Store Roughage While Sun Shines

Nature's calendar has designated the week immediately ahead as official roughage conservation time, says County Agent D. F. Eaton.

It is up to Texas stockmen either to make hay and silage now or to skim through another year with a set of good resolutions not to be caught short again. But resolutions do not make nourishing feed for livestock, he says. About two-thirds of the job of feeding livestock is a roughage feeding program, hay, silage and pasture. Concentrate feeding is important, too, because what feeders do not do with roughage has to be made up with concentrates.

A bale of hay or a load of silage suggests that the chief value of these roughages is filler material. But the truth is that the more good hay and silage fed the less grain will be required in the cow's rations. Feed analyses show that good hay runs about fifty per cent total digestible nutrients, while silage averages about eighteen per cent. This means that one and one-half pounds of good hay, or about four pounds of good silage will equal one pound of the concentrate ration. Digestible nutrients make up the feed which the cows use to maintain their bodies and to produce milk or beef. Thus an ample supply of homesteaded roughage materially cuts the winter feed bill of the dairy herd.

In addition to furnishing a portion of all of the essential nutrients, roughages play an important part in making conditions right for handling feed in the digestive systems of cows. Sufficient fiber in the ration, with plenty of water, results in a light, loose mixture which is more easily handled than a doughy mass of finely ground feed, Eaton says. This is the reason why coarse grinding is preferable to fine grinding of feeds.

In estimating roughage needs, figure one ton of hay and three tons of silage for each cow. Figure an additional twenty per cent for calves, heifers and bulls. Without silage, figure two tons of hay per cow. These are minimum estimates, but doubling them would be in order. Too many Texas cattle, Eaton declares, have not had all of the roughage they could eat every day in the year.

Crowell Boy Scouts Spend Week at Camp Perkins

The following Boy Scouts and Scoutmaster D. F. Eaton spent last week in camp at the Perkins Reservation on Red River near Barkburnett; Blackie White, R. L. Ballard, P. L. Ballard, Bob Edwards, Bobby Jack Stinebaugh, Presley Thomson, George Johnson, Buddy Rader, Billy Roy Cooper and James Weathers.

The boys and their equipment were transported to and from the camp site by Mr. Eaton and Louis Rader.

According to Mr. Eaton, the boys spent a very interesting and busy week in camp, engaging in various recreational activities and in passing various tests for advancement in Scouting.

The following were awarded the merit badge in physical development: Blackie White, Billy Roy Cooper, R. L. and P. L. Ballard, Bob Edwards, Bobby Jack Stinebaugh and James Weathers.

Billy Roy Cooper only lacked a few shots in winning his merit badge in rifle shooting. Lack of shells prevented him from finishing. Several of the boys completed tests in the various ranks of Scouting such as first aid, observation, the mile run and other requirements.

P. L. Ballard was voted the best camper in the group and will receive $1.00 in cash from his Scoutmaster. Blackie White was selected by the Scouts present in Troop 49 as the outstanding Scout of the group and was given the Arrow Award by Chief E. A. Peden. He will report later for final instructions and induction into this very popular Scouting organization. Scoutmaster Eaton was also honored with a citation to membership in the same honor organization.

There were only around 50 Scouts and Scoutmasters in the final week of the summer camp which was the fifth week and had had a total attendance of 502 Scouts.

The Crowell group was in camp one week and stayed for the Camp Fire program Thursday night. This interesting program was put on by the Order of the Arrow at which time one member from each troop and a Scoutmaster and one other connected with the Scouting organization were selected as members.

Aid from Women Sought in Fat Salvage Campaign

One of the most significant statements made by a government official regarding shortages and food difficulties comes from Clinton P. Anderson, Secretary of Agriculture. Mr. Anderson underscores the fats and oils shortage in an appeal to women and has authorized the American Fat Salvage Committee to release his message. In asking women's help in the fats and oils shortage, the Secretary of Agriculture sees increased household fat salvage as aid to meeting needs. Mr. Anderson says: "The scarcity of fats and oils is one of the most serious problems confronting our Nation. But it is one shortage which the women of America can help to meet. "There is little hope of major improvement in the domestic supply of fats and oils in the near future, nor can we expect a rapid increase in imported oils from the Pacific. "Farmers have responded to the call to produce more animal and vegetable fats and oils. But we are still unable to meet wartime demands. "During the war years we have changed from an importing to an exporting nation on fats and oils. Our domestic stocks are at a low ebb and our war, industrial and relief needs are at a peak. "In 1945 we need 250,000,000 pounds of used household fats to help fill our existing deficit. If American housewives don't meet this goal, we will have to further curtail the allotments for civilian, industrial and military uses. "This is an important job for women! Homemakers all over the land—in cities, towns and villages, and on farms—should save and turn in every available drop of used kitchen fat. It means cash and extra red ration points. "But above all, it's a real War Service women can perform for themselves and for their country."

Rural Fat Salvage Provides Crop Aids

FAT saved at butchering time, from fallen animals, and kitchen salvage comes right back to the farm in the form of fungicides, insecticides, synthetic rubber for tires, protective coating for farm implements, certain veterinary preparations, protective fabrics, lubricants, fertilizer, animal feeds, leather dressings and many more essentials. Farm participation in the fat salvage drive is both personal and patriotic. Farm Wives Help A recent survey of rural areas indicates that the majority of farm families do save fat, and that more than half turn in their salvaged fat, after using what they need for household purposes. But a considerable number of housewives reported they could save more. A few reported that difficulties in disposing of fat they had saved discouraged them from further effort. It is true that fat collection in the country has lagged behind that in urban areas, owing to greater difficulty of making pick-ups in thinly settled areas. Now, however, arrangements have been made to collect fats from all communities, so salvage from farms, where fat is relatively plentiful, is soaring. 1945 Goal Up Goal for kitchen fat salvage in 1945 is 250,000,000 pounds—or 80,000,000 more than was saved in 1944. Because many of the meats which yield the most fat are seldom found in city markets, a special appeal is being made to rural homemakers to save and deliver large amounts of fat which can be used in cooking, or which may be in excess of a farm family's need. During 1945, with lower supplies of domestic fats and oils, and with our principal sources of imports cut off, America must turn to the kitchens of American homemakers to obtain used household fat for military, industrial and civilian use.

Cherokee County Seeks Help to Win Hard Fight

This is an undisguised appeal for help from the people of one small Texas town and surrounding territory to the people of all other similar Texas towns and communities. And to make it as short as possible, here is the story:

For over seventy-five years the people of Cherokee County have tried to develop their deposits of high-grade iron ore. Shortly before Pearl Harbor, in spite of opposition of the big steel interests, a new attempt was launched which later resulted in the approval of the construction of a blast furnace and chemical plant at Rusk, county seat of Cherokee County. In approving the project as a war industry, Donald Nelson said he was doing so because of its great possibilities in the post-war period. The plant was about four-fifths completed when work was halted Friday, July 13, pending investigation of the post-war need.

There is not space to go into that except to say that this need was already established and to add that Governor Coke Stevenson immediately came to Rusk to check into the matter and wired his protests to the War Production Board and the Defense Plant Corporation in Washington. Henry Love, State Commander of the American Legion, did the same. Every Texas Representative in congress has pledged his support as have both Texas Senators. They are all interested because the development of the natural resources of Texas is not a local matter. The plant will use vast amounts of scrub oak and gum which are crowding out the great pine forests of East Texas. The Texas Forest Service have both brought this fact before the Washington authorities. The preservation of the natural resources of Texas is also no local matter.

The plant will benefit every community in Texas because it will preserve Texas' pine forests and thus help to keep down the price of lumber. It will offer local competition to the big steel interests of the North and East. It will provide labor for many war veterans. And it will do any Texas an good to see a Texas underdog win a hard fight.

And so the people of Rusk and Cherokee County are asking the readers of The Foard County News to flood the War Production Board and the Defense Plant Corporation, and Senator Tom Connally and Senator W. Lee O'Daniel with letters to let them know how they feel about this Texas industry. It must be done right away because next week may be too late.

The editor of the Rusk Cherokeean, Cherokee county-seat weekly newspaper, is asking this appeal be published with the promise that he will send another story later telling how Rusk won or lost its fight.

Electricians and Machinists Needed in Navy Yards

Dallas, July 24.—Crippled ships lying at Hunters Point and Mare Island emphasized to James D. Bond, Regional Director, W.M.C., the grave shortage of electricians and machinists in those Navy Yards, according to his statement released here after personal inspection of the San Francisco Bay area.

Many ships, Mr. Bond said, are returned to duty with but a small percentage of the needed repairs completed. Consequently they must put into port oftener, greatly lowering their fighting value. Among those waiting were the famous Hornet, submarines, carriers and other types of fighting ships, but manpower is frightfully lacking.

Seven thousand men should be hired in Texas, Louisiana and New Mexico for these yards, according to Mr. Bond, who said plenty of housing is available, that meals and transportation will be provided by the Navy, that wages are good with overtime after forty hours a week.

Men for these jobs are hired through U. S. Civil Service recruiting representatives in principal cities of the three states. Those eager to go at once can get underway in as little as one day. Information is available at first and second class post offices, or may be had from the U. S. Civil Service in either Dallas, Texas, or New Orleans, La.

HISTORY

Petroleum Day—August 27: Petroleum in commercial quantities was discovered in this country at Titusville, Penn., on August 27, 1859.

We don't know the problems involved but we believe that whatever they are they should be overcome and the millions of bushels of wheat and other grain lying on the ground since last harvest in the middle west for lack of transportation should be gotten to market.

Some one has figured it out that six million American homes have no bathtubs. How is that for a post war project?

Sir Isaac Newton, the great English physicist, was born on Christmas day in 1642.

The population of New York City is greater than that of Sweden, Scotland or Norway.

What We Think (By Frank Dixon)

We have read in history of the stone age, the iron age, and more recently the motor age. Each age is so designated because it marks a certain departure from the firm of existence and places emphasis upon a different type of industry and development.

The motor age, with which most of us are familiar, had its beginning with the internal combustion engine—the gasoline motor. Its appearance made possible the gasoline engine, the automobiles and the airplane.

The next age, in my opinion, is going to be the air age. In it we are going to see a shift from the slower ground methods of travel and transportation to the swifter methods of air travel.

No one, even the most starry-eyed dreamer foresaw when the first one cylinder automobile appeared on the streets of America what the picture would be in fifty years.

It is fairly easy for a boy to keep straight so long as his parents are guiding him. How will it be when he is far away from his parents?

Boys often become restless in a protected home. It is natural that they should. They long to get out and do for themselves and make their own decisions.

Shorter hours of work give people a good deal more leisure than they used to get. What use do they make of it?

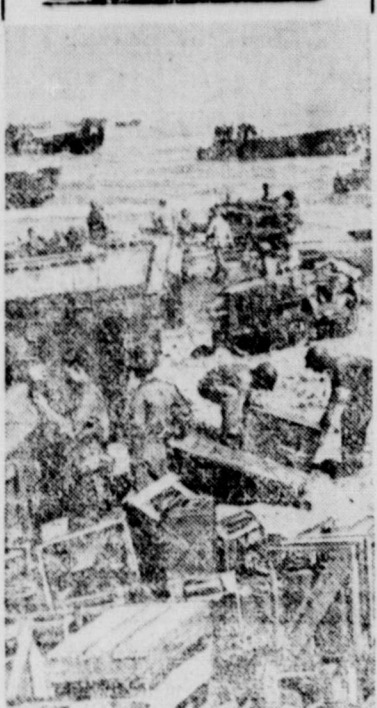

Probably the majority should be able to do something active in their leisure time. For many in summer that means maintaining a garden, and they help the national cause and the war effort and their own family life, when they do so.

It used to be said that if people had more time for leisure, they would use it in self improvement, and they should do so if possible.

An elderly man remarks that he wishes he could know all the young folks of his home town and call them all by name.

It is fine when the older people take this interest in youth. One way to keep their acquaintance is to take an interest in their sports and games, attend them when possible, and ask about all their activities.

ing fad, it is coming fast and it will grow faster. It marks definitely a new age in American life.

Protected Lives

Many parents feel anxious about their boys who are going out into the storms and conflicts of life. The great majority of these boys have led what can be called protected lives.

It is easy to picture that such a system of rapid transportation is going to change completely the lives of many people in America. There is room for unlimited speculation in this possibility alone.

As the prospect becomes more and more evident there is going to be a scramble on the part of many communities to provide themselves with airports. In their enthusiasm and haste many are going to make mistakes that will have to be corrected later at the greater or less expense.

Boys often become restless in a protected home. It is natural that they should. They long to get out and do for themselves and make their own decisions.

It should be one of the chief objectives after the present war to keep any such crime wave from developing. It will help head off these tendencies, if the business and industrial system can be so handled as to offer steady work.

Jas. W. Johnson, a pioneer of Foard County, passed away at the home of his son, Earl, at Foard City Saturday, July 31.

A message was received here from Los Angeles, Calif., stating that C. W. Green, wanted here on a number of charges, has been arrested and was being held by officers of that city for his return to Crowell. A reward of $100 had been offered for his arrest.

Crime After the War

Following the first World War, there was a large increase in crime. It was sometimes said that many young men returned from the war experience with a certain contempt for human life, which made them more ready to commit deeds of violence.

Some authorities thought that many young men who were thrown out of work, and who had earned high wages during the wartime, had become so used to spending money freely that they turned to criminal acts to get their money when the wartime opportunities passed.

It should be one of the chief objectives after the present war to keep any such crime wave from developing. It will help head off these tendencies, if the business and industrial system can be so handled as to offer steady work.

SUNNY SQUIBLET

It is called bad manners to ask embarrassing questions. Some kids may say it is not good form to ask who broke the kitchen window.

It has been predicted that in time man will be able to control the weather, but some would not be happy if they did not have some bad weather to complain about.

The young people are told to cultivate the questioning mind. At least many of them are questioning when they can have dates.

Women are said to resist disease better than men. One reason why some of them have such resistance, may be that they are too busy to be sick.

Some of the old fashioned girls used to worry because the corn would not pop. Probably there are more modern girls in Texas who worry because the boy friend doesn't.

Some people think that liberty is too greatly restricted. At least the children have liberty to run over the lawns, and the dogs to bark and bury their bones in the gardens.

Haste sometimes cause automobile accidents, but there is no complaint when an officer manifests haste in running a reckless driver into court.

People are warned against the danger of swallowing pins, needles, and various small objects. Those that get interested in politics sometimes have to swallow their own words.

The young people are urged to become interested in nature study. At least the boys get interested in angleworms during the fishing season.

AN OLD RACKET

The farmer has always been picked as the down-trodden individual by politicians when they wish to bring tears to the eyes of the public, and put through appropriation for rural telephone expansion.

We have watched this racket carried on successfully in the Federal program to socialize the power industry. Now we see the same political forces at work to get a hundred-million-dollar initial appropriation for rural telephone expansion.

War restrictions have prevented telephone installations for years. Telephone companies, electric companies, kept far above demand in normal times, and gave this nation the greatest telephone service in the world without governmental tax expenditures.

Some 12,000 cities and towns in the United States receive telephone service from more than 900 separate, privately-owned independent telephone companies.

It is good business for the promoters of industrial socialization to keep the public in the dark as to what they are doing. They ask one-hundred-million dollars in Federal taxes that can be used to change such a net of private business into a policy patronage machine.—Industrial News Review.

Leslie Thomas, County Judge; A. B. Wisdom, Commissioner Precinct No. 1; Joe Johnson, Commissioner Precinct No. 2; Virgil Johnson, Commissioner Precinct No. 3; Otis Gafford, Commissioner Precinct No. 4, being present, and, among other proceedings had by the Court were the following:

Commissioner Otis Gafford introduced an order and moved its adoption. The motion was seconded by Commissioner Joe Johnson. The motion, carrying with it the adoption of the order, prevailed by the following vote:

AYES: Commissioners A. B. Wisdom, Virgil Johnson, Joe Johnson, Otis Gafford.

NOES: Commissioners None.

The order is as follows:

WHEREAS, at the general election held throughout the State of Texas on November 7, 1944, the qualified electors of the State, voting on the proposition, approved the amendment to Section 9, of Article 8, of the Texas Constitution, which amendment provides that the Commissioners Court in any county may re-allocate the county tax levies authorized in said Section 9 of Article 8, by changing the rates provided for any of the purposes authorized in said Section by either increasing or decreasing the same, but in no event shall the total of such taxes exceed Eighty (80) Cents on the one hundred dollars valuation for any one year, provided that before the Commissioners Court may make such re-allocations and changes in such levies the same shall be submitted to the qualified property taxpaying voters of such county at a general or special election; and in event such re-allocations and changes are approved by a majority of the qualified property taxpaying voters of any such county, such re-allocations and changes shall remain in force and effect for a period of six (6) years from the date of the election at which same shall have been approved, unless the same again shall have been changed by a majority of the qualified property taxpaying voters of such county, voting on the proposition; and

WHEREAS, the Commissioners Court of Foard County, Texas, deems it advisable and to the best interest of said County to re-allocate the county taxes authorized to be levied annually by Section 9, Article 8, of the Constitution, by changing the rates in respect to certain county taxes as herein provided;

THEREFORE, BE IT ORDERED BY THE COMMISSIONERS COURT OF FOARD COUNTY, TEXAS:

That a special election be held in said County on the 25th day of August, 1945, which is not less than thirty (30) days from the date of the adoption of this order, at which election the following proposition shall be submitted to the qualified property taxpaying voters, who own taxable property in said County and who have duly rendered the same for taxation, for their action thereupon:

"Shall the Commissioners Court of Foard County, Texas, be authorized to levy and collect in each year for a period of six (6) years from the date of said election, county taxes as follows: Not exceeding Twenty-Five Cents (25c) on the $100.00 valuation, in any one year, for County purposes; Not exceeding Thirty-Five Cents (35c) on the $100.00 valuation, in any one year, for roads and bridges; Not exceeding Five Cents (5c) on the $100.00 valuation, in any one year, to supplement the jury fund of the County; and Not exceeding Fifteen Cents (15c) on the $100.00 valuation, in any one year, for the erection of public buildings and other permanent improvements."

In the event that the annual levy of a tax not exceeding fifteen (15c) cents on the one hundred dollars valuation for the further maintenance of the public roads of said County has heretofore been, or shall hereafter be, authorized by a majority of the

Two Minute Sermon (By Thomas Hastwell)

The Unseen Wounds: A good many years ago when I was a small boy I borrowed my father's pocket knife to whittle a pine stick. My father took pride in keeping all the tools with which he worked or used in good order. His ax was sharp and his scythe was sharp. I recall yet how I enjoyed turning off the long curling shavings from the soft, smooth grained pine. I recall I had been cautioned to always cut from me and never toward myself. At first I remembered the instruction and was careful to always cut from me, but after a time, feeling myself familiar with the sharp edged tool I became less careful with the result that the knife slipped and I received a severe cut. I recall I was terrified at the sight of the blood and the gaping wound. The wound healed in time but the scar still remains to this day, evidence of childish carelessness. The sight of the scar recalls little of the pain or brief unhappiness caused by its infliction. I have some childhood and youthful scars in my heart, however, which while not visible still remain as poignant as the day on which my carelessness and thoughtlessness placed them there. I have often thought as I have noted the scar on my hand that such scars should be a reminder to us that the wounds inflicted on our own hearts and within the hearts of others remain to chastise and rebuke us as long as we live.

Ceiling Price Set For Farm Slaughter

A ceiling price has been established for the grading of beef, veal, lamb or mutton by commercial freezer or locker plants for farm slaughterers, OPA announced, the ceiling, effective July 30, 1945, is 12 1/2 cents per hundred pounds of meat graded, computed to the next highest multiple of five cents. For example, a farm slaughterer requests a locker plant to grade a 150 pound cut of meat. The ceiling price for grading this meat would actually figure out at 13 1/2 cents. Adjusted to the next highest five cent multiple, however, the final ceiling price would be 20 cents on this particular operation.

Increase In Thefts of Gas Ration Coupons

Thefts of gasoline ration coupons from service stations have increased to such an extent recently that every station operator should adopt all possible safeguards immediately, OPA says. Apparently organized gangs of racketeers, who formerly made distributed counterfeit gasoline ration coupons, have found that their former racket is no longer safe nor profitable and that the markets for their former racket is no longer safe nor profitable and that the markets for their invalid ration coupons have disappeared, OPA adds. As a result, the racketeers have turned to the theft of valid currency from service stations and have been selling coupons at various prices to black market operators.

Quotas of Civilian Tires Set For August

August quotas of 1,500,000 passenger car tires and 386,862 small truck tires for civilian motorists, exactly the same as for July, and a reduced quota of large truck tires were announced by WPB and OPA. The quota of truck tires size 8.25 and larger was cut from 234,308 in July to 200,000 for August.

Only Essential Men To Get Trailer Gas

Special gasoline rations for moving house trailers used by workers who move from job to job will be issued hereafter only if the workers are employed at essential establishments or construction projects, OPA says. Previously, gasoline rations could be issued for moving a house trailer to be used as housing for a person in connection with his occupation, without regard to the kind of work performed. This permitted persons doing non-essential work to obtain more gasoline for travel than the maximum "B" rations provide for occupational driving. Occupational rations were not intended for transporting migratory workers not occupied on essential jobs, OPA explains.

Where Your War Bond Money Goes

It costs about $500 to fly a wounded man from Okinawa to Pearl Harbor and another $20 to fly him the additional 2,100 miles to San Francisco, the Navy department informs the War Finance Division of the Treasury.

Price Rule Changed For Refrigerators

Price regulations governing sales and rentals of used mechanical household refrigerators have been amended, effective August 6, OPA says. The following changes are made: 1. Control of refrigerator rentals by landlords to tenants is clarified. Refrigerators sold "as is" must have all parts necessary for operation. 3. A consumer selling a used mechanical refrigerator must give a written agreement to pay for all parts and repairs needed to fulfill the guaranty.

Consumer Prospects For Shoes and Apparel

More leather shoes for civilians will be produced during the last three months of this year than any previous quarter of 1945, because of scheduled military orders, WPB and OPA announced. A production rise of civilian shoes was removed by WPB. Fifteen million yards of cotton fabrics, commonly used in home sewing, have been made available for distribution to civilians in stores serving small towns and rural areas, WPB announced. These fabrics include gabardine, seersucker, lawn, bleached or unbleached class "C" sheeting, print cloths (percale), pique (crinkled crepe), and outing fabric.

Consumer Prospects For Household Goods

Rationing of gas cooking gas heating stoves to consumers will end July 31, OPA and WPB said in a joint announcement. Combination ranges, except gas combinations, also will be certificate-free after that of oil cooking, oil heating, combination oil-gas stoves and oil combination burners for stoves will remain rationed. An order requiring manufacturers to use additional quantities of water-resistant "builder" materials in products will increase by ten cent the United States production of household "heavy duty" dry-type soaps, the Department of Agriculture said.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Preventing Gingerbread Burning.—A small pan of water underneath gingerbread when baking has been found an effective way to keep it from burning. Baking Powder Substitute.—Eggs.—When making cake eggs are scarce add one-half spoon extra of baking powder. This amount of baking powder equivalent to one egg. Rinse all tin cans with hot and dry thoroughly either in oven or in the sun before turning into the regular trash. This method eliminates a many unpleasant odors and the flies and mosquitoes.

Your Horoscope

July 30, 31.—Your aims are high and you like to come into prominence and notice. You are refined, idealistic, domestic, with a love for your family that knows no bounds. You can readily adapt yourself and can fit into many conditions. You are apt to have a very strongly developed religious nature.
August 1, 2.—You are full of curiosity. You are like the cat on the fence, you like to know what is going on, although you do not generally pry into other people's business. You want everything nice and are willing to work to earn it. You are fond of money and will work hard to get it—but spend it freely.
August 3, 4, 5.—You have a keen, discriminating mind, and through intuition rather than intellect are a powerful reasoner. Being secretive you conceal your thoughts and intentions so that no word or expression will reveal them.

CREATING PERMANENT JOBS

The electric and gas utility industries will spend more than $1,000,000,000 in the next 12 months, says the Federal Power Commission. It bases this statement on reports from companies representing more than 90 per cent of the two industries. A small part of this money will be spent by municipal electric systems, but expenditures for Federal projects are not included.
The bulk of the billion dollars will be spent by private electric spend will represent new taxable assets for city, county, state and Federal governments. This cannot be said for the municipal and Federal plants which operate under public subsidies and tax exemptions. To the extent that they displace private utilities, they increase the taxes of all other citizens.
The electric utility industry has a planned outlay for the 12 months of $751,000,000. The gas industry in the same period plans an expenditure of $251,000,000. This is the type of postwar spending that means permanent new industries which will furnish steady jobs at good wages. This is the type of expenditure that pours money into the public treasuries, thereby lightening the citizens' tax burden on the postwar. This is the type of expenditure that enables hundreds of thousands of people to invest their savings in American enterprise which they own and on which they earn a fair return.
This is the type of expenditure that our country needs, for this is the type of expenditure which keeps the United States a nation of free and independent men and women who can plan their own future and security, as contrasted with the socialized state which makes its citizens financially dependent on government for their existence.—Industrial News Review.

Getting and Givins

People get out of their home town life about what they put into it. If they give little effort to the good causes of their home town, their chances of making friends and enjoying life in the community are not so good. Many people are so busy and burdened with cares, that they can give little or no time to service of a public nature.
If people can be active in the community work of a town, if they are willing to give their time and effort to such causes and local organizations, they develop a wide acquaintance. They form close ties with many people, and are fully compensated by the high regard which they obtain from a wide circle of friends.

POISONED VOTE BAIT

The plain, unadulterated bunk that is being peddled today by so-called responsible men in government to the effect that Congress must pass legislation that will provide jobs for all, is simply sickening. Congress might pass an emergency measure that would employ everybody for a few months or a year or so, but neither Congress nor the government has a dime to employ anybody until it first takes it away from the people in taxes.
If government is to furnish jobs for all continuously, it must confiscate all property and industry and go into business to earn the money to pay to public employees—it couldn't tax people enough to provide jobs for all and leave anything for the taxpayer to conduct business with.
Hitler's Germany would be a kindergarten compared with the tyranny that would develop in any country that provided jobs for all. Only as men and women rustle their own jobs, will they remain independent.—Industrial News Review.

On many of the verses of Scripture there are almost as many theories and interpretations as there are different beliefs in Christendom. We are taught in the Word, 2 Pt. 1:20, "No prophecy is of any private interpretation." Not only is this true of prophecy but of all of revelation. The Bible, when allowed to, will become its own interpreter. Many gems of God's truths have been lost under the debris of the theories and opinions of man. Therefore it behooves us, as devout and sincere seekers after Truth, to ascertain whether our Faith rests upon man's interpretations, theories and opinions, or upon the truth of the Word. "Ye shall know the truth," said the Savior, "and the truth shall make you free." Again He said, "I am the truth." Why take unnecessary chances with our eternal life by building upon unsolid foundations when the foundation of God stands sure and firm? Romans 8:16 reads, "The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit that we are the children of God." What is your understanding of this verse? Will not your understanding be according to the interpretation you are willing to accept? No one's understanding will rise higher than his source of interpretation. If he chooses man's interpretation his Faith must rest upon the wisdom of man. But, if he chooses God's revelation, his Faith will rest upon the wisdom of God. As this verse has been the source of much misunderstanding and confusion, Lord's Day morning we will study it in the light of God's Word.

One watch set right will do to many other watches by; on the other hand one that goes wrong may be the means of misleading a whole neighborhood. "The Gospel That Brings Salvation" will be the subject for Lord's Day evening. As there can be but one Faith, Eph. 4, so can there be but one gospel that produces that one Faith. Come! All members of the church and their friends are invited to be present and enjoy the Fellowship, Thursday evening. GRANT L. SLAGLE, Minister.

Why You Should Know God's Word Serious-minded people of today are breaking down of moral standards which are threatening the people of the whole world. The only remedy lies in a knowledge of God's Word. "Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth" (II Tim. 2:15). No one can lay claim to being well informed who is not acquainted with the Bible. Its popularity is shown in the fact that more than ten million copies are sold yearly, in a thousand languages and dialects. The Bible should be studied for its superior English. The King James Version was made when the English language was at its best—in the Elizabethan period. The Bible contains the highest system of ethics found in the world. It produces the highest type of character in individuals and communities where it is accepted and lived. The Bible is God's Book. Without it, knowledge of God is limited to that revealed through nature. Those in authority in state and nation should know the Bible. Our own country is always served best by the President who is a Christian, living up to Bible standards. The Bible is the final authority in matters of faith. Neither reason nor Church has ever proved adequate in the settlement of matters of faith. The way of salvation is to be found only in the Bible. The need of salvation, the meaning of salvation, and how it is to be obtained are all clearly set forth in the Scriptures. The Bible should be studied because all that we know of the future life is set forth within its pages. Existence in the hereafter can be known only through God's revelation. What of the other world, our departed friends, our own future? Revealed in God's Word are the great and assuring truths that answer man's urgent questioning. "If a man die, shall he live again?" In the Bible is the answer that satisfies.

THOUGHTS OF SERIOUS MOMENTS

We should not ask who is the most learned, but who is the best learned.—Montaigne. The great standard of literature, as to purity and exactness of style, is the Bible.—Blair. The hardest way of learning is that of easy reading; but a great book that comes from a great thinker is a ship of thought, deep freighted with truth and beauty.—Theodore Parker. The Gene Tunney-Jack Dempsey prize fight, held in Chicago on September 22, 1927, drew the largest gate receipts of any championship battle, $2,650,000. ## P. T. A. MOTHER-SINGERS

The organized Mother-Singers of the Crowell Parent Teacher Association will function for the coming school year and have outlined their activities to begin with rehearsals about the beginning of September. Mrs. Grady Magee, their director, announces that new music has been purchased, suitable for the needs of the Mother-Singers and she is asking for the co-operation of all who will assist with the singing.

The year book is slating four special programs for the Mother-Singers and they will also appear on most of the regular programs. The third Tuesday night of September has been designated as "Family Night" and Mrs. Magee will direct a sing-song on that occasion.

The Mother-Singers will be a definite part of the local Parent Teacher activities.

FAMILY REUNION

Mr. and Mrs. G. Y. Carroll entertained all their children in their home Sunday, July 29, with a family reunion and a noon dinner at the home here.

Attending the reunion were Mrs. T. G. Graves of Pampa; Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Carroll and family of Good Creek; Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Carroll and family of Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. L. Carroll of Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Carroll and family and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Carroll of Crowell; Cpl. Fred L. Carroll of Gulfport, Miss.; and S-Sgt. Millard Carroll, both of whom are at home on furloughs. A cousin, Milburn Carroll, his wife and family, were afternoon visitors.

TRUSCOTT H. D. CLUB

Nine members of the Truscott Home Demonstration Club met Thursday, July 26, in the basement of the Baptist Church in Truscott with Mrs. J. R. Brown as hostess.

Mrs. Brown was also program leader for the afternoon's study of the subject "Health on the Home Front." Mrs. C. A. Bullion discussed "Painting—Causes and Treatment." The first aid treatment of sprains was given by Mrs. Bill Owens.

After the program, members spent some time stenciling. The next club meeting will be on September 13.

Fishes in His Private Pool

It is not every boy that has his own private fishing pool. This young farm boy baits hook hopefully and prepares to fish in the family pond. Private waters like these can be used the year around, and hundreds of inland farm kids who never had a chance to fish are growing up into a larger generation of sportsmen. The government has encouraged building of private ponds. Some states, such as Missouri, offer special inducements for farm pools, not only stocking with fish but supplying at cost shade trees and water plants for the ponds. Even in postwar, the addition of fish to the farm diet will be welcomed.

Postwar Future of Gypsum Industry Exceptionally Good

(This is the second of a series of three articles surveying the postwar future of the gypsum industry.)

Even the experts do not agree on how much construction America will need after the war—but no one denies that the requirements will be tremendous.

And that, in turn, means that workers in gypsum mines, quarries, and fabricating and processing plants are going to be kept busy working the year 'round supplying gypsum building materials which will be in greater demand than ever before.

Here are a few of the predictions for annual postwar construction of all types—private, commercial, industrial, and public works.

Average estimates by prominent but conservative financial personages, $11,000,000,000; U. S. Department of Labor, $12,000,000,000; Committee for Economic Development and the American Society for Civil Engineers, $15,000,000,000; the Producers' Council of building materials manufacturers, $21,500,000,000.

Other organizations, including some labor groups, go beyond even the last figure.

National Housing Agency officials have declared that America must build 1,500,000 or more homes per year for a 10-year period to end its housing "deficit." Abner H. Ferguson, administrator of the Federal Housing Administration, was quoted by press associations last March as declaring that between 350,000 and 400,000 new homes would be built within the first year after Germany's collapse and the construction rate would accelerate rapidly as manpower controls and materials shortages became less stringent.

Surveys of the rural areas indicate that a large portion of the farmers contemplate new homes, new tenant houses, new barns or major repairs and remodeling—just how much, no one can guess.

All these predictions, surveys, and estimates, even the most conservative ones, give assurance to workers and communities in the score of states where gypsum is produced and processed that steady employment is ahead.

After a study of all available figures and predictions, a prominent eastern financial writer declared that the postwar building boom will see a 25 per cent increase in the use of gypsum plaster and gypsum boards of all types from the prewar levels of consumption.

He predicted that the gypsum industry will be called upon annually to furnish 2,600,000,000 square feet of gypsum board products—more than all other types of building boards, except lumber itself, combined.

But that is only a beginning, according to gypsum industry members. They explained that the gypsum industry has developed new products and new uses for its older products and is ready to help give America better, more economical, and safer homes and other buildings than ever before. In so doing, it also will be playing an important role in preventing any period of unemployment.

"Reconversion" to peacetime production, it was added, will be easy for the gypsum industry.

(The third and last article in this series will appear in this paper next week.)

Nonprofit Plans for Prepaying Hospital Bills Makes Progress

Records continue to be broken in the number of Americans joining voluntary nonprofit plans for prepaying hospital bills. A total of 2,282,482 new members joined during the first six months' period of 1945 and thus exceeded by more than 500,000 the previous record membership growth established during the corresponding period of 1944.

The total Blue Cross membership in 43 states, the District of Columbia, seven Canadian provinces, and Puerto Rico now numbers 18,800,000 Americans.

Whereas, a year ago, new members were enrolling nationally at the rate of approximately 12,000 per working day, the rate has now increased to almost 17,000 persons daily. More workers and family dependents joined Blue Cross during the first six months of 1945 than joined during the entire year of 1942.

Nationally, six states have passed the million membership mark. New York State leads with over 3,000,000 Blue Cross members; Ohio, 2,160,000; Pennsylvania, 1,933,000; Michigan, 1,303,000; Illinois, 1,222,000; and Massachusetts, 1,202,000.

A state-wide Blue Cross Plan has just been approved for New Mexico which leaves only Arkansas, Mississippi, South Carolina, Idaho and Wyoming without a community and hospital-sponsored plan for removing the financial injury.

Doctor bill prepayment plans sponsored by state and county medical societies or the hospitals, and made available to the public through co-ordination with Blue Cross hospital service plans, increased in number from 19 to 24 during the first six months of 1945. Membership in these medical plans now totals 1,800,000 Americans.

control of all aspects of life and an indefinite extension of state are beginning to see that the traditional goals of socialism may be a threat to individual freedom."—Industrial News Review.

This warning is timely for the United States, where we are planning a postwar economy that embodies much European state socialism, the evil effects of which have cost the lives of countless thousands of our service men in many nations. We have little time to lose in blocking this false philosophy of freedom here at home.

In conclusion, Dr. Hayek says: "If Europe does not relax into tyranny and barbarism, but finds its way back to a new development of its great liberal tradition, the century from 1848 to 1948 will probably come to be known as the century of socialist delusion, the century during which, as a result of sheer intellectual error, so much good-will was canalized into efforts which very nearly succeeded in destroying the values the people most wanted to preserve."

"The world will not go to the left, if believers in individual freedom realize their mistakes. Changes in the popular conception of state socialism are taking place as the plight of the people in such countries becomes known. Many intellectual leaders have become aware of the dangers of

"Butch," who belongs to Joe Hammer, 13, a patient in Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, has not missed a day in meeting his postman pal, Arthur Pritchard. He makes the daily rounds with the mailman, grabbing his trouser leg to urge more speed.

YOU CAN HELP NOW

If you find it difficult to get on a train, remember that the railroads and the Pullman Company, by order of the Office of Defense Transportation, have withdrawn from service all sleeping cars operating between points 410 miles or less apart. The action was made necessary by unexpectedly heavy arrivals of troops from Europe.

This action makes available an additional 895 Pullman cars and gives the military the exclusive use of about half the sleeping cars operating in the United States.

Three ways to handle your money

1. POUR IT DOWN THE DRAIN:

Sure, spend it like water. Easy come, easy go. Buy and buy, white market, black market, who cares? But, by and by, don't be surprised if you wind up broke.

2. SOCK IT IN THE WELL:

Not a bad idea, but not good, either. You put $75 down the well today... pull it up in 10 years... and what have you got? $75 and three frogs... which isn't much interest.

3. TURN IT INTO WAR BONDS:

Of course! Put your money to work! It helps the war effort, and the government needs every dollar it can get. It makes money for you: $75 in Series E Bonds now will come back in 10 years as $100. And you've got a swell "cushion" to fall back on in case of emergency. Buy all the Bonds you can—keep all the Bonds you buy!
