and about 500 agents attended. The practicability of dehydrating, or drying foods was demonstrated to county extension agents and speakers pointed out that d hydration of vegetables, milk, fruits and eggs contributes ma-terially to the winning of the war. In that form these products take up about one-fourth the cargo space in lend-lease shipments they otherwise would.

One full session of the conference was devoted to demonstrations and discussions of food-dry Winifred Jones and Hazel Phipps, Extension Service food specialists, in showing the steps in drying corn for home use employed a home-made electric driet which can be built for about $7.50, and which is not expensive to operate. Stove driers and homemade apparatus built with apple packing boxes also will do the job, but not so satisfactorily.

Texas is in the forefront in egg drying, with 13 plants h. dling more than 5,000,000 eggs daily in 19 drying units. William F. Hessler, manager of a dehydrat ing plant at Lamesa, Dawson County, said that his plant, which has facilities for drying 50 tons of vegetables daily, soon will begin drying 200,000 pounds of onions for use by the army.

The conference was addressed Reuben Brigham, vice director of Extension Work, USDA, Washington, D. C., Dr. Robert L. Suthrepresentatives of organizations working with agriculture. Dem-

What We Think (By Frank Dixon)

For the past year almost the Congress has been wrestling with the tax bill that will raise the money to finance the cost of the

Because of its confused thinking, and its fear of election, Congress has considered everything except the implest and most direct method of raising the needed money—the sales tax.

Singularly enough all of the plans given any consideration by Congress follow the same pattern. They seek to take more and still more from the groups already paying the tax through the inco tax. A slight effort has been made to broaden the base of this by lowering exemptions but this negligible and falls far short of producing the desired revenue. It is becoming more and more obvious to every one as it was to Congress in the beginning that a sales tax is inevitable if the war is to be financed. It is conceded though by those who have given the matter any thought that no sales tax will be given consideration until after election.

There are few objections to a sales tax, but there are more arguments in its favor than there is for any of the other plans proposed, when considered impartialin their true economic light.

Businessmen—Let's talk about death! Let's not dodge the issue —let's face facts. A lot of good American fighting men may soon have to die for want of scrap!

If You Fail Some Boy Will Die!

VE'RE talking facts, remember! Such as the fact that steel for every tank, ship and gun must be made of 50% scrap. And the terrible fact that America's mills are starving for this scrap—without enough on hand for even 30 days more production!

Which puts it up to you!

Monday, Oct 5th, starts the big scrap metal drive. And you, as a businessman, have a double job to do. Clean out your home—and scour your place or pusiness, factory, orrice or store... for every single bit of scrap.

And when you see the stockpile grow -for the mills to take when it's needed-be glad that you've done your part . . . that your work may have saved some boy from a needless death!

The OPA has announced that rationing will soon be extended to a number of fields, of which one will probably be clothing. General ration books are now being printed.

Rationing may be used to check excess purchasing power, as well as to protect our supplies of scarce commodities. Many economists seem convinced that it is necessary as a part of the antiinflation campaign.

In these days of stress there is no institution contemplated to sustain the morale of the people as do the churches of our land. It would be a pity to win a war for religious freedom and then awake to the fact that our peo ple have absented themselves from worship in the one institution that stands out with one goal, i. e., the right to worship God according to one's own desires, or possibly more accurately stated, the building of Christian Character. Christian Science Services "Unreality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 4. The Golden Text is: "He that soweth to the Spirit shall of flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting" (Galatians

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. . . . And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof; but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever"

(I John 2:15, 17). The Lesson-Sermon also in-ludes the following passage from he Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man walks in the direction toward which he looks, and where his treasure is, there will his heart be also. If our hopes and affections are spiritual, they come from above, not from beneath, and they bear as of old the fruits of the Spirit' (page 451).

Stores were battened of it, strain it, hurry it to your down. Golf courses and fishing holes were patrolled by guards to see that no one played during the collection period.

At 4 p. m. the drive was over. Mountains of junk had grown in Sweetwater. Employees who had been off duty to aid in the drive went back to work.

To quiet a rumor salvage officials consider worse than Axis propaganda, let's consider the case of the junk dealer in the nation's drive for scrap metals. Many uninformed citizens of Texas have protested against selling their scrap metal to junk deal-Texas is gradually responding ers in the belief that the junkman was making a handsome profit out "Frankly, I'm worried because so many people refuse to turn in their junk simply because it has to go through a junk dealer," said Lewis C. Huff, executive assistant secretary of the Texas Salvage "I don't think it is Axis propa-

States isn't in the junk business.
Just who would handle, process and ship these mountains of rusty The following officers were steel and iron to the steel mills if a licensed, qualified junk dealer didn't do the job?

Huff explained that one-half of to turn in their junk because it has to go through a junk dealer. Certainly it has to go through a junk dealer—that's their business.

"If we didn't have them to sort, grade, collect and prepare this unk for the steel making furnaces the war would soon be over for us. Bear in mind that there are over seventy grades of iron and steel scrap, and over one hundred grades and types of metal. "All of this junk must be carefully and accurately graded and prepared to specifications and then shipped to the mills in carloads in one grade.

"Who else but a junk dealer experience, has the knowledge, experience, equipment and ability to perform this very necessary service?" Does anyone complain about qualified shipbuilders, plane factories or munitions plants doing their essential job? Hardly. The junkman also has his role in this war. The government has no facilities or organization to salvage scrap metal. The government has authorized and ordered junk dealers to co-operate and pay for such scrap metal when delivered to The government has set a ceiling price that these dealers can get for various grades of scrap metal. The junk dealer, therefore, is restricted in the profit he receives for an urgent job. I walked through several scrap yards recently. It's tough work and little profit on these wartime contracts. I saw, and I checked Frankly, it's time we realize that these junk dealers are as important to the war effort in his particular line as any other war ndustry. Citizens should place the winning of the war above anything

Let the United States government, your last hope in a winner-take-all war, handle the business of establishing ceiling prices and method of procuring scrap for the hungry steel mills.
