"Victory" Campaign Last Drive for National War Fund

Austin.—The October "Victory" campaign will be the last drive on behalf of the National War Fund, Judge Ben H. Powell, president of the United War Chest of Texas, announced this week.

Following completion of the 1945 campaign, which will raise funds to keep USO and other war fund agencies going until America's fighting men have been returned home, both the United War Chest of Texas and the National War Fund will liquidate, Judge Powell said.

The state war chest leader called on all Texans to make the October "Victory" drive the greatest of all.

"Through our generosity in this final campaign, we can show our fighting men and our allies our full appreciation for their sacrifices," Judge Powell declared. "Funds raised this year will maintain USO-Camp operations for our men still abroad and for occupation troops, and provide vitally necessary aid for suffering war victims in liberated areas."

It should be our greatest effort, for only by generous response to the appeal of humanity can we prove to the world that Americans can be as generous in victory as we were determined in war.

"Millions of our men still are overseas, and large numbers will be left on occupation duty in Europe and Japan. We cannot abandon our service men now, just because victory has been won. We must help them fight the battle of boredom, and prove to them our appreciation of their great sacrifices is more than a mere phrase."

"And we must extend a helping hand to our allies in the Philippines, in China and in other liberated countries, in order that they may once again take their rightful place among friendly nations."

"We can't let them down now, just because the fighting is over."

Judge Powell urged Texans in every part of the state to an all-out effort on behalf of the campaign, through which the national must raise $115,000,000 "for our own and our allies."

Texans, which went over-the-top in two previous war fund drives, has been given a quota of approximately $4,500,000. This means that every community and county will be asked to give this year approximately the same amount as contributed during the 1944 campaign.

The National War Fund drive will open October 1, with local community and county war chests canvassing every residential and business area in Texas.

USS Missouri To Be Scene of Historic Jap Surrender

The United States Navy's mighty 45,000-ton battleship, the USS Missouri, will end her World War II career in a blaze of glory, Aug. 31, 1945, in Tokyo Bay, when she serves as the scene of the historic unconditional surrender of Japan to the United Nations. Proudly bearing the name of the home state of President Harry S. Truman, the fighting USS Missouri has been named by General of the Army, Douglas MacArthur, Supreme Allied Commander, as the locale of the formal ending of the war in the Pacific. Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, Commander-in-Chief of the United States Pacific Fleet and Pacific Ocean Areas, will sign for the United States, General of the Army MacArthur, for the Allied forces which fought in the Pacific. The USS Missouri was launched Jan. 29, 1944. Construction was ordered June 12, 1940. Her keel was laid on Jan. 6, 1941, at the New York Navy Yard.

West Texas C. of C. Will Organize West Texas Development Bureau and Advertise Section to Industrialists

"West Texas Invites Industry! Investigate the industrial advantages of this long and truly known Raw Materials Capital of the World!"

"Write, wire or phone!" The invitation is from the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to the nation's industrialists, timed to reach them as World War II finally rings down, and conveyed through paid advertising. Media so far selected are Time Magazine, Nation's Business, the Wall Street Journal and the New York Times.

The initial series of 1x4 inch ads will start in early September as the step-off in a WTCC test campaign authorized by its executive board, calling for spending of a modest sum from organization funds for display space in Eastern periodicals, and for creation of a West Texas Industrial Development Bureau for following through on inquiries received from the advertising. The message will be aimed directly at the heads of companies facing immediate problems of reconversion, full employment, plant expansion and the answer to the ever-all question: Where do we go from here?

Plan of Operation It was on June 29th that WTCC President E. W. Hardin laid the two-point proposal before the 16-member board composed of the officers and district directors. A referendum ballot was enclosed. By mid-July the returns were in: a unanimous go-ahead. With this mandate in hand, the headquarters office contracted the Rowland Broiles Co. Agency, of Fort Worth, to place the advertising through a committee headed by J. E. Cunningham, Amarillo. The follow-up bureau is being organized and will work under the WTCC's standing Industrial Development committee, J. B. Thomas of Fort Worth chairman.

The latter all-area group will function from the chamber's headquarters office and be manned by Manager D. A. Bauden; Assistant Manager J. A. Rix; and Max Bentley, activities director. Working with them will be local chairman and secretaries named by the various chambers of commerce in the area. The headquarters bureau will receive inquiries from industrialists, provide detailed information, endeavor to sell West Texas as a whole, and impartially to the correspondence to each affiliated chamber. The local groups will have the privilege of putting on their own sales campaigns for plant locations, in turn copying the regional office on all communications.

President Hardin's detail of the plan went out August 20th to the 176 WTCC directors and 135 local chamber managers over the area. He noted that "with the end of our two terrible wars, and with our favorable freight rate parity decision resulting in an increasing number of industrial inquiries about this area, the time has now come for us to concentrate our energy into a new era of peace."

"In accordance with the unanimous vote of our Executive Board, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is now starting to spend some money on industrial advertising and to organize a West Texas Industrial Development Bureau. We are not at first launching an extensive campaign, but are merely making an experiment. We are test in these several publications. We are utilizing the best agency in existence for work of this kind, namely the Chamber of Commerce."

Hardin's letter enclosed a listing of industrial inquiries previously received by the regional office, with copy of the chamber's general sales letter presenting West Texas as a whole.

West Texas and Nation The pattern sales letter gave the area's annual production percentages as against the nation's: 15 per cent of its cotton; 45 per cent of grain sorghums; 50 per cent of highest quality wheat; 20 per cent of wool; 65 per cent of mohair; 30 per cent of crude oil; enough natural gas to meet the nation's fuel requirements; and 35 per cent of the cattle, sheep and goats for Texas, the largest producing state. "Yet," said the letter, "West Texas as a whole still has almost unlimited possibilities for development. More than 40 million acres of tillable land are still unfarmed. From the standpoint of industry of the future, we have in our office for your inspection a listing, recently made by the U. S. Bureau of Mines of more than 60 minerals existing in quantity in virtually every one of our 132 counties, that are undeveloped and practically untouched to date."

"Another characteristic of our territory is that it is the nation's great Anglo-American born white section. Ninety-five per cent of West Texans are from old American stock, and they and their forefathers have lived here long enough to be truly described as indigenous West Texans. They are in all respects 'homefolks' and home lovers. They are above the national average in literacy, in patriotism, in love of an all-out adherence to what we are pleased to call 'old-fashioned Americanism'. Believers in free enterprise and private initiative."

This character of citizenship, we feel, makes a desirable situation for industry. "Another point we wish to stress is, that in West Texas you would find ample water, and power and fuel facilities; superior transportation facilities; an almost perfect year-around climate; and a most favorable tax situation both state and local."

Shortage of food and red points have closed 222 restaurants in the Los Angeles area in the past 60 days, according to the Southern California Restaurant Association.

Sufficient Exercise and Sleep Factors in Preventing Diabetes

Austin. — Diabetes, a disease for which modern medicine can do so much, took a toll of several hundred lives in Texas during the past year, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"While the communicable diseases such as typhoid fever, malaria, diphtheria, and smallpox are causing a decreasing number of deaths each year in this country, diabetes is now taking an appalling number of human lives, especially in the middle aged group," Dr. Cox said.

"Until recent years diabetes was not noted as a major health problem but it became accepted as such in direct ratio to the development of medical laboratory procedures, which made the disease more easily diagnosed."

Dr. Cox said that diabetes is generally recognized as a class disease. It seems to attack the white-collar class of indoor men and women much more frequently than it does the outdoor person whose work is more vigorous and calls for more exercise. Whatever the actual cause of the disease may be, vocational and economic conditions are factors, since it seems a fact that those who do not indulge in luxurious living and whose occupation calls for manual labor are not frequently affected. Dr. Cox said that simple living, wholesome diets, sufficient exercise and sleep are factors in the prevention of diabetes, and an annual physical examination is important to determine whether or not the disease is present in the middle-aged group.

being made," Mr. Wilson stated.

"In the explosion of an atomic bomb on Japan we have evidence that atomic energy in tremendous quantities can be released and controlled at least to the extent of causing the release to occur at a desired time," he said.

"It is too early to do more than to speculate as to the possible peacetime use of this type of energy. It is probable that as the development is carried along, we will find ways and means of controlling and using this form of energy as a source of heat for direct use, and perhaps for special purposes, such for example as supplying power to drive an airplane, or an ocean ship, or a locomotive. But in addition to the many technical problems which must be solved before such an application would be at all feasible there is also the question as to whether such peacetime use will be practical from the economic standpoint."

President Truman's statement shows that the expense of the project has been very great, and whether future developments will permit atomic energy to be made available at costs which will allow its general commercial use, only time can tell."

FAVORITISM

"That socialized medicine is not good for the country was clearly proved during the depression, when Emergency Medical Relief was organized as an embryonic government agency," declared Dr. Samuel Barbash, editor of the Atlantic County (N. J.) Medical Society Bulletin, in a recent "guest editorial" written for the Jackson County (Mo.) Medical Society Bulletin. "Its ideals and purposes were endorsed by every earnest practitioner who recognized the need it was trying to fill. However, political favoritism and miscarriage of aims were not only discouraging but disgusting. It is appalling to contemplate the same experience on a national scale."

Five women in the University School of Law have been initiated recently into Kappa Beta Pi, honorary legal fraternity for women.

G. E. Contributed to Atomic Bomb

Schenectady, Aug. 27. — General Electric's contribution to the atomic bomb announced by President Truman has been two-fold according to Charles E. Wilson, president of the company. First, that of its laboratory scientists, some of whom several years ago pioneered in isolating what is known as U-235 from the uranium atom, and secondly the development and production of new and important equipment necessary in the manufacture of the new bomb.

"Practically every major apparatus plant of General Electric was put to work on the project, yet the secret was so closely guarded that fewer than 100 of the 165,000 people employed by General Electric knew what was

I indeed baptize you with water unto repentance; but he that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear; He shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost, and with fire.—Matthew 3:11.

A crowd of 100,800 persons watched William Hill ride the Niagara rapids in a barrel. The sight of a taxpayer over a barrel these days, however, scarcely attracts passing notice.

It would save the human race a lot of trouble if quick tempered individuals when they lost their tempers should become tongue tied and afflicted with stuttering. If there ever was a time when a man should stutter it appears to us that when he loses his temper it is time.

HISTORY

Birthday of William H. McGuffey — September 23: Practically everyone today has heard of the McGuffey school readers and not a few persons living today used them in their school days. William H. McGuffey, compiler of the Eclectic series of McGuffey readers, was born near Claysville, Penn., on September 23, 1800. At an early age he moved with his parents to Ohio locating near Youngstown when the Connecticut Reserve in Ohio was organized for settlement. He was graduated from Washington College in 1826, and immediately became professor of languages in Miami University at Oxford, Ohio. He served on the faculty until 1836, when he was elected president of Cincinnati College. After serving three years as president of Cincinnati College he became president of Ohio University at Athens. He later served on the faculty of Woodward College at Cincinnati and the University of Virginia. It was during his service at Miami University that he was asked by a firm of Cincinnati publishers to prepare a series of school readers. He began the series in 1836 and completed it twenty-one years later in 1857. The McGuffey series immediately became popular and over 122,000,000 copies were sold, a remarkable sale at that time. Owing to the high quality of the content of the McGuffey books it is generally believed that discriminating literary tastes were formed by students who used the books in their school work.

Old timers can remember that in the days before the combine, each year at harvest time harvest hands from all parts of the country headed for the wheat fields of the midwest. They rode in box cars, thousands of them. When they reached the wheat belt they detrained with a paper suitcase and set out to look for a job. In some instances farmers met the train and loaded the workers into his waiting car and started for home. The harvest continued for several weeks and sometimes lasted until near Christmas when the workers began to trek back home, to school and odd jobs in the home town. There always seemed to be help enough to keep the crop harvested. The wages relatively were as good as they are now and the element of adventure if anything greater.

What We Think
(By Frank Dixon)

The biggest news, in my opinion, that has come to the people of the world, of man made origin, is the announcement of the discovery of the atomic bomb. It is big news, not because it is a scientific achievement of surpassing note, but because of the potential possibilities that are included in the knowledge of how to produce such a force—a force hitherto unknown outside of nature itself.

The discovery is important at the present moment because in the minds of many it provided the one means which brought about peace. No longer will it be possible for man to go to war with all the implements that his ingenious mind can create for the destruction of his enemies. The new bomb would make it possible for the possessor of its secret to wipe from the earth in short order any enemy no matter how well equipped or prepared he might be.

The discovery makes even more imperative the necessity of world peace. No longer will it be possible for man to go to war with all the implements that his ingenious mind can create for the destruction of his enemies. The new bomb would make it possible for the possessor of its secret to wipe from the earth in short order any enemy no matter how well equipped or prepared he might be. The revealing of atomic force to the scientific genius of man marks the greatest man created advance in the enlightenment of the human race since creation's dawn. I feel this because by its very nature it places in the hands of its possessor a power that surpasses any other man made power and gives the power of life and death to its possessor over all the rest of the world.

The possession of such power brings to its possessor responsibilities the like of which no people has ever heretofore possessed. It outstrips all of man's many other destructive agencies and renders them impotent against the possession of the secret of atomic power.

The knowledge brings with it, as does all knowledge, a new responsibility—a responsibility the like of which has never before faced any people. It practically insures a world state and makes imperative the necessity for living together in a world of peace. With such a destructive agent in the possession of any nation there can no longer continue to be competition for power among nations. The exclusive possession of the atomic bomb by the smallest nation might easily make it the most powerful nation on earth. We must now live together in peace or go down together in destruction.

It seems to me that the God of the Universe has taken a gambling chance with the people of this country and of England and has entrusted to the two nations a great and a terrible secret—great and terrible in its possibilities and potentialities. The God of the Universe, it seems to me, has, in effect, said to the people of this country: I believe you are ready for this new knowledge—ready to take it and use it to the good of mankind and the furthering of God's program for man. In no other way can I account for the giving to mankind a force a thousand times greater than the mightiest bolt of lightning ever launched from the clouds of heaven against the earth. In no other way can I understand that man has been permitted to invade the sacred precincts of divine creation and take from it a secret so vast and so mysterious. The revelation of the secret to this nation brings to us a great opportunity, the greatest mankind has yet known, but great as the discovery is, the opportunity it provides brings an even greater responsibility for its rightful use.

Weekly Sermon

By the Rev. Wendell P. Loveless, director of WMBI and YDLM, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

Ambassadors For Christ - Everyone who knows Christ as Saviour should be an ambassador for Christ (II Cor. 5:20).

In Matthew 28:8 we find seven characteristics of the true ambassador. It was the resurrection morning and the angel had said, "He is risen... go quickly, and tell his disciples."

"And they departed quickly from the sepulchre with fear and great joy; and did run to bring his disciples word. And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And they came and held him by the feet, and worshipped him."

(1) The true ambassador for Christ does not spend time at the sepulchre. Christ died for our sins, but "He rose again the third day... and he was seen..."

"Death could not hold Christ. The tomb was empty. We worship a living not a dead Christ. (2) He has a reverential trust in God. This is the meaning of the original word "fear" in our text.

"They departed... with fear." (3) He is also joyful—"with... great joy." Some think piety and melancholy are boon companions. Not so! The Christian life and experience is a joyful one.

(4) He is one who runs—"and did run to bring his disciples word." The true ambassador is impelled by the awful need of lost men and women for Christ and His salvation. He cannot remain silent.

(5) He is conscious of the presence of the Lord Jesus—"as they ran, Jesus met them." In the great commission of Matthew 28:19, 20, Jesus said, "Lo, I am with you always," but we must meet the requirements that accompany the promise.

(6) He prays—"they held him by the feet." A life of prayer is absolutely essential to fruitful service (I John 5:14). (7) He worships—"... and worshipped him." True Christian worship is the overflow of a heart in love with the Lord Jesus Christ.

It is not easy to be a true ambassador to Christ, but it is a glorious calling which pays eternal dividends.

Leonard, Texas, honored its war dead by planting in memorial 21 trees at the junction of two highways. Paul Revere made the copper and brass parts for the first six ships of the American Navy.

OUTLOOK FOR BANG'S TESTING ENCOURAGING

If you plan to sell breeding animals in the future, beef or dairy cattle, it would be a distinct advantage to have your herd free of Bang's disease or an accredited herd; in this way you would protect the purchasers of your cattle.

Where this disease is prevalent there is not only a loss of calves but also a loss in milk and flesh, besides the risk to health where the milk is used.

We now have some 225 head of cattle listed and under agreement and would like to increase this to 300 head if possible.

So, if interested, do not fail to call by the office and sign an agreement unless you do this we will miss you should the testing get underway.

We are not attempting to high pressure anybody, we just do not want to overlook you if you are interested and we do not want to close our lists without you if you want this free service.

Remember the condemned cattle may be sold on the market at regular prices for that grade of cattle.

PRICE CEILING MEETING

Quite a nice representation of cotton farmers met here in the court house Monday afternoon, and arranged to circulate some petitions to present at the hearing at Vernon.

The group voted in favor of having a group present at the Vernon meeting, September 5, to join with the group and represent Foard County.

The petitions being circulated simply give an opportunity for the grower to express himself for or against the movement.

The area involved consists of all the counties growing cotton in the northwest part of the state. Should the two hearings develop that the majority of the growers in the area west of Wichita Falls and Abilene wish price ceiling, the State Board could then declare ceilings on picking and pulling over the entire area affected.

If you are interested locally, we have a petition here in the County Agent's office which you may sign.

HEARING ON FIXING COTTON WAGE CEILING

A hearing will be held by the Texas USDA Wage Board on September 5, 1945, at 10 a. m., in the District Court room, at Vernon, for the purpose of obtaining evidence and information pursuant to the establishing of specific wage ceiling regulations for cotton picking, pulling and crew leader services in the following counties: Archer, Baylor, Childress, Collinsworth, Cottle, Dickens, Donley, Foard, Gray, Hall, Hardeman, Haskell, King, Knox, Kent, Motley, Stonewall, Throckmorton, Wichita, Wilbarger, Wheeler and Young.

Testimony will be taken concerning the type of work to be controlled, the exact areas to be subject to control, the wage rates paid, and other matters relative to establishment of a wage ceiling. All interested persons may appear and testify.

An official vote will be taken from producers favoring or opposing wage ceilings for guidance of the board.

AGRICULTURAL WORKERS AND FARMERS MEET

On last Wednesday there was held a meeting on the question of farm labor and the fixing of price ceiling on wages and prices to be paid for cotton harvesting.

Present at this meeting were county agents, farmers and representatives of the A. & M. Extension Service and the U. S. Department Agriculture Wage Board.

The farm labor problem was gone into and plans for handling farm labor explained.

On the question of fixing a ceiling on cotton picking wages it was decided to leave this to the growers exclusively.

If sufficient interest develops, petitions will be circulated and a delegation selected to attend a hearing to be held at Vernon, September 5, at which time the plan will be definitely recommended or rejected.

There were delegates of growers from twenty or more counties here last Wednesday.

FINAL GRASSHOPPER REPORT

Our records show that some forty farmers took advantage of the facilities for providing poison bait for grasshoppers here in Foard County.

The county mixed and distributed some 20,500 pounds of poison bait to farmers who repeatedly called for the bait. These farmers were well pleased with the results received insofar as the kill was concerned and in most instances they controlled the hoppers and saved the crops. Crops on 1,250 acres of land were treated and a total value of crops saved would approximate $10 to $20 per acre.

Some few crops were totally destroyed, in fact, the grasshoppers did a lot of damage not only to crops but to gardens, pastures, and orchards as well.

They were widespread over the county and especially in the pasture areas.

War Equipment Can Be Stored in Welded Steel Containers

Dallas.—America's big guns and other heavy artillery equipment which have brought peace to the world, may be stored in hermetically sealed containers instead of being scrapped.

In co-operation with the Army, methods and procedures for this storage program are being developed by United States Steel's American Bridge Company plant in Ambridge, Pa.

Extensive research and experiments have been under way for several months. A welded steel container closely resembling the Army Quonset hut has been developed. The equipment, after being stowed in these sealed-in units, will be subjected to an inert gas atmosphere which, replacing the normal atmosphere with its corroding factors of oxygen and moisture, it is anticipated will prevent deterioration of the contents over a long period of time.

Equipment so preserved will be ready for use in the event of another Pearl Harbor. Under the plan now being worked out re-conditioned artillery pieces will be delivered to the Ambridge plant for "packaging" and ultimately shipped to designated storage locations.

The containers are designed for storage almost anywhere under extreme temperatures ranging from 60 degrees below to 170 degrees above zero.

Should it come time to open the "cans" and use the guns again a burner's torch would do the trick.

Army Thanks General Electric Employees

Schenectady, Aug. 28.—Appreciation to each of the 165,000 workers of General Electric for the part they played, without realizing the full significance of their efforts, in making possible the superpowerful atomic bomb used against Japan has been expressed by the leader of the vast project that developed the most potent explosive force ever devised by man.

Major General Leslie R. Groves, head of the atomic bomb project for the War Department, in telephone conversation with Vice President Harry A. Winne, told Mr. Winne that he personally wished to have his thanks conveyed to the thousands of G-E workers "whose splendid work aided considerably in making this undertaking possible."

The specific part that General Electric played in the project is still cloaked by military security, but, according to Mr. Winne, it was so large that it included every major G-E works with the exception of one.

General Electric scientists, engaging in research on the secret of nuclear power as early as the 1930's, also figured importantly in the project, which was called by D. E. Chambers, executive engineer of the research laboratory, "the greatest scientific experiment ever attempted."

Work on the atomic project at one time or another included thousands of General Electric employees in widely scattered parts of the country, Mr. Winne said. But the secret nature of the project was so well kept that probably not more than 100 of them knew what they were working on.

IS COAL SHORTAGE MILITARY NECESSITY?

Secretary of the Interior Ickes has appealed to the Army to release 30,000 miners to increase our output of coal, and thus provide for at least the minimum needs here at home. He estimates that there are 130,000 miners in the armed forces and says:

"I want the American people to know that this decision involves the risk that we may have to suffer a shortage of coal in this country next winter, which will be more acute than heretofore predicted, and substantially greater than that which we experienced last winter. We may have to curtail industrial supplies to the point which will mean a partial or complete shutdown of some plants. We may have to reduce the 80 per cent quota which we have fixed for domestic consumption. Shipments to Europe should prevent disorders which would cost American lives, and they should enable the European countries to resume the production of fuel, textiles and other materials which we would otherwise have to supply to Europe from our own depleted stocks."

"I know of only one sure way to avoid, at the same time, disaster in Europe and further distress at home. This is to increase production, and to increase production we must have coal miners. There is only one source of additional miners, and that is the Army."

It will be hard for the American people to understand any arbitrary refusal to release the necessary coal miners from the Army. The welfare of our soldiers and their families depends upon an abundant supply of coal.—Industrial News Review.

Home sewing, which has more than doubled in the last 5 years, is still increasing. This year ran ahead of last year by 15 per cent. According to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., its 1940 records show farmers wives to be the most fertile class of American women. Every 1,000 farmers' wives had 629 children under 5 years of age. Wives of semi-skilled workers averaged 446 and professional people brought up the rear with only 359.

A prophecy by Hall L. Hibbard, Lockheed Aircraft Corporation president: Within from ten to fifteen years America will be producing planes that will fly 100,000 miles an hour 100 miles above the earth. According to Hibbard the German V-2 rocket could, with a few changes, be turned into a plane that could fly 4,000 miles an hour at a height of 250 miles. At these heights there is little or no friction and unheard of speeds are easily possible.

In the event you cannot secure a supply of DDT, the new insecticide that has proven so effective against flies, here is the formula as given by Walter Stuber, its originator: Dichloro, Trichlor, Octane, 2.78 per cent; deodorized hydrocarbon distillate, 97.22 per cent.

Suicide Attacks

One of the most terrible features of the last year of war, consisted of the great number of suicide attacks by the Japs on our naval vessels and armed forces. A large number of Japanese fliers went gladly to their death in the effort to destroy American ships. Twenty of our warships were sunk, and at least 30 more, and probably still more than that, were damaged.

The Japanese did not accomplish anything for themselves by conducting their war in such a desperate way. They caused a heavy casualty list to our ships and men, but their tactics aroused such fiery antagonism among our people as to nerve our men on to still greater effort, and to more destruction against an enemy so violent and desperate.

Almost 90 per cent of the world's nickel is produced in Canada.

City Fat Saving Record Falls Under Town and Farm Push

Ever since our government asked town and farm women to save used fats, the record previously set by city women has taken a beating.

We must keep up the good work! This country is facing a shortage of 1 billion, 500 million pounds of fats in domestic supplies, alone. Tons of vital war and home-front supplies requiring fats are still needed. We in towns and rural districts are in a better position to save fats than most city folks, so the government is depending on us.

Save every drop, every scrap. Melt down solid fats. There's never too little to save! Butchers will give you up to 4¢ and 2 red points a pound. If you have any difficulty, call your Home Demonstration or County Agent.

According to rubber director Charles S. Wilson, new tires will not be available to A card holders until some time in 1946. Last year B and C card holders received 17,000,000 tires. This year the same group will receive 24,000,000 tires.

The largest and heaviest airplane tire ever built was produced recently by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company of Akron, Ohio. It is now undergoing tests at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio. The big tire is 110 inches in diameter and 36 inches from one side wall to the other. The tube alone weighs 250 pounds and the tire and tube and rim weigh 2,600 pounds.
