A small group of 36th (Texas) Division soldiers are playing the role of "miracle men" a few miles behind the 7th Army front in Eastern France, according to a news release from the Sixth Army Group, France. Every 48 hours, they receive a contingent of weary, dirty, battle-fatigued soldiers from companies in the line, and they proceed to make fresh, clean, spirited fighters out of them. Major Ben F. Wilson Jr., Kingsville, Texas, division special service officer, has charge of the "miracle men" and is assisted by a large number of Texas soldiers, among whom are Pvt. William H. Adams of Ft. 2, Crowell. The division has requisitioned 10 hotels in a beautiful hillside town famous for its natural hot springs. Real beds and mattresses, then, are the first pleasant surprises which the tired doughboys get. Then they go to a spacious, comfortable bathhouse, also requisitioned by the division, where after a hot bath in big, modern tubs they climb into entirely new uniforms—everything clean and fresh from underwear to woolens. For two days the men see all the modern pictures they want. They have the things they don't have at the front.

You mean, it's that easy?

This Skeptical Gentleman represents many hundreds of thousands of automobile owners... intelligent, patriotic drivers who are determined to give their cars the best of care, who understand the nation's need for keeping every possible car running for the duration.

They require no long-winded arguments to convince them that quality oil is the best policy. They ask only: How can I select a quality lubricant, when I am neither an engineer nor a chemist? Isn't there some simple, easy way to make sure of getting a motor oil of quality?

There is! Phillips, with an outstanding reputation in the field, makes a frank and clear statement to relieve all doubt when choosing between the various oils marketed under this good name. Phillips says, if you want our best oil, remember we frankly tell you that Phillips 66 Motor Oil is our finest quality... the highest grade and the greatest value... among all the oils we offer to average motorists.

Oil wears thin in summer use. It also accumulates dust, metal particles, and oxidation products. So it's wise, say experts, to drain every two months, under today's reduced driving conditions. Especially when you make the seasonal change, ask for the correct winter grade of Phillips 66 Motor Oil.

V-DAY PRECAUTIONS

News of the end of the war in Europe will affect people in many different ways. To most it will be a day of thanksgiving, but with the reservation that many long months of fighting are still before our armed forces in the Pacific.

Whether fires and other damage to property will result from observance of victory in Europe will be largely in the hands of individual citizens. Municipal officials therefore are urged to stress measures which will minimize the likelihood of such damage. Following are suggestions to consider in connection with such prevention efforts:

1. Urge that conditions in offices, stores, factories and homes which might cause fire be properly cared for before leaving. Fire guards in office and mercantile buildings should be charged with the duty of maintaining fire watch after other employees have left.
2. Try to prevent false fire alarms. Some cities plan to assign off-duty firemen or auxiliary firemen, or other civilian defense workers, as watchers at fire alarm boxes.
3. Try to prevent bonfires. This duty could be assigned to local civilian defense fire wardens and fire watchers.
4. Auxiliary police can be used to point out to drivers that cars parked to watch parades could obstruct fire department apparatus which might be responding to an alarm.
5. Urge that children be kept out of crowds. Panic may easily occur under the condition of excitement which probably will exist.

V-Day will be a time for universal thanksgiving, but the observance of European victory should not carry with it any element that may endanger life and property. — Industrial News-Review.

AGRICULTURE

(D. F. Eaton, County Agent.)

Harvesting Sweet Potatoes One other crop is grown here in the county which has proved very profitable for the past two years. We are referring to sweet potatoes.

The average has been considerably expanded this year over previous years. The yield has been good both years and the price satisfactory.

Early potatoes bring a fancy price of $4.00 per bushel, then settle down to around $2.00 per bushel with a yield of 100 to 150 bushels per acre, dry land. However this crop is rather expensive to grow and requires adapted machinery and a lot of hand labor which is scarce.

The quality is excellent and most of the growers call and grade and pack their potatoes. The number one potatoes are as fine as are grown anywhere and as good or better in quality.

Many growers have curing plants where the potatoes are stored and sold gradually through the year when the price is better. Some have irrigation system and by its use increase their yield.

Alfalfa A Good Crop

One of our less extensive crops here in the county is alfalfa, one cutting of which was harvested for a good yield of seed. This has proved a very profitable crop and the acreage is being increased. The yields of hay have been very satisfactory and found ready market. There is no better hay for al-types of livestock and fortunate indeed is the farmer who can grow this crop as a supplemental feed for his livestock. The area adapted to growing this crop is limited but much more could be grown with profit.

There seems to have been an increase in production of alfalfa seed here in the state. The crop is reported three times as large as it was last year, some 30,000 bushels of seed was produced.

The indicated yield per acre was 2 1/2 bushels as compared to 2 1/4 bushels last year. Our yield here was from 300 to 500 pounds per acre.

There is an unlimited demand for this seed and at excellent prices. Remember that only one cutting is saved for seed as a rule and that two or three other cuttings are produced and cut for hay.

Cattle Grub Appears

We have just received a sample of leather damaged by the cattle grub while intact on the cow. This injury can be prevented and it is only one of many other losses resulting from this insect pest.

As you know the grub is the larva of the heel-fly which was deposited on the hams of the legs of the animal last spring. It has taken him all year long to make his way through certain parts of the body to his present location just under the skin in the back of the animal.

In his route here are some of the losses he causes. Texas slaughterers 2,000,000 cattle of this number $40,000 are found to be grubby. They are discounted one and one-half cents per pound when bought.

An average of two pounds of meat per grubby animal has to be trimmed away and is lost, which it is estimated reaches a total of 1,680,000 pounds loss of meat to the public. This would feed almost 5,000 soldiers for a year.

The loss to leather is also sufficient to provide shoes for a million soldiers for a year. Besides it requires fifteen per cent more feed for grubby animals, so that corn belt feeders are demanding grub-free cattle. Texas farmers are losing around $5,000,000 per year from the ravages of this insect. See this office for treatment. All this can be prevented by the use of a Rotenone compound and sulphur or other remedies. See your druggist.

Veterans' Advisory Committee

Demobilized war veterans desiring to farm in this county will have the advice and assistance in any incidental problems of a county advisory committee consisting of seven farm people. The members of the group are: Mrs. T. W. Cooper, Homer Zeibig, A. W. Barker, Luther Tamplen, Roy Ayers, Mrs. Earl Davis and Mrs. Grady Halbert. Its function is to advise veterans desiring its aid in ways to serve their best interests; to help them find places on farms, and to serve their best interests; to help them find places on farms, and to compare information of a general nature regarding agricultural conditions in the county.

The committee is a part of the Selective Service Veterans' Assistance Program and was created at the request of Grover Hill, Assistant War Food Administrator. He specified that the group should be set up by the A. & M. College Extension Service under the leadership of the county agricultural agent.

All discharged servicemen are required to report to their local selective service boards within five days after demobilization. At that time inquiry is made regarding their plans. If any indicate a desire to engage in farming they are informed about the advisory assistance which the committee and the county agricultural agent are prepared to render.

In addition, material containing information about the assistance program has been prepared by the War Department and is being distributed to servicemen in advance of discharge.

Roup In Turkeys

Sinusitis, more commonly called roup or swell-head, affects turkeys of all ages. According to Sam Moore, poultry husbandman or the A. & M. College Extension Service, the disease is highly contagious and is transmitted mainly by contact with infected or recovered carrier birds. It generally is seen after birds are over six weeks of age. The condition usually is exhibited by swelling or enlargement of the sinus due to accumulation of a gelatinous-like fluid in the sinus. The lung form often is present with or without the swelling of the sinuses and sometimes produces more deaths. Birds so affected usually exhibit a rattling in the lungs and go off feed.

Moore says that vaccines or bacterins do not provide any protection or promote any curative effects on sinusitis. But turkeys at all times should be provided with sufficient amounts of vitamin A either in the feed, or as green feed or alfalfa hay.

In the swollen sinus type good results often are obtained by removing the fluid from the sinus with a syringe and needle (16 or 18 gauge needle) and injecting 1-2 c. c. of four per cent silver nitrate into each sinus and then massage lightly. If a syringe is not available, open the sinus, drain, and swab with four per cent silver nitrate. Make the incision large enough so it will stay open and drain. Cutting a circular hole with sharp scissors gives best results.

Lately sulfathiazole has given promising results, Moore says. To treat individual birds give one 7.7 grain tablet of sulfathiazole morning and night for the first and second days. Then follow with one tablet daily for the next four or five days, or until indication of recovery is seen. For flock treatment, add sulfathiazole powder to the mash at the rate of one pound to each 100 pounds of feed, and feed for ten days, or until appearance of recovery is observed. While we do not have many turkeys in the county, yet some have reported trouble with this disease.

Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake; for their's is the kingdom of heaven.—Matthew 5:10.

The Germans who expect to ask for a soft peace are the same people who are going to continue what they well know is a lost war until the very last. They are going to stay in as long as they are physically able, kill every Allied soldier they can, and then at the last, when they have been driven into the last corner, are going to ask for a soft peace.

We have a greater fear that this country will suffer more in the future from the result of isolationism than we have that it will suffer from an over aggressive militarism.

It was only three years ago that the first of the Liberty ships, the Patrick Henry, designed to carry supplies to our Allies and our own soldiers, was launched.

The most critical and vindictive gossip, one authority says, is prompted by jealousy. That is, the gossip secretly desires to do the things that the victim of her gossip is doing but lacks the courage and the opportunity.

There are three objectives before the country today that surpass in importance all others. The first is to win the peace and the second is to win prosperity.

Remember the good old days when the village milliners used to go to the wholesale house each spring and come back home after a couple of weeks expert hat stylists?

The fellow who habitually expects the worst is never very keenly disappointed if it doesn't happen.

Our lumber dealers urge us to get our homes ready for winter. Incidentally it is splendid advice.

HISTORY

The invention of the Phonograph—November 21, Thomas A. Edison announced the invention of his phonograph on November 21, 1877. Although the principle of recording sound and reproducing it was known before the announcement of the invention of the phonograph by Edison, no practical application had been made of it.

Horse-and-Buggy Stuff

Maybe at some distant time when the world has settled down from its present agonies and men can think clearly again, Texas will take out its horse-and-buggy constitution and give it a thorough going-over in the interest of modernization.

As it is, we have been amending the thing piecemeal for decades—ever since it was adopted in 1876—without much intelligence, certainly without achievement, and with a flexibility, great and growing state needs for its efficient operation.

Two more of the innumerable amendments will be found on the blanket-size general election ballot coming up November 7. As usual most voters will overlook them entirely, and not one in a hundred will be in shape to vote intelligently upon either.

One would empower municipalities and, presumably, other political subdivisions to establish an insurance and retirement fund for their employees. This sounds good on paper, but it would seem that the first consideration for any step of this kind would be the establishment of a civil service system for these political subdivisions—a civil service system that would really work and have some teeth in it, not one that any politician could drive a six-ton truck loaded with benches through after every election.

The other would empower county commissioners' courts to allocate revenues derived from the ad valorem tax to various funds as needed, under certain conditions. Perhaps this would be a good thing, since it would add a degree of flexibility to the handling of county and precinct funds not now possible.

Good example of inflexibility of our fiscal system: Somebody gave one of the state parks a calf. The park sold the calf and wanted to use the money for improvements on the park. Nothing doing. The money had to be paid into the state's general revenue fund.

One of the chief faults of our constitution is that it compels cities and counties to go to Austin to ask permission of the legislature every time they want to take a good deep breath.—Abilene Reporter-News, Sept. 28, 1944.

or thirty years hence will be an unsumountable burden. This may look like crossing one's bridges before he reaches them. It may look like borrowing trouble, but I do not feel that it is. I feel that it is merely being realistic.

I fear that after the fighting has ceased we are going to turn from the ways of war to the ways of peace as we did following the last war, and permit another war to grow up in our back yard and burst upon us in all its fury. Like a man sobering up from a drunk-debauch we hold up our hands now and say "never again" but eternal vigilance of the most vigilant type is the only thing that can or will prevent another war, and eternal vigilance is not a product of wishful thinking, indifference and neglect.

This war has been costly. How costly no one knows, and few can ever guess. Its costs will be levied on the nation for the next seventy-five years at least, but the next war—if we permit another war, will be twice as costly as this. Each war in the past has been more costly than the one that preceded it. These costs have mounted to the point where the question seriously presents itself as to whether the world could survive another war more exhausting than this one. The armies may be victorious in the field, but the home front may become so exhausted in the effort that its progress will be blighted for years to come because of oppressive taxes and the burden of debt.

Personally I have little fear that the debt occasioned by this war cannot be paid, but I do have a fear—a real fear—that the cost of another such war twenty-five

Food, Home Notes

(By Miss Elizabeth Elliott, County Home Demonstration Agent.)

Apple A Day in Many A Way

A large apple crop this year offers an opportunity for everyone to have an apple a day in a variety of ways. The bulletins referred to below are available from your County Home Demonstration Agent.

Apples may be kept several months in the natural state if they are in good condition to start with, and if they are stored properly by suggestions in publications B-111 "Storage Structure and Home Storage of Vegetables" or B-134 "Pantry Suggestions."

Drying is one of the best methods of preserving apples. Follow directions in bulletins C-170 "Dry Foods at Home."

Apples may be canned successfully by either method, "Raw Pack and Steam" or "Pre-cook." Both methods are described in B-85 "Home Canning of Fruits and Vegetables." Since apples shrink so much when heated, it is necessary to refill more than some fruits. For this reason, some people prefer the pre-cook method. Apples may also be baked, packed while hot into clean jars, and processed in a water bath 10 minutes.

Apple Sauce

1 gallon sliced apples.
1 cup boiling water.
1 cup sugar (more may be used to suit taste).
½ cup lemon juice if desired.

Good cooking apples with slightly tart flavor make the best sauce or butter. Wash apples thoroughly. Cut into small pieces without removing peelings and cores, provided a good sieve is available, otherwise, remove peelings and cores. Cut into small pieces and in this way it is not necessary to press through sieve. All boiling water. Cover utensil. Cook until tender, (about 20 minutes). Press apples with peelings and cores through the sieve. Add sugar. Pack while hot in hot, clean jars and process in a water bath 10 minutes.

Apple Butter

1 gallon apples, 1 pint water or apple cider, 1 pound sugar (brown sugar is best), 1 teaspoon salt, ½ cup lemon juice if desired. The following spices may or may not be used according to taste: 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon, ½ teaspoon ground cloves, ½ teaspoon ground allspice.

Follow directions for apple sauce above. When the sugar and spices are added, return to the fire and cook slowly for about 1 hour, stirring continuously. The butter should be very thick and give sputtering or thick bubbling sound as it cooks. Add lemon juice and salt. Cook 5 minutes longer. Pour while hot into clean, hot jars. Seal and process in water bath 5 minutes.

Apple-Grape Butter

A variation of apple butter can be made by substituting 1½ pints pure grape juice for the 1 pint water. Follow other directions the same as plain apple butter.

Apple Juice or Jelly Stock

Use tart or sour apples. Wash and remove blossom end and decayed spots, but do not peel or core. Cut into small pieces. Barely cover with hot water. Cook slowly in covered vessel from 20 to 30 minutes, or until fruit is quite tender, but not mushy. Squeeze through a cheese cloth or flour sack or use a sieve for this purpose. Then let the juice drip through flannel jelly bag that has been wrung out of hot water. If juice is to be kept for later use or to be used as a drink, pour into sterilized jars. Seal, process 15 minutes in a water bath.

Pectin Extract

When tart fall and winter apples are peeled for canning, preserving, drying or for apple sauce or butter, the peelings may be used for home made pectin which can be added to fruit juices low in acid in order to make jelly.

First scrub apples and remove blemishes. For each 4 pounds of peelings and cores add 4 pints hot water and 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Cover and boil 20 minutes.

The tide of war has rolled on far past Naples, but the children still show the indelible marks of that period of terror and death, as shown by the top left alone. Thousands have been left without homes, parents or food. One of the biggest problems on civilian affairs is the providing of suitable relief for these tots.

city of household screening also is being released to civilians. Since no more is being made just now, you can't expect to find much.

You can expect to have continued difficulty in finding bedding fabrics, ticking, upholstery and bedspreads. The reasons are greater military demands for tent materials and shortage of manpower at the mills. Practically all the looms are working on ducking and duck substitutes to fill army orders. The only bright spot in this situation is that the wool and mohair situation is easing up. Soon you should be able to get wool upholstery, for instance.

Late Rationing News

Here's the latest ration news: Grape and tomato jams, preserves and marmalades no longer need ration points. If it's jelly you buy or canned tomatoes, you'll find the point values still remain. Corn is back on the ration list now, except for corn-on-the-cob. Whole-kernel style in the 12-oz. can takes three points, and the 20 ounce can cream style requires five. One final word: Sugar stamp number thirty-three worth five pounds is now valid.

Two Minute Sermon

(By Thomas Hastwell)

A Parents Gift To His Son: I received a letter recently from a young man who grew up in my community. After he had completed high school his parents died within a year of each other and he went to a new locality to live. He told me of his efforts to complete his education and the work he was doing. One paragraph in his letter caught my attention. "I don't know how I am going to make out as you know my parents both died poor and left me nothing." I had known his parents for years. They were fine Christian people, than which there were no better in the community. When I answered the young man's letter I told him I was glad to hear from him and encouraged him in his efforts to secure an education and make a career for himself. "You are mistaken," I wrote him, "when you say that your parents left you nothing. I knew your parents well. They left you the finest inheritance that any young man ever received. They left you the memory of a Christian home. They left you a fine mind, a perfect physical body with clean blood coursing through your veins. They left you a mental alertness, a fine co-ordination of mind and muscle, a rich spiritual background. Don't ever tell anyone your parents left you nothing. They started you out with the greatest heritage a young man ever possessed. What are you going to do with it?"

"Everlasting Punishment" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 29.

The Golden Text is, "Wherefore doth a living man complain, a man for the punishment of his sins? Let us search and try our ways, and turn again to the Lord" (Lamentations 3:39, 40).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "But if the wicked will turn from all his sins that he hath committed, and keep all my statutes, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall surely live, he shall not die" (Ezekiel 18:21).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "It is a sense of sin, and not a sinful soul, which is lost. Evil is destroyed by the sense of good" (page 311).

Weekly Sermon

By Robert L. Constable, Director of Correspondence School, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

What Makes It Heaven?

There is a hymn that says, "Where Jesus is, 'tis heaven." Whenever we think of heaven we always assume His presence there.

The Bible is the only place we learn anything about heaven, and it tells us very little. Since it has not "entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love Him," the best way to describe it is in terms we understand, terms of earth. But because there is little of the earthly in heaven, our descriptions are most about what heaven is not.

In Revelation 21:1 we read that there is no more sea in heaven—no more of that which separates, no more heaving turmoil and storm. We remember that in John 6, when the Lord's disciples had been rowing across the sea of Galilee through a high storm, Jesus came to them walking on the sea. As soon as He stepped inside the boat there was a great calm, and they were immediately on the other side of the lake. No separation, no storm, because Jesus takes them away.

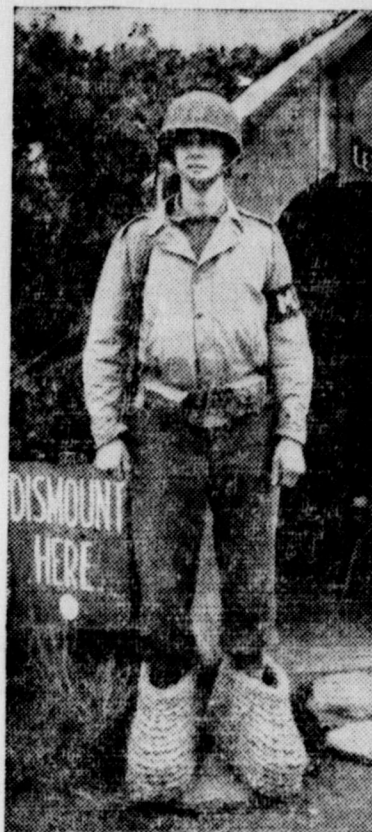

In Revelation 21:1 we read, "There shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying." We think of John 11, when at the grave of Lazarus Jesus showed that He was the One who could conquer death and replace sorrow with great joy.

Going on to Revelation 22:5 we are told that in heaven "there shall be no more curse." That is because Christ was made a curse for us. "For cursed is everyone that hangeth on a tree." He was made sin for us, that we might be the righteousness of God in Him" (II Cor. 5:21). No more curse, because Jesus has taken the curse away.

In verse 5 we read, "There shall be no night there." It is night for God's people now, the night of His absence. He said, "While I am in the world I am the light of the world." And He is the light of heaven, "Weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning." There shall be no night in heaven because He who is the Sun of righteousness shall be in the midst of His people. "And they shall see His face." That will make it heaven.

ASK THE NEWSBOY

The success of any enterprise in a free country is in direct proportion to the service rendered. Anyone who has done a day's work should realize this basic truth.

Ask the newsboy how he gets and keeps his customers. If he is a successful newsboy, his answer will be the same as that of the president of the largest corporation. He tries to do a good job. It is just that simple.

New industries are the result of a constant figuring out a way to supply something the public wants. A hundred years ago a team conductor saw the need of speedy transportation of certain types of perishable or valuable commodities. Out of his idea, the Railway Express Agency developed. While it carries the name of railroads, it does not confine its activities to moving goods by rail. As in the beginning, its primary objective is to render a special fast shipping service to the public, regardless of the means.

of conveyance.

When the potentialities of air transport were recognized, air express and combined rail-air express were established. Packages are now shipped by air from thousands of off-airline points. Every railway express office is an air express office. Parcels packed for air express travel by rail to the nearest airline and are transhipped.

Without stopping to consider the newness of air transport, some so-called "experts" occasionally point to the volume of air express shipments as compared to rail express, and infer that the railroads are being favored. Thus, they show their ignorance. Air express will expand as rapidly as demand and facilities permit, because express, like the airlines, the railroads, or the corner grocery, must give the public the service it wants, if it is to survive. It lives by the same rules as the newsboys.—Industrial News-Service.

First Conference Game Won by CHS Wildcats, 19 to 0

The Crowell Wildcats defeated the Archer City Wildcats in their first conference game by a score of 19-0. The Crowell team kicked off and held the Archer City boys for three downs without much gain, forcing them to kick on the fourth. The kick was very good, going down to the Crowell 10 yard line.

Crowell took the ball and with a series of hard driving plays put the ball over for a touchdown without losing it. In this series of plays John Carter, the Crowell quarterback, was injured and had to be removed from the game. Kendrick Joy shifted from half to quarter and Horace Todd took Joy's place. Joy from the quarterback position ran the first tally over and passed to Tamplen for the extra point.

The Archer City crew came back strong and got within 10 yards of the Crowell goal twice before the half was over. The defense of the Crowell boys stiffened and saved one touchdown and possibly two. The rest of the first half was nip and tuck, with neither team being able to cross the other's goal.

In the third quarter the Crowell Wildcats scored, with Joy carrying the ball again. They attempted to run the ball over for the extra point but failed. The third score came in the same quarter with a pass from Joy to Brock and a lateral to Tamplen. Tamplen crossed the goal standing up. The attempt for extra point was another pass which failed.

The last quarter was a jinx to the Crowell boys, who were assessed a total of 80 yards in penalties, five of which were 15 yards each for holding and four of those five times the ball had crossed the goal. The game was all Crowell's the last quarter.

Pat McDaniel at his old half-back position was the offensive star for the Crowell team and Horace Todd, the substitute back, was the defensive star, with his low hard tackles. In the line O. C. Wharton at the tackle position and Travis Veera at guard showed plenty of good blocking and hard tackling. Kenneth Payne and Ray Tamplen did some excellent defensive work, too.

The substitutes used in the game were Larry Wood, Horace Todd, J. L. Gobin, J. C. Patton, N. A. Nichols and B. L. Ballard. The team will spend a great deal of time on smoothing out their plays with a revised line-up and lots of time on blocking and tackling.

GAMBLEVILLE H. D. CLUB

The Gambleville Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday, October 17, in the home of Mrs. J. C. Prosser, with Miss Elizabeth Elliott, Foard County Home Demonstration Agent, present for a demonstration on making old garments into new ones.

Officers for the coming year were elected, all were re-elected and they follow: Mrs. Willie Garrett, president; Mrs. Earl Davis, vice president; Mrs. Milburn Carroll, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. J. C. Prosser, press reporter.

Miss Elizabeth Elliott presented "Gay Accents for Your Dress" and gave seven ways of making different things, for example, collar, rever, ruff and jabot. She also demonstrated how to fold your own scarf hats.

NATIONAL APPLE WEEK

OCT. 28-NOV. 4

Since 1905, Hallowe'en has been celebrated as National Apple Day, and in 1920 Apple Week was inaugurated. With the return of peace it will again become International Apple Week... a week in which to pay tribute to the virtues of the Apple—King of Fruits!

Jonathan—the Hallowe'en apple—tart and crisp, with a special flavor all its own, makes a perfect sauce or pie, and is a wonderful lunch box, salad or eating apple.

Again we celebrate a bountiful harvest, and again good quality apples are available. For the sheer joy of having abundant supplies, in contrast to the shortages of last season, it's nice to say, "Eat an Apple every day!"
