99 Pounds Scrap Rubber Collected Foard County From June 15 Until July 10th; Drive to Be Continued

Though 58,899 pounds of scrap rubber were collected in Foard County from June 15 to July 10, it is believed by officials in charge of the campaign that is a tremendous quantity available and the drive will continue indefinitely. The amount of scrap rubber collected during the period ended on July 10, according to Judge Leslie, is as follows: Brown Filling Station, 5,899 pounds; Magnolia Filling Station, Crowell, 9,041 pounds; B. G. Davis, Conoco dealer, Crowell, 7,590 pounds; Carroll's Station, Vivian, 1,530 pounds; Texaco Stations, Crowell, 10,660 pounds; Crowell Service Station, Gulf dealer, Crowell, 15,000 pounds; Rayland, L. 300 pounds.

There seems to be a good deal of doubt in the minds not only of the public, but also of our salvage committees and the scrap rubber dealers, as to whether or not all collections of scrap rubber will be permanent. The amount of scrap rubber collected during the period ended on July 10, at the end of the present campaign.

Elect Claude Callaway As Your State Representative

To the Readers of The Foard County News:

As a last means of contact with the voters of the 114th Legislative District, consisting of Hardeman, Knox, King and Foard Counties, before the election on next Saturday, I desire to say that, as much as I regret not having been able to personally see and talk to each person, I feel that each one who has given thought to the real conditions and to the real reasons for the fact that I have not seen each one, I am willing to leave the issue with you. It would have been a pleasure to meet and greet every person, but, I am sure you appreciate the things I have tried to do in the last number of weeks more than you would have a personal handshake, with the pressing duties, due to the prevailing conditions, left undone.

Please know that I, if elected to the important position of Representative, shall apply my every ability to the responsibilities of the office and pledge myself to do everything within my power to get the job done as I conscientiously think you would like to have it done. If the trust is placed in me to the extent that I am elected, I assure you that I will do my best to merit that trust.

Now, as a closing word, I want to say that I appreciate, from the bottom of my heart, the kindnesses which have been bestowed upon me by my friends in the way of interest and encouragement. And, if, on Saturday, you see fit to cast your vote for me, I shall be doubly grateful.

To the Voters of Foard County:

Due to the fact that the duties of the County Clerk's office have been increased since the recent disaster and in order to conserve rubber, I will not have time to make a thorough canvas of the County in the interest of my candidacy for County and District Clerk, so I am asking you, through the medium of The Foard County News, for your support and vote.

I am making an effort to see as many of the voters as my limited time will permit and personally solicit their vote, but should I not personally contact you, I would like for you to take this as a personal solicitation.

During the time that I have been in this office I have honestly endeavored to render courteous and efficient service. On this record I am asking for your vote for another term and promise you the same prompt and courteous service that you have received in the past.

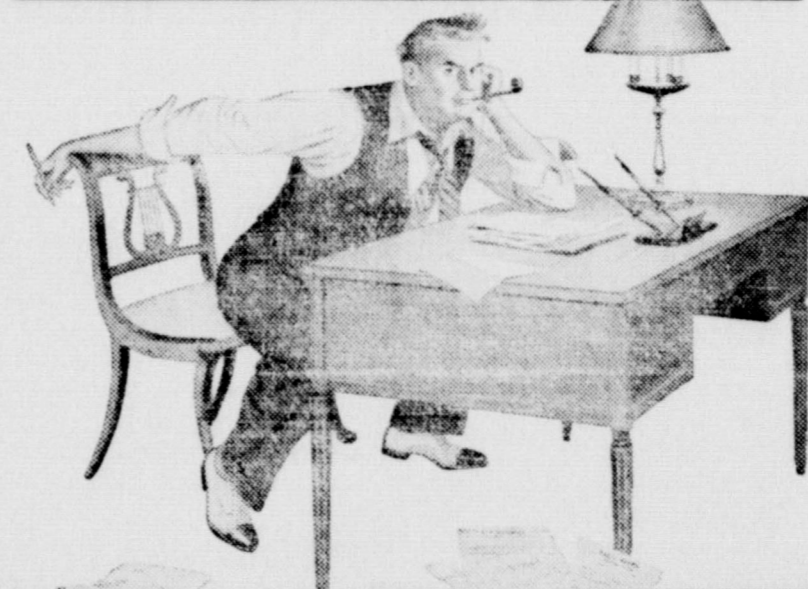

Thanking you for your past support and earnestly soliciting your vote in the primary, July 25, I am,

Sincerely,

When we get this war out of the way and are faced with the problem of paying for it the first thing that the government should do is to plan on eliminating a lot of costly practices that have grown up in the last ten years.

The Chamber of Commerce which a few years ago spent an evening session debating on whether or not the hitchhacks should be removed from the business section are now holding the same kind of session in regard to putting them back.

What We Think (By Frank Dixon)

The Ways and Means committee has reported to the House of Representatives a revenue bill which will raise approximately $6,000,000,000 or $2,000,000,000 less than the amount asked for by the Treasury.

I do not make this prediction because I personally desire a sales tax for myself or others but because I believe that it offers the only plan by which everyone can share in the cost of the defense program.

The most potent argument in my opinion for the sales tax is the claim of the administration that it desires to prevent inflation by draining off the excess earnings, that they may not enter into buying competition on a market which it is well known is going to be undersupplied.

The tax bill, as it comes out of the committee, lays the burden on a competitive few. I am not contending that these should not be taxed. They should be taxed to the economic limit.

Brief Bits of News From Here and There

One of the rays of hope offered to civilians whose tires are becoming thin is to be found in Thiokol, an elastic plastic made by the Dow Chemical Co.

It requires 10 hours to convert used tires and scrap rubber into usable rubber. One hundred pounds of crude rubber can be reclaimed from 140 pounds of inner tubing, 165 pounds of bathing caps and shoes or 175 pounds of hot water bags.

What then remains? Courage, and patience, and simplicity, and kindness, and, last of all, ideas remain; these are the things to lay hold of and live with.—A. C. Benson.

desires to curb inflation it is going to have to reach out and collect from the mass a share of its spending power. If this isn't done it must be obvious that price control cannot be maintained nor inflation prevented.

To The Voters of Foard County:
When I announced for the office of District and County Clerk, I fully intended to make a county-wide campaign. But later, as we all see the imminent danger to the nation if tire shortage should occur, and being a real American, I want to make every essential sacrifice to win this war. So, with the restrictions on tires and being in the cyclone, have made it impossible for me to see each of you personally.
I feel that I am qualified in every respect to execute the duties of this office. I came to Foard County in 1908 and have lived here since. I graduated from Crowell High School and have had two years of college work at the North Texas State Teachers' College in Denton. I have taught school six years in Foard County and worked one year in the county judge's office.
If I am elected your next District and County Clerk, I will do my utmost to serve you right at all times.
I earnestly ask that each of you accept this as my personal solicitation of your vote and influence in the July 25th election.

To the Voters of Foard County:
In making the race for Sheriff, Tax Assessor and Collector for Foard County, I have tried to make a complete canvas of the county and to meet each voter personally. This has been a stupendous undertaking and, should I have missed anyone, please do not think it was done intentionally and I am asking here that you consider this a personal solicitation for your support on Saturday.
In my dealings with the general public for the past twenty years, I have learned that they appreciate, above all things, fair and impartial treatment in every respect. This requires the co-operation of the officials with the law-abiding citizens of the county. I believe that an officer of the law should make an effort to prevent crime rather than to wait until crime is committed and taken to court at the expense of the taxpayers. This means that the Sheriff must be alert and on the job at all times in order to prevent as well as to detect crime.
When you cast your vote Saturday, please consider my qualifications and my attitude toward the duties of this very important office.
I wish to express my thanks for the encouragement and kindness shown to me during the campaign in this strenuous time.

A WEEK of the WAR

War Production Chairman Nelson, speaking in Detroit, said the U. S. will hit the "real" peak of its war production program by next March. Mr. Nelson said "Our ability to produce is much greater than any one dreamed. The armament objectives as announced by President Roosevelt last winter—and which seemed too vast at the time—will be readily realized. Our productive capacity is apparently limited only by the raw materials available.

"The engineering genius of American production, when turned from peace to war, has proved a reservoir no one could gauge," Mr. Nelson said. "When American men and machines stopped competing with each other and turned all their competitive energy and abilities against Hitler and Hirohito, it knocked all previous calculations of our productive powers into a cocked hat. . . . The real problem now is not one of production. It is the problem of a better distribution of the materials from which war production springs."

Chairman Nelson said "At all costs—we must not get into the frame of mind that this is either an easy or a short job. If people build on false hopes of an easy victory or a short war, then they are certain to feel let down when the bad days come, as come they will. . . ."

Production and Subcontracting

WPA Chairman Nelson announced a "realignment" of the Board to permit him to devote his time to essential allocation policies between the needs of the Armed Forces and the civilian economy. He said essential civilian needs, such as those for the communications and transportation systems, must be met. The civilian economy, though "thin," must be kept healthy, he said. William L. Batt and James S. Knowlton were named Vice Chairmen of the Board.

Lou E. Holland, formerly President of the Double Rotary Sprinkler Corporation, of Kansas City, Mo., was appointed WPA Deputy Chairman in charge of the smaller War Plants Corporation.

Chairman Nelson said the Corporation should attempt to confine the manufacture of relatively simple war items to smaller factories, increase the farming out of manufacture of bits and pieces by large corporations which hold prime contracts, and encourage conversion of additional small plants to essential civilian production. The WPB estimated, however, that 24,000 small manufacturers whose annual sales three years ago amounted to $4 billion, will be forced to close before October 1 because of inability to convert to war or essential civilian production.

The WPB said expenditures for war purposes by U. S. Government agencies in June were at the average daily rate of $158 million, 6 per cent higher than in May. Congressional war appropriations to date total more than $225 billion, the Board said, but the U. S. actually has spent less than $40 billion. The WPB Bureau of Finance obtained $62 million in the form of loans or advances on payments for war materials for almost 400 manufacturers in June. During the past six weeks, the Army Signal Corps has given final acceptance each day to more than $2 million worth of radio and communications equipment, and awarded contracts for $1 billion worth of additional apparatus.

Labor Supply

Persons who desire jobs in plants working on secret or confidential Government contracts will no longer be required to turn in birth certificates to prove American citizenship, the War Manpower Commission announced. The WPB Labor Division said the aircraft industry will require more than 1,500,000 workers by the end of 1943. A total of almost 20 million persons will be drawn into war production and service in the Armed Forces during this year and next, the WMC reported. Consequently, employers can no longer afford to set arbitrary age limits or discriminate against workers because of sex, race or nationality, the Commission stated. The WMC said the United Electrical Radio and Machine Workers of America (U. E. R. M. W. A.) is conducting a drive in 40 war production plants to encourage hiring and upgrading of Negroes and workers in other minority groups.

Rationing

The OPA said about 8 million Eastern motorists have received basic permanent rationing coupon books. Congressmen, members of State and local legislatures and other Government officials will be eligible for "special rations" for use in legislative or official business, and bona fide political candidates may have extra rations for travel necessary to the prosecution of their candidacies, the Office said. Special rations will also be issued for travel to obtain medical service, to demonstrate cars or boats for sale, to transport equipment and personnel of scientific expeditions and to operate a vehicle in tests essential to the war effort. The Office ruled newspaper reporters and photographers will be eligible for supplementary rations up to a quantity sufficient to permit 470 miles of occupational driving a month if they can meet car pooling provisions. Increased monthly gasoline quotas will be given stations servicing war workers. The WPB granted OPA authority to require filling station operators to submit coupons or other evidence that rationing regulations are being complied with, when gasoline is delivered to their stations. The OPA said local rationing boards may refuse to issue new tires to eligible motorists if an Inspector's report shows the purchaser has abused his old tires. The "bonus" sugar stamp, number Seven in War Ration Book No. 1, may be exchanged for two pounds of sugar until midnight August 22.

The War Front

Recent Far Eastern events indicate "the turning point in air operations has been reached and the Japanese are now more on the defensive whereas the American Air Forces are on the offensive," U. S. Army Air Forces Headquarters in China reported. U. S. submarines within two days sank or destroyed five Japanese destroyers in the Aleutians, the Navy said. The War Department said American troops are now stationed at Port Moresby, Allied base in New Guinea. The Department also announced that U. S. crews, manning American-made medium tanks, knocked out a number of German tanks in the battle of Ibiya in mid-June without any losses of their own personnel. Gen. MacArthur reported more Allied raids on numerous enemy bases in the Southwest Pacific.

The Navy announced the torpedoing by Axis submarines of 16 additional United Nations merchant vessels.

War Information

Director Elmer Davis of the Office of War Information issued OWI Regulation Number One, stating "the Federal Government will issue as promptly as possible all news and background information essential to a clear understanding of this Nation's war effort. . . . The impact of the war on all phases of American life will be reported. So will the cooperative efforts of the United Nations. Only information which would give aid and comfort to the enemy will be withheld." Mr.

Davis established three major branches under himself and OWI Associate Director M. S. Eisenhower, with an Assistant Director for each branch. Gardner Cowles Jr., president of the Des Moines Register and Tribune and president of Look magazine, was placed in charge of Domestic Information Operations; Robert Sherwood, in charge of Overseas Information Operations; and Archibald MacLeish, Policy Development.

The Armed Forces

The Army Specialist Corps, with 190,000 applications for membership, will enlist more than 11,000 men during the rest of this year, the War Department said. WAAC Director Hobby reported two of the first eight WAAC companies will consist of Negro women, commanded by Negro women, who will attend the first WAAC Officer Candidate School. President Roosevelt signed a bill authorizing $8,500 million in new naval warship construction with emphasis on aircraft carriers. The Marine Corps said it is now promoting competent noncommissioned officers in the field to meet needs for additional officers.

Sabotage

Major Gen. Frank R. McCoy, head of the Military Commission convened by President Roosevelt to try the eight German saboteurs landed in the U. S. by submarine said the great volume of evidence to be introduced is expected to prolong the trial. The Commission granted permission to the Army Signal Corps to make photographs and silent pictures of a trial scene in the Justice Department Building in Washington.

We can do without Japan's silk with no serious consequences. We can carry on normally much more easily without Japan's silk than Japan can carry on without our market for her silk. Already, we have worthy American substitutes for this major Nipponese export product.

It is our task now to defeat Japan, to prevent her from overpowering us and taking our democracy away from us, along with all the other fine things that we have to enjoy here in America. To wrest from us the things that have made America great—free speech, free thought, free opportunity, free religious worship—is the aim of Japan and her power-mad partners.

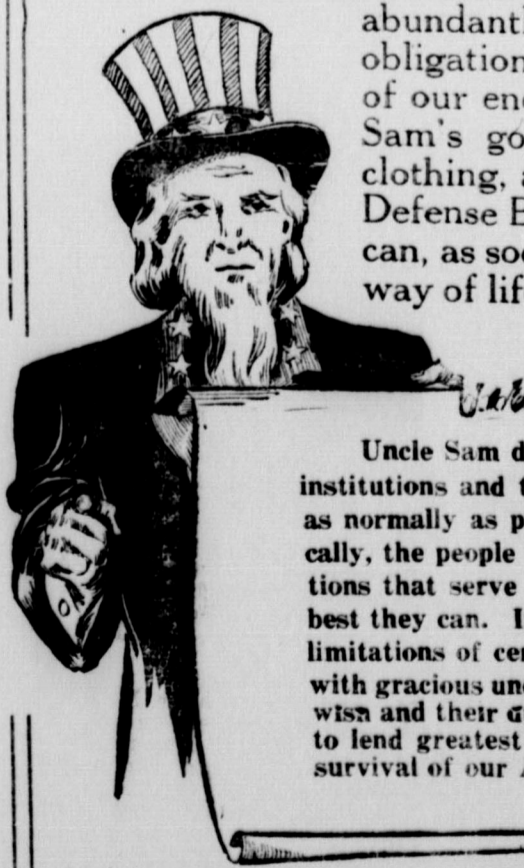

They seek to destroy our way of life, our homes, our churches, our schools . . . to place a yoke around our necks . . . to enslave us. We must not permit an Axis victory. Our way of life must survive.

Whipping Japan and her partners is a job for all of us. The duty of every American citizen is well defined, clear-cut. Our armed forces are fighting with traditional courage and determination. They are making sacrifices to void our enemies' designs.

Any sacrifice that we make, as civilians, is trivial compared to what these hard fighting men are doing. They are risking their lives that we may remain free people . . . that our American way of life may survive.

We owe it to these brave, self-sacrificing men up front on the battle lines to keep them armed, fed, and clothed abundantly. We must work hard to fulfill our obligation to them. We must use every ounce of our energy to contribute our share to Uncle Sam's goal of adequate production of food, clothing, arms, and ammunition. We must buy Defense Bonds and Stamps, all that we possibly can, as soon as we possibly can. Our American way of life must survive.

Uncle Sam desires that the retail merchants, the service institutions and the professional men of our nation carry on as normally as possible, considering that we are at war. Locally, the people who man and manage the firms and institutions that serve you are doing all they can to serve you the best they can. If war has forced certain restrictions or made limitations of certain services mandatory, accept the changes with gracious understanding, remembering that it is both their wish and their duty to adopt those business practices designed to lend greatest help in the battle to insure victory and the survival of our American way of life.

30 YEARS AGO IN THE NEWS

The following items were taken in whole or in part from the issues of The News, July 12, and July 19, 1912.

One of Thalia's most charming young girls, Hester Longley, and Leslie Hammonds, a promising young farmer at Thalia, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The bridal party came to Crowell and had Bro. Billington to officiate. In the evening they assembled at the home of the bride where a delicious supper was served.

At the Orient Lake about four miles from Crowell, D. D. Darling was drowned Tuesday evening about sundown. Quite a crowd was at the lake in bathing and Mr. Darling being a good swimmer, had been in quite a while and was in water ten feet deep when he drowned. It is supposed that he took cramps and there was no one near him to render assistance. Carl Thacker, noticing that he was in trouble, jumped from the bank and rushed to his rescue, but it being quite a distance, he had gone down the last time before Carl could get to him. The body was shipped to Dallas for burial. Mr. Darling was a drug salesman.

Foard City is preparing to pull off one of the biggest times of the season. The city is making preparations to entertain an immense crowd at that time, and everyone has a most cordial invitation to be present and participate in the pleasure and enjoy a day of real fun and amusement. The day set is the 29th, tomorrow, week, Saturday.

This is to notify all shareholders in the Crowell Oil and Gas Co. who are in arrears on their notes to call at their respective banks and settle the same. The well is nearing completion and it is imperative necessary that the proposition be closed up, or call on me at my office at the court house.—J. G. Witherspoon.

Rev. John E. Eldridge, assisted by Dr. A. L. Moore of Vernon, began a meeting at Margaret last night.

Miss Nora Banister and her mother are visiting friends at Chalk this week.

Miss Ruth Henry of Huntsdale, Mo., is here on a visit to her brother, Mark.

Hunter Lanier and family left Friday for the coast where they go for a few weeks outing.

Miss Allie Tuttle returned yesterday from Clarendon where she had been attending the normal.

Capt. Claude A. Adams left Sunday for Fort Worth and other points for a stay of several weeks.

Jack Britt has gone to Texarkana where he will spend the summer working in a dry goods store.

Mrs. E. W. Muse returned Monday from Plano where she had been visiting for several weeks.

Mrs. J. W. Klepper and Mrs. Geo. Burks went to Chillicothe yesterday to attend a meeting of the Eastern Star.

Joe Johnson of Chillicothe is moving to Crowell this week, and will occupy the residence which he purchased from Herman Allison. We are glad to have Mr. Johnson for one of our citizens.

Shelby Strickland and Marion Hughston came near having a serious accident yesterday morning. They were driving a pair of mules to Massie-Vernon delivery wagon and the mules became unruly and ran into a telephone post a few feet from the printing office, throwing Shelby and Marion out in front, with no injuries, however, except a little sprain to Shelby's ankle, which was not at all serious. The double tree, tongue and breast yoke were broken.

W. B. McCormick returned from Dallas Wednesday where he and J. R. Beverly had gone, accompanying the remains of D. D. Darling. Russell returned Saturday.

has been collected by the local meat markets, I should like to be advised so that they can be given full opportunity to participate in this patriotic proposition.

"Since most of the counties do not have any rendering concerns, I felt that you would be glad to be advised that these local concerns have agreed to buy this material at the rate of 5 cents per pound from any and all markets, and they will proceed to try to work out routes so that they can come to each town periodically—say once a week—and pick up what all the butchers may have accumulated. The butcher is expected to pay the housewife 4 cents under this plan. This is not intended to be exclusive in any manner, and any and every body who wants to buy this fat is welcome to participate. Our only motive is to be sure that a market will be found after the material has been saved by the housewife and taken to her butcher so the butcher may feel safe in paying out his cash for it.
