Spring Training for Football Squad Started Wednesday

Spring training for the 1946 football squad of Crowell High School started Wednesday afternoon. There were 32 candidates to report to Coach Louis Purvis. The training period will last for thirty calendar days. It will be completed in time for the rodeo pens to be built on the football field before the spring rodeo.

Coach Purvis has seven regulars from last year's squad to build his team around. V. Bond and Larry Wood, guards, Larry Dan Campbell and J. C. Patton, tackles, John Frank Mitchell and Joe Mason, ends, (Mason is a regular from the 1944 team), and A. G. Wallace in the backfield are the regulars back. The other three boys who received reserve letters from last year's squad are Charley Pete Moody, Presley Thompson, and Dalton Biggerstaff. Squadmen from last year are Thomas Tampion, Floyd Borchardt, Don Wilkins, Rousey Todd, R. C. Schlager, Grover Yocham, Billy Lynch, Thomas White, Raymond Carter and Clifford Orr.

The following new men have reported for work: Lon Laquey, M. W. Wagoner, James Weathers, Bobby Bousal, Bill Chumbley, Jack Black, Baxter Gentry, Mark Taylor and Joe G.lover.

The backfield is Coach Purvis' big worry at the present time. Kendrick Joy, O. C. Wharton and Horace Todd will be hard to replace back there. Two of these boys were all-district last season. Coach Purvis states that fundamentals will be stressed this week and scrimmaging will not start until next week.

First Santa Rosa Roundup to Be Held in Vernon May 29

Civic leaders in North Texas this week announced the plans for the first Santa Rosa Roundup and Livestock Exposition to be held in Vernon, Texas, May 29 through June 2, indicating that it will be one of the largest and most colorful events ever designed or produced for North Texas, Southern Oklahoma, and New Mexico. It was revealed that a master plan for the undertaking has been prepared which includes grandstands, rodeo arena, stock barns and pens, exhibition buildings, carnival or circus grounds, swimming pool, airplane landing strips, and all other facilities in keeping with an undertaking of this magnitude.

Now under construction is an all steel grandstand, with a seating capacity of 5,000 persons, the most modern rodeo arena in the south, and landing strips. The plans call for paved streets and walks, and for ample parking space to accommodate many thousands. Because of the shortage of material and labor, the entire development cannot be completed earlier than 1947.

To Open with Rodeo The opening production will be a 3-day rodeo beginning May 29, and running through June 2nd, including three evening performances with matinees on Memorial Day, May 30th, and the following Sunday, June 2nd. This show will be produced by Earl and Jack Sellers of Del Rio, Texas, prominent as leaders in rodeo productions of the United States. Both professional and amateur events are planned, and only the finest exhibition or specialty acts will be featured.

Here in the heart of a rich agricultural country, the beginning of the great livestock, produce, home craft, and semi-annual rodeo exhibitions has created the warmest public enthusiasm. Leaders are looking forward to the rapid development of the vast undertaking. The success of the project has been assured by E. Paul Waggoner, prominent ranch and oil man of Vernon, who has assumed financial responsibility for the construction and development of the master plan.

The rodeo and exposition site consists of approximately 150 acres located on the beautiful slope of Paradise Creek, one mile south of Vernon. Leaders emphasize the fact that this will be the first exposition and rodeo ground in America affording landing strips for private planes. Air-minded America may now travel to its greatest rodeo and livestock exposition grounds, and have their plane accessible for the return trip home.

It was emphasized that this semi-annual Rodeo and Livestock Exposition was not a local affair. It has been planned and designed by surrounding communities in a concerted effort to afford adequate recreational facilities and exposition grounds for all the communities and industries of North Texas, Southern Oklahoma and New Mexico.

"This," said Mr. Waggoner, "is the first step in the realization of a dream for all who belong to this oil, agricultural, and cattle raising heart of the great Southwest."

The Weiss Farm Equipment, International Harvester dealers, completed moving its stock to the new 50x135-foot building on the southwest corner of the square Saturday. Erection of the new building was finished last week and provides ample space for the operation of a business of this kind.

The front of the building, which is constructed of brick and panel glass, will be used for the display of farm machines. Offices and the parts department occupy the center of the building and the service department is located in the rear.

J. R. Weiss, owner and operator of the business, is to be congratulated on the completion of an excellent building when the scarcity of building material is so acute.

It is estimated that the war destroyed a trillion dollars of the world's wealth. A trillion dollars is a million million dollars over three times the national debt of the country.

One editor sizes it up this way. Be thrifty and the government will take it away from you. Be a spendthrift and the government will fall all over itself to hand it to you.

VISIT TO 4-H CLUB CALVES

On Saturday March 9, a group of some twenty-five 4-H Club boys and their Dads made a tour of the county visiting those farms and homes where the boys have calves on feed.

The following were visited: Billy Abston, Buster Gentry, Gordon Bell Jr., A. L. McGinnis Jr., H. L. Avers, Jr., John Lewis Hunter, Grover Lee Youkum, R. C. Schlang, Jimmy Raspberry, Leon Pochcock, John Allen Greening, Clayton Johnson, Ginger Johnson, Harry Harper, Benny and Jimmy Stinchamp, and Herman Athey. Several other 4-H Club members and a crowd also went along. The Crowell schools provided a school bus in which to make the trip which was appreciated.

We found the calves doing well on the whole and that the owners were doing a good job of feeding at a profit. They also showed keen interest in the calves and tried to learn out just where their calves will stand. They realize there will be some keen competition and a lot of wild guessing is being made.

The boys are now busy training their calves to lead and pose and are grooming and fitting them for the show.

Glenn Ross has consented to judge the calves and Frank Wendt and Bill Becker, county agents, assisted by District Agent Soehndt, will assist with the judging of calves and calves.

The Crowell Rotary Club will sponsor the show again this year as they did last year.

DISTRICT FARM BUREAU MEETING

Next Friday, March 22, a district Farm Bureau meeting is to be held at Wichita Falls.

This is one of a series of meetings to be held in the state and is really very important to the membership of this organization.

At these meetings the leaders and officers of the organization plan to set up some agencies which, perfected and in operation, will no doubt be an advantage to those participating.

Similar organizations are functioning in other states and have proven profitable to the membership participating.

Since we are not conversant with the type of organization they propose to set up we will wait until after the meeting to give this information.

We hope the membership in this county will give this serious consideration and plan to attend this meeting.

The farm bureau will be much more appreciated should it offer more practical local services to its membership.

Legislation is important and must be safeguarded but some type of local service is also very important to those who pay in membership fees.

LAND CLEARING ON WAGGONER RANCH

Last Saturday we visited the Waggoner Ranch, just west of Thalia, to observe the eradication of mesquite on pasture land now being put in cultivation.

They contemplate clearing some 13,000 acres of pasture land, a large part of which is in Foard County, and it is real fertile soil.

They have cleared some 400 acres already and have contracted 4,000 acres adjoining the land already cleared to be grubbed at once.

Heavy machinery is being used to root up the timber and to push the cleared timber into piles for burning.

These grubbing machines are devices of the bull-dozing type attached to caterpillar tractors. They have a blade that penetrates the soil and cuts and lifts the mesquite plants out of the ground.

They are paid either by the hour or by the acre and the cost varies from $10.00 to $15.00 per acre.

The land they are clearing is excellent grazing and with a good cover of Buffalo or mesquite grass but will grow good crops when in cultivation.

Who is he that overcometh the world, but he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God?—First John 5:5.

After all the criticism of the manners and the conduct of our young people today, even the most unsympathetic critics will have to admit that they are a superior race of young people. They possess an individuality, an independence, a self-reliance and a personality that the young people of no other age possessed. They are ingenious, daring and original in the matter of clothes. They have made the bobby socks an institution. In defiance of every rule of propriety they go up the street attired in overalls rolled up above the tops of their bobby socks, with their shirt tail fluttering in the breeze and are not disturbed by it. Their daring flaunting of convention in the matter of clothes is refreshing. There is more of the sturdy oak than the clinging vine about them. They have coined a slang that is as shocking and as refreshing as their garb and manners. Yet under it all they are as sweet and fine as the children of any age. Their courage and their independence and their disregard of some of the old conventions may be just the thing that is needed to prepare them for the brave years ahead. They are the Americans of tomorrow in the making—these bobby sockers.

HISTORY
 Salvation Army Founders Day—April 10: The day observed as Salvation Army Founders Day is the birthday of William Booth the founder of the Salvation Army. The celebration of the day is confined to the members of the organization at which time addresses eulogizing the founders and reports on the progress of the work. William Booth, founder of the Salvation Army movement, was the son of an English contractor of Nottingham, England. Booth's education prepared him to enter the ministry of the Methodist Church. He held a charge for a time but decided to take the gospel to those who did not attend church, the outcasts in the city slums. He presented the plan to the Methodist organization who rejected it. He gave up his church and started his new work in an old tent in the east end of London. Thirteen years later, in 1865, he organized what is known as the Salvation Army. He equipped his workers with distinctive uniforms, flags, drums and cornets. For a time the street meetings were opposed by the police. The work was explained to include, in addition to preaching and the singing of hymns, food and shelter depots, children's homes and a department devoted to the aiding of discharged criminals. In 1889 the Salvation Army work was brought to the United States. For a time its meetings were opposed by the police the same as they had been in England. The movement continued to grow until it became one of the largest and best organized humanitarian organizations in the country. The work of the Army has been expanded until it includes many types of relief work among those in need of material and spiritual help. It is supported by voluntary contributions and from the proceeds of the sale of merchandise in its shops. The Salvation Army is regarded by many, because of the nature of the work, as Christianity in action.

Over twelve million pounds of waste fats were turned in during the month of January by the housewives of America. At the small price of four cents a pound this saved up a total of $480,000 saved in the kitchens of America, a few drops at a time. On this basis a total of nearly $6,000,000 would be saved during a twelve months period.

What We Think
 (By Frank Dixon)

I was talking the other day with a representative of one of the largest merchandising organizations in this country with retail outlets in every state in the Union. We prefer to employ farm boys in our store, he said, rather than city boys or boys from the towns. I asked him why his organization had adopted this policy. We prefer to employ boys from the farm, he said, because they are taught to work. Early in life they are given responsibilities, certain tasks to do. They learn early in life that being responsible for a task means that it shall be done every day at a given time. Not only that it must be well done. The training that farm boys receive by assuming these responsibilities are doing a given job at a given time every day makes of them, early in life, dependable, responsible workers. They regard a task as a responsibility which they are obliged to meet and discharge fully and faithfully. Another thing we have found is that the farm boy has a different attitude toward his job. It is not a thing to be regarded lightly, something that may be done in a careless slipshod way. We have found that farm boys are habitually and consistently thorough. They accept responsibility willingly and cheerfully and in most instances rise to meet it. They have confidence in themselves and an air of self-reliance about them that causes an employer to feel that any task assigned to them will be well done, and instructions will be carried out to the letter. I attribute this to the fact, he said, that the boys on the farm are taught to work. It is one of the first things they learn. They are also taught to accept responsibility and to discharge it faithfully and well. They are concerned that what they do is done well. The farm boy is assigned at first small duties on the farm, duties that must be done each day at a given time. They cannot be slighted or overlooked. As he grows older he is given heavier work and more responsibility. In time reaches the point where he is given a team of a tractor and is sent out to cultivate a field. He rises to the responsibility and overnight becomes a man. He quickly develops a liking for his work, and a pride in seeing it well done. I realize that parents of children in the city towns have a different problem. There isn't a continuous program of work and responsibility that may be assigned to a growing boy that includes a definite task that must be done at a definite time each day. The result is that the town boy and the city boy are denied the most valuable training a boy can have, the knowledge of how to work and how to meet new responsibilities and new tasks. The town boy has too much idle time. He has no design for living that fills his spare time and holds his interest in a continuing program. I believe it would be a splendid training if every boy could spend the summer vacation on a farm. I realize it would not be easy to send a young boy away from his home for the summer months, but I feel the benefits that would come from it in the matter of health, regular hours, and the habits of industry would be well worth the sacrifice of having one's young son spend his summer vacation away from his own home.

The Use of Power

How will the American people use their mighty military and industrial power. No country need fear any aggression from the United States. Our people will not attack any foreign nation. The only conceivable use of their military power would be in self defense or to support the effort to prevent military aggression by any nation. The American people have trouble enough managing their present territory, and will never start a war to enlarge their possessions. There are rich resources outside our country which they could use, but they would never go to war to get them. Their idea of power is simply to use that force to maintain peace.

 Washington, D. C., March 16.—Three of the 21 Representatives in Congress from Texas will not seek re-election this year. Fritz Lanham, who has represented the Fort Worth district for 28 years and Hattin Summers, who has represented the Dallas district for 34 years are both retiring because the work has grown too heavy. Sam Russell of Stephenville is retiring because he cannot live in the Washington climate. A good many members of Congress will not be opposed in this year's elections. This, too, perhaps because the job, simply as a job, is not nearly so attractive as it once was. The date for filing for Congress in Alabama has just closed and four of the state's nine Representatives do not have any opposition for re-election. On this point, in today's mail I find letters from wool, cotton, dairy, cattle, and lumber people making strong complaints of existing conditions and demanding various forms of relief. This week I had the pleasure of filling a request from America's leading golfer for Agriculture Yearbooks. This man, Byron Nelson, is a native of Denton County and owns a farm in that vicinity on which he likes to spend as much time as possible. Almost every man either owns or wishes to own land. There is something substantial and fundamental in the soil. From another distinguished citizen of Denton County, Dean B. B. Harris of North Texas State Teachers College, I secured the following quotations which give testimony to the virility and validity of our first and greatest resource. Emerson once said, "The first farmer was the first man; and all historic nobility rests on possession and use of land." Cato testified, "The agricultural population produces the bravest men, the most valiant soldiers, and a class of citizens the least given up to evil designs." Thomas Jefferson wrote, "Wherever there is in any country uncultivated lands and unemployed poor, it is clear that the laws of prosperity have been so far extended as to violate natural rights. The earth is given as a common stock for men to labor on. The small land-owners are the most precious part of the State." Today's press carries the story that Sidney Hillman, heard of the Political Action Committee of the CIO, is opening the fight of his organization on so-called "hostile Congressmen." If you have opposed or voted against the guaranteed full employment bill or the Fair Employment Practices Commission bill, or if you have voted for the Hobbs anti-racketeering bill or the Case bill or any bill seeking to implement the settlement of strikes, you are in their blacklist. My score on all of them, from the PAC viewpoint, is zero. While some notable strikes have been settled, a new threat appears on the horizon. If the coal miners should strike, as they may do within the next several months, the resulting coal shortage would stop and slow down many vital industries, thus seriously hampering the entire reconversion program. The remarkable advance in the earnings of bituminous coal miners in recent years is indicated as follows:

	Weekly Earnings	Hourly Wage
1933	$14.47	$0.50
1936	22.71	0.79½
1939	23.88	0.88½
1942	35.62	1.06
1945 (Dec.)	58.20	1.28

Any business that cannot pay a decent living wage of course does not deserve to survive. Every person is entitled to receive full value for the worth of his services. However, no person or corporation is entitled to get more than the value of his contribution in goods, services, or labor. Governments were first instituted to protect individuals from the cave man's club. Some one described this philosophy thus: "The good old rule, the ancient plan, that he should take who has the power and he should keep who can." Certainly we are not going back to the Stone Age in these matters.

Sen. Connally Says General Assembly Outstanding Success

Extracts from the speech of Senator Tom Connally, chairman, Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate, and United States delegate to the General Assembly of the United Nations in London. Delivered in the Senate, March 12, 1946.

IN THE NEWS 30 YEARS AGO

News items below were taken in whole or in part from the issue of The Foard County News of March 24, 1916, Martin & Kimsey, publishers:
 Chas. A. McWater of Houston was here this week interested in the matter of developing the old copper mine. Several years ago these mines were worked extensively but for some reason finally abandoned.
 Announcement through these columns has already been made to the effect that Tuesday, March 28, has been designated as Crowell's clean-up day.
 As was previously planned the second meet of the Foard County Division of the University Interscholastic was held at Thalia March 18. The final county meet will be held at Crowell, April 1.
 The people of Foard, generally speaking, are in a more prosperous condition than they have been for years. As an evidence of this fact we call attention to the bank deposits, the amount of which is approximately $346,200.13.
 Mrs. J. A. Stovall visited her parents at Paducah the first of the week.
 W. B. McCormick went to Quanah Friday on business.
 George Hinds has sold his tailor shop to Arthur McMillan.
 J. A. Stovall made a business trip to Quanah Tuesday.
 Crutcher Cole left Wednesday for Albuquerque, N. M., to be gone indefinitely.
 On last Friday evening the Adolphian Club entertained the young ladies of the town with a Saint Patrick's party at the home of Mrs. Joe Johnson.
 The state of Florida has solved the farmers' marketing problem by setting up 28 farm markets in scattered sections of the state. Producers and buyers meet at these markets. Last year the sales volume was over $24 million. Previous to this Florida farmers were the victims of traveling buyers or were forced to ship to commission houses on consignment often receiving in return due bills for freight and commission charges.

my position unequivocally clear. In my opinion, the General Assembly was an outstanding success. In my opinion, the United Nations machinery demonstrated undeniably its usefulness and the great influence it may exert in behalf of world peace. In my opinion, the Charter remains the best hope of mankind.
 I would not be frank if I were to imply that all was light without heat in London. Just as there are evidences of party politics, sectionalism and pressure group activities in our own Congress, so there were evidences of nationalism, power politics and lobbying in London.
 Slowly and painfully the 51 United Nations, through the instrumentality of the General Assembly, are learning to co-operate on a peace-time basis. We must not be impatient with the progress made. We cannot expect a child to run before he has first learned to walk.
 It is possible, too, that the frank and open statements in the Security Council may be ushering into a new era in diplomacy when statesmen will speak to the people in a language they understand. They may be beginning of a reversion to sleeve diplomacy in the best American tradition.
 So long as Russia, Great Britain and the United States are united and adjust differences as they arise, there will be peace. Who want peace must not let war act that tend to produce war.
 Let us say to Russia, "We want your friendship. We want to operate. We shared your comradeship in the bloody chaos of the most tremendous war of all times. We want your comradeship in the peace. Our countries have been traditional friends. Let that traditional friendship be cemented and strengthened, buttressed by mutual labor, behalf of world peace."
 There is one heartening which gives us hope. The peace of the world—regardless of language, religion or color—peace. That is a fundamental which enables us to face storms that may arise as the United Nations proceeds with its

Famous Old Saint

One of the most famous preachers of all time was Saint Patrick. His anniversary is widely observed March 17, though some doubt has existed as to whether this was the date of his birth or his death.

He is universally venerated by the Irish race. The power and eloquence of his utterances are indicated as handed down that he founded 365 churches, one for every day in the year. He is said to have planted a school by the side of each church. Thus he showed himself a great believer in education. His life was no doubt a very important factor in the development of the Irish race.

He was a powerful influence in those primitive days in civilizing the people, and discouraging the habits of barbarism. The old saying had it that he found no Christians in Ireland and left no heathen. He evidently was an extremely powerful preacher and very persuasive. One can imagine his gifted and eloquent words that swayed the thought and won the adherence of the people, the genial smile with which he won favor, and secured the aid of influential persons.

The shamrock is generally worn in Ireland in celebration of St. Patrick's day, commemorating the fact that when St. Patrick was preaching about the trinity, he used the three leaves of this plant as a symbol of that mystery.

The Irish race has inherited from this old saint and patriot his charm and eloquence and persuasiveness. These qualities have greatly aided them in making their way in the world, until now they are very prominent and successful in all lands to which their descendants have migrated. They recall the old saint with enthusiasm. A man would have had very remarkable power to have his anniversary remembered 1,500 years after he lived.

Annual Convention of Texas Hospital Ass'n. Meets March 21

The seventeenth annual convention of the Texas Hospital Association will be held at the Hotel Texas in Fort Worth on March 21-23.

Speakers from out of the state will be George Bugbee, executive director of the American Hospital Association, who will discuss national legislation affecting hospitals. James Hamilton of New Haven, Conn., hospital consultant, will speak on "The Hospital of the Future—Expeditious or Obstructive?" and Everett W. Jones, vice president of the Modern Hospital Publishing Company, will discuss personnel and public relations.

In a panel on nursing there will be discussion of the future training and duties of a group of paid workers to perform functions similar to the Red Cross and other volunteer nurse aides whose services during the war and now have proved to be invaluable in meeting the shortage of graduate nurses. The panel is composed of directors of nursing of five Texas hospitals and Tol Terrell, administrator of Harris Memorial Methodist Hospital, Fort Worth, who will give the viewpoint of the hospital administrator on the future education of the graduate nurse and the paid nurse aide. Mr. Terrell is president-elect of the Texas Hospital Association.

The care of veterans in civilian hospitals will be discussed, and the convention will consider the estimate made by the American Hospital Association to the Veterans Administration that 20,000 civilian beds in the nation could be made available to veterans by September, 1946.

Progress and recent developments in the American Hospital Association sponsored Blue Cross Plans will be brought to the convention by W. R. McBee of Dallas, director of the state-wide Group Hospital Service and the recently organized companion Group Medical and Surgical Service.

The survey of Texas hospital and health facilities will be discussed by Norman Roberts, recently appointed by the state health director Dr. Geo. W. Cox to conduct the survey in this state. Mr. Roberts was a major in the army where he served in the medical administrative corps and is a hospital administrator. He will discuss the progress of similar surveys in other states, in keeping with the purposes of hospital survey and construction bill S. 191 now pending in the United States Senate, providing for the allocation of funds to states for the construction of health facilities where the need is shown by the survey.

Lawrence Payne, administrator of Baylor Hospital, Dallas, is president of the Texas Hospital Association. There are 230 hospitals in the state comprising the membership of the association. The state allied associations of medical record librarians, occupational therapists, nurse anesthetists and hospital women's auxiliary will meet concurrently.

King Horse Colt Show to Held Saturday

The fourth annual Colt Show and Horse Show will be held Saturday, March 30, at the fair grounds, which is sponsored by the Lions Club and American Legion of the city. It is growing in scope and color and this year's performance is predicted to be the best yet. Previous records, according to co-chairman Wylie Representative Hubert

Cooper of Seymour, one of the official inspectors for the Quarter Horse Association, also one of the Southwest judges of the Fat Stock Show, will be the judge of the colts to be judged following: Filly Foals of 1945, Filly Foals of 1944, Stud Foals of 1944, Filly of show, and Champion Colt of show. Ribbons and money of five, three and two dollars will be awarded to winners in each of the first four classes, and each champion designated in the latter two classes, will be given the purple championship ribbon. Judging of the colts will begin at 12 o'clock noon. The colts will gather and be hitched to racks within a fenced enclosure one block northwest of the city square. Each class will be exhibited and judged on the nearby street running north and south, which will be roped off the day of the show for that purpose.

The parade will begin at 1 o'clock on Garrett street just north of the colt arena. Anyone on horseback or in a horse-drawn vehicle may be in the parade; registration is not required of those wishing to participate in this event. After the parade in passes around the square, it will lead to the roping arena, southeast of town where it ends with the grand entry in the arena.

The first saddle horse event to follow the grand entry will be the Children's Saddle Horse class. This class will be for children under the age of ten years old to exhibit their horses and their horsemanship. Youngsters over the age of ten and up to fifteen years of age will show their horses in the next class, the Young People's Saddle Horse class.

Next on the program will be the Ladies' Saddle Horse class, which will be followed by the Men's Saddle Horse class. In each of these classes one of the arena directors will set the pattern to be followed by the judges. Ribbons and prize money of five, three and two dollars will be awarded the winners of each saddle horse event. The roping event will appear next on the program. An entrance fee of two dollars is required of all entries in this contest. The money will be "pooled" to make the "purse," which will be divided among the first, second and third place winners.

The final event of the day will be a cutting horse contest that in the past has proven to be the most outstanding event of the show. An entrance fee of three dollars has been added to this contest, and will likewise be divided among the three top winners.

The arena directors are the following: J. C. Clary; Dink Hull, Buckle L. ranch; George Humphreys, 6666 ranch, and Fred Albright, Bateman ranch. Judges of the arena events are yet to be announced.

Registration of colts and contestants in the arena events must be made before 10 o'clock on the morning of the show. Entries must be made with the Secretary of the show, Miss Grace Jones of Paducah, either by mail, telephone or in person. Early registration is urged in order to prevent confusion on the day of the show.

Weekly Sermon

(In commemoration of D. L. Moody's birth, Feb. 5, 1837, we are presenting the following excerpt from a sermon appearing in The Way to God.)

Belief in the Divinity of Christ

What brought me to believe in the divinity of Christ was this: I did not know where to place Christ, or what to do with him, if he were not divine. When I was a boy I thought he was a good man like Moses, Joseph, or Abraham. I even thought that he was the best man who had ever lived on the earth. But I found that Christ had a higher claim. He claimed to be God-Man, to be divine; to have come from heaven. He said, "Before Abraham was I am" (John 8:58).

I could not understand this; and I was driven to the conclusion that Jesus Christ is either an impostor or a deceiver, or he is the God-Man—God manifest in the flesh. And for these reasons.

The first commandment is, "Thou shalt have no other gods before me" (Exod. 20:2). Look at the millions throughout Christendom who worship Jesus Christ as God. If Christ be not God, this is idolatry.

Sundays, and at Truscott on the second and fourth Sundays. A most cordial welcome is extended to all. Delightful Christian fellowship. J. W. ENGLISH, Pastor.

Marriage of Local Couple Solemnized in Home Wedding

Miss Gussie Todd and Jack Turner were married in a pretty home wedding Sunday morning, March 17, at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. D. D. Denison, pastor of the Methodist Church, officiated with the ring ceremony, with only relatives and Rev. and Mrs. Denison present.
 The marriage took place before an improvised altar of cream colored gladioli. Mr. and Mrs. Merl Kincaid served the couple as matron of honor and best man. Mrs. Kincaid is a sister of the bride.
 The bride wore a suit of pastel blue with which she wore black accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.
 An informal reception was held in the home following the marriage with only the relatives and Rev. and Mrs. Denison attending. Mr. and Mrs. Turner have established their home in an apartment in North Crowell.
 Mrs. Turner is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Todd and is a graduate of Crowell High School and attended West Texas State College at Canyon. She has taught in the Thalia School for the past three years. She is a member of the Crowell Business and Professional Women's Club.
 Mr. Turner is the son of Mrs. E. B. Turner of Altus, Okla. He was educated in the Altus Schools. He served in the U. S. Army for three years. He was a lieutenant for two years in the ETO, and was discharged in January, 1946. He is an owner of the M. M. Implement Co. in Crowell.

Following their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Turner were complimented by Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Etter of Paducah with a bridal dinner. Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Anderson of Paducah were guests, also. Mr. Anderson is a partner of Mr. Turner.

Banquet Honors Returned Veterans at Truscott

On last Thursday evening, the ex-servicemen of the Truscott and Gilliland communities were honor guests at an informal banquet given by the Rebekahs and the Oddfellows of the Truscott lodges.
 The hall was beautifully decorated in colors of red, white and blue. The tables, covered with cloths following the same color scheme, were so placed as to form the letter V.
 Joe Reeder of Knox City was the guest speaker for the occasion. There were several musical numbers.
 A chicken dinner was served to more than one hundred service men, their wives or guests and the lodge members.
 Some of the men, now living in other communities, were present. These were from Knox City, Munday, Stamford and Crowell. Bob Whitaker of Crowell attended the banquet. It was suggested that this be made an annual affair.

VIVIAN H. D. CLUB
 "DDT does not kill insects instantly," said Miss Elizabeth Elliott to the Vivian Home Demonstration Club which met with Miss Neoma Fish, Thursday, March 14, in an all-day meeting.
 "DDT kills slower than other insecticides" continued Miss Elliott. She also said that house flies are not completely killed for from one to three hours after treatment and cockroaches do not die for from eight to ten hours after treatment. There are two kinds of DDT, one a liquid, the other a powder. It is not soluble in water but is in oil. Dust and water mixtures are not harmful to the skin, eyes or nose, but oil mixtures are harmful because they are readily absorbed.
 DDT should be mixed with clean water as hard water makes it less effective. Miss Elliott also discussed the wiring of houses for electricity in which she said: "Plan the outlets you will need for your appliances before the work of wiring is begun. It is cheaper to have all that you will need done at first than to have it done at various times. The wiring should be inspected before turning the electricity on and a defect might cause a fire."
 Among those present were four visitors: Mrs. John Brothers, Mrs. T. C. Sivells, Mrs. E. Sivells and

Shower Thursday Given to Honor Mrs. Herman Sandlin

Mrs. T. L. Owens, Miss Betty Johnson, Mrs. Milton Hunter, Mrs. Doyle Kenner, Mrs. Arnold Smith and Mrs. E. A. Evans were hostesses Thursday evening from 7:30 to 9 o'clock at a miscellaneous bridal shower as a compliment to Mrs. Herman Sandlin, the former Miss Jo Ann Gentry.
 A pink and blue color motif was used in the decorative scheme. Flowers in the chosen colors were in evidence throughout the reception rooms.
 Miss Johnson received the guests at the door and presented them to Mrs. Sandlin, the honoree; Mrs. Herman Gentry, her mother; Mrs. Arthur Sandlin, the groom's mother; and Mrs. W. S. J. Russell and Mrs. S. W. Gentry, grandmothers of the bride.
 Mrs. Arnold Smith presided at the bride's table, where the table was made attractive with peach blossoms. Mrs. E. A. Evans invited the guests into the dining room where the table, laid with a lace cloth, was centered with a beautiful arrangement of pastel sweet peas, which was flanked on each side by blue candles in crystal holders. Mrs. T. L. Owens, assisted by Miss Jewel Curtis and Miss Peggy Evans, served punch.
 Mrs. Kenner and Mrs. Hunter served in the gift room where the many lovely gifts were displayed.
 Miss Bobbie Ruth Abston played incidental musical selections throughout the reception hours.

RIVERSIDE 4-H CLUB

The Riverside 4-H Club met Friday evening, March 15, in the Riverside School.
 Miss Elizabeth Elliott and D. F. Eaton directed the boys and girls in a joint meeting. James Bice and Violet Rummel discussed the subject of feeding cows. They explained how much feed and water was required to produce milk.
 The next meeting will be held on Friday, March 29.

FOARD CITY WSCS MET

Mrs. T. M. Barker was hostess to the Foard City Woman's Society of Christian Service on Monday, March 18. Plans were made during the business session to make bed pads for the hospital.
 "The road we travel leads to an ending: Are we traveling the right road?"
 Miss Elliott.
 The next meeting will be with Mrs. Floyd Carlton on Thursday, March 28. The program will be on "The Business of Keeping Well."

Throbbing Drama in "This Love of Ours"

Screen drama at its finest is the description given to Universal's production of "This Love of Ours," opening at the Saturday Rialto and playing Sunday and Monday, March 24-25.
 Film stars featured are Merle Oberon, Claude Rains and the new Hollywood find, and Charles Kervin. It introduces the school-girl actress, Sue England, in one of the season's best bedfellow performances.
 "This Love of Ours," is the story of a Paris actress, deserted by her husband when he believes her unfaithful, their reunion a decade later, and the problem of their daughter, who believes her mother is dead, are main keys of the powerful drama.

One of the present day mysteries of livestock feed producers is where is the grain? Though 1945 grains are exceedingly scarce, many mill feed producers are unable to secure the necessary grains to keep up their lines of feeds. The situation is described as being without a parallel. The Agricultural Department explains the unusual situation by saying that as a result of adverse weather 29 per cent of the corn and other grains are still in the field. In the northwest grain cannot be transported because of car shortage, more grain is being fed on the farms, and more is being sent overseas for relief. These factors all contribute to the present acute shortage.
