Service Football Team Ends Training with 30 to 7 Victory

The Crowell High School football team ended their spring training Tuesday afternoon with a 30 to 7 victory over a group of All-Stars. The down field blocking of the Wildcats meant the big difference in the teams. The first score came early in the first quarter when Pat McDaniel ran over the ten yard line. O. G. Wharton intercepted an all-star pass and ran it back forty yards for the second touchdown of the game. Ray Tamplen made the third touchdown on a reverse play from the three-yard line. The fourth score came from a bad all-star kick that O. C. Wharton fell on for a touchdown. The last Wildcat touchdown resulted from a well executed forward pass from McDaniel to J. L. Brock, who lateraled off to Tamplen which picked up forty yards and a score. The All-Stars made their lone touchdown on line backs by Gordon Erwin, who shifted to the backfield late in the game. John Rader intercepted a Wildcat pass to take possession of the ball on the Wildcat twenty-three-yard line. Cotton Owens and Billy Fred Short are other All-Stars that teamed up with Erwin to make rough traveling for the High School boys. John Carter, Kenneth Payne and O. C. Wharton looked the best in the blocking department for the Wildcats, while J. V. Cunningham, Glen Taylor, Travis Vecera and R. E. Johnson proved just as well on the defense. Lineups for the two teams were as follows:

High School	Pos.	All-Stars
Pat McDaniel	Back	Cotton Owens
John Carter	Back	Billy Fred Short
Ray Tamplen	Back	Delmar McBeath
Kendrick Jcy	Back	Ray Burrow

New OPA District Director Takes Over

Formal announcement that the new Fort Worth OPA District Director, J. H. Kultzgen, has assumed charge of his new post was received today by the Foard County War Price and Rationing Board, according to C. R. Seale, chairman. In the same mail was a letter from the new district director asking the chairman to assist him in finding two attorneys and several other men, qualified to fill vacancies now existing in the district office in Fort Worth. "From what we have heard Kultzgen is a successful business man and an able administrator," the board chairman said. "He has been in charge of Food Rationing in the Regional Office for about two years and the success of food rationing in the counties I know about testifies to his ability to plan and carry out complex programs," he said. At his first meeting with the staff in the Fort Worth office, according to advices received here, Kultzgen paid high tribute to the job that local War Price and Rationing Boards have done and remarked that "the local Board members are the ones chiefly responsible for the success of OPA's war-time programs." Kultzgen plans an early visit to the Foard County War Price and Rationing Board. "I want to get to know personally, and as soon as possible, these men and women who are performing a valuable wartime service to their communities and our Government without pay," Kultzgen stated.

Mrs. Clyde Cobb has leased O'Connell's Lunch Room from the owner, C. B. Graham, and assumed the management this morning. She will serve three meals a day, breakfast, plate lunch at noon and supper. Mrs. Cobb will also serve the Rotary luncheon and any banquets or special meals as per order.

ATTEND FUNERAL

Mrs. W. A. Cogdell and daughter, Miss Mildred, left Tuesday afternoon for Waco to attend the funeral of Mrs. W. H. Allen, Mrs. Cogdell's sister. Mrs. Allen, 83, died at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning. Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church in Waco Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Allen was a member of this church. In New York City there is 360,000 persons above the age of 25, who have never been to school and three million who never went beyond the eighth grade.

Sixty Jap planes have gone down under the blazing guns of this trio of marine corps pilots in the South Pacific. They are members of the "Flying Corsairs," top marine squadron with total of 135 planes shot down and 27 planes destroyed on the ground. Left to right, Lieut. Robert Hanson of Newtonville, Mass., 25 planes; Capt. Donald N. Aldrich, Chicago, 20 planes; and Capt. Harold L. Spears, London, Ohio, 15 planes.

Rialto Will Pay Tribute to Men, Women in Service

Mrs. Mellie House, manager of the Rialto Theatre, announces that the theatre is planning to pay tribute to the Foard County men and women in service at an early date by showing their pictures on the screen. She asks that the photographs, kodak snap-shots, or any kind of picture, any size, be brought to her before Saturday, April 15. These pictures will then be properly made for screening and will be reproduced each Sunday and Monday, beginning May 14 and continuing until all have been shown. The sons, daughters, brothers, sisters, husbands, sweethearts or friends may be so honored if their pictures are brought to the show management at the proper time. The pictures will be cared for and returned to the owners so that no hesitancy need be felt about the safety of the picture.

Easter Sunrise Service Draws Large Crowd

The sunrise Easter service at the First Christian Church on Sunday morning was attended by a large crowd of people. The program was an inspiring interpretation of the Easter story and was presented by readers and singers. The church was appropriately decorated with flowers and greens. The cross, the tomb and other settings of the Easter occasion were simulated in an impressive way. The choir, in costume, came in to the strains of a procession while the flower bearer laid flowers at the foot of the cross. The program was finished just as day was dawning.

Nazis Smile at Capture

These two Nazi soldiers, captured from the lines near Carroceto, Italy, were also caught by the camera of an alert signal corps photographer. Completely unconcerned at being taken prisoners, the pair smile broadly for the cameraman. Or perhaps at their pleasure at having been captured.

School Lunch Program Assured for Present Term of School, According to Announcement Made by Leslie Thomas

In response to numerous inquiries from folks in Foard County resulting from the recent action by the House of Representatives turning down 1944-45 School Lunch Program, Leslie Thomas, county school superintendent, said he was informed by WFA's Office of Distribution that all existing contracts, and those made prior to the end of June, will be carried out and local sponsors will be fully reimbursed. "Congress has not made final decision in connection with the Community School Lunch Program for the next fiscal year, but in any event funds already appropriated through June of this year will not be affected," Mr. Thomas explained. At present there are four schools and 420 children participating in the Community School Lunch Program in Foard County. WFA's financial assistance to local schools is based on the type and number of meals served. For a complete Type A lunch, which provides one-third to one-half of a child's daily nutritional requirement, the government's aid may be up to a maximum of nine cents per meal. Type B lunch, which requires less facilities for preparation, but still provides at least one-third of the daily food requirements has a maximum reimbursement of six cents. Where only milk can be served, WFA's reimbursement is two cents per half-pint. The Community School Lunch Program is sponsored by the State Department of Education. Mr. Thomas further stated that the present lunch room program is by far the best ever inaugurated to adequately serve the needs of existing, especially in areas such as in Foard County.

Warning Issued to "T" Coupon Holders

"T" gasoline coupon holders are requested to apply to the Ration Office before Wednesday, April 19, to secure their second quarter "T" coupons. Truck and pickup operators and other "T" ration holders are urged to heed this announcement as "T" coupons issued for the first quarter are no longer good. Only those T coupons which have "2nd Quarter" printed on them are valid since April 1. The ODT office at Lubbock has asked for the names of operators who do not secure their second quarter T coupons by the date set, April 19, 1944. In order to secure new T coupons, the operator must bring in his certificate of War Necessity and his first quarter T coupon book.

Housewives Advised to Preserve Ration Books Nos. 3 and 4

Housewives were advised today by C. R. Seale, chairman of the County War Price and Rationing Board, to take good care of War Ration Book Four and to keep War Ration Book Three in a safe place. For the first time since rationing began a year ago, all buying of rationed foods is now done from one ration book—Book Four—and that book will be in use about three times as long as earlier food books, the chairman said. Applications are received frequently by the local War Price and Rationing Board from persons who want their ration books replaced for various reasons, said Mr. Seale. Since no more ration books are to be printed soon, the replacement of damaged or lost books may become increasingly difficult. To be on the safe side, therefore, the chairman explained, ration book holders should take special precautions against loss or undue wear of their War Ration Books Four. The longer life of War Ration Book Four is made possible by the use of 10-point stamps and tokens under the program which began February 27, he pointed out.

Improvements at Cemetery; New Sexton's Home

A modern, up-to-date house has been built on the property of the Cemetery Association just west of the cemetery and is now ready and waiting for occupancy by a good sexton, who will not only do the duties of a sexton but who will take care of a good, new home. The structure is a four-roomed house, neatly painted and papered, with finished floors and everything complete to make a real home for some deserving family. The house is weatherboarded with simulated brick siding; several new out houses have been built and, with a little living, the property can be made into an attractive home. The old pavilion, which stood in the center of the cemetery, has been torn down and the space has been filled with pretty shrubbery. The streets of the cemetery have been gravelled and it is now possible not only to get to the cemetery from town, but to go over the entire grounds without encountering any mud. This in itself is a wonderful step, for not so many years back, the mud was a thing to be dreaded when there was a funeral. The cemetery is kept clean, just as clean as it is possible to keep it. Many who have loved ones buried there attend to the keeping up of their own property, but the grounds are kept clean of grass and weeds and altogether, it is a source of pride. Mrs. N. J. Roberts, president of the Cemetery Association for the past 12 or 15 years, deserves the credit for the forward moves which have been taken. When it has seemed almost an impossible undertaking to keep the cemetery as it should be kept, Mrs. Roberts has hung on, determined to pay tribute to the dead in a becoming way, as to the upkeep of the grounds where they are laid away. Mrs. Roberts appreciates the help she has received from others down through the years but it has been through her untiring efforts that the city of the dead has been kept up to such a high standard. With water piped into the grounds, it will be possible to have growing shrubbery, blooming flowers and to add still further to the attractiveness of the place.

Down Town Streets and Alleys Have Been Cleared of Rubbish

Under the supervision of Street Councilman Jim Cook, considerable work has been done during the past two weeks toward cleaning up the streets and alleys in the business section of town which adds much to the looks and sanitary condition around the square. Mr. Cook has had two men and a truck cleaning up the back alleys and hauling off the rubbish and with the co-operation of the business men and county, promise of which has already been secured, this work will be continued and the town kept clean and sanitary. All citizens of the town should be careful not to throw waste paper and other rubbish into the streets or into the yard of some neighbor. With the co-operation of everybody the town can and will be kept clean.

I can TASTE it ain't real

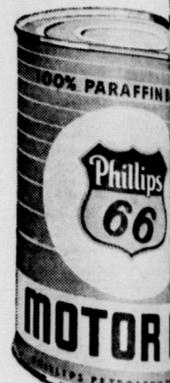

IT'S NEWS, said a famous editor, when boy bites dog but commonplace when dog bites boy.

It is not quite clear why our young inquiring reporter had to sink his teeth into the subject to discover that it isn't the genuine article. But many a motorist would like some similar way of quickly discovering the real thing when he wants high quality motor oil.

The difficulty is that he can't detect quality in a lubricant by taste, smell, sight, or feel. Yet there is an easy solution to the problem. Just remember that to end confusion and doubt, Phillips makes this simple, straightforward statement: If you want our best oil, remember we specify that Phillips 66 Motor Oil is our finest quality... the highest grade and greatest value... among all the oils we offer to average motorists.

The recommended oil change period used to be every 1,000 miles. With today's reduced driving, experts say motor life is lengthened by changing oil every two months. And now is the time for seasonal change to replace winter-worn lubricant. So be sure to get quality by asking for Phillips 66 Motor Oil.

Outlook For War-Time Living

Homemakers, who got caught short on sheets and other household cottons when war production curtailed supplies for civilians, have a little relief in sight.

The Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics has notified the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service that manufacturer's ceiling prices on bed linens have been raised to stimulate production of sheets, pillowcases, and sheetings. The Bureau says the price increase will be absorbed by the retailer. So the price to consumers, if and when bedding is available, will remain at the March, 1942, level.

Here are a few other forecasts on war-time family living during 1944:

Brooms may become short because of the scarcity of broom corn and handles.

A few electric irons may be produced by manufacturers if this does not interfere with their war output. The WPB, however, has turned thumbs down on an increase in the number of alarm clocks available.

Homemakers will be able to obtain only about 80 per cent of the paper towels they used in 1942, and the outlook for handy facial tissues is pretty dark.

Restrictions on the sale of cutlery in boxed sets have been removed, but homemakers can expect better quality in paring knives than in the earlier war models.

Women who have been hoping for more and better elastic or elastic substitutes in girdles, brassieres, and the like are headed for disappointment. A new synthetic, neoprene, was to be available for these worthy uses this spring, but the Army has requisitioned the entire supply for making gasmasks. The reliable two-way stretch is just as remote as ever.

Victory Garden Reminders

Under favorable conditions most seed can be kept for one or two years without endangering germination, but if no special care has been taken in storing the seed, or if in doubt of its viability otherwise, it is good practice to make a germination test of held-over seed before planting.

Rag Doll Seed Tester: Use a long strip of cloth, preferably cotton flannel, which will hold moisture. Mark off squares 3 to 4 inches wide down the center of the cloth, so that the edges may be folded over to keep seed in place. Make as many squares as there are kinds of seed to be tested. Place ten seed of each kind in a square, and make a roll of the cloth by folding the edges over the squares in the center and then rolling up. The cloth may be rolled up on a corn cob, which will help hold the moisture. Fasten with rubber bands or string. Dip in lukewarm water and keep moist through the germination period, which will be as follows: Beans, peas, okra, corn, 3 days; tomatoes, peppers, cucumbers, squash, eggplant, watermelon, cantaloupe, 5 to 7 days.

To keep rag doll seed tester moist without further addition of water, it may be rolled up in a feed sack or placed in damp shavings or sawdust and allowed to remain at ordinary indoor temperature. At the end of the germination period, unroll and count the seed that have sprouted to determine percentage of germination. Eighty per cent germination is considered satisfactory.

Where English peas are grown under warm weather conditions, the gardener should dust once a week with dusting sulphur to prevent mildew. This disease first shows up as a powdery mass over the lower leaves, then spreads over the entire plant, later causing the leaves to have a rusty appearance and the plants cease to produce peas, or even die. Dusting sulphur at the early stages will help control it.

INTERESTING FACTS OF THIS AND THAT

The War Manpower Commission estimates that the farmers of America must recruit 3,400,000 additional workers before July.

There is one dentist for each 850 American soldiers overseas. It has been estimated that the annual loss from work due to accidents in the United States totals 480,000,000 man-years.

The Pentagon office in Washington, D. C., the office building in the city, cost $86,000,000 to build.

Men are being discharged from the army for various reasons at the rate of 100,000 a day. Before the war 24 men kept constantly busy in sightseers through the building at Washington.

Two Minute Sermon

(By Thomas Hastwell)

The Arrow of Unkindness: When it is said of a man that he is a Christian, the common impulse is to think of him as a consistent church member who attends religious services regularly, reads his Bible, and is a liberal giver to all phases of his church's activities, as well as the community welfare program. I think being a Christian means more than these things. All of them are good and desirable Christian characteristics, but are in my opinion merely the outward mechanics of living a Christian life, and not the expression of it. I think one can do all these things and still continue to lack the quality of being a Christian. The evidence of Christian content in a life, in my opinion, is evidenced by kindness, consideration, gentleness, industry and the like, and to these I would add the little graces of human conduct of which there are many. One will do to illustrate. It is that of a kindly and charitable tongue. I do not believe, that no matter how well grounded or gifted one is in all these other things that his Christian content is very high if he permits himself to say untrue and unkind things of an-

A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and loving favour rather than silver and gold.—Proverbs 22:1.

In the good old days when a boy started in to learn the printer's trade he started at the bottom by building fires, sweeping out, washing presses and running errands. In the course of time he fed presses, set type and learned press work. In due time he was advanced to the linotype. All this was done at a wage that would send the Wage Hour Bureau into a frenzy, but which was, nevertheless, quite commensurate with the work done and in view of the fact that he was being taught, at considerable expense to the boss, a useful trade. Under such a system he developed a love for the trade. He became a printer who needed not to be ashamed of the product of his hand, and mind, and skill. It is not so today. A couple of days after he graduates from high school the young man today is willing to accept a job if he will be permitted to take over the linotype at the regular scale, a job that the present plodding operator machinist spent many hard years of close application to learn, and acquire his precious skill. The result is that such trades as good pressmen and good printers are not overcrowded. They never will be because the young men who are willing to pay the price to become master printers are scarce. There are not enough of them willing to spend the time required to learn at the wages the proprietors of small printing plants can afford to pay.

Before we would be willing to let a man's conscience be his guide we would want to know something about his conscience. Some consciences we have known were mighty poor guides.

I wouldn't be surprised, a local person remarked this week, to see within the next ten years a two passenger airplane sail by with six school students in it and one standing on each wing.

The main trouble with the whole conservation program, the editor of one of our exchanges notes, is that too many conservationists want the other fellow to do the conserving.

We agree with the discerning editor of one of our exchanges who notes that many of the modern novels, like the farmer's seed oats, should be treated for smut.

HISTORY

May Day—May 1: The celebration of May Day dates back into remote antiquity. As observed today the day is quite a departure from the rituals that were employed in its observance some two hundred years B. C. in Rome. Shorn of its ancient symbolism the occasion has come to be a beautiful annual spring event in schools and colleges throughout the country. The festival was supposed to have been instituted by the Romans in 238 B. C. where it was celebrated from April 28 to May 3. There is some confusion regarding the exact date of its origin as some historians place it at 173 B. C. Both groups agree, however, that it originated in Rome and was attended with festivals of the type usually observed in the pagan days in Rome. The Romans are supposed to have taken the festival to Great Britain during their occupancy of the country which lasted four or five centuries. Some historians claim to trace the observation of the day back to Egypt and India where it celebrated the revival of fertility of nature in the spring. Some similar feast was celebrated by the Druids and the Scotch. The Colonists brought the practice of celebrating the day to America. Because of its association with the orgies of its earlier celebration the use of the Maypole and other features of the celebration were prohibited by the Puritans. The observance of the day was abandoned for a time in England but is returning much in the same form in which it is observed in this country. The present day observance by the young people in schools and colleges is a broad departure from its former observance. It is characterized by games and the winding of the Maypole. The smaller children observe the day by hanging baskets of flowers on the doors of their friends at night. In the larger centers the day is usually the occasion of a parade by radicals, labor and other organizations followed by mass meetings.

What We Think

(By Frank Dixon)

Notwithstanding all the pleas that are being made for the support of the war effort there are many throughout the country who are falling short of full co-operation when it comes to the matter of the conservation of tires and gasoline.

While professing to co-operate in the war effort they are nevertheless, resorting to every means to chisel on the gasoline program. Though they are aware that there isn't tires enough for everyone who needs them, nor gasoline enough for all the needs, they resort to every scheme and subterfuge to secure more than their fair share.

It is not a mark of shrewdness or intelligence to chisel on the tire and gasoline rationing program, since ninety-eight per cent of the enforcement of the rationing program depends upon the honesty and the patriotism of the individual.

If the individual is dishonest and unpatriotic he is going to chisel on the tire and gasoline rationing program. If he is honest and patriotic he is not going to chisel on the rationing program. The rationing program as it pertains to tire and gasoline was set up in order to insure that that portion of these vital items allotted for civilian use might be distributed in such a manner that they would contribute to the largest degree possible to the war effort. But for the rationing program and the restraint imposed by it the supply of both tires and gasoline would long ago have been cornered by those with large means and the prices increased to many times the present market.

The rules set up for the distribution of such tires as are allotted a county provide that tires be supplied doctors, veterinarians, mail carriers and those connected with public health and safety and to farmers and producers of food on the basis of their contribution to the war effort as expressed in the amount of food produced on their farms.

Because there is not now and will not be for the duration, enough tires to supply every car owner, who under the rules, is entitled to tires, some are going to have to go without. This may be a hardship as well as a very great inconvenience, but it is unfortunately the case and there appears to be no solution.

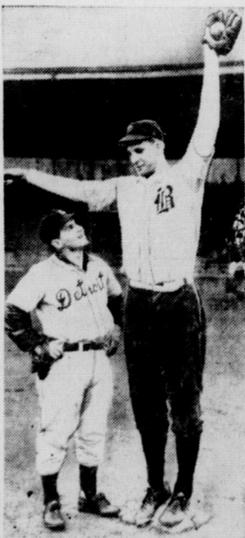

Because of this situation those who are fortunate enough to secure tires owe it to their country and to their fellowmen who have not been so fortunate to conserve their tires in every way possible. They should do no driving that is not absolutely necessary. They should realize that the country is at war, and is on a war time basis, and that unnecessary driving is not a contribution to the war effort.

The same condition exists with the use of gasoline. No honest or patriotic man will chisel in times like this on the use of gasoline. Gasoline is critically needed in the war to fly the planes and drive the tanks. What the army does not need is distributed among civilians. When a man chisels on his gasoline or patronizes a black market he is not honestly or patriotically contributing to the war effort.

The ration program has no police force except the police force of honesty and patriotism of each individual. Where there is no such honesty and no such patriotism the program breaks down.

Fortunately the chislers represent but a very small minority. They are the exception in every community.

IN THE NEWS 30 YEARS AGO

News items below were taken in whole or in part from the issue of The News of April 10, 1914:

W. W. Pigg, 75, died at his home near Thalia, Sunday, April 5. Mr. Pigg came from Collin County to this section in 1889 and lived here until his death. He was a Mason and the services at the grave were conducted under the auspices of that fraternity.

First Monday, April 5, proved to be one of the biggest days that Crowell had had in many a day. At an early hour people began to flock in from the country and nearby towns and by noon a large crowd had assembled on the streets, while almost every available place to hitch a team was occupied by a horse, mule, jack, cow or colt.

J. W. Johnson and Miss Pearl Boggs secured the prizes offered for the first couple to marry on that day. They were married at 12:30 a. m. The license was secured from Deputy Clerk John Roberts, and Rev. A. C. Gettys, Baptist pastor, performed the ceremony.

Supt. T. A. Taggart and family left last week for Saint Jo where they will spend all or a part of their vacation.

Miss Allie Tuttle, who is teaching school at Foard City, spent Saturday and Sunday in Crowell.

Miss Nora Campbell and friend, Miss Eva Hayler, were in the city a few days last week visiting Miss Campbell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Campbell.

Jim Allee Hart, the new partner in the firm of the Owl Drug Store, made his arrival at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Hart, Thursday morning at 8:30.

Results from the frost Wednesday night cannot yet be fully determined. One farmer, who has 400 acres of wheat ready to head, is of the opinion that it is badly damaged. Most wheat growers are of the opinion that late wheat, and wheat that was pastured late are not hurt.

R. A. Wells comes to the front this week with three big wheels on subscription, two for himself, and a year's subscription for his daughter, Mrs. W. W. O'Neal, at Bertrand, Okla.

KNOW TEXAS

By Dr. William E. Howard and A. Garland Adair.

Q. Does anyone in Texas supply Texas flags to combat units in World War II?

A. Yes. Kari Hoblitzelle, chairman of the Centennial of Statehood Commission, has instructed the Commission to supply upon request the Lone Star Flag to Combat Units, USO centers, Training Camps and Veterans' Hospitals. Many flags have already been delivered in response to these requests which daily reach the Governor's office and the Statehood Commission. Anyone desiring to help in this worthy endeavor are invited to send contributions to Texas Centennial of Statehood Commission, 612 Northwood Building, Austin, Texas.

Q. What is the closing date of the High School Essay Contest on the subject: "Why Texas Should Observe Its Centennial of Statehood?"

A. Mrs. Henry R. Wofford of San Antonio, chairman of the Daughters of the Republic Statehood Essay Contest, states that the contest will close April 15, 1944.

Q. Who was the first Governor of Texas and sketch briefly some of the facts of his life?

A. The following is taken from the 1944 edition of "Texas Centennial": James Pinckney Henderson First Governor-1846-47 (Served one term). Birthplace: North Carolina—March 31, 1809.

Public Offices: Attorney General, Secretary of State, Minister to France, England and the United States, and U. S. Senator.

The public career of Governor Henderson was one of the cleanest and purest that was ever presented before the people of any country.

Henderson County was named in his honor. He attended the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in 1830, and then studied law. He moved to Mississippi and settled at Canton, where he practiced his profession until he came to Texas.

In 1836 he raised a company of volunteers, and brought them to Texas, arriving at Velasco in June. At the inauguration of President Houston in October, 1836, Henderson was appointed Attorney General and later became Secretary of State. In 1837 he was Minister to England and France, and negotiated treaties of commerce and navigation with these countries. He returned to Texas in 1840 and resumed the practice of law with Thomas J. Rusk and Kenneth L. Anderson as partners. He was sent in 1844 as special Minister to the United States. In 1845 he was elected first Governor of the State of Texas. During the Mexican War he temporarily abandoned his office and became commander-in-chief of the Texas forces with the rank of Major General. For his gallantry at Monterey he was presented a sword by the United States Congress. In 1857 he was elected United States Senator to succeed Senator Rusk, but died June 4, 1858, at Washington, D. C., before taking his seat. The hobby of this great and clean character was his family and friends.

According to the United States Department of Agriculture a cubic mile of the finest top soil in the United States is washed away each year. The loss is due, the Department states, to the manner of cultivation. Too many hill-sides and sharply rolling land which should be planted to grass are planted to row crops which require cultivation and which put the top soil in perfect condition to be washed away with every rain.

An examination by the Navy of college freshmen reveals that 4,200 freshmen from 27 leading universities, 68 per cent were unable to pass the arithmetic test, and 62 per cent failed the whole test. In order to secure the number of men needed Navy standards had to be lowered 50 per cent.

James P. Henderson passed away June 4, 1858; was buried in Washington, D. C.; in April, 1930, he was reinterred in the State Cemetery, Austin.

Q. What is being done to assure that there will be built in Texas a fitting memorial in honor of the heroic part played by Texans in the war?

A. Advocates of such a memorial have started a movement to encourage the building of wings to the Texas Memorial Museum on the U. of T. campus or a Memorial to World War II, to include also a Hall of Remembrance.

How Jungle Fighters Live, Work and Fight From the steaming jungles and hills of Bougainville Island in the northern Solomons come reports by enlisted men and officers of the 37th (Buckeye) Division, telling how a United States Army jungle fighter lives, what he thinks about and hopes for, and how, fortified by humor, he continues day in and day out in the fight to conquer a treacherous foe. What with Japanese snipers and bombers, the discomforts of jungle life, and the need for constant work, his days and nights are fully occupied. Yet there are plenty of humorous incidents. For example, some of the troops were changing their positions, and foxholes were deepened and covered with logs and sandbags. One soldier made a particularly good job of his foxhole. He then announced that "even a bomb could not get into it." Unfortunately, neither could he. He had forgotten to leave a place for an entrance. Soldiers Sleep in Hammocks Sleeping arrangements are comparatively simple. A soldier looks around for two trees sturdy enough to support his weight, and slings his jungle hammock between them. About 7 p. m., if he has no particular duties, he crawls into his hammock and begins to wonder how the wife and youngster are getting along—if he has them—or his sweetheart, or the girl next door at home, or to dream about that last furlough he had. Likely as not, it begins to rain and his wanderings turn to his foxhole and how much water there's going to be in it. About this time, there is an ear-shattering warning wail from the warning siren. So the soldier opens the flapper of his mosquito netting, hunts for his shoes, and runs and slides into the foxhole, which by now is about half full of water. CARD OF THANKS Words cannot express our appreciation for the many acts of kindness and friendship shown us since our home was destroyed by fire last week. Everybody has been so kind and our hearts are filled with thanks for each deed done and word said. Mr. and Mrs. Vergie Allen and Children. American casualties of the war to date are 162,282. Of these, 37,853 are known to be dead. Others listed as wounded, missing and prisoners of war.

Nutrition Notes Cook cabbage quickly to get most of its goodness. Bring small amount of water to boil, put in cabbage, and cook for 15 to 18 minutes—less time for shredded cabbage. Low cost, low point lamb cuts are as tasty as lamb chops. Broil the shank or flank, or grind up the meat on them and make them into patties or a lamb loaf. Eat more citrus fruit—grapefruit, oranges, lemons, tangerines—while they are plentiful for your daily quota of Vitamin C. Your body cannot store this vitamin, and it must be replenished every day. Hot and spiced beets are good. Lift the cooked beets out of their liquor. Mix the liquid with cornstarch, sugar, allspice, and vinegar and cook slowly until it thickens. Add the beets and butter, or margarine, and heat. Once a can of molasses is open, store it in a cold place or a refrigerator to keep it from molding or fermenting. Molasses is high in iron that is needed for blood building. Use it often in gingerbread, cakes and cookies. In cooking keep the temperature low to prevent scorching. For a quick cooking, nutritious dish make fish soup. Use fresh fish for soup, as well as for fish aspico, fish tamales or in fish soufflé. Use crumbled crisp bacon to season cooked spinach. Top this dish with the chopped white of the minced yolk of a hard-cooked egg. Like fish or fowl, rabbit has a good store of protein. Broil or fry the younger ones, cook the older ones longer. Add a bit of vinegar to vegetables—boiled carrots, beets, turnips, cabbage or a dash of lemon juice, to give them a pleasant, sour seasoning. Try a little nutmeg on potatoes or stewed cabbage, and a pinch of cloves on tomatoes.

Back To The Bible
 Tell your children what to do exactly the way they are going. Tell a little boy to do something and tell him exactly the non-committal way he is apt to do it differently. God told His children that they "Love not the world, neither those that are in the world." (1 John 2:15). Man wants to imitate the things of the world. This dual desire has birth to one of the most powerful doctrines that the devil has ever conceived. It is the doctrine that it is impossible for a converted man to use his apostasy as a means to finally get back to the things of the world. (2 Peter 2:20-22). "When a righteous man turns away from his righteousness and committeth iniquity, he shall be counted as the unrighteous which he hath done shall be his sin." (Ezekiel 18:26). "So then because of art lukewarm, and neither hot nor cold, I will spue thee out of my mouth." (Rev. 3:16). TO EACH THAT A CHILD OF GOD DOES NOT FALL FROM GRACE: He denies each of the above many similar passages from the Word of God. Makes man possible, destroying the virtue of obedience, and denying the obedience of rebellion. Makes God's unconditioned. Denies admonition "Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life." (Rev. 2:10).

Christian Science Services
 "Doctrine of Atonement" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 16.

The Golden Text is: "I am not alone, because the Father is with me. . . In the world ye shall have tribulation; but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world" (John 16:32, 33).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Now no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous; nevertheless afterward it yieldeth the peaceable fruit of righteousness unto them which are exercised thereby" (Hebrews 12:11).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "If your endeavors are beset by fearful odds, and you receive no present reward, go not back to error, nor become a sluggard in the race. When the smoke of battle clears away, you will discern the good you have done, and receive according to your deserving" (page 22).

The Greatest Meeting Ever Held
 The greatest meeting ever held is still to be held. It has not occurred yet, but it is surely coming. One reason it will be the greatest meeting is that the greatest number of people ever gathered will be there. Every person who has ever lived will be in this meeting. Another reason is that all the angels will be there. But the greatest of all is the fact that

Lydia Pinkham's TABLETS

God will be there.
 Some day every one of us will go in to meet God. For some of us it will be the happiest moment we have ever known. God is the most wonderful person in existence, and one wonderful day some of us are going to meet Him. All of our lives He has been loving us, guiding our steps, caring for us, comforting us in our sorrows, meeting our every need, and some day we will meet Him.

But for many others that day of meeting will be a terrible day, when they will cry for the mountains and rocks to fall on them and hide them from the face of Him that sitteth on the throne and from His wrath. But they shall be no hope for them. "It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God" (Heb. 10:31).

What makes all this difference between those who meet God with great joy and those who meet Him in fear and despair? Let our text be your answer: "Prepare to meet thy God" (Amos 4:12).

Some are prepared for that meeting; all others are not. The only preparation is "repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ." It is to turn from every known sin to God, and accept Jesus as your own Lord and Saviour. Christ Himself is the only preparation for meeting

God. "He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life; and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him" (John 3:36).
 How many classes of people are mentioned in this verse? Which class are you in?
