack Randolph brought the first load of wheat to the Farmers' Elevator in Foard City. This wheat also tested 61.

And It Really Isn't Done With Mirrors

This is the kind of fishing the not-too-energetic angler dreams about. Homer Harris and his son, Bill, of Atlanta, Ga., don't bother with hooks. And it isn't done with mirrors. Fishermen take their boats to the fair of a school of trout in Jackson lake, and as the fish make their quick, arching leaps out of the water, the side of the boat is tilted and the fish falls to the bottom of the boat. In two hours these men caught 18 pounds of unhooked trout.

EXTENSION DAIRYMAN SPEAKS TO FARMERS AND RANCHERS ON ADVANTAGES OF TRENCH SILOS

E. R. Eudaley, Extension Dairyman of College Station, addressed a group of farmers and ranchers in the district court room in Crowell last Friday morning at which time he pointed out the advantages of feed in trench silos in its convenience, low cost, insurance against the elements and rodents, and its importance in maintaining important food values in the silage. He was accompanied to Crowell by J. A. Scofield, district agent of College Station.

The demonstration was scheduled to have been held at the feed lots of Shirley and Offield a short distance southeast of Crowell, but plans were changed because of the rain Thursday night.

There are four things found in silage or green feed that is not found in dry feed and are vital to livestock and dairy production, Mr. Eudaley told the group.

The first is the protein content of feed. Green Buffalo grass is 14 per cent protein and dry Buffalo grass has only 4 per cent. Green sudan grass is 16 per cent protein and dry sudan grass is only 5 per cent.

The second factor is that green feed contains abundant amounts of phosphorus while there is very little found in dry feed. Stock will do all right as long as they are eating green feed, but when they cease eating feeds containing phosphorus, their bodies start drawing that from their bones, thus hurting the health of the animal.

Green grasses analyze ten times higher in mineral than dry grass, was the third point that Mr. Eudaley brought out.

Green feeds and good silage are high in Vitamin A, without which no animal can live, and this is abundant in feeds stored in trench silos, was the fourth important point for storing feed in this type of silo. Offspring are born dead, or die soon after if there is a lack of Vitamin A in the rations.

Another convenient point in favor of the trench silo as pointed out by Mr. Eudaley is that any type of feed can be stored, such as Johnson grass, cotton stalks, careless weeds and many others. However, with this type of silage, molasses must be added. For every ton of feed stored in the silo five gallons of molasses, mixed in 20 gallons of water should be added to cause fermentation. Another way of getting sugar into the silage is to grind sweet sorghums in with the feed.

Feed from a trench silo also furnishes lots of water for the stock and water is lacking in dry feed. A three-gallon milk cow drinks 105 pounds of water per day. A cow will not drink enough water in cold weather or through

OVER 3 INCHES OF RAIN FALLS HERE IN MAY

Rains in Other Parts Of County Reported To Be Heavier

The .82-inch rain which was received in Crowell last Thursday night raised the total rainfall for the month of May in this vicinity to 3.29 inches, according to the records at the Crowell State Bank.

This total is not general for the county, as the rain varied in the different sections with the northern and eastern parts of the county appearing to receive several more inches of rain.

A light shower was received in Crowell Tuesday afternoon and an inch or more of rain was reported in the Gambleville community, east of Crowell, and also north of the city.

Although wheat suffered for moisture for a period of time, it is believed, after the recent rains, that the average wheat production for the county will range close to ten bushels per acre.

DAREN'T START DRY EVEN if this camel holds records for going without more drink, could he last if he had to start dry? Your car and your engine oil can't last either if you keep starting dry this Summer. You can't help it with any oil that always drains down to the crankcase completely. But you can certainly help it by getting your engine OIL-PLATED. NEVER all down in the crankcase, no matter how long you park, OIL-PLATING is lastingly close-knit to inner engine surfaces by the action of Conoco Germ Processed oil—patented. Its strong "power of attraction" fastens non-detachable OIL-PLATING throughout your engine. Does chrome-plating drain down? Neither does OIL-PLATING. Therefore in advance of starting, it's ready to slide every working part into easy motion, without rasping dryness. And since OIL-PLATING doesn't fly off or fry up it helps your engine to shatter the record for going without more oil. That's why to OIL-PLATE today with Conoco Germ Processed oil, at Your Mileage Merchant's. Continental Oil Co.

By the blessing of the upright the city is exalted; but it is overthrown by the mouth of the wicked.—Proverbs 11:11.

In the old days when people came to town to buy their week's supplies they went to the store, perhaps the only one in town, and purchased a quantity of necessities and staple items. The village merchant carried a small assortment of merchandise, got low profits, and confined his stock to staple items. With the coming of other stores competition came. With competition came lower prices and a division of the business among several stores. A merchant could no longer sit and wait for business to come, because it had nowhere else to go. He had to encourage it to come to his store by offering a more attractive, modern line, more attractive prices, more modern merchandising methods, and by advertising. In the old days a customer did not come to a store until he wanted to buy something, but today, through the medium of advertising, customers are sold merchandise before they have seen it, before they enter the store. Not only this but through the medium of advertising, desire for new and better merchandise is created, and a larger market and volume is possible than was possible before advertising came to be employed in the merchandising field. Advertising, well written advertising, has become an inseparable part of merchandising today. The public has been trained to buy through the advertisements, and it is through them only that profitable volume can be built. Judicious, well written advertising, backed by good merchandise and modern merchandising, will bring the business to the counters of any store.

Many contend that economic peace will not come until there is a more general distribution of wealth. Those who contend for this apparently do not stop to think that the distribution of wealth is no more uneven than the distribution of many things of life. There is an unequal distribution of talent, some have much and some have little. There is an unequal distribution of thrift and industry and self denial, the hall marks of success. There is an unequal distribution of the desire to accomplish things, to get ahead, to be somebody, and to amount to something among one's fellows. Some strive diligently and ceaselessly toward this end while others are content to drift, to satisfy the passing needs, with no thought of the future or tomorrow. There is an unequal distribution of the desire and the ability to manage personal affairs. As long as there is an unequal distribution of these qualities that are so intimately linked with success and the acquisition of material wealth in our scheme of living there will continue to be an unequal distribution of wealth.

The story of William Douglas, the latest appointee to the Supreme Court of the United States, is a typical story of the success possible to a poor boy in this country and should be an inspiration to many American boys, who, like him are starting out with little beyond a desire to make a name and success for themselves. Douglas as a boy had little except the determination to obtain an education and make something of himself. He worked his way through grade and high school. He got a job in a jewelry store sweeping and dusting and cleaning. Besides this he waited on tables at fraternity houses and banquets, mowed lawns, and did other odd jobs. He was in turn a farm hand, a junk dealer and janitor until he graduated from the local college at Walla Walla, Washington. He then went east to Columbia University, working his way east on a cattle train. He worked his way through Columbia and then became professor of law at Yale. He was made chairman of the SEC, in which position he distinguished himself. Now at 40 years of age he is a member of the Supreme Court of the United States.

Most any leader can have the people back of him as long as he gives the people everything they think they want. Hitler and Mussolini will have the solid backing of their people until the time comes when the people will have to be denied something they think they want.

The merchants and business men of a town determine, to a great degree, just kind of a town the town is. If the merchants are behind the times, if they do not keep their stores up-to-date, if modern merchandising methods are not used and show windows are indifferently trimmed, the town takes on just that air. If on the other hand the town has live, up-to-date merchants, who take pride in the appearance of their stores, adopt modern merchandising methods and modern business methods, it will be reflected in the whole atmosphere of the town. The merchants and business men of a town can make of it the thriving trade center of the territory, or a sleepy, decadent village.

America is the only country in the world, which, with a national debt of forty billion dollars, a major depression on its hands, and ten million men out of work, could stage two World's Fairs at the same time, each with paid admissions exceeding a half million a day.

The next time you feel like complaining about your taxes, especially the tax on your automobile, just think of the citizen of England who is called upon to lay down a tax of $185 on a Ford car. A tax like that in this country would make walking popular.

The business building possibilities of advertising are no longer an experiment. They have been proven many times and the most successful businesses in this country today, without exception, attribute their success to advertising.

The poorest way to keep out of war is to give erring nations the feeling under no circumstances will this country fight. Such a policy is merely a short cut to war.

What We Think (By Frank Dixon)

I have come to the conclusion that recovery in this country cannot be brought about until business over the country, as a whole, comes to the rescue with a program of promotion, expansion and development.

Government spending, relief agencies, made work, and all the cure-alls devised, while they provide present needs, are not going to bring about recovery.

Furthermore I have come to the conclusion that unless business does enter the field federal spending will continue without results until inflation will be the only way out. Few things more demoralizing than unrestrained inflation can come to a nation or its institutions, for, fine spun theories to the contrary notwithstanding, the business and financial structure of this nation is the backbone of its economic solidarity.

I do not believe business is going to step into the breach as long as the attitude of the administration toward business continues as it is. Unless Congress ceases to look upon business, big and little, as a giant organized group with but one desire, one aim, one goal in sight, and that the destruction of this country and its institutions, and approaches the matter with understanding and intelligence instead of an attitude of badgering restriction, and even destruction, recovery is going to lag.

It is indeed unfortunate, it is tragic, that laws are conceived and passed that destroy confidence, create uncertainty and apprehension, and even instill fear in business, big and little, throughout this country. Many of these are illy conceived, are inspired by untried theories, and are passed to control, restrict, regulate and hamper business, by men without business, experience of any kind, beyond that incident to being on the receiving end of a salary check.

I realize that little can be gained by citing the points presented at the recent national meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce. The country has been sold on the idea that business, big

QUEEN OF COTTON

Lovely Alice Hall, 19, of Memphis, Tenn., King Cotton's 1939 'Maid of Cotton,' has brought new acclaim to the South's white gold in a nationwide crusade which has taken her to 22 cities. Her visits with celebrities, appearance in style shows, in which she modeled smart cotton garments, and radio broadcasts told the story of cotton to the nation.

and little, is a menace, a giant ogre, a rapacious dragon, which, if it is not crushed and crushed completely, will destroy the nation and every one in it, and that any unfriendly legislation is to be met with a nod of approval.

This fact is as damaging and destructive as the laws themselves. It has created a class hatred against the one thing that has made this country what it is.

The result of it is that money that in the past has been invested freely in business and has made possible expansion, promotion and employment is now buried in banks and low rate interest bonds. Business men have no desire to put new money in business until they can plan ahead and know, in a degree at least, that the only hazards their capital will have to encounter, are those incident to the fortunes of business, rather than the impractical theories of inexperienced theorists.

Bring Back Memories of the Good Old Days

Everyone has fond recollections of the past, but when Ginger Rogers and Fred Astaire re-live the lives of the greatest dance team of our day in "The Story of Vernon and Irene Castle," they bring back memories that are sweet to everyone.

Everyone has hummed, whistled and sung the songs featured in this gay and humorous motion picture which is coming to the Rialto Theatre at the Saturday night preview, Sunday and Monday.

Among the many beloved songs are: "It's A Long Way To Tipperary," "Smiles," "Oh, You Beautiful Doll," "Missouri Waltz," and many other favorites of the by-gone days.

The actors portray the lives of the famous dance team, Vernon and Irene Castle, and thereby present one of the most romantic love stories ever told. At the same time, their nimble feet retrace the dance routines which this couple performed and thereby set the dance fashions for two decades of fun-loving Americans.

The brave, patriotic, die-for-my-country days of the great World War are brought back to furnish a background for an important episode in the lives of these two lovers, in an age when so many were giving love so freely and thinking little of the future.

People of the theatre, and especially dancers, have their own peculiar sort of glamour which is hard to describe in words and must be seen to be fully appreciated. Therefore, all movie fans should be looking forward with eagerness to the coming of Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers in "The Story of Vernon and Irene Castle." Comedy work in this picture is presented with great gusto by both Astaire and Rogers with the aid of Walter Brennan and Edna Mae Oliver.

(Continued from Page One) the dry season to produce a normal amount of milk. They can get water through the silage, which is about 85 per cent water.

When dry feeds are put down in silage, two pounds of green alfalfa per cow is fed with the silage each day in order that the cow will get the Vitamin A.

One of the questions asked most of Mr. Eudaley was "How much water to add when storing the feed?" "Add just enough water to make the feed pack good," he stated.

Mr. Eudaley warned the farmers and ranchers in making their silos too large. It is better to have them too small than too big. He gave scales by which the size of the silo should be dug.

For feeding one cow from the silo, dig it two feet wide and two feet deep and long enough to take care of the amount of feed on hand. This saves the silage from spoiling and wasting.

One cow will use 6 tons of silage each year; one horse, four tons; a sheep, one ton; one hog, one-half ton; and fifty hens, 1 ton.

County Agent John Nagy invites any farmer or rancher in Foard County who is interested in a trench silo to come to his office in the court house for detailed information.

At present, there are 36 trench silos in the county, of which the total capacity is 3,668 tons. The largest silo in the county has a 500 ton capacity and the smallest 40 tons.

The first trench silo dug in Foard County was made in 1936 on the Shirley McLarty farm at Rayland, and the silo is still in use today.

CHURCHES

Christian Science Church Sunday School at 10 a. m. Sunday services at 11 a. m. Wednesday evening services at 8 o'clock. Sunday, June 4, 1939. Subject: "God, the Only Cause and Creator." The public is cordially invited.

Eastside Church of Christ Elder Garner of Quanah will deliver the sermon at both the morning and evening services of the Eastside Church of Christ Sunday. Bible Class will be held at 10:45 o'clock Sunday morning. Everyone is invited to come and worship with us. —Reporter.

Christian Science Services "God the Only Cause and Creator" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 4. The Golden Text is: "The Lord reigneth, he is clothed with majesty; the Lord is clothed with strength, wherewith he hath girded himself; the world also is established, that it cannot be moved" (Psalms 93:1).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "All the ends of the world shall remember and turn unto the Lord;... For the kingdom is the Lord's; and he is the governor among the nations" (Psalms 22:27, 28).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Let us rid ourselves of the belief that man is separated from God, and obey only the divine Principle, Life and Love. Here is the great point of departure for all true spiritual growth" (page 91).

Our Weekly Sermon

By Rev. Elgin S. Moyer, Th. D., Librarian, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

The Light That Shines Text: Let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven.—Matthew 5:16.

Jesus set up a very high standard for His followers. He gave them the true light and then bade them to shine forth in the darkness. The three kinds of windows we studied about in our school days provide an apt illustration of the three ways in which Christians respond to the bidding of the Master. Christians, as the windows, are either opaque, translucent, or transparent. The opaque Christian is the one who hides his light. Light has been given him, but it cannot be seen from the outside. It is not allowed to shine forth. Such a man cannot but be a stumbling block to those who need the light. He not only gives the church and his fellow church members a bad name, but he also gives sinners excuses

Two Minute Sermon (By Thomas Hastwell)

Little Things That Make Great Differences: At a certain point on the American continent the difference of a few inches in the spot where a drop of rain falls determines whether it will find its way into the Pacific ocean or by means of the Mississippi River into the Atlantic ocean. The entire course of a human life is often determined by things that at the time seem to be of little importance. What we do, what we think, what we feel, how they turn out, whether they are filled with happiness, content, and worth while accomplishments, or unhappiness, discontent and failure, very often depends upon the little things. First among these is faith in God, faith that He can, if we but permit Him, make of our lives all that they can and should be.

It seems to many a little thing, but like many seemingly little things it means much to a little thing, the man with faith does not fret and worry his life away. He knows that if he dies the best he knows how, that some how, some way, God will take care of the rest. It brings to him a measure of assurance and self-confidence that no human source can ever supply. It requires some men years of living to discover this, and some never discover it. They go through life depending upon their own feeble resources, and when these fail them, they have no other source to which to turn. Truly, faith, which many think a little thing, is after all the keynote of every efficient and satisfactory life.

For remaining sinners. The cynic has ample reason for dubbing him a hypocrite. He goes to church on Sunday; but the rest of the week he lives much as other worldly people live, driving sharp bargains, forgetting justice and integrity, engaging in gossiping and coarse jesting, if not in vulgarity of thought and word. Yes, his name is on the church roll and he trusts as have all other Christians, but he has not proved faithful to his trust. He has covered his window; and his light has become darkness.

Then there is the translucent Christian, who, like his window namesake, has much light and lets it shine out with more or less brilliancy. Yet something seems not quite right. Within there seems to be discontent, confusion of purpose, and a bothered conscience. While he is active in Christian work and is eager to do much good and willing to witness courageously for Christ, yet his light seems to be diffused. Something is not quite aboveboard. It may be that there are questionable practices going on, some shady acts or thoughts, some things to which the conscience cannot give full assent, or something that the Holy Spirit has forbidden. Perhaps there is not full surrender to God. Any of these conditions will inevitably diffuse the light and cause inner confusion. Whenever a Christian in any measure, and for any reason dims his light, that life will be hindered in its witness bearing. The Holy Spirit cannot have free control, and that life cannot be fully used of God.

We are glad for the third type, the transparent Christian. His light shines clear and bright. His testimony is positive and without equivocation. He can say with Paul, "It is no longer I that live, but Christ liveth in me." His whole life is committed to Christ. He is not ashamed of the gospel. For he knows it is the power of God unto salvation. His life holds nothing back, but speaks out and testifies as the Holy Spirit directs and gives utterance. The light has filled his soul and he lets it shine out in undimmed brightness and glow. You will see Christ in such a life and you will feel His holy influence. You will recognize the indwelling by the fruitage of "love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance" (Gal. 5:22). When the light within the life's windows are clear, the light cannot be contained. It will come out; it will bless.

It is a tremendous but blessed responsibility, to have this light of Christ in our lives. As truly as Paul was set for a light to the gentiles, so we are set for a light to our generation. We are the

NOBODY'S BUSINESS BY JULIAN CAPEERS JR.

Austin.—The black shadow of next summer's political campaigns—which has never been very far in the background—fell athwart the legislative halls last week, as the two houses maneuvered for place.

The Senate, which has hammered away for four months with every tool in its kit to make the House accept its plan of foisting a $50,000,000 sales tax constitutional amendment upon the people, and four times has been turned back by an undaunted House minority, opened the skirmish by adopting a resolution attempting to "reason" the House into doing what "political sharpshooters, brute force, sulking and other tactics on the part of the upper body, have failed to accomplish. It recited the background of the social security program, cited precedent for fixing rates for pensions in the Constitution, and urged the House to pass its sales tax amendment.

House Hits Back The House, as unconvinced by tardy "sweet reasonableness" by the Senate as it had been by repeated attempts to beat its ears down, promptly replied by adopting an overwhelming vote, an omnibus tax bill calculated to raise, in the shape it left the House, about $16,000,000 annually for social security. It ups the taxes on oil and gas, sulphur, and levies a 1 per cent sales tax on utility bills, motor car sales, and other "luxury" commodities. The vote was 110 to 25, as the sales tax bloc members scrambled to get on the band wagon, and wrote a record of "adding the old folks." Rep. Ross Hardin tried to substitute the gross receipts tax bill for the measure, and Rep. W. N. Corry sought to kill it by striking out the enacting clause. The floor fight for it was led by G. C. Morris of Greenville, leader of the anti-sales tax bloc.

Think Senate Will Take It What the Senate will do with the bill is problematical at this writing, but majority opinion inclines to the belief the House has put the Senate on a spot, and that the upper body will adopt the bill in some form, after considerable amendment. A loud howl from the taxed groups, especially the oil lobby, was being heard in the Senate lobby.

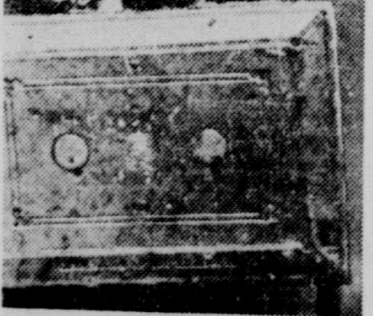

The House, belligerent after many weeks of battling, promptly rejected a Senate resolution for sine die adjournment June 3, and indicated it will "sit tight" until the Senate makes a record on the omnibus tax bill. Gov. O'Daniel, meanwhile, held his silence of the past few weeks, and there was much speculation as to what his strategic position will be when the legislative work is ended. Many observers here think the bitter controversy with the Legislature, and the apparent vic-light of the world. But if we do not keep our windows perfectly clean, the world will not see the light in its clarity, its purity, and its power. Yes, Jesus surely meant every word when He said, "Ye are the light of the world." Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven."

Names and News Dr. Sidney M. Lister of Houston is chairman of the State Prison Board, succeeding Joseph Weardner of Victoria, and Denver Chestnut of Kennedy, the popular South Texas newspaper publisher, becomes vice chairman. . . . D. E. Blackburn of Victoria, past president of the Texas Bankers' Association, will head the South Texas C. C. as president this year, while Ray Leeman, of whose fine work in promoting all phases of South Texas development has been outstanding, was re-elected executive secretary for his 13th term. . . . The poor old barber's price fixing bill, which got a second lease on life by withdrawal of O'Daniel when he signed it, was finally vetoed after Attorney General Gerald Mann held it unconstitutional a second time, after patchwork amendments failed to make it legal.

Cigaretts Yield Millions

Cigaret smokers of Texas, who will take another 1-cent a pack rap if the House omnibus bill is passed, contributed $7,027,531 in tax money to the state's till in 1938, said Sam Kimberlin, comptroller's deputy who looks after the collections. . . . Gov. O'Daniel also swung the veto ax on another bill by Clint Small designed to eliminate some appeals from district courts to Courts of Civil Appeals, on writs of error. Lobby talk was that Secretary of State Tom Beauchamp, who often advises O'Daniel on legal matters, didn't like the bill and advised a veto. . . . It's a felony offense now to break out of a jail in Texas. Final okay was given by the governor to the bill authored by Sen. W. E. Stone of Galveston, which grew out of a Galveston jail-break in which a guard was shot, and it was found the law provided no adequate penalty. . . . The filibustering Senate, still trying to avoid a vote on the so-called fair trade act, took no final action on the county bond indebtedness bill, but debated the Clint Small substitute, already adopted, which would prevent a "grab" of millions by bond speculators, by repaying the counties only back payments on state-designated highway bonds, and leave the problem of the lateral road bonds to the counties to work out for themselves.

Sir John Simon, England's chancellor of the exchequer, seems to have Britain's budget in the bag. It was no laughing matter, however, to the house of commons when he set before that body a staggering budget swollen by the cost of war preparations.

Common Sense Used To Make Community A Fireproof City

For the eleventh consecutive year, Lakewood, Ohio, wins the first place award in its population class in the nation-wide fire-prevention contest conducted by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. From such a record of the anti-sales tax group the Governor has weakened O'Daniel with the people, and will make difficult his re-election. Others were so strongly of the opinion the Governor can "pour it on" the legislature for failure to give the old folks the $30 a month he promised everybody, and win again the votes of the oldsters which was his biggest bloc in 1938. Only—but the action of the next two weeks in the two legislative halls may give an accurate key to it.

Ferguson Raises Feeble Voice

The sales tax advocates have never given up the battle, and many of them still cling to the hope that the House may be pressured into accepting it at the last minute. Ex-Gov. Jim Ferguson raised his now feeble voice in behalf of the constitutional amendment program this week, with a letter to legislators, declaring there are 400,000 persons in Texas over 65, and it will require $75,000,000 a year to pay them $12 a month.

Still another black shadow was apparent in Austin, as underground channels reported the Federal Social Security administration will turn "thumbs down" on the "liberalized" pension law, which will admit from 50,000 to 100,000 new pensioners to the roll. Removal of the ability of relatives to support old folks as a test for eligibility is said to have drawn unofficial opinion from Federal pension moguls that Uncle Sam will retire from the pension alliance with Texas when it takes effect, because it does not meet the Federal requirement of pensions for the "needy aged." If that happens, the whole pension snarl will be worse snarled, and an astrous session to undo the dissonance is regarded as a certainty. The hour of reckoning is fast approaching. The old folks are due to learn the hard truth in Texas pretty soon—and that is that neither the 46th Legislature, nor Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel has long white whiskers, or answers to the name of Santa Claus.

Trees May Reduce Damage By Floods

Lincoln, Neb., May 29.—(Special) — President Roosevelt has proclaimed the week beginning May 31 as "Flood Prevention Week" and the thoughts of foresters are directed toward the role of trees in controlling flood waters. E. L. Perry, Assistant Regional Forester of the Prairie States Forestry Project, said here today, "In the mountainous and hilly areas, which are the upper reaches of most streams, and where floods usually originate," Perry said, "forests effectively lessen the rush of water from steep slopes and are an important factor in the prevention of floods. They are especially effective in averting 'flash floods'—the quick rises of streams following heavy downpours.

"On the Plains precipitous runoff is not so much a factor, and the land is too valuable to devote to forest, but trees may be used to lessen damage from floods originating elsewhere," the Forest Service official continued. "A stream bank that is heavily vegetated will not wash out easily, and dense tree growth along the stream course may help to direct the main force of the current along the usual channel."

"If, in addition to the trees

'Worthless' Outchews Goldfish Eaters

"Worthless," a South American cuscus, who looks something like an American opossum, enjoys his favorite food at a Los Angeles animal hospital. He is swallowing an American Beauty rose, after the manner of goldfish eaters. "Worthless" is dappled brown with a white tail and has a long nose of the same color.

and it would appear that the city has some magic or unique formula for fireproofing the city. Yet, as Paul W. Kearney points out in the current Rotarian Magazine, its success comes from commonsense and hard work.

Here is a part of the Lakewood "formula": (1) Fire-fighting equipment is always in perfect operating condition. Water supply is adequate. (2) Firemen are highly trained and organized. (3) Rigid fire inspection of all public buildings, schools, churches, and hospitals. Not a single fire hazard is permitted to remain in Lakewood, so far as it can be detected.

(4) Unable, officially, to carry such fine-tooth comb inspections to private homes, the householder inspects himself. Literature and information are distributed through school children, who are drilled in ideas of fire prevention and take home the "home inspection blanks." No compulsion is involved, but the families eagerly co-operate in checking for the common fire hazards listed and in having them eliminated. (5) Home fire drills are held. Families work out a plan of action in case fire does strike, and hold actual fire drills in the home. (6) Fire is hated in Lakewood with the choicest of hates. For 20 years the schools have cooperated with the progressive fire department to fight the flaming monster. Citizens are alert to the problem. Women's clubs, service clubs, and civic organizations are constantly preaching fire prevention. Not in spotty, short campaigns, but all year round the danger is fought.

The results? Lakewood had 226 fires in 1938—only about ten of which progressed beyond the floor of origin—in a city of 75,000. This compares with an average of 750 fires for 20 other cities of that size. If the average fire loss rate of the country had applied to Lakewood during the last eleven years, its losses would have been $2,000,000 higher than they actually were in this period.

FACTS FAVOR FORD

1 The 1939 Ford V-8 is a beautiful, modern motor car. Its 85-horsepower engine gives you economical, well-balanced performance...

2 The structural strength of the Ford car—frame, bracing, axles, body—makes not only for safety, but durability and long life.

3 Ford hydraulic brakes are exceptionally large and strong in proportion to car weight.

4 The Ford car is stabilized for comfortable riding. Its springbase, the distance between front and rear suspension, is 123 inches. Seats are toward the center, perfectly balanced...

These four points—power, strength, safety, comfort—are by far the most important essentials in any motor car. They form the basic value of your investment.

With this solid foundation to build on, the Ford V-8 has been made beautiful, spacious, easy to drive. It is richly upholstered and has all the modern features which add to the luxury and pleasure of motoring.

You can see these things when you take a trial drive, but do not forget that the main value is in the things you do not readily see—quality of materials, precision of manufacture, fundamental engineering.

Perfect Scout Organization For some time the boys of the 12 and 13 year old class have been anxious to become members of the Boy Scouts, but since there has been no organization of the kind here they have been denied the opportunity. Monday night the boys took matters into their own hands and organized, electing Charlie Ashford as president, Tom Reeder, vice president and Mabry Kinsey, secretary. The following boys, with Grady Magee as temporary scout master, went on a hike Tuesday night to N. J. Robert's lake near Foard City: Charlie Ashford, Vance Swain, Ragsdale Lanier, Joe Roberts, Jack Thomas, Tom Reeder and Arthur Bell.

Grasshoppers Bad There are literally millions of small grasshoppers in the country but one would not have thought they would do any damage to young crops so early in their existence. E. A. Dunagan, east of town a few miles, says he went in to his cotton patch Sunday and was surprised to find that they had made their way into the center of his field and that he would be compelled to replant his crop.

20-Bushel Wheat Estimates of this year's yield of wheat run from 15 to 20 bushels per acre, according to many of the farmers. There is some 25-bushel wheat, they say, but they are not expecting a great amount of it.

W-H-E-A-T

With ample financial assistance, with 175,000 bushels storage capacity right here at home, with the best of equipment, with a Government approved warehouse, and with 25 years of successful grain business, we feel that we are in position to be of help to you. GIVE US A TRIAL.

Government Approved Warehouse

We have made a Government approved Warehouse out of our Elevator because we feel that when any one intrusts their wheat to us they should not think—they should know—their wheat is safe.

Wheat is money, and if you had a thousand dollars to deposit, you would place it in a Government approved bank, because you know it would be safe.

We might be in fine financial condition today, by next year we might have many reverses, but with one of our Government warehouse receipts, your Government stands for your wheat.

So your wheat with one of our warehouse receipts is just as safe as your Government.

Government Loans

We make your Government loan for you in our office at Crowell and all you have to do to get the loan is to go to your County Agent's office, be approved for the loan, and we do all the rest.

Your note for the Government loan with us is made for the exact amount that you receive in money, no freight added.

Your wheat stays here in our Crowell plant, and you can sell the wheat later to us should the market advance to where you have a profit, and we pay the loan off for you.

No delays, no waiting, no returns for corrections, WE GIVE YOU A CHECK FOR THE MONEY THE MINUTE YOU SIGN THE NOTE IN OUR OFFICE.

Fast Unloading

At our Crowell plant your wheat will be unloaded now, at once, no delays.

We employ experienced labor, we have a complete platform air dump, and our elevator has two legs for the elevation of wheat.

By actual test our Crowell plant unloaded and elevated 49,000 bushels of wheat in 18 hours.

Send that wheat to Mr. Andrews for weighing and unloading. He will see to it that your truck returns to your combine on time.

Mr. L. G. Andrews, Our Weigher

Weighing wheat is one of the most important parts, when you send your wheat to the elevator.

Our Mr. Andrews is on the job year after year, day after day, and night and day during the busy season.

Isn't it better to have an experienced, responsible person like Mr. Andrews to weigh your wheat, rather than some one who is weighing for just a few days?

When Mr. Andrews weighs and looks after your wheat, you know it is going to be done fair, just, and honestly in every way, and this is worth a great deal when you have about all you can do to look after your combining.

Think of this when you send your wheat to the elevator, and let Mr. Andrews weigh your wheat at Crowell, and you know it will be done correctly.

MARGARET, FOARD CITY ELEVATORS

Mr. Claude McLaughlin will be glad to weigh and test your wheat at Margaret this season.

Claude has had several years experience and will weigh and test your wheat correctly and fairly.

We have the only elevator at Margaret, so we guarantee to meet all prices, all competition, and any propositions made by anyone to take wheat away tributary to the Margaret territory will be met by us in every form or fashion.

Mr. Ebb Ecales will weigh your wheat at Foard City, and as Ebb has had plenty of experience in weighing, your wheat will be looked after in a fair, just and honest way.

Mr. Louis Rader will run the elevator and we will use local help at Foard City for the extras.

Barley, Oats, Wheat Mixtures

At our Crowell plant we have a Eureka cleaning machine, a Carter oat-barley-wheat separator.

We can take the wheat out of barley and oats, and we will have a price on this grain, or we can separate it for you. So you can bring this grain to our Crowell elevator and secure a price on it, or have it separated.

At Crowell we have a 15-ton Howe 34 feet long, all electrically controlled scales with weightograph, and with the Bureau of Weights has been one hundred per cent on every test.

Margaret and Foard City have ten-ton Fairbanks, 18 feet long, both made complete new last year.

All these scales are inspected each season by the State Bureau of Weights and pronounced O. K.

Our testers are inspected regularly by the Federal Department at Ft. Worth.

All this equipment is placed in the best condition possible to receive your grain.

Scales

You make your crop of wheat, place it in your granary or elevator and then comes the all-important question—when is the time to sell to get the most out of it?

Well, it seems to us that the grain man who continually studies the conditions of wheat every day, reading every card, paper, reports on wheat, would be in a better position to advise with you, than the one who don't keep in close touch with the conditions from day to day.

We report for Cargill crop reporting board, Minneapolis, Minn., and every two weeks they send us a complete summary of the condition of our fall and winter wheat, spring wheat and the Canadian provinces.

In addition they give a summary of the world crop, and really keep us advised as to the condition of wheat.

We are glad to advise with our customers at any time, give them all the conditions as they are, and help them to decide as to the best time to sell their wheat to get the most out of it. Many of our customers by doing this have received from 2 to 10 cents a bushel more for their wheat.

The past four or five years our advice along these lines has been around 80 per cent correct.

We do know this, if you will handle your wheat, like we handle our own wheat, you will make money.

Home Storage

Store your wheat right here at home, so if you want your wheat you can get it, sell it, or do as you please with it.

Our capacity is now up to around 175,000 bushels and with this much space we are enabled to take care of the larger crops right here at home.

Then with our warehouse receipt your storage wheat is just as safe as your Government, money can be secured at any bank, or we will loan you the money ourselves.

Many things can happen to a stock of wheat, cyclones, fires, lightning, explosions, faulty insurance companies, but with one of our warehouse receipts your Government will make it good.

Think this over, and bring your wheat in for storage to the elevator that has spent plenty of money to make your wheat as safe as your Government.

OFFICE PHONE 36

There is always, every day, someone in our office that will make you a bid on your wheat, and always there when you call or come to see us.

Our office gets the grain markets several times a day and you are welcome to come in and look over the markets or call and ask us.

To our customers who have wheat with us at Truscott, Benjamin and Bomarton, call 36 collect and bids will be made.

BOOKKEEPING

Good bookkeeping is most important in the grain business as there are many things to look after during the rush.

Wheat tickets are money and they should be just as carefully looked after as real money. For your protection we prefer to keep all tickets in the book until you get through and call for them.

We will issue a ticket marked "copy" for you if you so desire. We have a triplicate system of tickets and your tickets are audited each day for your protection.

Please be assured that our bookkeeping department will at all times be most efficient, careful and thorough, and endeavor to protect your interest.

Things To Remember

Money advanced on your Government loan the minute you sign the note at our Crowell office.

Our warehouse receipts issued for your storage, your wheat as safe as your Government.

Highest market price for your wheat, night or day.

All errors corrected cheerfully at any time.

Careful to see that correct name is on your scale ticket.

Experienced men to weigh and test your wheat.

Correct weights, correct tests. All equipment in A-1 condition. Individual responsibility, willing to help. Our telephone, day 36, night 128. Government loan this year 85 cents delivered at Galveston, freight and hauling charges deducted. Freight 21c per bushel, hauling charges not yet announced.

Sanitary Measures Should Be Used for Perishable Foods

Austin.—"It is a matter of vital importance, particularly during the warm summer season, that sanitary measures be applied to prevent the contamination of perishable foods," stated Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Various intestinal disorders result from food which has in some way become rendered unwholesome. Summer diarrhea or "summer complaint," affecting young and old, is a serious type of stomach and bowel condition. So called "ptomaine poisoning," in nearly all cases, is none other than a food infection due to the presence in food of harmful bacteria or germs.

"Perishable food, if contaminated, endangers human health. This hazard is greater in warm weather, because germs or their products multiply or develop more rapidly at high temperature. Some of the most valuable foods are of perishable nature. Such foods demand the exercise of safeguards. Among well known precautions, which need to be used if perishable foods are to be kept wholesome, are the following:

1. Some form of modern refrigeration or cooling is necessary to preserve food from day to day. Lack of an effective cooling process causes meat to spoil and milk to contain a dangerously large number of bacteria.
2. Resort to thorough cooking or boiling is the simplest and yet most useful method of preventing illness of food-borne character. This precaution applies especially to food prepared for infants and children.
3. Contamination of perishable food is avoided through the constant exercise of cleanliness on the part of those who handle food.
4. Pastries and other food products make a far greater appeal to the consumer or patron if there is an entire absence of flies. Adequate provision for screens and application of every known means of fly and insect extermination are worthwhile."

LIBRARY NOTES

Book reviews in this column are found in the Foard County Federation Library, located in the court house. The library hours are from 8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m.

"Thou My Beloved," by Elizabeth Stacy Payne, is proving to be a book of interest to the readers. Be sure to include it on your summer reading list. It is a thoughtful and penetrating novel, fascinating in theme, and written in a sympathetic manner.

Carol Embree has been for years "possessed" by her secret idol, built up from memories of one week of stolen happiness. Though still in her thirties, a widow with beauty, wealth and high position, this secret idealization has robbed her of present joy that might be hers. Then, of a sudden, the "idol" comes back into her life and she finds her young daughter's future menaced by that long-past episode.

Don't forget that the library subscribes to twenty leading magazines.

ROTARY CLUB

Dr. E. S. James, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Vernon, provided the program for the Wednesday meeting of the Crowell Rotary Club with an interesting talk concerning the Jewish people. He told of their origin and gave a brief history of this race of people down to the present time. The program was in charge of Rev. W. B. Fitzgerald.

Other visitors at this meeting were Dale Grimes of Edinburg and Roy Gaither of Altus, Okla.

Dr. R. C. Hewlett of Manchester, Eng., called to attend a child, found the mother had baked a live mouse in a pie, believing that this would cure the measles.
