Automobiles are not allowed on Mackinac and even the progressive governors had to be content with a horse and buggy. Much of session was taken up by reports on the United Nations charter and discussion of food problems.

A recent letter from S-Sgt. Robt. Ed Dunn to his mother, Mrs. W. T. Dunn, of Margaret states that he is in France. He is located in a section of France known as the Normandy Base where all the land is very rich in soil. He said he understands that the Germans came into that portion of France several years ago and paid the French farmers a good price for the land and hired them to work it and raise food to send back to Germany. They have a good wheat crop now and he is anxious to see how they are going to cut it.

Pfc. Thomas (Tommy) Westbrook, graduate of Crowell High School and son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Westbrook of Truscott, who is a member of the 119th Infantry Regiment of the 30th Infantry Division has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal, according to information received at this office. The citation read in part as follows: "Awarded for heroic achievement in action on 28 Feb., 1945, in Germany. Murderous enemy fire pinned down a company attacking an enemy town. Pvt. Westbrook and three comrades moved through tank, machine gun and small arms fire centered on them to a position where they could engage the enemy. They gallantly remained in their position until their exhausted bazooka ammunition could be replenished and then knocked out one tank. By firing clip after clip from an automatic rifle and constantly subjecting the enemy tanks to bazooka fire, Pvt. Westbrook and his comrades forced the enemy to withdraw, thus saving their company from receiving heavy casualties."

Federal Insurance on Winter Wheat Available for 1945

Federal crop insurance on winter wheat will be offered for sale soon in every winter wheat producing county, according to A. R. Sanders, AAA Administrative Officer for Foard County.

This will be the first opportunity since 1943 for Foard County farmers to obtain all-risk insurance on winter wheat. The crop insurance program was revived by Congress late in December.

"We expect to contact every wheat grower so that he will have an opportunity to take advantage of this non-profit insurance which protects his crop investment," Mr. Sanders said. "Farmers wanting information before they are contacted by an agent should get in touch with their county AAA office."

Two contracts are being offered on winter wheat. One protects the farmer's production returns up to 75 per cent of his average yield, the other up to 50 per cent. Both are for 3 years, covering the 1946-1948 crops. The amount of coverage varies with the stage of the crop's development. Premiums are payable annually by cash or by premium notes. Applications covering at least 50 farms in a county must be received before crop insurance is in effect for the county.

Insurance yields and premium rates are duplication blanks are expected in the County AAA office by August 1. Mr. Sanders stated. The deadline for receiving applications in Foard County is August 31, 1945, or before the crop is seeded, whichever is earlier.

Ex-Soldiers May Borrow from FSA to Buy Farms in County

Servicemen of Foard County returning from military duty and interested in establishing themselves on family-type farms may apply at the Farm Security Administration office for a government loan covering full cost of land and improvements, according to Julian Wright, FSA Supervisor. A limited number of such loans may be made in this county as a result of a new $25,000,000 appropriation Congress has voted FSA for a farm ownership program for veterans.

For 1945-46 Congress voted FSA more than three times as much money as it did in the last fiscal year for loans to farmers under provision of the Bankhead-Jones Tenant Purchase Act. The agency will have $50,000,000 against $15,000,000 for last year. One-half of this has been set up as a program specifically for ex-soldiers.

Veterans will have the same terms as other farmers. Loans may run for 40 years and bear three per cent interest. Only those who are unable to obtain adequate financing through other sources are eligible for an FSA loan.

Applicants are invited to visit the FSA office at Crowell after locating the farms they want to buy. Each farm is appraised in line with its actual value based on its long-time earning capacity. The FSA committee of local farmers determines the eligibility of applicants. Silas A. Moore and Alvin W. Barker comprise the committee in this county.

"Many veterans will find it desirable to work several years as tenants before becoming landowners," Mr. Wright declared. "Under its rural rehabilitation program FSA is able to make operating loans for purchase of equipment, livestock, feed, fertilizer, seed and minor improvements."

Veterans also will be eligible to share in the $25,000,000 appropriated for the regular farm ownership program. To date FSA has assisted more than 3,000 Texas farmers to become landowners. Taking advantage of the variable payment plan which enables the borrower to make large repayments in good years, hundreds of these farmers are three to five years ahead of schedule on repayments.

Tuesday, July 31, Is Last Day to Transfer Children

Tuesday, July 31, 1945, is the last day upon which children may be transferred from one school district to another, according to Judge Leslie Thomas, county school superintendent. Four corners, Riverside and Thalia, have been classified as eighth-grade elementary schools and as such will teach only elementary grades, including the eighth grade, therefore, all children residing in either of such districts who will be in high school. That is, either a freshman, sophomore, junior or senior must be transferred to the proper receiving school prior to August 1, 1945. The Margaret School District will be transferred by contract, so there will be no need for transfers from such district.

All transfers must be made either by the father, mother or guardian of such child or child-dren.

The U. S. now has 2,500,000 men in the various branches of its air force.

Foard County Exceeds Over-All Quota in 7th War Loan by $93,216.25; Series 'E' Bond Quota Exceeded by $36,726.25

Final tabulation made by the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas for the Seventh War Loan Drive has been received by County Chairman George D. Self and reveals that, with an over-all quota of $135,000.00, Foard County citizens bought $228,216.25 worth of bonds. Of this amount $151,726.25 were of Series 'E' bonds. The county quota for Series 'E' bonds was $115,000.00.

Of the 258 counties in the state of Texas, Foard County placed 15th, with a percentage of 170% over the quota. In the sale of Series 'E' bonds, Foard took 13th place in the state with a percentage of sales over quota of 132%.

This is the very best showing that Foard County has made in any of the seven war bond drives and each citizen has a right to be proud of the record of his county.

Suggestions for Prevention and Control of Poliomyelitis, (Infantile Paralysis), by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer

Until recently it was generally believed that this infection is transmitted by means of discharges from the respiratory tract. It is now believed that poliomyelitis is primarily another of the several gastrointestinal infections. Therefore, control measures must emphasize clean-up campaigns and improvements in sanitation.

Strict sanitary measures must be observed in all communities. Stringent efforts should be made to eliminate the house-fly and to destroy its breeding places. All mosquitoes and mosquito breeding places must be eliminated at once. Every effort should be made to institute approved garbage collection systems immediately. Suitable garbage containers should be kept covered. Safe water supplies must be assured. Where adequate municipal sewage disposal systems are not in operation, it is vitally important to promote and maintain sanitary septic tanks and outdoor privies.

All swimming pools should, under rigid supervision, maintain those standards approved by the Texas State Department of Health. This necessarily includes maintenance of proper chlorine level. Where such standards are not maintained, those pools should be closed immediately.

Crippled Children of State Will Benefit by Expanded Program

Commerce, Texas. — Directors of the Texas Society for Crippled Children will meet in Dallas July 21 to lay plans for a greatly expanded program including the establishment in Dallas of a convalescent home, according to Dr. Sam Whitley of Commerce, president of the Society. The proposed home is to be in the vicinity of the new Southwestern Medical Foundation.

New Texas legislation providing special educational services for Texas' thousands of exceptional children has released the full facilities and resources of the Texas Society for Crippled Children to the locating, procuring of medical treatment and rehabilitation of the handicapped child, Dr. Whitley pointed out. The recently passed bill, drafted and sponsored by the Society, is the result of long range planning by which the Society has enlarged the educational services of Texas to provide for less fortunate children who previously have had little or no opportunity for education.

"Although several chapters of the Society have provided special classes and schools for handicapped children, the prime work of the Society has been in aiding children in need of medical attention and rehabilitation," Dr. Whitley said. "With classrooms under State supervision, the work of the Society will be multiplied in locating and preparing these children so that they will be able to take advantage of this new opportunity."

The bill, as drafted by the Society and passed by the 49th Legislature, provides that any child of educable mind, six to 17 years of age, whose physical handicaps are such that he can not be educated in regular school classes, be furnished transportation and education in special classes. Classes may be established in any community where there are five or more of these exceptional children. In districts where there is not a sufficient number for the organization of a special class, exceptional children may be transferred to a district where the special services are provided.

Directors of the Texas Society for Crippled Children who will meet in Dallas are: Dr. Whitley, Roscoe L. Thomas, Dallas; J. J. Gibson, Dallas; Mrs. Hal Horton, Greenville; Munger T. Ball, Port Arthur; Sidney Gaines, Wichita

Mountain Climbing

One favorite vacation diversion with many people is to climb mountains. With sturdy guides they toil up long trails. They get a wonderful thrill when they reach the summit. The earth is spread out before them in a marvelous picture. There is a sense of triumph in having conquered that mighty slope. They get a new impression of the wonder of the world, and heaven seems near and earth's troubles far distant. It is a fine sport if one has the physical constitution and the good strong wind and heart to stand it. Healthy people can develop that power by practicing first on lesser elevations, and gradually develop the power to attempt summits of a greater height.

Wartime Reading

A time when difficulties exist in the way of ordinary travel through wartime conditions, is likely to be a time when plenty of reading will be done. If people can't take the motor trips they wish because of gasoline restrictions, many of them will stay more at home or in some summer resort and put in a good deal of time reading.

They will buy newspapers, magazines, and books more than usual. The libraries can look for a heavy demand for their literature. People can have a very fine time as they do this reading. The world of entertainment and instruction is open to them. They can get the ideas of the wise men about the war and the economic and industrial problems to follow the war.

Novels, stories, and plays furnish endless entertainment. Humor and pathos, comedy and tragedy, are offered them. Vivid stories of life and human character absorb their minds, offer diversion from their troubles, and give one a greater knowledge of life.

Home Town Thoughts

It will promote the happiness and welfare of some persons, if they wore out fewer trouser seats sitting in easy chairs, and more shoe leather running around in behalf of good public causes.

When you give time to community efforts, you make friends and acquaintances who help you accomplish the personal aims you have in view. A community in which there is a lack of movements for public good, is like some river that is running through rapids with its water power untutilized. If the human power could be set to work on community movements it would accomplish many useful results.

For I have given you an example, that ye should do as I have done to you.—John 13:15.

Most people will agree with President Truman's announcement that there should be no tax reduction until the Japs are whipped and the war is over.

Ever stop to think what this country and the world owes to men who have lived and worked and passed on? There is Edison, Mergenthaler, Bell, Whitney and a score of others whose inventions have transformed living from a problem of mere existence to achievement and outlook.

It appears to us from where we sit that France might have kept her troops out of Syria. Having been rescued from defeat by the Allies she doesn't take time to change her clothes until she begins to attack the Syrians causing many millions dollars worth of damage in Damascus.

Now that it is over it seems incredible that one insane individual could rally a nation of ninety million people to back him in a scheme to take over the world—yet it was done. More remarkable is the fact that most of that nation still believes the cause which plunged the world into a long war, was just.

Some one points out that the trailer house as a human abode was first introduced to the world by the gypsies. We have changed the form and styling of it but its essentials are just the same as they always were.

Some interested party wants to know why it is that worry will make anyone thin except those who worry because they are too fat.

It is difficult to believe that forty or fifty years from now we will look back upon the present as the "good old days."

Vacations At Home

Probably as the result of travel difficulties, many families will not go away from home for their vacations this summer, or will content themselves with short trips from home.

Plenics have always been a highly popular form of recreation. They can be enjoyed near home as well as far away. The food cooked over the out door fire has a specially good taste.

There are many favorite backyard games. Croquet has been enormously popular, and can be still. A skilful hand at the mallet has reason to be proud of his ability to make long shots.

One of the radio comedians told of a family that had so much trouble settling the father's estate that there were times when they almost wished he had not died.

Ration Free Dinner

Thousands of lobsters were cast up on the beach near Santa Monica Canyon, Calif., and for hours men, women and children swarmed over the beach to gather ration-free seafood.

What We Think

(By Frank Dixon)

I recall that following World War I a number of high sounding gestures were made for the world peace. Prominent among these was the scuttling of a number of our battleships.

The United States followed through on the program by an extended holiday in the construction of battleships, cruisers and airplanes. So well was the program followed out that the outbreak of the war found this country in a deplorable state of unpreparedness.

I recall especially that our air force was a tragic shadow of what was necessary to constitute anything like adequate defense and an effort to have the mail planes flown by Army fliers was soon abandoned because of numerous casualties.

Those alert to the danger that faced the country had to fight step by step and perform Herculean tasks in the matter of awakening the country to its danger. The only thing that saved us was the overconfidence and the mistakes of our enemies.

Another thing that should not be overlooked is some of the new weapons that were being developed by the Germans. They would have been immeasurably more deadly and devastating than anything used in this war.

Origin of Progress

When people want to start a movement for progress in their home town, where do they look for aid? As a usual thing, they depend very largely on the business of their home towns.

Enrolled in the University here this summer are 380 veterans or more than the 348 who were in school last spring.

News items below were taken in whole or in part from the issue of The Foard County News of July 23, 1915. Martin & Kinsey, publishers:

The News man, after spending a little more than a month in Illinois and Missouri, returned last week, glad to get back to Crowell.

McAdams & Easley claim the threshing record of their locality, if not the entire county. In two days they threshed 2,117 bushels of wheat and 1,519 bushels of oats, or a total of 3,636 bushels of grain in just two days.

The old Reid residence in the west part of town, owned by Hamp Carter, burned to the ground last Thursday night. The building was one of the oldest in town, having been built about 25 years ago by Mrs. J. W. Beverly's father.

E. W. Holzman arrived here last week from Waco to assume his duties as pharmacist at the Owl Drug Store.

It now appears that Crowell will have a nine months school the coming scholastic year. It has been agreed upon that the first month of the term, which will begin Sept. 6, is to be a subscription school.

A. L. Rucker made a business trip to Chillicothe Saturday.

Mrs. J. D. Leeper returned last week from a visit to relatives and friends at Farmersville.

Travis Brown happened to Corbus Channon last week, arriving Thursday. Mr. Channon was engaged in business here for several years prior to his going to the coast and has been in the grocery business there.

Miss Belle Cook left for her home at Springdale, Ark., Saturday, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Frank Gates.

Jim Minnick has returned from an extended trip to New York City.

Vernon Pyle has accepted a place at Cecil's.

Claude Callaway Member of United War Chest Board

Foard County, which contributes generously to the National War Fund each year, is represented in the official family of the United War Chest of Texas, which directs the annual campaigns "for our own and for our allies."

The local civic leader who serves on the board of directors of the state war chest and helps set policies governing the war fund program in Texas is Representative Claude Callaway, of Crowell.

Board members, who meet annually in Austin, are the guiding directors of all phases of the Texas drive. The board, composed of members representing every county and every strata of Texas citizenship, establishes general policies, acts on acceptance of the state's war fund quota and goal, sets the sum to be budgeted for expenses of the campaign, employs the general manager of the state war chest, passes upon all financial matters and, through the executive committee and several specialized committees, assigns local quotas and directs all other phases of the vast program.

War Veterans Make Good Students

Austin, July 16.—Veterans make good students, a University of Texas veterans' counselor says. "They are purposeful and intent on doing their work," declares Hubert B. Jones, associate counselor or in the University's Veterans Advisory Service.

"They are a little older than the average student, and a little more serious about getting the most out of their educational opportunities. Consequently they make a little better grades than the average student."

Jones said this trend is born out by reports he has had from veterans' counselors at other colleges over the nation, although no detailed analysis of grades has yet been compiled.

Enrolled in the University here this summer are 380 veterans or more than the 348 who were in school last spring.

During every war there is a sizable group in the country who qualify for membership in the organization whose motto should be: "We got ours while the getting was good."

Washington News

By Congressman Ed Gossett, 13 District of Texas.

Washington, D. C., July 6.—The House of Representatives was scheduled to adjourn this week-end until early fall. However, adjournment is indefinitely tied up on account of an appropriation which some are urging for the so-called Fair Employment Practices Committee.

This agency bears its name. The Norton bill, now pending in the House to create a permanent FEPC, proposes to impose on the American people as a permanent agency the most meddlesome and troublesome of all the wartime agencies. It would establish a bureau in Washington with power to tell every employer in America, in effect, who he could hire and who he could fire.

The fires of romance between some married couples seem nearly dead, but they might revive if some affectionate words were burned on them every day or two.

In the old days people were often told to say nothing and saw wood. In these times Texas may say everything and saw the air with their gesticulating hands.

This is said to be the land of free speech, but Pop says Ma is ready with a new remark before he is prepared to answer her.

Some folks are not so anxious for free speech, as to have the speech made shorter.

People who doubt the existence of free speech in this country should hear some rooster holler "Robber" when a ball game decision goes against them.

This is said to be the season when people are thirsty, and a good part of the world is hungry.

A GMC advertisement has just reached my desk extolling the virtues of our amphibious trucks known as "ducks," built by General Motors. This advertisement says a German officer captured near Isony pointed to a long line of "ducks" and said, "There is America's secret weapon."

The War Food Administration advises me they are no longer using sugar in the making of alcohol for synthetic tire production, but now secure this alcohol entirely from other sources.

Kamikaze sounds crazy, but these Jap suicide pilots have brought great devastation to our fleet as well as costing many American lives. Reports are that property damage done by them runs around ten billion dollars.

Drew Pearson continues in his determined campaign to discredit General MacArthur. Recent Pearson stories which MacArthur has positively denied are: (1) that MacArthur ran Senator Tydings and his party out of the Philippines recently; (2) that MacArthur would not permit General Patton to transfer to the Pacific; and (3) that MacArthur years ago removed General Eisenhower, then a Colonel, from his command in the Philippines.

It is almost universally felt that the United Nations Charter offers our only hope for peaceful world collaboration, and that it will be ratified by the United States Senate. The Charter is not perfect. Nothing ever touched by human hands can attain perfection.

Fifty Nations Meet

The San Francisco conference has not merely performed a great and noble task in formulating a charter for the United Nations organization. It has also been very useful in bringing together the representatives of 50 nations, and giving them a chance to become personally acquainted and hear the views and problems of foreign countries.

There have of course been many differences of opinion. The nations were all concerned for their own welfare, and they had a right to be. One would think that this meeting of the men from many lands, and their deliberations together, would be very helpful in drawing the nations closer together.

The conflicts and hostile feelings between nations are frequently the result of a lack of familiarity with the life and the difficulties and the purposes of foreign countries. When these representatives get together and discuss the common ends of peace and progress, they should have a greater disposition to work harmoniously with them for world progress.

The Blame for Crime

When young men go wrong, the community cracks down on them hard, and usually they have to take the whole blame for their acts. While they should be blamed for their tragic mistake, they are not always the only ones at fault.

The community may be to blame in many cases, for not providing sufficient activities in which energetic youths can work off their intense desire to do vigorous things. Neighborhoods and cities which provide abundant opportunities for play and recreation, and for learning useful things, are less likely to be plagued by lawless youngsters.

Farm Fish Ponds Prove Popular

Relaxation as well as food is provided by the farm fish pond. This pond on a North Carolina farm yielded 90 fish in three days this spring—all of them edible. It was built by simply throwing up earth dam across a low, eroded field, then equipping it with a spillway in the corner. It is fed by springs and was stocked with bluegill and bass.

AGRICULTURE

National Farm Safety Week

The week of July 22-28 has been proclaimed by the President as National Farm Safety Week, and he has called upon all persons and organizations concerned with agriculture and farm life to undertake a campaign to eliminate accident hazards on the farm. In particular, he urges all farm people to make a safety check in their homes and on their farms during National Farm Safety Week.

In this campaign we must always keep in mind two basic facts. The first is that farming is one of the most dangerous of all occupations. The second is that accidents can be prevented by intelligent foresight and action. During the war the danger of accidents has increased, due to the pressure under which farmers have been working, the use of old machinery, and the increased employment of boys and girls, elderly persons, and inexperienced workers. It is of the utmost importance that accidents and the hardship and suffering they cause be prevented at all times, but it is especially important now, because of the increased danger and because of the great need for all-out food production, that every effort be made to reduce farm accidents.

All agencies of the Department are asked to take all possible steps to aid in this campaign and to co-operate with the National Safety Council in promoting safety on the farm, not only during this week but throughout the year. Few things are more gratifying than to see the sharp decrease in accidental deaths, injuries which always result from vigorous and well-planned safety campaign, and we must not be satisfied until we have done our utmost to reduce the present unnecessarily heavy toll.

The Department Safety Council will provide technical assistance in the campaign and will help to correlate the programs of the agencies of the Department.

Horses Supplant Motors on Okinawa Front for Marines

Okinawa (Delayed)—The frisky horses of Okinawa, which early in the campaign for this island so bedeviled the Marines that the equines got themselves nearly fenced in, have come into their own at last.

Rain did it—a one-week down-pour that turned the terrain into a quagmire, bogging down motorized equipment on "bottomless" mud roads.

It all happened this way, reports Staff Sgt. William Boniface, Marine Corps combat correspondent:

When Marines invaded the northern section of this important airport island, they found more than Japs prowling the countryside. The Okinawa horses, turned loose by their owners, were running wild.

At night, camp areas would be startled by the sudden flash of trip flares placed by security watches. Horses!

Staring into the darkness, grim sentries began to hear things. Horses!

And in the daytime, the fast-moving Marine invaders would run into strange road-blocks. Herds of horses!

Finally, enough was enough. The horses were rounded up and fenced in on the Katchin Peninsula.

Then came the rain, and with it, a serious food and ammunition shortage. Because of the mud, motor vehicles could get no closer than two miles from Shuri Castle. Only a trickle of supplies could be carried in afoot to troops of the First Marine Division.

Then someone remembered the horses.

After four days of the mud blockade, a 50-horse pack team negotiated three and one-half miles of muddy trails with the much needed supplies.

ROTCARY CLUB

The Crowell Rotary Club held its regular meeting at the DeLuxe Cafe Wednesday at noon with Verne Walden, president, presiding. Joe Beck of Quanah was a visitor.

W. S. Kirkpatrick was program chairman and the speaker was Lieut. Jim O. Hart, who is here on furlough visiting his mother, Mrs. A. S. Hart. Lieut. Hart gave a very interesting and instructive talk concerning the law against the American soldier fraternizing with the Germans. He expressed himself as being very glad to be back home and having the opportunity to again associate with civilians and civilian organizations.

Effective July 1, newspapers addressed to Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guardsmen through a Fleet postoffice will not be accepted for mailing by the postoffice unless the subscription is paid up. Livestock Feeding Short Course

This program is to be held at Texas Technological College at Lubbock, July 23-26, inclusive.

This four-day program covers all phases of livestock feeding such as beef cattle, hogs, sheep and dairy cattle.

Such authorities as W. L. Stangle, Dr. F. G. Harbough, R. C. Mowery, all of Tech College; J. M. Jones of A. & M. College; Jno. Knox, New Mexico Agricultural College; R. E. Karpner of the Lubbock Experiment Station, along with others will appear on the program. Each a specialist in his field.

This short course will well be worth the time of any farmer or stockman who can attend.

The cost is nominal, only $2.50 per day for room and board in one of the college dormitories.

You would enjoy a visit to this college and the association with those attending and with those who appear on the program. Much practical information has been developed by this college. Let me know if you are interested.

Crop Outlook

Here in Foard County the outlook is much better than it was a few days ago. However, crops are spotted with injury from excessive rain and sand damage. Stands are irregular and some crops not yet planted.

The grain sorghum crop and feed is promising at present with a fair acreage and a lot of late planting to do yet.

The cotton acreage has been reduced some and the crop is very spotted, some early, some late and some blown or washed out so the outlook is varied.

There has been a good crop of alfalfa and two cuttings have been made. A lot of alfalfa will be harvested for seed.

Sudan has furnished a lot of grazing all over the county.

The range is good and cattle are in good condition. The rains have filled a large number of tanks.

The Texas cotton crop is the smallest in 50 years, and well below the ten year average. It is also reduced in the entire nation

Peaches May Be Canned Without Sugar

College Station.—Sugar helps canned fruit to hold its shape, color and flavor, but it is not necessary to keep fruits from spoiling. With present sugar shortages, canning without sugar will help homemakers to conserve the large surplus of peaches this summer, and will add many cans of fruit to the pantry shelves and to next winter's menus.

To can without sugar, use boiling water or strained fruit juice made from the softer peaches. Wash, peel and remove seed from firm peaches. Complete the canning operation by packing the raw peaches into a clean jar or can. Bring fruit juice or water to a boil and pour over the packed fruit. Leave 1/2 inch headspace. Steam before sealing; pints, 10 minutes; quarts, 15 minutes; half gallons, 20 minutes. Press down, and refill if necessary. Wipe off rim of jar and seal according to type of container being used. Process in a water bath after water starts boiling; pints and quarts, 15 minutes; half gallons, 25 minutes.

Another method to can without sugar is to drop the firm fruit into the fruit juice. Bring to a boil. Pack into boiling hot, clean jars. Leave 1/2 inch headspace. Seal according to type of container used. Process in a boiling water bath, 15 minutes for pints and quarts, and 25 minutes for half gallons.

If a small amount of sugar is available, the general wartime rule is to add one cup of sugar to two quarts of fruit. One cup of sugar syrup usually covers one quart of fruit when it is well packed. A thin syrup, one cup sugar to three cups juice or water, is also desirable from a nutrition standpoint.

Corn syrup or corn sugar may be substituted for part or all of the sugar. One cup sugar and two cups corn syrup to 6 cups water makes a desirable syrup. If corn syrup is to replace all of the sugar, use 1/2 to 3/4 cup syrup and one cup water. Honey may be substituted for a small part of the sugar, but it affects the flavor of the fruit more than corn syrup. It is good with canned figs and with fruit pickles. Never use saccharin in canning, as it becomes bitter when heated. See your county home demonstration agent for recipes using honey to make peach pickles as well as any other canning directions.

Sugar Saving Reminders

The sugar shortage is a fact of which all homemakers are definitely aware these days, but when we stop to consider that our present sugar allotment actually amounts to only 1 1/3 tablespoons of sugar per person each day, we realize the homemaker faces a real problem when the family continues to demand dessert.

In fresh fruit season, it is easier to solve the dessert problem, she suggests, since a fruit salad topped by a dressing mixed with fruit juice does double duty, as a refreshing salad and a dessert. The familiar 1-2-3-4 Butter Cake can be made by using part corn syrup or honey. Although it is usually made by the conventional method, it can also be made by the quicker muffin method. The texture will be different, but still desirable. If honey is used for part of the sugar, a lower baking temperature is necessary, and a more moist product is obtained.

The recipe includes: 1 cup butter, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup corn syrup, 4 eggs, 1/2 cup milk, 2 t. baking powder, 1/2 t. salt, 1 t. vanilla, 1 t. lemon flavoring. Make and sift dry ingredients together. Beat eggs and add syrup, milk, extracts, and melted butter. Mix well. Add liquids to dry ingredients and beat until well blended. Bake in loaf pans in moderate oven (about 350 degrees) approximately 35-40 minutes.

You can save sugar, too, by not frosting your cakes, or frosting just the top. Honey may replace sugar cup for cup, but use half the quantity of other liquid called for in original recipe—and keep baking temperature moderate. Best results come in substituting only a part of the sugar with honey or syrup.

It Takes No Sugar To Dry Peaches

Finding ways of conserving the large peach crop this year, with sugar shortages offering an acute problem, suggests the idea that peaches can be dried satisfactorily at home. More important still, it takes no sugar to dry peaches.

The method of preparation of the fruit is similar to that for canning. The peaches may be dried without peeling, or if desired, peeled peaches dry more quickly. One serving of Velva Fruit requires about 1 tablespoon sugar.

Conditions Favor Prosperity in the Southern States

Southerners can look forward to a continuing economic development after the war because the South has all the elements needed to expand industrially and agriculturally, according to a statement made today by Harry H. Straus, president, Ecusta Paper Corporation.

"Our experience here at Pisgah Forest, North Carolina, during the past five years," Mr. Straus said, "has proved that management, science, finance and the surprising ability of Southern people to acquire skill in highly technical operations, all add up to a team that can withstand competition from any part of the world."

"Anyone who doubts the future of the South will become a firm believer in it if he visits our plant, which has been in operation just a little over five years," Mr. Straus stated. "In that time we have built a modern plant capable of producing paper of unsurpassed quality for a billion cigarettes a day."

"Far-sighted bankers in several Southern states made possible the needed finances to launch an operation of this magnitude. Local workers who had no industrial background learned in a matter of months to become experts in paper-making techniques that ordinarily would take years to acquire. Pioneering research in our own laboratories is uncovering new and better lightweight papers for new and varied uses. And the source of our material, virgin flax fibre, is right here in America—a material that heretofore was considered a waste product."

Mr. Straus cites some of the Ecusta Paper Corporation's own plans as an indication of how continuing industrial development contributes to society as a whole. The Ecusta Corporation, in addition to producing cigarette paper for America's leading cigarette manufacturers, is already making lightweight business and air mail stationery of fine quality. The Corporation looks forward to a substantial increase in business of its fine paper division, which, in turn, will lead to greater employment. Lightweight paper, also manufactured directly from virgin flax fibre, suitable for books, bibles, catalogues, and other printed material, will likewise find new markets as aviation developments lend impetus to distribution of such material by air freight.

Home Frozen Velvet

Velva Fruit, the smooth-as-velvet frozen dessert which made its debut last summer, has been perfected for home as well as commercial freezing by food research specialists of the N. S. Department of Agriculture.

Berries, cantaloup, peaches—almost any kind of fresh, fragrant, fully-ripe and flavorful fruit—may be used for Velva Fruit. Mellow-ripe fruit too soft for canning is ideal, because it has full flavor and color. One serving of Velva Fruit requires about 1 tablespoon sugar.

Here's the general method for making Velva Fruit at home: Mash the washed, pitted, peeled fruit. Press through a sieve or fine colander to make a puree. Because air darkens apricots and peaches, quarter and put them in boiling sirup (8 parts water to 1 part sugar) 3 minutes before sieving.

To make approximately 2 quarts of Velva Fruit: Mix 3 cups fruit puree, 3/4 to 1 cup sugar—depending on sweetness of fruit, and 1/2 teaspoon salt. For less acid fruits like peaches, add 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Keep puree cool.

Soak 1/2 tablespoon gelatin 5 minutes in 1/4 cup cold water to soften, then dissolve by heating over boiling water 10 minutes. Add puree slowly to the hot gelatin, stirring continuously. Pour into ice cream freezer. Using a mixture of 8 parts ice to 1 part salt, freeze 20 minutes, or until cream turns hard. Remove dasher. Velva Fruit may be served soft, frozen or after hardening several hours.

To make Velva Fruit in the refrigerator, freeze mixture in trays until firm. Turn into a chilled bowl and whip smooth with a wooden spoon or electric mixer. Return to refrigerator for hardening. Work quickly so mixture does not completely melt. Refrigerator frozen Velva Fruit is less light and velvety than freezer-made.

Either puree or finished dessert may be frozen and stored for months.

Emergency Maternity and Infant Care Program Explained

Austin.—A serviceman's wife may apply for maternity care and care for her baby, under the emergency maternity and infant care program, even after her husband has been honorably discharged, promoted, or demoted, provided she was pregnant during the period when he was in one of the four lowest pay grades of the services or was serving as an aviation cadet. On the same basis, she may apply if the husband and father is a prisoner of war, missing in action, or dead.

This clarification as to who is entitled to care under the Government's emergency maternity and infant care program was made today by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. The State Department of Health administers the program in Texas.

Heretofore the application for care had to be made while the serviceman was in one of the eligible grades. Now all that is required to establish eligibility is proof that the wife was pregnant while he was in one of the eligible grades. The infant in these cases is also eligible for full care during his first year of life. Similarly, if the father of an infant whose mother did not receive care under the program was in one of those grades at any time during the infant's first year of life, the infant's eligibility for care under the program is established.

The greatest effort of the new policy, which is retroactive to January, 1945, will be in bringing infants of discharged servicemen under the program for the full year in which the infant is entitled to care. The new regulation also clears up a matter about which some confusion has existed, that is whether widows and their infants are eligible. Under this interpretation they are without question eligible.

The procedure to be followed in establishing eligibility is simple. The wife has only to show to her physician or other authorized person assisting her in filling out the application an envelope or V-mail letter, her husband, her allowance or other official communication dated at a time when he was one of the eligible grades. She does not have such communication on file with the State Health Department, make inquiry of the appropriate authority.

"Clarification of this matter Congress brings the whole taking in line with the law," Dr. Cox said. "This important matter is to get these women and their babies the fine points of when application was made. She can see the justice of taking care of these men's wives and

Our Country Needs Still More Used Fats...And We're the Folks to Save them!

IN between the good news about the war these days, careful readers of the paper will see grave words about a serious national shortage that has a direct bearing on military and civilian production schedules.

Our domestic supplies of fats and oils will be approximately one and one-half billion pounds less than last year. Yet thousands of tons of fats are still needed to help make countless essentials for the battle- and home-fronts.

While country people have been doing an even better job of saving fats than the city folks, we must remember that, because of the meat situation, we are in a better position to save. That's why we can't afford to miss a trick.

So, let's save not only the big amounts from frying and roasting, but also meat trimmings, plate scraps, and scrapings. Melt them down once a week and add the liquid fat to the salvage can. Skim soups and gravies. Scrape every pan. Every drop is important.

When your salvage can is full, take it to your butcher, and get 2 red points and up to 4¢ for each pound. If you have any difficulty, call your County Agent or Home Demonstration Agent.

A New "House of Magic" for Postwar America

"... one of the strongest guarantees of progress and world peace is continuous scientific preparedness through industrial research."

General Electric has approved plans for a new $8,000,000 Research Laboratory. This expenditure has tremendous significance. Scientific research has contributed much to our progress as a nation.

"Many things have been discovered during this war, and we can and must develop them into better things for peacetime.

"Today we have 550 research people on our staff. These new facilities will not only give increased outlet for their abilities, but will provide opportunities for new research minds with new talents.

"From this new laboratory we think new achievements will come. In the past, G-E research has contributed much to better living in America—not only through new developments in x-ray, electricity, metallurgy, electronics and chemistry, but also through reduced cost and increased efficiency, as in the modern incandescent lamp.

"Even more than in the past the laboratory will emphasize research in science—continuing and expanding the work begun by Dr. Whitney and the late Dr. Steinmetz forty-five years ago.

"To find new facts of the physical world, to extend the limits of knowledge is a forward step in creating More Goods for More People at Less Cost."

New $8-million-dollar G-E Research Laboratory will be built five miles east of Schenectady, New York, on the Mohawk River. The geographic location offers special advantages for television, high voltage x-ray, and radar research. Buildings with 300,000 square feet of floor space will accommodate an expanded research staff of about 800. Research rooms will be a scientist's paradise of equipment for experiments in chemistry, physics, mechanics, electronics. It is hoped that construction can start in six months.

Many persons feel unable to do any great amount of public work for the benefit of their community, but they can give a lot of help if they applaud those who are carrying on these efforts, and encourage them by hearty support.

Two Minute Sermon

Man's Life Like a Window. There once lived in the town in which I live a man who operated a small restaurant. What the place lacked in size was made up in the immaculate manner in which it was kept and the splendid quality of the food served. The proprietor put care and oversight and work in his small business place that would have produced remarkable results if it could have been applied to a larger place. Everything about the place was immaculate, the floors, the counters, the dishes, the windows—all were kept spotless. The food also gave evidence of the same care in its selection and preparation and serving. Eating at his small place was not merely getting some food to satisfy a hunger, it was an experience, a soul satisfying, morale building experience. One day as I passed he was washing the windows. I stopped a minute to visit. "A window," he said in his musical booming voice, "is like a man. As long as it is spotless no one notices it, but let one spot appear upon it and everyone sees it." How aptly his homely reference states a great physical as well as moral truth. A clean life attracts little comment, but one wrong act invokes the notice of everyone.

To know and do the Will of God is the whole duty of man. The Bible has been given us for our enlightenment so that we are without excuse before God. "Study" says the Apostle Paul to Timothy. This is his counsel to all that name the name of the Lord. "Come, let us reason together," says the Lord. God talks through His word today.

Lord's Day morning we will discuss the subject: "How to enjoy and make secure the Salvation God imparts." The common doctrine that once we are saved in the Word. Every teaching of the Word is against such a doctrine. So it involves upon us to "work out our Salvation with fear and trembling." It will be worth your while to come and study this topic in the light of God's Word. We are taking the Lord willing, for our subject in the evening the great theme of God's Appointments with Men. In the beginning when man was placed in the garden of Eden, God would come down in the cool of the evening and walk with men. Man no longer enjoys that privilege since the heavens are closed against him. But that God has made places of appointment and has promised to meet man there the Bible teaches. Man, according to the Word, is divided into Jew, Gentile and the Church. When one becomes a member of the church he loses his identity of being a Jew or Gentile. But to remain in an unsaved state. Hence we have the saved and the unsaved. And God has made appointments with both of these classes. If you have never bowed your heart unto Jesus as Lord, the anointed of God, you are in an unsaved state. You may have your name upon the roll of some church and still be in the unsaved state. Are you interested in knowing the place where God has promised to meet you and bring you into the place of salvation? After you have begun that spiritual walk with the Lord, do you know the appointments God expects you to keep? Again we discover the degree of obedience on our part is according to the knowledge we possess on this subject. Heaven is not gained by ignorance. A word to the wise is sufficient. GRANT L. SLAGLE, Minister.

Abraham's Practice of Brotherhood

Scripture: Gen. 13-15. Memory Selection: "Let there be no strife, I pray thee, between me and thee, for we be brethren. Gen. 13:8.

Lesson Passage: Gen. 13:1-12. Introduction: 1. Terah begat Abram, Nahor and Haran; and Haran begat Lot. 2. Haran died in Ur of the Chaldees.

3. Abram was called of God to leave Ur and Lot, his nephew, went with him for no reason at all. 4. A famine is in the land and they journey into Egypt to find food. 5. In our lesson today they are returning from Egypt.

1. Abraham was Rich and Religious. Gen. 13:1-5. 1. Rich men can enter the kingdom of God. It is not easy, but it is possible. 2. Few men are big enough to stand prosperity. 3. The trouble is, they feel too big for religion and God when in fact they are too little spiritually to keep their balance. 4. Abraham kept his soul on top in his life. 5. Abraham Put Peace and Contentment Ahead of Riches. Gen. 13:6-9.

1. Their flocks and herds had increased until the land was not large enough for both. 2. A strife arose between the herdsmen of Abraham's cattle and the herdsmen of Lot's cattle. 3. Abraham was wise enough to see this would lead to family trouble so he suggested a change. 4. Abraham gave Lot first choice. Big men can use their prestige to serve great ideals. Wealth is not always the sign of size. Business shows up in the way wealth is used to serve high ends. III. A Look at the Downward Course of Lot Who Put Prosperity Before God. 1. He looked at the well watered plain of Jordan. 2. He chose and his choice was selfish. 3. He journeyed toward Sodom a wicked city. 4. He moved into Sodom and Sodom moved into him. 5. His testimony was powerless when he tried to warn the people of the fall of Sodom. His family grew to be heathens. 7. He lost all earthly possessions in the end and his family, too.

The life guided by selfishness is doomed to failure. Abraham lives to a ripe old age and through him comes the Saviour of the world.
