Crowell Will Play Its Last District Football Game Here Friday Night with Archer City Wildcats as Opponents

Crowell High School football team will be playing its last district game of the season Friday night at 8:30 at Wildcat stadium when it takes on the Archer City Wildcats. This will also be the Wildcats' last home game of the regular season. The game will be the only one of the season to be played on a regular basis. The Archer City boys are expected to be in good form. They were defeated by Valley View 12 to 6 in their only district game this year. The Crowell Wildcats have not been scored on in their district race thus far this season and they will be trying to keep this record clean. Several new boys have been showing up well for Crowell in the last few games and Coach Grady Graves plans on giving them a chance to demonstrate in this important game.

The Wildcats journey to Wellington next week to take on the strong Wellington High School Skyrocks for their last game of their regular schedule.

Soil Conservation District Program Gets Under Way

At a conference Monday night between a number of farmers and representatives of the Extension Service and the State Soil Conservation office, it was decided that the farmers present to go forward with the soil conservation program in Foard County.

At a meeting earlier in the day Quannah the farmers of Harde County expressed a desire to cooperate with the farmers of Foard County in combining the two counties into a district known as the Middle Pease River Soil Conservation District. If this name is approved by all concerned, it has been developed that the State Board would look with disfavor on setting up a district composed of only a single county.

The first step to be taken in securing of a petition containing not less than fifty names to the State Board, asking for a hearing at which time the citizens of the county would make known their wishes in the matter of a conservation district.

In order to go further into the position and with a larger group of people, a meeting has been set for next Saturday, Nov. 13, in the district court room at 2:30 p. m. It is hoped that a good attendance will show up at this meeting.

This meeting will be held in conjunction with the Victory Council meeting to be held at this time.

AAA Community Elections Will Be Held November 18

November 18 is the date that has been set by the State AAA committee for the day on which the communities will hold meetings for the purpose of electing their community committees. The delegate from each community will also be elected to hold a county convention for the purpose of nominating the AAA county committee to serve for the year 1944.

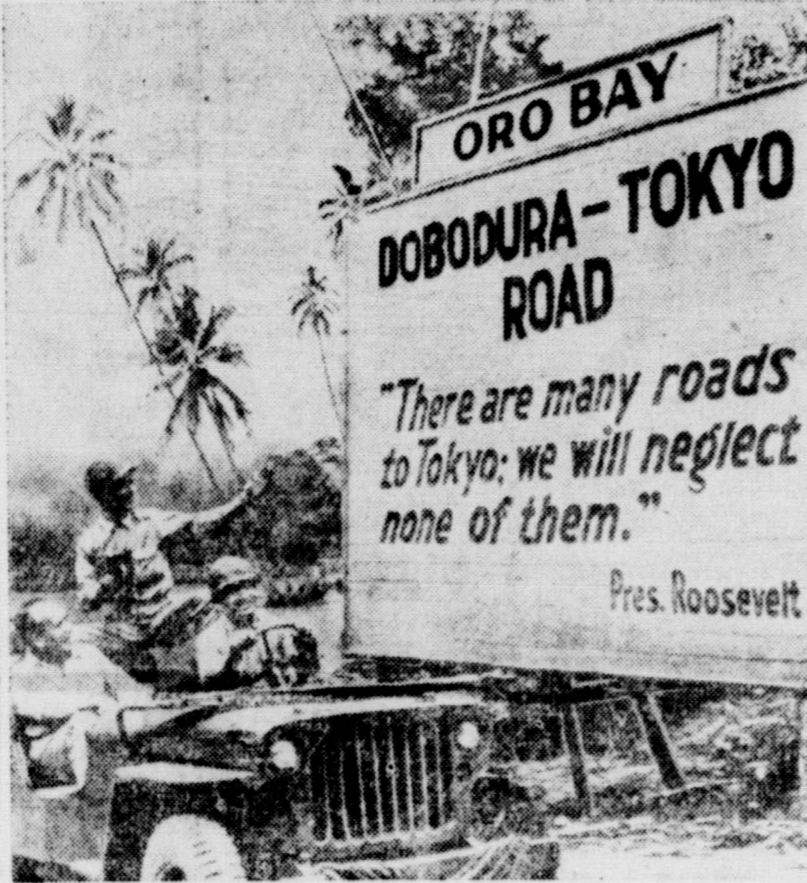

All farmers are requested to go to the voting places on that day and help elect the men that you would have serve in these offices. The communities in which elections will be held are Margate, Thalia, Crowell, Foard County and Vivian.

Crowell Garden Club Makes Change in Date

The Crowell Garden Club will meet Saturday, Nov. 13, at 3 o'clock in the home of Mrs. L. A. Andrews. The change from Friday to Saturday was made because of the conflict with the Red Cross Camp and Hospital Council. As this is war work, the club is glad to relinquish one club meeting date. The program on Flower Arrangement will be in charge of Mrs. Q. V. Winningham.

There are 17,281,502 members of the American Junior Red Cross in this country to build 22,900 medium tanks or 900 destroyers.

Sign of the Times in Southwest Pacific

Two entertainers and their chauffeur read a prediction by President Roosevelt on this huge sign posted along one of our invasion routes in New Guinea. Reading the message are Ray Bulger, atop the rear seat, "Little Jack Little," left, and Col. C. S. Meyers. The entertainers have been putting on shows for the Allied troops in the southwest Pacific.

Junior Red Cross Enrollment Drive Draws to a Close

The annual enrollment for service campaign of the American Junior Red Cross is now drawing to a close. The goal of 100 per cent enrollment has been met in nearly all the schools of Foard County.

During the past year, members of the National Junior Red Cross have made more than 9,000,000 comfort and recreational articles for men in the armed forces, have collected thousands of tons of salvageable materials and have provided help to children of war-stricken nations in many parts of the world.

The remainder of this school year will be a busy one for the Foard County chapter, say those who are in charge of the plans. Attractively decorated menu covers and tray covers for the Christmas holiday meals will be made and sent to near-by army camps. The Juniors will assist the local camp and hospital committee in filling gift boxes to be sent to Sheppard Field. For the hospitals, bedside bags, icebag covers and utility bags will be made.

Library envelopes and cards will be made for the hospital libraries and the younger Juniors will make wash cloths. Later, a home-nursing course and a course in First Aid have been planned.

Assistance to children in many war-stricken countries was provided last year through the Junior Red Cross National Children's Fund. This fund now contains more than $225,000 for use during the coming year.

Christmas Boxes to be Sent to Hospital at Sheppard Field

The Foard County Red Cross and Hospital Hospital Council has been asked to pack 100 gift boxes to be sent to the 1,800 wounded for the service men who may be confined to the Camp Hospital during the holidays.

The boxes, not to exceed fifty cents in value, are to contain four or more small articles such as talcum powder, shaving cream, tooth oil, hand cream, life savers, hard-boiled eggs (shells or contents of fruit cakes), cookies, slices of oranges.

Several organizations have been contacted and each has promised to help. If other organizations or individuals who would like to help, will call Mrs. L. A. Andrews, Mrs. N. J. Roberts or Mrs. A. R. Sanders, they will help save the gasoline necessary to solicit aid in other communities of this county.

The boxes should be packed and delivered to Self Mater Company on Wednesday before Christmas.

FFA Boys Making Plans for Future

The Crowell FFA boys have their project programs well under way for this year. The boys are carrying more crop and less livestock projects, particularly livestock feeding projects. A number of boys have calves but only three of the calves are actually being fed out. Since the boys could see no possibility in making any money on feeding calves, they turned to other projects with a brighter outlook this year.

The Crowell FFA members find themselves host to the FFA chapters in this district this year. Since a number of schools have had to drop Vocational Agriculture, because of a teacher shortage, Crowell is the most centrally located school in the district. The district has held two meetings here since school started and a third is planned for early in December.

At a recent meeting, J. B. Rutland, state adviser, met with the boys and teachers representing each chapter. O. T. Ryan, area supervisor, and W. A. King, defense supervisor, also met with the group. At this meeting the boys elected district officers and set up a program of work for the year. Gordon Erwin from the Crowell chapter, was elected vice president.

The boys plan to hold an off-campus training school next month, following which they will box and have a basketball tournament. They also plan to hold an encampment next spring.

Schools represented at these meetings are Quannah, Chillicothe, center, Monday, Paoucan and Crowell.

While the army is looking around for more men to increase its fighting force it is noted that the number of federal employees of the country is being increased at the rate of 300,000 a year. The new now employed with executive service of the federal government has reached a total of 3,000,000. This number is being added to daily.

WFA Releases Canned Goods
Approximately 2,790,000 cases of canned peaches, peas, and tomato catsup were released to consumers recently by the War Food Administration. The canned goods probably will not reach retail shelves for several weeks. These foods were a portion of the reserves owned and held by canners to meet possible emergency requirements of the government.

Reduce Octane in Gas
Premium gasoline used by civilians will be reduced from 78 and 80-octane to 76-octane to conserve tetraethyl lead and volatile gasoline fractions, both of which are required in the manufacture of high-octane military gasoline. More than 50 million gallons of gasoline, fuel oils, lubricants, and other petroleum products are going directly to the fighting forces every day, the Petroleum Administration for War disclosed. One-third of all gasoline produced in the U. S. is now required for military purposes.

Plenty of Turkeys
The civilian turkey supply, just starting to come on the market, will be almost as large as last year, according to the Department of Agriculture. However, this year's demand will probably be much larger and orders early. Men and women on duty in the American armed forces, at home and abroad, will be served a pound of turkey at dinner Thanksgiving Day and will have all the traditional "fixins'."

V-Mail Christmas Presents
Relatives and friends still have time to send men and women overseas V-Mail notices of war bond gifts for Christmas. The Army Postal Service has assured delivery by December 25 of all V-Mail notices before December 1. War bonds as Christmas gifts will help to hold down inflationary buying of scarce merchandise, and will be a financial cushion for the service man or woman upon return to civilian life, the Treasury Department added.

Raise Hamburger Point Value
The ration point value of hamburger has been increased from seven to eight points per pound. OPA has also broadened its definition of hamburger to include additional meatier cuts of the lower grades of beef.

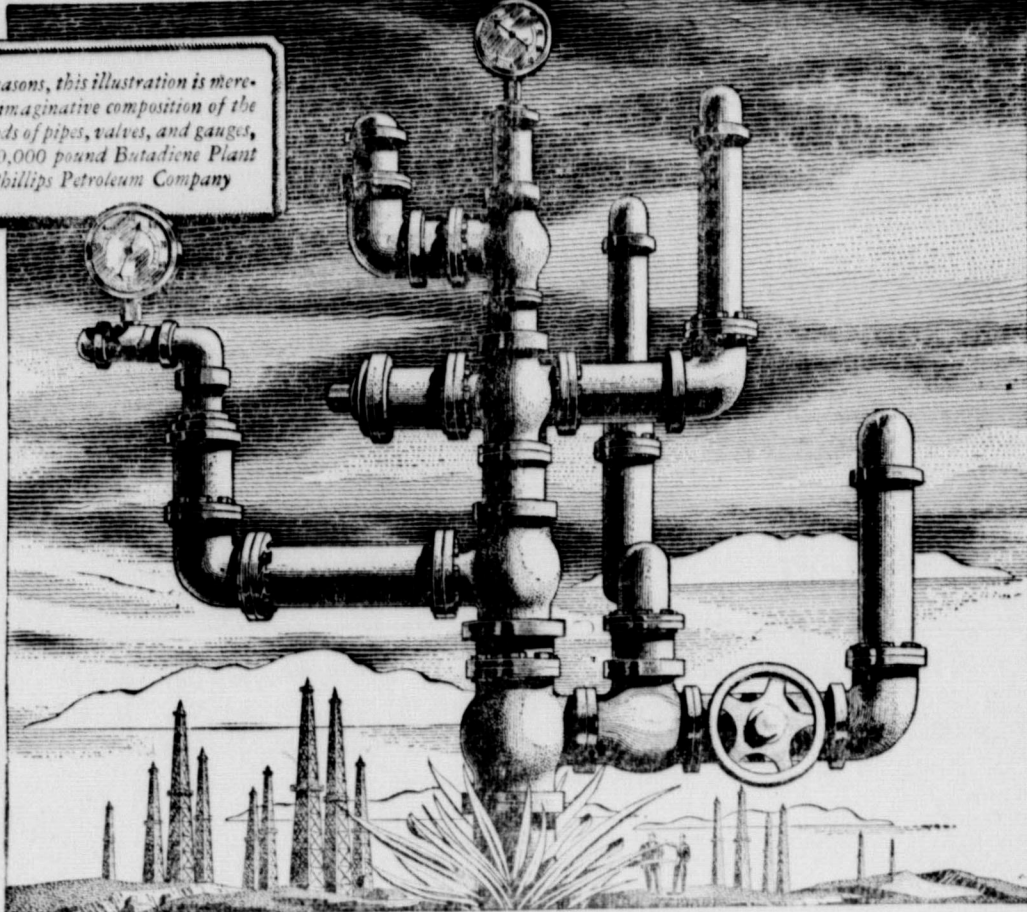

Increase Civilian Food Supply
More peas, beans, rice and cheddar cheese are going to be available for civilian consumption. Supplies have been increased by the removal or reduction of government set-aside orders. Present conditions indicate there will be enough dry beans to provide

Unsalted Butter Price Down
Maximum prices of unsalted butter have been reduced by 3/4 of a cent a pound, which means direct savings to consumers. Other changes made by OPA in the price regulation for butter will act to end inflationary pressures which had arisen. Unsalted butter previously had a 3/4 cent premium over salted butter.

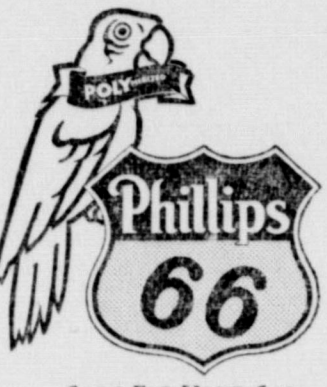

Revise Limit On Farm Construction
The limit on farm construction, including residential, has been placed at $1,000 under a revision of Order L-41 by WPB. Previously, there were separate limits, farm residences not being considered part of the farm unit.

Tire Situation Tightens
Operators of passenger cars may find it impossible to obtain used tires because commercial vehicles delivering essential goods are now eligible to receive used passenger and truck tires of sizes smaller than 7.50-20 to replace tires no longer serviceable. November quotas recently released by OPA for new passenger and truck tires show 30 per cent fewer for trucks and 14 per cent fewer for passenger cars.

No More Issue of Books
One or Two
No more copies of War Ration Books One or Two can be issued by local rationing boards for any purpose whatsoever. All stamps in the two books have expired except stamp 18 in Book One, for shoes, and blue stamps X, Y and Z in Book Two, which may be used to buy processed foods through November 20. OPA said the covers of the two books may be thrown away when the stamps have been used or have expired.

Asks Co-operation on Coal Situation
Consumers and dealers have been urged to co-operate in an effort to alleviate suffering in homes and public institutions which may be without coal. "Consumers who have any coal are urgently requested to refrain from ordering more while their neighbors may be without any," Harold L. Ickes, Solid Fuels Administrator for War, said recently. Retail coal dealers have been asked to check the fuel supply of their customers where the need for coal is most acute. Dealers in communities where coal has been short and weather has turned cold have been directed to get in touch with the area distribution manager of the Solid Fuels Administration so the limited amount of coal may be distributed where most needed.

Ration-Free Children's Shoes
Some relief from the shortage of youngsters' shoes will be provided about the first of the year by a new supply of children's non-leather shoes for general wear, to be sold ration free. OPA has announced. In general, children up to about eight years of age will benefit. The shoes will have canvas uppers and soles made from remnants and heavy woven fabric, reinforced with vulcanized rubber. Shoes of this type larger than misses' and youths' size three will be rationed.

Country Grain Elevator Exempt
Country grain elevator establishments which employ not more than eight individuals now are exempt from applying for War Labor Board approval of wage and salary increases even if the establishments are part of a chain which employs a total of more than eight, according to W.L.B.

were 10,000 miles away in Far Eastern plantations. Today's rubber trees are right in our own front yard.

Only a punctuation mark here separates the two simple sentences above. Actually between them are more than a decade of intensive research, hundreds of millions of dollars, and an almost unbelievable plant-construction program to meet our relentless wartime needs for rubber.

Because Phillips and other American scientists devoted themselves to the problem, the Nation is today, in its hour of need, harvesting a multi-million-ton crop of home-grown rubber!

The butadiene (basic ingredient of synthetic rubber) which Phillips produces is a synthetic chemical. So likewise is Phillips 100 octane gasoline. From petroleum chemicals, too, come explosives, plastics, medicines and anesthetics. The list is almost endless because petroleum and petroleum gases are an overflowing storehouse of hydrocarbons, the chemical raw materials for making an almost limitless number of products.

That is why we say: Every time you see the Phillips 66 Shield, let it remind you that Phillips refineries in addition to producing gasoline, lubricants, and fuel oils, are also gigantic chemical plants, pouring out weapons for victory.

Sales of soft wheat by producers and all other distributors in 34 states east of the Rocky Mountains have been placed under ceilings by OPA. The maximum price established at Chicago and St. Louis is $1.64 1/2 a bushel. Prices at other terminal markets are: Kansas City, $1.59 1/2; Evansville, Ind., $1.66 1/2; Cincinnati, Ohio, $1.68 1/2; Louisville, Ky., $1.68 1/2; Baltimore, $1.78 1/2; Philadelphia, $1.79 1/2; New York City, $1.80 1/2; Boston, $1.81 1/2; Memphis, Tenn., $1.83 1/2; Atlanta, Ga., $1.86 1/2; Galveston, $1.76 1/2. Early Diagnosis and Prompt Treatment, Essentials of Health

Austin.—"It has been well said that procrastination not only is the thief of time, but frequently the thief of health and life." Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, said this week. "Indeed, medical records in doctors' offices and hospitals prove that many persons die not because they are victims of disease but because they do not receive early diagnosis and prompt treatment for their condition..."

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expectorate laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Creomulsion blends beachwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. SAFETY SLOGANS

Victims of guns that some one "didn't know was loaded" are just as dead as those intentionally shot. No one is sufficiently expert to drive a car with his attention divided. Don't drive when you are drowsy. A hog at the table just boosts his own weight, but a hog on the road boosts the accident rate.

Over 300,000 women coming from colleges, desk jobs and homes joined the woman's land army the past summer to pick, sort and grade fruit and vegetables, milk cows, and generally serve as hired hands on farms. Some worked only a few days, other a few months. Thousands of them are staying on through the winter to do "chores" on dairy and poultry farms. They worked hard, long hours and proved sturdy. The general report from one end of the country to the other is that they are doing a fine job.

When the supply ran low in Evansville, Ind., newspapers printed the pledge so the campaign could carry on. Similarly, in West Virginia, 1,020,000 pledge scrolls were printed without charge to relieve a shortage. Newspapers in San Francisco and Wenatchee, Wash., likewise printed the pledge form. Ceramic Stove Model Built The first ceramic cooking stove model to be built in the U. S. was recently demonstrated at the National Bureau of Standards. The stove contains only 80 pounds of metal, mostly cast iron. The pre-war all metal model which it supplants weighed 1,085 pounds. The ceramic stove is designed to be heated with anthracite or coke. It uses only about 10 pounds of fuel in 24 hours and if it is fired every 12 hours, it will be ready for use at any time. It is expected that the first ceramic cooking stoves will reach the market around the first of the year. The purchase price has not been determined yet, but it presumably will be lower than that of the all-metal ones.

And the Lord said unto him, peace be unto thee; fear not, thou shalt not die.—Judges 6:23.

According to a report one of Stalin's post-war plans which appeals to us as having considerable merit is to require the services of ten million Germans now in the army above the rank of Corporal to be taken to Russia and kept there until they have rebuilt all that the German army has destroyed in its campaign in Russia. Another purpose of the plan would be that all German leadership would be in Russian hands, and in Germany, the "Free Germans" would create a government susceptible to, if not actively under, Russian control. All of which shows that Uncle Joe Stalin is doing some thinking of his own in regard to the post-war world.

It has been decided to postpone the court martial of Admiral Kimmel and General Short until the end of the war. Kimmel and Short were in command of the Army and Navy at Pearl Harbor at the time of the Jap raid. Except for the fact that Kimmel and Short were in command at the time their crime was no worse than might well be laid at the door of several congressmen. Up until Pearl Harbor everything that was done for national defense was done in spite of their most persistent and determined opposition. We recall that for this particular opposition, our Pacific air bases would all have been better fortified and better able to withstand the Jap sneak attack. Kimmel and Short were not alone in their delinquency and blindness. This is not a defense of Kimmel and Short it is merely intended to show that they are not the only guilty ones.

An exchange notes that some fools and their money are never parted.

HISTORY

Thanksgiving Day — November 25: The celebration of Thanksgiving as a national religious festival in this country dates from 1863. The credit for the general observance through the nation on the same day is usually given to Mrs. Sarah J. Hill, editor of the Ladies Magazine of Boston. As early as 1827 she began to urge the observance of a uniform day throughout the nation for the expression of thanks for the blessings received during the year. She continued her effort for a number of years through magazines with which she was connected and by writing letters to governors and other influential persons of the day. On October 3, 1863, President Lincoln issued the first national Thanksgiving proclamation setting aside the last Thursday in November as Thanksgiving Day. The day is now observed in every state in the Union. Many of the early day customs are still observed in the celebration of the day, such as a dinner of roast turkey, a dinner of roast turkey, and pumpkin pie for dessert. Historians call attention to the fact that while Thanksgiving proclamations had been issued in this country previous to the proclamation issued by President Lincoln in 1863, President Lincoln's proclamation was the first Thanksgiving proclamation that was not issued to commemorate a bloody victory. Up to that time every proclamation, instead of expressing thanks for the fruits of the field and the harvest, voiced thanks for some bloody victory. Lincoln's proclamation sounded a new note which still maintains in Thanksgiving Day proclamations and observances.

This being a total war, there is an obligation upon all of us no matter how young or humble to participate in it. Our school children have an important place in the war picture. While they are not required to muster a gun, they can help in their own way. It is heartening to report that America's boys and girls are "backing the attack" with all their might. The records of the American Junior Red Cross with its more than 17,000,000 members is a clear indication of it. The Nation's largest youth-serving organization, the Junior Red Cross has harnessed their enthusiasm, patriotism and energies in behalf of the war effort, and the results are truly prodigious: last year 9,000,000 comfort and recreational articles were made for the armed forces—12,000,000 since Pearl Harbor; 100,000 gift boxes were sent abroad for children of allied nations; more than 50,000 tons of salvageable material were collected; more than 300,000 Christmas menu covers made for the U. S. Navy. Even this record will be exceeded during the coming school year because the demand from our armed forces will be greater. However formidable these material results, they cannot be compared to the moral and spiritual values which the school children derive from Junior Red Cross membership. The students develop a sense of altruism which is the motivating force of the American Red Cross. They learn to know the true value of sympathy, compassion and the thrill of helping the other fellow. They recognize the responsibility of the strong to help the weak—of charity in its highest sense.

What We Think (By Frank Dixon)

One of the many problems before Congress is the new tax bill. It promises to occupy the full time of Congress for some time to come. Two purposes are held in view in framing a tax bill at the present time. One is to provide revenue to finance the war, and the other is to drain off the surplus spending power in an effort to prevent inflation. Already a number of plans have been submitted. Some of them sound reasonable, and some of them appear impracticable. In my opinion the Congress should get away from making too many changes in the tax law and confine itself to extensions, improvements or refinements of the existing law. The taxpayer, in addition to being burdened with the payment of the tax itself, is kept in a constant state of bewilderment and confusion by the constant changing of the methods of payment. The payment of taxes is always attended by some difficulty and some inconvenience and some irritation. For this reason it should be streamlined and simplified as much as possible. The simpler it is the less confusion it will cause the taxpayer and the less irritation will result. In my opinion Congress should seek to raise the funds required through the present income tax law, with the possible addition of a number of excise taxes. If a sales tax, for example, is incorporated in the bill it will require an additional force of collectors and clerks and personnel in the collector's office. The same thing will be true of any of the new plans suggested. Why would it not be better to raise the needed money by means of the present income tax law. To accomplish this, exemptions would have to be lowered, and the rates increased. After all is said and done taxes are going to be paid by those who earn the money. Those who do not earn money obviously cannot pay taxes, at least not for long. The pay-as-you-go provision could be included in the tax bill in order to insure the collection of taxes from wage earners who might not be easy to locate when tax paying time came around or who would not save enough during the year to pay their taxes unless some such plan were adopted. This plan and a system of excise taxes should not only collect all the money that can be collected by taxes but would put an effectual brake on spending. The schedule of excise taxes could be set up in such a way that it would furnish an effectual brake against all forms of luxury spending and would drain off surplus spending power. I favor this plan because it appears the simplest plan, the most direct plan. It has been in operation long enough to prove its effectiveness. The taxpayers understand it and bookkeeping systems are set up to take care of it. In addition to this, and this is an important item at this time when federal payrolls are fast reaching staggering proportions, the present force of the Revenue Collector's office could handle the collection of the taxes. Before adopting any new and untried plans, Congress should, in my opinion, make full use of the plan and the machinery to handle it that is already in successful operation.

Mr. Roberts was not at home, but Mrs. Roberts heard an unusual noise at the lot and found their fine colt almost strangled, its head being wedged between two slats of the fence. She summoned help and the colt was taken from its perilous position without harm.

Cut Dutch Horse Meat Ration Nazi occupation authorities in Holland have even cut the Dutch horse meat ration one-third. The weekly meat ration coupons, which used to be good for 150 grams of horse meat now are good for only 100 grams, or about two ounces, according to a report published in a German language daily in Holland.

Pool Coal in Australia Coal stocks of consumers throughout Australia will be cut by 12 1/2 per cent and stocks held by all users will be regarded as part of the common pool, according to a recent announcement by the Commonwealth Coal Commissioner. Coal production is highest it has been since the war began but it still does not equal the demand of the war industries. Approve Inter-American University The creation of an Inter-American University in Panama was unanimously approved at the recent conference of Ministers and Directors of Education of the American Republics. Addressing the delegates, President Ricardo Adolfo De La Guardia of Panama, expressed the belief that the conference would bring good results "for the social and cultural development of the 21 Republics... we are taking part in the most bloody and terrible struggle that history has ever seen... all this sacrifice and suffering," he declared, "has meaning and value through the certainty that we are fighting to abolish injustice and tyranny in the organization of nations."

British Women Get Spider-Web Collecting spider web for precision sighting instruments is one of the duties performed by women in the British Auxiliary Territorial Service. October spider-web in Great Britain, according to experts, is most suitable for the sighting instruments. The collection requires a delicate touch and a steady hand. The woman spider collector catches a spider from one hand and drops it from the other. As the spider falls, it spins a fine web. This strand is attached to a metal frame smeared with shellac, and the frames are stored for future use. When this fine strand is not fine enough, ATS crafts-women split a strand in two under the microscope.

Entertainment Goes On Women of half-a-dozen nationalities are serving as entertainers in the front line entertainment service with the Red Army. Shows are staged in dug-outs, dwelling houses, in open fields and woods. Concerts often take place no more than a few hundred yards from the enemy lines. Here is a description of such a concert from a letter written by a young Czechoslovak girl singer to her fiancé who is a bomber pilot in Britain: "Just as I began my second song there was a sudden scream as a shell went over. Then the sound of enemy bombers. The whole building was rocked by a terrific explosion. Then the lights went out. I tried to keep on singing but the smell of cordite was too great. I felt as though I was choking. Then mercifully someone lit a kerosene lamp. In the dim light and through the dust I could make out some wreckage, and the Red Cross workers moving forward with stretchers. Then my throat and eyes cleared and I fixed my eyes on what had been the roof at the end of the hall and I went on singing."

stripping the quinine forests of Java and that, for years after Allied liberation of the island, the world may be without its great quinine production were expressed in a Melbourne, Australia, Dutch language publication by Netherlands East Indies experts. In peacetime, Java produced 95 per cent of the world's supply of quinine, the most effective drug in the treatment of malaria. Cinchona Seeds To Latin America Since that day when two million Cinchona seeds were snatched from under the noses of the Japanese after the fall of Batavia, in the Philippines, more than 110,000 seedlings grown from these seeds have been shipped to Peru, Ecuador, El Salvador, Nicaragua to start the quinine industry for the Western Hemisphere. When the Japs closed on Batavia, an American Colonel packed two million seeds in two small cans and set out for Australia in a Flying Fortress. Two Jap planes attacked, but the Fortress reached Port Darwin after dark with one of its engines silenced. From here he took the seeds to General MacArthur's headquarters, thence by boat to San Francisco and by army train to Washington where he turned them over to Department of Agriculture.

Brief Bits of News From Here and There

In the early 1870's a party of German Mennonites out of the Russian Crimea fearing religious persecution immigrated to Kansas. They brought with them the first hard winter wheat ever seen in America. From that start the winter wheat belt spread from Northern Texas to the Canadian line on the north. During the past month Kansas farmer organizations purchased and started to Russia 6,000 bushels of Ten Marj hard winter wheat to help resseed some of the devastated areas in Russia. Said Jake Mohler, secretary of the Kansas State Board of Agriculture, "We're paying some of the interest on an old debt."

The September output of war planes in the United States was slightly under 8,000.

Jean Hersholt, motion picture and radio actor, is giving up the pictures to give his full attention to war work. Hersholt is president of the Denmark-American Association and feels that he must give his full time to the work. Hersholt won recognition as the country doctor in the picture of the "Dionne quintuplets."

According to a report by a tourist the Leaning Tower of Pisa is not an accident. It was constructed that manner by the builders as a freak and to attract tourists. A traveler who took occasion to go below the surface and examine the foundation states that the tower is bolted to a massive foundation and was intentionally constructed "off balance."

The best answer to the arm chair strategists who predict that the war will be over by Christmas is found in the following interesting facts collected by Allied military and naval intelligence: Hitler has replaced and equipped the twenty divisions lost at Stalingrad. The Nazi army is bigger than ever. The Nazi air force is stronger than it was in 1939. The number of workers in German factories has been increased by 50 per cent or 12,000,000. The German food ration is better now than at the outbreak of the war. In the far east we are 3,000 miles from Tokyo and have not yet reached the real strongholds of Jap resistance. The Japs have 2,000,000 men of military age whom they have not yet called and as many more in the seventeen to twenty age group. Their air strength is increasing in number and in quality. They are developing the resources taken from us, the British and the Dutch in 1942. According to General George V. Strong, Chief of the American Military Intelligence, we still have a strong foe to face.

100,000 Gift Boxes are sent abroad each year by members of the Junior Red Cross to England, Iceland, Ireland, Alaska, and 15 Central American countries.

C. H. S. Reserves, Quanah Reserves Play 6 to 6 Tie

The Crowell High School football reserves and the Quanah High School football reserves played to a 6-6 tie here Monday afternoon. Quanah scored in the third quarter on a running play by Bud Conley. Quanah's fullback off its regular team, Crowell scored in the fourth quarter on a similar play run over by Kendrick Joy. Path teams failed to convert the extra point to leave the score tied 6 to 6. Quanah set its touchdown up by a well executed screen pass play that netted forty yards. The Wildkittens got under way for its touchdown drive when Joy returned the kick-off following Quanah's touchdown back past the middle of the field. Besides Joy, Ray Tamplin, J. V. Cunningham, Craig Sandlin, and O. C. Wharton looked exceptionally well for the Wildkittens.

Jobs for Tomorrow

(By Philip Lovejoy, General Secretary, Rotary International.)

"What the U. S. A. needs to solve the economic problems which will follow in the wake of the war is 130,000,000 individual postwar plans," says Paul G. Hoffman, president of the Studebaker Corporation and chairman of the Committee for Economic Development. "We businessmen should lay our plans now," he continued in a recent article in "The Rotarian" magazine, "to build a postwar Work Pile of waiting jobs which will take care of the vast majority of men and women who will want to work." Here's the contribution one man is making in this tremendously important undertaking:

Jay C. Hornel is one of the top national leaders in an effort to maintain high employment in the United States after the war. He is a member of the Committee on Participation of Rotarians in the Postwar World, and he is a trustee of the Committee for Economic Development. In his packing company in Austin, Minn., his 4,000 employees receive a guaranteed annual wage, but Mr. Hornel's concept of employer-responsibility goes far beyond that. He has assured all of his 1,100 employees in military service that jobs will be awaiting them upon their return to civilian life, and he has assured civilians who took their places that they will be employed for at least one year after the war. Hornel has also set up a planning committee in his organization to originate and carry through projects for making it possible to maintain enough employment in his plant to provide these jobs.

One of the several active forces in the postwar planning movement is Rotary International. For the last two years its Committee on Participation of Rotarians in the Postwar World has been carrying on intensive studies of the problems which must be faced after the war. Rotary clubs throughout the world have also been giving careful study to these problems and have arranged programs to assist in developing an informed public opinion.

This Rotary committee will continue with its long-range program. At the same time, however, it is now concentrating its energies on the Work Pile plan because the best of long-range plans will fail if there should be a period of serious unemployment at the end of the war. The Work Pile plan seems to be one of the safest and surest ways of preventing such a collapse.

The Work Pile is a plan for discovering and cataloguing jobs for the day the war is over. Originating with the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, it now has been adopted by Rotary International as the No. 1 project for 1943-44—next to helping win the war—for its 5,200 Rotary clubs throughout the world. "We can—we must—avoid a devastating period of unemployment after the war," says Charles L. Wheeler, manager of the McCormick Steamship Co. of San Francisco and president of Rotary International. "and it's surprising what can be accomplished when you don't care who gets the credit. Thus, many of the other service clubs are pooling their efforts with Rotary to see that every member of every service club will be doing his part in this drive to provide jobs after the war."

Paul B. McKee, president of the Portland (Ore.) Gas and Coke Co., and of the Pacific Power and Light Co., is a member of the Committee for Economic Development and is chairman of the Committee on Participation of Rotarians in the Postwar World. "Our Rotary committee," says Mr. McKee, "has been given the responsibility of organizing a world-wide campaign to help build up a great Work Pile which will assist in planning postwar jobs. We Rotarians are not alone in this task. In the United States, for example, Rotary is working with the Committee for Economic Development, the Chamber of Commerce, the National Association of Manufacturers, and the Selective Service Board. It doesn't make any difference who gets the credit if the work is done well.

"An important phase of the postwar Work Pile is the interview with industrial executives, wholesalers, retailers, professional men and householders. The problem lies not so much in large corporations, most of which have already laid their postwar plans, but in the little fellow. He is the chap who needs a new sign on his store, a new roof on his home, or a new chicken-house on his farm. He is important because there are so many of him. These surveys will also disclose plans for local public works—hospitals, water system improvements, playgrounds, and so on—with an indication of what they mean in terms of employment of former service men. Eventually the data will be sifted, correlated and consolidated and when added to similar information from thousands of other communities, we shall have some very good news for the boys now fighting and sweating on the battle fronts of the world.

"An immense stock pile of jobs ready and waiting for the ex-servicemen is going to be the best answer we can possibly give to those who say that the sun has set on individual enterprise and effort."

The Work Pile plan is not a complete postwar plan. It is just a plain, ordinary, down-to-earth method for providing jobs for demobilized service men and war workers in the postwar period. The Work Pile is a compilation of exact information on the work which firms and individuals are ready to start the day the war ends. It is the work which will bridge the unemployment gap following the war. It brings postwar planning down to the individual citizen and makes each one part of this important program.

The Work Pile is the shock-absorber for that transition period between the end of the war and the return to stable peacetime levels. Confidence must be established through having the public learn how much work there is to be done and having the service men and workers see how many jobs this work will provide. That is why inventories of work to be done must be made.

The Work Pile will not create new needs, but it will cause everyone to get ready to provide employment when it is most needed—in the critical period immediately following the cessation of hostilities. The objective is to get every businessman, every householder, every farmer, to help right now in formulating plans for providing employment for demobilized soldiers and war workers.

The first reason why we are planning now for the postwar world, is that if we don't plan right now while we are fighting—if we are not ready to provide jobs

In order to meet government requirements for obtaining priority for the purchase of the necessary equipment, at least 60 per cent of the individual lockers must be leased at once. If you are interested in the possibility of having a frozen food locker right at home, where you can insure the preservation of your foods during this time of stress when it is absolutely necessary to have no waste of food whatever, see me at once. BILL AND JOE
 We glance around and about our many school friends, and we think, "Well, I believe I like Bill the best of all my friends," or "I think Joe would be a good old pal to have," or "Nancy would be a more attractive girl if she would study." I want you to meet two of my friends; suppose we name them Bill and Joe since these are two well-known American names.

Now take Bill for instance. There is a good guy to know. He is very industrious and he never says "I can't" until he is positive. He doesn't make excellent grades in school, but he doesn't flunk any courses either. Of course, he can't dress too well because his family is rather poor; however, he is always neat and well groomed. Does he have a personality? And how. He is everyone's friend, always willing to help anyone. There is one regular fellow! It's too bad there aren't more like him.

And Joe—poor Joe, always trying but never quite making a go of anything. That boy has brains, but he never uses them. There is always some little thing he has to do—see a certain movie, or go "loafing" with the gang. And it's an absolute shame the way he abuses his clothes. He could look so neat and attractive if he would only try. But then, that's Joe. Everyone likes Joe, but he is so silly, and self-centered; he is hard to get along with. He is very "wishey-washy," and that is one reason he isn't as popular as Bill and some of the other boys in his class. We all try to help him. Poor Joe!

Are you a Joe or a Bill?

LIBRARY NEWS

The High School Library is in receipt of two of the new books that have been ordered. "The Lieutenant's Lady," written by Best Suterer Aldrich, is an adventurous romance in which the setting is the frontier of seventy-five years ago. These are the first two of many new books which will be in the library before long. Keep watching for later announcements of new books.

dition, not worn off. Anklets should never be too small because they will slip down in the slippers and look ugly. Sweaters should not fit tightly.

Boys abhor girls who wear boy's clothes, especially on all occasions.

—Helen Callaway.

For some time, in fact for several centuries, it has been the custom of the women to wear dresses. But today the times seem to be changing. Today half the girls are wearing slacks. If they would go no further, it would not be so bad; but they insist that they do not look enough like men; so they buy Levis and bright plaid shirts to wear to school. Maybe the girls may be comfortable in their Levis and they may think that they look well, but it has been the custom in the past that the girls try to dress so that the opposite sex will not dislike the very sight of them. Levis were originally made for work trousers for men.

—Alton Griffin.

A well groomed boy is something that every girl admires. Simple clothing that is cared for is more attractive than a loud colored suit. I don't care for a boy who slicks his hair to his head or tries to make it curly when it is straight. He should keep it neatly in place. His shoes should be shined, and he should try to wear socks that do not attract everybody's attention. He should avoid the use of loud shaving lotion.

—Mary Adkins.

I particularly like to see a boy who is thoughtful enough to care how his clothes hang on him. Especially when he comes to school. Some seem to think that since school is just an everyday occasion, it really doesn't matter how they look. They feel at home in their old worn-out clothes. Comments are always being made about the time a girl takes with her hair. Maybe she shouldn't take so much time, but something which I consider worse than that is when a boy has his hair plastered to his head with hair oil. The cleaning of finger nails is another weak spot in some boys' grooming. I certainly don't classify a boy as a sissy if he is conscious enough of himself to groom himself carefully.

—Mildred Marlow.

The opposite sex sometimes go to the extreme on the act of dressing. A girl with lipstick and rouge used sparingly, hair well brushed, and a simple but attractive dress is my idea of a well groomed girl. I think that Levis and slacks should be worn only on picnic or outdoor sports. Trousers were made for men, and not for women. A neat girl is very pleasing to the eye. Neatness is the most important factor in dressing. Some girls spend a great deal of their time painting their faces and nails. They usually are the artificial type and are really not very well groomed.

—Billy Fred Short

My idea of a well groomed boy is not one who dresses very expensively.

He should be clean with that well scrubbed look. Being dirty about oneself is inexcusable because everyone can be clean. Soap and water are plentiful and cheap. Shoes shined help a great deal in one's appearance and also helps that vital leather. Hair should be brushed neatly but not dripping with hair oil.

There is a saying about a girl's posture that might be applied to a boy's too. "Poise not pose." This quotation could be applied to everyone. The well groomed boy should wear clothes with colors that blend as much as possible, and a careful selection of the clothes he buys.

Last but not least, he should not forget his prized possession—his tooth brush, and not go around needing an Ipana tooth paste add attached to his back.

—Jane Roark.

REHEARSALS CONTINUE

In spite of cold weather and many such "grievances"—the show must go on. And it is! The cast of "Professor, How Could You," is rehearsing several nights of each week, and the play has been shown numerous improvements. The date has not been announced, but it will probably be around the middle of December. Keep watching this column for further announcements.

WHAT'S BUZZIN'

Greetings to all you droops that dig a jerks five. We are here again to give the low down for another week.

In answer to a question about one Vernon Garrett and Joan Barron, it looks like a lasting proposition. They have been seen together quite a bit lately.

Miss Sharon Sue Haney has been tripping a light fantastic with one James Browning. They were running around in a Buick Sunday afternoon.

In the case of our casanova (Superman) Bill Breedlove, after snooping around we find that his new love life is none other than Bobbie Lee McDaniel.

Miss Bessie Gamble and Doris Jean Breedlove were seen at Vernon last Saturday night with a couple of lieutenants.

Billy Fred Short's latest heart throb is that of Doris Johnson.

At the show Sunday evening we saw Martin Jones and Jane Roark. Could there be a very bad case between them? After all, Edgar Allen Johnson comes in somewhere.

Helen, you had better be careful or you might lose your "Babe," because it looked like he was doing all right Saturday night with Betty Johnson.

The old steadies were together again Saturday night. We are talking about Bill Cox and Mildred Marlow.

What happened to our boys Saturday night? They were not in town; at least most of them were not. Did they go to Vernon, Quanah, or some other town for a change?

From all reports, everything is getting along as well as could be expected—we're referring to Nancy Godwin and A. Y. Good luck!

After a slight trouble, Betty Johnson is again "perking" about. Oh well, some people.

Miss Motley is still carrying on a correspondence with Oregon. Hummm!

Well, so long for now.
 Bye, the Cuzzins.

AGRICULTURE

(D. F. Eaton, County Agent.)

NOTICE OF MEETING OF COUNTY VICTORY COUNCIL

On next Saturday, Nov. 13, the Foard County Victory Council will meet here in Crowell to put into motion the county-wide scrap drive.

It will be the purpose of this organization to contact every farm in the county for any available surplus of scrap iron which may be obtained from war use.

The scrap iron situation has become so acute that we cannot afford to pass up this opportunity without giving every possible effort to get this material moved into town.

In order to get the job done thoroughly we will have to have the co-operation of everyone throughout the county.

This is just another war job to be done to forward the war production program and is just as important as producing food and other war material.

Unless this scrap moves rapidly and promptly into the steel manufacturing centers many mills will have to shut down their furnaces as this scrap is essential to the manufacture of steel. To be used in the production of tanks, guns, tractors, jeeps, airplanes and hundreds of other types of war equipment.

Therefore let us become scrap conscious and every time we see a piece of useless metal let's get it in to market at once.

To Name A Liberty Ship

The 4-H Club members of Texas have been given the privilege of naming a Liberty Ship, in recognition of their wonderful war-food production record.

Members of the various clubs will make their nominations during the month of November, according to the county agent and home demonstration agent, Miss Elizabeth Elliott. Some one who has been prominent in Texas history in the past will be nominated. Some one who has contributed to the improvement of country life.

The name of the person get-ling the most votes in the county will be submitted to the state office together with a one hundred word biographical sketch of his life.

When reports are collected over the state, the names of five persons receiving the largest number of votes will be submitted to the U. S. Maritime Commission for the final selection.

In a letter addressed to all 4-H Club members of the United States, Chairman Emory S. Land of the U. S. Maritime Commission, asked them to help name a Liberty Ship and congratulate them on the work they "are doing to bring to the world peace and human freedom."

The members of Foard County 4-H Clubs are entering into this contest with enthusiasm.

Farm Slaughter Regulations

Farm families who have been operating "meat slaughter circles" can continue to slaughter their own meat, without obtaining a farm slaughter permit and without exchanging points among themselves.

It is necessary that a record be kept of the division of the meat so we are informed. One of the group must have raised the animal which was killed. Of course, any one can kill meat that has been raised on the farm and this meat may be used in the home or put in a freezer locker without giving up ration points.

Families may also slaughter meat for home consumption without giving up ration points if they owned the animal sixty days prior to slaughter or if the weight of the animal increased at least 35 per cent between the time the animal was acquired and the time of slaughter. Provided he has resided on the farm at least six months of the past year.

For families who sell meat, the slaughterer must obtain a permit from his county USDA War Board and he must grade it and follow the regulations governing sale of meat.

One of the treasury statements that we want to dispute is that the average dollar bill lasts nine months.

Two Minute Sermon (By Thomas Hastwell)

The Greatest Economic Loss: I heard a very interesting address the other day by an able speaker and thinker who spoke upon the subject of economic waste. He pointed out in a most interesting manner that in many of our operations today, remarkable though they are, we are operating at a surprisingly low degree of efficiency. Because of this lack of efficiency our economic gains are but a fraction of what they would otherwise be. He also pointed out that one of the big advances in the world of tomorrow will be when we learn how to turn this waste and secure a return for the effort expended on every possible phase of wasted and misdirected economic wastes of all kinds. This is one of the human life can never be ed. It is gone forever. He gave to man the perfect an efficient and useful life. The case of most of our economic industrial practices know no better way, but of an efficient and useful life be known by every man.

Christian Science Services "Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 14. The Golden Text is: "If ye live after the flesh, ye shall die: but if ye through the Spirit do mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live" (Romans 8:13).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For in him we live, and move, and have our being; as certain also of your own poets have said. For we are also his offspring" (Acts 17:28).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Immortal man is not and never was material, but always spiritual and eternal" (page 336).

should have been appointed to another work. In case there is a chance the newly appointed pastor will be responsible for such services as may be held. We are delighted with the increased interest in the past few weeks. To those attending no church, aren't you finding the need of such association in these distressing days. Possibly the church is not furnishing you with what you feel that you need. In any case the church is very fundamental to our general needs and certainly is endeavoring to be of more service. Give it a fair trial, won't you? H. A. LONGINO, Pastor.

Weekly Sermon

By Robert L. Constable, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago. Sons of God

"Now are we the sons of God" (1 John 3:2). These words are addressed to all who through faith in Christ have been born into the family of God and have His life resident in them.

That they are children of God, or members of His family, is something most Christians will admit. But let someone say, "Now are we the sons of God," and they begin to get uncomfortable and want to hedge a bit. For to be a son of God implies all that it meant to the older brother of the prodigal son. His father said, "All that is mine is thine." And to be a son of God means that all that is His is ours.

The devil has made us afraid to claim what is ours. He points out our weaknesses and our failings, and makes us fear lest we presume too much. While we hesitate he does his work with little competition, because we've lost the realization of the power and authority that are ours by right of our sonship to God.

It is neither pride nor presumption to claim as our father the one from whom we have received our natural life, however great he may be. Will it be high-minded for Colin Kelly II in the years to come to say, "Colin Kelly was my father"? No, rather we expect him to glory in the fact, and strive to live up to the standard that his father set... to use the strength, courage, steadfastness, and character his father has passed on to him... to follow in his steps, and to honor his father in his life.

And so with us as sons of God. As many as believe on Him, to them gives He the power to become sons of God, even to them that believe on His name (John 1:12). "And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father. Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son; and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ" (Gal. 4:6, 7).

As sons of God we have His life, a life that is vibrant, that abounds. As sons of God we have His Spirit, the same Spirit by which Christ rose from the dead... the Spirit of love, of power, and of a sound mind.

If sons of God then heirs, heirs of God and joint heirs with Jesus Christ... brethren of Christ with the same opportunities to call upon the Father for help and strength that He had; with the same Spirit to guide and use us that He had; with the same great purpose in our lives that He had, to do the Father's will; and with the same glorious home ahead for us to be with Christ in glory.

Now are we the sons of God! Let us take hold of this fact, and our lives will have power and our words will have authority with

Some idea of the danger of inflation and the ends to which it can go may be gained from an incident describing what happened in Germany following World War I, due to uncontrolled inflation. A letter mailed to America in 1923 at the time of Germany's inflation required postage stamps that in normal times would be worth a billion dollars in American money. Each of the twenty stamps on the envelope has a valuation of 200 million marks. Prior to Germany's inflation the mark was about 25 cents in American money.

Crowell Wildcats Defeat Childress by Score of 37-0

The Crowell High School football team ran up its largest score of the season last Friday night at Childress when it defeated a team composed of four of Childress reserves by a 37 to 0 count. Childress has eleven games on its schedule and any one boy can play in only ten games. Five regulars on the Childress team were held out of the Burk Burnett game to be played against the Wildcats, but one of the boys was crippled in the Vernon game and was unable to play against Crowell.

The Wildcats scored their initial touchdown early in the first quarter after the Childress punter failed to get his kick off to give Crowell possession of the ball on Childress' twenty-nine yard line. Pat McDaniel made the touchdown on a line plunge from the five yard line. Kenneth Archer ran the extra point over. Crowell scored again in this quarter when Archer plunged over from the four yard line after all members of the Wildcat backfield had taken turns in advancing the ball down field. The extra point failed to materialize leaving the score 13 to 0 at the end of the first quarter.

The Wildcats made another six points in the second quarter when Archer intercepted a Bobcat pass and ran it back forty yards for the touchdown. The half ended with Crowell in the lead by 19 points. The Wildcats drove to Childress' two yard line in the third quarter on some well executed plays but the Bobcats held and took possession of the ball. Archer received a leg injury at this point and had to be removed from the game. A few plays later McDaniel intercepted another Bobcat pass and ran it back for Crowell's fourth touchdown to make the score 25 to 0. Ray Tamplin, Crowell's right end, also intercepted a Childress pass in this quarter and made a brilliant thirty yard run to the Bobcats' seven yard line. McDaniel drove over for the counter to boost Crowell's score to 31 points. At the beginning of the fourth quarter nine reserves went into the game for Crowell and line plays featuring Craig Sandlin and Kendrick Joy resulted in the Wildcats' last touchdown. Joy made the last five yards of this drive on an end run. A "would be" tackler had him prac-

Another Tribute to "Mr. Dooley"

CIVILIAN AWARDS
Testimony to the effect that the stimulus of the Army-Navy "E" and the Maritime "M" production awards has been very great constantly is accumulating. Both management and labor on the home front have been helped to even greater efforts and devotion by these recognitions of the vital materials of war. Now both directors and workers in a category other than those previously recognized are to receive an achievement award for work well done. These are the seasonal processors of food. The fact that they are not year-round operators makes them ineligible for Army-Navy "E" recognition. But if they are to receive the badge of honor they are to receive the award of the War Food Administration's "A" flag. Qualifications considered in selection for the award will include ingenuity in the development of war food products, low absenteeism, cooperation in the various food purchase programs, accident prevention and the like.

A number of vital factors on the home front still lack recognition in the form of public awards. The power and utility companies, the communications and utility roads do not fall within the technical requirements for existing awards. There would seem to be little reason why the powerful incentive which existing awards for merit have supplied should not be extended to such fundamentally important elements as the electric light and power industry, which has shown an increase of 73 per cent in its kilowatt hour output since 1939; or the telephone industry, which has shown an increase of 93 per cent more long-distance calls than in 1939; or the American railroads, which in 1942 increased the ton miles moved as compared with 1939 by 135 per cent and the passenger miles by 92 per cent in the same period. The service industries have done and are doing an outstanding war job. They, too, deserve an accolade.

* We have prepared a booklet, "Bill Bailey Got the Credit But the Man Behind the Gun Was Mr. Dooley", of particular interest to the Power Utilities, the Railroads, the Telephone Industry, and the Electrical Wholesalers.
