According to the planned schedule, the Crowell system of schools opened Monday morning with a splendid attendance in all three departments. The High School Assembly was held, as is the custom, and a short program was rendered before the students repaired to their various class rooms.

The total enrollment was 575, slightly less than at the opening of school last year, but that condition was to be expected and Supt. I. T. Graves expresses gratification at the large enrollment of the first days. In the Primary department, there were 207 pupils, in the Intermediate department, there were 150 and in the High School, the enrollment reached 218, which is 5 more than last year.

Notice, Advertisers

When this issue of the paper is printed The News force will lose one of its printers whose place will be taken by an experienced helper. In order that we may continue to get the paper to its readers on time, it will be necessary that all advertising copy be received at this office as early in the week as possible. When copy is given the printer early in the week, better ads can be set.

For many years, Wednesday has been recognized as ad day, but it is not necessary to wait till Wednesday to turn in ad copy unless it is impossible to get it in earlier. A rush on Wednesday makes long working hours for The News force. Co-operation in this matter will be appreciated.

Annual Nat'l. Farm Loan Ass'n. Picnic Held Saturday

The annual picnic for stockholders of the Crowell National Farm Loan Association was held under the shade trees at Spring Lake Country Club Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock, directed by J. C. Thompson, secretary-treasurer.

A large crowd of stockholders and their families, and friends of the organization, were present to enjoy the beautiful basket lunch prepared by the wives of members, and cold soda pop and ice cream furnished by the association.

A short business session was held presided over by Mr. Thompson, at which time minutes of the previous meeting were read by Miss Ora May Fox and two new directors, Ike Everson and W. B. Jones, were elected. H. E. Davis was re-elected as a director.

Back in 1917, shortly after the approval of the "Farm Loan Act," farmers and ranchmen in different parts of Texas took the first steps to organize local associations made possible by the Act to provide a new kind of farm mortgage credit. This system of credit by and for the farmers and ranchmen of Texas has had unusual growth during the past 25 years. It provides a loan that can be paid off in small amounts of the farm or ranch on which the loan is made. The loans are based on normal agricultural values and are payable over long periods of time at low rates of interest.

Crowell High School Football Team Will Open 1942 Season Friday Night at 8:30 Against the Matador Bull Fighters

The Crowell High School football team will open the 1942 season at Wildcat Stadium Friday night at 8:30 against the Matador High School team. Very little is known about the strength of the Matador eleven. They finished second in their district last year and they have several returning regulars. The Crowell team worked out twice daily all last week and has been working out each afternoon this week. In a practice scrimmage at Vernon last Friday afternoon against the Vernon Lions, a AA team, the Wildcats came out second best but made a good account of themselves. The Vernon Record made the following comment about the game: "The Crowell squad appears to be one of the finest class A teams in this section of the state and gave the Lions plenty of opposition during most of the scrimmage session. No score was kept."

Barbecue Given for Local Men Attend Benefit of Baptist Church Building

A barbecue was given at the Self Grain Elevator last Friday evening when a large number of members and friends of the Baptist Church gathered together for an enjoyable affair and also to show their co-operation and help with a worthy cause, that of erecting a new Baptist Church to take the place of the one that was destroyed by the tornado.

Bert W. Self donated the meat for the barbecue and made the occasion possible. Members of the congregation gave their help in preparing the meat and in supplementing it with various foods and drinks. It would be impossible to name all those who aided in the work. A short program was given after the meal, and several songs were sung by the assembly.

Rev. W. B. Fitzgerald gave a short talk of appreciation to Mr. Self and to all those who attended and made the barbecue a success.

A free-will offering had been advertised and the amount from the donations of the event, amounted to almost $1,000, for which those in charge of the building responsibilities and also the members of the church are going steadily forward to the erection of a church building for the Baptist here. However, members of all congregations were present at the barbecue.

Commandos Home From 'Greatest Raid'

This soundphoto shows a group of British Commando forces at their home port to which they returned with prisoners and souvenirs after the biggest Commando raid of the war on the French invasion port of Dieppe. Volunteers from an American 'Ranger Battalion' participated in the action, the first time since the last war that U. S. soldiers went into action on French soil. The raid, which was regarded by many as the testing of an offensive on a larger scale, was something which Hitler never dared to try. The great raid was backed up by swarms of planes and numerous naval vessels. Raiders even landed tanks for the battle. About 275 German planes probably were destroyed or damaged in the raid, which was described as a 'successful demonstration of co-ordination of all three services'—army, navy and air. Two Nazi shore batteries and a radio location station were destroyed, and heavy casualties were inflicted on the enemy.

Citizens Should Be Familiar with Means to Fight Fire Bombs

R. E. Smith, director of the Eighth Civilian Defense Region, today requested that all citizens of this defense region familiarize themselves with the official instructions from the U. S. Office of Civilian Defense as to how to fight fire bombs. "These new instructions are based on exhaustive research by technicians of OCD and the Chemical Warfare Service, U. S. Army," said Smith. "They represent changes now adopted also by British officials after careful analysis of the results of both this and the old method during actual air raids. Both American and British tests prove that a jet of water, will knock out the fire bomb in less than one minute—before major fires can get started. Fire (not the bomb) is the chief danger, and a jet of water is the best weapon. Respect the fire bomb but do not fear it." Mr. Smith called the following instructions to the attention of all citizens, explaining that the instructions have been revised during July as a result of the research made by OCD technicians: Bring Your Fire-Fighting Equipment to the Scene Quickly. The small magnesium bomb, which is dropped in great numbers, will go through any ordinary roof. Store your equipment where it can be reached easily, and keep it ready for instant use. Shoot a Jet of Water on the Bomb at Once. Take cover behind a door, chair, or other furniture, if you can, when you do this. The jet knocks the bomb out quickly. There will be a burst of white flame, and a scattering of molten metal, most of which will be driven away from you by the force of the jet. Quench Promptly the Remains of Bomb and Any Other Fire. If any small fires are started the jet will put these out easily. Within a short time you will be free to attack any other bombs which may have fallen nearby. Be absolutely sure all the fire is out before you leave. Jet May Prevent Action of Burster. Some bombs have a small burster attachment. When the jet is used promptly, the bomb may be destroyed before the charge goes off. The Pump Tank Holds Enough Water to Put Out Two Bombs When Jet is Used. The Office of Civilian Defense will distribute a 4-gallon pump tank extinguisher to the air raid wardens service in target areas. The tank can be refilled while the pump is being used. Know Your Extinguisher. All fire extinguishers that contain water or water solutions of chemicals can be used on the bomb. These include the soda-acid, foam and gas cartridge types. Other types of extinguishers should not be used on the bomb because they do not contain water, but they can be used on fires started by bombs. Remember that your garden hose is one of the best fire-fighting devices so long as there is water pressure. Use Sand Only if a Bomb Falls Where it Cannot Start a Fire or if Water is Not Available. This can be done by dropping a bag of sand over the bomb, or by the shovel-and-bucket technique. Misses Mona and Marion Self entertained the young folks with a party and picnic Friday night. Mrs. W. O. Fish and daughter, Mildred, visited Miss Winnie D. Fish of Paducah Tuesday morning.

I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress; my God; in him will I trust.—Psalm 91:2.

Most of the training that will do young people the most good in life is received, or at least could be received, in the home. Here industry, thrift, courtesy, good manners, honesty, sobriety, sincerity, truthfulness and loyalty can be taught best. It is also possible in the home to teach correct posture, poise, correct speech, and pleasant, well modulated voices. These things are often overlooked, but after all they are the things that make or break the individual. Without these a college education is of little value. With them people have been known to make wonderful successes of their lives without a college education. Here is also a word to the girls in the home—and boys too—who do not avail themselves of music lessons and learn to play the piano. There never was a young woman who rejected the opportunity to learn to play the piano during her younger years who did not regret it keenly a thousand times after she grew up and became too busy to learn. It is all right to blow a French horn or a trombone in the high school band, but after one gets out of school and becomes grown up it is not regarded as an accomplishment and possesses little attraction as a mature accomplishment. The young woman—and young man—who can play a piano well is always in demand. They are the center of attraction and the life of the party.

HISTORY

Constitution Day — September 17: The Constitution was signed on September 18, 1787, by the delegates of the convention who had been called together to draft it. The delegates met in Independence Hall in Philadelphia the preceding May and had deliberated in a secret session for four months in their efforts to agree upon the final document. The anniversary of the final signing of the Constitution has been observed in Philadelphia with greater regularity than in any other part of the country. This may be due to the fact that it was here that the Liberty Bell is housed. The day received little general observance until 1914. At this time, due to the appearance of radical groups whose activities appeared inimical to the liberties provided by the Constitution, the National Security League was organized. Its purpose was to promote instruction regarding the things provided by the Constitution. By 1919 the group had committees at work in forty states. The chairmen were presidents of the State Bar Associations, the presidents of colleges, chairmen of school boards, presidents of State Historical societies, the presidents of State branches of the Sons of the American Revolution, etc. As a result of the activities of this group the day came to be observed in twenty-two states the first year. A national celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the completion of the Constitution was held in Philadelphia on September 15, 16, 17, 1887. This was characterized by parades and set speeches by the notables of that day. An industrial parade the first day was participated in by 12,000 persons. On the second day a parade of 30,000 members of the Federal and State military organizations was reviewed by President Cleveland. The third day was devoted to exercises in Independence Square before the building in which the Constitution was drafted.

USE THE GUN!

What We Think (By Frank Dixon)

There is coming back, throughout the country, a revival of that worthy custom of home canning of fruit and vegetables, that was the common practice in years past. True, in many households the custom has never been discontinued. Each year long rows of home canned fruit and vegetables have graced the shelves of the cellar or cave in many homes. Others, yielding to the low prices of factory canned foods, have, in recent years, given up home canning and have supplied their needs from week to week at the village grocery store. The canneries have had a part in this that a splendid product was put out attractively labeled, and moderately priced. With the advent of the war and increased costs, the price of store canned fruit and vegetables has been increased to the point where housewives all over the country are beginning to haul out their jars and containers and canning paraphernalia in preparation for canning the winter's supply of fruit and vegetables.

Those sections of the country which have defense plants, and which are receiving the benefit of abnormal wages, the family table will perhaps continue to be supplied from the shelves of the grocery store with cannery products. In the greater number of localities that have no defense plants, and which are not receiving the benefits of abnormal wages, the family income has not been materially increased in line with increased living costs. It is in these localities that the home canning program is in full swing. In many such families it is not uncommon that as much as a hundred or more quarts of fruit and food for each member of the family is put up each year. With five or six members in the family this makes quite an array of canned food and represents no little work.

Strangely enough there is no work into which such housewives enter with more zest and enthusiasm than that of canning and pickling and preserving. There is a sense of satisfaction and a pride that comes to such a housewife as she surveys the fruits of her labors that repays her for all the arduous work over the hot stove in the hottest season of the year.

Coupled with this is the satisfaction that comes from the sense of real security, the knowledge that when winter comes, the year's food supply is stored up in the cellar. This satisfies the natural impulse and desire of the thrifty housewife. There is the feeling that she is rendering a definite and very worthwhile service for the family and the home.

Among these home canners are to be found many prize winners that have been tried and tested and improved and changed until they are felt to completely meet the tastes and desires of the family. Each one has its own individuality, it's own intriguing piquancy.

I think it a good thing that the practice is coming back. Not only does it insure wholesome food, but its return seems to bring back something to the home, as a unit, that in many places has ceased to be a living unit, but serves merely as a place to snatch a bite out of a sack or tin can, and change clothes to go some place else.

It provides an avenue of expression, a sense of having contributed something definite to the communal effort, the sum total of which constitutes an important part of every real American home.

These are trying times. It requires courage and fortitude to face them calmly. The uncertainty of the future and its demands disturbs the man in business and the worker. It is difficult to make plans far ahead because no one knows the dangers and the problems and the difficulties that lie ahead. It is a time to keep calm, to keep hopeful, and to hold onto one's faith.

The combination of courage, intelligence, faith and persistence is unbeatable.

Brief Bits of News From Here and There

There is considerable interest in the outcome of the injunction suit brought by the United States Justice Department to set aside the order issued by James Caesar Petrollo that no union musician should make a record or transcription for public use on a phonograph or talking machine. The Department of Justice claims that Petrollo's order would put many small radio stations out of business and would hurt advertising agencies which use transcriptions in their business, musical motion pictures and record manufacturers. Petrollo claims that because these records are used, many musicians are thrown out of employment.

stated that no consideration would be given to applications where the vehicle is not within the eligible classification. The Board must determine which of these vehicles contribute to the war effort the most. "If you don't get your tires, don't cuss the board, simply appeal and I'll turn it down and you can cuss me." Consideration must necessarily be given by boards to people who are engaged in farming and ranch work, motor transportation, both passenger and bus and trucks; transportation of school teachers and school children to and from places of residences or bus stops and school houses; he further explained that that did not mean to and from any athletic field or contest.

Joe Naughton of Ellis County outlined a plan of pooling which was working in a highly satisfactory manner in Ellis County.

Many suggestions and ideas were brought forth as to the methods to be used in an effort to alleviate the existing shortage and get the crop into town, among which were such as contracting the use of several large trucks that could haul many bales of cotton at one time to the gin, getting the highway department to remove existing regulations on trailers; cutting down the number of government employees using tires; using wagon and team; purchasing two or three weeks' supply of groceries at one time; pooling trucks to haul groceries and supplies from town to home and setting up a central office to pool and direct transportation.

Previous to the war, mint from which peppermint is extracted was imported from Japan. When the war cut off imports, plans were made to produce the needed supply in this country. Some 40,000 acres were recently harvested in northern Indiana. Other states producing mint are Oregon, Washington, North Carolina, and New York. Each acre yields from 50 to 60 pounds of oil. Before the present price was $9.75 per pound. No pennies are used in Alaska. The smallest coin is a five cent piece. A few years ago the smallest coin in circulation in Alaska was a twenty-five cent piece. A cold drink cost a quarter as did a copy of the Saturday Evening Post or a cigar.

An example of resourcefulness and quick thinking: Fire broke out in a car of lumber on a train four miles out of Denver. The conductor telephoned ahead and when the train arrived at the city limits city firemen had a hose attached to a hydrant with which the fire was quickly extinguished. It is predicted that before the summer is over the Henry F. Kaiser ship yards will be turning out boats in 30 days. This speed never before equaled, is made possible by precision work and mass production.

The achievements that adorn human progress are not the rewards of those who did not plan.

A WEEK of the WAR

Gen. MacArthur's Australian headquarters reported in a special communique August 31 that Japanese invasion troops have suffered a disastrous defeat in the Milne Bay area of New Guinea. A force of Australian shock troops had been secretly concentrated along the Japanese landing August 26, the report said, and as a result the Japanese landed in a trap. The Japanese lost all of an "enormous quantity" of heavy material they landed, including tanks, and except for a few troops evacuated by an enemy cruiser and eight destroyers, the enemy land force was annihilated.

The Navy announced that Marines holding six islands in the southeastern Solomons had killed or captured all Japanese troops attempting to retake the islands. The Navy reported August 30 that seven enemy planes were shot down when they attempted to raid the airfield facilities which the Marines had captured on Guadalcanal, bringing the total of enemy planes shot down in the Solomons fighting to 78. The Navy also announced the Marines, with Navy support, raided the Japanese base on Makin Island in the Gilberts, killing all but 2 of an estimated 250 enemy garrison. U. S. losses were less than 1 to 10 of Japanese.

In the European theater, U. S. Flying Fortresses bombed the air-drome of Wevelghem, near Central in Belgium, in the eighth straight operation without loss. In other precision bombing raids, the Fortresses attacked the Rotterdam shipyards and an airplane factory at Moulins in northern France. Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell announced August 31 in Chungking, China, that U. S. Army planes based in China have made heavy and successful attacks on Myitkyina and Lashio, the two large Japanese bases in northern Burma. The Navy announced the sinking of five more United Nations merchant ships by enemy submarines in the Atlantic. Joseph C. Crew, former Ambassador to Japan newly returned from Tokyo, said in a radio address the Japanese will fight "with all the force and power at their command... until they are utterly crushed." Mr. Grew stated "We are up against a powerful fighting machine, a people whose morale cannot and will not be broken even by successive defeats, who will certainly not be broken by economic hardships, a people who individually and collectively will gladly sacrifice their lives for their Emperor and their nation, and can be brought to earth only by complete defeat in battle."

Controlling the Cost of Living
President Roosevelt said he would announce his new anti-inflation program in a nation-wide address the evening of Labor Day, and would send a message to Congress earlier the same day. He told his press conference that forthcoming steps to control the cost of living will include stabilization of farm prices as well as wages, because neither could be stabilized without the other. He said wage stabilization would be flexible and would not amount to flat freezing of wages and salaries. The President also said the Government is considering one meatless day a week as a plan to be used largely as a means of saving oceanic shipping space for the total war effort. He said under the plan American meat could be shipped to nations in need, and this would make 30 to 40 Allied ships available for hauling war necessities to world-wide theaters of United Nations war activities.

Stabilization of Farm Prices
The Office of Price Administration announced it is planning a price ceiling on live hogs and similar action is contemplated soon for cattle prices. The ceiling would be worked out in conjunction with representatives of livestock producers. The Office said "vigorous steps" are being taken to enforce quality grading regulations of its beef regulations to prevent upgrading as an evasion of price levels. The Agriculture Department reported a 9-point advance in farm prices from July 15 to August 15, raising the general level to 163 per cent of the pre-World War I figure, 32 points higher than a year ago.

Rationing
The OPA ordered re-examination by local boards of all supplemental gasoline ration books, particularly C books for motorists and 14 designated occupations and S books for operators of commercial vehicles. New books will be issued for the amount the operator is fairly entitled to, if present coupons are found in excess, and deliberate violations of regulations will be prosecuted, the Office said. The OPA announced 35,500 new passenger cars will be made available for rationing in September, compared with 13,250 in August, but all unused quotas were recalled and no carryovers will be permitted in the future. The quota of 90,000 bicycles for September is the same as for August.

All rented standard model typewriters manufactured since January 1, 1935, were ordered returned to rental agencies by September 15 to make them available for purchase and use by the Armed Forces and Government departments. Persons eligible to purchase machines under existing OPA regulations are not affected.

Transportation
The Office of Defense Transportation issued an order effective immediately, governing the operations of at least 50,000 automobiles used as taxicabs. The order (1) banned use of taxicabs for "social or recreational purposes of the driver or operators;" (2) established a national taxicab speed limit of 40 miles per hour "except above that prescribed by competent public authority;" (3) prohibited use of taxis for making "commercial deliveries of property;" (4) limited to 10 miles the distance a taxi may be operated beyond the corporate limits of the municipality in which the trip originates;" (5) banned seating cab passengers by the distance which may be traveled on any one trip;" (7) prohibited vehicles not marked distinctly taxicabs from being operated as such.

The Armed Forces
The War Department raised from 45 to 50 the maximum age at which men "who have character, skills or aptitudes which make their enlistment desirable and who are otherwise qualified" and who have draft board permission may enlist in the Army. They will be assigned to overhead units or installations where they will release younger men for general military service, and if fit, they will be used for combat duty, War Secretary Stimson said.

Marine Corps enlisted men, as well as Navy enlistees, may now apply for flight training to become naval aviation glider pilots, who act as co-pilots for large transport gliders. During the week, the 45,000-ton battleship Iowa—heaviest vessel ever launched in the U. S.—the aircraft carrier Independence, the cruiser Boston, and two destroyers, the Glennon and Jeffers, were launched. The Red Cross and the Navy jointly announced a new rescue project under which buoyant watertight bags containing emergency food, water and medical supplies, cigarettes, etc., will be dropped by Naval patrol blimps to seamen awaiting rescue before they are actually picked up by rescue vessels.

Strategic Materials
War Production Chairman Nelson said 2,000,000 cars from automobile graveyards have been converted into 400,000 tons of steel scrap a month during the last 4 months, but the steel industry is now consuming approximately 4,800,000 tons of scrap metal a month, about 4 times as much as it took in 1938. Army's New 15-Place Commando Glider

These pictures, just released by the army air forces, show the first of the new 15-place troop-carrying gliders, the CG-4A, now in quantity production. The glider can carry 15 fully equipped men, including pilot and co-pilot. It has a wing span of 83 feet, 8 inches, and a length of 48 feet, 3 inches. At the top we get a good idea of the glider's size by comparing it with the size of the men. Below is an interior view showing pilot and co-pilot at the controls.

FOOD PRICE SITUATION

On August 12, Price Administrator Leon Henderson announced that widespread upward adjustments in food prices will be authorized by mid-September. That move was unavoidable in the interest of retailer and consumer alike.

The situation which led to it is simple. When prices were frozen at the level of last March, many food retailers were selling their wares at prices which were based on the lower wholesale prices of months before. These retailers were doing this voluntarily, as part of their successful and aggressive contribution to the anti-inflation program. Meanwhile, replacement costs had substantially risen in many instances, and retailers could not restock except at the risk of heavy cash losses. As the OPA pointed out, unless this "squeeze" was relieved, low-cost distributors would have been forced to stop stocking and selling many important food products. And if that happened, these foods could have been moved to consumers only through distributors who had relatively high price ceilings.

What is true of foods is true of other lines of goods as well. If the original price-freezing order had been allowed to stand without correction, thousands of merchants, particularly those who were selling to the public at the lowest possible cost, would have eventually been forced out of business. The American economy, which is largely based on the operation of retail business, would have been seriously disturbed. And the brunt of the blow would have been borne by the stores, chain and independent alike, which have done the most to protect the consumer.

The reason behind the OPA's new policy should be understood by all. It does not mean that stores are going to earn unjustified profits at the public's expense. It simply means that the OPA has wisely realized the necessity of "flowing retail prices that will give the merchant enough return to stay in business and keep shelves well stocked. Mr. Henderson believed that the best solution would be wartime subsidies to compensate for the "squeeze," but Congress refused to vote them. So an increase in prices became inevitable. — Industrial News-Review.

OUTLAW ACCIDENTS

"It should be made a crime in all states to cross railroad grades without first stopping, looking and listening." That proposal was recently made by David Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen.

The Governor of Idaho has already issued a proclamation making it obligatory for all vehicles to stop at crossings, and similar action is being urged in other states. What is needed is to extend that rule to every state in the nation. At any time, railroad accidents are a menace. At this time, when full and uninterrupted utilization of all railroad facilities is 100 per cent essential to the war effort, crossing accidents are a form of sabotage. As Mr. Robertson said, "There is hardly any difference between the destruction in transportation service of our men and materials within this country, and such destruction of our men and materials through carelessness on the battlefronts."

The public should realize that the vast majority of crossing accidents are the fault of the automobile driver involved. A typical example occurred sometime ago on the Union Pacific main line in Wyoming. Three young men in an old car ran into the side of a train despite the fact that visibility was excellent. Miraculously, no one was killed, but a number were injured. It will cost the railroad more than $100,000 for repairs and some of the damaged equipment cannot be replaced. The accident tied up the main line for 12 hours. And it seriously delayed all traffic, most of which was war materials, for three days.

Action must be taken, by both national and local officials, to prevent such unnecessary accidents. Making it illegal to cross a track without first stopping is the first step. Useless accidents cannot be allowed to hamper the war effort. — Industrial News-Review.

To prevent silk dresses from slipping off wood and iron coat hangers, baste or sew a piece of velvet on each end of the hanger. Always remove the wrappings from fresh meats before storing in the refrigerator. Tea makes a good base for punch.

The total value of all crops produced in Texas in 1940 was $367,108,000, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The Federal Census of Agriculture estimates that in 1940 there were 21,799,610 chickens in Texas.

Of the 167,934,720 acres which make up the total land area of Texas, 137,683,372 acres are in farms.

Each Individual Urged to Protect His Own Health

Austin.—With the nation facing a loss of more than 6 million man days per month in defense industries alone from accidents and illnesses, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, is intensifying his effort to cut down the total days lost in this State.

"The number of man days lost from accidents alone each month reaches an alarming total. But when we consider that there are 9 times more absentees from communicable and other diseases it becomes apparent," Dr. Cox asserted, "why it is necessary to urge that each individual protect his own health to the best of his ability."

Communicable disease and even mild epidemics can seriously handicap the nation's war effort by slowing down the production of the necessary ships, planes, guns, and tanks. Careful attention to personal cleanliness, proper nutrition, sufficient rest, fresh air and sunshine is the personal responsibility of every individual at this time.

"It is our job," Dr. Cox said, "to fight sickness and accidents. Production can be boosted and lives can be saved by strict adherence to community and industrial hygiene standards and full co-operation in such community projects as mosquito control and rat extermination for preventing the spread of malaria, dengue, and typhus fever. Loss of time renders aid to the enemy and this country must be able to depend on peak production from all of its industrial army."

Dr. Cox pointed out that the armed forces have called a great per cent of our doctors and nurses into active service and the war

Insignia for the unit of the U. S. Citizens Defense Corps, known as the Staff Unit, recently has been authorized in administrative order issued by James M. Landis, Director of the Office of Civilian Defense. The insignia consists of a blue five-pointed star, centered above the letters "CDC" in red in a white equilateral triangle on a circular field of blue.

The U. S. Citizens Defense Corps is the official designation of the Protective Services in the program of the U. S. Office of Civilian Defense. Members in the Staff Unit include those designated to assist the Commander of the Defense Corps.

Membership in the U. S. Citizens Defense Corps shall be by appointment of local authorities in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Director of the Office of Civilian Defense.

MOSQUITO MENACE

College Station, Sept. 7.—More doctors and nurses are increasingly important than ever every precaution to prevent disease. One way is fighting by getting rid of mosquitoes. Bernice Clayton, specialist in improvement for the A. & M. College Extension Service.

Conquering the mosquito is a big job, and the best way to screen all openings with 14 mesh wire, see that all windows fit tightly, kill all mosquitoes which get in the house by using with common insect spray and finally destroy all breeding places.

It is a good idea to drain pools and water holes and pouring oil or kerosene in where mosquitoes might breed, the specialist says. She advises removing of moss and from the edges of stock and tanks. These may be done with top water minnows, lily pools can be kept free from mosquito-eating fish.

Guarding rain barrels, cisterns and wells and screening chimneys also will help. Soiling rid of tin cans which catch little water. Where mosquitoes are a neighborhood problem, families may work together and list the help of public health officials in destroying breeding places.

DOCTORS WORK OVERTIME

The most serious problem faced by the medical profession today lies in the vast number of doctors who are being called to service with the armed forces. It is the government's policy that American fighting men must be given the finest medical care possible, and doctors are joining up by the thousands.

In order to meet both military and civilian needs for doctors, medical groups are taking definite action. During the next three years, for instance, U. S. medical schools will graduate more than 21,000 students as a result of recently-adopted programs for accelerating the educational process.

Retired doctors are coming back into harness, and other doctors are working harder. The most efficient utilization of all our resources is rapidly being attained.

So far as the patient is concerned, authorities are urging that everyone do what he can to "spare the doctor."

W. B. Fitzgerald, Pastor. Methodist Revival

Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Flowers are here and meeting with personal workers this week in preparation for the revival services which begin Sunday at 11 a. m. The hours of service for the week days will be 10 a. m. and 8:15 p. m. for the preaching services. Children's hour will be 4:30 p. m. and Young People 7:30 p. m. Special services and other interesting features will be announced from time to time. A mass meeting of the membership is called for Friday, Sept. 11 at 8:15 p. m. in the auditorium of the church.

There might be dozens of excuses for not attending this meeting but there are two reasons why we should attend: i. e. We need God, and our country needs our Christian influence. To win freedom for all peoples and fail to win all peoples to God is not fully securing the peace we need. Put your life behind your good will and intentions. Let's have a revival that revives the soul of men.

Sunday is International "Go to Sunday School" day. It is now time to begin our winter's church going habit. A good S. S. discussion followed by a fine sermon by Rev. Flowers will make your Sunday be to you what God purposed.

Remember, all next week we want to meet you at church. H. A. LONGINO, Pastor.

"Substance" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 13.

The Golden Text is: "Thy name, O Lord, endureth forever; and thy memorial, O Lord, throughout all generations" (Psalms 135:13).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup; thou maintainest my lot. . . . The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places; yea, I have a goodly heritage" (Psalms 16:5, 6).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "As God is substance and man is the divine image and likeness, man should wish for, and in reality has, only the substance of good, the substance of Spirit, unto matter" (page 301).

Weekly Sermon

Walking With God Text: "And Enoch walked with God; and he was not; for God took him."—Genesis 5:24.

What is walking with God? It is both a mystical relationship and a practical walk. As a mystical experience our walk with God is a consciousness of intimate fellowship with Him. It is an experience of God, a deep abiding faith in Christ as our Saviour, an assurance of our salvation, a realization that we are acceptable and well pleasing to Him (see Heb. 11:5). It is relating to God everything we do, making no distinction between the secular and the spiritual, since the Christian dare do only the things that are well pleasing to Him. It is constantly asking Him what we should do and how we should live.

Hence a balanced Christian life demands not only this God-consciousness, or inner fellowship with Him, but it also calls for an outward working of the practical Christian life. Without expression we cannot long retain the impression. God impresses Himself upon us as we express ourselves among men.

But why walk with God? Because it is the only right, consistent, safe and practical thing for a Christian to do. It honors and glorifies God. It satisfies and gives peace. It is laying hold of one of the greatest privileges and blessings God has given His children. It keeps us from worldliness and keeps us in the center of His will.

How can we walk with God? That is the great question in the mind of each earnest seeker after God. If we are to walk with God we must maintain a clear conscience and a clean life. There must be nothing between us and the Saviour. We must walk in harmony with His will. We must identify ourselves with His program and relate everything to Him. There must be much and frequent prayer. We must always retain a healthy thought of God in our minds, and be interested in the work He has for us to do. We must seek at all times to be well pleasing to Him.

Yes, we should at all times be able to sense the presence of God in our lives. The Old and New Testaments, the history of the Christian Church, and the testimony of personal Christian experience all abound in illustrations of men and women who have walked with God. It is a possibility. It is a call of God Himself. Will we walk with Him?

Let's suppose it's you. You let yourself in late some night. You flick the switch—and nothing happens! No light anywhere! At first you are annoyed. But your emotions quickly turn to confusion, concern—and fear.

Something's seriously wrong when the lights won't work!

The very fact that West Texans do take electric service for granted is a tribute to the men and women who supply it. They've made it dependable. And they've made it cheap.

The average West Texas family gets twice as much electricity for its money as it did 10 or 15 years ago. It's made it possible for most families to enjoy the comfort and convenience of many more time and labor-saving appliances.

This has been accomplished under the American tradition of freedom. Freedom of business management under government regulation—freedom to make our own laws... live our own lives... freedom to invent, invest and produce more for everybody's benefit. That is the American Way—the absolute opposite to the Hitler system of political management and state slavery.

Former Crowell Girl to Wed in Albuquerque, N. M.

Miss Oma Floy McLain, daughter of Mrs. P. H. McLain, of Crowell, has been recently honored with several society functions in Abilene, where she has lived for the past two years. These include a party to announce her approaching marriage and a shower and also a breakfast. Her fiancé is Aviation Cadet Andy Garret of Albuquerque, N. M.

Miss McLain's sister, Mrs. Jack Sparks, was hostess at her home in Abilene last Wednesday evening at a lovely party in her honor.

The home was decorated in cut flowers, roses, zinnias and lantanas. Laid with Quaker lace, the dining table was centered with an arrangement of burning white candles in crystal holders placed on a reflector. Bouquets of asters tied with red, white and blue ribbons were at each end of the table.

Favors were tiny airplanes taken from a miniature airport. Punch was served to the guests. Among the out-of-town guests present for the party was Miss Yvonne McLain of Crowell, sister of the bride-elect.

A breakfast at the Hilton Hotel was another compliment to Miss McLain. Miss Owen Hutchinson and Mrs. Jack Larsen were the hostesses for the affair.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Crowell High School and has many friends here. She attended a business college in Abilene and has been employed there for the past year.

Columbian Club Open Year with Picnic at John S. Ray Home

On the evening of September 7 members of the Columbian Club and guests were entertained with a basket picnic supper on the lawn of the John S. Ray Shade Land farm. In the absence of Mrs. James Clark, the president, Mrs. Sam Crews, vice president, acted in that capacity. A general singing was had after the delectable supper, and everyone entered into the singing of old well known hymns and songs.

Mrs. Clark had written the president's greeting, which was read by Mrs. Crews. She then honored the officers of the club and members of the year book committee, Mrs. N. J. Roberts, recording secretary; Mrs. Grady Halbert, corresponding secretary; Mrs. H. Schindler, treasurer; and Mrs. Chas. Thompson, parliamentarian, were introduced to the group. The year book committee, Mrs. Ray, chairman, Mrs. Halbert and Mrs. Thompson, were likewise honored.

Following a general discussion of current happenings with the entire group voicing opinions, Mrs. T. B. Klepper took charge of the program and directed a number of amusing games. A spelling match wherein words were spelled in reverse, ended with Mrs. Halbert and Mr. Klepper as final participants and Mrs. Halbert carried off the prize. A quiz-oid skit was indulged in and after an amusing game of "Maggie and Jiggs," the evening's merriment was concluded.

der the Social Security Act for each calendar quarter are due to be filed during the month following the end of the quarter. At the same time Thomas warned employers to exercise the utmost care in reporting all Social Security account numbers.

"Most employers in the Second Texas District are complying with Internal Revenue regulations by furnishing correct names and account numbers on their returns," Thomas stated. "On the other hand, a small number of employers are not complying with the regulations which means that they must be contacted in order that missing numbers may be obtained." Mr. Thomas emphasized that this negligence on the part of a very few employers adds greatly to the normal work load and consumes the time of his limited personnel when their services are required on work more closely connected with the war effort. Carelessness in reporting account numbers also results in loss of time on the part of the auditor since it is necessary for him to make a search for missing numbers or locate employees who have already left his services and secure the numbers from the workers.

"Employers who do not file all account numbers for all employees who worked during the months of July, August, and September should immediately take steps to obtain these numbers in order that they may be included on tax returns for this quarter," Thomas added.

"While we prefer to have the co-operation of employers in complying with Bureau of Internal Revenue regulations," Thomas explained, "it is necessary at times to remind some employers to be assessed for failure to maintain records or supply prescribed information on tax returns. As a consistently fail to report numbers is being maintained, and will be taken to insure that numbers are reported in accordance with regulations," the collector said.
