Miller, Administrative Officer, AAA, who reviewed price schedules which were made effective by Congress' provision for carrying out the support price program.

A brief summary of the support price program for principle farm products grown in Foard County is given below. Complete information on methods to be used for supporting prices on the various commodities may be obtained at the County AAA office.

Peanuts—The War Food Administration will be the only authorized buyer of 1944 crop peanuts and will enter into contracts with shellers, crushers and producer co-operative associations under which they will agree to purchase peanuts from producers for the accounts of the Administration at $160 per ton for Spanish, Virginia and Valencia types and $145 per ton for runner types.

Barley—Non-recourse loans on barley stored on farms or in warehouses at 85 cents per bushel—a deduction of 7 cents per bushel for warehouse stored barley, unless the storage is paid through April 30, 1945.

Small Farmers Urged Not to Abandon Diversified Farming

A plea that small farmers not abandon diversified farming in favor of the old, dangerous, one-crop system was voiced here this week by Julian Wright, County Supervisor for the Farm Security Administration.

"Some farmers are being tempted by especially high prices for certain crops and livestock items to specialize in those products at the expense of their other farming enterprises," Mr. Wright pointed out. "Diversified farming, which means a well-rounded program of many small farming enterprises, is the only safe way for little farmers to follow," the FSA supervisor emphasized.

FSA since its inception has advocated diversification. It charges the one-crop system with responsibility for many of the ills of southern agriculture in depression and pre-depression years. FSA families, according to Mr. Wright, are shown the advantage of having many, rather than one, enterprise. Cows, poultry, hogs, feed, cash crops and vegetable gardens are part of every FSA family's inventory.

"The only way the small farmer, the family-type farmer who is the true backbone of our democracy, will survive and make a contribution to the nation's food needs is through diversification," the supervisor said. "Let the big industrialized farm do the specializing. By diversifying, the little farmer has protection should one or two of his crops fail in a certain year."

Bond Election Held Saturday for Purpose of Financing Water System Received Only One Dissenting Vote

The heaviest vote polled in a City election in many years was cast Saturday in the bond election authorizing the City Council to issue water revenue bonds in the amount of $130,000 to improve the water system and bring to Crowell an ample supply of good water. The vote was 311 for and 1 against.

The improvements will include the drilling of six wells north of Margaret, where a water sand has been termed adequate to supply the town; laying of a 6-inch pipe line from the wells to Crowell, a distance of 45,000 feet; construction of two 50,000 gallon concrete storage reservoirs, one at the site of the wells and the other within the city; and adding of lines to the distribution system to insure better service and enable more tie-ins to the service.

Cost of the wells, the pipe line and the reservoirs has been estimated at $80,000 to $90,000 and the cost of the improvements to the distribution system at $25,000 to $30,000.

City officials say the work will be started immediately and is expected to be completed in approximately 90 days. The officials and the citizens of Crowell are greatly pleased with the result of the election and everyone is looking forward to the time when the city will have an abundant supply of good water.

Extensive Program of Improvement at Crowell Cemetery

In a letter to the people, Mrs. N. J. Roberts, president of the Cemetery Association, explains the plans for improvement of the cemetery and asks for co-operation in completing the work. She states the following donations since last week: Mrs. T. S. Patton, $2.00; Mrs. Annie Ayers, Scottsboro, Ky., $5.00; Jim Cook, $5.00.

Mrs. Roberts says: "Right now there is a much needed improvement program under way at the cemetery. The old shed has been removed from the center, the building which has housed the sexton for the last half a century has been torn down and very livable sexton's quarters are under construction.

"The streets running north and west from the center of the cemetery are being graded and graveled and a nice assortment of evergreens has been planted where the shed stood. It is hoped that at an early date the water can be turned into the mains leading to the grounds.

"This all requires a sizable sum of money and labor, and if there are yet those who have neglected to include 'cemetery upkeep' in their annual budget, this would be an ideal time to make a contribution. However, large or small, every dime spent on this work is for a cause we all love."

Spring Training for C. H. S. Football Team in Progress

Spring training for the Crowell High School football team has been progressing satisfactorily according to Coach Grady Graves. Over thirty boys have been reporting daily for workouts. However, due to the rain the workouts were confined to the gymnasium on Tuesday of this week.

The first regular scrimmage will be held this afternoon against a group of Exes. It looks like Pat McDaniel and John Carter, half-backs in the backfield, will have Kendrick Joy and Ray Templen as starters with them in the ball carrying department. However, Carlos McBeath, Horace Todd, and several other boys have been showing up good in the backfield. Of course, O. C. Wharton and Glen Taylor are sure of their positions in the line, but several reserves are showing up about as well. J. V. Cunningham, Kenneth Payne and R. E. Johnson have the edge on the other new boys. J. L. Brock, Bobby Cooper, Howard Bell, Joe Mason, Travis Veera and Donald Lewis are other new boys that should get lots of attention before the "first string" has been definitely selected.

Crowell should have a splendid "B" team next fall as a large number of freshmen and sophomores are taking a great deal of interest in the workouts. This group is composed of V. Bond, Bill Breedlove, Larry Woods, Jimmy Johnson, R. L. Ballard, J. C. Patton, Henry White, J. C. Autrey, Jerry Westbrook, Charley Pete Moody, C. D. Campbell, Bobby Cooper, E. Bradford, Billy Roy Cooper and Dalton Biggsstaff.

The Crowell High School officials have completed the 1944 football schedule giving the Wildcats five home games and five games away from home. The Wildcats have four regulars back from their 1943 bi-district championship team:

Sept. 15—Floydada at Floydada.
Sept. 22—Quannah at Crowell.
Sept. 29—Matador at Matador.
Oct. 6—Seymour at Crowell.
Oct. 13—Open.
Oct. 20—Archer City, there.
Oct. 27—Holiday at Crowell.
Nov. 3—Iowa Park there.
Nov. 10—Valley View there.
Nov. 17—Wellington here.
Nov. 24—Chillicothe here.

Soil Conservation Meeting Held Here Tuesday Afternoon

A meeting was held here Tuesday afternoon to consider the organization of the Lower Pease River Soil Conservation District, embracing land lying in Foard and Hardeman Counties. A similar meeting was held in Quannah Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock.

The meeting was presided over by Harvard H. Goss, field representative, State Soil Conservation, of Temple. He was assisted by Paul G. Haynes, Texas Extension Service, and Bob Boswell, Soil Conservation Service, of Seymour.

A large number of land owners attended the meeting here, practically all of whom were in favor of the program. The State Board will decide at its meeting in April whether or not to call an election in the two counties.

The Fifth War Bond Drive will be held in June. It will be the last drive in 1944. The Treasury Department plans on giving day to day reports of the home state purchases to the armed forces.

ALKA-SELTZER BRIGHTENS MY DAY

OCCASIONALLY, I wake up in the morning with a headache. It sometimes wears off along the middle of the forenoon, but I don't want to wait that long, so I drink a glass of sparkling ALKA-SELTZER. In just a little while I am feeling a lot better.

Sometimes the week's ironing tires me and makes me sore and stiff. Then it's ALKA-SELTZER to the rescue—a tablet or two and a little rest makes me feel more like finishing the job.

And when I eat "not wisely but too well," ALKA-SELTZER relieves the Acid Indigestion that so often follows.

Yes, Alka-Seltzer brightens my day. It brings relief from so many of my discomforts, that I always keep it handy.

Why don't you get a package of ALKA-SELTZER at your drug store, today? Large Package 60¢, Small 30¢.

Anti-Trust Suit Filed in 119th District Court at Ballinger

Grover Sellers, Attorney General for the State of Texas, announced in Austin last Friday that he had filed an anti-trust suit in the 119th District Court at Ballinger, Texas, against Fairbanks-Morse and Company of Illinois, with offices in Dallas; and the Universal Electric Construction Company of Alabama, with offices in Houston; and the H. B. Gieb Company, a Texas Corporation, headquartered in Dallas. The Attorney General asks for penalties in the maximum amount of $5,700,000, and for a permanent injunction cancelling the permit of the defendants to do business in Texas. The penalties asked by the state are based on the statutory penalties of from $50.00 to $1,500.00 a day from September 1, 1940, to the present. The Attorney General, in his petition, alleges that these three companies conspired "to furnish equipment and sell Fairbanks-Morse diesel engines and equipment to various municipalities in the State of Texas, to the exclusion of all other brands and makes of engines and equipment; and further, to control the municipal elections and to determine the plans and specifications and the bidding of such construction in the cities of Jasper, Angleton, Senora, and the City of Winters. Each of the above municipalities and cities being located and situated in the State of Texas. They thereby eliminated all competition in the sale of equipment and the construction of municipal power plants in the cities herein named."

The Attorney General's petition further points out that the defendant, Fairbanks-Morse Company, has engaged in the business of selling diesel engines and the construction of municipal power plants in the State of Texas for a period of ten years or more; the defendant, the Universal Electric Construction Company, has been engaged in the construction of municipal electric and other utility construction for municipalities in Texas for the past four years; and that the H. B. Gieb and Company is an engineering corporation which holds itself out as an independent consulting engineer, and has, for the last four years, been engaged in the preparation of plans and specifications for the construction of municipal utility plants. These defendants have occupied a dominant position in the business of constructing municipal utility plants in Texas since about the first of January, 1940.

HUMANITY MOVES FORWARD A few weeks ago the Navy flying boat Mars landed in Hawaiian waters after a routine flight from California. The fact that the trip was scarcely noted in the press was the most spectacular aspect of the undertaking. World-wide air transport has become commonplace. Humanity has taken another step forward without realizing it. Global air transport statistics since Pearl Harbor are hard to comprehend. The import of strategic war materials by air has been about 20 times as safe as such imports by surface vessels. While the average unit value of war commodities has been only 2 1/2 cents a pound when moved by surface vessel, it has been $2.85 when moved by air. Only high value materials are sent by plane. The average American ocean vessel of the year 1798 was only 87 per cent as big, in gross tonnage, as the Navy flying boat Mars. Eighteen U. S. airlines are now participating in domestic and over-ocean transport services operated by the Army and the Navy, and several great United States

Lottie Russell to Be Candidate for County-Dist. Clerk

Lottie Russell has authorized The News to announce that she will be a candidate for County and District Clerk subject to the action of the Democratic primary. Miss Russell was appointed last week by the Commissioners' Court to fill the unexpired term of J. A. Stovall, who resigned. In announcing her candidacy, Miss Russell says:

"For the past seven years I have worked in the office of the County Judge and Ex-officio County School Superintendent as Assistant County School Superintendent; for two and one-half years immediately preceding the commencement of my duties as Assistant County School Superintendent I was employed as Deputy Tax Assessor-Collector in the county. With the foregoing experience and the business education I received from Draughton's Business College, I believe that I am competent to perform the many duties involved in the County and District Clerk's office. "I shall make determined effort to see all of you before election, and I earnestly solicit your vote and influence in the coming election and promise you that if I am elected as your County and District Clerk that I shall do my very best to render efficient service in such capacity."

aircraft manufacturers produce transport type airplanes at top speed. In one six-month period in 1943, almost 30,000,000 pounds of air cargo was flown by domestic airlines alone, as compared with less than 8,000,000 pounds for a comparable period in 1941. Modern air transport is not a "war baby." Transoceanic Clippers were flying long before the war. Military authorities point out that air transport on the present scale would never have been possible except for the years of pioneering carried on by the commercial airlines. Those airlines were conceived in the minds of barnstorming pilots whose dreams were backed by business men with vision and unlimited faith in America and aviation. These men, from grease monkeys to airline presidents, were "ragged individualists." The country can be thankful that it had them before the war. It needs them now and will need them more than ever in the future, if our national stride is to remain unbroken.—Industrial News-Review.

We predict that after the war we will see transport planes loaded with fruit and vegetables at southern points and flown to the markets during the night. The planes will rise to a height that the low temperature will make artificial refrigeration unnecessary. It will be possible under this plan to have fruits and vegetables garden fresh for dinner that were picked the night before a thousand miles away. Philadelphia.—Quentin Reynolds, noted war correspondent, told the Poor Richard club that the three great discoveries of this war are "the jeep, the Red Cross and Ernie Pyle."

ALKA-SELTZER BRIGHTENS MY DAY

OCCASIONALLY, I wake up in the morning with a headache. It sometimes wears off along the middle of the forenoon, but I don't want to wait that long, so I drink a glass of sparkling ALKA-SELTZER. In just a little while I am feeling a lot better. Sometimes the week's ironing tires me and makes me sore and stiff. Then it's ALKA-SELTZER to the rescue—a tablet or two and a little rest makes me feel more like finishing the job. And when I eat "not wisely but too well," ALKA-SELTZER relieves the Acid Indigestion that so often follows. Yes, Alka-Seltzer brightens my day. It brings relief from so many of my discomforts, that I always keep it handy. Why don't you get a package of ALKA-SELTZER at your drug store, today! Large Package 60¢, Small 30¢.

Anti-Trust Suit Filed in 119th District Court at Ballinger

Grover Sellers, Attorney General for the State of Texas, announced in Austin last Friday that he had filed an anti-trust suit in the 119th District Court at Ballinger, Texas, against Fairbanks-Morse and Company of Illinois, with offices in Dallas; and the Universal Electric Construction Company of Alabama, with offices in Houston; and the H. B. Gieb Company, a Texas Corporation, headquarters in Dallas. The Attorney General asks for penalties in the maximum amount of $5,700,000, and for a permanent injunction cancelling the permit of the defendants to do business in Texas. The penalties asked by the state are based on the statutory penalties of from $50.00 to $1,500.00 a day from September 1, 1940, to the present. The Attorney General, in his petition, alleges that these three companies conspired "to furnish equipment and sell Fairbanks-Morse diesel engines and equipment to various municipalities in the State of Texas, to the exclusion of all other brands and makes of engines and equipment; and further, to control the municipal elections and to determine the plans and specifications for the bidding of such construction in the cities of Jasper, Angleton, Sonora, and the City of Winters. Each of the above municipalities and cities being located and situated in the State of Texas. Thereby eliminating all competition in the sale of equipment and the construction of municipal power plants in the cities herein named." The Attorney General's petition further points out that the defendant, Fairbanks-Morse Company, has engaged in the business of selling diesel engines and the construction of municipal power plants in the State of Texas for a period of ten years or more; the defendant, the Universal Electric Construction Company, has been engaged in the construction of municipal electric and other utility construction for municipalities in Texas for the past four years; and that the H. B. Gieb and Company is an engineering corporation which holds itself out as an independent consulting engineer, and has, for the last four years, been engaged in the preparation of plans and specifications for the construction of municipal utility plants. These defendants have occupied a dominant position in the business of constructing municipal utility plants in Texas since about the first of January, 1940.

HUMANITY MOVES FORWARD

A few weeks ago the Navy flying boat Mars landed in Hawaiian waters after a routine flight from California. The fact that the trip was scarcely noted in the press was the most spectacular aspect of the undertaking. World-wide air transport has become commonplace. Humanity has taken another step forward without realizing it. Global air transport statistics since Pearl Harbor are hard to comprehend. The import of strategic war materials by air has been about 20 times as safe as such imports by surface vessels. While the average unit value of war commodities has been only 3 1/2 cents a pound when moved by surface vessel, it has been $2.85 when moved by air. Only high value materials are sent by plane. The average American ocean vessel of the year 1798 was only 87 per cent as big, in gross tonnage, as the Navy flying boat Mars. Eighteen U. S. airlines are now participating in domestic and over-ocean transport services operated by the Army and the Navy, and several great United States

We predict that after the war we will see transport planes loaded with fruit and vegetables at southern points and flown to the markets during the night. The planes will rise to a height that the low temperature will make artificial refrigeration unnecessary. It will be possible under this plan to have fruits and vegetables garden fresh for dinner that were picked the night before a thousand miles away.

Lottie Russell to Be Candidate for County-Dist. Clerk

One of the first things that should be undertaken by community planning committees who are working on a program for after the war employment is to check up on the industries the community already has, and discover if there is some way in which they might be helped and put upon a sounder footing.

Red Cross Home Nursing

Because the nation is feeling more and more the effects of a constantly growing shortage of physicians and nurses, which since Pearl Harbor has drained every community until the health of civilians is potentially in danger, the American Red Cross has instituted a national campaign for Home Nursing classes to begin April 1.

This is based on no hollow ambition for numbers, no superimposed goal imagined by an impractical committee, it is a concerted effort to meet a wartime need felt in every hamlet of America.

Health and education authorities who make up the membership of the National Council on Red Cross Home Nursing met recently in the nation's capital and set a figure of 3,000,000 persons needed to study home nursing as a means of easing this shortage.

It is not a campaign that can be ended soon, if ever. No military victory, not even a declaration of peace, can insure normal health service. The wounded being brought back require continued hospitalization. It will be years before young doctors will wait in empty offices to establish a practice, or before nurses can be had for "luxury" illness.

The Red Cross Home Nursing course makes no pretense of turning out skilled nurses. It requires only a few hours a week of informal classroom lectures and demonstrations. Women who enroll soon learn to identify, self-dosing, short-cuts to health. It is a sane, practical course that teaches respect for the doctor's orders, economy in using his time.

Marion G. Howell, President, National Organization for Public Health Nursing, says: "No one can estimate the importance of the contribution which the holders of Red Cross Home Nursing certificates have made to the health of this country, particularly in wartime. The teaching of home nursing is important, both in war and in peace. In these days when all nursing staffs are depleted, it is even more important that our fine American women in charge of families and homes are prepared through such programs as the Red Cross gives in Home Nursing courses." Stella Goos-tray, Chairman, National Nursing Council for War Service, says: "Professional nurses ask the women of our country to enroll in the Red Cross Home Nursing course and to share with them in meeting the nursing needs of a nation at war."

Dr. Thomas Parran, Surgeon General, U. S. Public Health Service; Dr. James E. Paullin, President, American Medical Association; health commissioners and other medical authorities endorse the course. Dr. Ragnar T. Westman, Commissioner of Health, Seattle, says: "I consider Red Cross Home Nursing a most important field of public health education, and I hope it will continue as a permanent peace program."

Dangerous Game

What We Think

(By Frank Dixon)

There is much being said and many meetings are being held and numerous plans made for the providing of employment after the war through the establishment of much of this is in the nature of thinking out loud and groping for something feasible and tangible. This, I believe, is a good thing. It is a thing we should be about now in every village and every hamlet and every city in the United States, since the next big problem after the war and peace, is the employment of men returning home from the service.

This is more important than many think. In my opinion it would be most tragic if our men, after having won the war, should come back home only to find that things have gone to pieces at home and we at home have not had the ingenuity to provide for the proper defense on the home front. Nothing could be more disquieting than to be unable to find employment and nothing will be more effective in erasing the scars of war in the individual, than to be able to buy himself in a task at home, that will take all of his interest, and all of his effort, and mental resource. This after all, is one of the things he has been fighting for—an opportunity to engage in a vocation and to take his place in the civilian life of the community from which he stepped a few months or years ago.

In too many localities nothing is being done to meet this inevitable situation. These communities are more or less trusting to luck and hoping that some how something will turn up or will happen in time to save them. This, in my opinion, is a dangerous faith or improvidence. It is easy to imagine what might be the outcome if all communities followed this example.

A common error in the post-war industry planning is, I think, the policy of seeking some big outside industry to establish a branch in the home town and thus provide for all the needed employment. This would be fine indeed if this could be done. In fact it would simplify to almost an elementary degree the post-war problem. While this is going to be done in a few instances it can be by no means be hoped that it can be accomplished on a general scale.

Other means of solving the unemployment problem are going to have to be found. I will attempt to present but one suggested plan, which in my opinion can be employed in many small communities.

In almost every community there is a small industry or two that has been developed locally and which has developed through local ingenuity a successful plan of operation. Many of these industries supply a limited area and as a result do not compete with similar industries fifty, sixty or a hundred miles away.

A community planning committee might secure a list of these, study them and even visit the plants that might be adaptable in their own community. It might be surprising what some of these small plants are doing. A half dozen of these in the average small community would furnish a year round payroll and year round employment such as many communities have never had.

The list of these is too long to give in the confines of this article but each community planning committee can compile such a list of these plants and learn of their operations and adaptability to their own communities. Unless the communities has a better plan it is well worth trying. Many towns don't know what they can do until they try. It is well worth trying.

Then there was the young man who couldn't eat, he couldn't sleep, he couldn't drink... since he met "her." Trouble was he broke.

Brief Bits of News From Here and There

It is estimated by OPA administrators that 2,500,000 gallons of gasoline are passing through black market channels daily in this country. In an effort to catch some of it a nation wide check up will be made. Motorists found with unendorsed coupons will be required to present them in person fully endorsed to the local ration boards within ten days. Failure to do so may result in revocation of the gasoline ration.

Bernard M. The Red Cross Symbol in War Time As more and more men go overseas (and we've been told that two-thirds of our forces will soon be abroad), the responsibilities of the Red Cross grow tremendously. Red Cross services to the armed forces of the United States now embrace the globe. From Iceland to India and from Alaska to Australia—in Italy and in the South Pacific, your Red Cross is at his side—at the side of your sons, brothers, husbands, with its vital program of welfare, recreational and hospital services; at his side with blood plasma, prisoner of war food packages, surgical dressings; at his side with a home away from home in the hundreds of overseas clubs and rest homes for battle-weary fighters; at his side with highly-trained and tested Red Cross personnel ready to administer to the special needs, provide him with emergency conditions. The morale of our men must be maintained, be bolstered in this year of decision, when they must win that's the toughest story and win it. Without the Red Cross they are backsliding all that the people of America, it is there to you and I would were we... The services of the Red Cross are an obligation, not a favor, and the Red Cross is responsible under military regulations to perform special services to the able-bodied servicemen and their families. Other agencies in the Red Cross is obligated to serve official auxiliary of the U.S. Army.

Two Minute Sermon

(By Thomas Hastwell)

Rattling Around in Life: There is in my home town two people who hold positions in which they have to deal with the public. Both are well informed on the rules and regulations under which the agencies work. Both are filling positions which are difficult because they very often have to refuse requests made of them. One of these persons unfortunately has allowed herself to acquire a manner that is irritating, sometimes highly irritating to the public with whom she deals. This person, most of us will agree, is not filling her job. She is merely rattling around in it. She has learned the rules, but she has not learned the important thing of how to deal with the public. She is not filling the job. The other person, equally well informed as to the rules governing her position gives special attention to the individual and grants his request or refuses it in a manner that does not irritate him. She has a hundred friends to the other person's one. She is filling her job. She is not rattling around in it. What we get out of life, or make of it, depends on whether we are filling our jobs, or merely rattling around in them.

STARK TRAGEDY

We granted the enemy a quick and thoroughly complete victory of major importance in February when a two-and-a-half-million-dollar concern engaged in building engines for Liberty ships was demolished by fire on the West Coast.

Twenty-four engines in various stages of completion were destroyed. All of this did not cost the Axis a single bomb or plane. While the cause of this particular disaster is not known definitely, an overheated steam pipe was suggested. It is known, however, that the majority of such fires are preventable. A moment of carelessness in a vital war plant today can do the work of countless bombers. Day after day we dread of the historic flights of American planes that fly hundreds of miles in broad daylight over enemy territory, through hour after hour of relentless attack from above and below. Their objectives are often war plants. If they can destroy an important plant and get home again with a loss of a few hundred men and twenty to forty planes, their mission is considered justified. After a few flights like this, men are retired to easier jobs—if they live that long.

How must they feel, these fighters, when they read about our war plants being destroyed regularly, with the flip of a lethal cigarette, a neglected pile of waste, overheated smoke or steam pipes, etc.? One worker, in a moment of carelessness, can accomplish for the Axis the same result that our flyers die by the hundreds to accomplish.

This is not irony. It is stark tragedy due to carelessness on the home front.—Industrial News-Review.

Speaking of Postwar Planning as who isn't...

THE AIR IS FULL of talk about Postwar Planning... Big plans, little plans, dreamy plans, hard-boiled plans. Fine! But... just bear in mind that... The best planner for your personal postwar world is yourself! And probably the wisest plan you can adopt is to soak every extra dollar you can lay hands on into War Bonds—where they become "double-duty" dollars. They'll not only help finance the War—they'll be mighty useful toward making your world that better world we're all hoping will emerge afterward!

LIEUT. WITTLIF DESCRIBES LIFE IN ENGLAND

The students and faculty of Crowell High School were indeed honored to have as guest speaker Lieutenant Larry Wittlif, of the Army Medical Corps, and his wife, the former Miss Ruth Burns, at an assembly last Friday morning. Lieut. Wittlif has been abroad in England for some time, and he gave a thrilling and thoroughly enjoyable description of many of his experiences while there.

It all began one night when he found himself whistling across the country on a fast train. There was much secrecy about this trip, for all the shades were drawn. They arrived at the coast and boarded one of the largest ships in the world before he had time to catch his breath. According to Lieut. Wittlif, the boat was so large that you had had to have a three day pass to go from the lower deck to the upper. The story is that a soldier went over on the same ship in '41, became lost, and hasn't found his company yet. The second day out he was so seasick that he thought he was going to die, and the third day he was afraid he wouldn't die. Someone asked if the Captain had come up, and the answer was, "Yes, if I've eaten him, he has. In fact, every thing has come up except the moon and the stars."

The boat arrived in Scotland one morning, and that afternoon they boarded small ferry boats and went ashore. The Scotch women came running down the shore with large buckets of "Ta." The women were very hospitable, although our men could not understand them because of their Scotch accent. Lieut. Wittlif immediately put on a small train similar to the small trains we have in the fairgrounds. The coaches were divided into small rooms with the aisle down the side instead of the middle. The train was very fast and also very rough because they had no springs. After riding on the rough train for eight hours, it suddenly became very smooth. The conductor, after being asked why it had become smooth, jokingly replied, "It must be off the track, sir."

Lt. Wittlif was first stationed near Bristol and Plymouth, four hundred miles from London. He remarked that the English were very peculiar individuals. The English women welcomed the American soldiers, and, as should be expected, the men resented them. But one of the most striking characteristics of the English is their grim determination to win a complete victory over their enemies. The English people disregard suffering and hardships. "It was a lesson to me," stated Wittlif, "to see how the people do without and do not complain." And it should be a lesson to all of us.

A peculiarity about the English is their drinking. At ten o'clock in the morning and three o'clock in the afternoon, no matter what they may be doing, they all pause and have "a spot of tea."

The English are very social minded and are divided into very distinctive classes. If you are born in the lower class, you remain in the lower class; if you are born in the upper class, you remain in the upper class. The United States is at least 100 years ahead of England in their public education. The English high school graduate is equal to our American Junior High School student. Lt. Wittlif was amazed to find that the average English high school graduate had never heard of Tennyson or Bobbie Burns. The men don't respect their women as we do. The men take what they want, and give what is left, if anything, to their women.

The city of London is composed of buildings only four or five stories high, and is spread out over the country. One of Lt. Wittlif's desires was to view Westminster Abbey, which he did. It is a large, dingy, gray stone building. On walking in he noticed a peculiar aroma. The architect is all done by hand; the tapestries which are over four or five hundred years old, give one a feeling of reverence. In the back of the building is the altar which is inlaid with gold and ivory. In the "Poets' Corner," all of the busts of the world's famous poet have been removed because there is a great hole in the top of the building which was caused by German bombs. According to Lt. Wittlif, there are no words to describe the beauty and elegance of this great building.

One of the most thrilling of all of his experiences was when the soldiers marched down the Mall, passing the most important buildings, and finally reaching Buckingham Palace, where they saw the King and Queen of England with their daughters. They were present at a celebration given in front of Buckingham Palace. The bands were playing, and everyone seemed to be gay. He remarked that the King had an expression of sadness and the somber expression of his eyes suggested deep thinking.

The American soldiers' worst trouble is finding food. There is no such thing as cokes or hamburgers in England. They miss fresh milk, eggs, and ice cream. If you go in a restaurant and order, you are always surprised to see what is on the menu, and disappointed at what you get. For instance, at an exclusive restaurant ($15 for one meal), the menu had baked turkey, and fried chicken as entrees. Lt. Wittlif ordered turkey and they brought out fried spam. According to Lt. Wittlif, they were fed fried spam for breakfast, spam stew for dinner, and cold spam for supper. Prices are very high. For example, two fresh eggs cost $2.50; one half chicken costs $8.00.

There are several words that do not mean the same thing to us as they do the English people. Wittlif of baggage as suitcases, but it has an altogether different meaning in England. Lt. Wittlif went into a hotel and asked the porter to bring his baggage up stairs to his room. The porter replied, "Sorry, sir, we don't allow such things here." (If you have not already guessed it, baggage means women in England.) They do not have movies over there but rather they call them cinemas. Lt. Wittlif went to a "cinema" one afternoon after rest and relaxation, and to his surprise the feature was an American "shoot 'em up." The highest priced seats in the English theatre were in the balcony. The "shoot 'em up" dancing attraction, and the first time Lt. Wittlif went to a show he came out with "ta" all over him, at least that's what he said.

We want to thank Lt. Wittlif for giving us a very interesting and educational talk about England. Come back to see us again.

BASIC (7) ENGLISH

Several weeks ago in the columns of our paper we wrote an article approving Basic English and telling a little about its make-up. Now, several weeks later, after a considerable amount of research, we have found Basic English not so basic. Our mistake coincides with several made by such people as Winston Churchill. He, in short, is what might be wrong with Basic English.

Would you be content to call Hitler a bad man? Yet, that is the only such adjective describing him in the 850 word vocabulary.

If Basic was accepted as the international language, the people would not be content to accept these 850 words as sufficient. They would want to learn the Hollywood lingo, read American newspapers and magazines, and understand slang. This may amuse them, but an important writer said that Chinese is by far the most simple language in the universe. It deals with short sentences, several verbs, and has absolutely no tense, mood, gender, case, parts of verbs, etc. Since an international language will be necessary, it looks as if Chinese presents promising aspects.

CHAPEL PROGRAM

Mrs. Sloan's English III class presented a very interesting assembly program last Tuesday, March 14, in the High School auditorium.

John Calvin Carter and Frances Ann Ayers gave a play entitled "Confessions." This was a lovely little story of a man confessing to his inquisitive wife of the other or loves of his life. She confessed, too, to kissing a "flaxen haired" man, but finally surprised by saying that she was only three.

The final play was a gruesome murder mystery, Mrs. Hathaway being the murderer, none other than Bill Spruill. Did you guess before we told you?

SPRING TRAINING IN FULL SWING

The second week of spring training is coming to an end. Strains, bruises and blisters are plentiful. The vacant spots are being filled fast. The boys leaving the team last season were Gordon Erwin, Billy Fred Short, Bob Gobin, Bill Cox, Delmar McBeath, Kenneth Archer and Cecil Parkhill. The team will have about five experienced boys: Pat McDaniel, John Carter, O. C. Wharton, Glen Taylor and Ray Jamplin. Travis Vecera, J. L. Brock, J. V. Cunningham, R. E. Johnson and Kenneth Payne are looking very favorable in the workouts.

It looks as if Crowell will have another winning team this year.

GUESS WHO

Ah, a new article! Yes, that's right—and what an article! We have decided to begin a series of articles "Guess Who!" Each week we shall take some outstanding student in CHS and give a brief summary of his (or her) habits, peculiarities, etc., and then you are to "Guess Who." Sounds like fun, don't you think? Oh, well, you wouldn't! Anyway, here goes with our first one:

She is a very cute, "lit" girl. When we say cute, we mean attractive and easy on the eyes. She has dark black hair and eyes. She is a senior in high school. Although she has gone with many boys, she seems to have preference to those handsome sailors. When she isn't busy doing "things," you will find her practicing her music (piano). Dancing is probably her favorite pastime. She has a hobby, she collects records—all kinds. This certain lil' de'ce' lives in our fair city, about six blocks from the square. Well, that's enough for her. Guess Who!

ANOTHER NOTICE FOR THE BANQUET

Please, Juniors and Seniors, tell Polly Davis if you have a date for the Banquet. Also tell John, "Handsome Boy" Carter if you will be in the service before the next school term, and tell either Virginia Make or Ada Jane Magee what kind and how many flowers you intend to buy. Please!

WE WONDER—

Who are the lucky people who have dates for the Junior-Senior banquet?

If the teachers ever remember that they were once young and innocent?

Which Navy boy Joann Gentry is true to? Could you enlighten us on that subject, Joann?

How do anyone pass Chemistry and Bookkeeping?

Have John Thomas and Helen J. gotten over their "differences"? We wonder.

Did Miss Motley receive a telegram from Camp White Sunday?

Why doesn't Cotton Thomas go with the "fair sex"?

Why do we have to write such silly articles as this?

WHAT'S BUZZIN'

After a cold (yes, a very cold) week-end, we will let you in on the dope.

As was said in last week's edition, quote, "These sailors fairly get around." We were speaking of Ray "Simp" (nick name) Davis, who has been simply rushing Betty Johnson off her feet. They do make a cute couple, don't they?

Income Tax.—Declarations of estimated 1944 tax are due by April 15.

Longer Periods For Food Stamps

Under the ration token plan, three red (meats-fats) 10-point stamps become good every two weeks, on Sundays, and five blue (processed fruits-vegetables) 10-point stamps become good on the first day of each month. To reduce last minute rush buying just before stamps run out, the Office of Price Administration increased the period for which stamps may be used. Thus, the 60 red points and 50 blue points which become good each month may be used at any time during a period of from 10 to 12 weeks.

Changes In Gasoline Rules

Beginning April 1, the five-gallon "R55 gasoline coupon for non-highway users will be good for purchases at "authorized filling stations," as well as for gasoline purchased at bulk plants or delivered to private storage tanks, OPA announces. The "A" ration for motorists is now two gallons weekly in all parts of the country. On the Pacific Coast, the "B" ration has been cut from 460 to 400 miles a month.

Civilian Food Supply Favorable

The civilian food supply for the next few months appears to be more abundant than for the same period last year, the Department of Agriculture reports. Potatoes and cabbage head the list of really abundant foods over most of the country. Other products include, carrots, other produce, peanut butter, shell eggs, grapefruit and small oranges, frozen baked beans, citrus marmalade, lard, canned green and waxed beans, frozen vegetables, and canned peas and tomatoes.

Deferments To Be More Exact

Occupational deferments must be more exacting, particularly with registrants under the age of 26, in order to meet calls of the armed forces, the Director of Selective Service has notified local boards. The combined strength of our armed forces has been fixed at 11,300,000 by July 1, 1944, and as of February 1, some 9,352,000 had entered military

More Income Tax Information

While the majority of the nation's 50 million taxpayers will find their 1944 federal income tax obligations taken care of through withholding by their employers, an estimated 15 million will be required to file declarations of their estimated 1944 tax by April 15. Declaration forms are being mailed by the Bureau of Internal Revenue to all persons who filed declarations last fall. The first quarterly payment of estimated tax should be made at the time the declaration is filed, the other payments to be made on or before June 15, September 15, and December 15. Farmers who receive more than 80 per cent of their income from farming, may postpone filing their declarations until December 15. However, if they wait until December they must pay all of their estimated tax at that time.

Evacuees On Leave

More than 19,000 of the 112,000 people of Japanese ancestry evacuated to relocation centers from the West Coast two years ago have been granted indefinite leave to establish homes outside the centers, the War Relocation Authority announced. Between 2,000 and 3,000 others are on seasonal leave, mainly as farm workers. Fully two-thirds of the evacuees on leave were born in America, and 72 per cent have never seen Japan. Both citizens and aliens are carefully screened before permission is given to relocate.

Grow More Greens in 1944

Home gardeners should plan to grow more fresh greens over a long season and can less, food specialist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture suggests. The housewife who puts up a big batch of greens in the spring for year-round use when she could have fresh greens from the garden makes herself extra work and

Farm and Garden

Town and city garden clubs, farm teas, schools, and other groups are being urged to start planning for their 1944 garden and farm projects. Requests to the county agricultural agent, the War Relocation Authority, and other administrators are being urged to start planning for their 1944 garden and farm projects.

Round-Up

Salad oil spread on the surface of farm-cured ham will help prevent development of surface mold, the Department of Agriculture says. The use of salad oil on ham will help prevent development of surface mold, the Department of Agriculture says.

Interior

The War Relocation Authority predicts the end of the summer months and women will be recruited to work in extra food processing plants. When present rear-wheel tires are worn beyond stage, may ration certificates obtained for new rear-wheel tires may now be made in gauges such as are needed for fine hogs and cattle, and weights of zinc coating permitted. Production of canned jars and containers tripled in the past three years is now keeping pace with demand. Permission granted to manufacturers more and better quality springs and box springs. Monthly war expenditure a new high of $7,808,000,000 in February.

THE AVERAGE AMERICAN FAMILY

Includes 3 1/2 persons

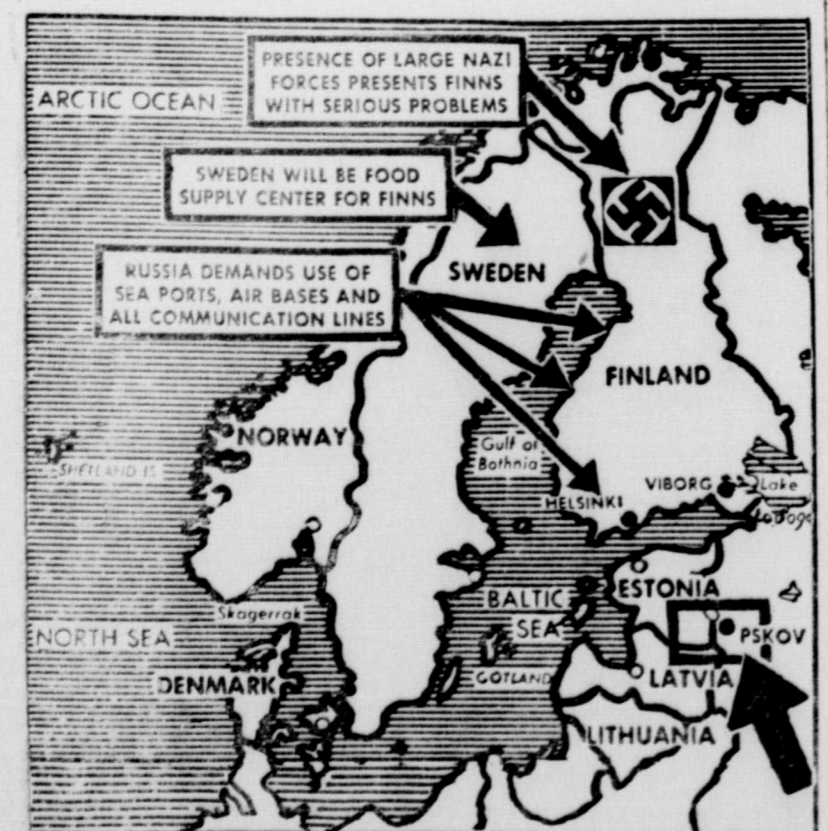

owns 1/2 of a house

owns 1/2 of a bathtub

owns 1/2 of a radio

AND gets about twice as much electricity for its money as it did 15 years ago!

Advancing Russians a Problem for Finns

As Russian armies continue to advance in the face of desperate German resistance, the diplomatic situation in Finland is tense. Russia and Finland are still, technically, at war. Finland is faced with the alternatives of peace on Russia's terms, or possible disaster if the little country becomes a battleground for the opposing Red and Nazi armies. As a condition for peace Russia has been reported as insisting that the Finns prevent the escape of Nazi divisions in Finland.

The envy of the world today is the average American family. That family has the world's highest standard of living. Statistically speaking, that average American family is composed of three and four-fifths persons. It uses three-fifths of a bathtub and owns one-half of a house, listens to nine-tenths of a radio, and gets about twice as much electricity for its money as it did 15 years ago.

Obviously, three-fifths of a bathtub wouldn't hold water very well! That is just another way of saying that three out of five American homes have bathtubs. The figure about electricity applies only to homes that have electric service (four out of five). But as an average of all these homes, it is a fact.

Most families own more electric appliances now than they did in 1929. Over the years as they used more electricity the cost per unit used was steadily reduced. So—though your total bill today may be as much as it was in 1929—yet you are getting twice as much electricity for your money.

The cost of electricity has not only been steadily reduced but it has stayed down while most other prices are going up. Today, electricity is just about the biggest bargain in your war-time budget! For this you can credit your electric service company, manned and managed by practical business people. Their hard work has made electric service dependable and cheap.

Weekly Sermon

By the Rev. Kenneth S. Wuest, Member of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

In the Presence of God Text: "Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through the Lord Jesus Christ; by whom also we have access by faith into this grace where in we stand.—Romans 5:1, 2.

The English word "access" is the translation of a Greek word which referred to the act of someone securing for another an interview with a king. But it was more than that. It referred to the act of that person who knew the king well, bringing his friend into the good graces of the king. That friend would always after that be one of the king's friends, and would be one to whom the king would be generous and kind. The king would take that person to his heart. The one introducing his friend to the king would provide the proper clothing for his friend to wear in the king's presence. A French word brought over into our language perfectly expresses the thought of the Greek word—"entree."

Paul says that we who have placed our faith in Christ as our Saviour from sin have our entree into the presence of God and into His unlimited favor, through the Lord Jesus. He is the Son of God, closest to the Father's affections. He is that died on the cross to pay for our sin. He is that who becomes the believing sinner's righteousness, which clothes him properly for the Father's presence. He is that takes the believing sinner by the hand and leads him gently into God's presence. He is that brings us into the affections of God the Father and places us in a position where we are the objects of God's richest favors.

The verb is in the perfect tense in the Greek text. That means that we have a permanent entree into the presence and grace of God. How blessed it is to be in this place and to know that your sins are all forgiven, that you are right with God, that you are a child of the heavenly Father, and that you are on your way to heaven.

Have you put your trust in the Lord Jesus as your Saviour so that He could lead you into the presence of God?

The word "thug" is derived from the name of an organization of religious assassins of India whose members made a profession of murder.

The first written record of ancient Greece tangible enough for historical information are the Homeric poems.

THE HOUSE OF CARDS

Mr. Murray, head of the CIO, argues that because the cost of living has risen higher, according to his estimates, than according to government statistics, wages must continue to rise. This means increased cost of production and still higher prices.

The game being played by prominent labor leaders is like the childhood pastime of building a house of cards—inevitably one last card brings the structure toppling down.

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God" (1 Corinthians 2:12).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mortals must look beyond fading, finite forms, if they would gain the true sense of things. Where shall the gaze rest but in the unsearchable realm of Mind?" (page 264).

Food, Home Notes

(By Miss Elizabeth Elliott, County Home Demonstration Agent.)

On Keeping Cheese

Since cheese for civilians will be less plentiful this year, here are some tips on keeping it in best condition and avoiding waste from molding, melting or drying.

Blueberry Pie For March Menus

Blueberry pie is suggested for March meals by the War Food Administration—or blueberry muffins, or any other blueberry dessert. The reason is that stocks of frozen blueberries in family-size packages are large this spring and the storage space they occupy is now needed for other perishable foods.

To Prevent Runovers

Pies made from juicy fruits often give trouble during baking by bubbling up and running over in the oven.

THE FOARD COUNTY NEWS

Back To The Bible

Nevertheless, whereto we have already stained, let us walk by the same rule. Phil. 3:16.

The inspired writer is reminding us of the necessity of maintaining one standard of authority in our religious life. Without a rule chaos will reign. All of us realize the need of one authority in material affairs. If no authority existed in our army—we would have no discipline, no order, no law, and no enforcement orders—our army would soon disintegrate into a chaotic mass.

Not one of us would care to live in a country where no governmental authority existed for any one would do as he pleased regardless of the property or body of his fellow men. Chaos would be the result.

What would be the result? What would be a different set of rules for the players? Why cannot we see that we cannot see that spiritual authority and infidelity is the natural result of failing to "walk by the same rule?"

Let us cast aside our religious manuals and various rules written by man with their conflicting rules. For authority we disregard every decision of any ecclesiastical conference and "walk by the same rule," OUR RULE.

Canadian Farmers Back the Attack

"Up to the spring of 1943, 345,000 able-bodied men had left the farms and gone into industry and the armed forces. With considerable sweeter and harder on many farms those left have performed 100 per cent of the most valuable parts of production associated with this war." — Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture.

Canada's farm production in 1942 was at its highest point on record, and production objectives for 1943 were set at even higher levels. These larger demands resulted from the increasing needs of the United Kingdom and other United Nations, the armed forces of Canada, the Canadian civilian population and for prisoners-of-war parcels.

It is unlikely that all the 1943 production objectives will be achieved, because this year, in addition to shortages of farm manpower and equipment suffered last year, farmers have had to contend with unfavorable weather conditions, particularly in Eastern Canada.

Definite consideration is being given to expansion in production in 1943 in several commodities, including special crops such as oil crops, peas and beans, which are considered well suited for relief-feeding in liberated areas.

Increases in cattle and hog slaughtering are expected this year. The marketing and processing of meat products may exceed all previous records. Canadian meat-packing plants estimate that they will produce 1,577,000,000 pounds of meat products during 1943, nearly 50% of it for war purposes. The requirements of the Canadian armed forces amount to about 102,686,000 pounds of such products for the year.

The gross value of agriculture production reached an all-time high of $2,075,954,000 in 1942.

Canada's net exports of pork products to the United Kingdom during four years of this war have been more than three times the total exports in the six years 1914-19, including all the years of World War I.

Shipments of such products to September 15, 1943, were valued at $406,113,460 and totaled 2,091,158,569 pounds.

Bacon from Canada now provides about 85% of the British bacon ration of four ounces per person per week. Current shipments of about 16,000,000 pounds a week represent about 40% of the total Canadian meat supply.

Butter shipments of 7,000,000 pounds have been made to the United Kingdom.

CANADIAN FOOD PRODUCTION INCREASES

Substantial shipments also have been made to the United Kingdom of fresh, canned and evaporated apples, canned tomatoes, dehydrated fruits and vegetables and fibre flax.

H. E. Ferguson Home from Drug Meet

"Improved Service to Customers" was the featured topic of discussion at the Fort Worth Conference of leading druggists of the state, reports H. E. Ferguson, who returned home last week from the meeting.

Highlight of the program was the address by the Boston Executive, George H. Davis, the United

GEO. H. DAVIS

Drug Company's manager of the medicine department.

Mr. Davis emphasized the fact that the American people are increasingly more health conscious, and are therefore co-operating with their physicians and druggists more intelligently than ever before. He gave as an example the way in which they have accepted Vitamins as an aid to better health. Some of this acceptance he ascribes to the satisfactory results experienced by the armed forces and American industry in giving Vitamins to their personnel, who will naturally continue to assure a sufficient Vitamin intake for themselves and their families. He believes, too, that this informed public will place their confidence in the drug store as the source of tested and approved Vitamin products because they know that the druggist, being a professional man, does not claim Vitamins to be a cure-all but dispenses them as he would other medicines and pharmaceuticals.
