Iowa Park Hawks Meet Wildcats In Crowell Friday At 8 O'clock With Perfect Conference Record

Coach Grady Graves' Crowell Hawks and Iowa Park Wildcats will meet on the Crowell field Friday night at 8 o'clock in a game that will be of utmost importance to both teams.

Following the Chillicothe game, Coach Graves dismissed his Hawks for a week of rest when they were recalled to action Monday, they appeared to be recovered from their injuries which had hampered them for two weeks.

From Iowa Park's viewpoint, the game is of extreme importance because the Hawks will be trying to win the first victory over the Wildcats in several years. The Hawks have won their three conference games and have scored 45 points against their opponents.

For the second time this season the Wildcats will be able to test their fall strength tomorrow night and will be defending their title for the second place. Next before this season have the Hawks suffered so many damaging injuries at the same time that they were forced to place crippled players against two powerhouses in the district, but now that the Hawks have been torn up, the Wildcats will be able to show some signs that they are real champions in spite of the fact that they are in the cellar at present.

Display of Backs
The game Friday night will be "natural" for fans, as most players enjoy watching good backs with good backs working behind them and that will be the feature of the game.

This season, the Hawks have been boosted for their strong backfield, due largely to the splendid work of Carl McKinnon, who is being heralded as the district's greatest back in many ways, and Cowden, who of late has been crowding his teammate's honors.

McKinnon is reported to be a very speedy broken-field runner who has been turning in long, national runs ranging from 77 to 120 to 5 yards in each of the last three games.

Against these two Hawk backs, each Graves will place John Lee and Que Meason, two of the best back carriers ever to wear a Wildcat uniform, and the team tomorrow night is expected to be a close game.

Wildcat Subs Beat Quitaque By 19-13 Score

Crowell's Wildcat understudies played to Quitaque last Friday night to soundly outplay the Class Quitaque team and hang up an 19-13 victory.

The reserves, sparked by A. Y. De H. C. Brown and Jimmie Williams, swept the Quitaque boys over the field with ease during the first half of the game and won a 10-0 lead.

M. E. Thompson, Foard County administrative assistant, tendered his resignation, which will become effective on Nov. 1, to the county committee last Thursday.

JOHN CLARK LONG ELEVATED TO EAGLE SCOUT AT COURT OF HONOR HELD TUESDAY NIGHT

John Clark Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Long, who had completed the work necessary to obtain an Eagle badge, was presented with the badge at the Court of Honor held in the district court room Tuesday night beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

The badge was presented by Field Executive S. K. Ayers of Vernon in a very impressive ceremony. This is the highest rank that can be obtained by a Boy Scout and John Clark is the first scout in Foard County to receive this distinction.

The Court of Honor held Tuesday night was attended by a large crowd and was in charge of Judge Claude Calaway, district chairman, assisted by John E. Long, district commissioner. The meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. Geo. E. Tyson of Truett and the congregation was led in singing "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You," by Mr. Ayers.

One hundred and eighty-six second class badges, six first class badges, six star badges, one life badge, one Eagle badge and 81 merit badges were distributed to Boy Scouts of Crowell and Truett at this meeting.

DICK TODD IS MAKING GOOD ON PRO GRID

Dick Todd of Crowell, who made gridiron history with the Crowell Wildcats and the Texas A. & M. Aggies, now appears well on his way to make a name for himself in professional football circles, according to information concerning his play with the Washington Redskins in his first year of pro football.

Washington sports writers have written much in praise of Todd's ball carrying and numerous action pictures and cartoons have appeared in the northern papers but very little of this has reached Crowell.

At the first of the season, Coach Ray Flaherty of the Redskins seemed a bit pessimistic concerning (Continued on Last Page)

National F. F. A. Convention Delegate Returned Saturday

Harvey Crossen, representative of the Crowell Chapter of Future Farmers of America at the national convention in Kansas City on Oct. 16 to 20, returned home last Saturday.

Harvey was sent to the convention by the Crowell Chapter to gain recognition for the chapter and to bring back any information that he might receive during his stay there. A summary of his trip was given by him to the local chapter Monday.

The highlights as given by Harvey were that the convention was held in the municipal auditorium in Kansas City. The American Royal contained the livestock, meat exhibits and horse show. A special banquet was held Wednesday night, Oct. 18, and was attended by most of the 4,000 F. F. A. boys present at the convention. Side trips made by the Crowell delegate were a visit to Swift & Company packing house, union depot, municipal airport and the soldiers' memorial building.

Since the special bus from West Texas was loaded, Harvey caught a special train at Fort Worth on Sunday morning, Oct. 15. He returned to Fort Worth by train last Thursday afternoon, coming from that city to Crowell by bus.

The round trip with all expenses cost $25.75, one-half of the amount being paid by the local chapter.

MANY TAX PAYERS TAKING ADVANTAGE OF STATE, COUNTY, SCHOOL TAX DISCOUNT: RECORD SET FOR EARLY TAX PAYMENTS

A large number of Foard County tax payers have taken advantage of the three per cent discount being offered on state, county and school taxes paid during October and, so far, there have been more returns made than in any year in the history of the county, according to reports from the tax assessor-collector.

Those who pay their 1939 state, county or school taxes during the remaining days of this month will receive a discount of three per cent. Tuesday, Oct. 24, is the last day on which tax payers can take advantage of this discount.

During November the discount will be lowered to two per cent, and in December it will be one per cent. The tax collectors urge tax payers to take advantage of this offer and pay their taxes early to save the discount.

Shirley A. W. Lilly, state and county tax assessor-collector, stated that during this month his office had been rushed as it ordinarily is during the first month of the year. Tax collections have reached a high peak and Shirley Lilly estimates that approximately fifty per cent of the current taxes will be collected during this month.

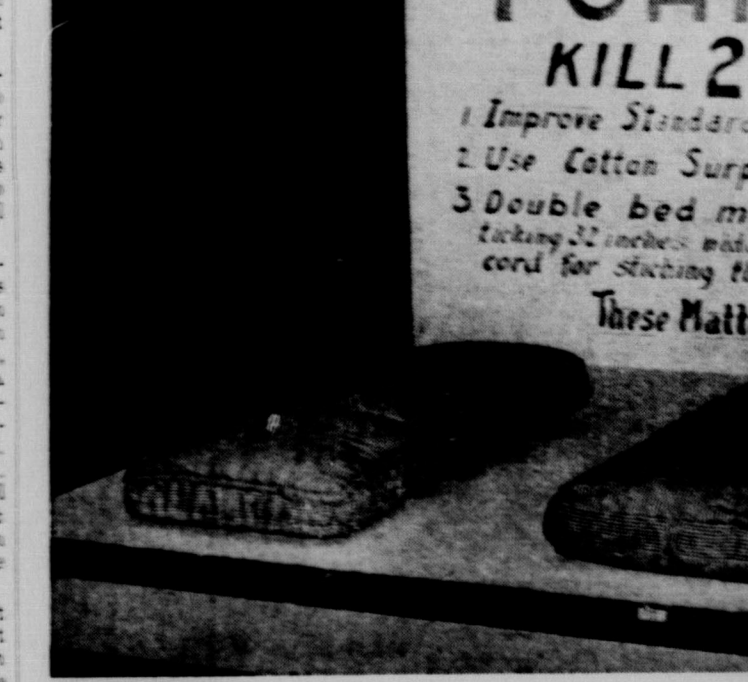

L. A. Andrews, tax assessor-collector for the Crowell Independent School District, also reports a rush of tax paying during the month. Wednesday afternoon, his collections equaled forty per cent of the current rolls, and Mr. Andrews estimated that approximately twenty per cent of the total taxes on the 1939 rolls would be paid during the remaining five week days of the month. Should this percentage be paid before Nov. 1, at which time the discount drops to two per cent, sixty per cent of the current school taxes will be collected.

The City of Crowell did not allow the discount on payment of current taxes this year.

FOARD COUNTY KILL 2 BIRDS WITH 1 STONE

Local Scouters Conduct Annual Booster Roundup; Start With Breakfast Meeting Tuesday

Starting with a breakfast in a downtown cafe at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning, the annual roundup of boosters for Scouting in the Northwest Texas Council got underway in this district. The group is being coordinated by all of the council committees of the district and will carry over the financial program for Scouting for the year starting October 1, 1939.

The local roundup is under the leadership of the District Executive Committee headed by John Rouse and the organization is composed of J. A. Spivak, president and adult chairman, and John E. Long, Scout publicity chairman, while the actual roundup is in the hands of J. E. Beverly who acts as Range Boss and has the following tag bands: Pete Bell, Mark Knott, T. S. Staley, A. Y. Stevens and Dwight Moody. These men are being assisted by the following helpers: C. E. Seale, Thomas Houghton, F. S. Thomas, W. S. Ferguson, J. A. Ward, E. E. Ferguson, S. E. Latham, J. E. Latham, J. George Self, W. S. Weaver, Harry Black, J. W. Stover, Robert C. Brown, Ray Archer, H. K. Edwards, J. P. Davidson, M. M. Wirth, S. B. Stead, Gordon Bell, Harry Borchardt and E. S. Patton, all of Crowell, and A. S. Williams and J. C. Jones of Thalia, and Guyon Hickman and S. O. Turner of Truett.

These men are each interviewing their friends, interesting them in the program of Scouting and securing their assistance in making the program even larger as it progresses. S. K. Ayers, local field Scout executive, is spending the week in Crowell acting as director of the roundup and assisting local members of boys' units, and eleven years in establishing the program of cubbing for their boys. This program is the youngest boy program of the Boy Scouts and any mother interested in having their sons entering it should contact John E. Long, District Commissioner. The hearty response being given both the Roundup and cubbing is indeed proof that Scouting is meaning a lot to our district and will with the cooperation of all grow into a program that we can all well be even more proud.

Former Crowell Druggist Died at Plainview Sat.

Funeral services were held in Plainview Sunday afternoon for E. F. Hart, 83, retired pioneer West Texas druggist, who died Saturday at the home of a son, Ed C. Hart, following an illness of several months.

Mr. Hart operated the first drug store in Crowell which he opened here in the fall of 1891, following the organization of the county and town in the latter part of April of that year. He was in the drug business in Crowell for 21 years, selling his store in 1912 to Dr. Himes Clark and the late D. M. Ferebee. W. S. J. Russell bought Mr. Ferebee's interest and in the fall of 1917 the interest that was owned by Dr. Clark was bought by T. P. Reeder of Knox City. Mr. Reeder has operated the store almost continuously since that time.

A Mason for 50 years and a lifelong member of the Methodist Church, Mr. Hart was a leader in building up of both these institutions in Crowell during his residence here. He was also active in all other civic improvements in Crowell.

Besides the son at Plainview, other survivors are: Monroe and George Hart, Glendale, Calif.; J. L. Hart, Vernon; John Hart, Grandview; Mrs. J. A. Steding, Jefferson City, Mo.; all children; four brothers and sisters, Tom Hart, Archer City; Jim Hart, Matador; Mrs. John Chatham, Plainview, and Mrs. Emma Shackles, Archer City.

What We Think
(By Frank Dixon)

Whatever things are of good report—think on these things—Phil. 4:8.

California will vote November 7 on the "Ham and Egg" issue. The former vote was 1,143,370 for and 1,398,999 against. The "Ham and Egg" program would provide $30 every Thursday to every one over fifty. The plan to be voted on in November provides for a $20,000,000 bond issue and a 3 per cent tax on incomes over $3,000. The bounty would be paid in thirty one dollar warrants each Thursday. Each warrant would require a 2 cent stamp to be attached each week. If one kept a warrant in his possession two weeks two stamps would have to be affixed. The purpose is to encourage the immediate spending of all the money by every one into whose possession it might come. The real test of such a plan would come in getting merchants who have to pay wholesale bills in real money to accept funny money that depreciates two per cent a week or 8 per cent a month.

The money that is spent in war and the preparation for war by the several nations of the world could, if devoted to constructive things, completely change conditions throughout the world. It could buy everything ten times over that has been fought for—except liberty itself.

For every man who succeeds after quitting school in the grades to take up a trifling job of work when necessity did not compel, there are ten thousand who have lived to regret their folly in failing to get all the education they could while they could.

We believe in free speech, but we also believe that free speech should be limited to naturalized Americans. To all others free speech should be limited to discussion of their own country and its government.

It brings to all of life a new meaning, a new design for living, when a man realizes that he is part of God's plan in this universe and has a place in the scheme of things that calls for the very best that in him lies.

The most indefensible, and in fact, the only argument that has been advanced by those in sympathy with Hitler for the present war and the theft of Poland is that Germany needs more territory to care for a growing population. The argument is advanced by Hitler with the same astounding presumption and effrontery with which all of his demands are made.

Even though Hitler has used every means at his command to bring about an increase in population in Germany and has propagandized the effort to the utmost there has been no marked increase in the population of Germany. Even though there had been a radical increase in the population of the country the fact would not justify the seizure of the territory of another nation.

By the same premise there is not a nation in the world who would not be justified in waging war upon some weaker nation for the possession of some needed resource.

The United States, the largest user of rubber in the world, does not own any territory upon which rubber is produced, hence according to Hitler's reasoning it is entitled to go out, seize rubber plantations wherever it may find them and annex them to this country. The same thing is true in the matter of spices, tea, coffee, tin, and a hundred other items that enter largely into industry and commerce.

The United States is justified, if Hitler's reasoning is correct, in propagandizing her people until they believe they are entitled to seize these things wherever we can find them and make them our own—even though it is necessary to drive out and destroy the people now living there and inflict our system of government upon them, as Hitler did in Poland.

Nations have a responsibility to see to it that they do not grow their territory, and, if they do it is an error they should pay for themselves rather than require other nations to pay for it by giving up their territory.

If Germany outgrew her territory she alone was responsible and should have suffered the consequences and paid for it herself. She had no right to require Poland to pay it. No more right than the man with a six-room house who raises a family too large for his house, has to go over to his neighbor and murder him and drive out his family and take his home.

To defend such an act would be silly and the man who committed the crime or even advanced such an argument for it would be locked up in an institution that society might not become the victim of his insanity.

The action of Hitler is even more indefensible and reprehensible when it is remembered that the program he is carrying out is but a part of a carefully laid plan to dominate the world. He professes now to desire peace, but his only desire for it is, that he may consolidate his gains and get

Children Should Be Given Diphtheria Toxoid Early in Life

Austin.—One preventable disease, diphtheria, has been responsible for 1,279 deaths in Texas during the past four years, according to the records of the Texas State Department of Health. The majority of these deaths were among children less than four years old, and were all preventable had these children been properly immunized prior to contracting the disease.

Prevention of diphtheria in children is a simple matter of inoculation with toxoid. If your child is six months old or more, take him to your family physician and have diphtheria toxoid administered. The technique of inoculation causes the child no discomfort. In approximately 90 per cent of children receiving toxoid, there will be established a life-time immunity to the disease.

To be sure that this immunity has been established in your child, six months after the first dose of toxoid, he should be taken to the physician to be Schick tested to determine his positive immunity against diphtheria. The test consists of injecting a few drops of diphtheria toxin between the layers of the skin. If the child is immune no reaction will be noted. If not, there will appear some redness at the site of injection in three or four days.

Increased education of the general public on the importance of diphtheria inoculation has resulted in decreased death rates from diphtheria. Year by year mortality from diphtheria is decreasing, as witness the fact that in Texas 457 children died from diphtheria in 1935; 351 in 1936; 238 in 1937; and 233 in 1938.

You can help the Texas State Department of Health attain a goal of not one death a year from diphtheria, and protect your loved ones by seeing that they are immunized at once.

Germany normally imports food stuffs to the amount of $390,000,000 annually.

American Red Cross supplies householders and farmers with a check list of accident hazards in fight against large annual death toll. Hazards shown: top left, mowers, harrows and other farm machinery, left in gear when making repairs, may result in grave injury to farmer. Top right: pointed shears in the hands of children are as dangerous as matches. Below right: most home accidents are due to falls, and scatter rugs on polished floors should be anchored by use of non-skid lining as shown.

HOME mishaps kill or injure many more persons than motor vehicles, yet the average household faces traffic with misgiving and relaxes at home. Each year hazards injure more than 100,000 persons engaged in farm work, yet the farmer fails to take safety precautions which the factory worker adopts as a matter of course.

Together home and farm work accidents last year killed 35,400 adults and children and injured the staggering number of 4,750,000 persons.

To combat this annual accident scourge the American Red Cross launched a nation-wide program in 1935 to acquaint householders and farm workers with the hazards coincident with their work and home life. This year more than 1900 Red Cross chapters are sponsoring this task in the communities they serve.

On October 23 the annual Red Cross campaign will begin throughout the nation to assist householders to discover and eliminate hazards liable to cause accidents in the home. Members of the American Junior Red Cross and their schoolmates will distribute check lists to parents and assist in examining their own homes and in removing hazards. This Red Cross warning reaches more than 9,000,000 homes and farms each year.

The Red Cross stresses the need of removing hazards which may cause falls, as this type of accident resulted in more than half of last year's home accident fatalities. Among chief causes are poorly lighted stairs, loose railings, small rugs improperly anchored and children's toys left about. Burns and explosions caused the next heaviest loss of life, 5,300 being killed in 1933 by this type of accident, and the Red Cross self-check list points to the danger of scalding liquids in pots and pans left near the edge of then relaxed to protect their lead and depend upon the toe of Brown to keep their opponents at bay.

The Crowell offense was started rolling with the opening kickoff with a return to the Crowell 40. Running at the line three times Olds made 20 yards. On an end-around play, Williams, bright passing prospect, shot a pass to Ted Crosnoe, back, to place the ball on the Quitaque 10-yard line. Olds, quarterback, on a fake play, slipped through the center of the line to cross over onto pay dirt standing up.

Later, after holding Quitaque, the reserves took a punt in their own territory and running plays by Flesher, Brown and Olds carried the ball to the opponents' 30. Again Williams connected with a spiral to Crosnoe for 15 yards to put the ball in scoring position. Olds circled left end for the touchdown.

Crowell's last touchdown came with the opening of the second half when Olds, with excellent blocking from his teammates, tucked the ball under his arm on his own 25-yard line and picked his way through the falling Quitaque players for a touchdown.

After Crowell's third touchdown, the reserves let their offense rest and settled down to hold the lead and then Quitaque got underway.

On a play originating on the 50-yard line, Drake, Quitaque back, flipped a 20-yard pass to Latham, back, who ran the remaining 30 yards. The extra point was converted. The opponents' second touchdown was also made from a pass when Drake shot a 20 yard toss to Lee, end, and Lee ran the other 20 yards.

One of the features of the game was the quick-kicking of Brown, who got the ball away from the Crowell goal line twice during the scrimmage with long punts. His first boot came just before the first half closed when he kicked out on the Quitaque 10-yard stripe from his own 20. Again, late in the game, he got off another spectacular kick with the ball traveling 62 yards and going out-of-bounds on the Quitaque 8.

Murrell Diggs and Glendon Russell stood out in the Crowell line on defense, while the entire Crowell lineup turned in "heads-up" defensive play.

Latham starred for Quitaque with his offensive and defensive play. He handled the safety position and stopped Brown and Olds several times after they had cleared the Quitaque secondary.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Hughton returned Wednesday from Denton where they visited their daughter, Miss Mary Elizabeth, a student in Texas State College for Women.

Mr. and Mrs. George Isbell of Munday and their daughter, Mrs. Bill Meadors, and children, George Anna and Billy, of Amarillo visited Mrs. G. W. Walthal Sunday.

Bernice Fitzgerald Best of Baylor's Wingmen Prospects

Reports from the Baylor sports department and Waco newspapers are that Bernice Fitzgerald, all-district end of the Crowell regional champions of last year, is headed for a position on the Bears' varsity squad next year.

Following is a report from the Baylor sports department: "Bernice Fitzgerald of Crowell turned in a good performance last Thursday when the Baylor frosh grid team defeated Lamar Jr. College from Beaumont 34 to 0. "Fitzgerald is a 200-pound end for the freshmen and he showed up as a heavy, speedy lineman both on defensive and offensive plays.

"Freshman Coach Jim Crow says that Fitzgerald will really go places next year and that he expects the Crowell youth to give somebody on the varsity a lot of competition."

The following paragraphs were taken from Waco papers: "The end slots have seen a great battle for recognition among several players. Big Bernice Fitzgerald is doubtless the best of the lot and is a fine conversion artist."

Wildcats Heavier

Just because most dopesters have predicted the Hawks to win Friday night is no reason that the Wildcats will go down in defeat and from all hope that comes to hand it appears that the Wildcats have an excellent chance for victory. There will not be much difference in the backfields. Crowell's line is stronger and the last bit of information received is that the Hawks are very light, so with the Wildcats playing "heads-up" football, they should surprise district fans and dopesters by dumping the Iowa Park lads.

Iowa Park—

to settle down to a battle between these opposing swivel-hipped backs.

Iowa Park fans have been asking for some time, "who's this guy Freddie Brown?" and the Hawks will be at a disadvantage if they have neglected to learn a little about Orr, Meason and the Crowell linemen, as all will be at top form tomorrow night and local fans already know just what the Wildcats can do when they get started.

Wildcats Underdogs

Sports observers who saw the Wildcats' performances against the Bulldogs and Eagles and the Hawks playing against weaker clubs, give Iowa Park the nod in the scrap tomorrow night, but as dope stacks up to local observers, the Crowell boys have the stronger team, if it can be started clicking as it was against the Paducah Dragons, Crowell's last game before five Wildcats received injuries that turned the local team from a charging club to a waiting one.

As to the backfield one must admit Crowell has met the stronger opposition, both from opposing teams and injuries, and Crowell will be the strongest team that the Hawks have met this season, so if the Wildcats will keep the ball rolling at full speed throughout the fray, dopesters will be wondering why in the world they did not think that the twice-defeated Wildcats were as strong as they really are.

In spite of the fact that Iowa Park is given the edge in the backfield, Wildcat followers will, at the moment, say it is a toss up there and hope that Orr and Meason are at top form.

The principal difference in the two teams is in the line. Iowa Park fans say that the Hawk line is not too powerful, while tomorrow night Crowell will have probably the strongest line in the district, as it will be in shape to return to its charging game.

Crowell's end combination of Wayne Canup and Dick Smith gives it outstanding wingmen on both defensive and offensive plays. Oran Johnson is unquestionably the most powerful tackle in the district and Charlie Clark can hold his own against his opponents.

In Jack Fitzgerald, all-district center, the Wildcats have the strongest pivot man in the district. He turned in sparkling performances in the first two games of the season and can be depended upon to help stop McKinnon.

If Orr and Meason are to run, Murphy Sollis and Frank Dunn, guards, must be connecting with their blocks and Coach Graves has voiced satisfaction as to their condition for the Hawks. If fans will watch these two guards, they will see how Crowell's speedsters will see how Crowell's speedsters

This clipping came from a paper telling of scrimmages before the Baylor-Arkansas game: "The Cubs, schooled on Arkansas plays for the past week, unleashed an effective passing attack against the Bears. Big Bernice Fitzgerald, bright wing prospect from Crowell, was on the receiving end of most of the touchdowns, snaring one for touchdown.

Wildcats Underdogs

Sports observers who saw the Wildcats' performances against the Bulldogs and Eagles and the Hawks playing against weaker clubs, give Iowa Park the nod in the scrap tomorrow night, but as dope stacks up to local observers, the Crowell boys have the stronger team, if it can be started clicking as it was against the Paducah Dragons, Crowell's last game before five Wildcats received injuries that turned the local team from a charging club to a waiting one.

As to the backfield one must admit Crowell has met the stronger opposition, both from opposing teams and injuries, and Crowell will be the strongest team that the Hawks have met this season, so if the Wildcats will keep the ball rolling at full speed throughout the fray, dopesters will be wondering why in the world they did not think that the twice-defeated Wildcats were as strong as they really are.

In spite of the fact that Iowa Park is given the edge in the backfield, Wildcat followers will, at the moment, say it is a toss up there and hope that Orr and Meason are at top form.

The principal difference in the two teams is in the line. Iowa Park fans say that the Hawk line is not too powerful, while tomorrow night Crowell will have probably the strongest line in the district, as it will be in shape to return to its charging game.

Crowell's end combination of Wayne Canup and Dick Smith gives it outstanding wingmen on both defensive and offensive plays. Oran Johnson is unquestionably the most powerful tackle in the district and Charlie Clark can hold his own against his opponents.

In Jack Fitzgerald, all-district center, the Wildcats have the strongest pivot man in the district. He turned in sparkling performances in the first two games of the season and can be depended upon to help stop McKinnon.

If Orr and Meason are to run, Murphy Sollis and Frank Dunn, guards, must be connecting with their blocks and Coach Graves has voiced satisfaction as to their condition for the Hawks. If fans will watch these two guards, they will see how Crowell's speedsters will see how Crowell's speedsters

This clipping came from a paper telling of scrimmages before the Baylor-Arkansas game: "The Cubs, schooled on Arkansas plays for the past week, unleashed an effective passing attack against the Bears. Big Bernice Fitzgerald, bright wing prospect from Crowell, was on the receiving end of most of the touchdowns, snaring one for touchdown.

Christian Science Services
"Everlasting Punishment" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 29.

The Golden Text is: "Cast away from you all your transgressions, whereby ye have transgressed; and make you a new heart and a new spirit: for why will ye die, O house of Israel?" (Ezekiel 18:31). Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "If thou, Lord, shouldst mark iniquities, O Lord, who shall stand? But there is forgiveness with thee, that thou mayest be feared" (Psalms 130:3, 4).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Let us remember that the eternal law of right, though it can never annul the law which makes sin its own executioner, exempts man from all penalties but those due for wrong-doing" (page 385).

Methodist News Notes
After conferring with the officials of the Christian Church, it seems preferable that we do not call off the regular service at the Methodist Church next Sunday. It is believed that the number of people desiring to attend the anniversary will be such that there will not be room to accommodate them if we call off the services at the Methodist Church. Any of our people desiring to attend this anniversary should feel free to do so.

So next Sunday will be the fifth and last of our Loyalty Sundays. We urge you to make this the best and most meaningful of them all. Regular services both morning and evening. There are only three more Sundays before conference. Let us close out the year with success and high attendance.
E. L. YEATS, Pastor.

Our Weekly Sermon

By Rev. Henry Ostrom, D. D., Member of Extension Staff, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

Folded Napkins
Text—And another came, saying, Lord, here is thy pound, which I have kept laid up in a napkin.—Luke 19:20.

In the parable of the pounds, the servants were called to give account of the money intrusted to them for investment. "When the first was called he said, 'Lord, thy pound hath gained ten pounds.'" The second man said, "Lord, thy pound hath gained five pounds." But when the third man came forward to make his report, he produced the original pound in a napkin, that is a sweat-towel.

In our Lord's parable, work that makes one sweat so that he cannot hide the tokens of it, is what proved acceptable. Of the three men in this parable, two produce the money gained by attention to business, but this third man announces possession of only the pound originally intrusted to him, and adds to it the sweat-towel in which he had placed it, so that all we see is the absence of earning and the towel. He seems to be saying, "See how nicely I have kept this money; am I not neat and orderly." But he is met with well-deserved rebuke. It is the earnings of their investments and not a napkin that we find in the other men's reports. This man is neat but bankrupt. He is an idler rather than an investor. Better would it be if he ignored the towel entirely. He is too orderly to be useful. He is an idle formalist. Orderliness and fancifulness often go together. It is not that orderliness is wrong, but here it is substituted for activity. You see the fancifulness of this man. He fancied that the householder who gave him this money to invest, was an austere man. This and the laundried sweat-towel tell the story. Surely he exhibits absurd imagining.

Now, in the Christian plan we are duty-bound to attend to business. God Himself is the investor in many respects, and we are to produce the returns. There is His good providence day by day, sustaining us in life with all His providing of food and shelter. There is the opening up of His precious Word by the way, and our opportunities of witnessing for Christ—witnessing that may rescue a soul forever. Oh, His providence has multiplied parts and portions. All this is an investment, not provided for spending for naught upon our own crude and failing projects, but to be used to bring returns acceptable to God's holy will. It is up to us, not only that we should not spend all His gracious providences wastefully, but that we should not ignore them, and give evidence of that by never needing to use the sweat-towel. It would have been better if this man had not once said the word "towel," but had presented at the time of reckoning the money earned by work that made him sweat. If God's good providence calls for returns from us, what shall we say of redemption at the cross. There Christ's precious blood was shed not only to give the believer a guarantee of heaven after this present life, but to result here and now as a good investment in behalf of our fellow-men. A certain ability is given to each for using opportunities to win others to Christ. It cannot be consigned when the opportunity is here, to the preacher in the pulpit. It is for each Christian. One may have five times the responsibility of another, but God uses the "weak things and the base things and the despised things," so that the issue culminates in the need of using the sweat-towel for its original purpose, that at the judgment seat of Christ the labor may be forgotten and the results gained shall receive His approval.

NOBODY'S BUSINESS

BY JULIAN CAPEIS JR.

Austin.—The firm belief that there will be no special session of the Texas legislature was virtually unanimous among political observers here, following the visit of Lieutenant Governor Coke Stevenson, of Junction, and his statement to the press after the conference with Gov. O'Daniel. Stevenson told reporters that unless an agreed plan of taxation can be worked out in advance of a special session, it "would be a waste of time" to call the session.

Stevenson is a conservative in his legislative views, holding to much the same beliefs as the large interests which have been seeking ever since O'Daniel was inaugurated to write into the fundamental law of the land. He represented a conservative constituency, made up of large ranch owners while in the House. He believes in a sales tax, and in his strenuous runoff campaign against P. Pierce Brooks, the large interests of the state which have long sought to replace ad valorem state taxes with a sales tax, came loyally to Stevenson's aid. Gov. O'Daniel endorsed Stevenson, and the belief of many observers here is that the endorsement was a major factor in Stevenson's winning.

Coke's Position Curious

There is some disposition to wonder, however, how the Lieutenant Governor, who is an able lawyer and a real authority on the Texas constitution, can consistently advocate that the legislators abrogate their constitutional oath of office, waive their rights as law-makers, and commit themselves blindly in advance to a taxation bill proposed by the chief executive. Observers feel reasonably certain that a majority of neither house nor senate will do so. The logical step then, for O'Daniel, is to announce this fact, declare he cannot get the legislators to agree, and refuse to call a session. The political strategy of such a course is good. The vast majority of laymen do not understand the legal separation of the functions of the executive and the legislative branches. They do not know that the legislators are supreme in matters of taxation, and that the constitution prohibits any such subversive course as O'Daniel requests, even if they were willing to accede to his request.

Freight Rate Action

The Texas Railroad Commission made history this week when it ordered abolished on intrastate freight shipments the 15 per cent differential now charged in certain West Texas territory and the Rio Grande valley by the railroads. The roads imposed this extra charge years ago, on the theory that a higher rate was justified in a sparsely settled region. Population increases in the valley and West Texas has largely eliminated the excuse for the gouge, and the Commission ruled it could no longer be collected by the railroads.

Mann Rides Again

Jerry Mann, the triple-threat Attorney General, scored another large gain for the farmers of Texas, unless the courts later declare the play offside, when he filed suit against eleven rice milling concerns, charging violation of the State's anti-trust laws. Mann accuses the rice millers of collusive buying and price fixing in their purchases of rice from producers. He asks penalties ranging from a minimum of $85,000 to a maximum of $25,905,000, but did not seek cancellation of charters. His staff worked two months gathering evidence of the alleged conspiracy, Mann declared.

Cotten Takes Gas Post

Sen. Clay Cotten of Palestine, announced he will accept appointment as chief of the gas utilities division of the Railroad Commission, tendered by Commissioners Lon Smith and Jerry Sadler, after they had summarily fired Olin Culberson, who has held the post since 1933. Sadler declared Culberson was discharged because he failed to file rate reduction suits against the United Gas System. Culberson cited the record to show that United had accepted rate reductions ordered by the Commission in litigation, and had settled many individual rate controversies with city councils. Cotten will resign from the Senate. The appointment pays Cotten out of the race against Judge Tom Beauchamp of the Court of Criminal Appeals, named last week by Gov. O'Daniel to fill out the unexpired term of Judge Morrow, who resigned. It is likely, however, that Beauchamp will have other opponents, including Lloyd Davidson, state prosecutor before the highest criminal court.

Serving 61st Year

Dr. Samuel L. Hornbeck, whose name is synonymous with education in the Southwest, is now in his sixty-first year of active work in Trinity University, Waxahatchie, Texas. Two years ago the veteran educator was stricken with almost total blindness, but even such a handicap as this could not stop him in the field that he chose as a life work. Aided by his gallant wife who has proved the most comforting companion that life had to offer him, Dr. Hornbeck is going about his work of administration and instruction this year with the enthusiasm of one much younger in years.

Your Horoscope

October 22, 23.—Witticism and fun are strong features with you. You work quickly, are sometimes reckless and are resentful. You are a ready speaker and say much in a few words. You would be a success in the business, mechanical world and would make your mark as an executive. Your swift movements are a source of amusement to your friends. You should observe caution.

October 24.—You are envious when others succeed and very resentful if it interferes with your own success. Your friends are extremely fond of you, but are few in number.

October 25, 26.—You pursue success with determination. Jealousy is a main characteristic and makes you suspicious of your close associates. If courtesies are shown you want them all. If you are not satisfied with conditions you set about to change them to your own liking. Your lack of convention and carelessness are extremely displeasing to others.

October 27, 28, 29.—You have a prying disposition which seeks to find the secrets in the lives of your friends. You are a well versed speaker and have a charming manner of conviction. Your enthusiasm carries your associates before you and you are apt to spend too much energy for others which depletes your strength. People confide in you and you do not always respect their confidence.

Two Minute Sermon

(By Thomas Hastwell)

The Second Mile: In the book of Matthew appears the command by Christ: "And whosoever shall compel thee to go a mile, go with him twain." Many persons I think, read this important verse little thinking of what it means, or of the deep, underlying principles of human psychology it contains. When one merely goes the first mile he performs only his duty. He does only what he has to do. There is little soul culture to be gained in merely doing what one has to do. The things that one does in going the second mile are the things that enrich the soul, and make life full, and cause it to reach out in wider, and wider circles of influence and blessing. The finest rewards of doing, all come in the second mile. Making this simple truth the practice of life is the secret of happier, richer and larger.

County Health Units Big Benefit to Texas

Austin.—On September 1, 1939, statistics from the State Health Department showed that 34 per cent of the population of Texas, or 2,144,536 persons, were being protected against communicable diseases through the functions of full-time county and city health departments in 23 counties and 2 cities independent of the counties. These local health units carry out a well-balanced public health program to keep the well person well, and to further safeguard the health of individuals by reducing to a minimum the various communicable diseases rendered combatable by modern public health methods.

Public health, over a score of years, has rendered combatable such diseases as typhoid, diphtheria, smallpox, malaria, undulant fever, tuleremia, yellow fever, trichinosis, hookworm, the dysenteries, and the venereal diseases. The health of any geographically defined area, i. e., city or county, is in direct proportion to the amount of energy and money judiciously and scientifically expended for the protection of the health of the people of that area.

Twenty-six additional counties, with a population of 476,300, are protecting the health of their respective communities by a partial full-time health service wherein nurses, trained in public health, work in collaboration with the local part-time health officials and the medical profession under the guidance of the State Health Department.

Thus, through full-time county health units and nursing services 42 per cent of the population of the State in 49 densely populated counties, and 2 cities exclusive of counties, are protecting the health of their communities with the most up-to-date public health practices available. There remains 58 per cent of the total Texas population, scattered over 205 counties, unprotected against diseases through any function of local health departments.

It has also been demonstrated in other states that in such counties, due, both to relative uncongestion of population, and for economic reasons, co-operative health departments set up for two or more counties will give the benefits of health work commensurate with the other counties, at a relatively cheaper cost. Establishment of local health departments in Texas' counties and cities, in collaboration with the State Health Department, the United States Public Health Service, and the Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor, has expanded over 300 per cent since 1936.

The standard personnel of a local health department includes a director, a nurse, and a sanitary engineer, all trained in public health, and a clerical force, to adequately supervise in the county the public health activities comprising communicable disease control, maternal hygiene, infant hygiene, preschool hygiene, school hygiene, sanitation of water, sewage, food, milk, and school systems, special programs adapted to the health problems of the locale, and work in tuberculosis and venereal disease control.

Persons and groups interested in securing such health protection for their counties are requested to write the State Health Department for further information on the county health unit plan as operative in Texas.

90-HOUR WINTER GRIND

spared your OIL-PLATED engine

You need your engine OIL-PLATED now by patented Conoco Germ Processed oil to wipe out doubts of decent oiling during starting—when unplated engines wear worst. (6 or 8 minutes of such wear, repeated 6 or 8 times a day through these cold months, mounts up beyond 90 hours!)... 90 life-sapping hours for engines abandoned to oils that can only "flow fast"... but no oil-starvation in 90 hours or 900 hours, when your engine's OIL-PLATED.

The "magnetic" action of Germ Processed oil gives every square inch in your engine a slippery overlay of OIL-PLATING—attached as firmly as chromium-plating. And could any plating drain down when you park in any cold, for any length of time? Then you know why OIL-PLATING—drain-proof—is ready to lubricate before you're even ready to get out of bed, or away from work. Before any oil-pump could squirt a drop, your drain-proof OIL-PLATING has readied your engine for safe, easy starting. That's how you get the drop on the worst of Winter by OIL-PLATING now with Conoco Germ Processed oil. Keeps up your engine—your battery—your oil-level, too. Change now to Your Mileage Merchant. Shower Last Friday Evening Honors Mr. and Mrs. H. Ashford

Mrs. L. W. Greenway and Mrs. Harry Adams were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower honoring Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ashford last Friday evening at the Ashford home.

The guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Henry Ross and asked to register at the bride's book which was presided over by Miss Virginia Adams.

A short program included a song by Miss Adams and Miss Maggie Starnes and a clever reading, "A Pioneer Cabin," by Mrs. P. S. Lovelady. Mrs. Greenway and Mrs. E. V. Robinson gave a dialogue of fifty years ago. Following the program, games were played by the guests.

The honor guests were asked to follow a string which led to the many beautiful and useful gifts which had been arranged in an adjoining room.

Punch was served by Misses Dorothy Alston, Mary Louise Cauthan and Maggie Starnes.

HARMONY CLUB

Miss Cora Carter was leader of an interesting program on "Music in Other Lands," at the meeting of the Harmony Club Friday afternoon at the Adelphean club house at which time Mesdames Claude Brooks, E. C. King and T. B. Burrow were hostesses.

Mrs. Geo. Self talked on the music of the Gypsy, the Russian, the Scotch, the Indian, and the Spanish people and after each talk illustration was made by a musical number of that country. The Gypsy Love Song was given by a group of high school girls in costume. Bettie Zeibig, Virginia Adams, Mary Evelyn Edwards, Wanda Evans and Evelyn Fletcher, Jean Orr, in Russian costume, played "Melody in F" as a piano solo.

The Scotch music was given by Bonita Liles, dressed as a Scotch lassie, who sang "My Laddie." A Spanish dance was done by Beverly Hughtson and Doris Campbell, who wore Spanish attire. These numbers were accompanied by Miss Anne Lee Long.

Mrs. Alva Spencer played a violin solo, "Kashmiri Long Song," which interpreted means "Pale Hands I Loved." This represented Indian music and Mrs. Spencer was dressed as an Indian maiden. She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. A. L. Rucker.

The hostesses served a refreshment plate to a large number of members and one guest, Mrs. John Sheffield, of Austin.

A lovely refreshment plate, carrying out the Halloween scheme, was served to the following friends: Mesdames Ray Hysinger, Claude Orr, John Taylor, Arthur Bell, George Wesley, Raymond A. Bell, Joe Bledsoe, Clarence Ross, W. H. Tamplin, Luther Tamplin, Raymond Sikes, William Bradford, G. W. Sikes, Bill Bond, John L. Hunter, Homer Galey, John Stout, Don Culbertson, Leo Owens, A. B. Owens, Jim Owens and Misses Irene and Emma Bell Hunter, Audrey Orr, and Evelyn Monks, and the hostess, Mrs. Dunn, and the honoree, Mrs. Boman.

Dallas Woman Speaker B. & P. W. Conference

Judge Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas, judge of the Fourteenth Judicial District, and state president of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, was the main speaker at the annual conference of District One of B. & P. W. Clubs when it convened in Plainview last week.

Judge Hughes spoke on the obligations of women as citizens of a democracy and of their responsibility in preserving the democratic form of government. She stated that the modern woman has a greater capacity for participating in the economic and political phases of her life than the woman of a few decades ago had because of greater educational advantages.

The next annual meeting of District One will be held in Vernon. Miss Gusta Davis, president of the Crowell B. & P. W. Club, Miss Mayme Lee Collins, Miss Joellene Vannoy and Mrs. M. O'Connell attended the Plainview meeting.

T. E. L. CLASS

The T. E. L. Class of the Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. Frank Moore Thursday, Oct. 19. The devotional was brought by Mrs. W. B. Fitzgerald and the scripture was taken from the 5th chapter of Matthew.

A short business session was held with Mrs. R. L. Taylor, class president, in charge, after which the third chapter of the book, "Our Doctrines," was taught by the pastor, Rev. W. B. Fitzgerald.

A social hour in the form of a school party conducted by Mrs. A. F. Wright, was enjoyed, following which the hostesses, Mrs. C. C. McLaughlin and Mrs. Moore served refreshments in school lunch style.

Clarabel Shops at Crowell

Since Mr. Klepper believes in live and let live, he has agreed to furnish free of charge this column in which the people who sell and the people who buy can get together. Many thanks to our hometown editor.

Before we can say Boo the season of black cats and ghosts will be here again. Speaking of ghosts makes me glad the governor didn't decide to have two Halloween's.

Clarence says he didn't realize a few cents could buy so much. He declared a party would be beyond our budget till he went to see for himself. He came home loaded with masks of all colors and descriptions; so we'll be having a spook party. Masks that have always sold for 5 cents are two for a nickel at the Ben Franklin store; that store will certainly help you save your pennies. And Clarence brought home also an orange derby that will scare the daylight out of any ghost.

Along with the toast every morning I get a sermon on thrift. This morning Clarence put five dollars in my plate, "Shirt money," he said. "For two shirts?" I asked, amazed, for he never pays more than two dollars for a shirt. "No," he exulted, "for five shirts—and E. & W. shirts at that." Of course I obediently went to the Self Dry Goods and purchased the five. Then I bought an extra one from my allowance for Dad's birthday; so I guess I must be thrifty, too.

My winter coat—fresh from the B. & W. Cleaners—makes me appreciate hometown equipment. The Sheen-Clo Cleaning Process makes clothes like new. But the process isn't all of it. Mr. Kenner and Mr. Wright have had twenty years each in cleaning and pressing work, making a total of 40 years experience.

Of course clothes don't make all the man, or make-up all the woman but they both help. The only time I feel like a queen (except when Clarence compliments me) is that restful time when I'm putting in a Boyer Cleaning Cream. One reason I like to save my pennies is that I can buy really good cosmetics. The next time you are in Ferguson Bros. Drug store, notice the attractive Boyer array.

Besides my complexion an item I'm extra careful about is my hose. I always buy a reliable brand. When I found Vanette hosiery at the Bird Dry Goods Store for 79 cents I was very happy over another home bargain. In fact, I gave such a cry of delight that the other customers thought news had just come in that Hitler is devoting the rest of his life to painting.

"Naturals" for the football games and about-town wear these cool nights are the plaid and striped jackets at the Beverly Shop. You can get them within your price range and when you see them you'll know they are the spirit of the typical American girl put into tweed.

Like most American families Clarence and I face the problem of food. And in most American families we look on bread as the staff of life. The other day he took from the oven a loaf of Orr's Veri-Best which I had warmed for supper. "Just smell that beautiful smell," he said, "and look at it. What else can you get that much of for a dime?" Well, actually the way he bragged on it you would have thought Clarence baked it himself.

I actually believe Clarence would go on a sit-down strike if he couldn't have his morning grapefruit. He says they taste better than oranges and are better for you than medicine. Really they are pink grapefruit, fresh from the Rio Grande Valley, and they are delicious. Lanier's Grocery has them six for a quarter.

Clarence has a man's natural craving for steak. I've found that the Haney-Rasor Market keeps beef that has been fattened on Foard County farms. It has that "country" quality in it. Clarence gets an extra spring in his step when he smells steak cooking.

One thing we plan to buy soon is some furniture. Since we have neither the room nor the money for another bedroom suite, we are getting a studio couch. We selected one from those on display at M. S. Henry & Co. It is a deep rose velvet for $239.50. And we couldn't have found a better looking or more economical piece of furniture if we had spent a month's salary driving to Timbuctu to look for one.

That is, of course, even if we had a car. For the past two months Clarence and I have talked about a car. Then yesterday Clarence came in and told me about the Ragsdale Lanier Finance Company that will help us to get our car. It's a surprise to know that we can really buy one. It is rather a big thing for us—this buying a

Truscott Grid Team Bows to Mattson Six By 46-6 Score Friday

The Truscott Bulldogs suffered another defeat last Friday afternoon when they visited the Mattson gridiron and left on the short end of a 46-6 drubbing from the larger Mattson players, who held a weight advantage of approximately 150 pounds per man.

Mattson scored freely throughout the fray and Truscott's lone counter was made in the last quarter when a substitute, Bob Browder, intercepted a Mattson pass and ran 25 yards for a touchdown.

The Bulldogs will rest Friday while Mattson travels to Sunset and Benjamin invades Vera.

The publishing of this column is an experiment and is being printed by The News with the hope that it will create more interest in Crowell as a shopping center for people of this county.

HALLOWEEN CARNIVAL

The Junior Class of Crowell High School is sponsoring a carnival Saturday night at 7:30. In case of fair weather, the carnival will be held in town, and if it is cold or rainy it will be held at the schoolhouse. Everybody is invited and urged to attend.

NAMED ADVISORS

Denton, Oct. 24.—Misses Billie and Juanita Brown of Crowell have met the qualifications of the Advisory Council at Texas State College for Women and have been named advisors to new students this year.

Both girls are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Brown and are in their sophomore year in college. Miss Billie Brown is majoring in business administration and Miss Juanita Brown is majoring in journalism.

Besides a high scholastic standing, the position of advisor demands leadership, dependability and an understanding of college problems. Both girls have been assigned a group of new students for special guidance on the campus.

When Mr. Mabe bought a forty-five dollar renew machine, it was another example that the Crowell business men are trying to give real service. So now at the Crowell Shoe Shop you can have your shoes made like new in any color for 25 cents. The Suede Renew Process is almost blows the renew out of your clothes.

Clarence said we didn't have the money to go to the show any more this month. When I told him I had saved a quarter to see a special show, he was interested. And when I told him it was about the Hardy family, he cleared his throat and grunted and said he might find an extra quarter. It was rather funny because we both knew he wouldn't miss "Andy Hardy Gets Spring Fever."

Someone ought to take the census of Foard County at the next ball game. There is always a common denominator that binds people together. It used to be the Redskin; now it's the pigskin.

Yours for the home town, Claribel.

Dick Todd—

ing his pro club as was shown in the paragraph taken from a column written by Shirley Fovich: "Don't overestimate us this season. Old Siswah will be lucky to win a game. Twelve lettermen have graduated and we're up against it. If we can hold the opposition to a respectable score, that's all we can expect. If we make a first down, I'll be surprised."

Contradictory to this statement, the Redskins are undefeated and share the National Professional League lead with the New York Giants. Washington opened the season against the Philadelphia Eagles, the team on which Texas Christian's Davey O'Brien is playing, and won 7 to 0. The following week the Redskins met the defending champs, the New York Giants, on a muddy field and held them to a 0-0 tie. The next two weeks, the Redskins amassed two of the top-heaviest victories in professional records by defeating the Brooklyn Dodgers by a score of 41-13 and the Pittsburgh Pirates 14-14. The fifth game also ended in a victory for the Redskins over the Pittsburgh team, 21-14.

In the first Pittsburgh game, Todd scored twice in the third quarter. One of his touchdowns came from a 24-yard run and the second was made after he had taken a short pass and ran 29 yards.

Following is a part of a story concerning Todd and Jimmy German, star rookies, which appeared in a Washington paper on Oct. 19:

"A shy, soft-spoken son of a small-town Texas grocer and a handsome 6-foot lad whose father operates a Kentucky night club—they are Washington's newest football heroes.

"A year ago Todd was in the backfield of Texas A. & M., un-reeling scintillating runs that are winning him a high place in the esteem of Washington fans.

"From his talent scout, Coach Ray Flaherty heard about Todd and German. They recommended Todd with a reservation, however. He weighed only 170 pounds and might be too light for professional football. But Flaherty reasoned otherwise. If Todd could do all the things the scout said he could do, he was heavy enough.

"With the Redskins, Todd is in the camp of an old enemy. He played on the 1936 A. & M. team that beat the T. C. U. eleven featuring Sammy Baugh. When Flaherty asked Baugh of Todd's talents, the Redskin passing ace was brief but to the point. Said Baugh: "Grab him."
