Hurley Serves as Peace Maker

Mao Tse-tung, Communist leader of China, was escorted by Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley, American ambassador to China, to a meeting with Chiang Kai-shek. Death Takes Mrs. T. B. Masterson at Home in Truscott

Mrs. T. B. Masterson, an outstanding citizen of the Truscott community for many years, passed away at her home in Truscott, Sunday, September 23, following a lingering illness.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Methodist Church in Truscott. Burial followed in the Truscott cemetery. A full obituary will be given in next week's issue of the paper.

Quanah Indians Defeat Wildcats, 33-7 Friday Night

The Quanah Indians Class AA football team were too strong for the Crowell Wildcats at Quanah last Friday night when they took a 33 to 7 practice game decision. Quanah scored four touchdowns in the first half to take a 27 to 0 lead. With quite a few Indian reserves in the lineup during the last half, Crowell made 7 points to Quanah's 6, to make the final score 33 for Quanah and 7 for the Wildcats.

Conley, 170 pound fullback for the Indians, was the outstanding player on the field. He not only led in the scoring with three touchdowns, but his defensive playing stood out throughout the game. McMenamy, center, and Boynton and Wells, guards, were other Quanah boys who made an excellent showing in the game. All four of these boys are playing their fifth year in High School football. Kendrick Joy and J. L. Brock continued to look good for Crowell. Joy made Crowell's only touchdowns of the game in the fourth quarter on a running play from the five-yard line. Horace Todd set the touchdown up on a reverse line play for eight yards. Crowell's guards, Larry Wood and V. Bond, looked better in their blocking assignments than they have heretofore this season. John Frank Mitchell, new end, and Carlos McBeath, center, did some nice defensive work for Crowell.

O. C. Wharton, fullback and Captain for the Wildcats, had to remain on the sidelines again due to a wrist injury. He will be able to start the game against the Matador Bullfighters here tomorrow night.

Boys who saw service for Crowell in this game were: Carlos McBeath, center; John Mitchell, J. L. Brock and Jerry Westbrook, ends; V. Bond, Larry Wood and C. D. Campbell, guards; Larry Dan Campbell, N. A. Nichols and Charley Pete Moody, tackles; Kendrick Joy, A. G. Wallace, Horace Todd, Jimmy Johnson, O. C. Wharton and R. L. Ballard, backs.

Herman Davis Jr. Given Bronze Star Awarded to Father

Mrs. R. Davis, her little grandson, Herman E. Davis Jr., Mrs. Faye Holliday, Mr. and Mrs. Claren Nichols and Mrs. Grover Nichols went to Childress on September 12, where, at the Childress Army Field, Herman Davis Jr., was presented the Bronze Star, an award to his father, Pfc. Herman E. Davis, who was killed in action in Germany last February.

The award was presented by Col. Samuel W. Van Meter, Commanding Officer of the bombardier-navigator school of the Central Flying Command. The picture of the award being pinned on the little boy appeared in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Pfc. Herman E. Davis, formerly of the 116th Infantry, distinguished himself in combat during the attack against the town of Immerath, Germany. Guiding a tank into position, he crossed the path of an enemy tank and was mortally wounded by machine gun fire. According to the posthumous citation, "Pfc. Davis displayed outstanding courage and devotion to duty reflecting great credit upon himself and the military service."

Pfc. Davis entered the service on Dec. 18, 1942, at Camp Wolters. He entered the Paratrooper service at Fort Benning, Ga., early in 1943 and went overseas in May, 1944. He resided in Margaret and Crowell all his life and was educated in the Foard City and Margaret schools. His little son, five years of age, resides with the mother and grandmother, Mrs. R. Davis.

Mrs. J. R. Beverly will serve as Red Cross sewing chairman and the room will be open for the making of the articles soon. The exact date will be given in next week's paper. The finished articles are wanted as soon as it is possible and the ladies who will sew are asked to aid in this latest project. Even though the war has come to a close, hospitals will be filled with veterans for many months and these accessories are very much needed. Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Beverly urged the aid of as many ladies as can possibly give some time to the work.

Victory Drive for United War Chest Will Open in County Monday Morning, Oct. 1; Organization Work Completed

Claude Callaway, Foard County chairman for the third and last War Chest drive, states that each of the former drives went over in a big way in Foard County and that in the last drive Foard County was given second place in the state among the counties reporting over in full.

The chairman also says that there are yet about 7,000,000 men in the armed forces scattered over the world and that he hopes Foard County again raises its quota in order to insure that men have some place that seems a bit like home when they are off duty.

The Big Gifts committee will start work Friday morning and the various county committee chairmen will begin work on Monday morning, Oct. 1.

The organization for the county is as follows: Claude Callaway, County chairman; L. A. Andrews, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. T. B. Klepper, publicity chairman.

J. R. Beverly and Judge Leslie Thomas comprise the Big Gifts committee.

Crowell—Richard Ferguson, R. R. Jones and Harold Wilkinson; Margaret—W. A. Dunn and Joe L. Orr; Thalia—E. G. Grimsley, A. B. Wisdom, Jack Woodson and Rev. C. R. Hudson; Riverside—Monroe Karcher, Joe Johnson and Ira Tole; Rayland—Roy Martin, Travis Davis and Harold Crisp; Vivian—Harley Easley, Otis Gafford, J. B. Fairchild, Karl ten Brink and Herbert Fish; Foard City—Clarence Barker, Virgil Johnson, J. L. Farrar, Grady Halbert and Millard Rader; Good Creek—Jack Stinebaugh and Glenn Jones; Black—J. J. McCoy, Roy Steele and George Davis.

Mr. Callaway suggests that everybody encourage the local worker by his subscription and also by an expression of appreciation for his cooperation. A Texan's share is the goal for each person of the county.

Crowell High School Wildcats Will Play Third Practice Football Game Here Tomorrow Night Against Matador

The Crowell High School Wildcats will be playing their third practice football game of the season here tomorrow night at 8:30 when they take on the Matador Bullfighters. The Wildcats demonstrated some real fighting spirit against Floydada and Quanah in their first two games. Both of these squads outweighed them by a large margin. They stand a better chance than ever of winning the Matador game. The Wildcats have one more practice game at Seymour before starting their district 12-A schedule.

Coch Harold Wilkinson had very few experienced men at the beginning of the season to build his team around. However, several of the new boys have been improving fast and Crowell should have another good chance of going a long ways in the district race again this year. Members of the team have worked hard on their blocking assignments this week and their offensive will probably show a marked improvement over their first two games. O. C. Wharton, fullback for Crowell, will be in the lineup to give the 'Cats their full strength.

Very little is known about Matador's team this season. However, they have most of last year's squad back. Their weight average is about the same as that of Crowell.

Peace Time Will be Resumed Oct. 1; One Hour Later

According to press releases and radio reports, the country will return to peace time with the setting back of timepieces on Sunday night, Sept. 30, so that the change in time will take effect on Monday morning, Oct. 1.

Early in the war days, the time was set forward one hour, in order to save daylight. Now that the emergency for that is past, the old time will be resumed. It is only a small matter to set back one hour and if everyone will remember to do that on Sunday night, upon retiring, no effect will be felt by the change.

"Co-Pilot" Opens Sunday at Rialto

Based on the courageous exploits of the brave airmen who battled the Jap over the skies of China in their rugged P-40's, Warner Bros.' stirring film drama about the Flying Tigers, "God Is My Co-Pilot," will make its local debut on Sunday and Monday at the Rialto.

Starring Dennis Morgan as Col. Scott, of the now disbanded Flying Tigers, and featuring Andrea King, Alan Hale, Dane Clark, John Ridgely, Raymond Massey and Craig Stevens, "God Is My Co-Pilot" is the suspense-jammed story of Col. Scott, General Claire Chennault and their "fun-lovin'" Jap chasin' Flying Tigers.

"God Is My Co-Pilot" was adapted from the best-selling autobiography of the same name written by Col. Scott and was prepared for the screen by Peter Milne.

Banquet Given for Workers in United War Chest Drive

The drive for the last and probably the most important, United War Chest campaign was given a send-off with a dinner for the workers at the DeLuxe Cafe on Wednesday night. Chairman Claude Callaway and a large number of the committeemen for the various communities were present.

The invocation was given by E. G. Grimsley. Chairman Callaway opened the program by presenting Judge Leslie Thomas, who outlined briefly the reasons that the drive must be successful. He explained where the funds will be used and stated that this victory drive is as important as either of the two preceding ones.

L. A. Andrews, secretary and treasurer, made a report of last year's quotas and presented a tentative quota for each community in the present drive. Plans were formulated for the early completion of the campaign.

THE ROAD TO RUIN

The new and better life we are all promised in our postwar world may be costly entertainment. The plan to pay $25 minimum unemployment benefits for 26 weeks might better be called the National Vacation Measure. What would happen at the end of 26 weeks when the vacation was over? Would there be a new bill for the next year, on the theory that unless it was passed there would then be unemployment? Naturally, the higher the benefits and the longer the period each year for which they are paid, the more difficult it will be to recruit help. Retail stores, garages, and many other trades find workers unwilling to accept work, even when thousands are being laid off from war industries. Farm help is almost impossible to get at any price the farmer can pay, to raise food to sell at a figure demanded by the government.

Sooner or later we are all going to have to get down to earth and work and save, or we will starve. All the hot air to the contrary, the government can't take money away from the people in taxes to furnish the handouts now proposed. Legalized loafing on the government payroll will break any nation ultimately.—Industrial News Review.

A simple way to amuse and entertain children is suggested by Mrs. Leroy Anderson, director of Children's Museum, Washington, D. C. The facilities required are a thick paste of Bon Ami and water divided into several small dishes each one colored with a different water color. These colors may be applied with the fingers to any window by artistically minded children, and countless artistic designs worked out. The

SOCIALISTS ASK "CAPITALISTIC" FINANCING

England is flirting with the doctrine of national socialism. The failure of that political philosophy was shown up vividly by the war. Of England's export tonnage, 70 per cent is coal. Its 706,000 miners produce only some 200,000,000 tons of coal a year, compared with 600,000,000 tons produced by some 400,000 miners in the United States.

Getting a ton of British coal to the top of the ground costs $4.20 for labor; $1.40 in America. Why this startling difference in the man-output of coal in the two countries? Answer, government interference and tax laws that discourage improvements and replacement of old machinery, and regulations which penalize efficient methods. Coal doubled in price in England during the war, while American coal advanced but slightly. Results for England, low wages and a ruined export trade. The true facts were so craftily hidden from the workers that they shouted for government ownership, and in the last election gained their objective, when too much government had already ruined the industry.

The new labor government that promises socialization of the Bank of England, the mines and railroads, is already seeking to borrow billions in the United States, a "capitalistic" country, to finance its socialistic philosophy. What irony to see the collectivists in England asking our country, which pays its own way from the profits of free enterprise, to tax its people to furnish the money (profits) necessary to finance national socialism. In other words, we are asked to finance a system that frowns on profits, but which would compete with our own industries.

Let other countries go socialistic if they desire, but let America retain its independence and its capital to out-produce them in quality, quantity and price.—Industrial News Review.

WAR IS REFORMERS HEAVEN

"War is the reformer's idea of Heaven on earth," says John R. Schenken, M. D., in the Orleans Parish Medical Society Bulletin. "The psychological shock of war upon the population always seems to sway the people into the acceptance of social legislation." In regard to the social program for state medicine which is being so persistently pushed before Congress, Dr. Schenken commented on the first draft of the Wagner-Murray-Dingell bill. "We as physicians were vitally interested in the medical aspects of the bill. It seethed with compulsion, regimentation and Federalization whose objective it was to prevent and correct physical ills. It added a staggering tax load to an already overburdened populace, and its features of wholesale class regimentation with its resultant loss of freedom, conflicted so violently with American ideals... that even the most ardent reformers could not support the bill. It 'died' in committee.

Reputation for Industry

People are judged very largely by the reputation which they get for industrious work. If people are known as good workers, they build up a reputation that has value. It helps them get a job if they are looking for employment. Employers have a good idea of how their workers are as respects industry, and those who have a reputation as good workers are most likely to keep their jobs in hard times, and to obtain promotion if times are good. The way people work around their home places has its effect on their reputation for industry. If they are seen constantly working to keep these places looking well, their neighbors see that they have the quality of industry, and it adds to their reputation as good workers. Thomas Edward Lawrence was the Unrowned King of Arabia.

WERE all hearing a lot about ceilings, these days. It's suddenly become one of the most popular words in the English language. Aviators started it with their ceilings. They're all faced with the problem of adjusting their businesses to increased costs, decreased personnel, and shortages of materials.

Ceiling prices are an old story to business-managed electric companies. And they're constantly working and planning to make the price of electricity still lower. They've accomplished some pretty remarkable results along this line, too. For example, the average American home today enjoys about twice as much electricity for its money as it did fifteen years ago. Perhaps you may not have noticed this reduction because you've added more electric appliances and used more electricity all the time the rates were coming down.

Maybe you wonder how this has been accomplished: this reduction in the price of electricity in the face of rising costs for almost everything else. Well, the answer is sound business methods—plus the practical experience of men, women, and management working together. That's a team that's hard to beat! And one that won't be beaten as long as we have that grand old American freedom of working together, planning together, and profiting together!

Creator of Jobs for Nation's Millions Is Salesmanship

The nation's crying need for millions of jobs for millions of returning soldiers, ex-war workers and new jobs for job-seeking young men and women can only be provided through salesmen and salesmanship. The desire that creates the demand that creates the production that means sustained employment for all who want work can be created only by salesmen selling merchandise. The mass production which will insure mass employment in the years that lie ahead depends entirely upon mass sales.

These are the conclusions propounded with convincing and moving sincerity by William E. Holler, general sales manager, Chevrolet Motor Division of General Motors Corporation, in a new book bearing the timely and prophetic title, "Sell America Into Jobs," which is just off the press.
In the opening chapter of his latest work, Holler states pointedly, "If we will get right down to fundamentals, we will quickly recognize that it is sales that create jobs, for the simple reason that somebody has to sell something if somebody else is going to keep on making it, and so have the wherewithal to hire other 'somebodies' to help make it, and thus provide jobs."
Substantiating and amplifying this basic theme, Holler goes on to say that only salesmen and salesmanship can muster up and maintain the huge bank of orders necessary to give jobs to tens of millions of people and to keep those tens of millions of people on the job month after month and year after year.

"Everywhere, among people who look ahead," he states, "the demand is for jobs, jobs, jobs, for millions upon millions of jobs, if you please—a tremendous number of jobs to supply—in fact, many millions more than we have ever had in any peacetime year of the past."
Viciously called "America's Greatest Salesman," "Miracle Man of Modern Sales Strategy," and a "Great Builder of Men," Holler writes with the vigor and conviction of a man whose eminence in the field of modern salesmanship is unsurpassed. "Sell America Into Jobs" is even more genuinely inspiring to do with the ramifications of selling, merchandising and marketing than the first book by this author, "Step Out and Sell," published some years ago.

In addition to delineating Holler's profound convictions that sales and salesmanship are the only sure-fire way to fulfill America's universal desire for full employment, "Sell America Into Jobs" contains much that is of an inspirational nature, bound to give any salesman a decided "lift"—the urge to surpass all previous effort and to approach all selling on the modern, scientific basis.

And Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life; he that cometh to me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me shall never thirst.—John 6:35.

The most discouraging thing of the age is the number of people who are for a thing no matter what it is as long as it is to be paid for by tax money. One of the first reasons a member of a democracy should learn is that tax money is earned by labor and thrift and is paid out of the savings of workers. A man builds a house out of his savings or sets up a business or an industry out of his savings. It is these savings that are taxed to pay for all utopian schemes. If the worker who puts his life's savings into a home doesn't pay his taxes to support the schemes of those who desire to live off the government his home is taken away from him and he is set out on the street. No matter in what glowing colors the picture is painted by stary eyed dreamers, tax money pays the bill and tax money comes from the worker who practices thrift, and self-denial, and industry, and good judgment, and sobriety.

We get out of patience sometimes with the conservative element in this country, but it is the conservative element that is the salvation of the country. Those who desire the government to support them in luxury and idleness under this or that guise know no restraint. The question with them is never: Can we pay the bill?

HISTORY

Will Carleton Day—October 21: Though the poems of Will Carleton are read in every state in the Union. His birthday, October 21, is observed in the schools of his home state of Michigan only. In 1923 the legislature of Michigan passed a law setting aside October 21 as the day on which Carleton poems should be read in all the schools of the state. Carleton was born October 21, 1845, on a farm two miles east of Hudson, Mich. Following his graduation from college in 1869 he became the editor of the Standard, a weekly newspaper, published at Hillsdale, later he became editor of the Detroit Weekly Tribune. His introduction as a poet came in 1871 while he was reporting a divorce trial. On returning to the newspaper office from the trial he wrote the poem "Betsy and I Are Out." It met with immediate favor. Other poems followed and were as eagerly received. Among them were "Out of the Old House, Nancy," "Over the Hill to the Poor House," and "Gone With a Handsomer Man." In 1873 his first book of poems "Farm Ballads" was published. Within eight months over forty thousand copies were sold, a phenomenal record at the time. This was followed by "Farm Legends," in 1875, "Young Folks Rhymes," in 1876, and "Farm Festivals" in 1881. His last book "Songs of Two Centuries" appeared in 1902. In 1878 he left Michigan and moved to Brooklyn, New York. The latter years of his life were spent giving readings from his poems on lecture platforms throughout the country.

Last month a disabled veteran who had lost both eyes and both arms on Okinawa, Master Sergeant Frederick Hensel, of Corbin, Ky., announced his plans for going into the chicken business. Friends sent him gifts totaling $60,000. The incident reveals three things. It reveals that Sergeant Hensel still has the courage that made him a great soldier on Okinawa. It shows also that the people of this country appreciate his sacrifice in the cause of liberty and it also shows that a considerable number of people know what it takes to run a small chicken business.

Man, it is said, is the only member of the animal kingdom endowed with a conscience. When we read of the actions of some members of the race we are inclined to believe that in the process of endowing the race with a conscience a considerable number failed to receive their allotment.

Six Pairs of Twins in Family

The land of the Dionne quintuplets has produced another marvel: six pairs of twins in the same family. Of these 12 twins, 7 are still living. They were part of a family of 19 children, born in 23 years to farmer Olivier Brault, 42, and his wife Germaine, 39, near Montreal, Canada. The 12 living children are pictured with parents.

What We Think (By Frank Dixon)

The President's message to Congress, in my opinion, is the platform with which he will go before the country in his campaign for the nomination as the Democratic presidential standard-bearer at the next national convention.

The message reveals the distinct leftist tendencies of President Truman and is an indication of what the country may expect under his peace time administration. It checks the whole matter of the program of the country, for the next two or three years at least, squarely up to Congress.

If Congress fails to pass recommendations contained in the bill it will provide the ammunition and chart the course of the campaign to be waged by the Democrats in the next election. Party leaders can go before the voters and say to them: The President tried to get these things for you but Congress defeated his program. What we need is the same president, but some new faces in Congress. If on the other hand, Congress passes the whole list of recommendations contained in the message, which by the way no one expects it to do, party leaders can go before the voters and say: Our candidate has given you all these things and there are still more to come if he is returned to office.

The message places the leadership of the opposition party in the position of saying to the voters: We are for all these things too, put us in and we will administer them better than the Democrats will, or they may adopt a program even more leftist and even more radical or can line up as they have in the past on the conservative side.

Either position as I see it will be disadvantageous. I do not feel that the conservative element of the country is in for a very happy time for the next several years. The tendency of the whole world is toward the left. The leftist sentiment is in the ascendancy and nothing can stop it until it runs its course. The mass mind is lit up with the spirit of a new adventure into a new scheme of living and like all crusaders is obsessed with but one idea—the idea of carrying out the plan to its full termination, come what will. I don't think that any one can know or say at the present time whether the new scheme is better than the older and more conservative scheme or not. Only time will reveal that. Of this much I think we may be sure. If the plan works we are headed for a better and happier and a more complete scheme of living. On the other hand if it is not sound we will be called upon to pay for it. Error, though committed with the best intentions, is a Shylock that

New Treated Cotton Will Not Mildew, Rot

College Station, Sept. 24.—A new cotton fabric that will not mildew or rot has been developed by scientists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The new fabric was buried in the ground for six months with no significant loss of strength.

This new material has the strength and appearance of ordinary cotton. In addition to its ability to resist rot. And the process by which it is made causes no discoloration of the fabric. The treatment is somewhat similar to the acetate process for rayon, but the new cotton fabric has no odor and it does not become sticky. And fortunately the treatment will not cause any harmful effects on foods, so it will make excellent sacks for shipping fruits, vegetables, and other food and feed products.

Specialists of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service hail the new development as a boon to two general fields which consume large amounts of cotton. First this modified cotton cloth, yarn and sewing thread will make clothing which will not mildew. It can be used for awnings, lawn furniture, and tents which will not rot in damp climates. Fish and tennis nets will profit, too. The new fabric also is expected to be used in making rot-resistant bags.

Someone has aptly described the condition in which we find ourselves since the defeat of Japan as the "shock of peace."

In the end demands and secures its full pound of flesh. I do not pretend to know and I do not think that anyone knows what will be the effect of a continued leftist trend. All leftist movements call for the expenditure of money on the part of some one and not all of them provide for the earning of the money they plan to spend.

The continuous work program is comforting to say the least in the measure of security it offers. So is the long extended unemployment insurance. Both of these remove two important responsibilities which have constituted formidable threats to the peace of the race for years. The theory has been that we have been strengthened and made more self-reliant and resourceful by the successful meeting and overcoming of obstacles. One by one these obstacles are being removed. With them removed is there going to go also the sense of personal responsibility and sturdy reliance that has characterized this country for years? Are we in danger of becoming a nation of pampered softies lured to a state of diminishing self-reliance and resourcefulness by the hovering over us of the protecting wings of a paternalistic government?

IN THE NEWS 30 YEARS AGO

News items below were taken in whole or in part from The Foard County News of Oct. 1, 1915:

Dr. J. M. Hill has purchased the Baker lots just north of the editor's home on Main Street, and has begun the erection of a handsome six-room bungalow.

A. B. Wisdom, who has been in charge of one of the Dougherty farms in the Thalia community, marketed his wheat crop this week.

Foard County has had some fine rains since our last issue. There is now a deep season in the ground, and with a few days of sunshine, farmers will have all their wheat sown.

The News has been investigating the cotton prospects the past week, and from pretty good authority we draw conclusions that Foard County will produce about half the number of bales ginned in 1914. Last year the county ginned nearly 15,000 bales.

Barney Ferguson has accepted the position of bookkeeper in the office of the Orient at Alpine.

Ben Henderson is again at his place of business at the R. B. Edwards Co. store after an absence of several days because of sickness.

Lee Ribble brought some more of his fine home-grown apples to town Wednesday. Mr. Ribble is another of our farmers who is growing real apples.

Paul Bishop, formerly of this place, but for the past few years a resident of Corpus Christi, is here this week visiting the Crowell families.

Mrs. John Murchison of Farmerville is here visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. D. Leeper.

The best way for the world to remember the sacrifices of those who have fought and died and suffered torture in this war that peace might come is to see to it that peace remains and war does not come again. To permit war to come again is to make vain all the sacrifices that this victory has cost. The dead have paid their obligation to the race. It is up to the living to meet their obligation by seeing to it that peace continues to endure.

TIME TO CHECK UP Emphasizing the advantages of private enterprise over public enterprise to the public and government, Justin F. Barbour, in the Chicago Journal of Commerce, compared the favorable record of the telephone industry in furnishing improved service at decreasing costs to that of the Federal Post Office which has increased most. He also commented on the performance of the tax-subsidized government-owned Tennessee Valley Authority in contrast with highly-taxed privately-owned public utilities and railroads. He pointed out that it is time that Congress considered the difference in the benefits to government and the people as between tax-exempt public business and highly-taxed private enterprise. The records of private companies and government-owned commercial businesses are available if Congress wishes to compare costs and services rendered: "One requires millions for support; the other contributes many millions in tax revenue." He emphasized the higher pay received in private enterprise and showed how the only reason privately-owned utilities can compete with the tax-subsidized, tax-exempt government plants is because of their greater efficiency. This really means that the government plants are grossly overcharging the rate-payer. Mr. Barbour said: "The railroads almost broke down during the last war under government control, while their performance has been an achievement in the one. In addition, they contributed billions of dollars in tax revenues." Our own government is going merrily on, piling up proposals for Federal competition with billions in public tax funds to support—just the contrary of a sound American reconversion program. "Anything that restricts the flow of capital and the freedom of enterprise," said Mr. Barbour, "restricts the opportunity of every citizen and the welfare of the country. Such restrictions are market factors of the first magnitude. The can bring about industrial and financial stagnation."—Industrial News Review. We imagine that even after points go off and rationing is completely discontinued a considerable number of people will find something to complain about. A Kansas exchange notes: "Over 8,020 unemployment claims were filed in Kansas last week. It is still difficult to find anyone to do real work."

Victory Campaign United War Chest Opens October 1

Judge Ben H. Powell of Austin, president of the United War Chest of Texas, announced the official opening date of the victory campaign of the National War Fund as October 1 with a statewide radio hookup carrying the opening ceremony Monday, October 1, from 9:30 to 10 p. m.

"At this time when services of the agencies of the National War Fund are at their peak," Judge Powell said, "I have found that Texans are enthusiastically endorsing the campaign and ready to give as generously in victory as they were in war to speed the day of actual peace throughout the war-devastated world."

Featured speaker on the radio broadcast will be Dr. James L. McConaughy, president of United China Relief, an agency of the National War Fund, who is on tour of Texas. McConaughy has recently returned from a trip to China and will report on the needs of United China Relief in that country now that the eight years of war with Japan are over.

Gov. Coke Stevenson, honorary president of the United War Chest of Texas, will also speak on the program, proclaiming October as National War Fund month.

Sleep Necessity for Life and Health

Austin.—Sleep is a necessity of life and health, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, and habitual loss of sleep will tend to retard the body's recovery from the fatigue of the day's activities.

"We may be able to go without sleep for a night or two, but too little sleep for a prolonged length of time will undermine the health of a rugged person and turn a cheerful individual into a cross, irritable one," Dr. Cox said. "When good health can be protected to such a large extent merely by sleeping, and thus allowing overtaxed bodies and minds to secure the proper rest, it is hard to understand why so many persons are heedless of this important health measure."

Some individuals require more sleep than others. How well we sleep is as important as how long we sleep. A "goodnight's rest" means a sufficient number of hours spent in sleep to enable each individual to feel well, do efficient work, and to keep in a cheerful humor the next day.

"Some outdoor exercise each day, a comfortable bed, and fresh air in our sleeping quarters," Dr. Cox said, "will help us to sleep soundly at night. Do not mull over your problems and ideas after you have gone to bed. Make your plans early in the evening for a good night's rest by slowing down from the physical and mental work of your daily life. When you arise each morning, rested and with a feeling of general well-being, you will be amply repaid for your thought in planning a 'good night's sleep'."

Home Town Thoughts

When a concern decides to advertise generously, it can expect a large increase of business. Criticism of the activities of one's home town is not usually very helpful. It tends to discourage the efforts of those who are trying to do useful things.

The old saying has it "Put your best foot forward." It applies to the way people keep their home places. A disorderly looking home place gives an unfavorable impression of the neighborhood, and it goes contrary to the above useful old proverb.

DO DEWDROPS DROP?

YES NO

Ye poet sings of "falling dew." He means warm air kissing cooler grass and flowers—leaving moisture. It didn't drop from heaven. Same process causes frost . . . and another cold-weather truth is this: a Winter change now to Conoco Nth motor oil will fortify your precious car's engine with internal OIL-PLATING.

OIL-PLATED lubricant is closely bonded to working parts by the magnet-like action of Conoco Nth oil's added ingredient. OIL-PLATING resists draining down to the crankcase at every stop! And the OIL-PLATING re-thans instantly—to avert the grinding wear of bone-dry Winter starts. Fighting corrosion along with other wear, OIL-PLATING means plain protection against carbon-sludge-breakdown! Today then get Conoco Nth oil—patented.

SCHOOL SPIRIT

Can you define that deep, strong, fighting feeling you get when you hear our school song or when you see your school's football team come on the field to the cheering of the pep squad? It could be school spirit, but school spirit does not stop when the game is over, or after the song is finished. It goes on into the halls, the class rooms, even with you as you travel to and from school on the buses. It is a spirit of co-operation and liveliness.

We take pride in the knowledge that our school is one of the best in this section of the country. But what do you do to help keep this admirable standard? Are you content to be a teacher? Are your lessons worked up to the best of your ability? Do you stand quickly and proudly when you hear our school song?

Recently at an assembly when the school song, "Dear 'Ole Crowell High," was sung a group of students was slow to stand. We believe the Freshmen had not realized that this was our school song. Come on, students of CHS, let's back our school with all we have by realizing that it is to our benefit to carry out the rules of the school. Cheer our school up to the front and keep it there! It's up to you.

Sphere of Cotton Research Allocated to Texas Tech

Lubbock.—Major expansion in the work of the department of textile engineering at Texas Technological College, will be under way by January 1, according to L. E. Parsons, acting head. This will be due to the decision of the Texas Cotton Research Committee to allocate the sphere of cotton fibre research to Texas Tech.

The Cotton Research Committee of Texas is made up of the presidents of the University of Texas, Texas A. & M. College, and Texas Technological College, and is directed by the Moffett Act (Senator George Moffett of Chillicothe) to undertake cotton plant products research by whatever means the judgment of the committee dictates.

In a recent article in West Texas Today, Texas Tech's President Whyburn points out: Since the Cotton Research Committee was established by the 47th Legislature, it has made available funds aggregating some $90,000 for the prosecution of research and the requisition of additional equipment on our campus. This supplements the established facilities which have been provided by the college at an approximate cost of $250,000.

Legible Writing

The question being asked as to how people can write a good letter, the answer is given that the first step toward producing a good letter is to write so legibly that people can read it easily.

It is not very complimentary to one's friends to write so carelessly or hastily that they have to puzzle and hesitate over the writing, and struggle to interpret the scrawly penmanship. The pleasure of getting a good letter is greatly increased, if it is written in clear and legible style. Some people adopt an angular handwriting, which has a certain picturesque style, but the letters are not clearly formed.

Some people used to think it was not good form to write so-

Canada's Aluminum Production Will Play Big Part in Post War World

A PROPHECY of postwar uses of aluminum in rail transportation was unveiled recently in the form of a giant, 6,000-horsepower locomotive overall length with tender 97 feet.

Besides the glistening cab and running board, other parts of the steam-driven monster are made of aluminum with a total saving in weight of approximately 6,000 pounds.

Peacetime transportation is expected to consume about one-third of the total production of the metal which made the allies wartime air supremacy possible. Aviation will undoubtedly continue to be one of the largest users of aluminum as the industry switches over from the production of combat planes to airliners, big cargo transports and light planes. Predictions for the automobile of tomorrow stress a lighter vehicle as essential to greater economy of operation, and aluminum already is being used extensively in the design of trucks and buses.

Aluminum will assume increasing importance to the American and Canadian public not only in the various modes of travel and cargo shipment, but also in many different ways in the home, in factory and office, and on the farm. An almost limitless horizon lies ahead in the uses to which aluminum and its alloys will be put as the developments which were just beginning before the war.

One sound reason for the prediction that aluminum will be adapted to a still greater variety of uses is the fact that it can now be produced even more cheaply than before the war. Four years ago the price was about 20 cents a pound. Today ingot aluminum is quoted at 15 cents a pound and pig aluminum can be bought for 14 cents a pound. Substantial reductions also have been made in the price of basic fabricated aluminum products.

From the giant pots, stretching in tenement rows in miles of plant, at Arvida Que., pours out enough aluminum to supply all the needs of the British Empire and, without straining its facilities, nearly half of the requirements of the United States.

The Boston Department Store in Milwaukee, Wis., boasts of the first air delivery service. The store makes three plane deliveries a week covering an area about 100 miles northwest of Milwaukee. Merchandise is deposited at each of the four or five cities in the area for redelivery by local delivery men to the homes. If the experiment proves practicable the service will be extended to state.

The Veteran's Choice

Many war veterans are greatly puzzled as to whether, on their discharge from the armed services, they should pursue their education further.

The government has made generous offers to the G. I.'s to give them further education.

Many of them will feel that now is an excellent time to get started on some job.

They can see that the demand for merchandise and equipment that could not be produced in wartime should make it fairly easy for them to get desirable work.

The idea may occur to many that at a later date when they would have finished their education, if they decide to go on with it, there may be opportunity and unemployment.

They may think it may not be so easy then to get started in some attractive line of work.

This decision should depend in large measure on how far a veteran is fitted by nature and experience to get the benefits of further education.

Many of them have little taste for books and study might perhaps as well go on to some working job, and get their education through their experience in actual life.

If a man has a taste for books and study, or for scientific and technical activity, and if he is still at a good age to go on with that study, he should not lightly pass up this opportunity for further training.

It seems altogether probable that the country will still be prosperous and full of industrial and business activity after the time has passed which his further study will call for. Job opportunities and good ones will still be open to him, in all probability.

Also the country feels a very strong sense of obligation to see that all the returning veterans get work. They will get help from many sources if they find difficulty in landing jobs suited to their abilities and training.

The Department of Agriculture is urging home canning more persistently than ever. The reason is that the planners disagreed with the OPA on canned fruits from rationing. The department fears that controls were released too soon and that the supply will be insufficient.

Two Minute Sermon (By Thomas Husted)

Just By Staying on the Track: As a small boy I lived near a railroad track.

No matter how many trains came through each day I would always run to the window to watch the train go by.

When I became older I used to go to the depot to better see the trains and the engines that pulled them.

To me, though many years have elapsed since then, and diesel motor driven trains have replaced to a large degree the steam trains, there is something thrillingly romantic about a steam train today.

When the big mogul steamers pull into the station and the air pumps automatically start up to replenish the air brake air it sounds for all the world as though the monster were panting from its long run, breathing smoke and sparks from its stack.

I remember one day as a boy I asked the blue denimed engineer, as he climbed down from the cab to the platform with his long spouted oil can, how it was that he was always able to get in on time.

"Just by staying on the track, Sonny," he said. I've thought a good many times since then as I have watched trains pull in to the station of the old engineer's answer.

It seems to me a pretty good rule to follow in life if one wishes to get to his goal on time—just to stay on the track.

BANGS TESTING TO BE DONE SOON

The following letter has just been received from Dr. H. L. Darby of the Bureau of Animal Industry, Fort Worth, Texas:

"In response to your letter of September 17, you are informed that it will be about 60 days before one of our veterinarians can visit your county for the purpose of making the Bangs tests."

This will give opportunity for others in the county who have not put in applications to do so.

By that time it will be cooler weather and it will be easier to work the cattle.

Remember that condemned cattle may be sold on the market for slaughter.

This is a good opportunity to get your herd accredited officially.

As I became older I used to go to the depot to better see the trains and the engines that pulled them.

When the big mogul steamers pull into the station and the air pumps automatically start up to replenish the air brake air it sounds for all the world as though the monster were panting from its long run.

From the cab to the platform with his long spouted oil can, how it was that he was always able to get in on time.

I've thought a good many times since then as I have watched trains pull in to the station of the old engineer's answer.

LET'S STAY AMERICAN

Our country is reconverting so much faster than the planners anticipated, that it is making their heads swim.

Overnight one thing after another is back on the market. American industry, when given a chance, knows how to get things done without a diagram being drawn in Washington.

Our country is reviving just like a thirsty plant when life-giving water is poured on its roots. This shows that our people still have the enterprise and initiative to go ahead in the true American way based on self-reliance.—Industrial News Review.

Weekly Sermon

By the Rev. Nathan J. Stone, member of the faculty, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

Theres a Difference

"... The Lord doth put a difference between you and the Egyptian" (Exod. 11:7).

These words were spoken by Moses to God's people on the eve of their deliverance from bondage in Egypt. Israel was to be a different people.

Israel was of God; Egypt was of the world, for which it has always stood. Israel said, "Jehovah is our God and the God of our fathers." Egypt said, "Who is Jehovah that we should serve him?"

After several plagues had impressed upon the Pharaoh, he was willing to make concessions to Moses' demand to let God's people go. He advanced four compromises. The first was, "Sacrifice to your God in the land" (Exod. 8:25); the second, "Ye shall not go very far away" (Exod. 8:28); the third, that they leave their little ones behind (Exod. 10:8-11); the fourth, "Let your flocks and your herds be stayed" (Exod. 10:24).

Moses refused to yield an inch. How stirring is his answer, "There shall not an hoof be left behind." The lesson is clear. The believer today is to be separate from the world, to be different from its people. All that we are and all that we have are the Lord's. We are to leave the world's sin and allurements completely behind, to have no part or parcel in them. We are not to leave a hoof in Egypt.

Israel's besetting sin was worldliness—"Make us a king to judge us like all the nations" (1 Sam. 8:5). They did not want to be different. The besetting sin of the church today is also worldliness. And the call is for believers who are different, who though in the world are not of it, whose lives and testimony make a difference.

"The Lord doth put a difference between you and the Egyptians." Have you also "put a difference?"

Sgt. Harold Canup Weds Miss Dorothy Mathis on Sept. 8

Sgt. Harold Canup and Miss Dorothy Mathis were married at the home of the bride in Hackett, Ark., on September 8. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. W. W. Peterson, pastor of the Methodist Church in Altus, Ark.

The bride wore an aqua blue dress with black accessories. She was attended by Miss Helen Mathis, her sister, as maid of honor. The best man was Cpl. Spencer E. Blackburn.

Following the marriage, a dinner reception was held at the home of the bride. The wedding cake held a miniature bride and groom, which had been used by an aunt and uncle of the bride, at their golden wedding anniversary celebration.

Only relatives and close friends attended the wedding. Sgt. and Mrs. Canup are living at Muskogee, Okla., and he is stationed at Camp Gruber, nearby. He has recently returned from the ETO, where he served for several months. He spent a furlough here at the home of his parents after his return.

Mrs. Canup is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Mathis of Hackett, Ark., and graduated from High School there in 1943. She was employed by the Telephone Co. in Hackett and has been employed by the same company in Muskogee. Sgt. Canup is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Canup and was reared here, graduating from the Crowell High School. He entered the service in July, 1943.

First Meeting of P. T. A. Held at Cub Hut Tuesday, Sept. 18

The first meeting of the Crowell Parent Teacher Association for the year 1945-46 was held at the Cub Hut on Tuesday evening, September 18, featuring Family Night with a basket picnic. About thirty families were present for this initial meeting.

Supt. Grady Graves served as leader for the evening's program. Mrs. Van Browning, PTA president, introduced the local association officers and presented the objectives for the current year. Supt. Graves then introduced the Crowell teachers.

The PTA Choral Club, led by Mrs. Grady Magee, sang several folk songs. Rev. G. L. Slagle gave the invocation, after which the bountiful picnic baskets were opened and enjoyed by the group.

Mrs. Magee led the sing-song which was the closing number of the program and Supt. Graves led the group as they gave some yells for Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Sandifer, to thank them for furnishing the lovely place for the picnic.

ADELPHIAN CLUB

Mrs. E. C. King entertained the Adelpian Club at the Club House on Wednesday, Sept. 19, at 4 p. m. This session officially opened the study for the club year.

Mrs. Merl Kincaid, president, presided over a short business meeting. Mrs. John Long, chairman of the year book committee, discussed the programs for the year.

Mrs. King, Federation Counselor, reported on the July and August issues of the Texas Federation News and paid tribute to the last past president Mrs. Clara Driscoll.

"China" was the subject of the program for the afternoon. Mrs. L. A. Andrews, director, stressed that all get acquainted with China's people, their customs, manners, ideas, what they eat, what they wear, size of the country and their transportation facilities, in order to understand them better. She introduced the program contributors. Mrs. C. G. Graves spoke on the subject, "Shake Hands with the Dragon," and discussed in detail the philosophy, education, marriage customs, social security and holiday celebrations. China's slogan is "Work Together."

Mrs. Doyle Kenner gave "Secrecy of China's Resistance" by M. S. Bates. Morals, leadership and external factors were explained. Miss Florence Black spoke on "Life in China at War" by G. T. Fetch. Mrs. Andrews concluded the interesting and instructive program with a quiz, "Meet Your Neighbor, China."

Special guests for the meeting were Mrs. A. Neal, Mrs. Edwin Greene, Misses Chesshir and Thelma White and two members, Mrs. R. R. Jones and Mrs. Nelson Oliphant.

A social period was enjoyed at which time Mrs. King served a delicious salad plate. The club will meet on Oct. 3 at the home of Mrs. S. S. Bell.

OUR FORM OF COMMUNISM

Anyone who dares to suggest that our nation faces a definite threat of national socialism, is branded by the so-called "liberals" as a reactionary and an enemy of the people. Anyone who supports old-fashioned American ideals of government which frowned upon a bureaucracy which makes the individual subservient to government, receives ridicule or abuse.

Every proposal to put government into business or to give the individual a public handout, takes more away from him in taxes to finance such socialistic schemes than he will ever receive in return. And worst of all, it takes away liberty and opportunity as the citizen becomes dependent on government largess.

We have been very smug in criticizing Russia for its political philosophy of communism; we have talked about its five-year plans under which the communistic government established government-owned industries including great hydroelectric plants. But Russia's five-year plans for power development were not one whit more communistic than has been our own Federal power development program for the last decade.

Federal officials and power agencies have blocked out the United States for a network of government-owned tax-exempt power systems which would ultimately lead to as complete communization of electric power in the United States as in Russia. Instead of communism, however, the proponents of this national socialism in our country call their projects "authorities" which sounds a little softer than communism, but the object accomplished is the same.

More billions are now proposed for the development of this "authority" system by the Federal government, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, than Russia ever spent on its communized power program. We are all set to out-communize Russia in the power field, which is but the beginning of Federal ownership of other lines of industry. Once the "authority" plan is established, it will destroy private enterprise and American ideals of government just as effectively as the Russian system. —Industrial News Review.

COLUMBIAN CLUB

Mrs. T. L. Hughton, with Mrs. W. L. Thurston assisting, was hostess to the Columbian Club in her home on Wednesday, Sept. 19.

The short business session was presided over by Mrs. Grady Halbert, president. Mrs. D. F. Eaton was leader for an interesting garden lesson and, in keeping with the outlined program, members answered to roll call with flower thoughts and favorite quotations.

Mrs. P. Carter discussed trees and flowers of the Bible. Mrs. M. O'Connell presented artistic and unusual flower arrangements and gave her reason for so doing and also described each step of procedure.

The beautiful story "Flowers at Sunset" by Adele St. John was realistically portrayed by Mrs. J. B. Harrison.

During the social hour, the hostess served delicious refreshments to twenty members and one guest, Mrs. J. R. Beverly.

The club will meet on October 3 in the home of Mrs. N. J. Roberts with Mrs. John Ray as hostess.
