As the British Attack Rommel

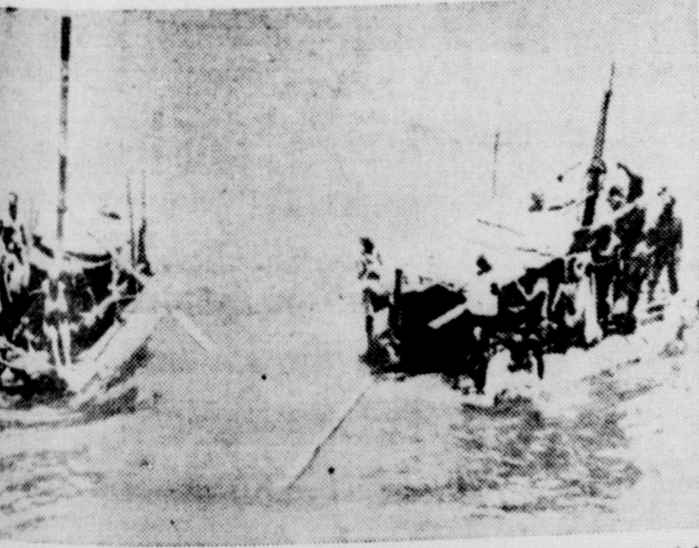

A haze of desert dust raised by advancing tanks and the dry wind of the desert furnishes a grit-laden screen which half obscures men and tanks of British Scots guards as they advance to attack Field Marshal Rommel's Afrika Korps on the El Alamein front in Egypt. The desert dust often hinders both Axis and Allied air operations.

U. S. Buries Enemy Seamen

Burial with full military honors at the National cemetery in Hampton, Va. was accorded to 29 crewmen of a Nazi submarine which was sunk in an American destroyer following a running fight. The bodies of the Germans were recovered and brought to the naval operating base Norfolk.

Yankee Ingenuity Helps Save 18

Two raft loads of survivors from an American freighter torpedoed in the Atlantic approach a rescue vessel. Note the rough shelters on the rafts. When their vessel went down, the 18 men paddled amidst the wreckage, making up bits of board, canvas and paper to construct the canopies which protected them from the sun's hot rays during their 19 days adrift.

Cemetery Funds Report Made by Mrs. N. J. Roberts

"The last report of the cemetery funds was made about the middle of February and since that time the following contributions have been received for the upkeep of the cemetery," says Mrs. N. J. Roberts, president of the Crowell Cemetery Association.

J. S. Owens	$2.50
J. E. Langford	1.00
Mrs. R. T. Owens	1.00
A Friend	5.00
Mrs. Willis Pinkerton (Charlie)	5.00
J. K. McBeath	2.00
Mrs. Cressie Irwin	2.00
Howard Ringgold	2.00
Mrs. T. W. Cooper	1.00
C. L. Nicholson	1.00

"Thus about enough money is in the bank to keep the sexton a month, and, if there are those who have been planning to help carry on the cemetery work and have neglected to do so, please remember that we do not operate the work of the upkeep on a credit, when the funds are exhausted, we quit work."

She further reports the latest gifts for the house which, it was hoped, would have been completed by this time. Owing to the priorities, it has been impossible to begin the building.

Navy Recruiting Officers to Be at Self Motor Aug. 7

Friday, Aug. 7, will be Navy Day in Crowell and a party of recruiting officers from Wichita Falls headed by Jack H. Cravens, chief specialist recruiter for the United States Navy, will be in Crowell from 9:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. to interview all prospective applicants for enlistment in the Navy. Office space in the show room of Self Motor Co. has been reserved for the recruiting party by George Self, manager.

"The Navy needs the help of stout hearted men to win this war," Mr. Cravens says, "and never in all history has the call for defenders of freedom been so urgent as at this moment. All the warships, all the fighting planes America can produce, count for nothing without the men to man them. Skilled men who know their jobs. Fighting men who want action. Patriots who love their country, and serve it as true Americans should," he continued. "Even though you have received your orders to report for induction under Selective Service, you may still volunteer for the Navy right up to the moment of your induction," Mr. Cravens further stated.

At the End of 3 Months Crowell Has Made Great Strides in Repairing and Rebuilding Homes and Institutions

With the repair of Foard County's Court House nearing completion and the many homes that have either been repaired or rebuilt, the people of Crowell have made greater progress in rebuilding the town since its destruction by a tornado on April 28, than the most optimistic person could begin to visualize. More has been done during this time than it was expected could be done within six months. Repair of buildings around the square was started first and the work carried on to a speedy finish until now the business section of the town presents a clean and far different appearance than it did several weeks ago.

Morning services are held at 11 a. m. and the evening services are being held at 9 o'clock at the side of the church. The boys and girls booster band meets at 8:30 in the evening.

Everybody is invited to attend these services. Rev. T. J. DuBose, pastor, announced this week.

First Services to Be Held in New Church Building Next Sunday

The East Side Church of Christ has completed its new building to replace the one which was blown down by the storm in April and the new church building is now ready for occupancy. The building is somewhat larger and more commodious than the former one and is new and attractive throughout.

On next Sunday, August 9, the first service will be held in the new church, with Bible Study at 10 o'clock and preaching at 11 o'clock hour with Bro. Roy Caruth of Vernon delivering the sermon.

Dinner will be served at the noon hour and the afternoon will be devoted to singing and a get-together. Again, in the evening, preaching services will be held and every one is cordially invited to attend all the services of the day.

Norway Lend-Lease

In this soundphoto, Norway's Ambassador Wilhelm Mogenstjerne and Secretary of State Cordell Hull are shown signing the lease-lend agreement between the United States and Norway. Through the terms of this agreement Norway will receive substantial aid in the maintenance of her merchant marine, which is the fourth largest in the world.

Crowell State Bank building will be completed within a few weeks and will furnish office space for three more business firms. The building formerly occupied by the Reeder Drug, Odd Fellows Lodge and Dr. Hines Clark's office, has been torn down to a one-story building and the work of repairing it for occupancy is now under way. The old Bank of Crowell building has been reduced to a one-story building, but whether or not it will be restored for use as a one-story business building, has not been announced.

One of the gins belonging to the Farmers Co-Operative Society of Crowell, which was destroyed by the wind, will not be replaced this season, although a new sheet iron building for a seed house has been constructed and other repair work done in preparation for the ginning season. The gin plant of the Crowell Gin has been rebuilt and is ready for the fall ginning operations.

Repair work at the Farmers Elevator, Self Grain Company and Foard County Mill was completed in time to take care of the grain crop. The Farmers Elevator Association lost one elevator which has not been replaced.

The Phillips 66 Filling Station belonging to Roy Barker and operated by George Canup has been rebuilt and Mr. and Mrs. Canup are making their home there now as they sit before the storm.

The big, brick building, home of Seaman's Garage one block south of the square, was considerably damaged but was repaired immediately and the business has been operating under normal conditions.

Electric and telephone lines, which were totally wrecked in the town, have been replaced and electric service is now available to all who need it. It was restored to the business section of town within a short time following the storm. In the main, telephone service has been restored. All business houses have telephones and most of the homes, however, construction work will not be completed until next week. When this work is finished, no doubt all residences desiring telephone service will get it.

Many new homes have been built to replace houses that were blown down and are now being occupied by the families who own them. A large number of homes that were unroofed and did not suffer much other damage have been repaired and occupied. Yet there are a great many new homes that are in various stages of construction, some almost completed and others just started. Crowell people who were deprived of their homes and have lived under abnormal conditions, are more than anxious to get moved home, and many of them have already been allowed that privilege.

A new brick veneer parsonage has been completed by members of the Baptist Church for their pastor, Rev. W. B. Fitzgerald, and family. Brick used in the construction of the parsonage was salvaged from the church building which was demolished. Plans are now underway for the construction of a new church.

The new church building for the East Side Church of Christ will be completed this week and the first service held there Sunday. Repair work and the construction of an addition to the First Christian Church was completed several weeks ago.

The work of repairing, remodeling and redecorating of the Methodist Church has been completed. The memorial windows were taken out and cleaned and those that were broken replaced. Changes were made in the partitions in the basement in order to better accommodate the work of the Sunday School.

Although the buildings of the Crowell School plant were not severely damaged, repair work has been going on all summer and the buildings will be ready for school to start on Sept. 7.

The Premier Hotel, unroofed and badly damaged, has been completely repaired. Repair work on the City Hotel has been completed. The badly damaged Loyd Hotel, frame building, has been torn down and the lumber sold.

The two lumber yards of Crowell, Wm. Cameron & Co. and Cicero Smith Lumber Co., both badly damaged, have performed a miraculous service to the community by quickly repairing their own damage and furnishing material for the reconstruction of the town.

In our opinion the democracies of the world and the cause of liberty owes to Russia a debt they can never really pay.

The government is urging all those who burn coal to buy coal now. A few months from now it will be difficult to secure coal because shipping will be tied up.

MAKING MILK

College Station, August 6.—The blood circulation of a dairy cow is a primary factor in the milk she gives.

Most milkers have noticed upon sitting down that the udder did not appear to be full. Soon, however, it filled up because "the cow let down her milk."

Tire Manufacturing Industry Presents Civilian Tire Plan

Washington, July 21.—Based upon the reduction of all automobile driving to a maximum of 40 miles per hour and car mileage to 40 per cent below the 1941 level on a national average, a plan to cope with the civilian tire problem was presented to officials of the government by the tire manufacturing industry here today.

The blueprint was outlined in a report of the committee of the directors of the Rubber Manufacturers' Association for passenger car transportation, and was presented visually in a display at the Hotel Willard of materials and data involved in the plan.

The display, based on the facts that 89 per cent of the world's crude rubber sources are lost to the United Nations, and 7 per cent more threatened by the Japanese, was set up to show what could be done to make the best of an admittedly bad situation, it was explained.

Invitations to view the exhibit today had been extended to President Roosevelt, Vice President Wallace, Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones, Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes, and other members of the Cabinet, members of Congress, WPB Director Donald Nelson, OPA Administrator Leon Henderson, Rubber Administrator Arthur Newhall, and other prominent government officials.

Efforts of the government and the public have thus far resulted in an estimated reduction of 25 per cent in the use of passenger cars, it was stated. However, in order to maintain necessary transportation a further reduction of 15 per cent, to a total of at least 40 per cent, would be necessary.

The industry's proposal is a picture of what might be accomplished if minimum requirements of reclaimed rubber and other substitutes for rubber not major factors in the supply picture for military and vital civilian needs, can be made available.

Industry leaders stressed the fact that the plan would leave for military and non-tire civilian requirements nearly all of the nation's crude rubber supplies, over 85 per cent of all reclaim producing capacity, all the Buna S and Neoprene synthetic rubber capacity now scheduled for the interior.

This new class, representing almost 23,000,000 cars, would be able to get new or recapped tires made of reclaimed rubber or of such materials as thiokol or butyl, production of which is being increased, it was explained.

As at present, recapping would be compulsory for all applicants regardless of which group they fall in, except where old tires cannot be recapped and where no recapped tires or recappable carcasses are available for purchase.

The plan would require for the two-year period: (a) 30,291,000 recaps (reclaim, thiokol, or butyl).

These replacements would take care of the tire needs of the passenger cars that will be in good mechanical condition during the next twenty-four months, it was explained.

The industry committee said it would continue to meet frequently. It will formulate specific recommendations regarding the passenger car transportation problem during and after the period covered by the present plan.

Raw materials needed to carry out the plan for the two-year period would be: (a) 97,420 long tons of reclaimed rubber.

Since each recipient of a new tire under the program would be required to turn in a used tire for scrap, a substantial amount of additional scrap would be collected for reclaiming.

The tonnage requirements for the plan, spokesmen said, were developed on the assumption that 75 per cent of anticipated thiokol and butyl production will be made available for passenger tire use. If more than 75 per cent is released, or if expansion of projected capacities occurs, thiokol can be substituted for the stated requirements of reclaimed rubber, on the basis of 100 tons of thiokol for each 80 tons of reclaim. Likewise butyl can be substituted in the ration of 100 tons

Doughboys in Guatemalan Parade

United States soldiers, some afoot and some riding in jeeps, are shown as they participated in the big parade that marked the celebration of the anniversary of the 1871 revolution in Guatemala City. The United States now has bases in Guatemala, which is allied with the United Nations against the Axis powers.

What We Think (By Frank Dixon)

Perhaps the most common warning or appeal to American people since the entry of the country into the war has been that of the necessity of sacrifice on the part of everyone if the war is to be won.

It has been held up to the American people that it was their duty to sacrifice, to give up many things, to repair, and to keep on repairing, their machinery and their clothing, that there might be more for the war machine.

With the press and radio filled with stories of daring and heroism and sacrifice of our men on the battle front, there has come a feeling generally throughout the country that it is right and desirable and patriotic to make sacrifices, to give up many things and to do without that the individual in every cross roads, town and village, and hamlet throughout the land may know and feel what sacrifice means, may have a definite consciousness of giving up something to the country in its struggle against the enemy.

It is most unfortunate that in the midst of the program a discordant note of greed and heedless lack of patriotism should be injected.

I refer specifically to the cases recently brought to light wherein a certain sales engineer made a profit of $431,464 in 18 months for securing war contracts from the government for his clients.

The deplorable moral obtuseness of this practice is too reprehensible at a time like this to permit of dignified discussion. No terms of condemnation could be half severe enough to approach justice in such a case.

The proposed plan for meeting passenger car tire requirements is the result of exhaustive technical research and statistical analysis by the industry's technical men, executives, and statisticians, it was explained.

The premise on which the industry's plan is based is that all passenger automobiles represent necessary transportation to a greater or less degree, it was emphasized, and that there is no available substitute for much of this transportation if cars are laid up.

"Passenger car mileage can be materially reduced without undue hardship," the committee's report said, "and without throwing additional strain on public transportation. The sound viewpoint is not out of removing cars from the road but rather of keeping cars operating with mileage reduced strictly to essential usage."

"Every car-owning family may unexpectedly face an emergency requiring the use of its car," it was pointed out, "especially in war time. We believe the American people will co-operate by adopting rock bottom war time driving habits so that every family can be assured of this two year insurance policy against the jacking-up of cars."

"Furthermore, each car owner must realize that non-compliance by his neighbor with the conditions of such a plan may make it impossible for himself to get tires. This will help to create a self-enforcing public spirit."

"The industry believes that this blueprint points the way to guaranteeing maintenance of efficient war effort on the home front."

"But it can be put into effect only if the needed materials can be spared without jeopardizing the supply of necessities for the fighting forces."

"It can succeed only if the public wholeheartedly observes three 'musts.' They are: slower speeds, reduced total mileage, and maximum care of tires in service," the committee reports concluded.

Brief Bits of News From Here and There

When one buys a new $5 automobile use stamp no record is made of it. It is not even listed. If the stamp is stolen the owner has no recourse but to buy another. It is beginning to appear to car owners that system of receipts showing that the stamp purchase has been made would have been more fair to the car owner and perhaps more business like on the part of the government.

The complacency of many in this country was jarred when the F. B. I. picked up a group of eight Nazi saboteurs completely equipped to wage a program of destruction among the defense plants of the United States. It will further add to the concern of many to know that there are more than 20,000 members of the Bund scattered throughout this country, many of them holding jobs in war industries and positions of great responsibility. In one aircraft factory 40 key men were removed at one time. Some of them have been trained at least five years in technical sabotage. Under the new plan Bundists are trained first as good workmen. Having become skilled in their trades they find their way into important positions in American plants where they are in a position to carry out the orders of Hitler.

Perhaps the largest collection of match book covers by any hobbyist in this country is in the possession of Roy Beck of Livermore, Calif., who has a total of 27,772 different covers. Starting in a small way, Mr. Beck's collection has grown on an average of more than 650 a month during the past year or more. Sixty-seven books are now required to hold the collection which increased by 7,772 during 1941. An interesting feature of Mr. Beck's collection is the complete presidential series of thirty-two covers. Many recent additions are from Livermore men now in military camps widely scattered throughout the United States. Another interesting addition to the collection was secured when a building was wrecked and a number of covers about twenty-five years old were discovered. Mr. Beck's collection is widely known and he receives hundreds of voluntary contributions to it from all parts of the country.

Attention is being called to coal users throughout the country of the necessity of laying in the winter's supply of coal during the summer months. Coal will be difficult, if not impossible, to secure next winter. There are several reasons for this. One is that transportation will not be available. Another is that many cities in seventeen coast states will have to convert their heating plants from oil to coal. These cities normally use 1,600,000 barrels of fuel oil a day. The bottleneck is expected in October. That means that coal users are going to have to lay in their coal within the next sixty days, or according to Co-ordinator Ickes take chances of being cold next winter.

Mohandas Gandhi married a girl of ten. At the age of 15 he was a father. He is a vegetarian and except for goats milk, he eats dates, fruit and vegetables. Each week he spends 24 hours in silence, from 7 p. m. Sunday to 7 p. m. Monday. He sleeps but four hours nightly. His day is so crowded with conferences that he even receives visitors in his bath. On two occasions he fasted for 21 days against conditions that he regarded as evil morally or politically. Gandhi is 72 years old and weighs less than 100 pounds. He is very active. Recently he has developed high blood pressure.

The question of how much it costs to rear a child is answered by Louise Derer, an exbookkeeper of Chicago. Mrs. Derer has kept accurate records on her daughter, Sharon. Every item of expense, food, medicine, clothing is kept careful account of by the mother. Up to her third birthday, July 6, Sharon had cost her parents a total of $779.16, or an average of $259.72 a year. The cost the first year was $225.05, the second year $270.17 and the third year $283.94.

The island of Malta in the Mediterranean which has been referred to as the most bombed spot on earth has an area of 95 square miles and a normal population of 200,000. It was annexed to Great Britain in 1814 at the request of the people of the island. The products of the island are agriculture and industrial and include fruit, cotton, lace, and filigee. Fishing and stock raising are also carried on. Malta is the largest of the group forming the British colony of Malta which includes the islands of Malta, Goza and Comine. It is the principal British naval base in the Mediterranean. The automobile industry is now turning out $12,000,000 worth of war goods each day. This will be considerably increased. Approximately 40 per cent of the area of Texas is excellently adapted to natural wildlife preservation because of good natural cover, plentiful water and sparse population.

JOINT RESOLUTION

Resolving an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding a new section 49a, requiring all bills introduced by the Legislature on and after January 1, 1945, appropriate for any purpose, to be referred to the Comptroller of Public Accounts for his approval, and to the duties of the Comptroller with reference to preparing the Legislature to providing for the issuance, sale and payment of the total outstanding principal and approved obligations of the State of Texas...

IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

That Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding a new section 49a, to be known as Section 49a, to read as follows:

Section 49a. It shall be the duty of the Comptroller of Public Accounts in advance of each regular Session of the Legislature to prepare and submit to the Governor and to the Legislature a statement showing fully the financial condition of the State at the close of the last period and an estimate of available receipts and disbursements for the then current year. There shall also be included in said statement an estimate of the anticipated revenue based on the laws in effect that will be received for the State from all sources showing the fund accounts credited during the preceding year and said statement shall contain such other information as may be required by law. Supplemental statements shall be prepared at any Special Session of the Legislature and at such other times as may be necessary to show probable changes.

From and after January 1, 1945, in the case of emergency and imperative public necessity and with a four-fifths vote of the total membership of each house, the cash and anticipated revenue of the funds from which appropriation is to be made shall be valid. From and after January 1, 1945, no bill containing an appropriation shall be considered as passed or sent to the Governor for consideration unless the Comptroller of Public Accounts endorses his signature thereon showing the amount appropriated is within the amount estimated to be available in the affected funds. When the Comptroller finds an appropriation bill exceeds the estimated revenue he shall endorse his finding thereon and return to the House in which same originated. Such information shall be immediately made known to both the House of Representatives and the Senate and the necessary steps shall be taken to bring such appropriation to within the revenue, either by providing additional revenue or reducing the appropriation.

For the purpose of financing the outstanding obligations of the General Revenue Fund for the State and placing its current accounts on a cash basis the Legislature of the State of Texas is hereby authorized to provide for the issuance, sale, and retirement of serial bonds, equal in principal to the total outstanding, valid, and approved obligations owing by the State on September 1, 1943, provided such bonds shall not Christian Science Church Sunday School at 10 a. m. Sunday services at 11 a. m. Wednesday evening services at 9:00 o'clock. Sunday, August 9, 1942. Subject: "Spirit."

First Christian Church The public is cordially invited. Sunday School, 10 a. m. Morning worship 11 a. m. Junior Endeavor 7 p. m. Senior Endeavor 7 p. m. Evening worship 8:30.

First Baptist Church (High School Auditorium) Sunday School at 9:45 a. m. Morning Service at 11 o'clock. Training Union at 7:30 p. m. Evening Service at 8:30 o'clock. W. M. S. every Monday afternoon. Weekly Prayer Service Wednesday night at 8 o'clock.

We cordially invite everyone to come and find his place in each of these services. W. B. Fitzgerald, Pastor.

Methodist Church We are delighted to have our church fully restored from the storm and back in use. If you have not seen the reworking you have a thrill coming. We have been very fortunate indeed in having our church spared us with so little damage in comparison with the general wreckage of our town. Services Sunday at 11 a. m., but no night preaching service. As is our custom, we will attend the Baptist revival. Now that we are gradually resuming normal conditions it is a fine time to return to Sunday School, if not attending, and join the ranks of the regulars. Attendance has held up remarkably well considering all the tragedies that have come our way but we should not be satisfied until normal numbers and interest has been had in all services. Our revival services are planned for Sept. 9, with the Flowers Party as leaders. You have heard them and they have many friends here. Remember the date and keep it open for them. H. A. LONGINO, Pastor.

Christian Science Services "Spirit" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 9.

The Golden Text is: "Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty" (II Corinthians 3:17).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Thou sendest forth thy spirit, they are created: and thou renewest the face of the earth" (Psalms 104:30).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spiritual causation is the one question to be considered, for more than all others spiritual causation relates to human progress" (page 170).

Weekly Sermon

By the Rev. Harold L. Lundquist, D. D., Member of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

Reverence for God

Character reveals itself through the words and deeds of a person. He may try to conceal his real spiritual condition and may assume an outward appearance of piety, but he need not say many words, nor meet many of life's problems, before his true condition is revealed.

God has expressly said, "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain; for the Lord will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain" (Exod. 20:7).

Our use of the word "vain" carries the meaning of "useless, without purpose or meaning." This is part of what is in mind in this commandment, for the name of Jehovah is sacred and is to be revered as standing for the eternal God. It is never to be used carelessly, or for a frivolous purpose. All too often we tell jokes or stories which have no real purpose or meaning except to elicit a laugh and in them we use the name of God. We all need to exercise care at that point.

The Hebrew word translated "vain" has the additional meaning of "evil" and "falsehood." Men are so bold that they may even use the name of God to support themselves in a lie. God hears, and will in no wise hold them guiltless.

Christ said, "Let your communication be, Yea, yea; Nay, nay; for whatsoever is more than these cometh of evil" (Matt. 5:37). We who follow Him are not to swear by either things sacred or things that might be called secular. Our lives should be so true that men will not need to have any kind of an oath to be assured of our sincerity and honesty.

A day of judgment is coming when we shall answer for the idle and wicked words which we speak (Matt. 12:36, 37). While we would not bring condemnation upon those who indulge in the innocent pleasures of life by making too severe an application of these words, neither should we destroy their evident import by failing to apply them to our daily conversation. Surely Christians should speak for the glory of God on every occasion and in each circumstance of life.

The way to accomplish this worthy purpose, and the only way, is to have the heart and life filled with the good treasure of God's Word, for verily out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh (Matt. 12:33-35).

What do our words indicate to others regarding what is in our hearts.

Manpower Is Needed to Win War, State Health Officer Says

Austin.—"Not steel, money, rubber, sugar, gasoline, nor any other material equipment can win this war without manpower," declared Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer.

The backbone of the entire civilian war program is the health and physical stamina of the men and women who stand behind the machines, who mold the steel, who conserve the rationed articles, who volunteer for defense activities, who earn the money that buys the war bonds, who work the farms and ranches that feed the fighters and who look after the homes and families that the military men are fighting for.

There can be no doubt that the protection and promotion of the health of these people, then, is as important to the outcome of the war as it is to the lives and peace-welfare of the people themselves.

It is the State and local health departments' duty to help them choose foods necessary for building strong bones and sturdy resistance to disease, to tell them about immunization against certain diseases, to urge periodic health check-ups, protect water and milk supplies, and tell them how to prevent illness and accidents.

"There are many other services that health departments can and are doing in their everyday work," said Dr. Cox, and he urges that the public make more use of the advice given to them by the health authorities.

...and ELECTRIC POWER, too, has grown to Meet the Wartime Needs of 1942!

Plenty of Electricity on Hand WASHINGTON, July 22. (AP)—J. A. Krug, chief of the power branch of the War Production Board, expressed confidence today that war production would not be crippled by a shortage of electric power. "We have sufficient electric power," he said, "to meet all the requirements of war production and for essential civilian needs, if used wisely—as far as we can see ahead."

WAR DEPARTMENT figures show that today's average soldier is nearly an inch taller and ten pounds heavier than in 1917—a great gain for one generation and a real tribute to the men of science and the men of industry who helped build Bill's husky frame.

We're glad electric service had a hand in it.

Food experts discovered new vitamins and better diets for Bill; doctors developed new serums, drugs and healing techniques; and electric research worked out new and better ways to refrigerate... preserve... his food so it would be fresher, safer, cheaper.

Even before Bill was born, electric servants freed his mother of much household drudgery—so that she and her children might be healthier and happier.

At the same time that the electric industry was helping Bill to develop into a stronger, healthier man than his dad, it also was expanding to provide the power vitally needed in 1942. In back of Bill today is plenty of electricity for building tanks and planes, guns and ships... power to run the factories making weapons with which Bill will win the war!

Actually, this country now has five times more electric power than we had in 1917.

And over 90 per cent of ALL the nation's commercially generated electricity is being provided by companies like this institution... companies that developed the American way, free to work and create things that men and women want and need for everybody's benefit.

This company "grew up" that way—organized by a few men with foresight to see West Texas' great need for ample, cheap electric power. Today it represents the savings of thousands of small stockholders, operating under good business management, regulated by the government, paying taxes, and providing excellent service at low cost.

Retail Merchants Must File List of Ceiling Prices

All retail merchants in Foard County were reminded today by C. E. Seale, chairman of the Foard County War Price and Rationing Board, that they must file with the local board by August 10 a list showing cost-of-living articles and their ceiling prices which the merchant has added to his stock since July 1.

"The filing of such lists by the merchant is a mandatory requirement of the Federal Maximum Price Regulation, No. 1," Mr. Seale pointed out.

He also called attention to the fact that many retail merchants still have not filed the initial listing of cost-of-living articles and their ceiling prices, which should have been in the hands of the Foard County War Price and Rationing Board not later than July 1.

"Failure to file that list is a violation of the General Maximum Price Regulation," Mr. Seale said, "and we have been advised that the state office of Price Administration staff is now making a field survey to determine how many merchants have not filed this list."

"The results of this survey, he said, are to be turned over to the CPA compliance and investigation department, for immediate attention.

Any merchant who still has not obtained a copy of the General Maximum Price Regulation, or of Bulletin No. 2, "What Every Retail Merchant Should Know About the CMPR"—can get copies by applying to the office of the Foard

John Clifford Joins U. S. Coast Guard

John Clifford, former Foard County man, has joined the United States Coast Guard, having signed up as a motor-mechanic's mate second class in that division of the service, according to a special news release received by The News this week, which follows:

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 4.—It's a long haul from the hurricane deck of a vessel in the engine room of a sub-chaser, but Texas-born John "Tex" Clifford has made it.

For Tex, who was born down in Foard County some 20 years ago, has signed up as a motor-mechanic's mate second class in the United States coast guard.

"The folks back home in Crowell are going to be some surprised," Tex drawled, as he put his "John Henry" down on the enlistment papers that put him in Uncle Sam's employ for the duration.

"I've wanted to get in this fuss ever since it started," he explained.

Tex quit a good job with a pipeline company up in Wyoming, where he was on this job that he received the training that Uncle Sam needs as hundreds of new boats are put into action against axis submarines.

The boys in the Salt Lake recruiting office where Tex signed up took one look at his bow legs and immediately wanted to enter him in a rodeo that was then going on in Utah's capital city.

But Tex explained that he was not taking any chances on a broken arm or leg before he went in the service. "I want to be ready for action," he asserted.

Tex was sent to the Alameda, Calif., training station from Salt Lake City.

Prior to joining the pipeline company crew at Evanston, Wyo., Tex had worked as foreman of the Three-Bar H dude ranch at Teton, Wyo.

We need many of these powerful, fast little boats to cope with the treacherous submarine type of naval warfare fostered by our enemies. Everybody can help pay for more Sub Chasers by putting at least ten percent of his income into War Bonds. Buy Bonds or Stamps every pay day. The talk will be carried over a fifteen station network.

"Texas oil and transportation are vitally important to our war effort," Mr. Jester said. "Most of the oil that will fly our planes, power our mechanized divisions, and fuel the ships of America and her Allies will come from Texas. There must be no bottlenecks in Texas' oil production and transportation facilities."

A native of Corsicana, Jester is a graduate of Texas University and served from 1932 to 1935 as chairman of the university's board of regents.
