Rainfall For Year So Far Amounts to Nearly 38 Inches

A rainfall of .67 inches last Wednesday and 72 inches on Friday after the district meeting, but is far to 37.69 inches, according to records kept at the Crowell State Bank.

This is the greatest rainfall for the year for Foard County since 1919 when the amount was 37.96 inches. In 1919, the total was 49 inches.

Overcast skies and light rains yesterday. Cotton farmers are wishing for clear skies and weather, so that they may clear their crops.

First aid has been prominent programs for most 4-H Club encampments this year.

J. C. Jernigan, deputy state Superintendent, and County School Superintendent Leslie Thomas, made the initial visit in the schools of the county Tuesday, Oct. 28. The primary object of this visit was to check on financial matters in the various schools with reference to the eligibility of such schools to participate in rural aid under the equalization laws of the state.

Mr. Jernigan and Judge Thomas visited in the Crowell, Margaret, Thalia and Riverside Schools. At the Margaret school, school trustees, Joe Bledsoe and George Reithmayer, met with the officials; at Riverside, J. S. Ray and H. L. Ayers met with them and at Thalia, Willie Cato met with them. All schools were checked further for surplus books which might not be in use at the present time with the object in mind of picking up such surplus books and distributing them in other schools where they might be needed.

Mr. Jernigan in completing his visit stated that the files and records of the county superintendent and those of the various schools were in excellent condition and expressed his sincere appreciation for the fine spirit of co-operation that had been manifested in the county and stated that Foard County was the first county in the district where all files in the office of the county superintendent and those of the various schools were in such condition that the entire county could be checked without the necessity of making an additional visit.

Fall Convention of WTCC Begins in Midland Nov. 3

An interesting, constructive, two-point session is the promise of the West Texas chamber of commerce for its fall general convocation in Midland. The 24th general convocation will get under way Monday afternoon, Nov. 3, with the initial session of the convention work committee headed by Jas. D. Hamlin of Farwell. It will close next evening, Tuesday, with the All-Out West Texas banquet at which Dr. Clifford B. Jones, president of Texas Technological college, will be the principal speaker and Mark McGee, lawyer of Fort Worth, will be toastmaster. At this concluding affair past presidents of the WTCC will be honored.

Many hundreds of West Texas business leaders, chamber of commerce executives, newspapermen, county judges, mayors and legislators are expected to attend the Midland convocation, which has been organized on a town delegation basis. The convention will bear down on business—the nation's in girding itself against the dictators, and West Texas part in the greatest all-out all-American effort in our history. Heavy emphasis will be placed on West Texas business: its agricultural, public expenditure, transportation parity and other problems, with the need of planning a regional economy designed to cushion the shock of the postwar backwash and industrial letdown. The convention's declarations will not only deal with current problems, but will take cognizance of the regional organization's long-time overall policies and programs.

Speakers before the delegates' business session will include the following:

J. Thos. Davis, president of the WTCC, on "My Stewardship," Joe Humphrey, Texas legislator, on "State Fiscal Control," Dr. T. O. Walton, president of A. & M. college of Texas, on "Our Agricultural Production and Home Ownership Responsibility," Jerry Sadler, member of the Texas Railroad commission, on "The Public and Transportation Charges," The concluding business session speaker, T. Semmes Walmsley of Washington, D. C., is acting deputy director of the Office of Civilian Defense. He will talk on "Our Part in Civilian Defense."

The convention's emphasis on national preparedness will be dramatized through two contests: the inter-community Defense and Preservation contest, in which $500 in cash prizes is being offered; and the long-time Home Town (and Defense) contest directed by C. M. Caldwell and Comer Clay of Abilene. In this competition, district elimination contests are being held this week, with finals to be run off at Midland Tuesday morning, Nov. 4, before the entire convention.

Iowa Park Hawks Defeated by the Crowell Wildcats, 13 to 0, Friday Night at the High School Stadium

Benefits Received from State Health Dept. in 1940

The Crowell Wildcats defeated the Iowa Park Hawks 13 to 0 here last Friday night for their first conference victory. A hard rain fell Friday evening to make the field very muddy.

The Hawks made only one threat during the game and that was in the last few minutes of the game when they drove to Crowell's two yard line where Spears intercepted Turner's pass over the goal line and returned the ball back past midfield.

Crowell's first score came in the first quarter. With good blocking, the cats carried the ball to the ten yard line on ground plays at which point a Crowell back fumbled and Iowa Park took possession. On an attempted punt, Bradley for Iowa Park, fumbled and as he recovered Owens and Roark jarred him loose from the ball and Kelton, alert left end for the Wildcats, covered the ball for a touchdown. Spears plunged over for the extra point. The quarter ended with the score 7 to 0 for Crowell.

In the second quarter Crowell started a sustained drive that went for sixty yards and another touchdown. Bobby Spears carried the ball over from the three yard line. Halenack and Bird did some nice ball carrying on this drive with the aid of excellent blocking from the Wildcat line. The half ended with the count Crowell 13, Iowa Park 0.

The second half found the Cats punting on first downs to protect their lead and insure against fumbles on the slippery field. Charlie Thompson was very consistent in this department.

Iowa Park picked up several first downs in these last two quarters, but had failed to threaten the Wildcats' goal line until the last three minutes of the game. With Turner and Bradley alternating on the ball carrying, and a couple of passes sandwiched in, carried the Hawks to the four yard line. Three fresh men, Bill Owens, Gordon Erwin and Bobby Joe Hunter were sent in and helped smear the Hawks' ground plays and when they elected to pass on the fourth down Spears intercepted and made his sensational 54 yard return. The score remained 13 to 0 for Crowell.

The Wildcats get a much needed rest this week. Several cripples should be back in shape for the Holiday game Nov. 7.

Substitutions for Crowell: Erwin, tackle; Hunter, guard; and B. Owens, half.

Benefits Received from State Health Dept. in 1940

Detailing some of the ways the State Department of Health is aiding each county in the prevention and control of communicable disease, Doctor Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has revealed that the number of specimens examined and the amount of vaccines distributed free to Foard County in 1940 by the State Hygienic Laboratory would have cost $670.00 if purchased through private laboratories, according to information received from the Health Department at Austin this week.

"The service rendered to this county is but one of twelve organized services set up to help you," Doctor Cox added.

The other services maintained by the State Department of Health include vital statistics, food and drug inspection, venereal disease control, public health education, tuberculosis control, sanitary engineering, maternal and child health, nursing service, local health service and administration.

"The assistance rendered this one county in this one division of service will convey to the reader some idea of the scope of Texas' health program," Doctor Cox stated. "The State Department of Health operates on a state appropriation of four cents per person, which amounts to $209.48 for this county. When compared to the return from only one of the twelve divisions in the State Department of Health, it is readily seen that Texans are getting much more health protection than they are paying for."

This instinct manifests itself at all ages of his existence, from childhood up. During his younger years the simpler conquests challenge him, but as he grows older the challenge changes and takes new form. It may be a journey of discovery to one of the poles. It may be a far off jungle, or a perilous mountain peak. Whatever it is, it is

Construction of 25 U. S. O. Buildings to Be Started Soon

Fort Sam Houston, Texas, Oct. 15. (Special) — Immediate construction of the first group of 25 recreational buildings for the United States Ordnance Corps has been ordered by Brig. General Brehon Somervell, Chief of Construction, Office of the Quartermaster General, U. S. A.

The action was taken in a result of the recent presidential order, transferring the operation of U. S. O. buildings from the Federal Works Administration to the Construction Division, Quartermaster Corps.

Upon receipt of the presidential order, the nine Ordnance Quartermasters of the Construction Division were called to Washington for a special conference on the subject and on October 11 all necessary directives and instructions were dispatched by telegram, air mail and messenger to nine Ordnance Quartermasters in the field.

The construction of the buildings will be handled entirely through the various Ordnance offices. The total number of buildings to be constructed in the U. S. O. program is in excess of two hundred and fifty. The War Department has already received from the Federal Works Administration a list of 31 locations for recreational buildings approved by the President. The first group of structures will be situated in 21 of these locations. Actual building will start as quickly as titles to the sites have been acquired, which is expected to be accomplished in the very near future.

Five types of structures are included in the U. S. O. program, all of the same general design but varying in size.

Two Texas Defense Industries Employ 64 N. Y. A. Boys

Austin.—Sixty-four boys from shop units at National Youth Administration Resident Centers in Marshall, Waco, South Houston, San Marcos, and Inks Dam, near Burnet, have been hired in the past two weeks to work for two Texas defense industries, according to J. C. Kellam, state NYA administrator. These placements were made by the Texas State Employment Service. Each of these NYA youth also was attending training classes under instructors furnished by the local schools and the State Board for Vocational Education.

As a result of the work experience and training which they received in such basic manual skills as blueprint reading, welding, foundry, sheet metal, and machine shop work, 21 boys from Marshall, twenty from Inks Dam, eight from Waco, and four from San Marcos have gone to work for the Consolidated Steel Corporation in Orange as apprentice ship-fitters at 66 cents an hour. Besides these youth eleven additional young men from the South Houston NYA Center were hired by the Hughes Tool Company in Houston.

The result is many remarkable and worthwhile discoveries. The greatest discovery that man can make is the discovery of how to live. Christ has given man a true map and chart of the course. SAFETY SLOGANS

New legs do not grow quickly.—Be careful of the ones you have. It will soon become a habit if you practice safety every day. Oil may be poured on troubled water but never on your fires. Carelessness destroys, crushes, and maims. It takes everything and gives nothing.

ATTENTION! Delinquent Tax-Payers

At the last session of the legislature, a law was passed remitting interest and penalty on delinquent taxes for years 1939 and prior provided payment was made by November 1, 1941. It is therefore possible for you to save from 18 per cent to 49 per cent by paying up within this period.

In order to make this big saving it will be necessary that you pay in full all the delinquent taxes you now owe. No provision is made whereby you can make this saving on an installment payment.

If you have two pieces of realty, a provision is made whereby you can pay in full on one and leave the other. In this case the interest and penalty is a flat 6 per cent.

According to the Gallup poll seven-tenths of the American people regard the defeat of Germany as more important than keeping out of the war. A poll by the Chicago Daily News of 420 of the nation's most prominent educators revealed that 82 per cent believed Hitler's defeat is the world's most important problem; 70 per cent favor going to war if necessary to prevent a Hitler victory over Britain, 84 per cent approve President Roosevelt's foreign policy and 81 per cent believe that the democracies will win.

What has been done by Police Chief Frank G. O'Malley of Grand Rapids, Mich., could perhaps be duplicated with profit by every large city in this country and in many cities that are not so large. Chief O'Malley, noting from a report that many of the arrests for crime in Grand Rapids were among the young people of the country, conceived the idea of a Youth Center for Grand Rapids. The matter was presented to the so-called civic leaders of the town and was promptly turned down as impracticable. But this did not defeat Chief O'Malley. He persisted and the Methodist Mission allowed the use of a building in the slum area at a dollar a year rent. The police and firemen of the community assisted in rebuilding and equipping the building. A library and work shop were installed. Volunteer teachers taught home economics, cooking, shop work and metal work. Soon a teaching staff of ten volunteer workers was enrolled. The city donated the use of ten acres of ground for garden projects. The boys and girls began growing and canning vegetables to take home. In four years the Center had grown to a membership of 400 interested young people of the community. The story of it reads like a fairy tale but the most remarkable thing about it is that whereas 157 young people were arrested in 1936 in the slum district for various crimes and misdemeanors, in 1940 not a single arrest was made. There are hundreds of communities big and little the country over that could profit from this example, and the plain and simple common sense remedy for juvenile delinquency applied to his community by Chief O'Malley.

The defeat of Lou Nova by Joe Louis was his nineteenth title defense. He has held the world's heavy weight title four years and three months. Jack Dempsey held the heavy weight title seven years and two months but was called upon to defend it only six times. In his nineteenth title defense fights Louis has collected approximately a gross of $1,466,824 and has fought before 516,000 persons. His average title defense fight has ended in the seventh round with a knockout. Only two men, Tommy Farr, on August 30, 1937, and Arturo Godoy on February 9, 1940, went the full fifteen rounds against Louis. Three contenders, Max Schmeling, John Henry Lewis and Jack Roper, were knocked out in the first round.

The production of eggs and poultry products promises to be good the coming two years. The reason for the hopeful outlook is that the government is entering into the market buying eggs for export to England. Before being shipped the eggs are dried or dehydrated reducing their weight to one-eighth the original weight and greatly facilitating their shipment. Egg drying plants are being built as rapidly as possible, until from 10,000,000 pounds a year capacity, production will be stepped up by 1942 to a possible 140,000,000 pounds a year. The Department of Agriculture is asking the farmers to be prepared to produce 50 billion eggs by 1942.

NOT MUCH CHANCE for you to go clocking different brands of motor oil to prove which one flows fastest in Eskimo season. Yet the quicker the lubrication at every cold start, the less "dry rub" on delicate surfaces in your engine. Then why not change now to Conoco Nth oil for Winter and get an OIL-PLATED engine? OIL-PLATING is high up in the cylinders to fight fierce grind, much sooner than any plain oil-flow alone could even start wiggling.

Conoco Nth oil, you see—all in addition to speedy flow—fastens OIL-PLATING to inner engine surfaces, as if by "magnetic attraction." This close-bonded OIL-PLATING is up to its topmost point before you even touch the starter—and that's "faster than fast," to aid you toward anti-friction starting.

Even up in Iceland, of course, any engine's normal firing is hotter than the Land of the Hottentots. Yet you don't want to "burn up the oil." And Conoco Nth proved it could last for more than twice the mileage averaged by the five other big-name oils in the impartial Death Valley Death-Test. When all five others were used up—engines ruined as each strict 5-quart fill gave out—the Conoco Nth oil that competed under identical conditions was still up at 2.7 quarts! Certified!

A known economy record... plus a known aid to safe prompt starting... when you change to Conoco Nth for Winter OIL-PLATING, at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Today. Continental Oil Company

GAVE TWICE THE ENGINE LIFE!

This oil that OIL-PLATES gave its engine more than twice the life averaged by the engines using the other oils in the Death-Test. In these times use your car prudently. And use oil that's great for engine life—changing regularly as recommended. Good starting—good lubrication against all needless wear—helps conserve gasoline, too.

Construction of 25 U. S. O. Buildings to Be Started Soon

Fort Sam Houston, Texas, Oct. 15. (Special) — Immediate construction of the first group of 25 recreational buildings for the United Service Organizations has been ordered by Brig. General Brehon Somervell, Chief of Construction, Office of the Quartermaster General, U. S. A.

The action was taken as a result of the recent presidential order, transferring the erection of U. S. O. buildings from the Federal Works Administration to the Construction Division, Quartermaster Corps.

Upon receipt of the presidential order, the nine Zone Constructing Quartermasters of the Construction Division were called to Washington for a special conference on the subject and on October 2, all necessary directives and instructions were dispatched by telegraph, air mail and messenger to the Zone Constructing Quartermasters in the field.

The construction of the buildings will be handled entirely through the various Zone offices. The total number of buildings to be constructed in the U. S. O. program is in excess of two hundred and fifty. The War Department has already received from the Federal Works Administration a list of 51 locations for recreational buildings approved by the President. The first group of structures will be erected on 25 of these locations. Actual building will start as quickly as titles to the sites have been acquired, which is expected to be accomplished in the very near future.

Five types of structures are included in the U. S. O. program, all of the same general design but varying in size.

Two Texas Defense Industries Employ 64 N. Y. A. Boys

Austin.—Sixty-four boys from shop units at National Youth Administration Resident Centers in Marshall, Waco, South Houston, San Marcos, and Inks Dam, near Burnet, have been hired in the past two weeks to work for two Texas defense industries, according to J. C. Kellam, state NYA administrator. These placements were made by the Texas State Employment Service. Each of these NYA youth also was attending training classes under instructors furnished by the local schools and the State Board for Vocational Education.

As a result of the work experience and training which they received in such basic manual skills as blueprint reading, welding, foundry, sheet metal, and machine shop work, 21 boys from Marshall, twenty from Inks Dam, eight from Waco, and four from San Marcos have gone to work for the Consolidated Steel Corporation in Orange as apprentice ship-fitters at 66 cents an hour. Besides these youth eleven additional young men from the South Houston NYA Center were hired by the Hughes Tool Company in Houston.

Leases on more than 1,000 acres of oil lands in the Silver Valley field of Coleman County were involved in the transaction benefiting McMurry. They were sold by Mr. Jay with part of the consideration to be paid in oil.

States Oil corporation will pay the $72,250 as the oil is produced. Three wells are producing on the acreage involved, one each on tracks owned by Frank Hudson, C. F. Sprinkles and O. B. Featherston, with another drilling on the Sprinkles land.

Two Minute Sermon (By Thomas Hastwell)

Man's Greatest Discovery: Man-kind is by instinct a hunter and an explorer. He is forever seeking the thrill that comes with new discoveries. This instinct manifests itself at all ages of his existence, from childhood up. During his younger years the simpler conquests challenge him, but as he grows older the challenge changes and takes new form. It may be a journey of discovery to one of the poles. It may be a far off jungle, or a perilous mountain peak. Whatever it is, it is object of an urge that seems to be born in man. This same desire for exploration, for probing into the mystery of the unknown, takes him into the realm of science, astronomy, medicine, electricity, and many other fields. The result is many remarkable and worthwhile discoveries. The greatest discovery that man can make is the discovery of how to live. Christ has given man a true map and chart of the course. The plan and the directions are simple, but they lead to the greatest adventure and the greatest discovery that adventurous man is privileged to make—the discovery of how to live.

ATTENTION! Delinquent Tax-Payers

At the last session of the legislature, a law was passed remitting interest and penalty on delinquent taxes for years 1939 and prior provided payment was made by November 1, 1941. It is therefore possible for you to save from 18 per cent to 49 per cent by paying up within this period.

In order to make this big saving it will be necessary that you pay in full all the delinquent taxes you now owe. No provision is made whereby you can make this saving on an installment payment.

If you have two pieces of realty, a provision is made whereby you can pay in full on one and leave the other. In this case the interest and penalty is a flat 6 per cent.

for you to go clocking different brands of motor oil to prove which one flows fastest in Eskimo season. Yet the quicker the lubrication at every cold start, the less "dry rub" on delicate surfaces in your engine. Then why not change now to Conoco Nth oil for Winter and get an OIL-PLATING engine? OIL-PLATING is high up in the cylinders to fight fierce grind, much sooner than any plain oil-flow alone could even start wiggling.

Conoco Nth oil, you see—all in addition to speedy flow—fastens OIL-PLATING to inner engine surfaces, as if by "magnetic attraction." This close-bonded OIL-PLATING is up to its topmost point before you even touch the starter—and that's "faster than fast," to aid you toward anti-friction starting.

Even up in Iceland, of course, any engine's normal firing is hotter than the Land of the Hottentots. Yet you don't want to "burn up the oil." And Conoco Nth proved it could last for more than twice the mileage averaged by the five other big-name oils in the impartial Death Valley Death-Test. When all five others were used up—engines ruined as each strict 5-quart fill gave out—the Conoco Nth oil that competed under identical conditions was still up at 2.7 quarts! Certified!

NAVY DAY OBSERVED

Back in 1908 President Theodore Roosevelt sent America's great white fleet on a tour of the world in order that other nations might get a glimpse of Uncle Sam's naval power.

Since that occasion, America has observed Navy Day Oct. 27 in honor of President Theodore Roosevelt's birthday. Once more the nation has observed Navy Day.

Merits of a naval career were expressed in a statement made by Charles Francis Coe, celebrated writer, who enlisted in the navy for a minority cruise in 1908, in a recent article in the Newport Recruit.

Coe said, "Unless I desired to enter a specialized profession I would never consider a college education as against an enlistment in the Navy. I have never regretted spending my college years aboard ship. In fact, I would not trade my navy cruise for half a dozen degrees."

"The navy brings a man into contact with men. It teaches him to be a man himself and to recognize the traits of manhood in others. That is fundamentally the great and first precept of success. No man can control another until he can control himself. The navy teaches discipline; it takes a kid when he is in his formative years and lays a foundation upon which he can build as high as he likes without fear of collapse.

"By and large, unless I sought technical training for law, medicine, or engineering, I would swap a classmate for a shipmate any day in the week."

Statistics show that the Navy will buy yearly 1,250,000 pounds of canned corn; 3,300,000 pounds of tomatoes; 1,700,000 pounds of peas; 1,000,000 pounds each of peaches and pears, 500,000 pounds of tinned meats; 1,500,000 pounds of jams; 1,000,000 pounds of apples and many other items in corresponding large quantities.

Life under most any circumstances is perhaps held dear, but we can't imagine the men of Hitler lined up every morning and being taken their places before the firing squad with any regrets other than the regret that they were not able to do more against the hated destroyer of their home land.

The business that goes out of town that local labor could have supplied is like the termite that enters a building and gradually destroys it. The termite works slowly but surely. The loss of business that a town is entitled to, slowly but surely eats away the thing that makes a town a good town.

Most misunderstandings between individuals could be ironed out if the parties could get together and talk over their differences with an open mind. Differences which arise because of different viewpoints are often changed when all the facts are known.

The expression "you can't get blood out of a turnip" was coined several years before the new tax law was passed.

ROBBING THE NEST

We are told that the meek shall inherit the earth. Before this really comes to pass there has got to be a lot of changes in the world. At the present time for every meek individual there are two or three sharpers lurking around to skin him out of house and home.

The value of a news item is based on how many people it will interest or will be interested in reading it. A single item that will interest a hundred people is worth a hundred items that are of interest to but one or two persons.

We are loyal enough to the American girl to think that she is the most glamorous creature in the world even with cotton hose.

The new tax law is going to make everyone tax conscious. It will go further with some, it will render them unconscious.

What We Think (By Frank Dixon)

The rumor comes out of Washington that the Social Security set-up may be revamped in the near future to the end that its scope shall be enlarged and a greater number of persons brought under its benefits.

It is possible that the Social Security set-up does need revamping. It would be rather strange that a thing as new and radical should be perfect at the outset.

Without going into the merits of the matter, I would concede that it does need some changes and some alterations and revamping, but I do not believe that this is the time to do it.

The whole country has its mind on defense production. Every nerve is being strained, every resource drawn upon to the end that munitions of war so desperately needed in the battle for democracy will be turned out in sufficient quantities.

Industries, thousands of them, are being faced with complete shut down and probable bankruptcy for their owners because of the demands of defense priorities. The greatest tax bill this country has ever seen has just been enacted and we are frankly told that next year the taxes will be still higher.

Yet, in the face of this, the announcement is made that the Social Security set-up is to be revamped and confusion added to confusion, and bewilderment to bewilderment.

In this connection the announcement comes out of Washington that as an aid to this new social security program and as a prevention of inflation, wage taxes may be doubled.

This announcement, with one exception, is the silliest one that has come out of Washington since the defense program began. The other is the limitation of corporation profits to 6 per cent.

I think that as a matter of fact that when Washington gets on the subject of prevention of inflation it's reason takes flight and it gropes blindly.

The thing that is rousing many strikes and stoppages of work in defense industries is the fact that the workers feel that they must have more money to meet the increasing cost of living. If the government steps in now and demands a slice of the pay check workmen will have to have just that much more. They may get it without a strike and they may not. If they do not get it they will strike and tie up production. For this reason the argument that an additional wage tax would curb inflation because it would curb buying power appears silly even to an elementary mind.

In my opinion any revamping of the Social Security program may need a well wait. Common sense directs that it should wait. Let's conserve what thought power we have for the real and pressing problems that are upon us and leave our idealistic and Utopian experiments until a calmer and less troubled day.

Traditions of Old West Preserved in Modern Fort Worth

A city of beauty, activity and progress, modern Fort Worth attracts the visitor with a warm western welcome, the comfort of nationally famous hotel accommodations, and recreational facilities for every interest.

GLAMOUR OF FRONTIER DAYS COLORS ATMOSPHERE OF BUSTLING METROPOLIS

If you were to nominate Fort Worth as the typical city of America's modern West, a wealth of convincing evidence would support your choice. For Fort Worth is progressive in attitude and action, dynamic in spirit, and young in outlook.

Fort Worth faces forward. It is not a city steeped too much in departed glory, where the visitor only reminisces, and, closing his eyes, listens for the distant tread of historic feet. It is rather a city where you look beyond the inspiring skyline of the present to the greater vision of the future.

But the West Texas metropolis, named after General William Jenkins Worth, does have a living link with the past. It is in the qualities of the old West, which still live in the city's customs and traditions. Modern as Fort Worth is, this modernity is not a cold, mechanized thing, devoid of friendliness and gaiety. The city is far removed from any concept of a machine-like metropolis which destroys the essential humanity of its population. The traditional hospitality of the West is expressed nowhere more delightfully and abundantly than in the atmosphere of the Worth Hotel. Cities, like people, have distinctive personalities. The Worth reflects the personality of Fort Worth more completely than any other focal center of the city's life.

Reduced to simplest terms, this rugged western hospitality consists of a sincere interest in the other fellow's comfort and welfare. It had its beginnings in the frontier life of the old West, when great distances and sparse settlement put a premium on human companionship and social relations. In those days a glad, unassuming "howdy" conveyed a warm welcome and a genuine solicitude for the visitor, whether stranger or old acquaintance.

The Worth Hotel is convincing proof that this spirit still lives in Fort Worth, and that this brand of hospitality makes and keeps and multiplies friends. The West begins at the Worth for thousands of travellers who stop in Fort Worth on missions of business or pleasure. In this beautiful hotel, towering 18 stories above the downtown center of Fort Worth, homespun hospitality is coupled with modern comforts and conveniences which anticipate every need and want of the guest.

"Western hospitality, as big and real as the range," aptly describes the atmosphere of personal friendliness into which the visitor steps when he enters the front door of the Worth Hotel. That atmosphere pervades every moment of his stay at the Worth, and brings him back again and again.

Manager Jack Farrell is foreman of a family of "hands" each of whom has some of Jack's far-famed genius for making hotel patrons feel happy, contented and at ease. That desire to please people extends through the entire personnel. It beams in the smile of the porter who takes your bags at the curb; it animates the expression of the bell-boy who shows you to your room; it rings in the cheery "good morning" of the waitress who brings you your breakfast. It inspires the effort of an entire hotel organization to make your stay at the Worth an event to be remembered and repeated.

Every provision is made for your solid comfort at the Worth. Beautifully appointed and comfortably furnished rooms are designed in every particular to create a pleasant, relaxing atmosphere. Each room has both tub and shower bath, circulating ice water, and numerous little conveniences that add up to the sum total of delightful hotel accommodations. Snowy white linens and finest mattresses induce you to sleep like a baby.

The hotel is air-conditioned the year around. Each room has individual temperature control. You choose your weather at the Worth. Two restaurants serve food eagerly looked forward to by seasoned travellers, and famed throughout the nation.

The Worth is strategically situated at the very heart of Fort Worth's business and pleasure activities, convenient to everything. Even in size, the hotel strikes an ideal. As Jack Farrell sums it up: "Big enough to serve you, but small enough to know you."

Program to Recoup One's Health Given by Dr. Geo. W. Cox

"The American way of life is full of superlatives; we have the tallest sky-scrapers, the fastest trains, the greatest number of automobiles. We spend more per capita on vacations than any other nation. However, due to high speed, we usually crowd our summer vacations with such a high speed program that we fail to secure sufficient real physical relaxation," states Dr. Geo. Cox, State Health Officer.

"For most persons the exactions of office, of factory or of home for a 50-week stretch reflect themselves in the need for improving one's physical tone. However, to expect the majority of vacationists to change their habits regarding the diversions of a summer sojourn perhaps would be asking too much. The point is if one has burned up additional energies and perhaps called on his physical reserves to weather through the 'good-time' vacation, an excellent opportunity now exists to make amends by taking advantage of the stimulating autumn weather.

"In fact, the best season of the year to recoup vitality lost through the past year's work now is here. Its possibilities to build up general health and bodily resistance to winter's onslaught can not be over estimated.

"To recoup some of the vigor and abounding health which have been lost due to the strains and stresses of the past twelve months, the following program is suggested: 1. a brisk walk every day; city streets will do, if one is denied the open country; 2. seven to eight hours' sleep, depending upon one's personal requirements, in a properly ventilated room each night; occasional breakers will not be serious drawbacks, but the habit should be established and maintained; 3. a cut-down on stimulants, if at present any are being used excessively; 4. a reasonable intake of nourishing food; 5. elimination of self-drugging of any type, relying solely upon the physician for medical treatment, if he considers it to be indicated; 6. proper daily elimination; 7. an attempt to keep worry, even in these troublous times, within bounds; and finally, to make use of the autumn weekends by being in the open as much as possible.

"Putting autumn, as well as plain common sense, to work for

Growth of Red Cross Tells Own Story

To meet effectively its rapidly increasing responsibilities, the professional staff of the National Organization of Red Cross has been increased from 1006 workers (as of June 30, 1939), to more than 2100 (as of Sept. 1, 1941). For the five years prior to 1939, the average strength of the National Organization was 830 paid workers. The majority of personnel currently employed are classified as "temporary for the duration of the emergency."

At present, 3566 chapters are engaged in war relief production, 600 of them carrying on surgical dressing programs in addition. There are now 1,179,268 volunteers enrolled in this service.

On August 1, 6,671,831 garments and 27,190,402 surgical dressings had actually been delivered to the export warehouse; by Aug. 15, 5,906,763 garments and 25,641,491 surgical dressings—(valued at over $15,000,000) had been shipped abroad. Also, 28,000,000 surgical dressings for the U. S. Army have been turned over to the War Department.

PRAISES FURROWING

College Station.—"More grass than we've ever had before" is the way B. A. Keathley, Glasscock County ranchman, describes his rangeland since it has been contour furrowed under the AAA's range conservation program.

When the 80-year-old ranchman gets to talking about the value of contour furrowing, his eyes light up and he points to the green grass which is growing on land which in previous years was "just plain naked." With his hand he will point out the curve of the furrows by the extra greenness in the grass.

"Why, the water used to rush right off this land as soon as it fell," the ranchman, who complains that his sons have made him stop riding horseback, declares. "On rainy days, the water would be stirrup-deep in the lowlands, while the uplands hadn't kept any water at all. But it's not that way any longer. Now the furrows hold the water and put it to work. Just look at that grass."

Keathley claims there is six times as much grass on the land today as there was before the AAA inaugurated the range program, but others discount his statement by half—that is, there is only three times as much.

"I never bought anything in my life more worth the money than these furrows," the ranchman, who uses all of his range-building allowance and then digs into his pocket to do more work, said.

Keathley operates a five-section ranch near Garden City and is running about 750 ewes, 700 lambs and 80 head of mother cows on his range this year.

FAITH IN THE FUTURE

Although we live in a streamlined age devoid of the simpleness of Puritan life, we still possess much the same fear and faith in the future as the Puritan had. While the Puritan overcame his fear by trusting to God and his flintlock, people today need not depend on powder and shot. Instead, they look to their bank to insure them safety, and to guarantee their future security.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Molasses will not stick to the measuring cup if that container is first greased with butter or lard.

When making apple sauce, don't peel the apples if you want to preserve all the vitamin B. Just core the apples, slice them and put them on to cook.

Scouring powder will remove stains from old dishes, such as tea and coffee cups, and make them like new.

One of the effects of the war that will be noticed in this country is that many items in common use will be standardized and but one variety made. A reduction of from 15 to 25 per cent in the number and sizes of the 6,000 to 8,000 merchandise items carried by the average drug store was forecast at a recent wholesale drug convention.

Crowell Wildkittens Defeat Vernon B Squad, 12 to 7, on the Vernon Field in Second Game of Season

The Crowell Wildkittens defeated the Vernon B team 12 to 7 Tuesday afternoon at Vernon. The Vernon B team had previously won over the Crowell B boys by a 26 to 7 score. Charles Nelson, Daurice Ray Naron and Fred Pierce were used in Tuesday's contest which largely made up the difference in the two scores. Charles Nelson ran the first score over for Crowell in the second quarter and C. J. Kelton plunged the second over in the last quarter. Vernon made their touchdown and extra point by passing after they had received the ball on Crowell's one yard line due to a fumble by a Crowell back. The following 14 boys saw service for Crowell that will be eligible next year: J. W. Solis, center; Marion Williamson and Bobby Joe Hunter, guards; Billy Fred Short, Glen Taylor and Gordon Erwin, tackles; Clifford White, Cecil Parkhill and Leighton Adams, Bob Gobin, ends; Pat McDaniel, C. J. Kelton, Bill Owens and Lowell Campbell, backs.

C. J. Kelton, Bill Owens and Bobby Joe Hunter did the best blocking for Crowell. Marion Williamson, Glen Taylor, Billy Fred Short and Gordon Erwin looked the best on defense for the Wildkittens.

Soldiers' field rations will soon include a food confection containing cottonseed flour. The product which is manufactured and marketed by a Fort Worth cotton oil mill, has been endorsed by the Council on Foods of the American Medical Association.

MANNERS MAKE THE MAN

"Manners make the man" and politeness makes a better student. This year, as never before, students of Crowell High School need to wipe the dust from their manners and oil them a little with use. They may be a little rusty at first but with the sympathetic aid of all the teachers your best manners will be going with the regularity of the National Defense Program of America soon.

A well-mannered group brings out the best in a teacher; likewise a rowdy group brings out the worst. More work can be accomplished in less time and fewer words when everyone minds his manners.

You, as students, be the first to start this new era of courtesy in Crowell High School.

The rule when teacher is talking, if you wait until she's through before you put your word in. She will thank you if you do. Dashing pell-mell with the bell is a fire-student's job, you know; but smarter students you can tell because they take it slow. When classmates are reciting a yarn is not sporting; you wouldn't like to see it when you're on deck reporting. Closed doors may not say "private" to those without much training; but well bred students always knock to save themselves explaining.

HE SHOULD KNOW

Mr. Foster: Who spilled the mustard on the waffles, dear?
 Mrs. Foster: Oh, Darling, how could you? This is lemon pie.

It's amazing how most of the students have so little energy about 4 p. m. on Friday and so much about 11 on the same evening.

These eternal gum-chewers! Gee, it must be fun.

Have you seen that look in Clonita Russell's eyes? It must be—the weather. Footed you, didn't it?

Father: It's a terrible thing! I sold my car and mortgaged my mouse and land, all to send my son to the university and all he does there is smoke, drink and take girls out to parties.

Friend: Oh, so you're regretting it?
 Father: Certainly. I should have gone myself!

WHEN YOU BUY CLOTHES—

Every day it seems that prices go up; therefore Miss Consumer you should buy more wisely and get the most for your money. The following are some suggestions:

1. Plan the clothes you are going to need this season.
2. When you go shopping, don't be in a hurry; take your time.
3. When you are told that a certain article is going to be scarce, be careful, for usually it is propaganda.
4. Buy your clothes so that they will go with your accessories, and you won't have to have a different pair of shoes and hat for each dress.
5. If you buy a coat, be sure it will look well with all your dresses and is not too extreme in style.
6. Don't shop on Saturdays. When you shop, be sure it is in the mornings.
7. When buying, it is best to buy one good dress than to buy two or three unsatisfactory dresses of poorer quality.
8. Look for labels, ask about fabrics, color fastness, and shrinkage if not stated on label.
9. Dark, solid colors are more satisfactory than bright, figured materials or "fad" colors.
10. Be sure to look at the seams, hems, and fastenings.
11. Compare values at different stores and get the best value for your money.
12. Consider which would be cheaper to make an article or buy it. Consider the time and skill necessary to make it.
- 13.—Call for cotton whenever possible.

THE INK I SPLATTER

(By a Transome Pecker)

About the time a man's hat loses all shape and color; he begins to be really fond of it. I don't know who's the most annoying—the woman who tells you she paid more for her clothes than you know she did, or the woman who says everything was a wonderful bargain.

The girl who marries a man with money to burn makes a good match.

Someone has said, nothing is easier than fault-finding; no talent, no self-denial, no brains, no character required to set up in the grumbling business.

A very meek Freshman was sent to the office for a minor offense. "Were you ever in trouble before?" asked Mr. Graves.

"Well, er-er," was the hesitating response. "I kept a library book too long once and was fined ten cents."

SCHOOL DAY BEAUTY

1. Use soap and water on face and body every day.
 2. Scrub your teeth inside and out, up and down, and use a mouth wash to make sure your breath is sweet.
 3. Wash and set your hair every week.
 4. Get 8 or 10 hours sleep every night.
 5. Don't use too much makeup, just enough to look natural.
 6. Select the finest face powder you can afford, in a shade a bit darker than your complexion.
 7. Don't "primp" in public.
- Try this, girls, and see if you don't get your man.

SAY—

Did you notice the girl in school Friday who had on a green skirt, purple belt, red blouse and yellow sweater? I didn't either, so she must not have been there. I'm sure I couldn't have missed her.

BE REASONABLE

Charlie: Aw, gee, Dad, let's buy a new car.
 Mr. Thompson: Wait till I've had a ride in the old one, will you?

Daffynitions

Duck—A chicken with snow shoes.
 Myth—A female moth.
 Rubbers—Things which, if your feet are dry, you haven't walked in the snow without.

FAMOUS LAST WORDS

I smell gas down here; have you got a match?
 What makes that cow snort like that? Let's climb over the fence and get a closer look.
 This stuff can't be as bad as the druggist said. Let's take a couple of swigs.
 Let's mix some phosphorous and iodine; it can't be as explosive as Mr. Foster says.

A college student had failed to pass a very important examination and wishing to break the news gently to his parents he sent this telegram to his elder brother: "Have failed to pass exam. Prepare father."
 Brother: "Father prepared. Prepare yourself."

Charlie: I'll take off my hat to you oyster eaters. It was all I could do to eat three last night.
 J. T.: Weren't they fresh? What did they look like when you opened them?
 Charlie: Oh, do you have to open them?

Judge: Do you challenge any of the jury?
 Defendant: I think I can lick that little guy on the end.

Diner: Here's a piece of rubber tire in my hash.
 Waiter: No doubt. The motor is replacing the horse everywhere.

Mr. Foster: What is this you are serving, dear? Devil's food?
 Mrs. Foster: Yes, I intended it for angel food, but it fell.

Mother: If you don't be a good little boy I'll call a policeman.
 Richard: If you do, I'll tell him we've got a dog and no license for it.

SCANDAL

Jean Seales appeared to be having a swell time taxiing Charlie Thompson around Sunday afternoon.

Bill Owens is trying to get a good start with Maida Belle Paris. Do you think that her feller from Truscott will object.

John Clark Long is still true to his girl friend of Quannah. Paul Vecera is trying to find a streak of jealousy—he goes with a different girl every week. Which one is he trying to make a hit with.

Cecil Parkhill is showing no love lost between Darnelle Morrison and himself.

Why is David Bowley so happy? Couldn't be some girl, could it?

Margie Davidson and J. T. Hughton keep Miss Motley boiling with their long, drawn out conversation.

Bobby Spears is making no eyes at anyone. You know, I believe he really loves the girl. (You know, the one who went to college).

Lealys Gilliam has received many favors from two Truscott boys.

Guess who, aw, I'll tell: Sam Franklin and Jr. Young.

Lee J. Stout has a song in his heart about Estelle Autry. You ought to hear him sing it.

Albert Bird still has deep thoughts for a certain girl.

H. L. Blevins, Bill Smith, Paul Vecera, all these are trying to make love to Billy Nichols.

Howard Lee Black is sure giving Jean Orr the rush act. But, he can afford to, especially with his well known assistant, W. P. Hord.

John Carter is having a wonderful time since he got wounded in football practice.

Escape from charges of being drunk while driving may be made more difficult if tests used by Ridgefield, Conn., state police barracks are put into general use. An officer upon arresting a drunken driver requires him to blow his breath into a device which registers, by giving color to a solution the amount of alcohol in the blood. The American Medical Association recently set 0.15 per cent as the intoxication point with 0.05 to 0.15 as the zone of tolerance. The new device takes guess work out of question of whether or not a driver who has been arrested is drunk or sober.

Canada Rushes Link In Cross-Continent Highway

Though few people realize it, there has never been a through highway from the Atlantic Ocean to the Pacific completely in Canada, writes Stanley C. Forbes, Canadian automobile distributor, in the current Rotarian magazine. Now, however, the last 125-mile gap in a transcontinental highway is being closed up and the medal which long has awaited the first motorist to cross Canada, will be awarded. It has lain unclaimed for 30 years in Victoria, British Columbia.

Military needs, plus the influx of tourists from the United States, have made this new link a necessity. It crosses the muskeg and forest region north of Lake Superior, and when the entire highway is finished, it will offer an unexcelled panorama of mountains, plains, forests and lakes.

"The Trans-Canada," as the ocean-to-ocean highway is called, spans the Dominion from Vancouver on the west to the Gaspé Peninsula of Nova Scotia on the east. It winds through mountains, through Revelstoke National Park—"a world above the clouds"—and along the banks of the Columbia River. It traverses the Yoho National Park and the well-known Banff National Park, and runs along the famed scenic Banff-Jasper road to Jasper.

Until the last link is completed, motorists must cross over into the United States to pass Lake Superior, usually crossing at the Sault and returning to Canada at the Lake of the Woods—which this Trans-Canada Highway touches, too. But when this last link through the rock and timber and swamp of northern Ontario is finished, it will not only permit an all-Canada route, but will also lure thousands of American sportsmen to use it to reach the big game country it now traverses.

CANADA HAS EVERYTHING

Ontario is a part of Canada which claims to be the birthplace of North American civilization. Two languages, the cultures of two nations, the French and the English, more Empire than the British.—Stanley C. Forbes, Canadian, in the current Rotarian magazine.

Week In Defense

Aid to Britain, Russia

Under Lease Expediter Harrison returned from Moscow conference on aid to Russia, reports the President that the Russian government and people are determined to fight on at all costs. The Soviet armies "need substantial quantities of munitions raw materials." Treasury Secretary Union another $30,000,000 against gold Russia is sending to this country. The Defense Supplies Corporation authorized payment of $36,889,000 to Russian-owned Amtorg Company for imports of metals and other materials to U. S. defense industries.

Federal Loan Agency announced disbursement to Great Britain of another $100,000,000 and $425,000,000 loan to that country for which Britain put up collateral British-owned American factories and investments.

House of Congress passed $5,985,000,000 new lend-lease appropriation and sent it to Senate to adjust minor differences.

U. S. Ships Sunk

3,000-ton freighter Lehigh, the American flag on a run from San to West Africa to pick up cargo, was sunk in the South Atlantic on October 19. All hands rescued. The American-owned freighter Bold Venture, south of the Cape Verde Islands, was sunk Oct. 16. The President announced a conference the sinkings of the Lehigh seems to establish merely keeping ships in actual combat areas no longer protects them.

Navy Department announced destroyer Kearny, "attacked by a submarine undoubtedly on Oct. 17, reached port with crew members missing, critically injured and eight slightly.

House passed and sent to Senate a resolution authorizing arming of American merchant ships.

Production Progress

Promotion Director Harrison announced the following summary production progress: Ships—Army and Maritime Commission contracts are ahead of schedule by the end of November 1,000-ton cargo ship will be ready every day; Bombers—ready for mass production; four gigantic new plants in operation by next summer; production being stepped up to make 100 a month; Powder and Small Arms—ready for production; 70 planned plants now in production, 61 by spring.

The President announced that by January 1 he will place before Congress a program to step up tank output to double the present contemplated production. He said the program is being developed primarily for this country's own needs. Maj. Gen. Devers, armored force commander, speaking in Philadelphia, said there are already ample tanks for training purposes.

Subcontracting

The OPM Defense Contract Distribution Division issued an Army compilation of existing contracts offering the best subcontracting opportunities and announced a plan for prime contractors to "adopt" whole small industries for the duration. Division Director Odium said the Curtis-Wright Airplane Company, for example, has adopted the aluminum industry and will farm out parts of its orders to those aluminum plants hard hit by curtailment of civilian production.

The War Department announced the Quartermaster Corps will make its contract awards on a regional basis, direct negotiations will be made with bidders, and prices will no longer be "the dominating factor" in making awards.

Labor

OPM Directors Knudsen and Hillman and War and Navy Secretaries Stimson and Knox issued a joint statement that the interruption of defense production by strikes or slowdowns "is the greatest help aggressors can get these days when material on the battlefield is everything." They asked employers and employees to telephone the U. S. Conciliation Service or the OPM in cases of labor difficulties so they can receive "immediate attention."

Living Costs and Prices

The Labor Department reported living costs for moderate income families in large cities are now 9.6 per cent higher than before the outbreak of war in Europe. Price Administrator Henderson, in a report to the President, said the U. S. needs price control legislation "and we need it fast."

Priorities

Priorities Director Nelson issued an order entirely prohibiting the use of copper for non-defense construction after November 1 and after January 1 for 100 civilian articles such as toys, jewelry, dress accessories, house furnishings and burial equipment. He also ordered continued through December the curtailment of light truck production for civilian use.

Mr. Nelson announced a series of open meetings in Minneapolis, Nov. 3; Cincinnati, Nov. 5; and Pittsburgh, Nov. 18; to acquaint business men with the priorities system.

The OPM certified these seven mid-west communities as entitled to special consideration in the negotiation of defense contracts because they face unemployment due to priorities: Grand Rapids, Mich.; Eaton, Ga.; Greenville, Mich.; Ripon, Wis.; Newton and Kellogg, Ia.; and Mansfield, O.

Civilian Defense

The President proclaimed November 11-16 "Civilian Defense Week." The proclamation asked Americans "to become better informed of the many vital phases of the civilian defense program and of opportunities... for the participation of every individual..." Civilian Defense Director LaGuardia announced the theme of the week: "The only effective answer to total war is total defense."

Air

The War Department announced the present 54-group combat plane program is being expanded to provide organization of 84 combat groups—a virtual doubling of Army air strength. The new program calls for an increase in Air Force enlisted personnel to 400,000 by next July.

Navy, Army

The Navy launched the submarine Haddock and commissioned for active service the aircraft carrier Hornet, and the destroyer Bristol. OCM Director LaGuardia made available through local defense councils a description of the entire Naval program in a report "The Progress of the Navy."

The Army awarded contracts for the construction of 56 more USO recreation buildings, bringing the number under contract to 107. Deputy OCM Director Gill issued a report to local defense councils—"The Progress of the Army"—giving detailed information on all phases of the Army defense program.

Selective Service

Selective Service headquarters completed arrangements to classify Army men with mechanical skills before they are discharged so they may be immediately employed in defense industry. "Referral offices" operated by the U. S. Employment Service in each camp will interview each man to give him specific advice as to where he can find work.

Oil, Gasoline

Because of a "more optimistic outlook" Defense Petroleum Coordinator Ickes withdrew his request that East coast filling stations remain closed between 7 p. m. and 7 a. m. Mr. Ickes said the move was made possible by the return of 40 tankers by the British, increased transportation facilities to bring oil to the East coast and the fact that his conservation program had reduced the oil reserves shortage from 9,000,000 barrels to 476,000 barrels.

SOCIAL SECURITY FACTS

With defense industries calling for workers of all ages, R. L. Surles, manager of the Social Security Board office in Wichita Falls this week issued a reminder to men and women who are receiving retirement benefits under the Social Security Act. "Not that the Social Security Board would discourage retired workers from going back to work," Surles said, "but they must remember to notify the Social Security Board when they do so." As stated in the "award letter" they received when their claims were approved, he explained, they cannot receive their retirement benefits during any month in which they earn as much as $15 a month (that is, more than $14.99) on a job that comes under the Social Security Act.

We are delighted with the attendance of new people, both in the Sunday School and the church services. It is always encouraging to have new recruits and yet we are not forgetful of the faithfulness of the regulars. For any church to succeed it must have its regular attendance continuing faithful and the occasional visitors becoming regulars. May this be the beginning of such an experience through the winter months.

It was a pleasure to have the Baptist people bring their Men's class over to meet with our men at Sunday School last Sunday a. m. Our class of men is scheduled to meet with the Baptist men next Sunday a. m. Judge Leslie Thomas has consented to teach for them. This fine fellowship is very wholesome and commendable in any group of men.

With only two Sundays remaining in this conference year, we invite you to become one of those who shall make these services high peaks in attendance. "Everlasting Punishment" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 2.

The Golden Text is: "Righteousness exalteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to any people" (Proverbs 14:34).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Verily I say unto you, Except ye be converted, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven" (Matthew 18:3).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mortals move onward towards good or evil as time glides on. If mortals are not progressive, past failures will be repeated until all wrong work is effaced or rectified. It is always encouraging to have new recruits and yet we are not forgetful of the faithfulness of the regulars. Our Weekly Sermon

By Dr. Max I. Reich, Director of Jewish Missions Course, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

The Gospel of God's Grace

The word "gospel" comes from an old Anglo-Saxon root and simply means glad tidings. God now would have all men be made glad with the tidings that His grace is available to meet their deepest need.

Now this wonderful gospel may be considered under three heads.

1. The glad tidings of the grace that saves.

To the man who knows that sin has ruined him, who fears the judgment of divine holiness on sin, who feels bankrupt and lost and is helpless to extricate himself from the deep mire in which he is sinking, the gospel of the grace that saves is good news indeed.

2. The glad tidings of the grace that keeps.

A "saved" man may become fearsome that he may fall into his besetting sins and be lost again. The gospel of the grace of God reassures such a one. Grace is the overflow of a "love which doth not alter when it alteration finds," to quote the great words of Shakespeare. It keeps as well as saves. It is a "love

Marriage of Paducah Couple Takes Place Sunday at 9 A. M.

Miss Mary Martin and John Allen Fish, both of Paducah, were united in marriage Sunday morning at 9 o'clock in a pretty home wedding at the bride's home five miles east of Paducah, with Rev. John H. Crow, pastor of the Paducah Methodist Church, performing the ring ceremony in the presence of members of the immediate families and a few close friends.

Attending the couple were Miss Jacquelyne Martin of Austin, niece of the bride, as maid of honor, and Hughes Fish, brother of the groom, who was best man. The wedding party entered the living room of the home to the strains of Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus and stood before an improvised altar of large baskets of gladioli, chrysanthemums, asters and carnations in pastel shades. The baskets were tied with fluffy bows of pink tulle. The bride wore a black dress with white trim and both she and her maid-of-honor wore a corsage of gardenias. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, M. C. Martin, of Austin.

Mrs. Fish is the daughter of Mrs. Lillie Mae Martin and has been reared in the Broadmore community. She was graduated from the High School of Paducah in 1940. Mr. Fish is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Fish and was reared at Vivian where his parents now reside. He graduated from Crowell High School in 1934. He finished a business course in Stockton, Calif., and then attended Texas Technological College at Lubbock for one year. He is now employed as bookkeeper for Etter Tractor Co. at Paducah where he and his bride will reside. They left immediately after the wedding for a short trip.

After the marriage rites a reception was held for the guests. The lace-covered table had a lovely centerpiece of large marigolds. Gold and other autumn colors prevailed in the further decorations. The three-tiered bride's cake was

Hallow'en Party Given by B & P W Club Thurs. Night

Ghosts—a corpse—shrieks and weird stories haunted the O'Connell Lunch Room Thursday night of last week when the Business and Professional Women's Club entertained guests in Hallow'en fashion.

Mrs. Sally Archer received the guests and escorted them through a dark room, telling them a ghost story. She then presented them to a corpse whose heart had not ceased to beat. Amid shrieks and haunting sounds, the guests left the place, shuddering, to find chairs to hold them up. After the arrival of the last guest, the lights were turned on to reveal a festively decorated room. Contests, games and Bingo were played. Officers for next year were selected as follows: Mrs. Lonnie Scott, president; Mrs. Gus Patton, vice president; Mrs. Earl Manard, secretary; Council members, Mrs. Sam Tate and Mrs. Herman Kincheloe. Mrs. W. B. Griffin and Mrs. Milton Hunter were visitors. Eight members were present.

September Defense Disbursements Are $1,347,000,000

Disbursements for defense purposes rose in September to approximately $1,347,000,000, the Bureau of Research and Statistics, OPM, reported October 12.

This was $203,000,000 higher than cash paid out in August, a rise of 18 per cent. These are preliminary figures estimated on a basis of checks issued by the various defense agencies.

September disbursements bring the total since July, 1940, to $10,560,000,000. Of this amount $8,530,000,000 has been paid on contracts for ships, guns, airplanes, and other defense materials and on lend-lease shipments, while $2,030,000,000 was paid out for pay, subsistence and travel of the armed forces and administration of defense agencies.

WEST SIDE H. D. CLUB

The club met with Mrs. Gus Patton Wednesday of last week. Officers for next year were selected as follows: Mrs. Lonnie Scott, president; Mrs. Gus Patton, vice president; Mrs. Earl Manard, secretary; Council members, Mrs. Sam Tate and Mrs. Herman Kincheloe. Mrs. W. B. Griffin and Mrs. Milton Hunter were visitors. Eight members were present.

CITIZENSHIP CLUB

The children of the Fourth Grade organized a Citizenship Club on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 29. Mrs. Floyd Thomas is the teacher of the room. The following officers were elected: Tommy Mason, president; Dovie Ellis, vice president; Betty Lou Brock, secretary; Rouse Todd, reporter.

The death rate from tuberculosis among negro youth in this country is seven times as high as that among whites of the same age. Among negroes of all ages deaths from pneumonia are twice as high, from syphilis five times as high and from homicide seven times as high as among the whites. Fewer negroes than whites die of diphtheria and cancer.

UNDER the impetus of war Canada has become a vast arsenal out of which millions of rounds of ammunition and vast quantities of explosives are being poured annually. War expenditures will cost the Canadian people about 40 per cent of the national income, a sum which in terms of comparative population and income would be the equivalent to an expenditure by the United States of about $35,000,000 in a single year. In the Space of One Short Year

San Francisco has reclaimed its reputation as one of the greatest Red Cross communities in America. One year ago a somnolent Chest-sponsored agency, the San Francisco Chapter today boasts 5,000 volunteer workers and a complete service program. One year ago it was fighting to raise a relatively small war relief quota; today it boasts a Roll Call of 82,500 members, a per capita enrollment of 13.1 per cent. Last year the Chapter struggled along with a budget of about $26,000; this year it can devote $70,000 exclusively to the local program.

This rags-to-riches story is not new in San Francisco. In 1898 a semi-independent Red Cross unit was formed with the approval of Clara Barton to assist soldiers going to and from the Philippines in the Spanish-American War. Thereafter interest languished, and by odd coincidence the Chapter was reorganized the day preceding the great earthquake and fire of April 18, 1906. Spurred by the grim necessity of natural havoc, and backed to the limit by the National Red Cross, the Chapter suddenly found itself making disaster relief history.

Again during World War I, San Francisco rose splendidly to unprecedented demands. Here, at the historic Ferry Building, one of the busiest canteen units in the United States fed hundreds of thousands of troops en route for training camps or "over there."

In 1923 the San Francisco Chapter threw its considerable influence into organization of the Community Chest, and from that year until 1940 the local Red Cross program followed the routine channels of service. Its allowance from the Community Chest decreased steadily—from $76,000 in 1929 to $25,000 in 1936.

Credit for the revolutionary changes of 1940-41 belongs to a score of community leaders who were sensitive to the shadow of coming events. Most active, perhaps, was Chairman Frederick J. Koster, pioneer businessman and civic leader, who assumed Red Cross office in March 27, 1937. He had served his government and community continuously since before 1916, as a member of the War Industries Board and a member of the European Relief Administration. Alert to the emergency, he now called on his fellow San Franciscans to revitalize their Red Cross. In the Roll Call of May, 1941, San Francisco responded.

Even more imposing than budgetary figures are the service records of Production, Home Nursing, Gray Ladies, Disaster Preparedness, Braille, Motor Corps, First Aid and associated volunteer work. The Red Cross has reached into every section of the city for help, and the result has been 150 production units comprising 5,000 workers. The women of Chinatown are producing surgical dressings for Free China; a Greek unit is still doing its bit; clubs, churches and lodge societies are helping.

So fast a pace did these volunteers set that the roomy old Chapter house was outgrown in a matter of weeks. So Mrs. Ambrose Diehl, Volunteer Special Services chairman, and Mrs. Philip Coxon, Production chairman, provided the Red Cross with a four-story modern office building, rent free. Located in the heart of San Francisco, this building is already a public institution, a show place and an industry that annually turns out 100,000 garments and a staggering quantity of surgical dressings. In this same building are classrooms for home nursing and nutrition students, headquarters for the crack Motor Corps and the Canteen and Staff Assistance services.

Still remembering the disaster of 1906, San Francisco lays particular stress on its disaster plan. This committee, headed by Thomas Larke Jr., is an important cog in the civil defense commission, which until recently was also headed by Chairman Frederick Koster. Here the Red Cross has reserved for itself a distinct program under civil defense: to give First Aid training to rescue squads, and to provide food, clothing, shelter and transportation to refugees under traditional Red Cross policy. Under the Red Cross committee function 11 separate district units, each capable of operating alone if necessary and each provided with its own store of First Aid and rescue equipment—stretchers, axes, ropes, jacks, splints and bandages. — A. L. Schafer, Red Cross Courier.
