Mrs. Leslie McAdams, county chairman, and her community chairman and workers are about the business of soliciting and collecting clothing, shoes, bedding, etc., and wish to remind anyone who has not yet taken part in the drive, to do so immediately in order that the clothing may be made ready for shipment.

There are containers in evidence throughout the county so that it is easy to dispose of the garments, in case there is no one to call for them. The garments may be left at the court house or in any of the boxes placed for the purpose or if preferred, some of the workers may be called and they will collect them. #### COTTON A VALUABLE CROP

Texas land planted to cotton in 1945 produced 56 per cent more value per acre, on the average, than acres planted to other crops, the Texas Cotton Production Committee has estimated.

Cotton and cottonseed produced on 6,000,000 acres were valued at $233,103,000 in 1945, by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, or an average of $38.85 per acre. This compares with an average crop value of $24.95 per acre for 20,996,000 acres of Texas land devoted to other crops.

The committee points out that this difference of $14 per acre in favor of cotton was made during a season very unfavorable for the crop, and despite the fact that the 1945 lint yield in Texas was only 146 pounds per acre, or 103 pounds less than the United States average of 249.6 pounds per acre.

"By following practices that will increase acre yields and improve cotton quality, such as the seven-point program recommended by the Extension Service, Texas farmers in 1946 can greatly increase the acre value of their cotton and their net income," the committee added. "No other state has a greater opportunity than Texas has for soil building, use of better planting seed, control of insects and diseases, and other practices that will make cotton more productive and profitable."

"As a rule, high value crops should be planted on the best available land that is adapted to them, and these figures for 1945 clearly show that cotton deserves the best possible land and methods of production and harvesting. In addition to planting the larger acreage that has been set as a goal in 1946, it will pay cotton farmers to make extra efforts to increase the yield per acre."

FARM PRICES AFTER LAST WAR

It's always worth our time to study history for the subject is rich in good and bad experiences. The important thing that history provides us as to bad experiences is that we usually can identify forces causing the end product. Therefore, upon a reappearance in later life, we can quickly recognize these forces and control them before harm is done to the economy of the nation.

The government's present price control program to guard against dangerous inflation is a good exhibit. We learned our lesson from the last war.

Prices of farm products in the absence of controls probably would advance much less in the immediate period ahead than prices of things farmers need and buy. Even so, the expected price movement downward following the price movement skyward is the trend that in the past has put the "stranglehold" on farmers. Although there is little reason to believe that prices generally will be allowed to go up as after the last war, or fall as after the last war, let's reminisce for a few moments and see what happened to farm prices when the "drop" set in.

Economic Facts and Opinions

From the peak of inflation to bottom of collapse—1920-1921—prices of milk (wholesale) dropped 32 per cent, eggs 73 per cent, beef cattle 58 per cent, lamb 64 per cent, cotton 75 per cent, potatoes 85 per cent and oranges 41 per cent.

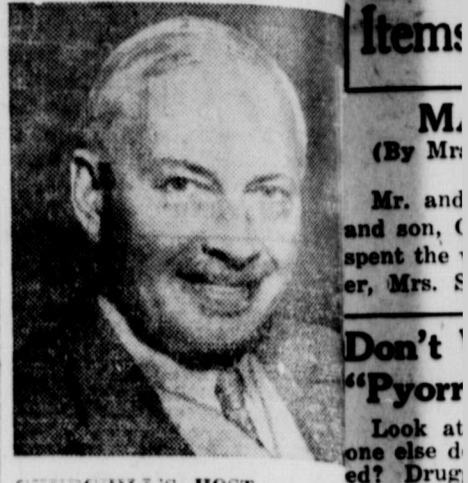

Government sponsored price programs such as price ceilings, subsidies, and price support will vitally affect the net income of Texas farmers in 1946. We need more discussion among farmers of the merits and demerits of these programs.

453,000 American farmers in the five years following the price collapse of World War I lost their farms by mortgage foreclosure. This national tragedy must never be repeated. To prevent a recurrence we must know more about the inner workings of our economic system.

BIG ENOUGH to do a BIG JOB

The monster bomber is an important American contribution to world-wide war. It carries a large load a long distance—and it does a job no smaller plane can do.

Size is America's salvation today in other ways as well. The size of our land and its resources. The size of our production plants; the size of our Army and Navy—the size of one company's contribution to those armed forces—in our case it's 132 men! But more significant is the size of the electric industry that powers the machines that make the planes, tanks, guns and ships.

But size isn't everything. It must be piloted by skill and experience. America's key industries got it by growing up under the system of free enterprise, the system we're fighting for—where free men can compete, create, and succeed in proportion to their ability.

That's exactly the way the electric companies grew—creating jobs by supplying better and better service to more and more people at a lower and lower price—building on the invested savings of millions of Americans.

Because the electric companies were ready when war came—because no war plant has to wait for power—precious time was saved in the effort for production!

How big should an electric company be? The same size a bomber should be—BIG ENOUGH TO DO THE JOB RIGHT AROUND THE CLOCK AND THE CALENDAR!

Lumber Dealers of Texas to Adopt Self Rationing
Lumber dealers of Texas will try to alleviate the critical shortage of housing for returned war veterans by adopting a voluntary policy of self rationing of their limited stocks to provide homes for returnees, it was announced this week by Lynn Boyd, President of the Lumbermen's Association of Texas.
"At the present time lumber stocks are unavailably low in most of Texas' retail yards due to strikes, shut-downs, labor shortages at the sawmills, and especially the tax reductions coming in 1946; however, indications point to freer movements of materials during the first quarter of 1946, including brick, shingles and lumber. Right now lumber dealers are channeling every stick of lumber possible for the building of G. I. homes," Mr. Boyd stated. "This means that in cases where less urgent requests for building materials arise, G. I.s will be given priority. This policy of aiding the returning soldiers will be continued by members of the Lumbermen's Association of Texas until the housing shortage has been overcome, and building materials become abundant once again."

Venereal Disease Control Needs Immediate Action

Austin.—Strong warning that venereal diseases may increase far beyond wartime levels during the next few years has re-emphasized the need for immediate control action. Highlighting the statewide control campaign is the observance throughout the State of National Social Hygiene Day on Wednesday, February 6.
Co-operation from every social level has led local leaders in civic groups, social agencies, youth organizations, churches, parent-teacher associations, labor, management and health officials to participate in the observance of this day. Interest in the campaign against syphilis and gonorrhea has risen to new heights during the past few years. Venereal disease control was an urgent and vital factor in fighting power and working ability. The observance of National Social Hygiene Day is part of a program including general education to arouse the interest and concern of communities in stamping out the venereal diseases which kill 100,000 Americans annually.
The national observance is sponsored each year by the American Social Hygiene Association, a voluntary health organization which works in close co-operation with the Army, Navy, U. S. Public Health Service, Office of Education and other units of the Federal Government, and with similar state and local agencies in promoting the control and prevention of venereal diseases.

A. Hospitalization or domiciliary care is not necessarily denied because of the misconduct origin of the disability.

Q. What is a C- number?

Arguing Over the Car

In pre-war days there were many arguments in families over the use of the family automobile. Young people would ask to have the car for their dates and doings, which sometimes collided with the desire of the parents to use the car for their own purposes.

Gasoline restrictions may have abated those arguments in wartime to a large extent. As conditions affecting automobiles become more normal, many young people will be again asking for the car for this or that purpose.

The ability to provide a car to take their chums around is a social asset to a young person. The young people who drive with the best judgment and who are the most careful to obey all regulations, will encourage their parents to let them take the car more frequently.

Home Town Thoughts

The people want to see improvement in their home towns. One excellent way to help on such improvement is for people to improve that portion of the community that is under their own control, consisting of their own work and the homes they live in. The human race began to make fast progress when it learned to communicate ideas by using printed ink. So now business makes faster progress when it uses printer's ink in advertising.

HISTORY

Washington's Birthday—February 22: Washington's birthday was observed on a number of occasions before his death. There was not a general participation in its observance, however, for the reason that many regarded it as a political maneuver and refused to participate. Shortly after his death on December 14, 1799, Congress at the close of its session in Philadelphia adopted a resolution recommending that February 22, 1800, be observed throughout the country with appropriate exercises. It was not until the latter part of the nineteenth century, however, that the observance of Washington's birthday attracted national attention.

Post-War Fun

After the first World War, a renewed tendency on the part of the people to engage in fun and frolic was reported. Sports and pastimes flourished. It was such a relief to people to get the war over and get their men back from war service, that many of them felt like celebrating and kicking up their heels in some way. Very likely there may be such an increased interest in these pleasures and recreations at this time. People need such diversions. Some folks live lives of incessant work, and have very little time or energy for fun and frolic. Their devotion to duty is most praiseworthy. Some of them might be going longer if they could manage to squeeze out a little time for some good amusement. The mind gets too strained if it concentrates every minute on work and cares.

time too many hours out of the week. That is not profitable, and as the old saying goes, one has to keep his eye on the main chance. Within reasonable limits, pastimes and sports are a beneficent provision of nature. Human life needs them, and is benefited by this change of thought and activity.

Ideal Home Communities

Back in the last century, there were certain disadvantages about living in small towns. They lacked some of the most important features of modern life, and many of these communities were isolated and out of touch with the outside world. Modern life has made enormous improvements in the situation of the people in the smaller places. Automobiles bring them into close touch with near by and distant communities. The radio brings wonderful programs of entertainment, concerts, lectures, drama and discussion. Newspapers give people complete touch with the outside world. Labor-saving devices save people's time so they can do more in social life. Telephones place them in close touch with the world and their loved ones. Our home towns are better places under modern conditions.

United We Stand

One of the old mottoes of the early history of this country said that "United we stand, divided we fall." It represents a great truth, that it is by unity that people accomplish results. So long as there is a lack of such unity in a town, if there is insufficient organization so that people fail to unite in work for common ends, there is likely to be a lack of progress. The modern and progressive community has usually been able to secure that unity to a large extent. People are willing to take hold and work in community movements, and organization work is well supported. If there is a business or improvement organization, it is able to secure good membership, people are willing to attend its meetings, and the public becomes interested in progressive ideas.

New Ideas

Towns should not remain too well satisfied with their present achievements. Some people may say that existing conditions were good enough in former years, and hence are good enough now. They may fail to note the general progress that is being made or will soon be made in community improvement. People have higher standards than formerly about their homes. They are attracted to beauty, and they take pains to make their home grounds pleasing and to maintain their interior equipment in excellent condition. The coming years will see towns working out new ideas, developing parks and playgrounds, improving roads and sidewalks, and doing many more things. A town has to keep up with the new developments so far as it can, or it will seem unprogressive. Representative W. R. Poage, and party went to Japan to gather information useful to the Texas oil industry at Mineral Wells.

What We Think (By Frank Dixon)

Among the many appeals that come to American people for funds each year none is of greater importance than the Annual March of Dimes for the relief of Infantile Paralysis. The money secured from the March of Dimes is used to finance a great research center in which the best medical skill is employed on a full time basis equipped with every needed facility to study ways and means of preventing infantile paralysis and of healing the unfortunate who becomes its victims. Subscriptions to the March of Dimes should not be limited to a mere dime. In a land in which every bank is filled to the bursting point with money on deposit, there should be a response more generous. It should be a March of Dollars. Those homes which have not been saddened by the plague of infantile paralysis should be humbly thankful for their escape. They should remember that there is no sure way of escape. There is no way by which any home, regardless of its location or its resources can surround itself with a wall of immunity and say we need have no fear. We are safe from the deadly menace. Our children will not be taken. Not all the money in the world can assure any home of that condition now. It is toward this end that the Foundation is working, toward this end that the best medical talent that can be found anywhere, equipped with every needed facility is working and studying and experimenting. It is not enough that the nation

SUNNY SQUIBLET

The people are said to be very forgetful, but at least the young folks do not so often forget their dates. It is claimed it is going to be a hard winter. It is usually a hard winter for some folks just after Christmas. Many boys are anxious to become big shots, but they should not try to shoot so far that they can't see the target. People used to hunt for buried treasure. When buried treasure is found in Texas, it is usually dug up by hard work on one's job. The Bible tells about old men dreaming dreams. They had better not dream them in the middle of the street with modern traffic coming. Many husbands, it is said, should help their wives wash the dishes. This would help the wives, but in some cases it might not be so helpful with the dishes. It is said that some of the girls are inclined at the parties to hang around the mistletoe, and gaze up at it with interest. Probably they are students of botany, who want to know to what class of plant it belongs. There are some men who claim it is impossible to please their wives, but at least they pleased these ladies at some previous time, when they persuaded girls to marry them. Some wives say their husbands are very disorderly. These may have been quite orderly the way they dressed when were courting these girls. It is claimed the world will get over the habit of fighting. The world around here has well gotten over the habit of ing personal duels, so it seems as if it might quit fighting the international ones. There are people who are to be always complaining, haps when some of them go heaven, they will look first for complaint desk. People dream of happiness in many cases their best happiness is found in not making their dreams. They say people want too things. If they did not want thing, they might not do any amount of work. It may be disagreeable to children banging the doors of the house, but many families thankful some months ago their boys weren't old enough it became their duty to bank against the enemy. An excess of salt in the cooking is said to be a sign that a cook is in love. If the one in love with is her husband, it is a very good sign.

Here's Your New Car--Stalled by Strike

BODIES BY FISHER stand idle until the GM strike is settled. RUGGED GM TRUCKS for commercial users must wait, too.

Your 1946 automobile may be stranded on the assembly lines. A nationwide strike has paralyzed General Motors, the world's largest producer of passenger cars, trucks and buses, forcing consumers to wait indefinitely for essential transportation. The strike was called by the United Automobile Workers (CIO) to enforce demands for a 30 per cent wage increase. The Union flatly rejected a 10 per cent increase offered by General Motors as a living cost adjustment. The strike involves 175,000 hourly-rated employees. They are losing nearly $2,000,000 in wages daily, and these losses affect indirectly every phase of the nation's economy. Coincidentally, striking Union members have barred 50,000 office workers from their jobs in GM plants.

W. J. (Bill) Bond Enters Race for Com. Precinct 2

Washington News

By Congressman Ed Gossett, 13 District of Texas.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 26.—The House Labor Committee, after much labor, has just brought forth a mouse. This week this particular Committee reported its first bill seeking to deal with the strike peril. The bill will be brought up in the Congress next week for debate, and it is hoped will be amended and revised into a worthwhile piece of legislation.

The question many of us now ask is, shall farmers, small business men, school teachers, white collar workers, laborers, and unorganized folks generally be squeezed to death between powerful organized industrial monopoly on the one hand and powerful organized labor monopoly on the other. Has the pendulum swung from an era of industrial oppression to an era of labor oppression?

In a letter to Congressman Slaughter of Missouri from Kansas City dated December 12, 1945, CIO Regional Director Irvin L. Deshelter says, "Labor willingly sacrificed during the war, but they are not willing to continue to sacrifice anything now that the war is won, for the benefit of the millionaires of this country."

Such a statement shows the spirit of some of the CIO bosses. Their attitude is "the public be damned." Such a statement is of course, ridiculous. Most organized labor and most industry, in fact, profited out of the war, industry making more profits and labor getting more wages than ever before in the history of the world. In fact, cost-plus contracts and hoarding of labor by industry, together with strikes, slowdowns, and other practices by labor, added at least a hundred billion dollars to the cost of the war. Few people sacrificed during the war except members of the armed forces and their families.

The two biggest strikes now going on to illustrate the absurdity of the CIO program. The CIO workers now on strike against General Motors for a 30 per cent wage increase were receiving an average of $1.13 per hour before striking. The CIO strikers in the steel industry were receiving an average of $1.14 per hour before striking. Certainly both were getting far above the national average in wages.

Instead of striking, in violation of their contracts, would not a decent regard for the public interest have dictated that these powerful unions await reconversion of the national industry before pressing their demands? Would it not have been fair to have tightened up their belts a little if necessary until returning veterans found homes and jobs, and until the country got back on its feet in civilian production? They then could have determined what the traffic would bear in the way of a fair and reasonable wage. Now we must ask whether their leaders are in fact interested solely in a fair and reasonable wage, or if they have other things in mind.

There are three distinct perils in the present situation. First, the present strikes and threat of strikes might well paralyze our reconversion program, producing untold harm. Second, if their demands continue and are granted, prices must go ever higher and higher, and uncontrolled inflation might well destroy American economy. In such a case dollars, war bonds, insurance policies, and savings become worthless. The third peril which is not imaginary, is the effort of some of these labor bosses to destroy the American form of government and substitute in its place national socialism.

Sidney Hillman, boss of the Political Action Committee of the CIO, recently received Harold Laski, Secretary of the British Labor Party, with open arms. Laski is, in fact, a British Communist and openly advocates government ownership of all big industries, the complete destruction of the capitalist system, and the full control and regimentation of national economy. "The New Masses" of March 3, 1940, referred to Mr. Laski as a Marxist who "acknowledges Lenin as one of the great leaders and thinkers of all time." In addition to Mr. Laski's many questionable honors, he is past president of the British Atheist Rationalist Free Press Association, Ltd. He has lectured on religion as a social danger. He is an open advocate of revolution.

One of General MacArthur's acts which should meet with the approval of the common people in Japan is his order that Jap farmers be permitted to buy land from absentee owners, over long periods of time at low interest rates. This does not mean that the land is confiscated but it does break the monopoly of the aristocrats that has served to make the Jap farmers peasants. Included in the order is the wiping out of discriminatory taxes and numerous other long standing agricultural evils.

The new Henry Kaiser car which will be manufactured in the Ford Willow Run plant is expected to be rolling off the assembly lines soon. The new car will be a front wheel drive. The engine, clutch and drive assembly will be one unit which may be lifted out of the car for servicing. It is expected to sell around $1,000.

Ten Saint Paul, Minn., veterans solved their own housing problem when each one put up $400 for the down payment on a $28,000 ten-room apartment building. With each paying $35 a month rent the building will be paid for in fifteen years. The present occupants of the flat are faced with the problem of a new place to live.

The United States Government has operated in the red for 16 years, that is, the expenditures have been in excess of the receipts every year for 16 years. It is rumored that President Truman may attempt to balance the budget in 1947.

The World's Turmoil

Many persons feel disheartened by the turmoil and strife that has followed the ending of the war in so many countries. It looks to them as if the world was headed for a long period of discord, with a strong chance of a new and great war before many years.

The experience through which the world has passed has been like a terrible storm at sea. Even after the elements begin to calm down, the sea is still rocked by fierce and tremendous billows. It takes time for those stormy waves to calm down.

War unleashes a terrific amount of human passion, and it creates a terrible amount of distress. When the fighting ends, emotions are still strong and powerful, and they produce conflict. It was inevitable that the ending of the fighting should be followed by a period of turmoil, in which great numbers of people act wildly and violently.

As a whole the face of the world seems calmer than one could expect, considering the countless millions of people who were driven from their homes and deprived of the means of earning a living. There has been far less fighting since the Axis powers gave up than many people expected. The predictions frequently made that the Germans would carry on guerrilla warfare for months or years were wholly baseless. The Japs have co-operated with American forces to an unexpected degree.

The nations of Europe and Asia are in for a tough winter. Many will die because of hunger and malnutrition. When the sun shines again next spring, when the fields again bring forth good harvests, when industry and agriculture revive and there are more opportunities for work, it would seem likely that the storms of human passion will subside to a large extent. The world's turmoil will at least be somewhat moderated.

Each Christmas time thousands of Christmas cards and gifts are sent to the postmaster at Santa Claus, Indiana, for remailing with the Santa Claus post mark. Though the town has a population of but 250 and but one general store the post office is equipped to handle 65,000 pieces of mail daily.

The shortage of tin, it is expected, will continue through 1946. The chief source of the tin supply of the world is the East Indies. Mining operations have not gotten under way.

The demand for DDT, the new insecticide is still out running production. Heavy shipments are still going abroad to areas where insects are one of the major problems.

Louis B. Mayer, highest paid film executive, received in 1945 a total of $908,069 in earnings. He netted from this amount less than $100,000 after all taxes were paid.

According to Omar Bradley, Veteran's Administrator, there are 13,000 John Smiths, 100,000 Joneses, 150,000 Johnsons included in the Veterans Administration index.

TAKE A LOOK AROUND

Take a look around CHS. Notice those bright new sweaters the girls are wearing. Those warm skirts the boys bought this year. Most of these things are new. And if they are new, where are the clothes they wore last year? Many last year's garments are still being worn. Others are packed away because they are faded or outgrown.

Now let's take a look around Europe or maybe around the Pacific. These citizens of tomorrow aren't so well clothed, are they? If you could call those filthy tatters they have tied on their bodies, clothes, look at their feet. The locker case may have on some old, discarded, heavy army program, but most of them are barefooted.

Have you ever had to go barefooted in the snow when you were tired and hungry and shivering? We think that Valley Forge was bad, but that happened to grown men. What we see in Europe is happening to the very young as well as the aged.

Just as it has always been up to the strong to care for the weak, it's up to America to help care for all the people who need her aid. As the future young population, let's start helping the world by getting some clothes together for all these people. The National Emergency Clothing Drive is on. Bring those faded, outgrown clothes and help. It's up to us.

SOUND-ON-FILM PROJECTOR ARRIVES

The new picture machine for the school has finally arrived and several short films have already been shown. The machine is a Bell and Howell 16mm. sound-on-film projector with a 150-watt illumination. The machine's complete cost is $500 and was paid for out of the library and activity fund.

According to Mr. Graves, educational films will be shown most by for visual aid in classroom work. However, there will be one entertaining film shown about every three weeks. The Adventures of Tom Sawyer, The Story of Alexander Graham Bell, and Western Union are some of the films that have been booked. Some educational films that have been booked are: Our Bill of Rights, Radio Operation, We Drive, Digestion of Foods, The Nervous System, and Body Framework. The following films have been ordered for the primary department: The Big Bad Wolf, Little Black Sambo, and Here Comes the Circus.

TALL, DARK, HANDSOME, TALENTED SENIOR

His mind resolves a round several all year Community Concerts, tennis, swimming, and eating fish. Blue is his favorite color. In the movie field he prefers Betty Davis and Orson Welles. Tragic plays and movies are his favorite. He detests dull people, but he's really open minded. After graduation he plans to travel, unless the Army or Navy calls. The Army with a year of training is his choice. Do you recognize this seventeen year old senior who is in almost every play or dramatic reading? Of course, you do. He's Morris Johnson.

1947 CLASS RINGS

After eleven years it has finally happened. We've ordered our class rings. After much discussion we decided on oval shaped yellow gold rings with the edges trimmed in black onyx, and a raised C in the middle with 19 on one side and 47 on the other. Next September any senior will be glad to show his ring off.

EX-CHS STUDENT WINS LOVING CUP

WILDCATS TRUNCED BY BOBCATS

The Wildcat Captains were defeated Tuesday night at Childress 45 to 28. The Bobcats were in the lead practically all of the game. "Cochise" Kimbren of Childress was the high scorer with 29 points. McBeath of Crowell was second high scorer. The Bobcats held a 18 point lead in the closing seconds of the game, but the fast-breaking Wildcats soon led the lead to seven points. The starting five for the Wildcats were the following: Mason, Wharton, Brock, Joy and McBeath.

The Wildcat "B" team also was defeated by the Bobcat "B" team, 27 to 29.

VOLLEY BALL TEAM LOSES TO MUNDAY

The Crowell Volley Ball team was defeated Friday night by the Munday team. The games were very close, and the teams were evenly matched. The Crowell girls played better in this game than any of this season. Evelyn Barker was not able to play because of influenza. Those who played were De Alva Thomas, Ruth Barker, Hazel Marlow, Martha Schlagel, Mary Jo Short, Charlene Lanford and Betty Seale.

The team plays Childress this week. Wish you luck, girls!

MUNDAY DEFEATS CROWELL IN CONFERENCE GAME

The Munday Moguls eked out a victory over the Wildcats in a conference game Friday night 26 to 24. The lead changed hands several times throughout the ball game. McBeath, the Wildcats' ace forward, was sick and saw very little action during the game. Joy with eight points, was high point man for Crowell and Joe Sparr with ten points, led the Munday Moguls. This was the first conference game lost by the Crowell Wildcats. Crowell meets Paducah Wednesday night in a non-conference game at Crowell.

PLAYERS OF THE WEEK

The players of the week are a center and a substitute center and forward. J. L. Brock or "Cock Robin" is the center for the Wildcats this year and is doing a good job holding that position in the games that have been played. Last year Brock played guard, but shifted to center this year in order to play the position that he could do better. Cock Robin has one more year to play and a very good year it will be if I know him.

The other player is none other than "Booger" Ed Thomas. When Booger can fill the position and handle it like a veteran. Ed is a fairly tall, red haired boy who is liked by all the student body. Ed will have another year with the Wildcats.

THE CAT'S WHISKERS

Come one, come all, to hear the latest gossip. Not one thin dime is needed to listen. Lend only your eyes and ears. Do you think I'd cheat ya? I tell ye what I'm gonna do:

The horrible event of the week is that we lost the game to Munday but nevertheless, our guys and girls played a "Swell" game. Flash! Betty Seale and Marion Ford were seen Wednesday night. With them were Joann Meason and James Browning.

Also hot off the wire is the affair of Barker and Mitchell. Oh! Evie, these cuds!

Kathy and Danny are still as much in love as ever. If you don't believe me, just ask her about Sunday night.

Tommy Eaton is still after Thalia! Jenny, why all the sad looks? Oh, yeah. Bit left Monday. Don't worry, he will be back soon.

Booby and Bobby are another couple who have up a "Burning Love".

Speaking of the things love can do, just look at Miles and Janet. We wish, for the sake of CHS, a certain senior whose initials are De Alva Thomas, would kindly make up her mind between Booger and Joe. Believe me, we would all be a lot better off.

Bob Edwards still is seen flirting with Ava Mathews.

What was the matter Saturday night, Larry? No woman!

Speaking of the kids who have exchanged rings in CHS, another couple has just been added to the list. "Shaney" and M. W.

Seen Saturday night, Danny and Kathy, and Betty and Brock. Booby and Bobby and Janet and Miles. Hubal! Hubal! Hubal!

"Now, listen here you Pussy Cat." is quite a saying these days. Larry Wood can be given the credit for this remarkable thing.

Seen on the road to Childress Wednesday night, V. and Horace! Gerald and V. weren't doing so bad Saturday night. They were seen with Doris and O. C.

Well, Maggie and Beverly are back that way again. Power to you, kids!

Mary Ruth and Larry Wood weren't doing so bad Saturday night in Beverly Grey's car.

John Potts and Joann Nicholas, Don and Martina were double-dating Saturday night.

Peggy, Leon was in town Sunday night; where were you? It's a pity he couldn't find the way to your house!

Julia and Louis were together Saturday night. Everyone seemed to have had a super time at Thalia Thursday night.

Wagta hear some more scandal! That's tough! See you next week.

THE FOARD COUNTY NEWS

January 18, 1946.

Hon. Harry S. Truman, President of the United States, The White House, Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. President:

Your proposal to me in Washington last evening that the wage demand of the United Steelworkers of America-CIO be settled on the basis of a wage increase of 18 1/2 cents an hour, retroactive to January 1, 1946, cannot, I regret to say, be accepted by the United States Steel Corporation for the reasons set forth below.

As you must be aware, your proposal is almost equivalent to granting in full the Union's revised demand of a wage increase of 19 1/2 cents an hour, which was advanced by Philip Murray, the President of the Union, at our collective bargaining conference with the Union in New York a week ago today. In our opinion, there is no just basis from any point of view for a wage increase to our steel workers of the large size you have proposed, which, if put into effect, is certain to result in great financial harm not only to this Corporation but also to users of steel in general.

As I have tried to make clear to you and other Government officials during our conferences in Washington over the past few days, there is a limit in the extent to which the Union wage demands can be met by us. We reached that limit when we raised our offer to the Union last Friday from a wage increase of 12 1/2 cents an hour to one of 15 cents an hour. This would constitute the highest single wage increase ever made by our steel-making subsidiaries. Our offer of 15 cents was equivalent to meeting 60% of the Union's original excessive demand of a $2 a day general wage increase. Our offer met 75% of the Union's final proposal of a wage increase of 19 1/2 cents an hour. A wage increase of 15 cents an hour, such as we offered, would increase the direct labor costs of our manufacturing subsidiaries by approximately $60,000,000 a year. That is a most substantial sum, and does not take into account the higher costs we shall have to pay for purchased goods and services, when large wage increases generally become effective throughout American industry, as is inevitable after a substantial increase in steel wages.

When the Government at the eleventh hour informed us about a week ago of its willingness to sanction an increase in steel ceiling prices, we at once resumed collective bargaining negotiations with the Union. Such price action by the Government was a recognition by it of the right of the steel industry to receive price relief because of past heavy increases in costs, something which the steel industry for many months has unsuccessfully sought to establish with OPA.

I should like again to point out some pertinent facts relative to the wages of our steel workers.

Since January, 1941, the average straight-time hourly pay, without overtime, of our steel workers has increased more than the 33% increase in the cost of living during that period, recently computed by Government authorities. Steel workers' wages have kept pace with increased living costs. Such average straight-time pay in our steel-producing subsidiaries was $1.14 an hour in each of the months of September, October and November 1945, excluding any overtime premium and any amount for correction of possible wage inequities. An increase of 15 cents, in accordance with our offer, would raise such average straight-time pay to $1.29 an hour, placing such pay among the highest today in all of American industry.

Under our offer of a 15 cent increase, the average weekly take-home pay of our steel workers for a forty-hour week would amount to $51.60, assuming that no overtime is involved. This figure is only $4.54 less than the actual average weekly earnings of the employees, including overtime, in the full year of 1944, when the average work week was 46.1 hours. The difference is really less, because we will undoubtedly continue to have overtime in the future, just as we have at the present time. In November, 1945, overtime premiums to our steel workers aggregated more than $1,300,000. Such reduction of $4.54 in weekly take-home pay is the natural consequence of a shorter work week of forty hours, and therefore of lower production.

Much as we desire to avoid a steel strike we cannot overlook the effect both on our Corporation and on our customers of American business in general, of the 15 cent an hour wage increase, which you have proposed. Such a wage increase must result in higher prices for steel than have previously been proposed to us by the Government. Great financial harm would soon be done for all users of steel who would be obliged to pay higher prices for their steel, high wages to their employees, and still have the prices for their own products subject to OPA control. Such a high and unjustified wage scale might well spell financial disaster to many of the smaller steel companies and to a large number of steel fabricators and processors. The nation needs the output of these companies. Increased wages and increased prices which force companies out of business can only result in irreparable damage to the American people.

In our judgment, it is distinctly in the public interest to take into account the injurious effect upon American industry of an unjustified wage increase in the steel industry.

After a full and careful consideration of your proposal, we have reached the conclusion above stated.

Respectfully yours,
 Benjamin F. Fairless,
 President, United States Steel Corporation

Weekly Sermon

By George S. Schuler, Member of Faculty, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

A Munificent Despot A munificent Despot—such a combination is almost inconceivable. How can a despot be a man of munificence, or a munificent man a despot?

There is One who is such a munificent despot. He demands of His adherents complete and unconditional surrender. What could be more despotic?

But in compensation for such surrender, He gives eternal life in place of three-score and ten years. In recompense for the pleasures of life He gives multiple peace and joy. The servitude He exacts is eased by the ministry of myriads of angels who exist for the sole purpose of giving attention to our needs.

He demands that we know naught save the knowledge of Himself which is to fill the world and is to continue without modification, addition or subtraction. A despot, indeed, is He, with the power and force of the lightning, cyclone, typhoon, storm, flood and earthquake residing in the hollow of His hand. He demands that we sign away all aspects and deliver them at the foot of the cross. When thus delivered, He clothes with royal ermine and purple, and bedecks with the most precious jewels and crowns with victory. Now prepared, He leads to the place beside His eternal throne, from whence He will display to the universe the object of His affection—His royal Bride.

Therefore, there is every reason to believe that the incongruous term, "the munificent Despot," is a blessed reality in the life of the one who has, by faith, unconditionally surrendered to the behests of the Lord Jesus Christ as his personal Saviour.

Have you made the acquaintance of that holy, adorable and munificent Despot? Either you are one of His, or you are the abject knave of a hellish despot who has blinded your outlook on life. That despot is reserved for the unquenchable torment of the lake of fire. Why not break your sword of resistance in the presence of the munificent Despot and accept Him as your loving Saviour?

With the approach of spring and spring clean-up, up comes the danger of trash fires. Watch your trash fires.

If you drink—don't drive. If you drive—don't drink. One drink may be enough to slow a driver's reflexes and cause a disastrous accident.
