How Much Is a Billion Gallons of 100-Octane Gasoline?

It's enough to fill 120,000 tank cars—a train 1,000 miles long.

It's enough to fill an 8-inch pipe line that would circle the earth three times at the equator.

It's enough to fuel 400,000 Flying Fortresses for a round trip flight from Britain to Germany.

That's a billion gallons of 100-octane gasoline! But it's more than that. It's the effort of the 14,000 men and women of Humble Oil & Refining Company, who are today celebrating the production of the one-billionth gallon of 100-octane aviation gasoline at Baytown refinery—a remarkable feat in the history of the petroleum industry.

It is one of the wartime contributions of the 14,000 men and women of Humble—scientists, drillers, roustabouts, stenographers, pipeliners, technologists, truck drivers, geologists, glassblowers, stillmen and those working in hundreds of other occupations.

Here is a partial list of their accomplishments to date:

- FIRST to produce at one refinery a billion gallons of finished 100-octane aviation gasoline. The Baytown refinery has produced more 100-octane aviation gasoline than any other plant in the world.
- FIRST to produce synthetic toluene. The Baytown Ordnance Works, first to synthesize toluene from petroleum, has supplied the toluene for at least one out of every two bombs used by the United Nations since Pearl Harbor.
- FIRST in the production of crude oil. Humble Oil & Refining Company is the nation's largest producer of crude oil, and is currently supplying about one-fourth of the increased production required for war as measured by the gain since 1941.
- FIRST in the transportation of petroleum. The Humble pipe lines transport more oil than any other system, handle one barrel in every seven of the domestic supply.

These accomplishments climax a quarter century of development, planning and team work of a great organization. The men and women who made them possible are behind the billion gallons of 100-octane aviation gasoline. They are behind whatever America needs of them for victory.

One of the problems to come before the nations of the world in the post-war world will be the matter of tariffs. Tariffs restrict trade relations. It is going to take careful handling to work in harmony with a country in the post war world and at the same time bar its products from our shores.

The United States now has the greatest navy and the greatest air force in the world. Our feeling is that that condition should never change. What We Think

(By Frank Dixon)

Thanksgiving is past and each of us can look back and contemplate it and compare it with other Thanksgivings that we have known. To many, Thanksgiving is just another day, bringing a holiday, a possible lay off from routine employment and the day spent in tinkering around doing odd jobs or catching up on tasks that overflow from a too busy and too crowded daily life.

Many celebrate the day by going out to some restaurant for dinner and eating a special Thanksgiving dinner. Of late years this has become the practice of thousands of people to the degree that Thanksgiving has lost to them much of the glamour and tradition that it formerly had.

Having come from a large family the Thanksgiving tradition with which I am familiar in my memory is that of a long table filled with hungry boys and girls on each side with father at one end and mother at the other end of the table.

On such occasions a turkey with cranberry sauce and pumpkin pie was a real event and caused the table to stand out in my childhood memory with a vividness that time has not erased or caused to even grow dim. To my way of thinking there is nothing, there can be nothing, which equals a Thanksgiving dinner at home with all the members of a large family gathered about the table. There is an atmosphere about it that makes of it an experience that becomes a part of life ever after.

I remember hearing my mother tell of Thanksgiving of an earlier day. In those days Thanksgiving was a greater feast and ceremony than any other feast day or holiday of the year. It was on Thanksgiving that the members of the family all gathered together under the parental roof for a day together. In some instances it was necessary for some members of the family to travel great distances, which, due to slow means of transportation, required days and even weeks. Like the people of olden time journeying up to Jerusalem each year for the Passover feast the sons and daughters came back each year to the home fireside to spend "Sorry, chum—no ringside seats. You sit in the mud, see? You got a floor show of lizards and mosquitoes crawling over your face. But this war still has a long way to go. There are still 75 million Japs who don't believe in surrendering. So during this 6th War Loan, how about putting all that luxury money into something a little more permanent—an extra $100 War Bond at least—to help get this thing really over and bring those boys of ours home? It'll hurt. But not as much as the Jap bayonet in your neighbor's stomach. You get something back—in ten years—$4 for every $3 invested. He doesn't.

Predicts Increased Investment By American Farmers During Sixth War Bond Campaign

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A prediction that American farmers will invest more money in bonds during the Sixth War Loan than in any previous drive was made today by the War Finance Division of the U. S. Treasury. Farmers bought $1,250,000,000 worth of War Bonds during 1943, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. In 1944 it is believed they can and should purchase a total of $2,000,000,000. Ted R. Gamble, national director of the War Finance Division, said.

The Sixth War Loan, starting November 20, comes at an ideal time for agriculture, he pointed out. This is not only the time when farm income is at a seasonal peak, but 1944 marks three years of record-breaking farm income, he said.

Based on information obtained from the BEA, the Agricultural Section of the War Finance Division estimates the 1944 cash farm income at $20,600,000,000, compared with $20,000,000,000 in 1943. Although net farm income, due to higher operating costs, may not be greater than in 1943, most farmers now have reduced their debts and consequently will have more money to put into War Bonds, the division reports.

In the twelve months ending January 1, 1944, farmers reduced real estate mortgages alone by $650,000,000.

Bank Deposits Gain. After paying all operating costs and necessary family expenses, farmers will have left this year for investment and debt reduction over $5,000,000,000, the Agricultural Section also estimates. Because of the fact that new machinery is not obtainable, farm deposits are piling up in rural banks. Demand deposits held by farmers in these banks are estimated at $4,500,000,000 and time deposits at $2,000,000,000. Since the new method of redeeming Series E Sav-convert part of these deposits into War Bonds. War Bond purchasers will provide a farm financial reserve to protect against damage by drought, flood and livestock disease, will assure cash to replace and repair buildings and machinery as well as to build back soil fertility depleted by wartime food production, and will provide funds for education, vacations and old age security. The high farm income this year is the result of the huge increase in farm production to meet wartime food needs rather than a rise in prices which have been held down by the OPA it was explained.

Phillips Petroleum Awarding Bond Prizes to Victory Gardeners

Two thousand dollars in war bond prizes are being mailed to 50 Phillips Petroleum Company employees today, Dec. 4, as awards for their efforts in the Company's $6,500 Victory Garden Contest.

Some 2,500 employees from 22 states were entered in the Company-wide contest. Their records show the combined gardens totalled 668 acres and produced an estimated 5 1/2 million pounds of vegetables.

The $6,500 Victory Garden contest was announced early last spring by K. S. Adams, Phillips president and was personally supported by Frank Phillips, company chairman. Mr. Phillips is also a member of the Advisory Committee of the National Victory Garden Institute.

Howard K. Thompson, Bartlesville, Okla., was the winner of the K. S. Adams trophy for the "Best Philfarmer" in addition to a $100 war bond.

Other $100 war bond winners are: J. F. Cahman, Richmond, Kan.; G. G. Marken, Phillips, Texas; Ray Heston, Stinnett, Texas; and A. L. Goforth, Bartlesville, Okla.

A judging committee from the Extension Division of Oklahoma A. & M. College, headed by Fred LeCrone, Associated Extension Horticulturist, selected the garden winners and the "Best Philfarmer." A standard written garden report from the contestants showed the production and utilization record of their gardens.

K. S. Adams will present the "Best Philfarmer" trophy to Howard K. Thompson and a $100 war bond to each of the above mentioned winners at a presentation ceremony at Phillips, Texas, this month.
