FOOTBALL PLAYERS, DADS AND MOTHERS HONORED MON. WITH BANQUET GIVEN BY ROTARIANS

More than twenty football players of the 1939 Crowell High school football team, their mothers and fathers and their coach, Grady Graves, were honor guests at a banquet held Monday evening in the basement of the Methodist Church. Rotary Annis were the guests on this occasion. Outstanding visitors were Rev. Jack Goodykoontz and Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Kirby officiating. The turkey dinner was served at 7 o'clock by the Co-Laborers class of the Methodist Church to about 125 people in a manner that was of distinct credit to the organization and those in charge of the banquet. The invocation was given by Rev. W. B. Fitzgerald, pastor of the Baptist Church. Merl Kincaid, president of the club, extended a welcome to the honored guests and other visitors at the conclusion of the meal and announced that George Self would be in charge of the program. The first number on the program was a brief summary of the Wildcats' season by Henry Ashford, sports writer for The News, who has followed the football squads of Crowell High School for the past three years. Short talks were made by Coach Grady Graves and Supt. I. T. Graves. Mrs. Warner of Quanah gave a pantomime portraying boys and girls of fifty years ago and those of today, which was humorous and entertaining.

L. R. Statser's Sister Succumbs in Abilene

Lee Roy Statser and sisters, Mrs. Luke Graham of McLean, Mrs. Manala Wentz and Miss Tiney Statser of Tulsa, Okla., were in Crowell for a short time Wednesday afternoon. They had been to Abilene on account of the illness and death of their sister, Mrs. J. E. Patterson, of Guyton. Mrs. Patterson died Sunday morning at 12:30 in an Abilene hospital following an illness of nineteen days. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon in the Methodist Church in Merkel with interment in the Merkel cemetery. Mrs. Patterson was Miss Inez Statser before her marriage to Mr. Patterson March 21, 1915. Surviving are the husband and five children, one brother and three sisters. The Statser family lived in Crowell for about eight years, leaving here in 1915.

Vindicates South

When Winston Churchill, first lord of the British admiralty, drew a parallel between the American South of the Civil war and Nazi Germany of today, Mrs. Gerald M. Clark of Jacksonville, Fla., rose in wrath. She demanded, and received on behalf of Southern womanhood, an apology from Churchill, who denied any analogy in his speech.

Ex-Students' Association Plans Meeting

Plans are going ahead here for the annual meeting of the Ex-Students Association of Crowell High School to be held on Monday night, December 25. Leslie Thomas, president, announced that committees to attend to all the details that will be connected with the affair have been appointed and the most enjoyable and entertaining meeting in the history of the association is expected this year. The program will consist of a reception and tea to be held at the Premier Hotel. The entertainment committee is arranging a program about one hour in length that will be of interest to all. Plans for an Ex-Students' dance to be held in Crowell immediately after the reception are being worked out and definite arrangements will be announced next week. An invitation is extended to every graduate of Crowell High School, and as this will be the first meeting of the association in two years, a large number of the exes are expected to attend. Those in charge of the event ask that all exes who expect to be in Crowell on Christmas night to write Mr. Thomas in the near future.

Foard County Receives First General Rain In Fifty-One Days

Three hundred and ten years ago the Pilgrims landed in New England, only to be faced with a terrible winter. Only half survived the hardships of the first year. Those spared carried on dauntlessly, and lived and prospered. We should give thanks for their example. The virtues of self-discipline and perseverance are still the source of prosperity. As we observe this Thanksgiving on Thursday, Nov. 30, we wish for you and yours the best of health and happiness.

Foard County received its first rain in fifty-one days Tuesday night when a gentle rain started falling. The drizzle changed to a light, steady rain during the night and continued falling throughout Wednesday. A rain measurement at the Crowell State Bank at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon showed .46 of an inch, and after several hours of steady, slow rain, it is believed that the total had mounted to approximately .75 of an inch at the time of this writing, Wednesday night. The county has been in the grip of a drought for the past three months as less than two inches of rain has fallen since wheat was harvested, and it has been received in small, scattered showers. The longest cold spell of the winter, to date, has gripped this section during the past week after snow had fallen in neighboring states. The weather here grew colder Tuesday morning and after a full day of overcast skies, the long-awaited rain started falling to give hopes for a wet month of December with a good season for the county's wheat. The last rainfall to be recorded in Crowell was on Oct. 8 when .96 of an inch fell. No rain fell during September and on August 30, 1.6 inches of moisture were recorded. On Nov. 30, of last year, 27.23 inches of rain had fallen in the county, as compared with 18.40 inches for the first eleven months of this year. Unusual as it might seem, the past four months of this year has received more rain than during the same period of last year. During August, September, October and November, 1939, 4.13 inches of rain fell, but over half of that came early in August. In the same four months of last year, 2 inches of rainfall were recorded, but were received, scatteringly, during the latter two months.

WILDCATS FINISH IN 3RD PLACE; CROWELL HAS BEST GRID RECORD OF ANY SCHOOL IN DISTRICT 9-A

The Crowell High School Wildcats closed the 1939 football season last Thursday night in third place of the District 9-A conference standing with a 37-13 defeat over the Holiday Eagles. This is a good record for a team following a regional championship club which lost such players as Bernine Fitzgerald, Raymond Joy, and Ed Gafford, all-district men, and several others.

Much can be said for the Wildcats this season who, in spite of two defeats, are as good as any team in the district, which was much stronger this year than it has ever been. Looking over the record of the 1939 edition of the Wildcats, one finds that they added much to the records piled up by Wildcat elevens of the past, and also that the team this season was powerful both in offensive and defensive play.

Former Resident of Foard Died In Colo.

Milo P. Hann, 85, former resident of Foard County, died at his home in Oxford, Colo., Wednesday, Nov. 15, according to word received in Crowell this week. Mr. Hann is probably remembered by oldtimers in this county as he was one of the first to settle in this section. He came with his family from the Indian Territory in the late 1890's and lived near the present town of Margaret. From Foard County he moved to Colorado, where he had made his home since leaving here. He was married to Miss Georgena Rathfon in 1881 and their fifty-eighth wedding anniversary fell on the day before his death.

LARGE GROUP REPORTS FOR BASKETBALL PRACTICE HERE; 3 REGULARS RETURN TO TEAM

One of the largest groups of boys ever to report for basketball in Crowell was recorded when sixteen aspirants reported to Coach Grady Graves last Monday afternoon for the first cage workout of the season for the Crowell High School Wildcats. Three Regulars Back Among those reporting were three regulars from last year's quintet: Tom Alton Andrews, Jack Fitzgerald and Dick Smith. Others reporting were Ted Crosnoe, Gus Russell, Jimmie Williams, W. D. Hudgens, Junior Haseloff, Glendon Russell, T. L. Owens, R. C. Brown, Frank Dunn, Ralph Flesher, Joe Wells, Charles Nelson and Murrell Diggs. Cagers Tall From this group of boys will come the first five, and at present it appears as though the quintet to represent Crowell will average six feet, the tallest cage team to don the gold and black in several years. League to Organize Crowell is planning to again join the Northwest Texas Basketball League which is expected to organize for the 1939-40 season at a meeting in Vernon Monday night. Wildcats' Prospects Fair As the Wildcats round out their first week of practice, the prospects for the local quintet are fairly bright. Coach Graves will build his team around the three returning veterans and has prospects of having a number of strong reserves waiting for action at all times. Coach Graves is also looking forward to next season's team as most of the reserves for the club this year will be the regulars of next year. The entire first five this season will be lost and Coach Graves is planning to give his reserves plenty of action in building toward the team to come. In the practice sessions of the week, Andrews, Fitzgerald and Smith show promise of being much stronger cagers than ever during this season, and from the remainder of the group Crosnoe, Williams, Russell, Hudgens, Dunn and Brown are standing out fairly well. Several Games Matched Several games for the Wildcats have been matched and a schedule will not be arranged until after the Christmas holidays, when (Continued on Page Four.)

Each Scout troop will be given 10 minutes for a stunt and thirty minutes will be taken up in showing interesting pictures. R. K. Ayers, field executive, has stated. At the conclusion of the program officers for the coming year will be elected and installed.

R. H. Templeton Dies at Wellington

R. H. Templeton, 60, former Crowell school teacher, died in Wellington Tuesday morning after an illness of several months. He had lived in Wellington since 1904, and had been prominently identified with the civic growth of that community. At the time of his death he was city attorney and had served as county judge, newspaper editor and mayor of that city. Mr. Templeton was a native of Fayetteville, Tenn., and attended the College of Alabama, Nashville Normal, a Huntington, Tenn., law school and the University of Texas. He received his L. L. B. degree from the latter institution. When he first came to Texas he was principal of the Crowell school. Funeral services were conducted from the First Methodist Church in Wellington Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. J. E. Kirby officiating. Survivors are his widow and six children, four sons and two daughters.

Girl Gets Homesick 10 Blocks From Mom

She's away at college just ten blocks from home, but that doesn't keep Leta Underwood, Texas State College for Women sophomore, from getting homesick. She lives in the dormitory, writes her family once a week, and isn't going home until Thanksgiving because she made a bet with her brother that living in Denton wouldn't keep her from "going away to college."

WILDCATS TAKE HOLLIDAY IN STRIDE, 37-13

The Wildcats finished the 1939 football season last Thursday night securely set in third place of the District 9-A conference when they outscored the Holiday Eagles in a scoring set-to, 37-13. The Wildcats had to fight every minute of the game as they ran into a determined, well-coached and fighting crew of Eagles who would not give and scored two touchdowns on tricky and thrilling plays, however, they were no match for the driving and shifty Crowell backs. Que Meason and John Lee Orr, who accounted for four of Crowell's touchdowns. H. C. Brown talked kicked the ball between the uprights but Crowell received a 15-yard penalty which set the ball far from the cross bars and Orr's attempt to circle end for the extra point failed. On the following kick-off, Holiday pulled its first trick of the game. An Eagle back took Fitz- one score for Crowell. This game brought the high (Continued on Page Four.)

SENATOR SHEPPARD PREDICTS PUERTO RICAN GIBRALTAR

By Federal Service Syndicate

Washington, D. C.—Approval of War and Navy Department plans for strong defense fortifications in the Caribbean for defense of the Panama Canal and the Monroe Doctrine was expressed here today by Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas in a special interview on the U. S. Possession of Puerto Rico.

Senator Sheppard pointed out that Puerto Rico is the mainstay in defense plans for that area, and that when constructions now projected for Puerto Rico are completed, it will, according to competent authorities, be a "Gibraltar" of the Caribbean for defense of the entire area.

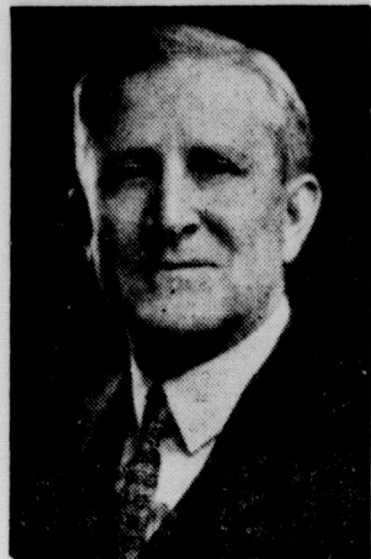

According to official testimony, Senator Sheppard pointed out, planes from the Island base will be able to scout far out to sea, giving hours of advance warning of any attempted invasion. In addition, the Island will serve as a valuable supply base for warships. It was pointed out.

"In times such as these, the necessity of adequate defense is appreciated by everyone," Senator Sheppard declared. "Adequate defense will serve as a warning to anyone who might have an idea about invading the Americas, and might well serve to keep us out of war."

Commenting on the economic condition of Puerto Rico, Senator Sheppard pointed out that much has been done to improve conditions on the Island since it came under the American flag after the war with Spain, and that the Islanders have taken rapidly to American ways.

While the Island is currently undergoing an economic crisis, he pointed out that much progress has been made since it became a part of the United States, and predicted that Congress will render all reasonable assistance in ironing out its present difficulties.

"The Puerto Ricans are now American citizens, and are due every consideration," he declared. "We should deal with their problems just as we do with those of our people on the mainland."

TEXAS CONG. ASKS WAGE AND HOUR CHANGES

Cites Puerto Rico and Southern States

By Federal Service Syndicate Washington, D. C.—Some revision of wage and hour provisions, to ease the burden on small rural enterprises and agriculture was seen a necessary task for the next regular session of Congress by Representative Ed Gossett, Democrat, of Texas, in a special interview following the close of the special session which debated neutrality.

Pointing out that the law had never been designed to regulate conditions in agriculture, but was intended primarily to correct sweatshop evils in the industrial sections of the country, Representative Gossett said it was essential that the law be clarified in its application.

Gossett, a member of the Insular Affairs Committee, in referring to this law's application in Puerto Rico stated that Puerto Rico and other American possessions should share in any benefits to be derived from amendments or clarifications of the Wage and Hour Act.

Puerto Ricans, terming application of the law to their economic activities "one of the most disastrous pieces of legislation" ever to be enforced on them, have indicated that they will make common cause with southern states and other agricultural areas in seeking modifications of the law at the coming regular session of Congress.

English Actor

Born in Dorchester, Maurice Evans made his stage debut at the age of seven with the Wessex players, an amateur group. As a youth he worked for a music publishing firm but was constantly engaged in dramatics. While playing in "St. Francis of Assisi" he attracted the attention of the manager of the Festival theatre at Cambridge, who engaged him for his repertory company. In 1934 he played at the Old Vic and his performance of "Hamlet" led Guthrie McClintic to bring him to the United States to appear with Katharine Cornell in "Romeo and Juliet." His first starring role on Broadway was in "St. Helena."

Prevalence of "Rabbit" Fever in Texas Reported

"The season for the unusual prevalence of tularemia is again at hand," warns Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer. "Reports show that this disease, commonly known as 'rabbit fever,' is increasing at this time, due in large part to direct exposure to wild rabbits in the hunting or dressing of the animals."

"Invariably, tularemia cases are reported more frequently during the hunting season than at any other time. While the disease is caused by a germ found in various kinds of infected rodents, and can be acquired, among other ways, through bites of ticks, deer flies, stable flies, and squirrels, it is most frequently transmitted to man in this section of the United States by infected wild rabbits, hence the name 'rabbit disease'."

"The common method of transmission is through wounds or small abrasions, sometimes minute, on the hands of those cleaning or otherwise handling rabbit carcasses; in this manner the germs reach the human blood stream, symptoms developing in from one to ten days. The victim suddenly complains of headache, has body pains, chills, fever, and vomits. The fever, which may run high, usually lasts two or three weeks. Convalescence is slow. Death occurs in approximately 5 per cent of the cases.

"The above facts indicate that hunters should not kill slow-moving rabbits. Healthy wild rabbits do not carry. Also, for those who dress rabbits, it is advisable to use rubber gloves. The suggestion applies equally to hunters and housewives. It is the one safe defense against acquiring tularemia from this source.

"There is no desire to imply that most wild rabbits harbor the tularemia germ. Compared to the total rabbit population, the infected rabbit decidedly is in the minority. On the other hand, the number of infected animals is sufficiently large in the aggregate not to take any undue chances.

"Incidentally, it may be added that thoroughly cooked rabbit meat, even though the animal had been infected from tularemia, is harmless and perfectly safe food. Consequently, those who enjoy this game need have no qualms about consuming it."

Whatever things are honorable... think on these things.—Phil. 4:8.

Man can make no enduring material change in the world. His mightiest works yield to eroding time and eventually return to the dust from whence they came and the place that knew them knows them no more. The good deeds men do, the good lives men live, do not yield to time. They will live on and on as long as the race shall endure. Their influence, their beneficence is handed down through all the generations that will follow. As the pebble dropped in the pool sends an ever widening circle of waves to the farthest shores, so will the good men do on this earth, go down through the ages as long as the race shall endure. There are thousands of lives today that are better because Lincoln lived—there will be thousands more.

The newsboys were not long in seeing through Hitler. When he made his plea for peace recently the newsboys announced the fact in calling their papers by saying, "Hitler wants peace, a piece here and a piece there."

SUDDEN DEATH

(Texas Safety Council)

Mounting death toll from grade crossing accidents in the last few weeks certainly ought to cause the public to "Stop, Look and Listen."

This is the familiar slogan of the railroads of the country, and yet these tragedies at grade crossings continue. Pending the time when there will be no more grade crossings, it behooves the autoists to strictly observe this sign.

Nothing but carelessness upon the part of the autoists can possibly be responsible for a death at a grade crossing. Everybody knows the exact route the train will take. Everybody knows that it is going to pass that crossing upon its bands of steel, and that it cannot be one inch of the right-of-way to the autoist.

Under the operating rules of the railroads, the engineer sounds his warning whistle long before he reaches these crossings. Any autoist in his right mind and capable of hearing will observe the warning. Even in cases where he approaches a railroad crossing and hears no warning whistle, it certainly is a matter of common prudence to slow his car to the speed where it is under perfect control and look both ways.

Another tragedy of the crossing is the bold autoist, the one who thinks he's in a hurry, who sees the fast train approaching, bets his life he can beat it to the crossing and oftentimes loses that life as a result of his gamble. The matter of stopping two minutes and taking no chances certainly would have been the more prudent thing.

Railway crossing accidents are deplorable and the most execrable of all fatal accidents. Let us hope the time will shortly arrive in Texas, through the education of our people in matters of caution and safety, that these terrible tragedies will be ended. In the meantime, the blame should be placed where it belongs—on the thoughtless autoists and not upon the railroad companies.

The adults of the land will not be in any position to criticize youth for its shortcomings until the adults live lives that are the right sort of examples to the young people. It does not seem to occur to some of the grown up critics of the young people today that the boys and girls, are, in most instances, considerably better than the examples set them by their elders. As long as this continues there is hope for the betterment of the world.

A first rate army and a first rate navy and a first rate air force are to a nation like good credit is to a man. The better a man's credit is, the less he needs it.

The lucky Americans are the Americans who are in the United States these days and the lucky Poles are the Poles who are in the United States.

What We Think

(By Frank Dixon)

I believe every school should have a course devoted to the development of the individuals personality. I believe that in our scheme of living today the chances for a boy or girl getting on in the world and finding a place in our complicated social order depends fully as much upon their being able to present themselves to the best advantage, or sell themselves to the best advantage, or sell themselves as we say, to a world that needs their peculiar service, as it does upon their education and training.

There are countless instances of young men and young women with fine well trained minds, who have gone out of school and blundered along seemingly unable to find their place in the world.

On the other hand many of their fellows, much less competent and able, have gone out with less preparation and have been able to sell their services on a high market and achieve brilliant success.

I have little doubt that those who are unable to sell themselves and secure recognition, would if they had been able to present their qualifications to the purchasing market, achieved even greater success than was gained by those who did make the connection.

The reason very often for the failure to connect is clearly the lack of ability to present one's qualifications, lack of personal sales ability, lack of the ability to reveal and express one's personality.

I do not know of a public school where this important training is being given. The usual amount of time is spent on mathematics, foreign languages and science, but no thought or attention is given to the development of the individual's greatest natural asset, his personality.

I have seen many young people go through school and never discover that there was such a thing as developing one's personality. They see it in others who happen to express it naturally, but it never occurs to them that personality is a thing that can be acquired and developed, and that every individual has more or less of it that can be brought out, developed, and greatly increased through thought, training, practice and intelligent direction.

I have seen young people with fine minds who hid their light under a bushel during their years in school and who continued to hide it under a bushel after they left school. Because of this they never got out of the world the things that they might have had if they had only known that within themselves they had the elements of a radiant personality, that, coupled with their intelligence, would have opened on all sides doors to their services.

It would have made their services in demand in a dozen lines of endeavor. It would have created for them a circle of friends limited only by their opportunity for making contacts. It would have proven the "Open Sesame" to success. It would have changed their lives and their outlook upon life completely.

We believe in cultural education, and knowledge, and proficiency in arts and social graces; but we fail to teach the one thing that is so vitally important in a world where success and happiness and the most resultful living are so dependent upon our contacts and relations and the impressions we create upon those among whom we live.

The Wage-Hour law, adopted as a substitute for the NRA, is proving universally unpopular. Though in force but a year there are 12,000 violations awaiting investigation. Fines totaling $81,350 have been assessed against employers and one employer imprisoned. It is said that it will require an army of 1000 inspectors to enforce the law. The law is a death blow to small industry that does not have volume production. It will result in industry being driven out of rural areas into large and congested centers. It is the most harmful piece of legislation for small business in rural areas that Congress has ever passed. It will result in costs being increased on merchandise purchased by the residents of rural areas. The Wage-Hour law gives the small businesses of the country a taste of what a dictator form of government would be like.

Under the Neutrality Act, recently passed by Congress, foreign governments must take title to all shipments of munitions before they leave American shores. The goods must be transported in foreign ships. In addition the President has designated certain "danger zone" in to which ships flying the United States flag will not be permitted to sail. The temper of the people shows a change. A few years back and our right to sail the high seas anytime and anywhere would have been a matter in which we would admit of no compromise. Today we are willing to yield some of the things that we once thought were our right to keep out of war. Without doubt this is the sensible thing to do. It is along these lines perhaps that war may be largely avoided in the future.

Whatever things are just... think on these things.—Phil. 4:8.

Holliday—

school grid careers of eleven of Crowell's veterans to a close. The best running combination, formed by Orr and Meason, to come from this district was broken up with the game and some of the best linemen ever to come from Crowell, including Oran Johnson, Wayne Canup, Jack Fitzgerald and others, did their last bit for the black and gold colors.

The Wildcats' first touchdown came in the first minutes of the game after a 55-yard drive. Orr returned the opening kick-off from the Crowell 10 to the 45 and running plays accounted for the first score. On this drive, Meason carried the ball three times to pick up 16 yards and Orr lugged the pigskin seven times for the remaining 39 yards to score from the 1-yard line. Canup's kickoff Meason, Holliday 10 and an instant before being brought down on the 30, he leaped into the air and threw a lateral pass across the field to a waiting Eagle who advanced to the mid-traple before being smothered. The Eagles drove to the Crowell 32 but on the third down, Meason intercepted a Holliday pass on his own 28-yard line and returned to the 37.

Again the Wildcats rolled down the field for a touchdown which climaxed the 63-yard drive, but this time Crowell covered the greater part of the distance in the air. Three running plays by Meason and Orr made a first down on the Crowell 45 and after losing two yards, Diop passed to Wayne Canup for 35 yards to put the ball on the Holliday 22. Orr connected with Canup for 9. On two plays Orr galloped 19 yards for a first down on the Holliday 1-yard line. Meason plunged through right tackle for the touchdown. Canup's kick was wide, but Crowell was leading 12 to 0 early in the game.

Early in the second period, Crowell was set back to its own 19 by a 15-yard holding penalty and on the following play on an attempted end-around pass, Smith was dropped on the 1-inch line. Cool-headed Meason stood between his goal post and pooted the ball to the Wildcats' 40 and the oval was returned to the 28.

Here the Eagles dug into their bag of tricks to advance the ball to scoring position. After gaining to the 17, the Eagles staged the old and bewildering "screen" pass. Ford took the snap from center and faked far back down the field with the entire Crowell line chasing him. When it seemed that he was going down for a big loss, he threw the ball to an Eagle back standing behind five on the Holliday line and the ball was finally downed on the Crowell 5. Lower circled right end for the touchdown and then plunged through the center of the line for the extra point.

"Madder than a wet hen," the Wildcats started scrimmage from the Crowell 39 following the kick-off. Orr picked up 19 yards through the line on two plays and on the third play of the series, Meason wormed his way through a number of Eagles at right tackle to break loose into the open for the longest run of the game. He was tripped on the Holliday 1-yard line after a gallop of 41 yards. Meason crashed through right guard for the touchdown. Again the kick was wide, but the Wildcats had struck swiftly to take an 18-7 lead.

Still seeking vengeance for the Holliday touchdown, the Wildcats started for the goal line a few seconds later when Canup intercepted an Eagle pass on the Holliday 40 and returned to the 17. Orr made 5 and H. C. Brown passed to Meason to put the ball on the 1-yard stripe. Brown then lugged the ball over the goal line. Canup booted the ball between the uprights as the half ended. Crowell 25, Holliday 7.

Entering the second half with touchdowns still on their minds the Wildcats scored again when they took possession of the ball for the first time in the second half. On the first play of the third period, the Wildcats started from their own 49, after returning a Holliday punt from the 44.

On six running plays, Orr covered the 51 yards and crossed the goal line standing up from the 7-yard line. Again the kick for conversion was wide. This was the only score of the quarter, which closed with the Wildcats leading 31-7.

With the last quarter half gone, the Eagles again raised up to drive hard and quickly for the second score. Taking a Crowell punt on their own 47, the Eagles drove to the 49 and Ford stepped back to shoot a long pass to McCullough in the left flat zone and McCullough turned in a bit of good running to gallop over onto pay dirt. A plunge at the line failed to produce the extra point.

Orr returned the kick off to the Crowell 30 but fumbled when tackled and the Eagles recovered on the 32, but the tide was turned again on the following play when Canup intercepted Ford's pass on the Crowell 20 and returned it to the Crowell 45 and again the Wildcats were touchdowns bound.

Orr made 2 and then passed to Canup for 14. Running from the Holliday 39, the Wildcats duplicated the series. Orr made 2 and then passed to Canup for 18. At this point, Coach Graves retired the plunging and driving Orr and as Christian University, which had lost three All-American players and Crowell had lost three all-district men, but next season Coach Grady Graves will have less experienced material than he has had since 1936.

Graduation will take practically the entire starting lineup of this year from Coach Graves, among whom are Que Meason, John Lee Orr, Oran Johnson, and Wayne Canup, all seasoned veterans.

Meason, in spite of injuries which slowed him up during the conference season, is possibly the best backfield player Coach Graves has tutored since Dick Todd. He was recognized by coaches as an outstanding back even when he was unable to shoulder his burdens successfully. Other than being a good ball player, Meason has been praised by opponents and officials for his excellent brand of sportsmanship. One official stated that Meason was "the best kid" he had ever met on a gridiron.

The loss of quarterback Orr is also a great setback. Orr has been with the Wildcats for three years and this season he was easily one of the outstanding backs of the district. His spectacular scampers over the gridirons this season has brought many thrills to pigskin followers. Orr was not only a powerful line runner but was a good passer. His shoes will be hard to fill next season.

The loss of Oran Johnson will blow a big hole in the right side of the Crowell line, as he is the best tackle to tread the gridirons of this district in many years. He was feared for his defensive work, which was consistently disastrous to opponents. Johnson was always found in the thick of the fight and "busting" opposing backs was one of his most enjoyable pastimes.

Jack Fitzgerald took a lot of the power from the line when he hung up his high school football togs and a center, with his weight, speed and height, will be hard to find among a group of high school boys. The first year that Fitzgerald came to Crowell, he was ineligible for competition, but during his second year he landed on the all-district team.

A strong defensive wingman and a good pass receiver is an asset set to any ball team and Wayne Canup, all-district end, and Wayne Meason, in both these during his years with the Wildcats. His position was rarely circled and he was the most skillful end in the district in breaking into the clear for a pass. Canup's loss alone is enough to bring a frown to a coach's face.

Now the boys who played their first time as Wildcat regulars this year, but who will be lost to the team next year.

One of these is Leroy Gibson, who was on the squad for two years but was in the regular lineup for the first time this season. Gibson performed fullback duties for the Wildcats and did them well. He played the safety spot for the local club and turned in capable work there.

Charlie Clark saw service in the line last season and filled the left tackle position this year. His play nearly matched that of his outstanding team mate, Johnson. Clark had the knack of stripping a runner of his interference and that is as important as stopping the ball carrier. Clark ranks among the outstanding tackles of the district.

Now to take the guards, Frank Dunn and Murphy Sollis were understudies in these positions last season and showed that they had learned their lessons well this year. They were good defensive guards and formed the best blocking combination of the district.

Twelfth President State University to Take Office Dec. 9

Austin.—Twelfth president of the University of Texas, Dr. Homer P. Rainey on December 9, will be inaugurated as official head of an institution of 10,206 students and 575 faculty members, as contrasted with a student body of 218 and a faculty of 13 fifty-six years ago when J. W. Mallet, as chairman of the faculty, assumed executive direction of the infant University.

While enrollment has been climbing at the rate of almost 10 per cent, and often more rapidly, expenditures per student have been dropping steadily until last year the cost per student was less than half what it was the year the University opened.

In 1883-84, expenditures totaled $121,792, or approximately $551 per student. In 1938-39, expenditures aggregated approximately $2,300,000, or only $211 per student. This figure compares with an average of the $421 per student among member schools of the American Association of Universities.

At the time the fledgling University made its bow to the state, only two branches of study were offered to its students—academic and law—and it was able to confer only five degrees—bachelors of letters, science, arts and law, and master of arts.

Today, a student may enroll for academic work or may enter schools or colleges of fine arts, engineering, law, business administration, pharmacy, or education, and may continue his education in the Graduate School or through the master's degree to the doctor of philosophy or education. He may obtain one or more of 16 bachelor's degrees and nine master's.

By satisfying proper entrance requirements, he may enter the School of Medicine at Galveston. A girl may elect to attend the College of Nursing, likewise at Galveston. Still another branch of the University is the College of Mines and Metallurgy at El Paso, which offers both technical and academic training. Functioning under its own Board of Regents but constitutionally a branch of the University and receiving a share of University oil revenue is Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College at College Station.

The newest "branch" of the University, designed for research rather than teaching, is McDonald Observatory, world's second largest astronomical observatory, completed last spring on Mount Locke, in the Davis Mountains of West Texas.

The physical campus also has undergone tremendous change in the last 56 years. When classes opened in the fall of 1883, they met in the temporary Capitol Building and did not move to the newly completed first wing of the old Main Building in the center of the 40-acre campus until January 1, 1884.

The campus of 1939-40 comprising more than 200 acres contains 46 buildings, all save less than a half dozen being modern, scientifically designed structures of attractive Spanish Renaissance architecture. The old Main Building, of brick and native Texas limestone in Gothic style, has been replaced with a modern skyscraper whose 308-foot tower houses the University's 600,000-volume library, with administration offices in its front wings.

In addition to its teaching facilities, the University has gradually broadened its educational services and as Dr. Rainey assumes the presidency it is prepared to reach the whole citizenship of the state, through research, extension classes and activities, through industrial, social and educational conferences, through radio and publications.

Texans who accept the University's invitation—and the whole citizenry is invited—to attend and participate in the three-day program, marking Dr. Rainey's inauguration will inspect the new 1939 campus, its buildings fresh and unstained by time; will see its 10,206 students thronging the 200 acres, and will share in one of the institution's major services of conferences on subjects keenly allied to the state's interests, "The State and Public Education."

All-District—

Before telling our reasons for the above selections, we feel that there are still some players who deserve recognition and for that reason, The News gives the following boys honorable mention.

Honorable Mention Players

Clark of Crowell, Plummer of Seymour, Scruggs of Chillicothe, Stewart of Archer City, Crain of Seymour and Barbour of Iowa Park.

Looking at our first string backfield, we believe that we have picked the four outstanding ball carriers of the district. Brown of Burkburnett lands in the quarterback post because he is a shifty and powerful runner and has piloted the Bulldogs through an undefeated and untied season to win the district championship.

Meason and Orr of Crowell can handle the halfback positions on any coach's ball team. They are easily the best brokenfield runners of the district and too much can not be said concerning their performances on the gridiron.

The Greyhounds of Throckmorton furnish Loyd for our backfield. Loyd is a great runner, passer and punter, and has been the sparkplug of his team this year.

All four of the honor backs are A-1 ball carriers. Loyd and Brown would be our passers and Loyd and Meason would handle the punting duties. Orr is also a passer and equally good at end runs or line plunges. Meason, Loyd and Brown were selected for all-district last season and Orr's play this season ranks him in the all-district class.

Now for the line. In Canup of Crowell and Clements of Burkburnett, The News feels that it has selected the district's best wingmen. Both are good pass receivers and powerful defensive ends. Canup is also a handy man for kicking extra points.

SALES SHOW INCREASE

Austin.—Dollar sales of Texas department stores during October passed the September total by 2.8 per cent and that of October, 1938, by 3.6 per cent, according to reports of 97 establishments to the University of Texas business research bureau.

Business during 1939 has bested that of 1938 by only 1 per cent, total sales for January-October for the two years show.

Women's specialty shops reported the most active business, increasing October sales 9 per cent above those of October, 1938, but topping September's sales by only 2.3 per cent. Men's clothing stores reversed this ratio, boosting sales 9.4 per cent over September but only 4 per cent over October of last year.

Truth is ageless and deathless. That is why the truths that Christ uttered are true today, will be true ten million years hence, and were true ten million years before He uttered them. They are not true because Christ taught them because they were true.

positions is, of course, Johnson of Chowell, the best tackle to be produced in this district in many years. For his mate, The News is taking Johnson's own suggestion. He stated after the Throckmorton game that Criswell was the best tackle he had met this year, so for that reason we give Criswell the nod over Elliott of Burkburnett for our left tackle.

At center, we place our own all-district Fitzgerald in spite of all the publicity Green of Burkburnett has received. If Green lands the official berth, he will receive the nod because his team has won the championship.

The News feels that the district coaches will select about eight, or maybe more, of the boys named on our first string for their first eleven. Of the 22 players named on the official teams this year, we feel that we have chosen twenty of the boys that will appear on the official teams.

First Methodist Church

To the people of Crowell, we wish to express our sincere thanks for the wonderful reception we have received at the hands of the people, and our wish is that we may be of service to the church and community.

To the Methodist people we hope that you will be present at all of the services of the church. If you have been negligent about your church attendance, won't you start in this new year to give the best that you have to your church and to the Master of your life? The success of any organization depends upon the loyalty of its members that make up that organization. Too many times we spend our time making excuses for not doing what we know we should do.

We welcome one and all to our services. Church School, 9:45 a. m.; morning services, 11; prayer meeting (Wednesday night) 7:00; Missionary Society (Monday) at 3; Young People (Sunday evening) 6:15; Evening service 7. "Come thou and worship with us." W. B. HICKS, Pastor.

The Training Union is a truth-giving agency as well as a life-developing agency. Youth marches as led. Youth will march to the church in much larger numbers when the adult membership of the church leads them in that direction.

Let's each of us find our place in the Training Union, as somebody is watching us and holding us up as their example to follow. Be sure you are leading them in the right direction next Sunday evening at 6.

Visitors are always welcome. Margaret Curtis, Training Union Director.

The Golden Text is: "Let all the earth fear the Lord; let all the inhabitants of the world stand in awe of him. For he spake, and it was done; he commanded, and it stood fast" (Psalms 33:8, 9). Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Let them praise the name of the Lord: for he commanded, and they were created" (Psalms 148:5). Our Weekly Sermon

By Rev. Robert Parsons, Member of Radio Staff, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

Burdens, Thorns and Crosses Text.—Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me.—Matthew 16:24.

The cross mentioned in this text is quite different from that which our Saviour bore. That cross was one to which He was later nailed, and upon which He bore the sins of the world. We often sing,

"Must Jesus bear the cross alone, And all the world go free?" If we are thinking of Calvary's cross, then we must answer, "Yes, Jesus must bear His cross alone." At Calvary "He suffered, bled, and died alone—alone." When our Lord hung on that cross He did something unique, something that no one else can duplicate. He "bore our sins in his own body on the tree."

But we who are saved must bear our cross. Notice, it is not our Saviour's cross, it is ours. "If any man will follow me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me." We must remember that we are not saved by following Jesus. The Bible clearly reveals that we are saved by grace through faith in Jesus Christ. But having been made "new creations in Christ," we must "take up our cross, and follow Him."

What did Jesus mean when He made this statement? There is much confusion of thought regarding the meaning of the Christian's cross. Three ideas are frequently in mind when the term is used—burdens, thorns and crosses.

1. Let us think for a moment about burdens. Here is a woman whose husband has died. Having no children and no close relatives, she is left all alone, and goes on through life lonely and disappointed. Here is a mother whose only son has drifted into sin and who finally has to pay the price to society of spending his entire life behind prison walls. Here is a man who is out of work. He has tried to find employment, but he is no longer young and is not wanted. Consequently his family is in need. We might enumerate many more everyday circumstances which are extremely difficult.

You might say, "Those are heavy crosses to bear." No, they are not crosses. They are burdens, and they are experienced by saved and unsaved alike. But we who are saved are told what to do with our burdens. "Cast thy burden on the Lord." You see there is a difference: we are to take up our cross daily, but we are to cast our burdens on the Lord.

2. Then there are thorns. Some of us know something about them. Thorns prick, cause pain and discomfort, and cause us to cry out to God as did Paul. Paul brought the Lord three times to remove his thorn in the flesh, but God saw best to refuse his plea (II Cor. 12:7-10). You who have that blinding pain, you who are afflicted with diseases that are incurable (humanly speaking), you whose eyesight is dim or gone, or whose hearing is failing—you can rejoice in the consciousness that God's grace is sufficient for you, as it was for Paul. It is sufficient for all who have thorns. But those thorns are not crosses.

3. What then constitutes our cross? It is made up of all the persecution and deprivation and heartache that we must experience in this world as we follow the Lord Jesus Christ. Today as you live for Christ, you may be ridiculed, or laughed at. That is part of your cross. Some of us, in living separated lives, are misunderstood and perhaps avoided by loved ones. That forms part of our cross. The sum total of all the undesirable experiences and conditions which are inevitable to the Christian in this sinful world because of his testimony for Christ, is his cross. But there is joy in bearing our cross and in following Him. In fact, there is no real joy otherwise.

We all have, in some measure, burdens and thorns. Let us cast the burdens upon Him, and trust Him when bearing the thorns. And the crosses? "Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me."

Friendship Tea Nov. 22 Honors Club President

Honoring its president, Mrs. Raymond L. Burrow, the Adelpian Club entertained last Wednesday afternoon at the club house with a lovely tea, designated as a "Friendship Tea," with Mesdames A. Y. Beverly, F. C. Brooks, O. W. Orr, Hubert Brown and Miss Frankie Kirkpatrick as hostesses and the members of the ladies' clubs of the city as guests.

The reception rooms were attractively decorated with bouquets of purple and yellow chrysanthemums, featuring the chosen colors of the club.

Guests were met at the door by Mrs. Tom Russell and asked to register at the guest book over which Mrs. W. B. Johnson presided. Mrs. Beverly then presented them to the receiving line which was composed of the honor guest, Mrs. Burrow, Mrs. J. M. Rutherford of Chillicothe, president of seventh district of Women's Federation of Clubs, Mrs. Otis Temple of Seymour, Mrs. M. S. Henry, Miss Naoma Stephens, Seymour, and Miss Emmett Temple, Seymour.

Mrs. Moody Bursey, program leader, introduced Mrs. Henry as her friend who would further introduce the out-of-town friends who presented most of the interesting program. Mrs. Foster Davis played a violin solo, "Brown's Waltz in A Major," was accompanied by Miss Dorothy Winningham.

Mrs. Temple accompanied Miss Stephens, who sang two numbers, "Travlin' Alone," and "Friend of Mine." Miss Temple gave a reading entitled "Friends." Mrs. Rutherford, the guest speaker, gave an inspiring address.

Mrs. Clint White invited the guests into the beautifully appointed dining room, where the table was covered with a satin damask cloth and featured a gorgeous bouquet of huge purple and white chrysanthemums interspersed with dwarf yellow chrysanthemums. These, placed in a crystal bowl, were enhanced by soft light from white tapers in silver candlesticks. Mrs. Brooks poured tea from a silver service. This, with sandwiches and cakes, was served by Mrs. Verne Walden, Mrs. George Self and Miss Helen Harwell. Approximately 115 guests were present.

Other members of the house party included Mrs. John Long, Mrs. C. P. Sandifer, Mrs. Ab Dunn and Miss Anne Lee Long. Mrs. Dunn and Miss Long played piano selections during the tea hour.

Elizabeth Woodward is editor of the Sub-Deb page in The Ladies' Home Journal and has had contact with 400,000 girls and her book concerns how to grow up gracefully. Missouri-Iowa Boundary War Nears End

A hundred-year boundary war between Missouri and Iowa, cause of the ludicrous "honey war" of 1829, ends on New Year's eve when 200 acres of Missouri land goes to Iowa and 2,000 Iowa acres are given to Missouri. The trouble was caused by a change in the Des Moines river boundary between the two states. Map shows the river's present course, while dotted lines indicate the route 59 years ago.
