YOUR FUTURE Congressman?

It's HARD to tell... but EASY to pick a winning oil

YOU'RE STICKING YOUR NECK OUT, if you try to guess whether this young chap is headed for Washington.

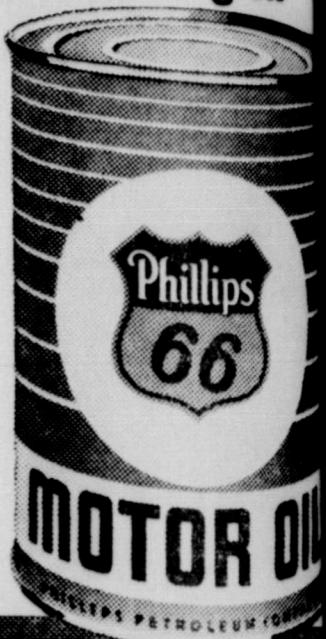

True, he is already exhibiting signs of future political prowess. But experience has shown that some of the least likely candidates end up with high position, while school boy orators and class officers seldom rise to national affairs.

Easier than picking a winning politico is voting for a winning oil for your motor. This is why:

Of the many oils which Phillips makes, in various grades to match varying needs of cars and pocketbooks, we have set one apart as our best.

We say unconditionally and without reservation that Phillips 66 Motor Oil is our finest quality... the highest grade and greatest value... among all the oils we offer.

Pick a winning oil by pointing to the can marked with the Orange and Black 66 Shield, when you make the 1,000-mile change, as well as when you put in lighter oil for the winter.

Beauty Reaches All-Time High in New '41 Chevrolet

Completely new styling joins with numerous mechanical improvements to make the new 1941 Chevrolet, now on display at all dealers, a worthy successor to the cars which have earned first place in public favor year after year. The greater size and roominess of the new models, as well as their sleek new beauty, are apparent in the Special De Luxe Sport Sedan, shown above. At (2) is shown the spacious interior of the same model's rear compartment, and at (3) is its front compartment, showing two-spoke steering wheel with horn-blowing ring, sliding-type sun visors, and smartly re-styled dash.

One of the major changes is substitution of concealed safety-steps (4) for the running boards of other years, an improvement adding to the car's beauty without sacrifice of the safety and convenience which running boards provide. At (5) is the six-cylinder Chevrolet valve-in-head engine for 1941, in which many refinements have been made. Horsepower is increased from 85 to 90 without affecting economy; and cooling, lubrication and carburetion are all improved. In circle is the new switch which reverses the ignition current polarity each time the starter is operated, indefinitely prolonging the life of distributor points.

More than 2,500 tax-exempt non-profit making high schools which have been certified as bona fide educational institutions by the superintendents of schools over the State will participate. Search me, O God, and know my heart: try me, and know my thoughts: And see if there be any wicked way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting.—Psalms 139:23-24.

We believe that a year of compulsory military training a good thing for every young man. Young men these days need the impersonal discipline that the army gives and that too few parents and teachers are able to give. There is nothing wrong about the army. It teaches no young man had or vicious habits. On the other hand it does teach discipline, rules of health and personal hygiene that every young man ought to know. If this country had had a year's compulsory military training in force for the past fifty years there wouldn't be so many helpless misfits as there is today. There also would not be so much luke warm patriotism as there is today. If we are going to create patriotism in this country we are going to make this country mean something to its citizens. A member of the Legion doesn't need to be taught patriotism. He has it. He has given something for his country, a measure of his life. He appreciates his country. A course in military training will cause the young men to see their government and their country in a new light.

All of the great industries of this country, all of the successful private enterprises in this country are so because some one worked hard and worked long hours to make them so. We do not believe even this country will get very far on a soft program of leisure and casual work. We believe that all progress a people make is the sum total of the work that people do. Whenever a people get to the point in their thinking that they believe they can get along with a little work, that moment they are going to begin to slip back, all the fine spun theories of the necessity of leisure notwithstanding. Work is the only recipe ever given to create wealth a great nation, or a successful industry. As soon as we begin to substitute leisure for work we have begun already to decay.

If this country needs an object lesson to spur her on toward the fight against foreign isms in this country she has it in France. We have little sympathy with the mawkish sentiment that freedom means that we have to submit passively to representatives of foreign isms seeking to destroy our form of government. We have no patience with the theory that liberty and freedom of speech gives them the right to build an organization in America to destroy America as an organization was built in France to destroy France. There are times when simple common sense should not stand an order. It should do the sensible thing. The sensible thing in this case is obvious.

We hope that if Hitler fails in his effort to defeat England that as was the case in the World War which was stopped six months too soon. She should go through Europe and compel complete disarmament of all these brawling nations. If some one has to run Europe we would much rather England did it. Make them all disarm. Let England be the policeman.

Churchill is the man of the hour in England. It is his rugged strength and dauntless courage and unquestionable optimism that has given England the heart to fight when it looked like resistance would be useless. England owes much to Churchill.

Any one you meet sitting whittling on the shady side of the street these days can tell you what is the matter with the country and what ought to be done about it, but he can't tell what is the trouble with himself and what ought to be done about it.

According to the Gallup poll 79 per cent of the people of the United States believe that strikes should be outlawed in all industries engaged in the building of defense materials.

We never knew until the advent of the radio and the movies that ability to sing was one of the prime requisites of a cowboy.

A lot of folks whose friends induced them to run for office know now what poor judgment their friends have.

It doesn't take a great deal of experience to teach a man that he can't make money without working.

KITCHEN SAVES TIME

College Station, Sept. 16.—It is entirely possible for a homemaker to keep house for years and years and still waste a lot of time. Some short-cuts in food preparation to save time and energy and increase efficiency in the kitchen have been listed by Louise Bryant, specialist in home management for the A. & M. College Extension Service.

Here are some of her suggested kitchen tricks:

Football Teams of District 9-A Come Through Opening Week With Flying Colors; Chillicothe Goes Wild

The teams of District 9-A came through the first week of the season with flying colors. Three of the four teams with games last Friday were victorious and one team was tied.

The Chillicothe Eagles, favored for the district championship, are living up to expectations by blasting the Wellington Skyrockets, defending champs in their district, by a score of 41 to 6 in Chillicothe.

The Crowell Wildcats showed much strength in holding the heavily favored Matador Bullfighters to a scoreless tie on the home gridiron.

Archer City's Wildcats, evidently with one of its strongest teams in several years, played hosts to the Wichita Falls Rowdies and sent them home with a 25 to 0 defeat.

Holliday's Eagles showed strength which is coming by virtue of experienced players in their victory over the Alvord eleven in Holliday.

This Week's Game

The Crowell Wildcats will travel to Paducah Friday night for a game which will open the home season for the Dragons. The Wildcats will again be the underdogs, as the Dragons have their strongest team in many seasons and are predicted by many to win the championship of that district.

The Archer City Wildcats will entertain the Bowie team, while the Seymour Panthers play hosts to Munday in a game that will be watched by Crowell fans, as the Wildcats will meet both teams.

The Throckmorton Greyhounds open their season at Albany and the Iowa Park Hawks travel to Jacksboro for their first game.

Keep a supply of different size glass jars with covers to use as containers for left-over food in the refrigerator. These will take up less room than bowls and are easier to cover.

What We Think
(By Frank Dixon)

While a relief program is necessary during the depression, I feel that in a number of instances, in perhaps every community, it has had a more or less demoralizing effect upon certain individuals.

Some men who never were very work brittle and who have always been lacking in self-initiative, since the advent of the relief program have lost what little initiative they once had and are content to take such employment as the relief program brings. Even when normal times return they will not become awakened to the extent of making any effort to secure employment in private industry. They are the type of workers whose services are not generally sought after by private industry.

Fortunately this element is small in every community. Even though the country returns to normal there will always be a necessity for maintaining some sort of relief program for workers of this type.

The most demoralizing feature of the relief program, in my opinion, is the effect it has had on the integrity, the honor and the morale of some of those not on relief.

I have in mind two young men in my home town, both of whom refused support to their mothers and forced them to go on relief. It so happened that both of these young men had positions that paid them well. They came easily within the upper ten per cent of the community as far as income was concerned. They were married but neither had any children.

The young men lived well, their homes had many luxuries. They took vacations each summer and always drove the latest models of cars. Another party in my community, a woman, married well. Her home had the best of furnishings. A luxurious private swimming pool occupied a beautifully landscaped yard. When she went for her mother she took off her beautiful and costly rings and other jewelry and put on a very plain and simple dress. She was successful in getting her mother on relief.

Things like this bring more reproach to the relief program than any of the shortcomings of the relief clients but against the people who stoop to do them.

In my opinion, although through a fortunate quirk of circumstances they happen to be possessed of a more than average amount of resources, they are tragically lacking in integrity, self-respect and common sense of duty. The circumstances surrounding these particular cases are not confined to by community. Such cases are doubtless to be found in every community in the land. If any of these three had not had the necessary income to care for themselves and their families comfortably there might have been extenuating circumstances, but such was not the case. None of these was a young married couple struggling to get a start and keep up a home and raise and educate a family on a too small salary. They were amply able to assume their responsibility toward their own and their fellows without any sacrifice of necessities to themselves or their own families. They received their local welfare office and got their first place allowed but they subjected their legitimate dependents to an embarrassment they did not deserve. More than this, they branded themselves as slackers at a time when the country and those hard working, thrifty individuals who are supporting the relief program need and deserve a measure of co-operation and a sharing of the heavy load.

vantages over the Wildcats: that of weight and experience, but advantages can vanish quickly once a ball game is started. The Crowell line will be outweighed 19 pounds per man, as the Paducah forward wall averages 170 pounds to Crowell's 151 pounds. The Wildcat backs average 148 pounds.

This difference in weights of the team which Coach Graves placed on the field last week and the one which will play Friday night is due to changes in the lineup. Ralph Flesher will replace Duane Capps in a halfback spot Friday night and T. L. Owens will go to the left tackle position.

The Wildcats will have a dangerous ground attack of their own. The principal ball carriers will be Bill Ownbey, A. Y. Olds and Leroy Gibson. These boys did excellent work in their first game and will be a threat to any club they meet.

If the Dragon line proves exceedingly tough, the Wildcats can easily take to the air lanes. As yet, they do not have an outstanding passing combination, but A. Y. Olds heaving to Bill Ownbey.

The blocking of the Wildcats is yet rugged and irregular, but once the blockers become polished, Crowell's running attack will improve in leaps and bounds. Defensive play of the Crowell line was far above par against the Matadors, and the Crowell line shows promise of being very strong in spite of the number of first year men manning it.

The Wildcats were in a hole from the start, as the opening kick-off rolled over the goal line and the Crowell team took over on its own 20. The fourth down of the series found the Wildcats back on the 19, due to a fumble, and Ownbey punted out of danger. Starting on the Crowell 47 yard line, the Bullfighters, featuring Berryman, Nelson and Allsup, drove down to the 10-yard marker when a fumble recovered by a Wildcat stopped the scoring threat. Olds lost 5 yards trying left tackle and Ownbey punted to the Crowell 38. The Matadors were back to the 17 as the quarter ended.

Continuing their drive in the second period, the Matador lads rolled down to the 5, where the Wildcats' defense stiffened and Crowell took the ball on downs. At this point, the Wildcats showed their first good offensive thrust. Olds broke through left tackle for 10 yards. Ownbey crashed right tackle for 6 and Gibson plunged through center for 2. Gibson again carried for 3 and Capps added 2. A five-yard penalty put the Wildcats back to the 25 and Ownbey kicked out-of-bounds on the Matador 31. The visitors drove back to their own 49 but were held for three downs and Nelson kicked out on the Crowell 31. The Wildcats failed to make any yardage on two thrusts and on the last play of the first half, Kennedy intercepted Olds pass on the 50-yard marker.

Second Half
 Diggs opened the second half by kicking to the Matador 25 with Berryman returning to the 35. The Bullfighters launched a running attack that carried them to the Crowell 19. A holding penalty set them back to the 35 and on the following play Allsup fumbled with Brisco recovering on the Matador 40 for Crowell. Haseloff opened Crowell's first scoring threat by scampering around left end for 21 yards. Ownbey lost 3 and Crowell received an offside penalty. Olds twisted his way through the center of the line for 16 yards, and then plunged back through the same position for 4 more. Olds shot a short pass to Ownbey who was finally dropped on the 12-yard line. Capps plunged through center three times to put the ball on the Matador 5. On the fourth down, Haseloff was dropped for a 4-yard loss, and the visitors took the ball on downs at that point. Allsup picked up 7 yards and on three plays Berryman had advanced to his own 38 at the end of the third period.

Starting the final quarter, Nelson carried it three more yards to midfield. Set back by an offside penalty, Nelson, running side penalty, Nelson, running side by his own 45, circled right end for 15 yards to the Crowell 40. Here the Wildcats stopped the Matadors on four plays and took the ball on their own 40.

Ownbey drove around right end for 11 yards, and Olds added 1 more. Ownbey again carried around right end, this time for 9 yards. Olds carried for 1 yard and Ownbey rushed through right tackle for 3. Olds picked up 5 through center, but the attack was stopped on the next play when Capps fumbled and Matador recovered.

Matador lost 4 yards on three plays, but Nelson flipped a pass to Green to place the ball on the Crowell 40 with a first down. Again the Wildcats stiffened and held the Bullfighters for downs to take the ball again on their own 40. Hudgreon came around from his end position and shot a pass to Haseloff who took the ball on a dead run. Haseloff ripped his way through the Bullfighters only to be tripped by the last man between him and the goal line and was dropped on the Matador 28. The Wildcats fumbled on the following play with the Matadors recovering on the 35. Nelson picked up 3 yards around right end. On the next scrimmage Matador received a 15-yard penalty to set them back on the 23. A pass fell incomplete. Nelson closed the game by kicking out-of-bounds on the Crowell 45.

But "The Masses" were not so foolish, after all!

LESS LOUDLY NOW, you may still hear an occasional agitator blasting away at the American system of business—which depends on big factories, big networks of dealers, trade-marked goods, heavy advertising, and low prices.

Agitators complained for years that "the masses" were injured by this system, and that we'd all be richer if we went back to the old cracker-barrel days.

But in spite of the complaints, little factories which have made dependable goods grew into big factories. Dealers insisted on having trade-marked goods which their customers could recognize. And the heavy advertising helped to give us our modern newspapers, magazines and radio.

Who built this system? The masses built it, by insisting on crackers they could recognize in the package, on automobiles, soups, soaps, chewing gum, cigarettes, and all other articles that carried well-known trade names.

So the agitators have had to pipe down. They have discovered that "the masses" were not so easy to lead astray after all.

Our Weekly Sermon

By Rev. Henry Ostrom, D. D., Member of Extension Staff The Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

Environment Text: And all that sat in the council looking steadfastly on him, saw his face as it had been the face of an angel. . . . When they heard these things, they were cut to the heart, and they gnashed on him with their teeth. . . . But he, being full of the Holy Ghost, looked steadfastly into heaven, and saw the glory of God. . . . Then they cried out with a loud voice, and stopped their ears, and ran upon him with one accord, and cast him out of the city, and stoned him. . . . And he kneeled down, and cried with a loud voice, Lord, lay not this sin to their charge. —Acts 6:15; 7:54-60. How readily the discussion about heredity and environment could be settled, especially as far as environment goes, by a calm appeal to the Bible. All the books which sidetrack the Bible concerning this subject ignore the fact that there are two environments for man instead of one. To the Christian this double environment is real and proved. Few incidents in history illustrate the power of this double environment as does the death of Stephen. The outer environment was a howling mob prompted by unbridled rage and hurled rocks, for which the target was this truth-loving and agonizing man—Stephen. The inner environment was that of a man whose face bore angelic splendor, a man praying, a man forgiving the mob, a man whose vision outranked anything the natural eye could see. He was dying, but that fact was submerged by the tokens of his triumphing. The scene carries us farthest from assuming that the man's face shone. The people saw it shine. If the description had spoken of swellings and blood and great deformity, we would not have been surprised, but we are thrilled when it speaks of the angelic reminders on Stephen's face. The scene carries us the farthest from assuming he prayed for his persecutors and slayers. They heard him. Cries of pain and shrieks of terror would not have surprised us. But to him, the Lord was more real than material rocks or faddened shouts. "Lord, lay not this sin to their charge," he prayed. He had cried for judgment to break upon them like lightning, it would have been natural. But we bow and declare that this act was so unusual it must have been supernatural. Yes, there are manifestly two

Picture, "I Wanted Wings," Being Made at Randolph Field

Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, Texas, August 30.—(Special)—Mascara, rouge, lipstick and face powder have invaded Randolph Field, "West Point of the Air," where flying cadets are trained to fly war planes for Uncle Sam. No, Randolph Field has not turned co-educational. It is still strictly reserved for male citizens of excellent character. Neither do we mean that flying cadets have adopted the popular aids of feminine blandishments. The Mascara, rouge, lipstick and face powder all are worn by certain moving picture celebrities currently on location at Randolph Field to make another picture featuring the United States Army Air Corps. Paramount is doing the job, aided by Constance Moore, Ray Milland, William Holden and more than a hundred others. The picture, "I Wanted Wings," will cost two million dollars to complete. Camera booms, cameras, sound equipment and other apparatus is so thick around Hangar J that crew chiefs and mechanics find it hard to tell airplane parts from movie machinery. Only when a strange looking contrivance has an actress attached—they say—do they conclude that it pertains definitely to Paramount and not to a BT-9 or a B-18. Not often, however, in the strenuous life of the flying cadet, are there interludes and actresses. When Uncle Sam accepts a student pilot, the intent is to train him well—and quickly! Only nine months' time is consumed from the moment the student begins his elementary training as a flying cadet at one of the approved civilian flying schools to the moment when he steps up at Kelly Field graduation exercises for his commission as a second lieutenant in the Air Corps Reserve. This nine months' training is divided into three periods. There is a period of three months spent in elementary work at a civilian flying school; a period of three months spent in basic training at Randolph Field, Texas, and a final three months spent in advanced training at Kelly Field, Texas. Classes begin each six weeks and provide a steady flow of qualified young men from civilian life into the Regular Army and the Air Corps Reserve. The fact that classes matriculate at such frequent intervals, says Sgt. James H. Cook, U. S. Army recruiting officer at Vernon, means that there are practically always vacancies existing or in prospect for suitably qualified young men. Applications are

Cotton Wall Goes Into Place

Workmen, busy at the task of relieving America's housing shortage, find construction easier with the introduction of a new cotton covered wallboard by a Seattle manufacturer in sizes large enough to cover the entire side of a room. The specially treated fire-resistant cotton canvas covering makes possible immediate painting or papering of walls as quickly as they are put into place without the customary delay caused by plastering. The National Cotton Council reports that the houses, built by the Department of Agriculture of cotton-covered board similar to the Seattle product, are proving highly satisfactory.

now being taken by Sgt. Cook to fill classes scheduled to begin during the fall and winter months. In order to be considered for enlistment as a flying cadet it is necessary only that the unmarried applicant, between the ages of 20 and 26 (inclusive) and possessing two years of college training or its equivalent, go in person or write to the U. S. Army Recruiting Station at Vernon. Every assistance will be given in preparation of the few simple application papers required. Sgt. Cook, the recruiting representative, will be glad to answer all inquiries from interested persons concerning enlistment of flying cadets.

One-Fourth of Texas Under Lease for Oil and Gas Development

Dallas, Sept. 16.—More than one-fourth of Texas is now under lease for oil and gas development, a state-wide survey just completed by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association shows. Out of a total area of 169,130,716 acres in Texas, Texas oilmen have under lease 45,402,656 acres, the association found. This is nearly 27 per cent of all the land in Texas. The figures were compiled from county tax records, company reports and ownership maps of individual counties. Lease and royalty payments on this acreage to Texas farmers and ranchers totalled over $125,000,000 in 1939, the association reported. This extra cash income for Texas farmers and stockmen represented an additional 27 cents from the oilman for each dollar of cash farm income, exclusive of Government benefit payments. Including such payments, it represented 22 cents additional for each dollar of cash agricultural income in Texas last year. In total return to the State, however, petroleum far exceeded

TO THE FRESHMAN

Just to the Freshmen: Long they all live. This year all should certainly have ev-ing of shoes they own well
 And there are so many
 "Fish" to do it! And pen-
 We should all buy at least a worth of penny pencils, so the freshmen will have some-it's Halloween and the freshmen, just have them stand up. If they come just a little above your waist then it's a freshman. Aren't they little this year?

 But they make up for it by being cute. Some of the "fish" seem to be too "up" in the world for us, but most of them have been co-operating nicely (Ferece?).
 Thanks to the sweet ones. Brickbats to the others. Upper classmen, don't forget favors and oth-

MUSIC

Hey! You kids. Where's your musical talent? Oh, so it's your hidden talent, eh! Well, drift on down and let the music class find it for you (we all adore treasure hunts). But, seriously, (if possible), it would really be swell if about two dozen more of you yaps-er children, would some day (about the fourth period) find yourselves wandering down around the auditorium. If you do, just lean on the breeze and wander on in. Now, if you do, don't come planning to sit around and do nothing, but come all tuned up to do me fa—er, oh pardon me. As I was saying, all tuned up and ready to sing. We are planning to learn some popular songs, such as, "I'll Never Smile Again," "Make Believe Island," and some of the other up-to-date hits. Why don't you come in and give it a trial, 'cause it sure would be swell

Our Crowell Wildcats, after a Friday night, Sept. 13.

 The furious fight, however, was of no avail as far as the score

 The Wildcats received, but lost spite of the show of the Matadors our faithful Wildcats held their

Two Minute Sermon (By Thomas Hastwell)

What Lack I Yet? The story is told of a rich young ruler who came secretly to Christ to talk to Him about eternal life. As they talked the young man told that he had kept all the commandments from his youth up. Then he asked, "What lack I yet?" The question indicates that the young man was aware that there was a lack of something in his life, but he did not know what it was. Many today, feel that there is something lacking in their lives, but they do not know what it is. They have lived worthy lives, but they feel that there is something still lacking. Like the young man they are asking, as they struggle to find themselves religiously, "What lack I yet?" Until they do find themselves religiously they will continue to sense a need. They will continue to ask themselves as the young man did of Christ, "What lack I yet?"

PRESS CLUB MEETING

The Press Club met Monday, the first of the 6th period to select a name for Kitty's column from those submitted by that time. They, after much consideration, chose Campus Chat for the name as you have probably noticed. Some of the best submitted were: The Scream, The Cat's Meow, Tom Cat, Through the Keyhole, The Snooper, On the Breeze, and Campus Chat, also, The Saint, and Our Pet Puppies. Thanks, kids, for taking such an interest and I wish we could have used every one of the names. P. S.: What goes on behind Locker 44?

WHAT MAKES FRESHMEN DOPEY?

(By A. Fishy Fish)
 John Thomas Rasor claims that his mother had a peddler to come to her door asking that she subscribe to a magazine. The peddler was trying to work his son's way through college.
 The other day I overheard a Freshman and a Senior talking in the hall, the Senior doing most of the talking, of course. The freshman was talking about how strict Mr. Foster was in class. The senior replied, "A boy died while a certain instructor was giving a lecture and they had to prop him up until it was over." The freshman didn't catch on, so the senior gave him a little boot! Speaking of a boot, do you know what the boot said to the cowboy? "Go on and ride, I'll go afoot."
 A certain freshman boy brought a skunk home one evening and told his brother, who sleeps with him: "I've got a skunk and I'm going to keep him under our bed." The brother said, "Good gracious, what about the smell?" The boy answered, "He'll just have to get used to it like I had to."

VIM! VIGOR! VITALITY!

That's it, they've got it! Of course, we mean the Pep leaders, June Billington, Virginia Thomas, Marjorie Davidson, and Jean Orr. And they're really peppy! The pep squad does seem to be going places. The sponsors are Miss Cogdell and Miss Motley and the mascot is Gloria Ruth Billington, and Bobby Foster Davis. Plans are under way for some "dazzling" uniforms, and we should have them by our second game (Paducah!) So watch for us—we'll be there.

OUR LIBRARY

What would the pupils do without the library? Any library is nice but when one has a library as lovely and well equipped as ours it is even better than nice. At any hour of a school day, (when he's in the study hall), the pupil may walk up to the library (unless there is already someone ably outplayed the Wildcats in the first quarter, but the Crowell boys proved a good match for their opponents in the second quarter. The last half seemed to be quite different from the first half for the Wildcats made a better showing than the Matadors.

 Either team might have scored easily with a few "ifs" for the teams both were within the five-yard marker at one time or another in their opponent's territory. Also a few passes that were caught might have been turned into touchdowns if one or two blockers had been present.
 All in all, the score tells a rather true story of the game. Crowell 0, Matador 0.
 The Crowell Wildcats are looking forward to going to Paducah for a scrap with the furious Dragons of that city. The Wildcats are the underdogs in this battle, according to the "dope," but the Crowellites will do their best to upset the "dope" bucket.

CAMPUS CHAT

Hiya Keds! Here I am back again, ripping and yowling and ready to go. Praying on back yard fences last summer really taught me a lot. For instance—
 Well, it seems that Joe Dodd and Margaret Claire Shirley are hitting it off all right, especially when it's time to go home for dinner. Keep going, Joe. You'll get there!
 Oh, students, have you seen those bee-utiful blue eyes of Buddy Shaw's?
 Some people believe that a certain (no name, please.) Senior girl is still trying to catch a boy friend after being given the "thumb" by a "future governor of Texas." (Or is it the other way around?)
 We have some pretty Freshman girls, I've noticed. So have all the boys, too!
 We wonder if Ruth Diggs is still nutty over a certain Soph boy? (My, that word "certain" certainly does come in handy.)
 What do you think of our adorable Sophomore—Bill Braswell? I think he is C-U-T-E!
 Did you hear the pep squad yelling last Thursday? Nice noise, eh what?
 Guess what! I have at last found out why Virginia Thomas likes algebra, E2. In other words, a boy with two E's as initials. I'll give you a hint. He lives nine or ten miles east of Crowell on the Vernon highway. Do not tell I told you!
 We are sorry that such kids as H. C. Brown, Frances Johnson, Jack Fitzgerald, and Jimmie Williams had to leave Crowell High School. They surely gave the old cat good material to write on.
 Gee, aren't these white coveralls that the boys are wearing, pretty? It seems that it only takes a boy in a pair of white coveralls to win a girl's heart, this year—hint, hint!
 Kids, I'll see you next week with a lot more of these snooty snapshots of our student body. Give me a ring at Locker 44. If you have anything that has not been seen by my all-seeing eye, drop it in locker 44. By the way, we already have one correspondent who has given us a lot of the latest dope. Come on kids, get yourself an imaginary name and join the fun by giving us some dope and by signing an imaginary name.

surprising to Crowell fans. The Dragons will hold two additional Coach Graves has good passers in W. D. Hudgeons and Olds. Principal receivers will be Ownbey and Junior Haseloff.

Much of the success of the Wildcats Friday night will depend upon stopping Mobley and Sublett on the ground and breaking up Paducah's passing attack. Hudgeons and Haseloff are fast developing into strong wingmen and were successful in keeping Allsup and Nelson from circling ends last week.

Working in both defense against ground and air attack will be tackles T. L. Owens and Charlie Thompson, both of whom have looked strong so far this year. Taking the brunt of any line plunging the Dragons may do will be the center men of the Crowell line. These will be Daniel Brisco and Bobby Spears at guard and Joe Wells at center. These players looked good in stopping Matador's plunger, Berryman, in the first game of the season.

Now for the defense in the backfield. Ownbey, Gibson and Digs featured in stopping both passing and running plays of the Matadors. These boys were largely responsible for Matador's 11 incomplete passes out of 13 attempts.

A. Y. Olds calls plays, carries the ball for the Wildcats, and also does effective work in the safety position on defense. He also is a main cog in Crowell's pass defense.

BEAVERS ARE REPORTED

Evidence of a considerable number of beavers inhabiting the surrounding Buchanan Lake Central Texas has been reported by a game manager of the State Game Department. The beavers which remain in the area generally are welcomed by owners. They destroy trees, but their building of dams has aided many landowners in helping some streams from a flood standpoint.

Preserved in Texas Museum on the University Texas campus is the tomahawk used by Moses F. Austin, Sr. by his son, Stephen F. Austin.
