Eleventh Victim of Cyclone Succumbs in Vernon Sunday

Funeral for Mrs. D. M. Yount Held Monday Afternoon

Mrs. D. M. Yount, who was injured in the recent tornado which struck Crowell, and who has been in a Vernon hospital since that time, passed away at 11 o'clock Sunday morning in Vernon. Mrs. Yount is the eleventh casualty of the storm. Her daughter, Miss Nettie Maud Yount, was instantly killed in the storm.

Mrs. Yount, whose maiden name was Hester Meason, was born Nov. 24, 1866, in Shelby County, Mo. She came to Texas with her parents in 1878, making the trip in four weeks in a covered wagon, and settled in Collin County. Mrs. Yount had been a consistent member of the Baptist Church of Crowell since the first years of her marriage. She had been a true Christian, radiating her personality and culture everywhere she went. She was a good neighbor, a true friend, a loyal and faithful wife and mother. Mr. Yount passed away in 1941, after having been practically an invalid for several years. She ministered to him in an untiring manner. She was a lover of good music and played and sang, herself.

Survivors besides the one daughter, Ida Mae, include one brother, Jack Meason of Roaring Springs, and three sisters, Mrs. Mattie Bowser of Dallas, Mrs. J. K. Meason of Big Sandy and Mrs. Elias Butler of Winslow, Ariz. A number of nieces and nephews also survive.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Our army spells and pronounces it ponton, not "pontoon", as you do. Ponton bridges cost all the way from $15,000 to $700,000. The smaller bridge using individual metal pontons is pictured here. The largest ponton bridge is 1,080 feet long and is made of rubber instead of aluminum.

One small bridge has a weight capacity of 25 tons, using about 2,000 individual metal pontons. The smallest is used only to take troops over smaller streams. But whether our army uses the smaller or largest ponton, our engineers need plenty of them. If you and every American invests at least 10 percent of income in War Bonds every pay day we can supply our fighting forces with these essentials to a victorious war.

Economic Highlights

"Neither optimism nor pessimism will win this war," wrote Dorothy Thompson recently, "but meticulous preparation, audacious action, taking advantage of every weakness of the enemy, and the use of every hand, brain, material and substitute material that this energetic and ingenious nation can muster. In a war like this one, we must assume at every moment, from start to finish, that its entire outcome depends upon us. In favorable moments we must not relax; in distressful moments we must pull ourselves together. At no moment must our efforts be affected by our moods."

It is undoubtedly true that many of us have given way to unjustified optimism of late. That is only natural. We exaggerate United Nations victories and minimize Axis victories. A high government official said not long ago that, judging by the headlines in some newspapers, General MacArthur's forces must be knocking at the gates of Tokyo. Even the best of editors succumb to wishful thinking at times, and their papers reflect that attitude. The plain truth is that, unless the completely unlikely occurs, we have barely started our war effort. The maps of the world tell the whole sorry story. Japanese dominance in the South Pacific is complete. China is in extreme danger, and Burma has been lost. British Asiatic forces have fought bravely, but they have constantly been overwhelmed and forced into retreat. The complete loss of the Philippines has released crack Jap divisions for service elsewhere.

In Europe, Hitler is still supreme. The Russians have performed wonders in holding back the Nazi legions. But the fact remains that much of Russian territory is still in Hitler's hands, and it's a long way from the fighting lines to the German border. There is no cause for pessimism in all this. The Axis was ready for war and the United Nations were not, and serious reverses were inevitable. And at the same time, we must not make the fatal mistake that all is going perfectly, and that there's nothing much to worry about. It has been observed, with great accuracy, that the United Nations won't lose the war unless they start thinking that they can't lose it.

The Burma campaign illustrates our difficulties. Lieutenant General Stilwell and the other commanders planned brilliantly and their forces fought brilliantly. They just didn't have the equipment. General Stilwell had this to say: "I claim we got a hell of a beating. We got run out of Burma and it is humiliating as hell. . . The Japanese are not supermen. If we go back properly proportioned and properly equipped we can throw them out." The invader, in brief, had the material that a modern war demands. The defenders didn't. Here at home, as the commentators have been saying, we have got over the production hump. Within a few months the production of war materials of all kinds will reach fantastic dimensions. What we still have to do is to win the battle of transportation. The task of supplying forces which are fighting on battlefronts in every section of the world, thousands of miles from the production lines, is staggering. We have not yet solved the U-boat problem. We haven't enough naval craft to keep the convoys going with minimum losses. This is going to take time—and it is going to take stupendous, undivided effort as well. In short, we are still fighting delaying actions for the most part. We are not yet in a position to start the gigantic counter-offensive which will recapture the many vital positions the United Nations have lost, and carry the war to the home of the enemy. But we are moving swiftly toward the day when that will be possible, and the long-pull outlook grows steadily brighter. In the meantime, it obviously the part of wisdom to figure on a very long, very arduous war. One thing we can't afford is overconfidence.

Time observes that experts are convinced that "China has been a great military opportunity which the U. S. has neglected—an opportunity which if not grasped may not exist much longer." China's greatest need now is planes, pilots, mechanics and gasoline. And Chinese airfields provide the perfect take-off points for raids on Japan proper. The great industrial city of Nagasaki, for instance, is only three hours by air from Chekiang. Formosa is closer still. All important military objectives in Japan can be reached with relative ease. The raid on Japan made by Brigadier General Doolittle's squadrons demonstrates that Japan is really vulnerable to air attack. He and his fliers reported that every target was hit according to plan, and that Japanese defenses didn't amount to much. The fact that every American plane reached a friendly field is proof of that.

Japanese radio broadcasts following the raid were obviously designed to buoy up civilian morale—which certainly indicates that the Japanese people didn't enjoy the American air visit at all. Many an American bomber, with crews and spare parts, is likely to go to China in the near future. Tokyo hasn't seen the last of United Nations growing air power.—Industrial News Review.

Therefore to him that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin.—James 4:17.

Almost as important as the bond drive, the smelters of this country need 4,500,000 tons of scrap a month if they are to be kept in operation on defense production. It is believed that there is enough scrap iron on the farms and in city junk yards to supply this need if it could be gotten to market. For some reason it has not been coming in fast enough and many plants have had to shut down. The reason why scrap iron must be used rather than new or pig iron is that many steel furnaces are what is known as open hearth furnaces. An open hearth furnace must have scrap to serve as a flux to melt the pig iron. It would require from a year and a half to two years to convert the open hearth furnaces into blast furnaces and would cost millions of dollars. For these reasons scrap is vitally needed if war production is to proceed as it should. The next time you see a pile of scrap iron remember that the defense program needs it and that it will never contribute to the defeat of our enemies until it is on the way to some smelter.

The buying of used tires on ration board orders only is predicted with certainty. When the time comes that the car owner gets down to three tires he will be called upon to sell his three remaining tires to the government to be in turn sold to those in eligible classes who may need them.

In Training

O. C. Harrison Jr., junior editor and business manager of the Seymour Banner for a number of years, has been accepted as a candidate for officers training and is stationed at Camp Wolters, Mineral Wells. Young Harrison practically grew up in the Banner office and since taking over his duties as business manager of the paper has been an active worker in civic affairs of the town. Senior Harrison says "One trouble about losing the junior editor is that it may put the senior editor to work and that his golf is likely to suffer."

Recently the men from 45 to 65 were registered. This group will not be inducted into military service. The registration is more in the nature of a census of skills. Late in the year men in this group in non-war production will be asked to change to work in defense production. If the need for labor is not met shifts may be made compulsory. Big scale training programs for non-skilled and partially skilled workers will be set up. Young men now in defense plants will be replaced as far as possible and as rapidly as possible by older men and young women. The efficiency of no defense plant will be disturbed as the change will be made slowly.

Every town should have some type of program for youth such as the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts or similar activity that concerns itself with youth. The program should offer opportunity of participation to all young people of the community who might be interested. The home is, of course, the real foundation, but homes are not equally efficient in the matter of rearing children and the community must supply the shortcomings if the right training is to be received. The need is present in every community and its presence is a challenge to the leadership of the community. It is much more desirable that a young life be started right than the community be called upon to punish it for wrong doing committed because of the lack of proper training.

This sugar rationing program if it continues long enough is going to result in a crop of young women who do not know how to make a batch of fudge. The fudge age comes to every girl at some time in her life.

HISTORY

Flag Day—June 14: June 14, observed throughout the country as Flag Day, commemorates the day when Continental Congress sitting in Philadelphia, adopted the following resolution: "The flag of the United States shall be thirteen stripes of alternate red and white, with a union of thirteen stars of white on a blue field, representing the new constellation." The resolution was adopted following the report of a committee appointed to suggest a design for the Nation's flag. The suggestion of the committee was that the white stars be placed in a circle upon a field of blue. This was to signify the perpetuity of the union, the ring signifying eternity. The thirteen stars showed the number of the colonies at that time and denoted subordination of the States of the Union as well as equality among themselves. With the admission of other states into the Union the arrangement of the stars was of necessity changed. The story is that the first flag was made by Betsy Ross of Philadelphia at the request of General Washington. There is a tradition that General Washington suggested the five pointed star and cut the pattern for it. Observation of Flag Day grew slowly. In 1899 Professor George Borch, principal of a free kindergarten for the poor in New York City, first held patriotic exercises on that day. The movement spread through the State Department of Education which arranged to have the day observed in all public schools. Shortly after the New York State Legislature passed a law providing that the day along with Lincoln's birthday, Memorial Day, be observed in the public schools of the State of New York. Flag Day is not a legal holiday in any of the States. It is, however, generally observed throughout the country with some sort of exercises.

QUIT YER SHOVIN!

What We Think
(By Frank Dixon)

I was called upon the other day by our local committee to assist in the solicitation of pledges to buy War Bonds and Stamps. As everyone knows by this time this solicitation which is being made in every city, and town, and village, and hamlet, throughout the nation is being asked for by the Treasury Department, that the Treasury may know in arranging tax schedules, just how much may be expected and counted on from voluntary pledges especially if these pledges are made by the week, the month, each pay day, quarterly, semi-annually or annually. We were informed before we started on our solicitation that this was not a bond selling campaign. No bonds would be sold. Pledges only would be taken. The amount of each pledge was in all instances to be left up to the individual with the suggestion, however, that the government is asking each individual to pledge at least ten per cent of his income. On this basis if each person meets this request the Treasury Department will still have to borrow two dollars for each dollar pledged to meet the needs and pay the bills occasioned by the defense program.

We were instructed to point out that War Bonds were a good investment and that the rate of interest was equal to that of any safe investment one might make under present conditions. Our for it. Observation of Flag Day grew slowly. In 1899 Professor George Borch, principal of a free kindergarten for the poor in New York City, first held patriotic exercises on that day. The movement spread through the State Department of Education which arranged to have the day observed in all public schools. Shortly after the New York State Legislature passed a law providing that the day along with Lincoln's birthday, Memorial Day, be observed in the public schools of the State of New York. Flag Day is not a legal holiday in any of the States. It is, however, generally observed throughout the country with some sort of exercises.

committee was also informed that the government was in great need of the money for the building of ships and planes and the furnishing of munitions to the men already on the battle line. It was interesting to make such a canvas. The true character of men and women is always brought out clearly when they are asked to give up something, to make some sacrifice, or to deny themselves something. There are in every community those who like to give the impression that this country means much to them, and that they stand ready to fly to its defense at the first call, but when they are approached to pledge to invest a few dollars each week, or each month, or each pay day, they begin to hedge. They have a hard luck tale that they can't afford it, that it costs so much to live, etc. Almost without exception one will find that these persons are not denying themselves in any particular. They have not given up a single one of their own expensive habits. They are not making a single personal sacrifice for the country that they profess to love so much. Fortunately we encountered but a few of these. Contrasted to these pseudo patriots were the larger group, many of whom received much less income, who were glad to sign the pledge, even though in signing they knew force. It is going to be made what is within the heart of each individual. A sinful man whose heart is full of wickedness will not take his place in heaven because he will have nothing common with heaven. He would not be at home or at ease in the Kingdom of God. His inward life would be of other kind, and he, himself, God, would determine with what group he would be included.

Two Minute Sermon
(By Thomas Hastwell)

We, Not God, Choose Our Eternity: Not long ago I attended a session of a men's Sunday School class. The lesson had to do with the parables that attempt to define the Kingdom of Heaven is. One member of the class took exception to the 49th and 50th verses of the 13th chapter of Matthew in which it states that in the final day the good shall be separated from the bad, and the wicked would be cast into the furnace of fire; that there would be wailing and gnashing of teeth. He inclined the idea that God being a just and merciful God would in the last hour relent and not exact the full measure of punishment. As a matter of fact in that final day the separation of the good from the wicked is not going to be made by God or by any other external they would have to make sacrifices—personal sacrifices to meet it. It was the meeting and visiting with these self-sacrificing individuals that was the high light of our canvass and which served to impress upon the sollicitors the feeling that the privilege of living in a land of liberty and freedom and democracy had not made everyone selfish and indifferent to the needs of their government. My conclusion was, after receiving pledges from women and girls who earned small incomes, and who really needed all they made to maintain themselves in health, and being refused by those making much more who were unwilling to make any sacrifice or give up anything for their country, or who, if they did pledge, pledged a niggardly dole, was that patriotism, like religion, is not expressed by words and pretenses but by the spirit that is in the heart.

WAR COSTS MONEY— BUT LIBERTY IS PRICELESS

Help Win the War with the Money You Save

Of course freedom is expensive. The highest price tags are always attached to the most precious items. And the cost of human liberty in blood and treasure is a staggering one. But to be able to speak and pray and think and vote the way we wish—did you ever hear anyone question the cost?

Some Americans are paying the cost with their lives. Others are buying as many Defense Stamps and Bonds as they possibly can—every day. Are you doing your share?

In order to provide every opportunity for the daily purchase of Stamps and Bonds, we're now selling them at each cash register in our store. Wherever you go, whenever you can, buy your share in our country's most precious possession—the Liberty, the Freedom of America!

have little connection with each other. But today, banking is playing a leading role in the Food-for-Freedom drive.

The American Bankers Association formed a Food-for-Free-Don Committee some time ago. Branches of that organization are actively at work in the various states. And, as the head of a Tennessee bank recently phrased it, the program "is a whirlwind of success."

In all parts of the country banks and bankers' groups have employed agricultural experts, whose job is to confer with representatives of the farmers. All the knowledge and facilities of American banking are thus placed at agriculture's disposal. When necessary, loans are quickly made for worth-while farm development. Practical advice is always available. The purpose of the banks is twofold—to help expand food production, and to aid the farmer in handling his credit and banking problems.

So banking is providing agriculture with the same kind of invaluable service it has long given industry. The result will be a growing supply of food for the United Nations. This is just one more example of private banking's great place in the war effort.—Industrial News Review.

A WEEK of the WAR

Army Air Forces Commander Arnold told a press conference in London that United States fighter and bomber planes will soon join the British Air Force in bombing Germany. U. S. pilots will have their own air fields and ground crews, he said. "We shall hit the enemy hard and relentlessly until his military power has been broken," Gen. Arnold said. "It is obvious that no offensive against Nazi-occupied Europe can succeed without air superiority and we mean to have it."

Production Under Secretary of War Patterson reported the President's goal of 60,000 planes in 1942 will be surpassed "by a substantial margin," and tank and ammunition production are keeping pace with schedules. He said Army Ordnance monthly deliveries are 458 times as great as two years ago. The WPB said production of new machine tools is 72 per cent above last year.

The House passed and returned to the Senate legislation setting a small war plants corporation which would make loans to small war contractors. The Commerce Department issued suggested procedures for establishing business wartime clinics to aid local business men in working out current problems of dislocation and changes in their businesses.

Army Expansion and Training Chief of Staff Marshall announced there will be nearly 4,500,000 soldiers under arms by the end of 1942 rather than 3,600,000 as originally planned at the start of the war. During the past four weeks alone the Army strength has been increased by 300,000 men, he said. The Civil Aeronautics Administration called for volunteers to be trained as glider pilots in the Army Air Forces. The glider training is open to men 18 to 35 holding pilot licenses of private grade or higher, to graduates of the CAA program and to pilots completing 200 or more glider flights.

The War Department said medical students who have completed advanced ROTC courses and have been accepted as matriculants in an approved school of medicine will be commissioned Second Lieutenants and placed on a deferred duty status. The Senate completed Congressional action on a bill increasing the number of cadets each member of Congress may appoint to the U. S. Military Academy from three to four, and increasing authorized strength of the cadet corps from 1,900 to 2,496. The Army reported nine new infantry divisions will be organized before the end of August.

Selective Service U. S. Commissioner of Education Studebaker reported about 430,000 men have been rejected for Army service so far because of illiteracy. Of these, 250,000 are physically fit. He said a program is being worked out to give the "functionally illiterate" basic training in reading, writing and arithmetic. The President told a press conference such rejections have a low mental level because of lack of opportunity. They need to be helped through improved nutrition and possibly through a manual vocational training process, he said.

Navy The President asked Congress for an additional $600 million for expansion of naval aviation and of warship tonnage. The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill authorizing the Navy to acquire 24 nonrigid blimps, raising the present limit on the number of such ships to 72. The Navy Department authorized enlistment of 10,000 additional college Juniors, Seniors and graduates between 19 and 28 for Reserve Midshipman training leading to Commissions as Ensigns.

The War Front A Navy communique reported U. S. submarines in Far Eastern waters sank two Japanese cargo ships, probably sank a third, and damaged one heavy cruiser. The Navy also announced the U. S. Destroyer Blakely reached an undisclosed port with 10 of her crew missing and six injured after being torpedoed in the Caribbean Area.

During the week the Navy reported one large, 11 medium-sized and four small United Nations merchant vessels (11 of U. S. registry), and a U. S. trawler were torpedoed or sunk by shellfire in the Atlantic and Caribbean Areas. Survivors were landed at East Coast and Caribbean ports. The State Department said the U. S. is abiding by the rules of the Geneva Prisoners of War Convention, and the German, Italian and Japanese Governments are apparently doing the same.

Civilian Supply The WPB reported more than 400,000 scrapped automobiles from auto graveyards yielded 350,000 tons of scrap metal during April, approximately 200,000 tons more than the average monthly yield for 1941. The Board said American motorists have in the tires and the works of their automobiles a rubber reserve of about 1,200,000 tons.

The WPB said a Victory safety razor with a plastic handle, a zinc cap, and a zinc or plastic guard will go into production in a few months and will be offered to the public when the present supply is used up. The Board announced it invites specific inquiries from manufacturers as to how they may employ casein, a basic chemical made from skimmed milk, as a substitute product for scarce chemicals. Production of all musical instruments except violins, cellos and some guitars was halted. Piano manufacturers will turn out gliders, organ factories will make blowers for link gliders used in ground training of pilots, and factories which made French horns, trombones, trumpets, etc., will manufacture precision instruments for airplanes.

Rationing Price Administrator Henderson said there will be more rationing of essential articles, but the country is a long way from a complete system. He said there will be additional shortages in power, fuel reserves and transportation. WPB Automotive Division Chief Kanzer reported nationwide rationing of gasoline would help relieve potential rubber and automotive replacement parts shortages. Board Chairman Nelson said administrative difficulties will make it impossible to institute such gasoline rationing before July 1. The OPA reported the June ration quota for new passenger automobiles will be 40,000 plus carryover of unused quotas from March, April or May.

War Bond Sales The Treasury said War Bond sales from May 1 to May 29 totaled $215 million, while the quota for the month was $600 million. April sales were $536 million. The June quota is $800 million, and the goal will be raised to $1,000 million in July. The Treasury said 1,000,000 retailers throughout the country are being asked to sell War Bonds and Stamps equaling the value of four per cent of total merchandise sales in July, or approximately $160 million worth.

Labor Supply The War Manpower Commission said it is considering a plan to bind management in critical labor areas to hire workers with certain skills through the U. S. Employment Service, in order to

Your Horoscope

June 8, 9, 10.—You have a pleasing personality and make many friends among people of prominence. You are somewhat hard to please, positive, shrewd, but just. Do not be too determined but be sure you are right, then go ahead slowly and you will not encounter so many obstacles. You are not very successful in your business ventures when you are alone. Employment is nearly always best for you.

WINNING THE PEACE In a recent talk, Dr. Paul H. Nystrom, head of the Limited Price Variety Stores Association, observed that winning the peace and preservation of the system of free enterprise are as vital as winning the war. "At least thirty organizations," he said, "are currently shaping plans to remake the country after the war. Maybe improvements can be made, but business should participate in the remaking. There are 40,000,000 youngsters in this country and we must preserve for them the same rights and privileges that we have. That is a part of winning the peace."

As a leader in one branch of the vast merchandising industry, Dr. Nystrom is particularly qualified to discuss free enterprise. For retailing is one of the most important backlogs of the whole free enterprise system. It is a business which requires relatively little capital to start. It is completely competitive. Any man can start a store and become engaged in war and our country is in great peril, naturally, I want to again serve my country where I can do the most good. I sincerely believe that it is my patriotic duty to the people of my district to offer myself for re-election as

The rationing of gasoline will help save tires and the reduction in sales of coffee and tea will help save the sugar. eliminate "Piracy" in such areas. The Commission also said if workers refuse to accept suitable employment in war industries "without reasonable cause," the circumstances will be referred to the Selective Service System for consideration in connection with any request for occupational deferment.

Grady Roberts Asks to Be Re-Elected As Representative

The News is authorized this week to announce the candidacy of Grady Roberts for re-election to the office of State Representative, 11th District, subject to action of the Democratic primary in July. Mr. Roberts is now serving the people of this district in the State Legislature and has the following to say in reference to re-election:

"For some time, I have been undecided about making my announcement for re-election, due to business reasons. Since we are engaged in war and our country is in great peril, naturally, I want to again serve my country where I can do the most good. I sincerely believe that it is my patriotic duty to the people of my district to offer myself for re-election as representative of the 11th district. I do this realizing the many responsibilities and the ever-increasing importance of the office.

"Twenty-five years ago, we were engaged in a great conflict which was called World War No. 1. I served my country as a volunteer in the Navy during that war. Now we are engaged in another world conflict which, I believe, is far more serious than any we have ever been engaged in before; therefore, I think it is fitting and proper, and very essential at this time that we have men in the Legislature with experience, because many problems stand before us as people of Texas. We must co-operate with our Federal government in every way possible to win this war. And win we will!

"My experience in the Legislature is largely responsible for my being placed on the appropriations committee, which is recognized as the most important one in the Legislature because it allocates and appropriates the state's monies. I am also chairman of the conservation and reclamation committee, which is composed of 21 members, a member of the agricultural committee, as well as two other very important ones. It is essential to have legislative experience before one can get a chairmanship of any committee, or be placed on the appropriation committee. "I sincerely thank the people of my district for the confidence placed in me in the past by sending me to Austin to help make the laws in the Legislature of Texas. I also want to thank you for the fine co-operation given me since I have been your representative. This co-operation has come from all over the district, and it has been a great help to me in my feeble efforts to make you a good representative.

State Health Officer Issues Timely Advice to Vacationists

Austin.—Some timely advice to vacationists concerning the proper precautions to be used in water sports was released from the State Health Department today by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. It was pointed out that, in view of wartime restrictions, vacation pleasures are apt to be limited to excursions and picnics at nearby lakes, rivers, and ponds of unfamiliar depths and currents, and without the usual lifeguard supervisions associated with bathing beaches and commercial swimming pools.

"Swimming and water sports are beneficial to good health provided one's physical condition justifies this type of exercise," Dr. Cox asserted; "nevertheless, they possess dangerous possibilities if the rules of safety, through carelessness or thoughtlessness, are disregarded."

The State Health Officer outlined the following simple rules for bathing and swimming in safety:

- 1. At least one hour should elapse after a meal before entering the water.
2. Upon the first indication of fatigue, come ashore and call it a day. Don't re-enter the water.
3. If becoming chilled, leave the water immediately.
4. Do not enter the water when Judge J. Ross Bell of Chicago, candidate for Chief Justice of Civil Appeals, Seventh preme Judicial District of Texas at Amarillo, was here today in the interest of his campaign for the office.

Judge Bell is a pioneer of this immediate campaign for the office has overheard.

5. Learn to float. This is important.
6. Never attempt to row a boat in a spirit of fun.
7. Never swim in water that may be polluted. Swimming to or over a few miles from shore outlets is inviting the possibility of acquiring disease.

"Excursions, picnics, and swimming parties contribute to healthy, happy, normal life, and is especially desirable at this particular time when the vacation is tense and under a strain," Dr. Cox said. "It is by no means advisable to eliminate these excursions from our summer program, but it is important that they prove beneficial and not astrous."

POLITICAL HOBBY HORSE
POOR WAR MATERIAL
It was recently announced that the government will not authorize the construction of new war plants which cannot be in production by the end of next year. In other words, informed quarters believe that the energies of the nation should be given entirely to production now and in the near future—not to production in the far future.

That is obviously a sound policy. And it should be applied with full force to proposals for construction of gigantic government power plants and waterways.

The St. Lawrence Seaway and Power Project is a case in point.
To start that project would cost hundreds of millions of dollars—and the final cost might well exceed a billion. It would divert from immediate war use enormous quantities of vital materials and the work of thousands of men.

And, according to the most optimistic estimates, the project could not produce a single kilowatt of power for several years.

This is precisely the kind of governmental "luxury" that should be abandoned now. "Total war" means that government, no less than industries and individuals, must keep ever in mind the one great goal, decisive military victory in the shortest possible time. All our resources, all our labor, must be given to creating the tools of war and the ships that transport them to the battlefronts.

Some time ago, Congress deferred consideration of the St.
Lawrence and a number of similar projects. The matter is to come up again and Congress should make short work of such political hobby horses.—Industrial News Review.

Exterior view of The Mother Church

Annual Meeting of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, Mass., June 8

Boston, Mass., June 8.—The great task now confronting a liberated America, which more than three-quarters of a century ago fought a four-years war to free the slaves, is to aid in working out the freedom of the whole world from slavery. The Christian Scientist Board of Directors told several thousand Christian Scientists gathered in annual meeting in Boston today.

Declaring that this would be the sentiment expressed by the Nation's martyred President, Abraham Lincoln, were here today, the Directors pointed out that "through the ages tyrants have endeavored to govern and control men by engendering fear," and quoting from Mary Baker Eddy's work, "Miscellany" (p. 191), they further say, "Persecution is the weakness of tyrants; engendered by their fear, and love will cast it out."

The Directors' statement was the high light of the Annual Meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, which annually draws thousands of visitors to the Hub City from all parts of the world. This year, however, the audience was unprecedentedly large due to unprecedented world conditions that keynoted most of the reports to the meeting. The Directors emphasized the world-wide emergency as presag-ing a more universal turning to spiritual enlightenment as the pathway to future world peace.

Meeting in their Mother Church under the world-envelopment shade of what is probably the gravest threat to political and religious freedom since the advent of Christianity, the visitors were reminded in a report by The Christian Science Board of Lectureship that the union of Britain and America was foreseen forty-four years ago by Mary Baker Eddy, Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, as the instrument through which the rights of free peoples everywhere might be permanently established and protected....

Other prophetic statements of Mrs. Eddy foretelling the troublesome times of today and giving assurance that the forces of right would inevitably win the day were cited by the Board of Directors.
Particularly pertinent to the times was this one:
"The voice of God in behalf of the African slave was still echoing in our land, when the voice of the herald of this new crusade sounded the keynote of universal freedom, asking a fuller acknowledgment of the rights of man as a Son of God, demanding that the fetters of sin, sickness, and death be stricken from the human mind and that its freedom be won, not through human warfare, but with bayonet and blood, but through Christ's divine Science.

"God has built a higher platform of human rights, and He has built it on diviner claims. These claims are not made through code of earth peace, good-will toward men" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, p. 226).

The Directors also announced election of Mrs. Elisabeth F. Norwood of Brookline, Mass., as President of The Mother Church for the ensuing year. The chief duty of the President is to preside at the Annual Meeting.

The new President is the daughter of Isaac Paul Gragg, who served throughout the Civil War and was given the rank of Captain by Brevet for gallant and meritorious services. Her mother, Mrs. Eldora O. Gragg, C. S. D., was one of twelve students of Mrs.
Eddy's chosen by her to form The Mother Church. She was also the first woman Reader in the Church.

Mrs. Norwood was born in Roxbury, Mass., and received her early education in the Girls Latin School of Boston and in private schools. She was a member of the Normal Class of the Board of Education of the Massachusetts Metaphysical College in 1922, thus becoming a teacher of Christian Science. She also served as Second Reader in The Mother Church from June, 1929, to June, 1932.

To the incoming President the times appeared to constitute a challenge to Christian Scientists to face unflinchingly "a duty beyond anything they have ever before been called upon to face."
Yet in the face of this duty, she said, there is the authority of the Bible that "the Lord's hand is not shortened that it cannot save" and that "Christ's Christianity will free mankind from the bondage in which it is being held."

With this comforting assurance, the incoming President appraised world conditions in the light of another Red Sea of human doubts and fears through which mankind must be guided to higher spiritual ground by the power of divine intelligence. It is true, she said, that it seems necessary in the present-day conflict to resort to human means and methods against evil aggressors, yet the march forward can be taken safely and with confidence by putting on the breast-plate of righteousness, the armor

MRS. ELISABETH F. NORWOOD Incoming President of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts

Norwood of Brookline, Mass., as President of The Mother Church
for the ensuing year. The chief
duty of the President is to preside
at the Annual Meeting.

The new President is the daughter of Isaac Paul Gragg, who served throughout the Civil War
and was given the rank of Captain by Brevet for gallant and
meritorious services. Her mother, Mrs. Eldora O. Gragg, C. S. D., was one of twelve students of Mrs.
Eddy's chosen by her to form The Mother Church. She was also the first woman Reader in the Church.

Mrs. Norwood was born in Roxbury, Mass., and received her early education in the Girls Latin
School of Boston and in private schools. She was a member of the Normal Class of the Board of Education of the Massachusetts
Metaphysical College in 1922, thus
becoming a teacher of Christian Science. She also served as Second Reader in The Mother Church
from June, 1929, to June, 1932.

To the incoming President the
times appeared to constitute a
challenge to Christian Scientists
yond anything they have ever be-
Yet in the face of this duty, she
not shortened that it cannot save"
and that "Christ's Christianity will
free mankind from the bondage

With this comforting assurance,
the incoming President appraised
world conditions in the light of
another Red Sea of human doubts
and fears through which mankind
must be guided to higher spiritual
ground by the power of divine in-
day conflict to resort to human
means and methods against evil
aggressors, yet the march forward
can be taken safely and with confidence by putting on the breast-
plate of righteousness, the armor of God.

John Randall Dunn, retiring President, also referred to the times as an opportunity to prove that "the healing Christ is here, and that the light of Truth not only banishes the darkness of disease and sin, but can nullify all the hypnotic suggestions of the carnal mind, which seem to be working such mischief among the sons of men."

From the pages of the Scriptures and from the Christian Science textbook, Mr. Dunn cited many passages promising the victory of right over evil in no uncertain terms.

The report of the Board of Lectureship, read by Gavin W. Allan, referred to the recent statement of Winston Churchill, Prime Minister of Great Britain, "Never in the field of human conflict was so much owed by so many to so few," as a perfect phrasing. But lifting this phrasing out of the setting of war, the Board felt that it could apply to Mrs. Eddy and her small group of followers who, a half-century or more ago, worked for the establishment of a vision that sought to bless all mankind.

Today the Board found that the establishment of Christian Science in some countries was being limited by the dictators, that some churches and institutions were being closed and confiscated. "But wherever multitudes of plain people in ordinary, everyday living cherish and practice the truths of their religion," the Board said, "its resurrection is assured."

Arthur W. Eckman, Manager of Committees on Publication, reported that service in the armed forces is bringing many young men closer to Christian Science because of its adaptability to their immediate problems. The radio continues to minister the healing truth to an ever-widening audience, said Mr. Eckman, and is bearing in growing measure the fruitage of physical healings.

The frequent reports of increasing wartime interest in religion as the streams of dependence upon material systems run low were accentuated by the announcement of the Trustees of The Christian Science Publishing Society that the sales of Bibles this year "are the largest in the history of the Publishing Society." Increased circulation of The Christian Science Journal, the Christian Science Sentinel and The Christian Science Monitor was also reported for the last 12 months. Liberature of the Society was said still to be going to many parts of the world, arriving sometimes on delayed schedules, but nevertheless reaching Switzerland, Unoccupied France, Spain, Portugal, all parts of Africa, Australia, New Zealand, India and Ceylon.

The report of the Treasurer for the fiscal year ending April 30, 1942, showed that the finances of The Mother Church were in sound condition, that aside from current bills and accrued taxes there was no indebtedness.

Other reports made to the meeting stressed the theme of greater opportunity in the emergency to base the future peace of the world upon a higher platform of human rights, one dictated by recourse to divine rather than to human intelligence.

West Texas Towns to Name Sponsors for Cowboy Reunion

Stamford, June 8.—Every city and town in West Texas is being invited this week to name a cowgirl sponsor for the Texas Cowboy Reunion to be held here July 2, 3, and 4, according to H. G. Andrews, sponsor chairman.

The cowgirl sponsors again will be a colorful part of the arena shows this year, with the judging taking place at regular performances. Judging will be done this year by the regular rodeo judges. Riding ability of the sponsor will rate 40 per cent in the judging, while her riding toes and equipment will be judged at 15 per cent. The performance of her horse will be considered at 30 per cent, and its confirmation and equipment at 15 per cent.

First place winner will be given a $125 saddle by the Texas Cowboy Reunion, and second place winner will receive a belt with a special ruby-set sterling silver buckle. This prize is being awarded by Holland Jewelry Company of San Angelo. Bits will be awarded for third place and spurs for fourth.

All sponsors must be over 16 years of age and no appointments can be accepted after June 30.

Mrs. G. H. Zachary has been named hostess for this year's show by the Texas Cowboy Reunion. She will be assisted by Annette Carothers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Carothers, in entertaining the visiting sponsors. Miss Carothers was named sponsor for Stamford by the local Chamber of Commerce. Former first prize winners and Miss Carothers are not eligible to compete for prizes.

Sponsors will be honored with a ball in the Sponsors Pavilion on the opening night of the Reunion when only they, their escorts and invited guests will attend. Open dances will be held on the nights of July 3 and 4.

In addition to being part of each regular rodeo performance, the cowgirl sponsors will add a colorful section to the big opening parade on July 2, and will also be a part of the grand entry parade at each show.

Sugar Allowances for War-Time Canning

College Station, June 8.—Homemakers canning fruit this year will save themselves time and trouble if they do some advance preparation before applying to their local rationing board for certificates.

"Be prepared to answer these three questions when you go," advised Winifred Jones, specialist in food preservation for the A. and M. Extension Service: How many quarts of fruit did you can last year? How many quarts of fruit do you plan to can this year? How many quarts of last year's fruit do you still have on hand? Another word of advice: "Keep a record of the fruit you can with your rationed sugar because your rationing board will ask for it when you apply for more sugar."

Answering these questions will be relatively simple for the thousands of rural homemakers who have kept records and filled food preservation budgets as recommended by county home demonstration agents of the Extension Service.

Rural homemakers may stretch their sugar allowances by using thinner syrups for canning fruits and fruit juices and by using corn syrup or honey as substitutes in canning recipes, Miss Jones says. Information on these methods can be obtained from county home demonstration agents. She warns that saccharine, a coal tar product with an extremely sweet taste, cannot be used in canning because it becomes bitter when heated.

Here is the specialist's summary of the rationing regulations as they apply to sugar for canning:

"You will get one pound of sugar for every four quarts of finished fruit you are putting up, and you may can as much fruit as your family needs. You may have an additional pound of sugar for each person in your family to make a small supply of jams, jellies, and fruit butters."

Stamford's cowgirl sponsor for this year's Texas Cowboy Reunion will be attractive Annette Carothers, popular graduate from Stamford High School this spring. She will assist Mrs. G. H. Plant Some Hot Weather Vegetables College Station, June 8.—Sharpen the hoe and plant some hot weather vegetables to come along after the spring garden has burned up or gone to seed, J. F. Rosborough, horticulturist of the A. and M. College Extension Service, advises home gardeners.

Summer leaf lettuce of the Grand Rapids variety will produce young, tender leaves in three or four weeks, he says. Other vegetables which should be planted at this time for a late crop of the best quality are tendergreen mustard and squash. If a larger assortment of summer time eating is desired, plant butter beans, okra, green pepper, eggplant, cream peas and cantaloupes along with them.

If certain spring plantings are not to be repeated, use those spaces for planting hot weather vegetables. For example, English peas may be followed with cream peas, and after white potatoes are dug, use that ground for cream peas also while the soil is well worked up. If plants of green pepper and eggplant are available, use them and thereby hasten production three or four weeks.

Cantaloupe for breakfast, the horticulturist says, has the same place in the diet as tomatoes or oranges, or other fruit juices. The Perfecto variety, which has a tender, highly flavored, salmon-colored flesh, is recommended.

Rosborough reminds that it is good garden practice to give plants which grow into the summer months an extra meal of plant food. For tomato plants apply about a half teaspoonful of fertilizer, like 6-12-6, in a circle 12 or 18 inches away from the plant and mix into the soil about six inches with a hoe.

Watering the more tender vegetables such as lettuce, mustard etc., during hot weather will hasten growth and improve quality.

Cash prizes of $300 and a set of law books were awarded student editors of the Texas Law Review, publication of the University of Texas School of Law. The prizes go to students writing outstanding cases comments for the Review, and to students maintaining highest averages in their classroom work.

Brief Bits of News From Here and There

Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby of Texas, who was recently made director of the new Woman's Auxiliary Army Corps began her active career at the age of 10 when she read the Congressional Record to help her lawyer-father. She graduated from the University of Texas and at 20 was serving as parliamentarian of the Texas legislature and assistant city attorney in Houston. At 26 she married William P. Hobby, a former governor of Texas and publisher of the Houston Post. She took time out from her busy career to have two children. Beginning as a book reviewer she became active on her husband's paper, modernizing its departments and its typographical style. At the same time she codified the state banking laws, took an active interest in politics, wrote a text book and syndicated a column. Since July, Mrs. Hobby has been selling the Army to women as head of the Women's Interest Division of the Army's Public Relations Bureau. For months previous to her being sworn in as director Mrs. Hobby has been working out the set-up for the women's division. She will begin the training of 400 officers for eight weeks. At the end of this time 12,000 privates will be taken in. The Army expects to reach a total of 150,000 by 1943. Its members will be trained for noncombatant duties at home and abroad such as messengers, clerks, etc. According to plans worked out by Mrs. Hobby, the group will consist of women aged from 21 to 45, selected for leadership, character, personality, appearance, bearing, experience and adaptability. They will not bear arms, will be taught to march and will be disciplined for breaking rules. The traditions and policies of the Army, the directors say, will be maintained.

LESTER BOONE

Pledging himself to "an all-out war effort," Lester Boone, Fort Worth Representative, has formally announced his candidacy for the Texas Railroad Commission, and called attention to the fact that it was one of Texas' most vital factors in the war effort. He further pledged in his announcement to attend all commission meetings.

Boone, who is now serving in the Texas Legislature from Fort Worth, sponsored the Omnibus Tax Bill which made possible the payment of old age pensions, teachers retirement pay, aid to the blind, and aid to crippled and dependent children. As a member of the House Military Affairs Committee, he aided in the passage of the Texas Defense Guard Bill, which became a law, thereby giving Texas greater security in the present crisis.

"I pledge an administration of harmony and will cooperate with other members of the commission," Boone said in his announcement. "I pledge myself to an all-out war effort in this vital department of State Government and will attend all commission meetings."
