HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Inspect the refrigerator every morning before planning the day's menu. That is one of the best ways of checking on the cooked food supply and of utilizing every leftover.

Unused soap should be made into soap jelly and used for washing stockings, gloves, lingerie, and curtains.

You may think such trifles as rubber bands can be spared from the war effort. But listen to this: The 6,000,000 pounds of crude rubber used for rubber bands would put treads and rubber accessories on 500 tanks and bullet-proof fuel tanks on 300 heavy bombers.

By eliminating metal signs for the duration of the War Production Board is saving about 80,000 tons of steel a year, enough to provide structural steel for four new battleships.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The Army's fighter planes are the finest in the world and develop speeds up to 400 miles an hour. They cost approximately $100,000 each, provide fighter escorts for the huge flying fortresses, and combine speed, range, altitude and blistering fire power.

America's plane production plants are working over-time turning out thousands of these fighter planes. War Savings Bonds will help pay for them and the American people are committed to at least ten percent of their income to finance their cost in War Bonds. Every American, buying his share every pay day, will make it comparatively easy to supply our army and navy air corps with these supreme Eagles of the air.

Economic Highlights

National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare.

"The battle of production has been won," wrote Paul Mallon recently. "American industry went over the top in April, out of the preparatory organizing phase, and into the great American stride of mass production which no one can equal anywhere. From now on the production line on our charts will go nearly straight up."

That is an incredible achievement, and it takes incredible statistics to describe it. In April, our war production was at the rate of $40,000,000,000 a year. The June rate will be about 25 per cent greater. And by the end of this year, the economists confidently predict we will be producing at the rate of $70,000,000,000 a year.

In time to come, many a learned book will be written telling just how private industry did this job—a job which is unprecedented in world history. Two years ago we were totally unprepared for war. Today we are out-producing nations which devoted most of their resources to getting ready for war for a decade or more. In Mein Kampf, Hitler says time and time again that the democracies are weak, spineless, unwilling and unable to fight. The Japanese also pinned abundant faith on that supposition. This country, along with the other United Nations, is showing Hitler how tremendously wrong he was.

American industry has done far more than turn its plants from the production of the necessities and luxuries of peace to the production of the instruments of war. It has boldly pioneered new techniques. It has thrown old production prejudices to the four winds. It has worked on the basis that nothing is impossible. The skeptics said, for instance, that the assembly-line principle could never be successfully applied to the manufacture of fighting airplanes. Ford, Boeing, Consolidated and other plants have proved otherwise—in Seattle, San Diego, Willow Run and elsewhere some of the finest military airplanes the world has ever seen are being made almost as swiftly as automobiles were made in the old days. Skeptics were certain forecasts of tank production were fantastically high. Chrysler and other makers, to the contrary, are today well ahead of the forecasts and are going farther steadily.

All over the country plants, little as well as big, are setting new production records in a hundred war-material fields. Delays still occasionally occur because of lack of materials, labor difficulties, etc. But those days grow fewer.

There is only one dark spot—merchant ship output. The shipbuilders have done an excellent job in the face of staggering technical difficulties, but the fact remains that United Nations' losses are somewhat ahead of replacements. For some time delivery of steel plate was behind schedule. However, existing yards are steadily upping their output, and some gigantic new yards, on both the Atlantic and Pacific Seaboard will shortly go into operation. In this as in other war fields, some revolutionary changes are taking place in production methods. In the last war, it took close to a year to make the 8,800-ton Liberty ships we used then. A Portland, Ore., yard recently produced a 10,800-ton freighter of the standard type we are building now in 60 days. And it is believed certain that still faster production will soon become commonplace.

The warship building program is reported ahead of schedule. Special emphasis is laid on the production of the destroyers which are needed for convoy duties, and for protecting ships-of-the-line in naval squadrons. And the U. S. submarine fleet is growing satisfactorily.

Not until the war is over and the information is of no use to the enemy will it be possible to tell the whole story of America's production effort. What can be said now is that no nation or group of nations ever did so much in so short a period of time. At the end of the last year, Von Ludendorff wrote, in bitter admiration, that the United States understood how to wage war. The cold production figures show that the United States understands it better still today.

Net 230,000 Lbs. Farm Rubber First Day

On the very first day of the Northern California Works Projects administration drive to collect agricultural scrap, William C. Bruner, left, an orchardist at Arbuckle, Calif., turned 230,000 pounds of discarded tires over to the WPA collectors. Bruner turned the huge pile of rubber into the custody of A. J. Doyle, chief of the WPA farm salvage staff.

The President, Secretary Hull, Vice President Wallace and other top-flight officials have warned the people not to become too optimistic—and to disregard the current crop of rumors to the effect that the Axis is on the verge of collapse. There is sound reason behind that warning. Nothing suits the Hitler-Hirohito combine better than unjustified optimism on the part of their enemies. Nothing is so fatal to a nation in modern war as complacency.

The newsmen who were recently released from Hitler's Europe brought some very interesting information with them. Axis morale, they say, dropped when Germany and Italy declared war on us. But Hitler has most of the people sold on the idea that they must win or perish. They are doggedly determined to fight on to the very end. There are relatively few rebels—and the Gestapo is active and efficient.

It is possible, of course, that

State USO Director Urges Support for Civilian Service

Houston, May 1.—Reporting a net total of 895 USO club houses and other units in operation, Harry C. Wiess, state USO chairman, today called attention to the growing need for support of this civilian service to America's fighting men.

Mr. Wiess said that demands upon USO for services to the American troops have been so heavy since March 25 that USO has been obliged to add fifty-eight units to a system which already encompasses forty-five states as well as Alaska, Hawaii, the Canal Zone and other bases from the Caribbean to Newfoundland.

Of this operational total, Mr. Wiess added, 662 units are in the continental United States and thirty-three are overseas. There are now 450 USO club houses, of which 124 are in this country and twenty-six are extra-continental. Buildings erected, or renovated, by the federal government, house 184 of these clubs.

The new report, coming soon after USO launched its Texas war fund campaign for 41,110,000, showed that 1,394 professional staff workers are employed by USO, an increase of 146 over the 1,248 who represented the organization professionally as of March 23.

USO operations are now centered in 324 cities and towns and in nine "territories, possessions and offshore bases." Fifty-one units of the operational total are for USO's troops-in-transit service.

"The steady expansion of USO," Mr. Wiess said, "shows conclusively that we are filling a vital need in America's ever-growing defense. As the Army, Navy and Marine Corps continue to in-

Your Horoscope

June 1, 2.—You are independent, proud and ambitious, generally cheerful and at times brilliant. Sometimes you become deeply depressed, but you suffer in silence and do not make an exhibition of your feelings. You love your home and family, to which you will sacrifice your convenience and comfort if necessary.

June 3, 4, 5.—New ventures always look bright to you, but sometimes do not end successfully. You are attentive to business, reserved, and make the most of your talents and accomplishments. You have a certain amount of inquisitiveness with a somewhat caustic vein in your make-up. You have marked literary ability and are fond of music.

June 6, 7.—You have high ideals, with a love for justice, truth, and harmonious conditions. You are sympathetic with suffering, and a great comfort and aid to one in trouble. You are a true and loyal friend.

The Words of Jesus

Jesus said many remarkable things, but nothing more remarkable was ever uttered than the words recorded in Mark 13:31: "Heaven and earth shall pass away; but my words shall not pass away."

The words of Jesus are abiding. They will remain when all else passes away. The historic fact is that Jesus' words gain in vitality and influence. There is a striking comparison between the words of Plato and those of Jesus. Plato was born in the most brilliant age of the most brilliant country of antiquity. He was the greatest thinker Greece ever produced.

But the miracle of miracles in history is this—that the words of Jesus have been the spirit and life of the greater part of humanity for more than nineteen hundred years, and their influence increases as the world grows older. Age has not dimmed their light, nor lessened their sweetness, nor diminished their force.

Christian Science Services

"God the Only Cause and Creator" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 7. The Golden Text is: "Lord, thou art God, which hast made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all that in them is" (Acts 4:24).

Hero's Thrill

Born only a month ago while his dad was making life miserable for the Japs in the Philippines, John D. Bulkeley Jr. monopolized the attention of his proud father when Lieutenant Bulkeley arrived at his Long Island city home. Daughter Joan, feeling neglected, looks at cameraman while her hero dad feasts his eyes on his son for the first time. Lieutenant Bulkeley is on a ten-day furlough.

INTERESTING FACTS OF THIS AND THAT

The current monthly demand for scrap metal by the steel mills of this country is 4,500,000 tons. Open hearth steel furnaces which provide the bulk of our steel require as much scrap as new iron. Michigan topped all the states for the number of fishing licenses issued last year with 718,281.

THANKS FOR YOUR BUSINESS

We deeply appreciate the patronage extended to our store since it was opened in Crowell on Feb. 1, 1941, and take this means of expressing our thanks to the people of this trade area for the splendid business this store has enjoyed during that time.

On Monday night a business deal was consummated whereby John Rasor and T. S. Haney, pioneer grocers of Crowell, became the new owners of the Coltharp Food Store, and we wish for them the very best of success.

APPRECIATION FOR YOUR HELP

We want to express our sincere appreciation to the stores and people of Crowell who so faithfully assisted the telephone company in locating people for long distance calls following the destruction caused by the recent tornado.

The assistance rendered our local operators in this manner has been of inestimable value to the telephone company and also to those getting the calls.

Again, we thank you.
