Foundation for County Hospital Nearly Completed

Concrete Floor of Building Will Be Poured This Week

The foundation for the Foard County Hospital, which is being constructed as a Works Progress Administration project with Foard County as the sponsor, is nearly completed, as the greater part of the concrete has been laid and plumbing fixtures have been roughed in.

The hospital is being built at the intersection of Houston and Bell Streets, one block from the northwest corner of the square where a paved street on the east.

The foundation is of a rectangular shape, 100 feet long and 40 feet wide, with extensions on the front and back sides. The front extension is 8x41 feet and the rear extension is 12x23.6 feet. Foundation work on the hospital would have been completed for a revision of the plans which calls for a basement under the kitchen in which a heating plant will be housed. The revision has not yet been approved at the state WPA office. The foundation is complete with the exception of the basement.

Nearly all of the rock that will be used in the building and sand to be placed on the grounds, the rock is being trimmed at present.

Steel reinforcements for the concrete were being placed Tuesday and it is expected that the concrete floor will be poured the latter part of the week.

Three contracts have been let for the building. One is the plumbing work which will be done by the Wells Plumbing Company of Pampa. The contract for the electrical fixtures and work was let to C. C. McLaughlin of Crowell, and the rock work will be done by W. M. Cline of Vernon.

Tenmarq Wheat Sown By FFA Boys Makes Unusually Good Yields

Extra good yields have been reported on several acres of Tenmarq wheat which was grown in Foard County this year by FFA boys, Harvey Crosnoe and Truman Taylor.

The wheat grown by Harvey Crosnoe averaged 35 bushels per acre while ordinary variety sown beside it averaged only 20 bushels per acre.

Twenty-five acres sown by Truman Taylor averaged 20 bushels per acre while the wheat beside it averaged 15 1/2 bushels per acre. The seed for this wheat was obtained through Marvin L. Myers, local FFA advisor, from an agricultural experiment station located in Chillicothe. The seed had been treated for smut.

This variety of wheat had been sown in Foard County during the 1938-39 season by FFA boys, and Tenmarq wheat harvested during 1939 averaged from 3 to 9 bushels more per acre than other varieties planted beside it.

Other persons planting Tenmarq wheat in the county this year were J. T. Hughston, R. H. Cooper Sr., Henry Johnson and Dick Crosnoe, but their yields were not obtainable.

Hopper Poison May Be Obtained From Co. Agent

A supply of grasshopper poison is now on hand for Foard County farmers, according to a statement from County Agent John Nagy Monday.

Farmers may obtain a supply of the poison and bran upon making application at the county agent's office in Crowell.

Santa Fe R. R. Buys New Diesel Engines for Freight Service

Purchase by the Santa Fe of two 5400 horse power diesel-electric freight road locomotives, and ten modern steam engines adapted either to freight or passenger service was announced by Edward J. Engel, president of that company this week.

With acquisition of the diesel freighters, Santa Fe will be the first railroad to acquire diesel power for road freight service. Decision to purchase diesel freight engines at this time, Mr. Engel said, is in line with the Santa Fe's established policy of keeping abreast of the latest developments and offering the public continually improved rail facilities of every type. Extensive tests conducted jointly by the Santa Fe and Electro-Motive Companies early this year of the latter's experimental diesel-electric freight engine, indicate this type of power has attractive possibilities in freight service from the standpoint of average speeds and economy of operation. Order for the diesel freighters was placed with the Electro-Motive Corporation of La Grange, Ill.

The ten steam engines now being ordered are of the most modern type with 4-8-4 wheel arrangement, similar to the Santa Fe's present 3765 class engines, and will be available for use in both freight and passenger service.

These new locomotives, Mr. Engel stated, will place the Santa Fe in position to meet any demands for increased transportation now in sight on account of the national defense program and will enable it to take care of any increase in traffic presently in prospect.

The bank of safety pays 100 per cent and never fails. Take care to have lots of fresh air. No machine is safe in the hands of a careless man. Don't depend on others, look to your own safety.

"Freedom-of-the-Press" Exponent Candidate For Criminal Appeals Judge

Hon. George E. Christian, Who Wrote Opinion Upholding Rights of Newsmen to Report Trial Testimony to Public, Seeks Promotion; Years Experience As Commissioner.

By Texas Capital News Service.
AUSTIN.— Candidacy of Hon. George E. Christian of Burnet County for judge of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals recalls to newspaper men throughout the State the opinion written by Judge Christian as appeals court commissioner in 1935 that definitely set out the "freedom-of-the-press" in the matter of reporting and publishing for the public accurate news of testimony and proceedings in a trial court. A district judge presiding over a murder trial in Brazoria county had instructed three Houston newspaper reporters present not to publish the testimony in the case until after the trial of companion cases set for later date involving two others in the same alleged crime, lest it prejudice and thereby disqualify prospective jurors in the subsequent trials, possibly requiring a change of venue.

The newsmen, Harry McCormick of the Press, Frank L. White of the Post and Ed Rider of the Chronicle, communicated the court's instructions to their respective managing editors, Ed M. Pooley of the Press, Max Jacobs of the Post and George Cottingham of the Chronicle, who refused to refrain from publishing the testimony. The six men, after being duly cited and given a hearing, were adjudged to be guilty of contempt of court and assessed fines. The case attracted nationwide attention in the summer of 1935.

When it reached the Court of Criminal Appeals of Texas, and was given a hearing, it devolved upon Judge Christian to write that court's opinion. As recorded in the 88 South Western Reporter, 2nd series, pages 104-8, this opinion reveals some gems of democratic philosophy, couched in terse phrases, that are apropos at this time in light of contrast between democratic and totalitarian governments.

Overruling the lower court, the commissioner opined: "It appears to us that respondent unduly stresses the tendency of accurate newspaper reports of public trials to embarrass the administration of justice. Under our statute opinions formed from reading newspaper accounts may not disqualify a juror from sitting in a particular case."

More important, the record shows the issues involved the 8th section of the Bill of Rights of the Constitution, which in part reads: "Every person shall be at liberty to speak, write or publish his opinions on any subject, being responsible for the consequences thereof."

Overruling the lower court, the commissioner opined: "It appears to us that respondent unduly stresses the tendency of accurate newspaper reports of public trials to embarrass the administration of justice. Under our statute opinions formed from reading newspaper accounts may not disqualify a juror from sitting in a particular case."

President Visits 4-H Boys and Girls

President Franklin D. Roosevelt is here shown visiting with one hundred and seventy boys and girls from forty-three states encamped at the fourteenth annual party of the 4-H clubs. The 4-H club members are, evidently, keenly enjoying this visit with the Chief. Josephus Daniels, United States ambassador to Mexico, is sitting in the car with the President.

Judge Christian

It is generally conceded that the liberty of the press means immunity from previous restraints or censorship.

It concludes: "In the nature of things, the proceedings of public trials constitute news which newspapers have the right to publish in informing the public of current events."

A flood of newspaper editorials evidenced approbation of the Christian opinion.

Another important decision of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals, where the opinion was prepared by Judge Christian, is the case against Herbert Tigner of Harris county, that holds in effect the right of the state legislature to enact anti-trust legislation for control of industrial interests which would combine in restraint of trade but exempt agricultural and livestock producers, labor unions and taxpayers' groups. This opinion was sustained May 6, 1940, by the United States Supreme Court.

A native and resident of Burnet county, Texas; a student in Southwestern University, Georgetown, and a graduate in both arts and law from the University of Texas; an officer in the American Expeditionary Forces during World War I; George E. Christian has served as a district attorney, assistant attorney general, and as a member of the Board of Pardon advisers before his appointment as a judge of the commission in aid to the Court of Criminal Appeals of Texas, July 1, 1927. A commissioner is appointed by the Court to sit in on consultations and write opinions, but has no vote. After a service of 13 years in this capacity, Judge Christian is now going before the court of public opinion to ask a promotion.

Combating Fifth Column On the Fourth

One year ago, on July 4, 1939, the Reading (Pa.) Times came out with an edition that was "censored" as it would be if published under a totalitarian government. The above is a reproduction of the front page, with everything on the page had to be "crossed" out. The edition was graphically what would be prohibited on the Fourth of July in a newspaper published under Communism, Fascism, or Nazism. In the page of today, the Fourth of July edition was aimed at Fifth Column activities.

Brief Bits of News From Here and There

Coffee drinkers in the United States consume about 15 pounds of coffee per person annually.

During the first two weeks of June over $600,000,000 in gold belonging to France and Great Britain was sent to the United States for safe keeping. There is in this country now including the gold earmarked for foreign nations over three-fourths of the world's supply.

In Germany nearly half of all new automobile tires are made of artificial rubber.

Last year the United States consumed 592,000 tons of natural rubber and 1700 tons of synthetic rubber. Chemists have developed three superior synthetic rubbers.

The entry of Italy into the war cut off from this country exports to the amount of $58,863,000 in 1939. This represented 2 per cent of our total exports.

One of the means proposed for raising the money to pay for the armament program of this nation is a broadening of the income tax base, that is, lowering income tax exemptions. Under the proposed bill personal exemptions for single persons will be reduced to from $1,000 to $800. Personal exemptions for married persons will be reduced from $2,500 to $2,000. It is estimated that reductions in exemptions will increase the number of income tax payers by 2,000,000. There are, under the present law 3,700,000 who pay an income tax. Under the proposed bill a married person with no children who has a net income of $2,500 would be taxed $11. On a $3,000 net income the tax will be $31. On a $5,000 net income the tax will be $110. On a $100,000 net income the tax will be $43,476. On a one million net income the tax will be $717,584.

The country is rapidly drifting toward a program of compulsory military training. Reversing its long standing policy the New York Times recently came out in favor of compulsory military training. The New York Tribune followed the next day. In explaining its stand the New York Times said: "The logic of events drives us remorselessly to this conclusion." It is predicted that a bill providing for compulsory military training will be presented in Congress within a few days. The Plattsburg Group, the Military Training Camp Association has launched a campaign to raise $250,000 to sell the idea to the country.

The Texas petroleum industry has an annual payroll of $271,000,000.

I AM AN AMERICAN

(Editor's note—The following essay was written by Roy Joe Ricks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ricks of Colton, Calif., and a student the past term in the San Bernardino Valley Junior College. The essay won first place at the Junior College and ranked third in the United States. Roy is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Ricks of Crowell and Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Hamblen of Abilene. He was born in Crowell.)

"I am an American because my heritage, my religious views, and my aspirations are those typical of an American. From the Old World and from the New World came my ancestors. I am a product of the Irish, the French, the English, the German, and the North American Indian. None of my ancestors were 'blue-bloods'; they were pioneers, builders, farmers—men of the soil. None of them ever attained national recognition; most of them were content to remain just simple-minded, hard-working, farmers as their fathers had been. They suffered with Washington in the struggle for independence; they shared the grief of a nation split in two by civil strife and they fought, bled, and died to 'make the world safe for democracy.' Like a mongrel dog, I have no elegant heritage; rather, I am but one of a line of men whose lives are woven homogeneously into the pattern of America. None are outstanding, but each adds an irreplaceable quality that strengthens the pattern and gives it an abundance of superb finery.

"My religious views are simple ones. My ancestors loved and trusted the Christian God; it is only natural that I too take an active interest in the progress of the Christian religion. I want to be a respected, admired, and cherished resident in any community in which I live, and I know of nothing more helpful in attaining this goal than living up to the standards of the Christian religion.

"My forefathers were men of every country made equal by God and by the fight for a common cause, liberty. It is not incongruous that I too share a spirit of racial equality. I consider every man worthy of my friendship and worthy of sharing the honor of making the laws of America. "I abhor war and all of its mechanical, inhuman discipline; but if it ever becomes necessary for me to sacrifice my life, I shall give it gladly for a people and a country that I sincerely love. Like those simple, poor people of the Old World and the New, whom I call my ancestors, I am but a simple man; but in my heart, there is a devotion for my country that only a simple man of the soil can understand and appreciate. That is why I am an American."

No Blackouts FOR America

Not long ago there was a man who set his outer cornfield ablaze to save his farm from a big prairie fire. But he didn't stop to figure that the wind was wrong and in the end his house, barn, corncrib and woodlot went up in smoke. You just know that farmer must have been an American. He could not have been anything else. We Americans are forever doing something that "sounded like a good idea at the time." Emotional. Without thinking things through.

We are a hair-trigger people; forever going off half cocked. Most always it is on something a trifle funny and generous and lovably absurd, like taking up a collection to rehabilitate the town drunk and then handing him the money so he can get the D. T.'s, all over again. Or building an eighteen-hole golf course for a whistle-stop town. Occasionally it is something tragic like lynching the wrong man.

But every now and then we really invite trouble. We want to dive off the deep end without bothering to see if there is any water in the pool. Lack of common sense can be funny, all right. But when it hurts it ceases to be funny.

There has been no blackout of common sense in America yet. But issues are commencing to fog up suspiciously and that is a danger sign. Because when people get confused they are forever apt to go on an emotional jag as a way out, simply to end the torment of their own mental perplexity.

America's danger lies not so much in what it thinks—but in not bothering to think at all. Too many of us don't want to think; we'd rather talk crazy-talk instead. On the basis of some of the opinions you yourself may have handed out, can you blame your neighbor for seeing a fifth column in every bedpost or a Trojan horse under the bed?

There do happen to be things we all care about: being able to vote, live, earn, travel, read and pray any way we doggone please. The safety of the things we care about doesn't depend so much on any decision this nation may ever take as it does on the fact that there always be a decision—made by an informed people—calmly and quietly—on the basis of facts. We can't leave it up to the lads on the lunatic fringe and blame anybody but ourselves afterward.

There must be no blackout of common sense, of clear thinking in America. So the next time a friend of yours bleats: "Emergency! Follow the leader . . . jail the dissenters . . . gag the press . . . throttle the opposition . . ." just tell him you want all the facts, not just one side of the case and remind him that well-intentioned folks have been hollering like that ever since Washington's time and then feeling mighty foolish afterward.

One nice thing about us Americans . . . we have got common sense.

Friends, it is only one and one-half weeks until our meeting starts with Bro. C. V. Allen of Spur doing the preaching. We were privileged to have Bro. Allen with us last Lord's Day at the morning service. He was here primarily to discuss the meeting with us. He has informed us that the main topic of discussion at the evening services will be "The New Testament Church, Its Work and Purpose, and Its Worth to the Human Race." "The Bible and How to Study It" will be the primary theme of the morning services. We cordially invite every person to attend every service of the meeting. We also want to extend a special invitation to the neighboring communities, especially to all of the old friends of Bro. Allen in Truscott. Bro. Allen informed us that it would be his aim to preach the Gospel, which "is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth;" Rom. 1:16, in its fullness and in its simplicity with all of the loving kindness of his being. We are sure that you will be benefited by attending these gospel services. Robert McCown, Minister.

Christian Science Services "God" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 7. The Golden Text is: "Blessing and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honour, and power, and might, be unto our God for ever and ever. Amen." (Revelation 7:12). Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? or who shall stand in his holy place? He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart. . . He shall receive the blessing from the Lord, and righteousness from the God of his salvation" (Psalms 24:3, 4, 5). The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God's being is infinity, freedom, harmony, and boundless bliss. 'Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.' Like the archpriests of yore, man is free to enter into the holiest,—the realm of God" (page 481).

Well, if salvation is a gift of God (John 3:16), not earned, but received in answer to faith in His Son, what do the words, "Work out your own salvation," mean? We speak of a student "working out" a problem in mathematics; that is, carrying it to its ultimate conclusion. And that is exactly what these words mean. The Christian is exhorted to carry the salvation which God has given him to its ultimate conclusion, namely, Christlikeness. God saved us to make us like His Son. John, speaking of this same thing, says, "And every man that hath this hope set on him purifieth himself even as he is pure" (1 John 3:2, 3). The salvation spoken of here is the willing and the doing of God's good pleasure. But the Christian is not left without resources, for God the Holy Spirit indwelling him produces in him both the willingness and the power to do God's will, as the Christian yields himself definitely to the Holy Spirit for that purpose. The exhortation, "Work out your own salvation," means therefore that each Christian has the

MESCAL IKE By S. L. HUNTLEY

The second half of the Foard County Softball League race was opened under the arcs here this week. The Crowell Aces and Rayland were slated for play Monday night, but after working out until 10 o'clock with nary a sign of the Rayland lads the Aces packed up and left, wondering what had happened to their opponents. As yet there has been no explanation received why the Rayland team did not show up. There have been rumors that the club was going to drop out of the race, but it is believed that word about the game was not received by the manager. Tuesday night, Margaret, first half champions, bounced back into play to romp freely over a make-shift Oiler crew to ring up a 20 to 3 score in the first game played in the second half. At game time, the Oilers' manager found that only a couple of his regulars had reported for play, and rather than forfeit or disappoint the Margaret boys, he grabbed up enough from the sidelines to play the game. The second half of the season was opened Monday night with the game between the Crowell Aces and Rayland, and the second tilt was staged Tuesday night between the Crowell Oilers and Margaret. Our Weekly Sermon

By Rev. Kenneth S. Wuest, Member of Faculty, The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.

Working Out Your Own Salvation Text — Wherefore, my beloved, as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling. For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his good pleasure.—Philippians 2:12, 13.

Before attempting to explain what this passage of Scripture does teach, let us be clear as to what it does not teach. It does not mean that an unsaved person should do good works in order that he might become a Christian. These words were written to Christians. God's Word has no exhortation to an unsaved person except to believe on the Lord Jesus Christ as his Saviour. It does not say, "Work for your own salvation," but, "Work out your own salvation."

The Bible teaches that "not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us" (Titus 3:5), and that "by grace are ye saved through faith, and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: not of works, lest any man should boast" (Eph. 2:8, 9). "Therefore we conclude that a man is justified by faith without the deeds of the law" (Rom. 3:28).

Well, if salvation is a gift of God (John 3:16), not earned, but received in answer to faith in His Son, what do the words, "Work out your own salvation," mean? We speak of a student "working out" a problem in mathematics; that is, carrying it to its ultimate conclusion. And that is exactly what these words mean. The Christian is exhorted to carry the salvation which God has given him to its ultimate conclusion, namely, Christlikeness. God saved us to make us like His Son. John, speaking of this same thing, says, "And every man that hath this hope set on him purifieth himself even as he is pure" (1 John 3:2, 3). The salvation spoken of here is the willing and the doing of God's good pleasure. But the Christian is not left without resources, for God the Holy Spirit indwelling him produces in him both the willingness and the power to do God's will, as the Christian yields himself definitely to the Holy Spirit for that purpose. The exhortation, "Work out your own salvation," means therefore that each Christian has the responsibility to make progress in his Christian life, remembering that as he endeavors to do that, he must yield himself to the Holy Spirit, who will cause him to make that progress in Christlikeness which is the goal to which he must carry his salvation. Each morning include in your prayer: "Lord Jesus, I thank Thee for the Holy Spirit who lives in my heart. My desire is that He control my every thought, word, and deed, all day long. I do trust thee for this, Lord Jesus" (John 7:37, 38).

Long Range Prediction

By JOHN ADAMS

July 2, 1776, the delegates from the colonies, meeting in Philadelphia, voted to separate from Britain that day, two days before the Declaration of Independence was signed.

John Adams, later to become President of the United States, wrote to his wife, Abigail:

"I am apt to believe that it (the day) will be celebrated by succeeding generations as the great anniversary festival. It ought to be commemorated as the day of deliverance, solemn acts of devotion to God, and illuminations from one end of the continent to the other, this time forward evermore."

"I will think me transported with enthusiasm but I am not. I am aware of the toil and blood and sweat that it will cost to defend the States. Yet through all the I can see the rays of ravishing light and glory. I can see that it is more than worth all the sweat and that posterity will triumph in that day's transaction, even if we should rue it, which I think God will not."

"I predicted pretty well the result of the celebration, although trade schools within the industries themselves, or a chance to work for a while close to the soil. They can gain in health, self-reliance and self-respect, earn something and learn something at the same time. On the land they can learn what city boys and town boys, especially, need to know: that the ultimate resource of this nation, or any nation, is its land.

"It would be a fine thing if business were to accept this as a social responsibility. Whether it is done by individual business men, by a co-operative business group in town or city or by a community itself, it can be done and it needs to be done."

At both Camp Legion and Camp Willow Run is a group of 65 boys. Before coming to camp, all were unemployed. Most of them are sons of dead or disabled veterans. Each group has a 320-acre tract provided by Mr. Ford to work on. They are taught the fundamentals of agriculture and plant, cultivate and harvest many different kinds of garden crops. The products are sold at wayside stands. From the revenue the camp operating expenses are paid. The boys sleep in tents, have their meals in a special mess-hall and each receives $2 a day. At the end of the season the cash balance remaining after payment of operating expenses is divided among the boys equally. Last season each boy received $118 in addition to his wages.

The boys govern themselves and maintain camp discipline through officers chosen by themselves from their own number. After the season ends, those who wish may enter the Henry Ford Trade School, or get jobs in Ford factories.

SAVING MONEY With Cotton Bags

Are you upset about the cigaret burn in the leather top of your new bridge table? Don't worry about it—because a washable cover will hide the scar. One large cotton sugar bag or flour bag will make a cover just the size of the bridge table. A bolt of bias tape can be used to bind the edges and make the ties to hold the cloth secure. Add a little starch when laundering, and your cotton bag bridge table cloth looks like linen and gives a smooth playing surface which resists soil.

Extra cotton bags may be obtained from your nearest baker or department store.

Many Cotton Bag Sewing ideas are illustrated in a free booklet. Send to National Cotton Council, Box 18, Memphis, or Textile Bags, 100 N. LaSalle St., Chicago.

Good Health Figures to Large Extent in War Preparedness

Austin.—"America has with good reason to become preparedness-conscious. World events have emphasized the necessity of developing the nation's fighting power to a point where it can meet any exigencies which the future may present. While in the present preparedness program the greater emphasis is being placed upon the production of mechanical equipment, the armed forces continue to be aware of the need of physical fitness in their personnel," declares Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"In 1917 more than one-third of the drafted men examined were declared unfit for military duty. Though in recent years the percentage of applicants unfit for service may have dropped slightly, the number is still too high.

"Therefore, it would appear both from the standpoint of the individual's welfare and the nation's, that an increased or more intelligent appreciation of the value of good health and maximum vitality well could be displayed not only on the part of men of military age, but by the nation as a whole. Both good sense and patriotism demand it.

"Whether in peace or in war, a country is only as strong as its people. But it is equally true that real and happy living to the greatest possible extent can only be enjoyed by those who, by a rational observance of nature's basic laws, are giving their bodies a square deal.

"In this connection, the logic of surrounding the young with preventives available through science is obvious. Immunization against diphtheria, small-pox vaccination, proper food in proper amounts, sufficient sleep and rest, and the removal of remediable physical defects merely represent sound judgment and an essential parental duty," Dr. Cox pointed out.

"But to stop at this point is to fall short of the individual's and the nation's need. All adults profitably could take stock of their habits, eliminate those which they know are detrimental, obtain medical advice on others concerning which they have reasonable doubts, and strive in a sensible, rational manner to develop and keep maximum health and vitality.

"In short, the physical examination to discover possible physical defects, and a non-fanatical adherence to fundamental requirements in food, rest, exercise, and other essentials are points that should not be overlooked by an adult who has at heart not only his own personal happiness and health, but the interest of the beneficent nation in which he lives.

OLD POTTERY FOUND

Waco.—Several pieces of pottery shards found by Dave Cheavens, Associated Press writer and Baylor University graduate, at the site of Fort St. Louis on Garcitus creek near Victoria have been added to the John K. Strecker museum at Baylor, Dr. Leo T. Murray, curator, said today.

The site, according to popular belief, is the location of the Sieur de la Salle's fort established in 1685, Dr. Murray said. Some of the pottery is believed to be of French and some of Spanish origin, though the different pieces were found within a very close distance of each other.

Texas Boys Win in National Contest

Akron, Ohio.—Two Texas farm boys, Oscar Turner, R. F. D. No. 1, El Paso, and Chester Owen, R. F. D. No. 4, Willis Point, have been awarded $25 each in cash for essays submitted in a national essay contest conducted by the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. on the subject "How Rubber Tires Have Changed Farm Equipment and Methods."

Both boys graduated from their respective high schools this spring, Turner from Ysleta high school and Owen from Willis Point. Turner is a member of Ysleta Chapter of Future Farmers of America and Owen of the Willis Point Chapter Future Farmers of America.

Thousands of contestants from every state in the Union were entered in the contest. Entrants who submitted the 10 best manuscripts will be given an all-expense-paid vacation trip, in July, from their homes to Timagami, more than 250 miles north of Toronto, Ontario, for a northwoods outing as guests of P. W. Litchfield, Goodyear president. Turner's essay ranked 25th and Owen's 29th in the competition.

Two Minute Sermon

(By Thomas Hastwell)

Broadcasting the Life We Live: The other day there came into my office an itinerant peddler. He was dirty and unkempt. He needed a shave badly and his clothing was soiled and shining with grease. He exhaled an unpleasant odor that indicated that he had not bathed for many weeks. After he had gone, there clung to the room an unpleasant reminder of his presence. Not long after he left a young lady came into the office. She was wholesome to look at in her attractive summer print and spotless white broad brimmed straw hat that framed a face wreathed in a happy smile. She was a picture of health and life and animation. For some time after she left her radiant, joyous presence seemed to pervade the place. How like people the thought came to me. The man who is selfish, profane, irrelevant, sensual, who cares nothing for the better

Somewhere in France this aged, feeble old lady is experiencing the horrors of war for the third time in her life. She knew war when the Prussians marched on Paris in 1870; again she met it in 1914 when the Germans got as far as the Marne. Today she is again a fugitive before the relentless Nazi war machine.

things of life or its finer spiritual values brings into any group into which he comes just that kind of an atmosphere. The individual who has the spirit of Christ in his heart, who loves his neighbor and his fellow man, carries just that sort of an atmosphere wherever he goes. We can't have ugliness and sordidness in our lives and reflect beauty and sweetness, any more than we can have the spirit of Christ in our lives without revealing it to those about us. We broadcast the life we live.

A total of 433 prints were made of the film "Gone With the Wind." That is, 433 copies of the film were made that it might be shown in 433 theatres at one time. It required 1,600 miles of film to make the prints.

Henry Ford Has Launched "National Youth Movement" to Help Solve the Problem of Youth Unemployment

Detroit, Mich., June 22.—Henry Ford today launched a "National Youth Movement" of his own.

"25,000 other industrialists and manufacturers in all parts of the United States he mailed a letter pointing out the opportunity to every employer of youth to help in solving "our gravitational problem—youth unemployment."

"I have a deep faith that, if each business and industry will make it part of its business program to do what it can to create opportunity for youth to get started—the problem will vanish."

The booklet explains Mr. Ford's idea on how to meet the situation constructively—and the results he has attained at Camp Legion and Camp Willow Run, respectively, at Dearborn and Epsilanti, Michigan. To these youth camps, one in its third, the other in its second year, Mr. Ford gives his personal, daily attention.

"I'd rather do this than anything else I know of," Mr. Ford told newspapermen. "These boys need a chance to get started. If we have faith in the American way of life, we will help them get a start, and when they start they will carry on the faith in America."

"If it is impossible for industry to employ all of them at once in regular jobs, there remains something else—it is one of the most constructive things that could possibly be done.

"They can be given a chance in

Let's keep it American

THE European war has re-awakened Americans to the truth of the saying, "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty."

Our liberty is not immediately threatened. But it may be if we do not prepare to defend it from any possible attack. Such preparation is an effort in which everyone can share.

We favor adequate preparedness for national defense. This country's natural position gives us a great measure of security against threats from abroad. With careful preparation we can strengthen that position until no nation would dare attack us.

National defense is not only a matter of men, airplanes, battleships and guns. It also requires us to strengthen our American institutions, which are the very things we wish to protect and preserve. They must be preserved. It would be a bitter and ironic victory if, in order to defeat an enemy, we sidetracked the system of free enterprise and the personal liberties which distinguish the American way of life from the tyrannies of Europe and Asia.

Let's keep this country American. Government experts and civilian authorities are studying how to provide for our actual defense and each citizen's part in it. Meanwhile, the rest of us can help by doing our work, whatever it is, as well as we can.

That is what all the people of this company intend to do. Together with other electric companies, we have built a system capable of supplying the nation with electric service in any emergency. This system will be maintained and strengthened and we will continue our day-to-day effort to provide the dependable electric service that makes the United States a better place to live.

Vernon Bride-Elect Complimented with Party in Crowell

To honor and to compliment Miss Mozelle Lemons, who is to be married to Mr. Aubie House of Vernon on July 4, a lovely reception and shower was given last Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Peyton Powers with Mrs. Powers and Misses Thelma Lois Moore, Billie Brown, Juanita Brown, Ruth Ferguson and Marjorie Spencer as joint hostesses.

The reception rooms were tastefully decorated with pink rose-buds. The guests were greeted by Miss Ferguson, who introduced them to Mrs. Eddie Purefoy of Vernon, mother of the groom-to-be; Miss Lemons and her mother, Mrs. Crickett Lemons.

After registering in the bride's book, where Miss Juanita Brown presided, the guests were invited to the dining room for the serving of punch. Here Miss Billie Brown and Miss Marjorie Spencer poured and served the punch. The punch bowl was arranged in a setting of pink and white carnations, fern and baby's breath.

Two-branched candelabra were placed on either side of the punch bowl and held long, burning tapers. The dining room was further decorated in the same flowers.

The lovely gifts were arranged for display in the sun porch and Mrs. Powers was in charge. Miss Moore played piano music throughout the reception hours, which were from 3 to 5 and during which time approximately fifty friends called.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Jim Armstrong, Miss Wilma Gene Armstrong, Miss Norma Rogers and Mrs. Pitts of Vernon.

A Big-Capacity, Fast-Working Two-Row Power Corn Binder McCORMICK-DEERING

HERE is the machine for the farmer with a large acreage of corn—the McCormick-Deering Two-Row Power-Operated Corn Binder. It cuts two rows every trip across the field—its capacity is 20 to 25 acres a day. Driven from the power take-off of a McCormick-Deering Tractor, uniform and constant operating speed is assured regardless of slippery ground or heavy crop conditions.

The design of the gatherers permits raising and gathering any down or leaning stalks—shields provide smooth passage and prevent the ears from being knocked off. Three sets of lifter chains insure proper handling of tall or short corn.

This power binder is built in two types—for tall and average length corn, and for small and short varieties. Ask us about it.

"Miss Lemons made high score in the games, and was presented not only with that award but a guest gift, a hand-made taffeta bride's book. Miss Ruth Ferguson of Crowell, who scored second high, gave the bride-elect her prize, a picture.

"The announcement was written on tiny scrolls, tied to the small packages of rice wrapped in bridal veiling, which were placed on plates when the ice course was served."

"Guests were the honoree and her mother; Misses Louise True-love and Gladys Helton and Messdames Jim Gregory, Wilson Herring, Eddie Purefoy, and J. D. Hoover, all of Vernon, and Misses Thelma Lois Moore, Billie Brown, Juanita Brown, and Ruth Ferguson, and Messdames Skeet Rashberry, Sam Knox and Peyton Powers, all of Crowell."

As a further compliment to the bride and groom-elect, Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Hoover entertained with a delightful garden party and shower at their home in Vernon on Monday evening. The party was attended by Miss Thelma Lois Moore and Woodrow Lemons of Crowell. Mr. Lemons is a brother to the bride.

WEST SIDE CLUB

"No bird is better known to the farmers than the Bob White. The birds' cheery calls the year round form part of the most pleasant associations of country life," said Mrs. C. R. Bryson when the West Side Club met on June 12 with Mrs. Curtis Ribble.

The birds feed largely on insects and weed seeds, as grain forms scarcely more than a sixth of the food of the Bob White, and most of it is taken during the winter and early spring when nothing but waste grain is available.

Roll call was answered with "a bird I have noticed around my home," and the mocking bird and sissor-tail proved to be the most noticed.

The club will meet on July 10 with Mrs. S. E. Tate with a program on "make meal time a pleasant time."
